74TH YEAR

ELDORADO—SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS (76936)

Austin, Tex.—Inflation closed in on Texans from two more fronts within the last week.

A court order lifting a 90-day medical malpractice insurance rate freeze may boost medical bills $50 million to $200 million a year, according to Texas Hospital Association.

One medical official estimated hospital costs will increase $2 to $8 a day due to the increasing insurance charges for doctors and hospitals which are passed on to patients.

Meanwhile, Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation launched a 90-day study to determine how it can trim payrolls and services in the face of rising costs.

The Department already has announced its scheduled August letting of contracts for road repair and reconstruction would not be held. It also has practiced a reduced hiring policy in an effort to hold down numbers of employees.

Engineer-Director Luther DeBerry of the Department of Highways and Public Transportation said there is no way of knowing how many jobs will be knocked out due to the study.

He indicated the reduction may be as much as 20% over a two-year period, however.

"Watchdog" Job Mapped

"Common Cause," the citizens' lobby, and a coalition of other consumer oriented groups will monitor work of the new Public Utilities Commission.

The group warned that utility monopolies will try to "capture" the regulatory group. A non-profit, tax-exempt organization will be formed to protect consumer interests in rate and service disputes.

At about the same time, the Texas Coalition for Utility Regulation urged Governor Dolph Briscoe to make public names of persons he is considering for appointment to the Commission. Briscoe's appointments assistant, George Lowrance, said the governor has no intention of doing so.

Insurance Boost Asked

A 13.8% average hike in homeowners insurance coverage will be subject of a State Insurance Board hearing August 4.

The industry is also seeking an increase of 4.7% in fire coverage for dwellings.

Texas Insurance Advisory Association is further seeking elimination of 10% discounts on three-year fire and extended coverage policies.

Short Snorts . . .

Governor Briscoe approved 77 action grants and 25 planning grants totaling $5.9 million to reduce crime and improve the criminal justice system.

Senator Tati Santiesteban of El Paso served as acting governor of the state part of last week, due to absence of both Governor Briscoe and Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby.

Comptroller Bob Bullock continued shutting down businesses in Fort Worth, Hurst, Irving, Dallas, Mineral Wells and Killeen for failure to pay back state and city sales taxes.

The State Treasury Department as of June was earning interest on $1.16 billion in time deposits at annual rates of more than $81.4 million a year.

State spending soared to an all time high of $962.1 million during May.

Nursing Home Holds Annual Barbecue

Approximately 200 people turned out last Friday for our annual barbecue. We all look forward to this annual event.

Bales of hay were spread out on the lawn for our guests to sit on courtesy of the Eldorado feed store. Thank you, Billy. Gene Nixon, Ray Butler and Jimmy Deaton provided us with some good country music. Orland Harris and W. T. Mills barbecued the goats. Mr. Mills is from Big Lake and he brought two goats of lourse. We all know about Orland's barbecue. We thank both these gentlemen for their hard work in getting it all prepared for us. Another big thank you goes to the following for their donations of goats: Richard Jones, Bert Blaylock, William Blaylock, and Andy Nixon.

We had too many out of town visitors to try to list them all. The family that traveled the farthest was Mrs. Earl Sluder and family from Houston. We also had out of towners from Tow, Seguin, Hurst, Sterling City, Big Lake, San Angelo and Orient.

We would like to thank everyone who helped make this event a success and we will all be looking forward to next year. —Ruthie Dacy, A. D.

Oil & Gas Affect This County's Economy

The production of crude oil and natural gas in 1974 continued to have a significant impact on the economy of Schleicher County, with the estimated value of the county's production, royalty payments, and state severance taxes reaching new highs.

Schleicher was one of 197 counties—an increase of four from 1973—which produced oil and gas valued in excess of $100,000 in a year which saw the total value of state production jump from just over $6.7 billion to almost $11.4 billion.

The county ranked 120th in the state in the total value of petroleum produced—$14.1 million—with $8.4 million of that coming from the sale of 1.2 million barrels of crude oil; $5.7 million from the sale of 19.7 million MCF of natural gas.

This study by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association shows also that the county's petroleum production last year resulted in the payment of $1.8 million to royalty owners.

