Post Script

I was glad to learn last week that Howard Derrick was appointed head of the President Ford Committee for Schleicher county.

Mr. Derrick has a lot of influence in this county and is well known to West Texas ranchmen, and will try to get out the votes for Ford.

While this is a Democratic county in local and district offices, it has voted Republican for President in several late elections.

This writer will vote for Ford because he has done a good job in the two years he has been President under trying conditions, and he deserves one more term.

I will vote for Ford and hope he gets a vote of confidence here.

But I won't bet any money on it.

—ps—
Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jones are here for the winter from Bristow, Okla. Last week they visited in the business district and happened to visit The Success, and we recalled they were in the Oldsmobile business here in 1945.

The war was over and new Oldsmobiles were beginning to be delivered to the dealers. It was late in 1946 when Jones got the first of the new Oldsmobiles and scores of people called to see it. When one person was admiring it, an attendant remarked, "Yeah, it has a nice price, too. IT IS TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS!"

Absentee voting is continuing in the office of County Clerk Jim Thornton for the General Election of Nov. 2nd.

Monday morning, 37 absentee votes had been cast and the deadline for absentee votes is Oct. 29th at 5:00 p.m. So if you will be away on Election Day or otherwise qualified to vote absentee, see to it during the coming eight days.

—ps—
Democratic candidates on the ballot who don't have any trouble with Schleicher county voters are:

Krueger for Congress, and Jim Nugent, State Representative.

EAGLES DOWN ROBERT LEE 28-0; READY TO GO TO WALL FRIDAY

It was before a crowd of soaked and chilled fans that the Eagle varsity handed the Robert Lee Steers the losing end of a 28-0 score last Friday night on Eagle Field. The cold wet norther canceled out the half-time performances by both bands, and postponed the crowning of the Band and Football sweethearts until the night of October 29th when Junction comes for the final home game of the Eagles.

The Eagles made their first touchdown in the first quarter when Billy Bob Harlin made a 52-yard run. Jimmy Bosmans added the PAT. Harlin scored again in first quarter with a 65-yard run. PAT failed.

Harlin scored again twice in the third quarter on a 58-yard scoring run and a 23-yarder.

Spacing Critical For Garden Plants

Autumn home gardens can be a welcome addition to the food budget if a few directions are carefully noted. One of the most common problems in gardening is inattention to plant spacing.

Plants should be thinned after all seedlings are up. Some of the plants that suffer most from overcrowding are lettuce, sweet corn, carrots, beets, radishes and spinach.

Table beets and radishes should be spaced at least two to three inches apart, and rows should be spaced 12 to 18 inches apart. Proper spacing prevents competition for light and water and reduces the chances of misshapen vegetables.

Carrots can be placed a little closer, one to two inches apart, but overcrowding causes twisted or bent carrots.

Halloween pumpkins should be set at least two feet apart and grow best at three feet intervals. Rows should be from 8 to 10 feet apart.

Lettuce is a common victim of overcrowding. A smart gardener knows that the quality plant comes from lettuce that is thinned 6 to 10 inches apart. This prevents smaller, bitter outside leaves and makes the whole head more plump at harvest.

Fall sweet corn will produce large ears if plants are set 8 to 12 inches apart in three-foot wide rows. Overcrowding produces small ears with harder kernels.

A few plants spaced properly will produce more than a garden that is overcrowded. So, if you are planning a fall garden, make it worthwhile.

Don't Curse The Lawnmower—Service It

Approximately 2-million Texans own and operate lawn mowers each year. Poor performance of these mowers such as hard starting, stalling and failure to cut grass properly is usually blamed on the mower. However, improper service, maintenance or operation on the part of the operator is generally the cause of the problem. Regular and proper servicing is just as important to the operation of the mower as that given to the family automobile.

Regular servicing and maintenance is a must if you expect trouble-free operation from your mower. Manufacturers' recommendations should be followed for each different brand of mower, but general guidelines include the following:

—Sharpen and balance the mower blade annually. (Replace when severely worn or damaged.)

—At the end of every mowing season, clean the outside of the crankcase, cooling system and exhaust system. Accumulated dirt and grime on the outside of the engine can cause overheating and engine failure. Degreasers, petroleum solvents or steam may be used to clean the engine. Wash the degreaser or solvent off the engine with a stream of water. Operate the engine immediately for 3 to 5 minutes to help remove water.

