74TH YEAR

ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS (75936)

Thursday, April 3, 1975

Number 14

by Lyndell Williams
Texas Press Association

Austin, Tex.—Constitutional revision, widely regarded as an almost impossible task for the legislature this year, may be moving along faster than any of the session's "big three" items.

Revision panels of the House and Senate voted out proposals almost identical to the document which failed by three votes in the 1974 Constitutional Convention. Education finance reform and utilities regulation have not moved so far so fast.

Senators brought up the plan Tuesday (April 1) for floor consideration on an article-by-article basis.

The House is expected to follow the same procedure.

A two-thirds vote will be necessary on each article before it can be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection in a statewide election next November.

None of the controversial "separate submission" items like right-to-work—which split and doomed the 1974 convention—are included in the present resolutions.

Apparently, if article-by-article revision fails, the legislature will offer a plan for a new citizens convention to try its hand at revision next year.

Primary Advances . . .

Drive for a Texas presidential preference primary gathered momentum in spite of some stubborn opposition from political convention oriented liberals and George Wallace supporters.

The Senate State Affairs Committee gave its approval to a revised and improved version of the House-passed primary bill, and quick Senate passage was anticipated.

The measure still calls for a vote in May on presidential candidates who decide to enter the Texas primary. Seventy-five per cent of the state's presidential nominating delegates will be named on a senatorial (or congressional) district basis. Another 25% will be selected in state party conventions in accord with the percentage of the vote various candidates received in the primary.

An objectionable feature of the House bill which would have required candidates to file slates of delegates in all 31 senatorial districts to get on the ballot at all was removed. Liberal provisions also were made for uncommitted delegates to run individually or as a slate.

Speed Limit Same

Legislators finally agreed on, and the governor signed, legislation extending the 55 miles per hour speed limit to comply with federal policies and save $303 million a year in federal highway aid.

A threatened deadlock was quickly broken in the face of threats of heavy loss of federal funds. The present 55 mph law would have expired April 1.

Short Snorts . . .

An April 14 hearing has been scheduled on a House resolution to rescind Texas ratification of the controversial Equal Rights Amendment.

A bill to allow public school teachers to conduct periods of silent prayer or meditation passed the House by a big margin.

H. D. MEETING SET

Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club will meet Tuesday, April 8th, at 9:30 in the club room of the Memorial Building. The program will be on caring for your sewing machine.

Post Script

We urge all local citizens to do their civic duty and go to the polls Saturday and vote. Even though the nominees are unopposed, it shows backing for them to have a good turnout of the electorate.

Over 300 persons are expected to attend the first Woman of the Year Tea this Sunday, honoring Mrs. Winnie Jackson. It is being sponsored by Xi Xi Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, with Mrs. Ruthie Dacy in charge.

The sorority hopes that this will be an annual honor. The tea is designed to honor those women who have aided their community through volunteer work or other contributions.

Mrs. Jackson has been a volunteer worker for several different organizations since she and her husband, the late Edwin Jackson, moved here in 1934.

She has been active in the Parent-Teacher Association, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, church work, hospital board, and is a member of many local organizations.

She has a son, Edwin Martin Jackson Jr., and three grandchildren.

The tea set for Sunday afternoon is described in more detail elsewhere in this Success issue.

Mrs. Posey Dies At The Age Of 76

Mrs. Ada Doran Posey died Sunday in Kerrville at the age of 76. Services were set for 10:00 a.m. Wednesday in the Antioch Baptist Church here in Eldorado with burial in the local cemetery.

She was born May 21, 1898 in Mason county.

Survivors include three sons, J. D. Posey of Arlington, Tommy Posey of Comanche and Sherrill Posey of Glen Allen, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Terry of San Angelo and Mrs. Linda Boehm of Eldorado; two brothers, Louis Doran of Big Lake and Bill Doran of Bronte; three sisters, Mrs. Al Rogers of Junction, Mrs. Estle Otte of Junction and Mrs. Clarence Self of Sonora, and 18 grandchildren.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

At a recent meeting, the County Commissioners employed C. W. Wallace as county road and bridge department employee effective March 1st, at a salary of $560.29 per month.