"These figures, whether considered statewide or individually in almost 80% of Texas' 254 counties, emphasize the importance of a healthy petroleum industry in the nation's No. 1 energy state," said Sherman Hunt, a Dallas independent oil man who is president of Texas Mid-Continent.

"In the face of declining production in Texas, it is significant that this increased return to royalty owners and producers came from crude oil and natural gas which is free from restrictive federal price controls. But there are at this time proposals in Congress which would place all of Texas' petroleum production under federal price controls, with predictable disastrous consequences for the industry, as well as the whole economy of the state," Hunt said.

The survey also shows that the State of Texas received $816,000 in production taxes from county wells, with $387,000 coming from crude oil output and $429,000 from natural gas production.

Oil and gas developers and producers spent an estimated $3.4 million drilling 44 wells in the county last year, with 31.2% of that figure lost in dry holes. The total drilling yielded nine oil wells and 16 gas wells. The exploratory effort in the county included the drilling of 21 wildcat wells seeking new oil and gas fields.

According to the Texas Employment Commission, 157 oil and gas industry employees worked in the county in 1974 and shared a payroll totaling $1.6 million.

Processing plants also added to the county's petroleum-related economy: The "Oil and Gas Journal" lists two natural gasoline processing plants, with a daily capacity of 61.5 million cubic feet.

Fourth Festival Set In San Antonio

Dances, foods, costumes and crafts of 26 ethnic groups will provide a huge rainbow backdrop for the 4th annual Texas Folklife Festival, Texas' "Biggest Block Party," to be held August 7-10 at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio.

Some 6,000 participants from 130 Texas communities will staff the huge four-day festival.

An official Bicentennial event being observed by 500 members of the ARBC, the Festival will cover a 15-acre showcase for the various cultures who will share their crafts, arts, foods, dances, games and contests.

Ethnic groups on hand for the four-day celebration will include: Anglo, Belgian, Chinese, Czech, Danish, Dutch, English, Filipino, German, French, Greek, Indian, Irish, Italian, Japanese, Jewish, Lebanese, Mexican, Negro, Polish, Scottish, Spanish, Swedish, Swiss, Wendish and Yugoslav.

There will be special exhibits of Irish Waterford crystal and hand-cut glassware and Belek china plus "choinka," a Christmas tree with handmade decorations.

Japanese and Chinese Texans will show crafts plus write your name in oriental script and provide foods ranging from teriyaki to won-tons. The English will operate an authentic pub complete with Shandygaff to drink and darts to play.

Belgians will host bowling and bien card games and introduce two new Belgian games: "Mast" (climbing a greased pole to capture goodies at the top) and "Kuipen Stecken" (pushing a pole against a water-filled trough without getting wet).

Germans will give "how-to-do-it" demonstrations on sausage and kraut making, hold quilting bees and introduce foot-slappin' "Schuhplattlers" dances while French Alsatians add booth entertainment to a tempting menu of pears and sausage.

Tempting taste buds with delicate pastries, fine cheeses and wines will be the Danish, Dutch, Swiss and Polish.

Italians will demonstrate pizzamaking while the Debanese turn their area into an oasis complete with Sheikh's tent, dancing girls and exotic middle eastern foods.

Czech dancers will twirl, choirs will sing, and fiddlers will play as they display folk music and provide kolaches.

Wends will demonstrate folk medicine, feather stripping and noodle making with religious choirs in a Brush Arbor.

Fun-loving French Cajuns will intermix crawfish racing with foot-stompin' fais-do-do while sturdy Scots compete in sheaf and caber tossing and tug-o-wars.

Visitors can wash it all down with a variety of beverages including soft drinks, coffee, tea, green beer, Czech "pivo", Mexican "cerveza", English ale, and Danish, Greek, Italian, Yugoslav and Spanish wines.

Indian dancers, representing 15 different tribes, will perform on the berms around the Institute.

There will be soul food and singing for the Negro Texans; a mercado (market) for the Mexican; a traditional "sukkah" for the Jewish; souflaki and dancing for the Greeks; and tasty estofado de carne guisada for the Spanish.

From Mexican conquistadores (marachis) to Anglo flappers and jelly beans, the festival will feature constant entertainment on seven stages scattered over the 15-acre site.

Anglos will direct a Frontier area with special exhibits including a log house raising, pioneer cane and grist mills, a cattle drive corral replete with unique storytellers; fox hunters, fishing and hunting experts, wild animal callers, oxen drivers, ranchers and historians.

