Heavy Rains Cover Area Late Last Week

Heavy rains that totaled 3½ to 4 inches in a three day period covered this area of Southwest Texas last week.

The rains started Wednesday night and continued through Thursday, making a sodden football field and canceling the Mason junior football games that were scheduled here Thursday night.

The rains continued through part of Friday, and Eagle Field was still muddy Friday night for the Eldorado & Junction varsity game.

The moisture was welcomed as always by ranchmen, but farmers were wanting continued dry weather in order to start the cotton harvest. The heavy rains further delayed the coming in of the first bale.

By noon Saturday, the sun was out and a warming and drying trend had set in.

Some rains totals reported were:

City of Eldorado	3.50
W. F. Meador	3.25
Mrs. Modelle Tisdale	4.00
George Humphrey	3.80
Mrs. W. V. Lux	2.70
James Williams farm	3.50
R. D. Johnson	4.00
A. W. Keyes	3.50
Truett Stanford	3.30
Lester Nixon	3.00
S. D. Harper	3.00

Overwhelmingly Re-Elected

BOB KRUEGER

21st Dist. Congressman Re-Elected

Now completing his initial two-year term in Congress, Bob Krueger of New Braunfels was re-elected to a new term in the General Election this week.

Democrat Krueger had three contenders on the ballot: Bobby A. Locke, Republican nominee; Ramon Carrillo, from the Raza Unida party, and Ed Gallion of Crane, the American party nominee.

Apparently none of these contenders was able to muster enough funds to put on an extensive campaign, because not much was heard from them in the recent months of the campaign.

The 21st Congressional District is composed of about 32 counties here in Southwest Texas and Krueger emerged as new Congressman two years ago after Ovie Clark Fisher retired, after he served in Congress for 32 years.

Schleicherites went along with the remainder of the 21st Congressional District in giving incumbent Democrat Bob Krueger a big vote of confidence for re-election. The vote tally here was:

Krueger (Demo.)	810
Locke (Rep.)	132
Carrillo	3
Gallion	6

Straw Vote At School

The high school classes have had a "straw vote" going on for the Ford-Carter campaign, and voting was done Monday and Tuesday. The results are to be available later in the week.

HONORED ON 84TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Beulah Harris was honored with a birthday dinner last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orland Harris. She was 84 years old, and a good day was enjoyed by all attending. A number of gifts, cards, and calls were received during her day of visiting.

Post Script

It's All Over But The Shouting, by the time this Success issue reaches readers. The General Election was Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, and many a voter remained up until all hours visiting with friends, drinking large amounts of coffee and eating snacks, and waiting for the inevitable voting "trend" to set in, as described by the commentators on T.V.

We hope some of your candidates won and that we can all settle down now and get back to the normal running of things.

The Presidential race is over for another four years, but two years from now Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe and U. S. Sen. John Tower, Republican from Texas, will come up for re-election. Those will be the main two races to attract people's attention between now and then.

With passing of the absentee voting deadline Friday at 5:00 p.m., there had been 113 votes cast in County Clerk Jim Thornton's office.

"Way back, when we lived in a small town up in Denton county, the sizable colored community there would each year put on a "Juneteenth Picnic" which just about all of them attended. At this June 19th event, they had a special table for the ex-slaves, who were the guests of honor, and at that time there were four of them left.

One was "Uncle Lewis" Whitlow and he was then up in his 90's and at the age of about 16 had accompanied his master into the Civil War. Apparently the pair were in active combat areas in the Old South and he recalled, "We were with the Confederates who were retreating across Georgia, and from a distance we saw a really big fire. We heard later that it was the City of Atlanta that had been burned by General Sherman's troops."

The burning of Atlanta is one of the "sights" included in the all-time classic motion picture, "Gone With the Wind" which at long last is coming to T.V. Cable T.V. viewers will be able to watch it Nov. 7th, this Sunday.

Margaret Mitchell's novel of the Old South was published in 1936, won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction for that year, and the following year she was paid an unprecedented $50,000 for the movie rights. The film version was premiered in Atlanta in 1939 and has been re-issued every few years since to packed audiences and at various times has held the title of all-time money making motion picture.