They also accepted the high bid from Freddie Brooks of $325 for purchasing the surplus Model 9N Ford Wheel Tractor.

H. D. MEETING SET

Good Neighbor H. D. will meet Thursday, April 10th, at 9:30 at Connie Spence home. The program will be on caring for your sewing machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene McCalla visited recently in Chapman, Kansas, with the Roy Joneses.

Rosellen and Vonda Maness from Abilene Christian College spent the holidays visiting the Bill Manesses.

Hard Freeze Easter Eve Cuts Back Budding Fruit, Other Spring Growth

A frigid arctic air mass came into Southwest Texas the night before Easter Sunday, and residents awoke Easter Sunday morning to temperature readings in the low twenties. It was assumed that this late-spring freeze nipped back much of the budding fruit trees which had put out earlier. The cold snap also no doubt cut attendance at the Easter Sunrise Service.

This week, residents were checking their fruit trees for evidence of damage. The cold snap of last week end was another dry one and failed to deliver any much-needed moisture to this area.

Foxworth Sale Marks 75th Anniversary

The 75th year in business is a milestone that few American firms have seen, but that achievement is being celebrated this year by Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Centers from East Texas to California.

John Justice, manager here in Eldorado, points out that it all started in 1901 at Stratford in the Texas Panhandle. "W. L. Foxworth started a lumber yard there," says Justice, "and later that year, he merged with H. W. Galbraith into what became the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company."

The company put lumber yards in selected towns along the fast-growing railroads extending further into Texas and New Mexico. Demand for lumber and materials during the oil boom of the early 20's caused even greater East-West expansion of Foxworth-Galbraith. "It was around 1919 that we first opened a yard as far west as Arizona," says Justice. Foxworth-Galbraith has changed and grown with the times. Today, the over 50 yards call themselves "Building Materials Centers" and cater about equally to the builder-contractor, farmer-rancher and the local consumer. The variety of merchandise reaches from fence posts to light bulbs and from roofing to door-mats.

"Looking back at the company history" observes Justice, "and looking at us today in our 75th year, I think there is a slogan on our calendar that says it all for me." The slogan to which he refers states "Foxworth-Galbraith—People Helpers Since 1901."

Observances during Foxworth-Galbraith's 75th year will include valuable free prizes and special values on merchandise. An attractive brochure dedicated to these 75 years will soon be available at each Building Material Center.

Dayla and Lane Wilson of Monahans are spending this week with the Charlie Niblett family.

Tea Sunday Afternoon Will Honor Mrs. Jackson For Volunteer Work

The public is invited to the tea set for this Sunday afternoon in Methodist educational building honoring Mrs. Winnie Jackson. Complete details are given below.

Volunteer work is something few people think they have time for. One exception is Mrs. Winnie Jackson who has devoted much of her time to volunteer work since she and her husband, the late Edwin Martin Jackson, moved here in 1934.

"I have as much time as anyone, maybe more since he passed away in 1934 and I want to be useful, so I just do stuff," she says modestly as she listed her many volunteer duties.

These many hours of volunteer work are what earned her the title Woman of the Year for Schleicher County in 1975. The honor, the first of its kind here, was bestowed on her by Xi Xi Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She will be honored with a tea from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. April 6 in the fellowship hall of First Methodist Church.

Although invitations are being sent, the tea is open to the public. The honor is to cite women not belonging to the sorority who have given exceptional contributions to the community in some way.

A member of Cumberland Presbyterian Church since age 13, Mrs. Jackson has taught Sunday school in First Presbyterian Church here

Letters From Readers

March 21, 1975

THE SUCCESS:

I, as "one little pebble on the beach" in Eldorado, wish to take this opportunity to say that I am strongly in favor of the one percent (1%) sales tax to be voted on in the City Election on April 5th.

It would seem to me to be the most equitable tax that could be imposed because every citizen of the town and county would help to pay for much talked about and desperately needed repairs to our gas system and our streets, as well as other improvements that each of you can think of.

We have been sitting around blaming everyone but ourselves for the sorry state of disrepair in which we find our streets and gas lines. There are other problems as well.

