Austin, Tex.—Senate impeachment trial of 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo has been postponed until September 29.

Senators agreed to the delay since Carrillo faces trial this week in a Corpus Christi federal court on an income tax indictment.

In opening preliminaries, the Senate resolved itself into a court of impeachment and adopted rules for the historic trial—third proceeding of the type in a century involving a Texas public official.

Carrillo's attorneys filed a 170-page answer to the House impeachment resolution of August 5, denying all 10 charges and challenging sufficiency of the allegations. The answer remains as pending business when senators return to Austin late this month to begin taking testimony.

The 51-year-old judge, whose district includes Duval, Jim Hogg and Starr counties, is accused of abusing judicial authority, political conspiracies and use of Duval county personnel and equipment for personal benefit.

Carrillo's motion to disqualify Atty. Gen. John Hill and his staff from assisting the House prosecutors was rejected 23-7.

Senators imposed on the prosecution a duty of proving its charges "beyond a reasonable doubt" to gain a two-thirds vote for removal of the judge, whose troubles date back to a break with the old George Parr political faction in Duval county.

Cost Revised

Comptroller Bob Bullock, who once estimated the proposed new Texas constitution would cost a billion a year and possibly as much as $11 billion overall, reversed himself and said nobody really can tell. "Only history can write the final cost report," Bullock said. "The ultimate monetary impact of the proposed constitution would depend on innumerable future decisions by elected representatives of the people in the city halls, county court-houses, school boards and legislature."

The new constitution will be voted on November 4.

Bullock earlier pegged direct cost to state government at about $100 million a year. He had concluded the new constitution would permit levying another $53 million a year in new taxation on bank deposits, stocks and other intangible property.

Short Snorts . . .

Garrett Morris of Fort Worth was elected chairman of the new Texas Public Utilities Commission.

The Texas highway traffic toll Labor Day weekend was the lowest since 1966.

Veteran Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan will be honored October 14 at a barbecue and entertainment event in Washington-on-the-Brazos Park.

Voters' guide to proposed new constitution to be voted on November 4 are now in the mails in most sections.

Texas mobile home dealers and manufacturers are challenging a new regulatory and bonding requirement. Attorney General Hill defends it.

An Austin district judge declared the Texas theater admissions tax (which yields about $5.5 million a year) unconstitutional.

Construction activities are showing strong signs of recovery, according to the Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Mrs. Agnes West Womack and Mrs. Adah West Bowder of San Angelo were in Eldorado Saturday for the activities arranged by Schleicher county's Bicentennial committee. Also here from San Angelo for the day were Mrs. Sherwood Barker, Jamie Lyn and John Ray, and their guest, Laura Warren.

Post Script

Eldorado has been visited in recent days by another invasion of crickets, similar to the one of about a month ago.

So, the following timely news release on controlling them has been issued by the County Extension Office and should be studied by all Success readers:

Sprays and Dusts For Crickets:
Household sprays for crickets containing 2% to 3% chlordane may be used inside the home. If dusts are preferred, use 5% chlordane. During heavy migration when crickets are attracted by lights around the home, the numbers may be reduced by dusting the area with 5% or 10% carbaryl or chlordane, or 5% heptachlor.

Emulsion sprays of these insecticides may be used according to directions on the label but dusts are more satisfactory. Complete control should not be expected during heavy migration.

What Is It?

Guess What it is.
If you drive by the third block on the Mertzon highway, perhaps you have slowed down to notice what is hanging on a mesquite tree at 302 Mertzon Hwy. That is at the Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Flores residence.

The hanging objects look like big green oversized stuffed sausages.

Would you like to guess what they are?

If you guessed a gourd, you are wrong. They are of the squash family, and they are very good to eat when they are approximately one foot long and tender. Otherwise, if they grow longer they get hard and have the appearance of a gourd.

Bomb Threat To Local Bank Proves To Be Just That

Last Wednesday, September 3rd, started as a usual business day for The First National Bank here, when an incident occurred about mid-morning that was to make the day different from any other in the 63-year history of the financial institution.

Mrs. Frances Peters, assistant cashier, answered the phone and a feminine voice stated that two explosive devices had been placed in the bank building and would go off soon. She immediately notified Leslie Baker, president, and Jo Ed Hill, vice president, who ordered the premises cleared of employees and customers, and the bank closed for the remainder of the day while law officers investigated.

Personnel from the local Sheriff's office and the Department of Public Safety were on hand, as well as San Angelo Fire and Arson Investigator Ken Land and police officer Master Patrolman James Costello, graduates of demolition school. They spent most of the day searching the bank building but failed to find anything out of the ordinary.