There will be a fun center for youngsters, a Grand-pa's Toolshed, a Whittlin' and a Macrame' school.

New contests range from chicken flying contests to turtle races. Among the many games and contests to observe or jump in and enjoy are: arm wrestling, horseshoe pitching, buckin' barrel rides, railroad spike driving, tomahawk throwing and seed-spitting contests. You can even shoot pioneer muzzle loaders.

There will be daily demonstrations of 50 arts and crafts. New demonstrations range from coon processing to reptile taxidermy; from fashioning cathedral window quilts of paper to making jewelry of armadillos.

Free downtown shuttle buses plus low-cost Park and Ride service from Wonderland are part of the energy conservation package being offered by the Festival.

Regular admission for this granddaddy of all Texas festivals is $2.50 for adults and 50¢ for children under 12. Advance tickets for $2 and 35¢ until Aug. 2. Mail check or money order payable to Texas Folklife Festival, Box 1226, San Antonio, Texas 78294.

OUR MANAGED FORESTS—BETTER FOR WILDLIFE AND MAN

Although some people think that our forests are just used for the manufacture of wood and paper products, the forest lands are also used by some companies for things money can't buy.

Like a home for wild animals, for example.

Eighteen years ago, International Paper Company started a wildlife program to make sure its forests would make the best possible home for wild animals.

The Company helps Mother Nature by first thinning the woods to open the forest floor to life-giving sunlight. This encourages the growth of tender shoots, twigs and leaves that animals munch on.

In some places tall grasses are cut down, which increases the number of insects for young quail and turkeys to gobble up. And when trees are harvested, it is usually done with an irregular border to give animals more enticing edge areas for browsing and better cover.

These efforts are being rewarded. International

Paper believes there are more deer, quail and rabbits in its managed forests today than there were on those same lands 100 years ago.

International Paper also believes its forests should be used for the enjoyment of people. Last year over 2 million people enjoyed some form of recreation on the Company's lands. Its woods are opened to everyone whenever possible—hikers, campers, berry pickers, bike riders, and Sunday drivers.

And most importantly, International Paper is reforesting its lands with five trees for every one it harvests.

It understands that trees, one of our most useful resources, are also renewable. Trees are planted...made available for recreation...harvested as a crop...converted into products people need...and then the cycle is repeated over and over again.

It is International Paper Company's business to help nourish this renewable resource, not only to meet the present need of people, everywhere, but to help assure the availability of this resource for future generations.

FRENCH COOKING MADE EASY

CREPES

Crepes are a versatile French classic. Once you've mastered the basic recipe you'll be able to create many imaginative main dishes and elegant desserts. Crepes are thin delicate pancakes which can be stuffed with an infinite variety of fillings either savory or sweet. The pancakes themselves are easy to prepare, but time consuming, since they are cooked one at a time. However, crepes freeze well and thus can be made days or even weeks ahead.

Economical Blue Bonnet Margarine is perfect for frying your crepes. Tests conducted in a French cooking school comparing Blue Bonnet and butter found no difference in performance or flavor.

Crepes could be filled with sour cream and topped with preserves for an elegant dessert or filled with creamed chicken and mushroom for a delicious luncheon.

Once you discover the ease and versatility of crepes, you will use them often in creating many tempting entrees and desserts.

CREPES

3 eggs
1 cup milk
¾ cup unsifted flour

1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine, melted

In a small mixing bowl beat eggs and milk together. Beat in flour, sugar and salt.

(2) For each crepe lightly grease a hot 6-inch or 8-inch skillet with melted margarine.
(3) Pour 2 tablespoons batter into skillet. (4) Tilt quickly so that mixture covers bottom of pan. Cook over medium heat until set and bottom is lightly browned. (5) Turn and brown other side. (6) Makes 16 crepes.

POPULAR PORRIDGE

The popular breakfast dish in Scotland is porridge, which is made traditionally from oatmeal, steeped overnight in cold water, and then brought slowly to the boil and served piping hot with cream. Traditional porridge, however, is not so often met with today because there are "instant" oatmeal mixes and cream is replaced by milk.