Further, I have confidence in our present Mayor and City Council and I believe that they are making a diligent effort and working hard and long hours at it—trying to improve the things that we, the people, complain of daily.

It takes money to do these things (see notice in March 20 issue of Success) and this would probably be the most painless way for us to help get the things we need and want for our town and county. Most of us go to San Angelo to shop and think NOTHING of paying the extra 1% sales and use tax there, so WHY NOT HERE, Thank you.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Ballew

Ranchers in the Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District are stepping up the practice of resting or deferring their rangeland. There are pastures being rested for the first time since they were fenced years ago. Many ranchers in the District have already made plans to rest some of their pastures this year. In fact some ranchers knew three years ago that a certain pasture would be rested this year. This practice should be a part of every operator's plan for the proper management of all rangeland. Dry years and overgrazing reduce vigor and stand of high forage producing grasses, and deferral is one of the quickest and best ways to get increased forage production.

For maximum benefit pastures should be deferred for at least three consecutive months during the growing season. The deferral should be complete in that, all domestic animals are kept out of the pasture for the deferral period. When only a few livestock are left in a pasture, some of the better plants that need deferral for seed production are grazed to the extent that they are not able to make seed. Seed production is needed to maintain a stand of grass.

Deferral for three months during the growing season with good moisture condition may be adequate for rangeland in fair condition. Rangeland in poor condition could require a longer deferral and more frequently. This being due to the fact that poor condition rangeland requires more time to reach its potential production. Deferral for a long period of time and more frequent than once each three years speeds up the range improvement. Deferrals started in the spring and continued until the first frost are most beneficial as these deferrals will allow the plants to develop the maximum of surface growth, mature seed, produce a deeper, more extensive root system and therefore produce more forage. By deferring the more palatable grasses are able to compete and crowd out the less desirable plants.

Producing the most forage of good quality per acre per inch of rain, each year, and harvesting it efficiently for profit should be the common objective of every rancher. A combination of soil, water and plant conservation practices are essential in achieving this objective. Balancing livestock and forage produced is equally as important as deferral. Overgrazing some pastures to defer others amounts to about the same as taking one step forward and sliding backwards two. Also, proper grazing use without deferrals as needed will not produce the maximum amount of high quality forage.

The purpose of deferral is to promote natural revegetation by increasing the vigor of the forage stand and permitting desirable plants to produce seed, to provide a feed reserve for fall and winter grazing or emergency use, or to protect newly seeded grasses until established. When these objectives have been accomplished and are being maintained, more livestock can be run to utilize forage produced. The ultimate goal of practicing all needed range management practices is to be able to safely run more livestock.

New Eyes Are Free For The Blind

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed March, 1975 Eye Bank Month in Texas, and added: "The Eye Banks of our State—as exemplified by the District 2A-1 Lions Eye Bank, Inc., that serves the Permian Basin area—have done much to help combat the problems of sight in Texas by research and assistance in eye surgery."

To the thousands of blind individuals in America today, the best thing that life could offer is the ability to see again. Would you mind if, after your death, your eyes were used to give some totally blind person the precious gift of sight... making it possible for one or more persons to emerge from constant darkness?

The gift is made possible by the 65 Lions Club in West Texas by the organization of the District 2A-1 Lions Eye Bank, Inc. This is not a drive for financial donations. The eye bank is sponsored and supported by the Lions Clubs in the 25 County area of West Texas which are in Lions District 2A-1. This is a drive inaugurated by the eye bank to obtain eye donors so that we may provide physicians with the needed eye tissue—to restore vision through corneal transplant surgery.

The quality of your vision makes no difference whatsoever. If the cornea, sclera and vitreous are not diseased, the tissue can be used. Actually, six people can be helped by one pair of eyes. Two corneal transplants can be performed, two sclera (white part of the eye) can be utilized for ruptures, and vitreous (fluid in the eye) can be used for two vitreous transplants.

It is not possible to buy or sell eyes. They must be donated by some generous person to be used at his death. The eyes are furnished to the ophthalmologist and his patient free. Of course there is the usual hospital charges, and the surgeon will charge his usual fee.