The Bank opened for business as usual on Thursday morning, with employees encountering a heavier-than-usual workload through Friday. The 3rd of each month is when Social Security recipients receive their checks and take them in to deposit or cash.

This week, federal, state, and local lawmen continued their investigation into the bomb threat.

Eagles Drop Opening Game To Rankin 38-15

The Eldorado Eagles hosted the Rankin Red Devils on their home field last Friday night and lost 38 to 15, a somewhat better score than the 41 to 0 loss of a year earlier.

The Eagles held the opponents to a six-point lead through the third quarter before Rankin blasted loose in the last quarter. Alan Hall scored for the Eagles in the third quarter and Billy Bob Harlin did so in the final quarter to gain the total of 15 points. That included two extra points on a pass from Factor to Hall.

Six Local Scouts Manned Bi-Centennial Booth

There was no lack of enthusiasm by six Boy Scouts of Eldorado who manned a booth for the greater part of the day Saturday at the Memorial Building for what was intended as a day long "kick-off" for celebration of our Nation's Bi-Centennial. There were to have been games, booths, various kinds of entertainment and a box supper in the evening; however, the crowd was so small that most of the events never did get "off the ground" apparently.

The Boy Scout booth was a busy place as John Hopkins, Brad Thomas, Mark S. Wallis, Jay Cash, Hank Hutcherson and Kenneth Phillips accepted articles from various merchants in the city and sold them, contributing every cent taken in to the Schleicher County Historical Commission and the proposed museum. This contribution amounted to something over $37.

There was the "Country Store" sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of the County, tables set up for dominoes and cards in charge of W. R. Bearce, and a display of their works by the Arts and Crafts Club members. A booth for popcorn and cold drinks was located on the Southeast porch and a coffee bar was inside. It is too bad that all of us could not have been as interested and patriotic as these six young Boy Scouts, and the few young men and women who did their parts on the five activities that were set up.—contributed by Elizabeth Ballew.

Pop Schafer Is 96

Mr. and Mrs. Granvil Hext were in Brady Sunday to be with her father, Mr. M. M. (Pop) Schafer on his 96th birthday. Pop is confined to his bed most of the time but was able to be up part of the day. He only asked that he be allowed to be up and eat barbecued goat, his favorite, which he certainly was granted by his family.

PUBLIC NOTICE
 SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
 (S.J.R. NO. 11)
 SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to:

Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and efficiency of the executive branch.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective January 1, 1976, except Article III, Section 5, which becomes effective January 1, 1981.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the judiciary provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article V, The Judiciary is amended to:

Establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, court of appeals, district courts, and circuit courts. Existing county courts and county judges are continued until otherwise provided by law. All judges (except municipal judges), district attorneys and district clerks must be elected by the people. The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the JUDICIARY PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the VOTING AND ELECTION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

A new Higher Education Fund for Texas is established for the benefit of colleges and universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the Fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Authority to issue Permanent University Bonds is continued but the bonds may not exceed 30% of the Permanent University Fund.

Provide that state taxes may be levied and collected only by general law and to prohibit any state ad valorem tax on real property or tangible personal property except the ten cent tax provided for in Article VII and a tax of two cents on the $100 assessed valuation to provide funds for the State Building Fund. Provides that all real property and tangible personal property must be taxed equally and uniformly in proportion to market value. Existing exemptions from ad valorem taxation are continued. The present dedication of motor fuel taxes for highway purposes and the Available School Fund is retained. The "pay-as-you-go" principle for the operation of state government is retained. The legislature shall establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of open-space land devoted to farm or ranch purposes and may establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of forest land devoted to timber production. The $3000 exemption from state ad valorem taxation for residential homesteads is continued and the legislature by law may increase this amount. A separate $3000 exemption from ad valorem taxation by political subdivisions is provided for the residential homestead of persons at least 65 years of age and the political subdivision may increase this amount. The legislature by law may exempt from ad valorem taxation certain property owned by veterans' organizations, non-profit water corporations, and persons in need because of age or disability, and economic circumstance. The legislature may also exempt property to preserve historical, cultural or natural history resources. Taxpayers are provided a new method of correcting inequitable tax assessments by paying ad valorem taxes under protest and suing for a refund in a district court. State debt may be authorized by law only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the state voting on the question. Public funds and public credit may be used only for public purposes and no public funds or public credit may be used to influence the election of a public officer. The article prohibits a retail sales tax on agricultural machinery or parts, fertilizer, feeds or seeds, prescription drugs or medicine, or food, except food sold by restaurants for immediate consumption. An assessment voted by marine food or agricultural producers on their product sales is not a tax if provision is made for the individual producer to receive a refund of the assessment when the producer does not desire to be assessed.

