School To Turn Out Friday For Holidays

The local schools will turn out this Friday afternoon at 2:30 for the ensuing two weeks of Christmas and New Year's holidays. Classes will reconvene the morning of Monday, January 5th.

Christmas gift exchanges will be held Friday following the lunch period in the home rooms of the six elementary grades.

The Am. Legion Christmas party for pre-school age children through age 12 will be held for an hour starting at 1:30 in the elementary gym. Santa and Legionnaires will distribute the bags of candy.

Buses are to run at 2:30 p.m.

4th Annual Deer Hunt Sponsored By Masons

Eldorado Lodge #890 A. F. & A. M. played host to ten boys from the Masonic Home and School this past week-end at the fourth annual deer hunt. As in the past, this year's hunt was held on the L. L. Watson Ranch in eastern Schleicher County. The Watsons have served as host for each of the four annual hunts.

Schleicher County Sheriff Orval Edmiston, Treasurer of the local lodge, reported that a total of 31 deer were carried to San Angelo for processing. After processing the meat will be carried to the Home by members of the Eldorado Lodge. The Home and School are located in Ft. Worth. —J. P. Ragsdale, sec., Eldorado Lodge.

Christmas Party Set By Legionnaires

Arrangements are reported complete for the annual Christmas party for county children. Willard Gentry is Commander of The Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion which puts on the event each year at this time.

The party will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. this Friday, Dec. 19th, at the elementary gym at school.

This party put on by Legionnaires and Santa Claus is always a highlight of the Christmas holiday season here, and several hundred bags of candy will be distributed to local children from pre-school through age 12. Parents of pre-schoolers are especially invited to bring their youngsters. Santa will be assisted by Legionnaires in distributing the candy bags.

This year's party has been paid for out of the local Legion Post treasury.

Gen. Tel. To Modify Billing Procedures

Eldorado telephone customers will be getting their bills on different dates beginning in January, according to Jack Goss, San Angelo division manager for General Telephone Company.

"In order to provide more efficient service from our business office to our customers, bills will be mailed at intervals during the month for the San Angelo division," Goss said.

Effective in January, Eldorado customers will receive their bills on the 1st of the month instead of the 22nd. The fractional charge or credit necessary to adjust accounts to the new billing date will be shown on the first statement, Goss said.

S. S. Man Here Today

More Greetings To All

Again this week, we are carrying Christmas Greetings from our local public-spirited merchants. This Success issue, dated Dec. 18th, is a companion to the one for last week, Dec. 11th.

This week's issue is completely filled with Christmas advertising and news, and anyone who missed a Christmas Greeting ad is now invited to come in and order a New Year's Greeting, for our next paper coming out Jan. 1st.

This issue has the Letters To Santa Claus from our local Third Grade pupils.

Around the business and residential areas this year there are more lighted displays in evidence, although this town is not having a Decorating Contest again this year.

The last two Christmas seasons were more austere ones when every one was urged to curtail unnecessary lighting and save energy.

By now, you should have your plans made for the coming Christmas and New Year's holidays.

You should, by now, have the major part of your shopping done, and you should have sent and received most Christmas cards. This is a good time to check the return addresses on the Christmas cards you receive and bring your address book up to date.

Christmas Day is now just a week away so we urge you to pause now from the commercial overtones of the season. Keep Christ in Christmas by contributing to the Christmas benevolences of the church of your choice.

Make a special point, too, of attending your church's special services during this season.

Holidays Are Set 25th & 1st

Thursday, December 25th, is a General Holiday and will be followed exactly one week later by January 1st, New Year's Day, and also a general holiday.

The local Court House will take those holidays named along with Friday, Dec. 26th, to make a four-day week end.

Do your shopping with local merchants with the holidays in mind.

School will turn out this Friday afternoon, Dec. 19th, for the ensuing two weeks.

No Success Issue Next Week, 25th

The Success crew have published the Christmas Greeting issues Dec. 11 & 18, and there will be no separate paper published for Thursday, Dec. 25th. This enables us to do end of the year book work as well as take a few off, following our custom of some years' standing. Our next issue will bear date of Thursday, Jan. 1st.

Shop will be open part of the time.

Presbyterians Schedule Special Christmas Party

The annual Sunday School Christmas Party will be held at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, Dec. 21, at 6:30 p.m. Members are to bring sandwiches and dips and other finger foods for a snack supper. The program will be presented by the Sunday School classes. Santa will be present with surprises for all.