The movie had a number of "firsts" to its credit. Most obviously, it was the first Technicolor motion picture to run 3½ hours with an intermission. It was the first to cost over $5-million to film, and many movie critics predicted before its release in '39 that it was doomed to failure because viewers would not sit through so long a movie; that, plus its exorbitant cost. That it was a well-made motion picture was borne out by its holding up well to viewers' testes, even in more recent years when films cost more, ran longer, and took on more "far out" plot themes.

No doubt, GWTW will be as well received on the home T.V. screen as it has for so long in movie theaters; even if the "spectacle" effect of the burning of Atlanta is somewhat diminished.

In the 110 years since the close of the Civil War, the city of Atlanta, Ga., has risen phoenix-like to become a great city of the Southeast, and Jimmy Carter "came from nowhere" in the state of Georgia to be this year's Democratic nominee for President.

Eagles To Close Season At Mason Friday Night

The Eldorado Eagles will go to Mason this Friday night for their final game of the '76 season, against the Mason Puncers.

The local varsity will be hoping for a somewhat better score result than the 47-0 loss they sustained to them last year. Mason is still one of the District 9-A championship contenders.

Nursing Home Notes

Nothing unusual happened in the Nursing Home last week. Everyone was well and able to eat three good meals every day.

We started the week with the regular Church Service on Sunday afternoon, which is held in the dining room. The pastor of the First Christian Church of Eldorado conducted the service. We enjoy and appreciate these services very much, as some of the residents here are not physically able to attend services in churches out in town.

The ones here who have birthdays in November are Beulah Harris, Russell Donaldson and Lizzie McAngus.

A Birthday Party is given each month to celebrate the birthdays in that month, and all of us appreciate that too.

Out of town visitors in the Home last week were as follows: Kyle Donaldson and family of Sonora visited his father, Russell Donaldson. Mrs. Marjorie Pope of Andrews visited her mother, Mrs. Pearl Edmiston. Kenneth Pennington and family visited his grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Blakeway. They are from Austin, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stephens of San Angelo visited her mother Mrs. Flossie Crawford. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Charles Christian and their children, Michelle and Michael, visited their aunt Lavita Brooks.

The Church of Christ on the Mertzton highway will conduct the service in the Home next Sunday, November 7th.

Any visitors from out in town who attend these services every Sunday afternoon are welcome and appreciated.

Old age is like everything else. To make a Success of it you've got to start young.—LaVita Brooks reporter; Beulah Harris, reporter.

Harris Back From Visit With Sons

Mr. and Mrs. Orland Harris returned home Sunday evening from a week's visit in the homes of their three sons. Going first to Marfa, Tex., to visit the Jim Harries, they went next to Clint where Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Harris live, and also enjoyed the Ice Capades on Thursday night being held in El Paso. They report very cold weather all week, snow on the higher mountains and rain all the way.

In Van Horn they visited the Alva Lee Harris family, and on Friday night all attended the Marfa-Van Horn football game, and it was still very cold there, but they enjoyed the week very much.

42 Club Meets

The Merry Makers 42 Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Isaacs Oct. 28. Wenona Isaacs and Lois Etheredge were hostesses. The club members were served potato chips, sandwiches, cake, coffee or punch.

Those present were Lillian Mikaska, Etta Ruth Dannheim, Annie Speck, Opal Parks, Mildred Stanford, Bessie Doyle, Virginia Griffin, Jake Spencer, Zelma Henderson and Rose Brannan and Maudie Bassinger. We all had fun together.

Annie Speck will be hostess Nov. 11th.—Rep.

News Of The Sick

Mrs. Ernestine Héxt has been a patient in Seton Hospital in Austin where she is undergoing tests. She is tax assessor-collector for the Schleicher County Independent School District and her deputies are keeping the office open in her absence.

Fern Parrent returned recently from a five-day stay in Shannon hospital.

J. C. Schooley is a patient in a San Angelo hospital.

GAMES CANCELED LAST WEEK

The Mason junior football teams were due to come here last Thursday night to play the local teams. The games were canceled on account of the extremely rainy weather and muddy playing field.

