Another Burglary At Westerman Drug

For the second time in less than a year, Westerman Drug sustained a burglary sometime Sunday night, when intruders forced open the back door and made off with some narcotics and a small amount of cash from the till.

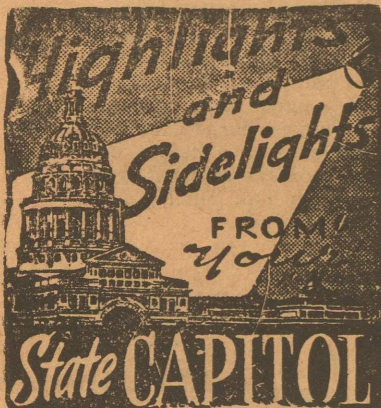

Evidence of forced entry was found about 10:00 p.m. Sunday by Nightwatchman Johnny O'Harrow, and Sheriff Orval Edmiston was called to investigate. The sheriff and other lawmen continued their investigations this week. A fingerprint expert was called from San Angelo.

This burglary came about 10 days after a similar one at Glynn Edmondson's liquor store on the Sonora highway.

Also, last June the local Westerman's was broken into when intruders broke out a front window and gained entry. At that time, too, some narcotics and cash were taken.

Austin, Tex.—House Speaker Bill Clayton, laying rumors to rest, announced he will seek an unprecedented third term as House Speaker in 1979.

Clayton, 48, denied any interest in running for U. S. senator or lieutenant governor next year or in getting the state agriculture commissioner's post vacated by veteran John C. White.

He told reporters he has 90 firm pledges of support in 1979, virtually ruling out any genuine contest unless some of his backers change their minds.

Charge Unwanted

Texas senators expressed their firm disapproval of a telephone directory assistance or information charge permitted by the Public Utility Commission.

They voted 19-9 to prohibit such charges in spite of warnings the bill may actually lead to higher monthly phone rates for most subscribers.

Southwestern Bell Vice President Doyle Rogers announced after the vote 96% of residential telephone customers and 87% of business customers pay no directory assistance charges. The first 10 such calls per month are free, and a 20 cent charge is levied for each additional call over that level.

Rogers called the bill anti consumer, and said if the bill becomes law, costs of the service will have to be spread system-wide to all customers rather than just those who lean heavily on information operators.

Fraud Bill Passes

The Senate passed two bills making it a felony knowingly to obtain more than $200 in welfare or medical assistance funds.

The bills, passed overwhelmingly, now go to the House for consideration.

Issue Stalled

Efforts to find a compromise to the medical malpractice insurance logjam so far have been fruitless. A Senate bill under intensive committee study for more than a month has been sent to the attorney general for an opinion on its constitutionality.

Texas Trial Lawyers Association wanted the detour. Texas Medical Association, which is pushing for the bill, did not.

Lawyers claim doctors cannot limit their liability for damages (as proposed in the bill) while other groups enjoy no such protection.

Vote AGAINST The Dissolution

On Saturday, April 2, City voters will decide the question of whether or not to do away with the municipal corporation of the City of Eldorado.

The ballot has two propositions:

FOR the dissolution.

AGAINST the dissolution.

The Success crew urge the City voters to vote AGAINST.

Reason not to vote for the dissolution: If approved, you are going to let yourself in for a lot of legal problems that are not worth the trouble.

With another burglary in the business district Sunday night—Westerman Drug was robbed again—it makes businessmen take notice of the need for stronger security measures to protect their respective places of business.

Burglaries and armed hold-ups are fairly common occurrences in larger cities and there most high-risk business establishments have learned over the years how best to cope with intruders. Burglar alarms are commonly installed and the police patrols keep an eye on things.

All this might affect the thinking of the professional burglar so that he comes to an outlying town, the size of Eldorado. He surmises he has less chance of getting caught if he enters an establishment with idea of robbing it.

We have all noticed those strips of foil mounted around windows and doors of high-risk business establishments in larger cities, such as jewelry stores. If the window is broken, the foil is broken too and sets off the alarm.

The first store here in Eldorado to install such a set-up was the Kwik Thrift store. The system was put in a few weeks ago. Whenever the alarm is set off, it takes a key to turn it off.

Stronger door locks and bolts, and bars over some windows are measures which all local store owners should look into, especially those which have a higher-than-normal burglary risk.