The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to contribute more than 10%. A policy that the quality of the environment of the State of Texas is to be protected is established, and the legislature is required to implement and enforce this policy. No state funds may be used to remove surface water from the river basin of origin if the surface water is necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable water requirements of the basin for the ensuing 50 years, unless the removal of water is sufficiently replaced to the point of removal from outside the state or is on a temporary, interim basis. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

Clothing For Physically Handicapped

Clothing for the physically handicapped person needs special consideration for comfort and ease in dressing—as well as “good looks” and fashion. Choose designs that are classical, not faddish.

Durable construction to withstand constant abrasion of metal is important, too.

Flat-fee or well-finished seams, adequate seam allowances with small stitching, reinforced seams, inconspicuous hems, and well-made buttonholes are things to look for.

Fabrics for the handicapped should be absorbent, wrinkle-resistant and easy to care for to retain a neat crisp appearance without irritating the skin. Flame-retardant fabric is the best choice.

Look for easy-off, easy-on designs that don't bind—reglan sleeves, short jackets, wrap around dresses, and shirts and skirts with front closures. Use large buttons or zippers with large decorative pulls or flexible fabric fasteners.

Clothing that is easy to manipulate makes the handicapped feel more self-sufficient and less dependent on others. And clothing should not restrict natural movement.

Choosing clothes that flatter skin tones and hair coloring is another important factor.

Baskets Brighten Bathroom Decorating Scheme

Baskets are “natural decorators” throughout the house, and in the bathroom they can be useful as well as pretty.

A basket near the tub can hold an assortment of bathing needs—soaps, lotions, bath oil, shampoo and sponges. And a size that fits over the shower head is good if space is limited.

For creative towel storage, fasten the bottom of a basket to the wall, handle out. Then fill the basket with colorful towels and use the handle as a rack.

Attach small baskets inside the linen closet to hold each family member's special things: razor, brush, make-up or tub toys.

Larger items—hampers, wastebaskets, and magazine baskets—come in all sizes to fit any space.

For a finishing touch, place a small plant inside a basket to brighten the tank top or shelf.

Preserving Figs . . .

Figs, so abundant now, can be preserved at their peak to last throughout the year. Choose the type of preservation to suit the family's tastes and equipment available. But for any preservation method, select fully ripe fruit, wash and clean them well.

Ripeness of figs can be determined by degree of softness to the touch. Overripe figs have a sour odor from fermentation of the juice.

Drying Figs. Spread in single layers on trays. Under controlled conditions in the oven, start at 115 degrees F., increase to 145 degrees F. after first hour.

Reduce to about 130 degrees F. when nearly dry. Stir or turn figs to keep from sticking.

Drying time averages up to five hours for halves in controlled heat. Dry until leathery, with flesh pliable yet slightly sticky.

Freezing Figs. Select soft-ripe fruit. Make sure they have not become sour in the center. Sort, wash and cut off stems. Peel if desired. Halve or leave whole. Treat for discoloration.

Freeze without sugar or cover with a cold syrup made from 2½ cups sugar to 4 cups water.

Fig Preserves. Preparing fruit: Select only perfect figs, ripe but not soft. Leave 1/8 inch stem. Wash. To remove the fuzz, sprinkle 1 cup soda over 6 quarts sound figs and add 1 gallon boiling water. Let stand 5 minutes. Drain and wash thoroughly in cold water.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Home Laundry

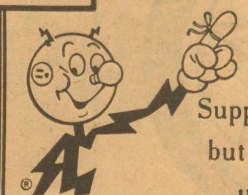

- ★ Avoid wasting hot water while laundering. Use the cold and warm water setting as much as possible to cut down on the energy needed to heat water.
- ★ Use the water level control on your washer. You should use less hot water for small loads.
- ★ Follow detergent instructions carefully. Oversudsing makes your washing machine motor work harder than it needs to.
- ★ Clean the lint filter on your washer and dryer after each load to keep your machine running efficiently.

GLASSHOUSE

A few minutes drive from historic Williamsburg, Va. and not far from Busch Gardens Old Country, is the site of the Jamestown Glasshouse.

Here, costumed men using 17th century tools, make glass with the same devotion to detail as their colonial forefathers. Housed in a temporary shelter while work on the reconstruction of the original glasshouse progresses, the craftsmen laboriously produce works of art reminiscent of the early 1600s. Using sand, lime and wood ash, the men reproduce a wide variety of glass containers.