All friends of the church are invited and especially the boys and girls. Marvin McAngus is Sunday School Superintendent and Mrs. Paul Page Sr. is in charge of the program.

1st Christian Church Sets Christmas Program

Beginning at 10:00 a.m. on December 21st, the First Christian Church will have their Christmas Program. Immediately following services, there will be a church dinner, then the annual Christmas tree.

Reverend Dean W. Brigham, minister, will be present as a guest, with his wife Faye, from San Angelo. Mr. Brigham is still recovering from a lengthy illness. During his absence, Mr. Bill Gentry has been conducting services. Anyone not having a church home is cordially invited.

Nursing Home Notes

Christmas is always a special time of the year to us as it is to everyone. We enjoy Christmas here in the nursing home because it always lifts our spirits and brings us all closer together.

This week will be a busy one. The FHA girls are coming to see us Wednesday evening and are going to sing. They decorated our Nurses' station this year and it is so pretty and we appreciate it so much.

Friday evening we are looking forward to the Baptist girls who are going to come and sing carols for us.

Sunday is our annual Hospital Auxiliary party which is always a special treat. The time for that event will be at 3:00. We also understand they are going to present a program.

We would like to wish Winnifred Beaman a happy birthday the 16th of December. Mrs. Beaman just had her 87th birthday.

Mr. Wren Jackson will be celebrating his birthday on December 27th at 2:00 with a party given by his family. Mr. Jackson will be turning 96 years old. Miss Georgia Springston also will be celebrating her birthday on the 27th of December. She will be turning 87 years old.

Bingo Winners this week were Mrs. Elva Daniels with two games, Erna Rexroat with two games and Gertrude Nixon with two games. Other winners were Beulah Harris, Maggie Sluder, Carrie Blakeway, Ella Casbeer.

Out of town visitors were Mrs. Mary Jess Childress to visit Georgia Springton, and Chris Hilliard to see Mrs. Beaman from Houston. Flossie Crawford enjoyed a visit from Maxine Stephens from San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawkins and Richard came to see John Hawkins and they make their home in Lampasas.

42 Christmas Party Held At Stanfords'

Mrs. Truett Stanford was hostess last Thursday when she entertained the club with a Christmas party in her ranch home.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon, and later gifts were exchanged from the beautiful decorated Christmas tree.

The afternoon was spent playing 42.

A business meeting was called to order by the president of the club Opal Parks. Mrs. Mable Griffin asked to be voted out of the club because of ill health. Mable has been a member of the club for many years. The club regrets to see her resign.

We all had fun at the party. Those present were: Rose Brannan, Mary Joiner, Allie Cheatham, Maudie Bassinger, Virginia Griffin, Jake Spencer, Zelma Henderson, Annie Speck, Opal Parks, Mable Griffin and Bessie Doyle.

Maxine Page was organist and Mary Christian pianist. Rev. Gene Stark was narrator for the cantata, "Carol of Christmas," by John W. Peterson. The choir closed with the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah.

Refreshments were served to all during the fellowship hour afterwards in the church ed. building. Members of the Community Choir were:

Sopranos: Jan Crippin, Ruth Davis, Louise Kuykendall, Becky Moore, Helen Page, Frances Peters, Betty Richardson, Margaret Rountree, Susan Stark.

Altos: Mabel Blaylock, Charlene Gunstead, Debbie Joy, Mary Robinson.

Tenors: Tom Byrd, Joe Christian, Weldon Davis, Lynn Meador, D. T. Yates.

Basses: T. P. Robinson, Willard Gentry, Bill Gunstead, Jim Hardy, Pat Ragsdale.

First Half, 500 Bales, Already Been Ginned

As the dry norther swept into the area early Monday morning there were a dozen cotton trailers on the gin yard waiting to be ginned at Mikeska Gin, when it resumed operation Monday afternoon.

The gin total stood at 500 at that time.

The cold norther was not conducive for cotton stripping at that time and will be delayed until the weather warms up. Cotton farmers don't mind the dry weather but wheat farmers are in need of moisture for grazing for livestock.

If the total cotton crop is to be 1,000 bales, then the first half of it has already come in.