More than 30,000 persons in the U. S. remain on physicians' waiting lists for donated eyes. Many of them will become totally blind unless we can provide the needed tissue. Now, as never before, the opportunity exists to help at least

Scout Camporee To Be Held At Junction

Local Scoutmaster David Meador and his assistant, Phil McCormick, report that plans are under way for several local Boy Scouts to participate in the Council Camporee coming up in April at Junction.

The Second Annual Concho Valley Council Scout Camporee will be held April 4-6, 1975 at the Texas Tech University Center, at Junction, Texas, according to Jack Scudder, Camporee Chairman.

Activities have been planned for Cub Scouts, Webelos, Scouts and Explorers. Some 1000 youth and adult scouters are expected to participate in the events that week end. This event brings Scouters from all 23½ counties of the council together in a common fellowship, and proved very successful last year.

Boy Scouts will begin arriving Friday, April 4, and will compete in various skill events Saturday for ribbons to be awarded on Sunday. Cub Scouts are invited to attend Saturday when a special kite contest is planned for that age group. Webelos (10 year Cubs) along with their dads are invited to camp out overnight on Saturday evening and participate in a special Webelos program on Saturday. Explorer Scouts will assist the Council Camping Committee in directing the camporee and judging the events.

The Concho Valley Chapter of the National Eagle Scout Association and the Wahinkto Lodge of the Order of the Arrow will also assist in the physical arrangements of the camporee. An added attraction this year will be the exhibits of wildlife and Scouting displays. Catholic and Protestant religious services will be available on Sunday to youth and adult participants.

many years where she is presently teaching an adult class. In other church work, she has served in all offices of the Women of the Church and was Presbyterian World Mission chairman. She has served as district president and Presbyterian president. She is now treasurer of Women of the Church, Tres Rios Presbytery.

One of the hardest jobs among the many she has had is Heart Fund chairman, she says. She no longer holds this office but remains Heart Memorial chairman.

A member of Eldorado Womens Club, she has served in local offices and district chairman of Texas Federation of Womens Clubs. This organization has nominated her for a district life membership in the Heart of Texas district.

The majority of her volunteer work was involved in the Parent-Teacher Association in which she has served in local, council and district offices, plus as state vice president in 1950. She is a national and state life member.

Her newest endeavor is being chairman of the county historical survey committee. "The mayor asked me to be chairman of the bicentennial committee for the town a few years ago and I refused. And I'll be jiggered if the commissioners court didn't appoint me chairman of the historical committee. And now I find out it's about the same thing," she said with a disgruntled grin.

The active minded Llano native has also been a three term district chairman for the Make It Yourself With Wool contest, chairman of the local library board, member of the hospital district board and in the hospital auxiliary.

She has also been a member of the garden club, a Cub Scout leader, a member of the El Camino Girl Scouts board for two terms, is a member of the American Security Council and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Auxiliary.

As incredible as it seems, Mrs. Jackson declares, "To be frank with you, I love my home and hate to be away. No one will believe that as much as I am away for something all the time."

In fact, much of her volunteer work has given her a chance to travel. As part of her work for Presbyterian World Mission, she was a delegate to Montreal, N. C. She has been to Miami, Chicago and all over Texas on behalf of the P-TA and has taken pleasure trips to Alaska and three cruises on the Delta Queen through Mississippi and Ohio.

When she is not at the medical center mending the hospital auxiliary food booth, doing other volunteer work or working for her family (which includes a son and three grandchildren) she is reading suspense novels or church literature.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed all my volunteer work," she says, admitting, "My husband and son encouraged me to do all these things. I just wish my husband were here to see how honored I am to be woman of the year." —Nell Edmiston.

Six Flags To Introduce New Attractions For '75

Arlington, Tex.—Six Flags Over Texas will unveil results of a million dollar attraction and improvement program when the park begins its 1975 season March 15.

Heading the list of new entertainment features are a glittering nighttime parade and a major illusion show.

A new thrill ride, called the Rotoriculous, will be introduced prior to the summer tourist season, as will an antique airplane ride designed for children.