Nearby, special timber and fittings have been gathered by the National Park Service for the recreation of the glasshouse originally built in 1608. The Glass Container Manufacturers Institute (GCM), the industry's trade association, is assisting the government in funding the recreation. Completion is scheduled for early next year.

A nominal admission is charged to enter the Colonial National Park in Jamestown which contains the glasshouse. Glass making demonstrations are conducted daily from 9am-4pm. Samples of their work may be purchased in the restoration's gift shop.

Indeed, we've come a long way from the humble beginnings of America's first industry. Today, the $2.5 billion glass container industry produces bottles and jars for foods, beverages, medicines, cosmetics and a host of other products. A visit to the Jamestown Glasshouse during the Bicentennial will prove to be a fascinating educational experience for the whole family. For a free brochure on the Glasshouse write: GCM News Bureau, Suite 2000, 866 Third Ave., N.Y., N.Y. 10022.

MANAGING YOUR FAMILY'S FINANCES

By Dr. Carl F. Hawver

Q. We've been married three months, and like most of our friends we've made a few purchases on credit. We sure don't want to bite off more than we can chew, but how can we tell? Credit seems so easy! Are there any signal flags that will let us know if we're getting close to the danger line?

A. There sure are! The first danger signal is when you have to defer payment of a bill because there just isn't enough money to pay them all. Another signal is when you make a part payment on a credit account, to try to give all creditors a little something on account. Another danger signal is when you have to defer the purchase of current necessities to pay old credit obligations. Do you sometimes depend on overtime or other uncertain income to pay normal monthly expenditures? Well, if you do, it's another danger signal. And finally, if you have an open-end debt that has no maturity date, but allows you to pay just enough to keep you under a "perpetual debt" ceiling balance (revolving credit), this is a danger signal, too.

Every credit obligation ought to have a definite termination point, established at the time the credit contract is signed.

Dr. Carl F. Hawver, Executive Vice President of the National Consumer Finance Association, is a widely recognized counseling expert in family money and credit management.

FUEL SAVING IDEAS

TIPS ON SAVING ENERGY AND MONEY

GOOD IDEAS FROM EXPERIENCED SAVERS

When it comes to saving fuel, a little can mean a lot, so the 3M Company, which saves the equivalent of 16 million gallons of fuel every year, offers you these fuel-saving suggestions that can really add up:

1. Check the sizing on the burner unit on your furnace when you give it its annual cleaning. An oversized burner system will cycle on and off too frequently and waste fuel. Undersized fans also cause inefficient operation.
2. Before buying anything that requires energy to use, comparison shop on the basis of total cost: the initial cost of the appliance and the energy cost of operating it.
3. Landscape your yard for energy savings. Plant shade trees and vines on the south and west side of the house to provide protection against hot sun. Trees on the north and west side can act as a windbreak.
4. If you have a forced air furnace system, put a return air intake apparatus in the basement, and run the furnace fan to circulate air instead of turning on the air conditioner fan.
5. You can keep your attic cooler if you install a wind-operated fan or some other non-electric ventilator.
6. To reduce your central air conditioner's electric load, spray the electric condenser periodically with a fine fog of water on exceptionally hot days. To keep the condenser clean use a direct stream of water from your garden hose, and keep the condenser clear of leaves and shrubs. If installing a new unit, put it in a shady area.

These ideas can not only help you save some money on your electric and fuel bills, they can help you save a lot of energy for America.

Garden Calendar For September

1. Time to turn the compost pile and think about starting a new one for the fall crop of leaves and garden wastes.
2. Be first in line to select and purchase spring flowering bulbs as soon as available. Close-out sales later are seldom a bargain at any price. Store your purchases in a cool place, preferably a refrigerator at about 40 degrees F. They should either be in a hydrator or in plastic bags to prevent excessive dehydration.
3. Lay out your bulb beds using large masses of a few colors for the best effect.
4. Inspect outdoor potted plants carefully and select those you may wish to bring indoors for the winter. Careful pruning and grooming several weeks before you have to bring them in will provide you with more attractive plants. Discard diseased or insect damaged plants and make cuttings of those that are too big to carry over.
5. Continue the disease spray program on roses as blackspot and mildew can be extremely damaging in September and October.
6. Time to plant or to divide and transplant daylilies, bearded iris, Shasta daisies, violets and similar plants.
7. Check your supply of PCNB (Terracot) and apply to those areas of the lawn with a past history of brown patch. It may crop-up anywhere in the lawn so be on the look-out, ready to apply corrective measures.
8. Avoid using excessive amounts of nitrogen from now until spring except for a few of the hardy winter annuals. Lawns will need an application of complete fertilizer about the time you expect the first killing frost.