This Thursday night, the juniors are to go to Junction to play their final games of the grid season, starting at 5:00 o'clock.

Legion To Meet To Plan Breakfast

The Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion will meet tonight, Thursday, in the Memorial Building. Commander James Head and the members will make final plans for the breakfast set for the morning of Saturday, Nov. 13th, to honor World War I veterans and their widows.

We would like for any members who will participate in a rifle squad for the Nov. 11 ceremony to be present at this meeting.

The wives of Legionnaires will also meet this Thursday night at 7:30 in the basement of the Memorial Building.

LEAVE FOR FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Newport left early Monday morning for Commerce after being notified of the death of her father, Mr. Knight. Mr. Knight had been in a nursing home there for several years and was about 97 years old.

CITY TAX NOTICES OUT

The City of Eldorado tax notices went into the mails Monday and are now payable in the City Hall office of P. A. Olson, assessor-collector. These bills are about six weeks late in reaching local taxpayers because the tax office was installing new billing equipment. During November, a 3% discount will be allowed on the city tax payments.

NOT MUCH VANDALISM

Trick or Treaters were out in force as usual Saturday and Sunday nights for Halloween, and there were some water balloons and eggs thrown, and some paper strung about, but overall there was little evidence of vandalism over town when residents went to work Monday morning, Nov. 1st.

Technology: Good News About Progress

How Technology Is Helping Your Health, Budget And Happiness

POPULATION, POLLUTION AND THE PROPHETS OF DOOM

In 1798 the population of the world was about one billion, and English economist Thomas Malthus was concerned that the population would soon outrun the food supply.

Today, almost 200 years later, with the world's population about 3.6 billion, people are saying the same thing.

What Malthus failed to foresee was the enormous impact of medical service, agriculture and industrial technology on the course of human affairs. Many people believe that today's prophets of doom are also failing to foresee the potential of technology.

Many of them put down technology, calling it a blind monster that has created such problems as pollution and urban sprawl. Others argue that the growth of population and industrial output will inevitably collide with the definite limits of our earth—of land that can be farmed, of mineral resources, of the ability of the environment to absorb pollutants, or perhaps a combination of the limits. Collapse, they predict, will follow.

But the central arguments against these prophets of doom involves not the race between technology and resources or pollution, but rather technology's ability to channel growth into new dimensions. This ability is the result of human ingenuity. Why, after two million years, should man's ingenuity and adaptability stop, ask many modern scientific thinkers.

John Maddox, former editor of Nature says: The extreme irony of the environmentalist position is that it has come into the open at a time when human beings are more than ever able to mold the environment in which they live, using it where possible, putting up with it where necessary.

Today, thanks to technology, fewer people are able to grow more food with less uncertainty, and more materials are made available through discovery, substitution and recycling.

MAN'S INGENUITY—Many informed people depend on it to meet successfully the challenge of our growing population.

Technology now being developed holds the promise of vastly increasing the world's supply of protein by making use of leaf protein and by "aquaculture," meaning deliberately cultivating bodies of water to increase the fish supply. In these circumstances, the current predictions that population will outrun food supply seem as unlikely to be fulfilled as those of Malthus.

And, technology's net effect is not to exhaust energy. It is finding new sources, such as the breeder reactor which produces more nuclear fuel than it consumes. Technology is also coming closer to the realization of direct conversion of the sun's energy to a useful form.

The problems of continuing pollution result not from a lack of technology, but to limited application of available technology. Pollution solutions require only resolve and resources, the technology is available.

The course of technology can be influenced by human beings. Today, the goals of technology have broadened to include resource conservation and protection of the human environment. Human ingenuity is expected to meet this challenge as successfully as it has met others, many scientists say.

If you'd like to learn more about technology, write to "Technology," Gould Inc., 10 Gould Center, Rolling Meadows, Illinois 60008 and ask for the booklet "Population, Pollution and The Prophets of Doom."