Sometimes it is hard to tell the dividing line between the bored teen-ager who burglarizes or damages an establishment for kicks, and the hardened professional who hits a place for the more valuable haul.

Historical Society Holds Meeting

The Schleicher County Historical Society met Saturday evening, Mar. 19, at the Museum with Mr. Dave Turner of Lubbock, Texas. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the printing of a Historical Book of Schleicher County.

There were approximately 15 citizens present at this meeting and I'm sorry everyone did not get to hear Mr. Turner make his presentation concerning a County History Book. It was very informative and he had many books from different counties for us to look over. We taped this meeting and hope everyone, whether you are a member of the Historical Society or not, will plan to be at our next meeting on April 4, 1977 at the Museum to hear what Mr. Turner can do for us concerning our History. If you are interested, please plan to attend and state your views on whether to go ahead with this project. It will be a county sponsored book and would be a comprehensive study of the County's history and her people in order to preserve as much of the culture and history as possible.

We have purchased a copy of the Crockett County book and have it in the Museum and would like for everyone to come by and take a look at it.—Rep.

Danish Blue Cheese Artichoke Dip

Two great foods combine to provide a real taste thrill in this recipe for artichokes in a Danish Blue Cheese dip. For variety that can make a complete meal, in addition to using cold cooked artichoke leaves for dipping, you may enjoy other fruits and vegetables as suggested in the photograph here—such as sliced fresh mushrooms, sliced apples and potato or corn chips. All of these or others, used as dips, are a taste delight when dipped in the spectacular cheese combination.

For dipping leaves, choose medium to large fresh artichokes. Cut off stem ends and stand upright in deep sauce pan. Simmer in 2 or 3 inches water and 1/4 teaspoon salt for each artichoke. When cooked, chill, and pull off leaves one at a time. Dip the tender fleshy end of each leaf into the delicious dip.

Danish Blue Cheese is called "the noble cheese" by the Danes. Other popular Danish Cheeses available are Samsoe, Danbo, Tybo, Havarti, Creamy Havarti, and Esrom, each with its particular flavor characteristic. They are delicious eaten out of hand with fruits, vegetables or wine.

ARTICHOKE—DANISH BLUE CHEESE CRAB DIP

- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1 3 ounce package cream cheese
- 3/4 pound fresh cooked crab meat, or 1 can drained
- 1 6 ounce jar artichoke hearts, drained and chopped coarsely
- 1/4 cup Danish Blue Cheese, crumbled, firmly packed

In a small chafing dish or saucepan, heat wine over medium heat until bubbles begin to appear. Divide cream cheese in fourths and add one piece at a time to wine, stirring constantly, until mixture is smooth. Chop crab meat coarsely and add. Gently stir in blue cheese and artichoke hearts. Serve warm with slices of crisp apples, fresh mushrooms, cooked and chilled artichokes and potato chips. Makes about 2 cups.

BANKING IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

You And Your Bank—In The Driver's Seat

By Willis W. Alexander
Executive Vice President
American Bankers Association

Money talks — and auto dealers listen — when you make a cash offer on a new or used car.

Here are a few suggestions for putting yourself in the driver's seat the next time you purchase an automobile.

The first step should be a quick visit to your bank's consumer loan department. Ask to look at the latest N.A.D.A. book (or similar book). In it, the National Association of Automobile Dealers lists — by make, model, year and major options — the average price of new and used cars and the average loan values for financing.

A quick comparison of the cars you have under consideration will also show the relative costs and depreciations. The book also shows average resale values and average trade-in values for all makes and models. This brings you to Step 2: selling your car instead of trading in.

Why? Because the paperwork is minimal and you should be able to sell your car for more than its trade-in value. For example, the trade-in value (according to NADA, Eastern Edition) of a 1975 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme V8, 2-door, is $3,475. The average retail price, however, is $4,175. A '75 Toyota Corolla 2-door coupe is worth $2,050 as a trade-in but $2,725 retail.

Next, pre-arrange your new-car financing through your bank.

Banks, on the national average, are currently offering 36-month new car loans at 11.04 per cent interest rates. Finance companies, however, are charging 13.21 per cent. This difference can amount to a substantial savings since the average new-car loan is now for $5,000. Some 10 per cent of all bank new-car loans are also being written for 42, 48 and 60 months. These will cost you more in interest, but your monthly payment will be less.