—Remove, clean and regap the spark plug every 100 hours of operation. (Check operator's manual for recommended spark-gap spacings. Most plugs are set on 0.025 inch gaps.)

—After every 25 hours of operation, service the carburetor air cleaner. If you fail to service the air-cleaner properly, dirt and dust will enter the engine or clog the filter and choke the engine. Either problem will shorten the life of your engine. Check your operator's manual for specific cleaning instructions for air cleaners.

—After every 25 hours of operation change the crankcase oil in 4-cycle engines.

—Before each operation check the oil level in 4-cycle engines and fill the fuel tank with clean, fresh regular gasoline.

—Before storing the mower for the winter season, operate the engine until it runs out of fuel. Pour a tablespoon of oil through the spark-plug hole and turn the crankshaft by hand to distribute the oil through the cylinder wall, valves and rings. (Do not replace plug before turning the crankshaft.) Also, pour a tablespoon of oil into the fuel tank to prevent corrosion. Cover the engine with a plastic sheet and store in a dry place.

Patriotism Stressed In Boy Scouting Programs

For more than 50 years patriotism has played an important role in the program of the Boy Scouts of America. And now there is a re-emphasis for the 145 Cub Scout packs, Scout troops, and Explorer posts in this area to focus in on that important role played throughout the birth and growth of our country.

Jack F. Moore, Scout Executive of the Concho Valley Council which services 23½ West Texas Counties cites "the greater need today for emphasis on patriotism as our nation goes through a period when some of its basic foundations are challenged."

"What we are doing," Moore said, "is to continue to emphasize strongly the obligations embodied in the Scout Oath and Law in operating the nation's youth to become useful and patriotic citizens of tomorrow."

The year's bicentennial emphasis for the Boy Scouts of America is to be Prepared for Life: Be Safe, Be Fit.

Scouting, as an educational movement, requires a boy to live up to a standard or a code of laws which ensures development of character, Moore said. It requires him to study in order to pass certain tests of qualification, and he takes part in activities that have character, citizenship, and fitness as their aims.

HIGH POTENCY VITAMIN E

Sexual Potency Quickly Improves With New 'E-Pill'

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Special)—An amazingly new "super-charged" vitamin E-Pill has recently been developed that reportedly "quickly increases and rejuvenates sexual drives and potency for both men and women of all ages. It also makes them feel healthier and more youthful." It is now available to the American public.

The new high potency E-Pill not only seems to increase sexual ability of both sexes but also "actually perks up sexual interest and stimulates a person's desires," according to a spokesman for the manufacturer.

Also Improves General Health
This new, easy-to-take E-Pill contains newly formulated, highly concentrated vitamin E. It tends to quickly build up and strengthen the natural physiological processes of the body that are believed to be basically responsible for its potency, youthfulness, health and long life.

Helps 4 Out Of 5 People
Indications are that the new E-Pill gives quick and effective results to as high as 4 out of 5 people (80%) who have used it. Some people report no great change but feel the high potency of vitamin E in the pill does quickly make them feel better from a general health standpoint.

Other reports also show it tends to "lessen daily tension and give a more relaxed, happier outlook on life."

Letter To The Eldorado Success Editor

Dear Sir:

First, I want to thank you for running a notice for me recently in your paper pertaining to the lost portrait of Gustave Schleicher. Through your paper I located what seems to be the portrait these people are looking for. I had several letters from people in your county trying to help me in this search. They were real nice throughout. One of your county residents pointed to me exactly where to go as she met face-to-face with this portrait a few months ago in Llano, Texas. Secondly, I stand corrected about Gustave Schleicher ever being in the vicinity of Eldorado. Gosh, I was poorly advised by one of our nearby county's so called historians. Sorry, you are certain to get more reliable information about your county than I am. I am only trying to help the Schleichers in Austin, of whom I know, to find the portrait. For sure I am doing this for exactly NOTHING just giving these people a little of my time. They are very fine well educated people who do not seem to know too much about their grandfather's background. These people are now vacationing in Alaska and just as soon as they return I will advise them of my findings.