"Technology is the hope not the doom of man," says William T. Ylvisaker, chairman of Gould Inc., adding, "To lay the blame for our problems on technology is to attack the best hope for solutions."

THROW A GREAT FIESTA FOR A DOLLAR A DINER!

Here's a new way to please the palate and the pocketbook. Throw a great South American feast for a dozen friends for less than a dollar a diner.

The main course is that Argentine specialty matambre, a dish that literally means, "kill hunger." As you might expect with a recipe that comes from Argentina, the main ingredient is beef. Traditionally eaten cold or hot, matambre was a staple food of stagecoach travelers who took along those stuffed beef rolls on their travels across the vast Argentina pampas or grasslands.

You'll love the unusual flavor of matambre as well as its moneysaving feature. Inexpensive flank steak is marinated in a blend of wine vinegar, spices, zesty Contadina tomato paste and consomme for at least eight hours. Then a tasty combination of vegetables including the traditional carrots and spinach leaves are spread over the beef, which is then rolled and tied for baking.

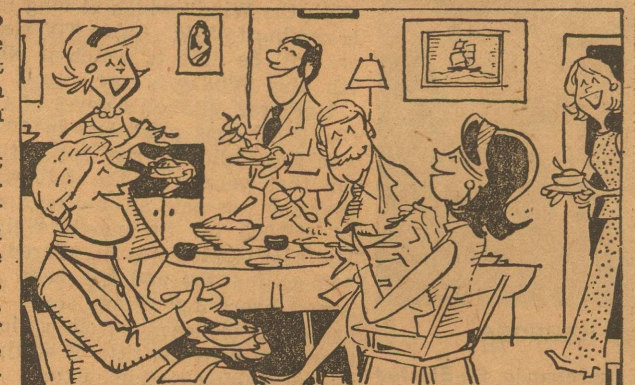

Serve a sauce made from the marinade liquid. Accompany the matambre with hot rolls and baked sweet potatoes, another food that comes to us from South America. To carry out the South-of-the-border theme, choose a flan or caramel custard for dessert. Made with Carnation instant non-fat dry milk crystals, this custard tastes rich and creamy—pleases everyone from young to old.

Remember, don't wait for a special occasion. Anytime is fiesta time when you can feed a dozen friends for a dollar a diner!

Groceries were shopped in Los Angeles, California on June 9, 1976 for a total cost of $12.59.

MATAMBRE

(Makes 12 servings)
2 (1 1/2 pounds each) flank steaks
1 1/4 cups (10 1/2-ounce can) consomme

INSURANCE: KNOW YOUR RIGHTS?

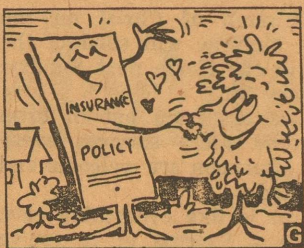

Helpful, Little-Known Facts

Many people don't know this, but the trees and shrubs that cover your property may themselves be covered by your insurance.

When plantings and trees are used in landscape designs for both their aesthetic and functional purposes they can be evaluated in their own right, separate from buildings and the property as a whole. This is important in the event the property owner suffers a loss from casualty to any landscape tree or planting. In many instances, the property owner can recover some or all of the loss through an insurance claim.

The best evidence of such loss is the competent appraisal by a professional in the tree, landscaping and nursery industries and "before and after" photos of the landscaping. Cost of repairing the damage may also be acceptable as evidence of loss.

Property owners should have their trees and landscaping plants evaluated immediately after any casualty loss resulting from storms, accidents, wind damage, vandalism or construction incident to insure eligibility for insurance recovery or the allowable tax deduction.

Trees and other landscape plants can add substantial value to property not only because of their aesthetic qualities, but by virtue of their functional benefits for architectural, engineering and climatological purposes.

Architecturally, trees and other plants are to be used for screening and privacy control as well as for space articulation and other design considerations.

Since trees help reduce noise, block reflection and glare, help control traffic patterns and help purify the air, they are used extensively in solving engineering problems.

For climatological purposes trees and other plants help control solar radiation, wind, temperature and precipitation.