9. Don't attempt to plant Bermudagrass seed after September 15 as it will seldom become established well enough to overwinter.
10. Complete digging, drying, and storing gladiolus corms.
11. This is a good time to sow bluebonnet seed.
12. Light pruning and shaping of woody plants may be done at any time the need is there, but drastic pruning should be saved until plants are dormant.
13. Still time to plant cool season vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower, onions, spinach, and greens. Too late for success with tomatoes and peppers.
14. Clean established garden beds and replenish mulch where needed. Remove faded annuals and be ready to plant winter annuals when available.
15. For that bare spot in the garden, consider planting some mums, Joseph's Coat, zinnias or marigolds that are still available at many nurseries.
16. Do your iris or daylily plantings need renovation? Now is a good time to redo them. Cut back dead leaves and stems, apply a complete fertilizer and water thoroughly. If it has been over three years since they were planted or divided, better do it now.
17. Check the source of the soil you may plan to use for making a flower bed, or filling a low spot in the yard. Soil from an unchecked source may be low in price but costly in the long run due to unwanted weed seeds, insects, and diseases that may be present.

Control Stored Grain Pests

With the harvest season at hand, producers should be sure their grain storage facilities are free of insect pests. It is also a good practice to periodically inspect the storage bins throughout the storage period. Stored grain pests damage grain by eating the entire kernel or by damaging the seed grain. Livestock may also refuse to eat feed-stuffs that contain high numbers of stored grain insects. Fumigants can be effectively used to control stored grain pests. They are available in liquid, gas and volatile solid formations. However, these materials are extremely toxic to humans and domestic animals. Some fumigants also pose an extreme fire hazard and can explode due to static electricity. Further information on control techniques for stored grain pests can be obtained at the local county Extension office.

Auxiliary Meets

The Hospital Auxiliary met Sept. 4 with Mrs. James Page presiding. There were 9 present with three new members. The treasurer reported a balance of $721.51 in the treasury with $22 from memorials and $104.25 from the gift shop. Mrs. Winnie Jackson reported from the gift shop that more hand made gift items are needed.

Auxiliary officers elected for the new year include: Mrs. Arch Mittel, pres.; Mrs. Truett Stanford, vice pres.; Mrs. Henry Moore, sec.; and Mrs. Rance McDonald treasurer.

The following telephone committee was appointed: Mrs. W. C. Parks, Mrs. Bessie Doyle, and Mrs. Richard Cheatham.

A patio sale was planned for Sept. 25 at the home of Mrs. James Page. There will be a variety of items sold along with a bake sale. Sandwiches, cake, coffee and tea will be sold at the lunch hour. Anyone having anything they would like to donate may call any Auxiliary member. Plans are to buy an electrocardiograph as soon as funds are available.

The past year the Auxiliary has given a $200 scholarship to someone in the nursing profession, has bought a suction machine and blood pressure machine, a Polaroid camera to be used by the activities director, also prizes to be used for bingo. Sewing days were held to make things needed for the Nursing Home and hospital. A Christmas party was given and gifts bought for each Nursing Home patient. Birthday parties were given the past two months and special holidays were observed throughout the year with refreshments.

Bake From Scratch For Goodness' Sake

Back-to-school schedules automatically predict a series of lunch box menus that are nutritious and delicious. Make sandwiches of enriched whole wheat or rye bread with a variety of fillings, such as sliced cheese and meat. Include some kind of raw vegetable along with fruit, cookie or piece of cake. Two-Flavor Cake is a baker's dream—rich, tender—made with Baker's German's sweet chocolate.

Two-Flavor Cake

- |   |                             |
|---|-----------------------------|
| 1 package (4 oz.) sweet cooking chocolate | 1 cup butter or margarine   |
| 3 cups sifted cake flour                  | 2 cups sugar                |
| 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder   | 4 eggs                      |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt                         | 1 cup milk                  |
|   | 1 teaspoon vanilla          |
|   | 1/2 teaspoon almond extract |

Melt chocolate over low heat; set aside. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream butter. Gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. (Beat 10 minutes in an electric mixer, or longer by hand.) Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour mixture alternately with the milk and flavorings, beating until smooth after each addition.

Pour half of the batter into a 10-inch tube pan which has been lined on the bottom with paper. Fold chocolate into remaining batter; spoon over plain batter. Bake at 350° for about 1 hour and 10 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into center comes out clean. (Chocolate batter goes to bottom during baking, marbling cake.) Cool cake in pan 15 minutes. Then remove from pan and finish cooling on rack.