All the new features are themed around the "inventions" of Prof. Cyrus Cosmo, a costume character developed exclusively for Six Flags Over Texas.

Each evening Prof. Cosmo is joined by a group of his costumed friends in The Incredible Electric Light Brigade Parade. Cosmo clambers aboard his brilliantly lighted Cosmobile to lead such marchers as Capt. Dynamo, King Electro, the Electrophant, and Father Light through the streets of Six Flags. A brass band heads the parade lineup which features electrically powered, animated floats, illuminated with hundreds of blinking lights.

Cosmo, described by his creators as a "part-time inventor, part-time illusionist, and full-time showman," is also the star of the Cyrus Cosmo Wonder Show. He displays his wit and talent with baffling illusions, starting with a trick in which he makes himself appear from "nowhere." And as the show progresses strange things happen at Cosmo's command, including passing neon tubes through his assistant's body.

The magic show will be staged in Six Flags' Music Mill Theater on days when no name entertainers are appearing there.

Six Flags' younger guests can take a flight aboard a tiny antique biplane when they visit the C. Cosmo Flying Machine Co. It's a new feature in the park's Confederate section.

Early in the summer Six Flags will open the new Rotoriculous ride. The 13-speed thrill ride, housed in a specially-designed, octagonal building features an elaborate "light and sound experience."

Projections on multiple screens combine with bright, flashing lights and strange sound effects to give the ride a mind-boggling outer space aura.

The new attraction, unique in the theme park world, is currently under construction in the Good Times Square area.

Six Flags General Manager Dan Howells said, "A lot of imagination has been put into the new characters, shows, and rides, and we think our guests will find the results exciting."

"The addition of the illusion show and the night parade will mean that Six Flags Over Texas visitors can enjoy more than 3½ hours of shows."

"In addition to the new attractions for 1975, many areas of the park have taken on a totally new look as part of our continuing improvement program. Visitors will find the park more beautiful than ever."

CAR CARE CORNER
Tips To Add Safety And Save You Money

TIMELY TUNE-UP

Worried about the energy crunch? Proper maintenance of your car can mean significant reductions in fuel consumption.

Start out by having your car engine thoroughly tuned. Tests have shown that tune-ups can improve mileage by 10 to 15 percent.

While you're having your car tuned, check to see if the tires are properly balanced and wheels properly aligned. If they're not, they can create drag, forcing the engine to use more power—thus more gasoline—while shortening tire life drastically. A bent frame could have the same effect.

An oil change should be part of every tune-up. Use the correct weight oil as recommended in your car owner's manual. A heavier weight oil will force the engine to use more fuel to overcome the heavier oil's resistance, while an oil too thin may not provide enough protection to prevent engine damage.

While your car is working at its best, it's smart to keep it looking its best, too. If you have a vinyl topped automobile—and there are more than 30 million of them on the nation's highways—a good way to clean and wax the top is with Simoniz Vinyl Top Cleaner/Wax. With the Simoniz vinyl top product you can clean and apply a protective wax coating in one easy step.

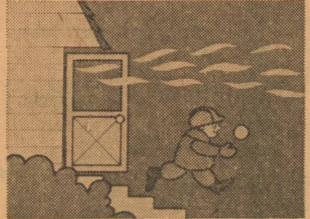

Keeping your car well tuned-up and well turned out should make for happier, more economical driving.

NEWS ABOUT ENERGY

HOME ENERGY SAVING TIPS

You can save on rising home heating and electric bills, and still stay warm, by following these suggestions. Mobil Oil Corporation is offering on how to conserve fuel and energy in the home.

1. Have your heating fuel dealer send an expert to clean, adjust, repair, and run an efficiency test on your heating unit. If your furnace is not running at peak efficiency, you're wasting energy and dollars. Clean oil filters to insure greater heating efficiency. If it is a hot-air system, change the air filters at least once during the winter.

2. Careful maintenance of your hot water heater can also save you money. Keep the temperature at 140°. Check your hot water taps for leaks: one drop of water a second can waste up to 700 gallons a year. Drain a pail of water from hot water tanks every month to remove sediment and improve efficiency.