Lions Club Holds Final Pre-Holiday Meeting

Boss Lion Ronnie Mittel presided at the meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 17th, of the Eldorado Lions Club. This business session of the club was the final pre-holiday meeting. The club will not meet the coming two Wednesdays, Dec. 24th, Christmas Eve, and Dec. 31st, New Year's Eve.

A gift was presented to Fred and Flora Riley, long-time cooks for the club.

Programs earlier in the month included a speech by Howard Derrick who discussed the Sheep Producers Council on Dec. 3rd, and on Dec. 10th a film was shown of the Eagle Band participating in the recent contests at Brady.

Local Club Now 100%

During Boss Lion Mittel's presidency, the Eldorado Lions Club has for the first time achieved 100% Membership in the Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville. This calls for $10 per member to be contributed during the club year. Already $500 has been given to the Camp on behalf of the local club's 50 members.

Since 1953, the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children has provided summer fun for the blind, deaf, mute and crippled youngsters of Texas at its Kerrville facility.

At other times of the year, the Kerrville facilities are used for rehabilitating the blind, and for rehabilitating diabetics.

The Texas Lions Camp hums with activity, achievement and excitement for 12 full months each year—the delightful tinkle of happy laughter in the summer camping days; the muted tap-tap-tap of a cane during the other months.

The doors of the Kerrville camp are always open—because the hearts of Texas Lions remain open always.

A. G. McCormack is the local representative for the Lions Crippled Children's Camp.

Next Meeting Set Jan. 7th

The next meeting of the local Lions Club will be at noon on Wednesday, January 7th. L. D. Mund, chairman of the club's Program & Entertainment Committee, will be the January program chairman.

"The Drawing Power Of God"

Acts 1-8. But you shall receive power after the Holy Ghost is come upon you and ye shall be witness unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and in Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

The spirit of God is the drawing power that is telling you to separate yourself from the unclean things of this world. The Lord is talking to you now as you read this bringing the writings of the past weeks to your memory. We have been praying God, set their soul afire for you, and he is doing just that. We haven't had a revival of souls in our church yet but we know God is working on the other end of our Prayers. God has that power to bring you to break tradition, to give up the pretty brick buildings, the padded pews. The ear tickling sermons and the false Gods just to know the anointed of God preach something to save your soul.

Matt. 7-14. Because strait is the gate and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

Just tonight as I taught a Bible class, I looked at the pews which came from the old Bailey Ranch Church. People used to sit on them and hear preaching that would stir them and they would still get stirred if they would come sit on them. There hasn't ever been any one come into our church, but what they didn't feel the presence of God and the drawing power that wanted them to come back.

People, all you got to do is come on back away from your social group and be led by the Lord.

All you got to do is come on and others will follow. The Holiness Churches have always been run down in some form or fashion, but so was Jesus and the Apostles. Where the presence of God is there are going to be some battles.

You may say, Bro. Ford how many are in your church now? There are six, Sis Ford, Sis Barr and the children and I. This question often arises, because people want to be where the crowd is. But remember few will find it.

The reason the church isn't running over is because the Holy Ghost will change your ways, or you won't stay. I have had people to come to church and they were so carnal minded, till they would say I can't live up to what you preach. If they would repent and be Baptized in Jesus' name for remission of sin and receive the Holy Ghost like in Acts 2-38 said, they could live for God like I preach. You can't bear up under Paul's preaching without the Holy Ghost for Paul preached with the anointed of the Holy Ghost.

I know that some people are doing all maybe they know to do, but by the Holy Ghost I know your fruits and how you are being fed so I cry for your soul. After being here nine years, I know everyone and everyone is special to me.

The drawing power of God draws and draws, but it will give up and the Lord will leave you over to a rebate.

May you let the spirit search your life. I pray keep the offerings coming in. Mail to Box 115, United Pentecostal Church, % of Bro. Ford. Sincerely yours, Bro. Walter Ford.

Tips To help YOU to Conserve and Save Energy on Winter Heating

For savings on energy, set the thermostat on the temperature setting that provides adequate comfort. Don't continually switch it up and down. Remember, the lower you set the thermostat in the winter the more money you save on energy.

A wood burning fireplace should be equipped with an efficient damper. Be sure to keep the damper closed when not in use. A chimney with the damper open carries warm air out the house, wasting heat.