In olden days Scottish warriors were famed for travelling farther and faster than any other soldiers because they lost no time over meals. Each man carried a supply of oatmeal, which he mixed with water when the company rested and then ate this primitive form of porridge.

Although porridge is internationally known, Teacher's Scotch Information Centre must regretfully point out that it has not been so acclaimed in England as it is in Scotland.

The illustrious Dr. Samuel Johnson, who wrote the celebrated English Dictionary, once remarked to a noble Scottish lady, "Oatmeal is a food given to horses in England, and to men in Scotland."

The lady was not in the least put out. She replied immediately, "And where will you see such horses and such men?"

the MIND to imagine...the SKILL to do!

In 1652, the director general of the council of New Netherlands was the first person in America to have the mind to imagine and the skill to establish traffic laws. He decreed that "in order to prevent accidents...no wagons, carts or sleighs shall be run, rode or driven at a gallop."

In 1914, the first man in America with the mind to imagine and the skill to install the first electric traffic signal was the safety director of Cleveland, Ohio, Alfred A. Benesch. Cross arms, 15 feet above the ground, were equipped with red and green lights and buzzers. Two long buzzes permitted the traffic on one street to proceed, while traffic on the cross street moved at one buzz.

Today, the mind to imagine and the skill to improve traffic patterns and regulations comes from the people at Motorola. They create the tiny microprocessors that can make traffic lights sensitive to traffic flow requirements and also allow emergency vehicles to automatically trip the lights along their route and so travel more safely and without undue delay.

Screwworm Cases Mushrooming

Weather conditions continue favorable for the spread of the tenacious screwworm, and livestock producers in Schleicher county should keep on the alert for possible cases in their herds.

Screwworm cases have been increasing by leaps and bounds in South and Southwest Texas, and the flies are continuing to move out to other areas of the state. So it's vital to check animals regularly and to treat all types of wounds, and to submit all worm samples for identification.

Samples should be sent to the Screwworm Lab, Box 969, Mission, Texas 78572. Containers for mailing samples are available at the county Extension office.

At the end of June, 1,744 screwworm cases had been confirmed in Texas for 1975, well above the number recorded during the same period last year. To make matters worse, 1,164 of the 1975 cases were recorded during June. Screwworms are popping up in some counties that have not recorded cases since 1972.

This means that producers had better prepare for an onslaught of screwworms unless cases are reported rapidly so that sterile flies can be dispersed over the areas where cases are confirmed. Unless large areas are identified by virtue of samples submitted and identified, the sterile fly program cannot function effectively.

We note that a large number of the screwworm cases confirmed this year in Texas have come from the navels of newborn calves. "Worming" wounds such as those resulting from shearing, docking, castrating, branding and castrating are also prime locations for screwworm flies to lay their eggs.

Any working of livestock should be delayed until this fall if at all possible. If such work is absolutely necessary, a USDA-approved spray or dip should be applied to any and all wounds.

July 25-31 Set as Farm Safety Week

The week of July 25-31 has been proclaimed as National Farm Safety Week, and this year's theme is "Planning Prevents Accidents."

Each year this event is observed to initiate and promote safety on America's farms and ranches. It is sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farm and ranch accidents continue at a high rate across the United States, and producers must join together to take steps to bring a turnaround of this situation.

Accidents in 1974 claimed the lives of more than 5,500 farm residents and caused more than 500, 000 disabling injuries. More than half the deaths occurred in motor vehicle accidents, with about one-fourth of the deaths and some 150,000 of the disabling injuries caused by farm work accidents.

Cost of these accidents, including farm fires, is estimated at almost $3 billion, representing an oppressive burden on farm productivity aims.

A further look at farm accident figures compiled by the National Safety Council shows that one out of every five farm accidents occurred in farm buildings where the victim was struck by a falling or flying object. One of five injuries in the home-yard areas involved falls from the same level, while injuries in homes involved falls from a different level.

Other survey information shows that one of four injuries in the field was the result of the victim being caught in or between accident causing objects, while collisions were the most frequent type of accidents on roads and highways.

Farmers and ranchers can do a great deal to control accidents, by taking spot inventories of possible accident situations and developing a plan for accident prevention.

Grain Sorghum Insect Activity Increasing

Sorghum producers throughout Extension District 7 should be inspecting their acreage for a number of sorghum pests that are known to be active in our area. The Conchuela stink bug is being found in sorghum in some counties. This insect is approximately thumb nail size and is gun metal gray to brownish black with a red margin on the abdomen of the insect.