3. Don't be a thermostat fiddler. Switching room temperatures back and forth wastes fuel. Lower the thermostat at night. By setting it back 10 degrees for 8 hours, you can save 10 percent or more on your heating bills. Lower the thermostat to 55 degrees when you are going to be away for more than a day.

4. To keep the warm air in and the cold air out—close windows and doors promptly. Keep children from running in and out unnecessarily. Experts estimate that fuel bills are three percent higher for each child you have. Use weather stripping, storm windows and insulation. Storm windows will cut in half the heat needlessly lost through orinary sashes. Six inches of thermal insulation over your top floor ceiling pays for itself by helping to hold heat in.

5. Check radiator enclosures to be sure they are not trapping heat. If you paint them, use enamel, which permits greater radiation. Check steam radiator valves for proper function. Replace non-adjustable valves with adjustable ones. Drain air or water from steam radiators to allow them to heat up fully. Bleed air from circulating hot water heating systems. Remove rugs and furniture from places where they block radiators or registers.

6. Close fireplace dampers when not in use. If dampers are missing and fireplace is not used, close chimney openings.

7. Open window shades, blinds, or draperies to let sunshine and warmth into the rooms during the day. It's a free source of home heating. Another way to save—turn off heat in rooms being ventilated or not in use.

The kitchen is especially important for energy savings. There are many ways to conserve energy that can be used year round.

1. When baking or roasting, avoid peaking in the oven. Every time you open the oven door, you lose one-fourth of your heat. Not all foods require a pre-heated oven. The rule of thumb is, if it takes more than an hour to cook, start with an unheated oven.

2. Try to cut down on opening and closing the refrigerator/freezer door by removing and replacing several articles at one time.

3. Start with hot tap water for boiling: a major part of the heating will already be done.

Mrs. Jackson Honored By Woman's Club

Mrs. Edwin Jackson of Eldorado was honored in Ballinger on March 22 at the annual convention of the Heart of Texas District of Federated Women's Clubs by being elected to Life Membership in the Federation. This is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a clubwoman in the Federation.

Mrs. Jackson was nominated by the Eldorado Woman's Club, for this honor. In order to qualify for Life Membership on the Board of Directors in a district, a member must meet the following requirements:

1. Twenty-five years continuous membership in a club and active membership.
2. Service on the Board of Directors through five or more administrations.
3. Endorsement by District Board while in session.
4. Written and signed recommendations of seven members of the Board of Directors.
5. A unanimous vote of approval by a committee of five members appointed by the Executive Committee.
6. Election by ballot vote of the Board of Directors.
7. Not more than two members may be elected to Life Membership at any one meeting.

Mrs. Jackson more than met all these requirements. Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen, president of the local club, attended the convention with Mrs. Jackson and was present to see her accept this honor. This is the second time Mrs. Jackson has been selected to receive honors this year, as the Beta Sigma Phi sorority recently selected her as 1975 Woman of the Year in Schleicher County.

Gardening Time Again

It won't be long until homeowners in Schleicher County will begin putting in spring gardens in their backyards or wherever they can find space. To have a successful home garden, a number of important factors enter into the picture.

First of all, select a site that is well drained and has fertile soil. Of course, many homeowners have little choice regarding the location of their garden. If possible, the site should receive plenty of sunlight although most leafy crops can be grown in areas receiving partial shade.

Selecting of the proper vegetable variety is a key item to a successful garden. Many home gardeners start off by planting varieties not adapted to this area.

Proper soil preparation is another important key for a good garden. A tight, heavy clay soil can be improved by adding from one to two inches of sand and two to three inches of organic matter. Till these items into the garden area prior to planting.

In absence of a soil test, apply a complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10 at the rate of two to three pounds per hundred square feet of garden area. Work the fertilizer into the soil and then form the beds for planting.

Use transplants (young seedling plants) whenever possible to get the crop off to a head start.

Once the crops are up, water sufficiently and regularly so that the water penetrates the soil to a depth of at least six inches. Light sandy soils may require more frequent waterings. We suggest watering in the morning or at least not later than mid-afternoon so that plants can dry out before night. This will help prevent many foliage diseases.