All of these uses are important in computing the value of your taxes.

Krueger Makes Swing Through here Last Week

Congressman Bob Krueger visited Eldorado last Wednesday afternoon, as part of a swing through the vast 21st Congressional District. Because of inclement weather, he was not able to fly in, as originally planned, but drove from San Angelo, after landing there in the rain.

Krueger was originally scheduled to speak to the Lions Club at noon, followed by an address to the High School Civics classes in the auditorium. He arrived at about 2:00 o'clock and spoke to both groups simultaneously in the High School Auditorium.

Speaking to the group, he indicated that their vote was very important in the upcoming election, regardless of who the vote was cast for.

Prospect Indicated

An unidentified discovery, probably Strawn, was indicated in Schleicher County with the flowing of gas at the rate of 1.05 million cubic feet daily and the recovery of 800 feet of 38 gravity oil on a previously unreported, drillstem test at Cactus Operating Co., Wichita Falls, No. 1-9 Carl J. Cahill, in 9-K-GH&SA, 20 miles southeast of Eldorado, 5/8 mile north and slightly west of a 5,151-foot failure and 1 3/8 miles west of a 6,086-foot failure.

Tool was open 45 minutes on the test taken at 4,367-374 feet. Flowing pressure was 594-1,081 pounds; and 30-minute initial and 120-minute final shut-in pressures were each 1,582 pounds.

Operator had set 4½-inch casing at 4,493 feet, on total depth of 4,680 feet, and was waiting on completion unit.

The 5,151-foot failure, Guffey & Am- tex No. 1 Cahill, abandoned July 8, 1961, topped the Palo Pinto at 4,078 feet; Strawn, 4,435 feet; and Ellenburger, 4,950 feet on elevation of 2,283 feet.

Antlerless Deer Permits Issuance Dates Set

San Angelo, Tex.—Landowners in Schleicher county should pick up their antlerless deer permits Nov. 9 at the Memorial Building in Eldorado, according to officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Failure to pick up the permits on the designated date will result in the landowner having to apply to the Waco office of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at a subsequent date. So, to avoid any inconvenience later, landowners are urged to pick up their permits at the designated time and place.

Landowners should pick up the permits in person or may authorize someone in writing to act as their agent. If the landowner chooses to have an agent pick up his permits, the landowner must include in his letter of authorization the number of acres in and location of his ranch or ranches eligible for antlerless deer permits.

Permits will be issued on a per acre basis and a landowner must own or control at least the minimum number of acres, as determined by P&WD surveys, in order to receive a permit. For instance, if the issuance rate is one permit per each 100 acres and the landowner controls only 99 acres, P&WD cannot issue him a permit.

Landowners are also advised to check the issuance rate maps that have been posted at county courthouses and designated Parks and Wildlife Department offices since the issuance rate in certain areas is likely to have changed from last year's.

P&WD wildlife personnel will be on hand at the permit issuance sites to answer any questions landowners may have.

Homemaking Hints For Safety & Economy

Remodeling On A Budget

When the decorating dollars hit your house, strike back! Here's how to spruce up your home without expensive refurbishing:

* Carpets looking dull and dirty? Renew them—don't replace them. You can clean carpets yourself in about an hour with Spray 'n Vac rug cleaner. Just spray this no-scrub rug cleaner onto dirty carpets and, when the foam dries, simply vacuum the foam and dingy dirt away.

* Repaint—it's easy to do yourself. Use a color to coordinate with your carpet, or choose a neutral such as eggshell white or beige.

* Furniture getting worn and faded? Think about reupholstering or using slipcovers. Choose a pattern in a neutral color and use accessories to pick up colors from your carpet and walls.

* Rearrange furniture and accessories to create a new and different look. And for a change, try moving them from one room to another.

Capitalism vs. Socialism

By William T. Ylvisaker

It is not so much the profit motive that makes the free enterprise system work so well, it is the dream of unusual success.

IT IS THE DREAM of success that makes the free enterprise system work so well.