To decrease heat loss and reduce energy cost in rooms that are not in use at night or in extremely cold weather, draw the draperies and lower the shades over the windows, glass panels and doors. If the sun is shining on glass areas, open the draperies. The sun shining through the glass will supply additional heat at no cost.

Something For Nothing: There's Always A Catch

A variety of newspaper or magazine ads, as well as many other promotions, fill mail boxes more than usual at this time of year.

Be particularly wary when you are offered something-for-nothing. When you buy, be sure you know just what you are to receive, how much you are to pay and when you will receive.

Nearly always the cost of the free item is included in the price of the item for which you pay.

The intelligent consumer should realize that it is unrealistic for a merchant to hand out free gifts indiscriminately.

You would think that we would be exceedingly suspicious of any something-for-nothing deal. Actually, the promotions are thriving as never before.

Christmas Rewards

The Birth of Christ is celebrated at Christmas. But, in effect it is everybody's birthday, and the celebration going on all over the world. Therefore, Christmas is many things — some real, some only felt.

Christmas is the excited gleam in the eyes of children; it is the happy music (to celebrate a birth) and talking and laughing;
It is bright-painted toys and decorated trees. It is the tinkling of bells and the taste of candies.
It is the calm fulfillment that follows hectic days of preparation.

There is a feeling of compassion for the less fortunate that glows more warmly on this day than any other day.

Christmas is the time of the heart's inventory, the time of being together and going home.

Most of all, Christmas is the time of transformation of mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers, into the children they once were — and still are — for a very short time this one day of the year.

MAYBE, SOON . . . Santa should be along before long or, has he already arrived? For animal lovers, a puppy is an ideal Christmas gift, appreciated long after the holiday is past. This young fellow seems to be taking the holiday in stride.

Hot Bunwiches Are A Great Idea

- 2 cups coarsley diced, cooked turkey
- ½ cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- ½ cup diced cheddar cheese
- 2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- salt & pepper to taste butter or margarine hamburger buns

Combine turkey, celery, onion, cheese and eggs. Moisten with mayonnaise and sason with paprika, salt and pepper. Spread generously between buttered halves of buns. Wrap each sandwich in foil. Heat at 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Delicious — simple, and a good way to use left over turkey.

Fire! Fire! Fire!

It seems this is all a lot of people need, to get them on the streets to find out where the fire is. This has become a real hindrance to the Firemen. There have been times lately that so many people arrive at the Fire Station that the Firemen have trouble getting the trucks out and on the road.

Also, it is reported that less and less people pull over and let the Fire Trucks pass.

If your house were on fire wouldn't you want the trucks there as quickly as possible? Please, Citizens of Eldorado, stay away from the fires, and give us a chance to perform our duty.

We strive to do a good job for our community and only with your co-operation can we be successful.

Christmas Question

For some reason, most of us have come to look upon the first day of the year as the ideal time for examination of conscience and for the setting up of a new set of ideals. Would not Christmas be a much better time? What better time than Christmas for all of us to ask this question of ourselves: "What am I contributing to my fellow man; to Christianity; and to the world in which I live?"

Mighty Mistletoe

Perhaps the reason that most young ladies do not object too strongly to paying the penalty for standing beneath the mistletoe stems from an ancient superstition—that the maiden who was not kissed at least one time beneath the mistletoe at Christmas would not be married in the following year. In olden times, a berry was plucked from the mistletoe with each kiss.

ATTRACTION . . . There's something about a Christmas tree, burning brightly in the night, that warms the heart, no matter how chilly the weather may be. Reflected against a background of city lights, this tree is a colorful reminder of the significance of this great holiday season.

That prized holly tree you have been nursing for years can probably stand heavier cuttings for holiday gifts than most home owners realize, horticulturists report.

Tests show that English holly especially can be cut rather severely over a period of years without reducing total yield or damaging the tree. Appearance of the tree, rather than possible damage, can pretty well dictate the extent of pruning.

In addition to cutting holly for gifts, the home owner may often be approached by professional holly cutters wishing to buy holly.

Properly done, this pruning can serve to improve the shape and maintain the size of the tree.

Owners should be cautioned, however, to be sure the cutters are professionals.

A CHRISTMAS RESTITUTION

BY D.L. ALEXANDER

MARY WENDELL stood at her bedroom window scratching at the frost on the glass. It was bitterly cold outside, with a hard wind blowing. Deep snow covered the ground and clung to the leafless trees, and the birds who had neglected to return to the warmer south huddled in such shelter as could be found.