Weeds are a problem in most gardens and a long handled hoe is still the best means of controlling them. However, adding a mulch of straw, leaves, grass, bark, gin trash, sawdust, peatmoss or other organic material around the growing plants will help reduce weeds and will also conserve moisture.

Keep a close check on crops once they begin to approach maturity. Harvest vegetables only at full maturity because that is when they have their best flavor and nutritional content.

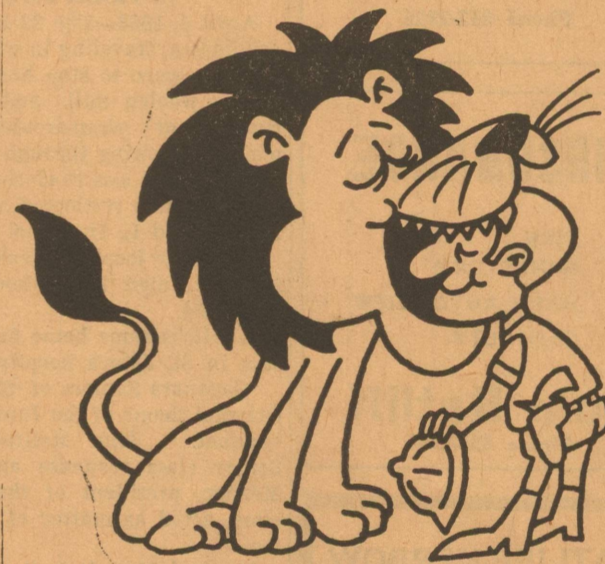

Growing your own vegetables can be a lot of fun and it helps reduce the grocery bill.

Ann D. Allen Suggests...

If you're like most modern American homemakers, you've been shopping around for a few ways to fight the high cost of buying food. Now these Magic Seven from the American Dairy Association may help you to do so.

1. Make out menus with shopping lists so you can balance meals costwise during the week.
2. Make a shopping list, check it twice and stick with it.
3. Shop after eating so you won't be tempted.
4. Shop alone. Children can pressure you into buying items not on the list, adding to the food bill.
5. Shop in quantity if you have the storage and freezer space. Check per unit price. Larger containers or quantities are not always the bargain.
6. Shop comparatively before going to the store. Do this with a chart and ads from all the stores around. Figure in gas cost for stores some distance away.
7. Plan make-overs instead of having leftovers. Keep them in glass or plastic containers so you won't forget them.

These seven solutions should help you to get back some percentage of the money you've been spending on food.

BICENTENNIAL BELLS

On the 200th birthday of America, you can give a present that really rings true as a symbol of the past, present and future of this country.

An appealing little Liberty Bell has been cast as a sturdy, safety-lock key chain or pendant on a fashionable 24 inch chain. Each comes in a long-lasting silver-plate finish with the hand-rubbed look of old pewter. Emblazoned on them is the date 1776 and a tricorn hat such as those worn by the Minutemen in their struggle for liberty; and the date 1976 and a space helmet like those worn by the astronauts of today and tomorrow.

You can find these Bicentennial items in fine jewelry and department stores, or send $4.50 for each key ring and each bell pendant to M. Weiner Co., Inc., 373 Washington St., Boston, Mass. 02108, so you can participate in the beginning of another Belle Epoch in America.

FIFTEEN TIPS FOR MORE EFFICIENT FREEZING

You can put the freeze on high food prices if you use your freezer with forethought. The home economics experts at Whirlpool Corporation offer these cool suggestions:

1. Leave enough space in the freezer (one-quarter to one-third of its capacity) to take advantage of good food buys.
2. A freezer used just for long-term storage cuts no ice. It generally will not pay for itself and is a waste of food, electricity, and space. There should be a steady turnover into and out of it to make it profitable.
3. When you do keep food in the freezer, put in only two to three pounds of food per cubic foot of freezer space at a time. A twenty-cubic foot freezer, for instance, can take sixty pounds of frozen food at one time, placed in a single layer for quick freezing.
4. Label each package with its contents, date, and number of servings. Make a point of using a wax crayon or marking pen that's not affected by moisture.
5. Use a wall chart or notebook to record all the ins and outs of your freezer. A record is useful for shopping and selecting recipes and may keep you from going up the wall when you're unexpectedly out of a food item.