In pursuit of this dream, people will simply work harder; even in the Soviet Union where private gardens accounting for only four percent of land cultivated produce almost a fourth of the country's food. Spurred by self-interest with hope for gratification, free enterprise does a better job of filling basic human needs: while established capitalist economies are producing food surpluses, the Soviet Union still has to import food, even with 30 percent of the people working to raise it.

Especially significant to a product development company like Gould is capitalism's proven ability to make people technologically innovative. Lack of this incentive has led to the shoddy, obsolete products so often associated with socialist systems.

The author is Chairman of Gould Inc., a company that believes in capitalism's proven ability to make people technologically innovative.

There are an estimated 486,550 legally blind people in the U.S. today. Half of these cases could have been prevented with current medical knowledge and techniques.

Cataract, the leading cause of blindness in the U.S. today, accounts for one of six cases of lost vision. Surgery can restore vision in 95 percent of cataract cases for which it is recommended.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness tells us that 577,800 children age 3 to 5 (or 1 in 20) are affected by vision problems. Conditions like amblyopia, often called "lazy eye," must be diagnosed early for effective treatment.

There's A Real Jam Session Going On

There's a real jam session going on in the Smucker's jam factory. This jam session is a real jam session, with jams and jellies as the main ingredient.

Paul H. Smucker, chairman of the board and president of The J.M. Smucker Company, headquartered on Strawberry Lane in Orrville, Ohio, is one of the nation's authorities on jams and jellies. He is the third generation of Smuckers to head the company, founded by his grandfather in 1897.

He points out that strawberry preserves and grape jelly make up 53% of all the jams and jellies consumed in this country. On breakfast toast and with peanut butter are probably the most popular uses of jams and jellies, but over the years, Smucker reports, his company has come across a host of tasty ideas...ideas that help stretch the food dollar by enhancing traditional foods in new ways.

Such as:

- Topping cereal with your favorite flavor of jam or jelly instead of using sugar.
- Blending two parts sour cream and one part jelly for a rich salad dressing.
- Mixing grape jelly with orange marmalade and chopped walnuts to go with chicken or turkey.
- Mixing milk, ice cream and jelly in a blender, for a frothy milkshake.
- Sweetening grapefruit or cup of tea with jam or jelly.
- Making your own fruit

Smucker recalls a unique recipe submitted by the winner in a sandwich contest at the "Jelly Jamboree", an annual event held in Orrville, to support the city's billing as "Sweetest Town in Ohio". It called for bread, peanut butter, grape jelly, butter, lettuce, mayonnaise and bananas.

The list of such uses goes on and on, Smucker says, and is limited only by the imagination. Comments Smucker, "We are constantly impressed by the ingenuity of the American homemaker, who must develop and prepare hundreds of meals for her family every year. Jams and jellies are practically staples in our diet—and we're always interested in new ways that consumers find to use them in preparing their meals."

Altogether, the U.S. population consumes more than 573 million pounds of jams and jellies every year for a per capita consumption of 2.8 pounds. And that's a lot of jelly!

The most serious vision problem among preschool children is "lazy eye." It is most effectively treated if detected before the age of six.

The leading cause of blindness in the U.S. is cataract, which accounts for 16 percent of all cases. But according to The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, surgery can restore vision in 95 percent of all cases for which it is recommended.

Prussic Acid Or Hydrocyanic Acid Poisoning

Frosts, of varying degrees of severity, have occurred in many areas of Texas and could possibly cause prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forage that have been frozen and wilted. Many plants contain the toxic principal which causes poisoning, however, a number of common pasture and cultivated plants such as Johnson grass, Sudan grass and sorghum or hybrids of these plants may cause heavy mortality in livestock under certain conditions.

The most dangerous time is following frosts when the plant material begins to wilt. Livestock should NOT be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three to four days of good sunlight to thoroughly dry the plant material. New growth of plant material usually becomes non-toxic within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

Prussic acid acts very rapidly, frequently killing animals within a few minutes, although sometimes poisoned animals may live for several hours after the symptoms develop. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes of eating toxic material and can die within 2-3 minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor, difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result from the action of the poison on the brain centers that control respiration. Death is caused by suffocation, since the oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear a bright red color, one of the diagnostic signs of prussic acid poisoning.