Mary's face wore a look of sorrow and dejection, and a sob rose once in a while to relieve the tension that otherwise threatened to engulf her.

She had tried to save a little money for Christmas, but after paying her bills she hadn't a cent left. Christmas hadn't mattered much because Donnie had been too young to know about such things. This year he had heard people talk about Santa Claus and had asked questions.

It was the day before Christmas, a time of cheer and good will. But there was no cheer in her heart. Life had been trying for her since she had left Concord and cut herself off from her friends of former days. Sickness and the loss of one job after another had kept her on the edge of destitution.

"May I come in," he inquired.

"Mommie, will Santa bring me something?" Donnie had asked when she had put him to bed the night before.

"I don't know, darling," she had answered, knowing she couldn't buy him even a stick of candy.

She raised her head and looked at the crib where he was sleeping. He was well covered and warm. She left the window and went into the sitting room where a cheery fire dispelled most of the cold. She went to the window and pulled the shade down as if, unconsciously, she could dispose of the black mood that assailed her.

In the center of the room she fell to her knees. "Oh, God," she prayed in anguish, "please lift my burden from me. I know I did wrong, but I know you have forgiven me by allowing me to keep my little boy. Please, God, provide me with the means of making this a happy time for him, in recognition of Your Son's sacrifices for us. Amen."

Visitor

A knock on the door brought her to her feet. She glanced that way but didn't cross the room until it was repeated. Then she opened the door to confront a tall, blond man in army uniform who stood in the dimly lit hallway. She recognized him instantly.

"Why, Donald Bruce," she cried hoarsely.

"May I come in?" he inquired. She was too startled to answer, so he laughingly brushed her aside and entered.

He took a quick look around the room and noticed the evidences of poverty. "Why did you quit writing?" he inquired.

"There wasn't much to say," she answered weakly.

He went to the doorway of the kitchen and looked inside. Then he crossed the room to the bedroom doorway, saying: "It seems to me there could have been a lot to say."

His eyes took in the crib and the baby in it. He hurried across the room, Mary following him. He looked down and studied the face of the sleeping child for a few minutes, and then turned to Mary with an unspoken inquiry in his eyes.

"That's why I left Concord—to avoid the talk and gossip," she said.

He looked again at the child searchingly, and then said: "Why didn't you tell me?"

"I didn't think you would care." "Good Heavens, woman, do you think I'm heartless? Do you think I'd have left you to face all this alone without my help?"

He held his arms out to her, and she flew into them, the tears coming freely.

A voice came from the bedroom. "Mommie, has Santa come yet?"

"In a little while, dear, and He's going to bring you a new papa," she answered.

LAST MINUTE PRESENT

BY F.L. ROWLEY

E LAINE glanced up at the clock. Fifteen minutes more and the doll would be hers. Mr. Rogers had promised to let her have it at half price if no one bought it before closing time. Ever since she was a little girl Elaine had wanted a baby doll—just like this one.

For the third time in ten minutes she arranged the few items left on the toy counter. These last minute shoppers were so messy. All except that charming man in the tweed coat. He'd been the only bright spot in a hectic day.

"Well, did you buy yourself the Christmas present?"

Elaine turned to see Helen Smith grinning at her. Helen was in cosmetics.

"Not yet, Helen. Mr. Rogers says I can take the doll off the shelf at exactly five o'clock. Isn't she adorable? I hope no one runs in to buy her at the last minute."

"Not at that price!" scoffed Helen. "Unless your prince charming returns."

"Prince charming?"

"Don't kid me. That chap in the tweed coat. Now there's MY

"That doll would make a fine present for some little girl."

idea of a Christmas present! He was in at least twice today again—wasn't he?"

"Three times," said Elaine, blushing. "He's been my best customer."

"And greatest admirer, if you ask me."

"Oh cut it out! Judging from the toys he bought he must have a dozen kids. No one's given me a second look in twenty-nine years. I don't think they're going to start now."

"Really? Well take a peek at who just walked in the door!" Helen scurried away.

Elaine held her breath. The man in the tweed coat was heading straight for the toy counter. For a second Elaine had a wild urge to hide the precious baby doll. He was upon her before she could move.