I have read the book that Supt. R. D. Holt and his high school students wrote about the history of your county. Holt was a real good friend of one of my brother's. I had met him many times. He was a fine gentleman. I just wonder if a man by the name of T. J. Bailey is in that vicinity? He had a brother Buck Bailey who it was reported had a football stadium named for him several years ago. I have played several baseball games with T. J. He was quite a comedian.

Thanking you for everything, I am

Sincerely,

Leon Lane

P.S. Oh yes, something else. Did you ever get the weeds cleaned off of that new football field back in the middle 30's. I coached several teams at Menard. One of our boys tried to pick up the ball one day and had a handfull of weeds, too. He lost both ball and weeds. I lost a lot more games because my boys couldn't block or trackle, though.

Calls For Increased Ag. Research

Krueger Leaves On Agriculture Tour

San Antonio, Tex.—Congressman Bob Krueger (D-Tx) Sunday began the first leg of a four day journey covering four states in an effort to focus attention on the need for increased agricultural research and to learn first hand of the research effort currently under way at major agricultural research facilities around the United States.

Accompanying Krueger on the tour are Independent Cattlemen's Association President T. A. Cunningham, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association Director John Cargile, and Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers President Bill Pfluger. Also accompanying Krueger will be a member of his Washington staff, Jeff Talmadge.

Krueger's itinerary calls for his visiting agriculture research stations in Clay Center, Nebraska the first day; the facilities in Stillwater, Oklahoma and Petit Jean Mountain, Arkansas the second day; and the Texas A&M facilities in College Station, Uvalde, and San Angelo the final day.

Krueger explained that he had invited the leaders of Texas' most important livestock organizations to accompany him at their own expense so that they could advise him of their needs and assist him in his evaluation of the research centers.

Before leaving on the trip, Krueger said, "We are going to examine the agricultural research effort in this country first-hand in an effort to better anticipate our future needs in the field of agricultural research. Given the problems of diminishing world resources and increasing population, we must look to the future of ways of maximizing food production, and this trip will be a step in that direction."

Understanding Our Curious World

THE PARADOX OF RECYCLING WASTE PAPER

Have you noticed that sometimes there are tremendous community drives to collect waste paper for recycling—but that at other times we must allow our waste paper to be picked up by sanitation trucks and disposed of at taxpayer expense?

Surprisingly, economics, not public apathy, is responsible for the "on again, off again" situation.

Reason For The Problem

When the nation's economy is on the upswing, demand for raw materials of all kinds is high. Paper mills, which normally rely on pulpwood for their fiber needs, turn to waste paper as a supplemental resource. And the relatively higher prices paid for waste paper make it worthwhile for communities to collect it. When there is an economic downturn, the mills cut back on their raw material purchases. As it is cheaper for them to use pulpwood, they drop waste paper first.

Importance Of The Problem
Fortunately, there are ways to solve the problem, and some legislators are urgently working on it because of these facts:

Paper and paperboard make up over 50% of the 145 million tons of waste materials discarded annually in the U.S.

In the next 14 years, municipal disposal costs are expected to double from the present $20 to $35 a ton.

Last year, we recycled about 9 million tons of waste paper and board, but there are an estimated 45 million available tons that are not being recycled.

These potential fiber resources are being burned or dumped in scarce landfills, yet in less than 20 years many experts say there will not be enough trees to meet our growing paper needs.

Good News Coming?

Legislators fighting to correct the problem believe that changes in federal tax, transportation and purchasing policies, which they say discriminate against recycling, would make collecting waste paper and recycling it more viable activities. The same economic incentives for recycling now accorded pulpwood utilization, they say, would help remove the restrictions that now inhibit market opportunities for waste paper.

But for the time being the National Association of Recycling Industries observes that the public should not get turned off by the "on again, off again" situation. Recycling is too vital to the nation's future resource and solid waste needs to get bogged down now by misunderstanding of this economic paradox, the Association says.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Home Laundry

- * Avoid wasting hot water while laundering. Use the cold and warm water settings as much as possible to cut down on the energy needed to heat water.
- * Use the water level control on your washer. You should use less hot water for small loads.
- * Follow detergent instructions carefully. Oversudsing makes your washing machine motor work harder than it needs to.
- * Clean the lint filter on your washer and dryer after each load to keep your machine running efficiently.