Time To Plant Flowering Bulbs

Just because winter is closing in doesn't mean it's time to stop planning or planting your garden.

Now is the time to plant the sleeping beauties of the garden—spring flowering bulbs. These include tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and crocus, and October through early November is an excellent time to make your purchases. Most failures with bulbs are due to holding them too long so that they become desiccated, or planting them so late in the season that there is insufficient time for the roots to grow before freezing temperatures arrive.

Plant daffodils and crocus as soon as possible after purchase. However, tulips and hyacinths require a little extra preparation. They require pre-cooling before planting, and gardeners can do this by chilling the bulbs in the refrigerator until mid-December.

When planting spring flowering bulbs, place them in a well-drained raised bed in full sunlight. Till the soil well and add two pounds of a complete fertilizer for every 100 square feet of bed area.

Plant the bulbs so the base of the bulb is at a depth that is three times the diameter of the bulb. Plant bulbs slightly deeper in sandy soils. Firm the soil around the bulb to prevent air pockets and then soak the ground immediately to assure settling.

To array your garden with a spectacle of color, mass one variety and color together, planting each bulb three or four inches apart.

Austin, Tex.—Texas legislators will be heading back to Austin next January for another historic session.

One of their priority items, public school finance, already has been laid out for study and opinion sizeups.

A House sub-committee submitted a $1 billion plan for the state to assume 100% of school costs. Gov. Briscoe unveiled his long-awaited 1977 school finance proposals, together with cost estimates and district ability to pay data, this week.

Fortunately, lawmakers will have another windfall surplus estimated at from $2 billion to $3 billion.

They can afford a school plan and still have cash left over, but inflation and increasing demands of state agencies will make budget-making as difficult a task as ever.

Legislators, apparently, are in an economy-first frame of mind. Certainly, state leaders—including Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton—are.

Briscoe, Hobby, Clayton, Comptroller Bob Bullock and others will offer their assessments of the 1977 session and its problems at Texas Press Association's legislative briefing at the Hilton Inn in Austin November 5.

Unemployment Drops

The jobless rate in Texas dipped slightly to 5.4% in September, representing the third straight month of decline, according to Texas Employment Commission.

In August, the rate was 5.5% and in July 5.8%.

TEC Chairman Harold Dudley said the Texas rate is well below the national level of 7.4% for September.

"This pattern of decline is traditional for the season," Dudley said. "The fact that monthly unemployment rates are following seasonal trends indicates... we can remain optimistic about Texas' future."

Rates vary widely by areas.

Texas Retail Sales Up

Comptroller Bob Bullock reported a total of $33.9 billion in gross retail sales in Texas during the second quarter of 1976, a 17% jump over the same period last year.

Bullock said the growth exceeds all estimates of inflation and demonstrates an improving Texas economy. The analysis showed $31.5 billion in sales by Texas firms and $2.4 billion by out-of-state firms. Harris County sales increased 11% to $8.2 billion and Dallas County sales by 16% to $5 billion.

Swine Flu Immunization Clinic Set For Nov. 11th

A Clinic for giving immunizations for A/New Jersey influenza (Swine Flu) is scheduled for Thursday, November 11th, at the Memorial Building, from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. for persons over 18 years of age.

The dangers of catching the A/New Jersey strain of influenza are very real if the expected fall and winter outbreak occurs. A nationwide epidemic can be averted if everyone receives the Swine Flu vaccine. Everyone 18 and older should be immunized with these free shots as soon as possible in order to be protected against this strain of influenza. Persons who are allergic to eggs are asked NOT to take the Swine Flu vaccine because the virus used in preparing the vaccine is grown in eggs. There is very little discomfort from these shots and reactions are extremely rare.

Local public health authorities and volunteers will conduct the influenza campaign in Eldorado, at the Memorial Building, November 11th, from 3:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m.

Don't be an influenza statistic this winter; take advantage of the free A/New Jersey (Swine Flu) immunizations being offered.