Back Again

"Hello again!" he said gayly. "Say, you've done a land-office business since I was here last. Not much left, is there?" His gray eyes studied the counter and the shelves behind Elaine. "That doll would make a fine present for some little girl."

Elaine's heart sank. "It's—it's more for a big girl," she stammered. "Besides—it's so expensive."

His eyes were sharp. He looked at her for a long moment, then said: "I'll buy the doll."

"Yes sir," said Elaine, turning quickly. She regained her composure while wrapping the doll. "Is it for one of your little girls?" she asked.

"For THE little girl." "Oh—and those other presents you bought?"

He leaned across the counter. His eyes twinkled. "There's eight boys," he whispered confidentially.

"Eight?" Elaine stepped back. "Goodness—what a big family!"

The man in the tweed coat was laughing. "Yes, isn't it? Too bad they're not mine. I'm just an uncle."

"But the little girl—she's yours?"

Surprise

He stroked his chin thoughtfully. "I sincerely hope so. This morning I asked Mr. Rogers what she wanted most for Christmas, and he said: 'The baby doll on the shelf over her head.' To me it seems like an odd present, but I guess you know what you want." He held the box out to her.

Elaine gasped. "Me—you mean me?" The clock struck five. "Oh, but you—I mean we—could have saved—"

"YOU could have saved. And if you'd bought the doll it wouldn't have been a present from me, would it? And then I wouldn't be able to ask a favor of you."

"A favor?"

"To have supper with me. And to have Christmas dinner with me tomorrow if you're not tied up."

"I'll get my coat," said Elaine breathlessly.

Cathy's
Charlie, Cathy, Liz, Charis, Ashley      Phone 3-2645

Mary Scott put another pecan pie in the oven. She planned to finish the preparations, even if some of the food were left over until Christmas of next year.

She had been upset since Fred had called so say one of the children had come down with the flu and they would not be coming for Christmas dinner.

Jack's situation was different. He lived a thousand miles away. He had always brought his family to "grandma's", just as everyone else did. Coming so far to see his mother was one thing; to see his sister was something else.

Mary had known that it would all end when mother died. She and Fred and Jack had been close, all of their lives. Even after they had teenagers of their own, everyone returned to the old homestead each Christmas. It had been a tradition of many years standing. A tradition that now had apparently ended.

It had ended of course, last Christmas. Mother had died in mid-December. They had all agreed not to get together last Christmas, but everyone had appeared enthusiastic when Mary suggested they gather at her house this year. She knew now they just didn't want to say "no" at the time.

Kid Stuff

Billy came bounding in with all the energy of a fourteen-year-old. "Say, mom. Guess what! All the kids are going to get together Christmas afternoon on Galt Hill with out sleds. We're going to have races and everything."

Mary laughed. "You feel real sure you'll get that sled for Christmas?"

"Sure, I will." He winked. "Old Santa hasn't let me down yet."

Ann, sixteen, entered. "You had better mend your ways, then, young man. You don't get good presents when you've been a bad boy."

"Ah, you sound just like a sister."

"A sister who is not going to be on that hill with your wild children. Mom, some of the kids are planning a sleigh ride. Chap-eroned. Billy Smith has asked me. Can I go?"

"When will it be?"
"Christmas night. Everyone agrees we should be with our families Christmas Eve and Christmas day."

The Idea

Later, as Mary was re-arranging the lights on the Christmas tree, the words came back to her. "Everyone agrees we should be with our families Christmas Eve and Christmas day."

She had always been with her family, her entire family. That is the way it should be. There had never been a question, so long as mom had lived, as to where everyone would spend the holiday. But, mom was gone. Fred and Jack would spend the Christmas with their wives and children. And, come to think of it, Ann and Billy and she and Bill would spend theirs together.

Last Christmas had seemed like a dream. The most pleasant memory was the quiet hours the four of them had spent Christmas Eve, the walk through the snow to church, the children's delight upon discovering the presents under the tree when they returned home.

Mary suddenly realized that, even though she had been looking forward to seeing her two brothers and their families, she had, on one or more occasions, thought about the quiet hours her own family would share before they arrived.

She met Bill at the door. "Fred called. Tommy has the flu."

Bill put his arm around her shoulders. "Well, dear, then we'll just spend a quite, happy Christmas, the four of us."

"Yes, it will be happy, family Christmas just the same. We can do our visiting some time other than Christmas."