6. You can foil "freezer burn" if your food is well wrapped. Use carefully sealed moisture and vapor proof containers to keep food from dehydrating or drying out.

7. Don't use food containers not designed for freezing, or you may be in for a costly loss of quality and flavor.

8. Be expansive about space; don't fill a container too full. Allow room for the contents to expand or the top may come off. If the container is glass, it may even crack or break, instead of simply flipping its lid!

9. Blanching is one of the most important steps in freezing vegetables. Blanching or scalding is a hot process that arrests enzymatic action and stops ripening or maturing. It also helps vegetables retain color, stabilizes vitamin content and aids in vitamin retention.

10. The ice age has not yet arrived for mayonnaise, raw potatoes, potato salad, hard cooked eggs, eggs in shells, fresh tomatoes, cracker canapes, cornstarch-based desserts and egg white frosting. Don't freeze them.

11. You may not have known it, but you can freeze nuts, margarine, large ice molds, apple cider, fruit juices, candied fruits, caramel candies, divinity, marshmallows, whipped heavy cream, potato chips, chopped fresh herbs, chopped green peppers, waffles, pancakes, orange and lemon peels.

12. It's best not to re-freeze foods which have been thawed. There's bound to be a quality loss.

13. When making favorite recipes, sauces, and soups, double the batch and put half into the freezer as a reserve.

14. Freeze foods in manageable sizes, such as individual servings in sealed bags, casseroles for four, etc. Cut and wash chickens before freezing.

15. Freeze portions of gravy or meat stock in an ice-cube tray. After they're frozen, remove and place individual cubes into freezer bags and use as needed.

If you follow these hints, you should be able to skate through the thin ice the economy is currently on without being out in the cold at meal times.

In old England, it was the custom of the ruler to wash the feet of several beggars on Maundy Thursday. Queen Elizabeth I, however, would only do this if they had first been washed by her servants in scented water.

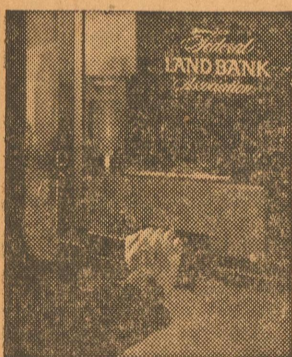

During the reign of Charles I an edition of the Bible was printed in which the text of Psalm xlv, 1 read "The fool hath said in his heart there is a God." For this mistake the printers were fined 3,000 pounds and all copies were suppressed.

The first Bible printed in Ireland was dated 1716. John v, 14 reads "sin on more" instead of "sin no more." The mistake was not found out until the impression of 8,000 copies had been printed and bound.

April 25-27 Brazos River Festival/Pilgrimage, Waco. Began 14 years ago to raise funds for Waco's historic museum homes, the affair has now been enlarged to include the Brazos River Festival. Historical tour highlights festival including stop at the old suspension bridge built in 1872 and at one time, the only bridge across the Brazos River. (Famous Brooklyn Bridge later patterned after it—both built by John Roebling of New York.) For more information, write Mrs. Burke Reynolds, 4201 Morrow Avenue, Waco 76710.

Sacred kings and priests in Polynesia were once not allowed to touch food with their hands, and had therefore to be fed by others.

Many Malays firmly believe that their king possesses a personal influence over the works of nature, such as the growth of the crops and the bearing of fruit trees.

top of the hill

The hill spreads out in front of them, stretching up and up; they can't see over the top. There may be clouds in the distance; but just now they are oblivious to them. They are together, and for the moment, that is all that matters.

Together, the mood, the romance it evokes, are a part of life. But so is that uphill winding road. Traveling through life, you often can't see over the top. You can only give each step along the way the best that is in you.

Fortunately, this is a journey that none of us has to make alone. Your Creator is reaching out to you and the doors of His Church are forever open. If you haven't passed through those doors for a long time, or if you have never passed through them at all, give it a try next Sunday! You will not be alone, and a new perspective may be yours.