Recent research data indicates that if an average of two stink bugs per head can be found in grain sorghum prior to the hard dough stage of seed development that insecticide treatment is warranted.

Stink bug populations are often times clumped in the fields, and producers with ground spraying equipment may elect to spray only portions of their fields where stink bugs can be found. This technique preserves the beneficial insect population in the remaining portions of the field.

Sorghum midge activity usually increases during the months of July, August, and September. This insect resembles a gnat and is rust red in color. Producers should inspect grain sorghum acreage during the time of bloom for the presence of sorghum midge. Field inspections can be made early in the morning or late in the evening to avoid the day time southerly winds that make detection of this insect difficult.

TOWER TALKS
by U.S. Senator for Texas
JOHN TOWER

WASHINGTON—A partisan power play may deprive the citizens of a sovereign state of the right to choose who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The Democratic majority in the Senate is practicing the "old politics" in the dispute over who won the election for the U.S. Senate in New Hampshire last year.

The election last November between Republican Louis Wyman and Democrat John Durkin plainly is too close to call, even though the New Hampshire Ballot Law Commission, whose authority has been upheld by the federal courts, has awarded the victory to Republican Wyman by a margin of two votes.

Clearly, the dispute should be sent back to New Hampshire for another election. This is what the people of New Hampshire want. This is what the duly certified winner of the election, Sen. Wyman, has advocated. But the Democratic majority intends to force the Senate to turn its back on pressing national business for the rest of the month to itself to decide the outcome of the Wyman-Durkin race.

The majority is setting a precedent that could haunt the Senate for many years. Never before has the Senate interfered in an election in which there has been no allegation of fraud.

Democrat Durkin has not alleged that the election was stolen from him: he has merely asked the Senate, with its top-heavy Democratic majority, to overturn the judgment of the voters and seat him instead of the duly certified winner.

The actions of the Senate Rules Committee in the Wyman-Durkin dispute raise many questions about the intentions of the majority.

The kindest description of the Rules Committee behavior is that it has not been even-handed. It has frequently made judgments contrary to New Hampshire law. It has ruled one way on some disputed ballots, and the exact opposite way on similar ballots. It has examined virtually all of the ballots protested by one candidate, and hardly any of the ballots protested by the other. The only consistency in the committee's actions is that they have all tended to favor Democrat Durkin.

A flagrant example of the all-too-common partisanship of the Rules Committee was the acceptance of two straight Democratic ballots cast by the same woman. She'd cast the other for her dying sister, she said.

This partisanship has changed the issue from the narrow question of whether Wyman or Durkin will be seated to a matter of grave concern for all Americans. Are we to establish a precedent whereby the loser of a close election, if his party is in a majority in the Senate, will go to the Senate to have the verdict of the voters overturned? I fear for democracy if this is so.

NEWS OF HEALTH

New Birth Control Procedure
A change in our attitude toward family size, expanding career options open to women, and newer, easier surgical techniques have led to an increased demand for voluntary contraceptive sterilization among women.
One new technique utilizing a laparoscope holds the greatest promise for accomplishing permanent birth control without prolonged and costly long-term hospitalization often required by traditional procedures. Laparoscopic tubal sterilization is a method which permits a trained physician to seal off, rather than "tie," the fallopian tubes. It requires one or two small incisions below the navel which generally heal quickly and leave little or no scar.

The effectiveness of female sterilization is extremely high—virtually 100% for the most commonly used methods—and more reliable than any other form of birth control available today.
In female sterilization as in any surgical procedure, there are some risks. Although the risks are equal to those of childbirth, they are one-time risks, whereas the risks of pregnancy and childbirth can be repeated many times.
If you want to know more about laparoscopic tubal sterilization and other safe, permanent methods of family planning, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Association for Voluntary Sterilization, Inc., Room 746-B, 708 Third Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017:

MONEY-SAVING IDEAS

TIPS TO HELP YOU CUT COOLING COSTS

Although many people think insulation is necessary only for keeping a house warm in winter, the truth is, it saves homeowners money on the cost of cooling in summer.

Guy O. Mabry, vice president and general manager of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation's Home Building Products Division, points out that by using simple energy conservation techniques, many homeowners can reduce their fuel bills.

New York City, for example, cooling cost savings, based on today's electricity rates, will amount to as much as $155 a year, while in a southern climate like Phoenix, Arizona these savings can total $300 annually.

Other tips to help you save on your cooling bills:

- Set your thermostat at the highest comfortable level in summer. The National Bureau of Standards says your cooling fuel consumption drops 3 per cent for each degree you raise the thermostat.
- Change your air conditioner filter at least every two months.
- If you have a central air conditioning unit, keep heat-producing appliances away from the thermostat.
- Plant shade trees on the East, South and West sides of your home to reduce solar heat gain of windows, walls and roof.
- Use appliances late in the evening when power loads are lighter and temperatures are lower.
- Make sure clothes dryers are vented to outdoors to avoid heat build-up.
- Open attic windows to create ventilation; this reduces attic temperature.
- See that caulking around storm windows and doors is intact to prevent cool air loss in those areas.
- When you consider that the cost of electricity in many parts of the country has risen 22 per cent between June, 1973 and last December, and that it will continue to increase dramatically, the case for saving as much as can become very strong," asserts Mabry.

during the cooling season by as much or more than they can during the heating season.

One of the most simple and efficient methods of cutting air conditioning costs is to make certain the attic of a home contains a minimum six inches (R-19) of insulation. All that's needed is the insulation, a tape measure, a pair of gloves, a sharp knife and a day's time. When the measurements have been taken, and the required amount of insulation is on hand, it's basically a matter of placing the insulation between the ceiling joists.

"This step alone will save the homeowner surprising amounts of money," says the Owens-Corning expert. "In a northern climate like

NOTICE—

Called Public Meeting August 7, 1975 at 8:00 p.m. in the Schleicher County Neighborhood Center.

The office of the County Judge, appointed acting chairman of the Schleicher County Neighborhood Center by the organizing community of December 4, 1968 announces a called public meeting for the purpose of filling all vacated positions on both the Advisory Board and the Neighborhood Council Members of the Schleicher County Neighborhood Center. As each member's allowable term of tenure has recently expired, the meeting is called in order that the community may select their new advocates.

The Tom Green Community Action Council sets the following guidelines for the establishment of a new working body:

The first step is to decide how many members will compose the Advisory Committee. (6, 9, 12 or 15). One third of the committee shall be appointed by the city-county officials, one third of the committee shall be "elected at large" and one third is to be elected from the "target area", the underprivileged part of the community. Until such a committee is formed, the County Judge is the acting chairman of the program.

The retiring Advisory Board of Directors include J. B. Brame, M. D. and chairman of the board, Mrs. Mae Green, Mrs. Dora Bosmans, Rev. Gordon F. Garlington, Mrs. Delia Pina, Mr. Ted Short, and Mr. Guy Whitaker.

The retiring Neighborhood Council Members include Mrs. Maria Gauna, Mrs. Rosetta Lozano, Mrs. Alda Martinez, Mr. Domingo Pina, Mrs. Edna Robledo and Mrs. Mayme Smith.

The Neighborhood members are requested to convene at their earliest convenience and no later than one week following the election of the Advisory Board.

While the accepted ruling that no member, having served for three consecutive years, may be re-elected to the same body, it does not prevent their election to the other existing branch. To clarify, a retiring Community Council Member may be elected to serve on the Advisory Board or vice-versa. Every concerned person in Schleicher County is not only invited to attend this meeting but urged to do so. Signed: Judge R. L. McWhorter.

DESTINY:
THE MINOR LEAGUES?

Headed for the "Majors" — that's his dream. But don't count on it, even if he stays in baseball. For in thousands of cities and towns across America we know that baseball isn't just the major leagues. We know boys on their way up . . . and men on their way down . . . and fellows who have gone about as far as they can go. A real ball player is one who gives his club his best—in any league. How close this comes to a fundamental conviction of the Church! Christianity gives a man solid footing for his faith in God and in himself. To achieve the full potential of our God-given talents is primary; to fulfill every dream is secondary. The Church promises no man earthly success. But it helps to appraise the gifts God gave us . . . to use them honestly and unselfishly. And, startlingly, it points the way to new goals, far beyond our dreams.