Once you have your pre-arranged auto loan from your bank, you are in the driver's seat when it comes to negotiating the final "cash" price of the car you want. And that can often be hundreds of dollars under the "list" price.

The savings from bank financing of a used car can be even greater than those in a new car purchase. For used car loans, banks are averaging 13.21 per cent and finance companies 17.75 per cent interest. If you have overdraft checking at your bank, you should apply for a line-of-credit which would cover the total cost of the used car. This will lower your rate to around 11 1/2 per cent and you will have a clear title to the car. Also, being able to simply write out a check for a used car again puts you in the driver's seat when it comes to negotiating an asking price downward.

4-H Clothing project meetings are starting this week. If we missed you and you want to sew please call me and let me know.

This week I have some information for you on a very current subject, Food Quackery.

Health Quackery

Since Americans spend $2 billion a year on food fads, learn to spot a food quack during March.

An FDA Consumer Memo on Quackery offers the following questions to ask yourself if you have doubts about a health product or practitioner.

If the answer is YES, you could potentially be one of the thousands of people who are being victimized by quackery.

—Is the product or service being offered a "secret remedy" or not available from other sources?

—Does the sponsor claim that he is battling the medical profession which does not accept his wonderful discovery?

—Is the remedy being sold from door to door, by a self-styled "health food advisor" or promoted in lectures to the public, from town to town?

—Is this "miracle" drug, device or diet being promoted in a sensational magazine, by a faith healer's group, or a crusading organization of laymen?

—Does the promoter tell you about the wonderful miracles his product or services have performed for others?

—Is the product or service good for a vast variety of illnesses, real or fancied?

—If you suspect that you are a victim of quackery, you may —See your physician or inform your county medical society.

—Get in touch with:
Food & Drug Administration
3032 Bryan Street
Dallas, Texas 75204

—Ask the Better Business Bureau about the reputation of the promoter.

—Inform your local Post Office, if the drug or device was promoted through the mail.

Since March is nutrition month celebrate it by avoiding fad diets, and wonder foods. They generally limit the variety of foods you need for good health. Following fad diets may cause nutrient deficiencies and that could endanger your health.

Remember: Good Nutrition can be obtained by eating a balanced diet each day.

School Finance Bill Is Out Of Subcommittee

Austin, Tex.—State Representative James E. (Jim) Nugent of Kerrville explained the new public school finance bill which was reported out of an education subcommittee last week. Rep. Nugent, a member of the special School Finance Subcommittee which considered several school finance bills, stated, "H. H. 750 is a definite improvement in the way we finance public education in this state. We have raised the state's share of financing education from approximately 75% to 85%, and mandated a reduction in local property taxes over the next two years. We have also ensured that no public school district will receive less state aid in the future than it now receives."

Rep. Nugent further stated, "We have included a very important provision which allows a school district's eligibility for state aid to be based on its agricultural value of property or its full market value of property, whichever is the lower for the district. This provision should provide some needed relief for our farmers and ranchers who have been especially hard hit by escalating property taxes."

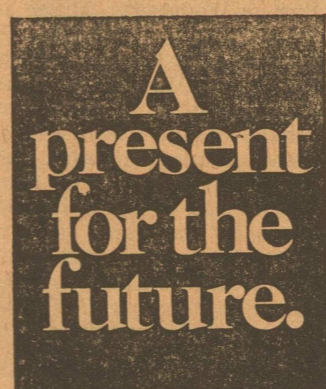

The bill goes before the full House Public Education Committee for consideration, and Speaker Clayton has expressed his hope that the bill will be voted on by the full House in late April.

NEWS OF SAFETY

Chain Link Fences

A good line of defense against intruders, both two- and four-legged, is a sturdy fence. The rising crime rate and a yearning for privacy are cited by the Chain Link Fence Manufacturers Institute as the primary reasons fences are one of the most popular property improvement items today.

Chain link fences, made of durable interwoven wire mesh supported by tubular metal posts and top rails, are especially popular because they are easily put up and virtually maintenance-free when properly installed. This type of fencing is not an easy mark for vandals on a fence-trashing or graffiti spree and, according to security officials, serves as a deterrent to the casual burglar. Because chain link fences do not obstruct the view, they do not provide safe cover for intruders.

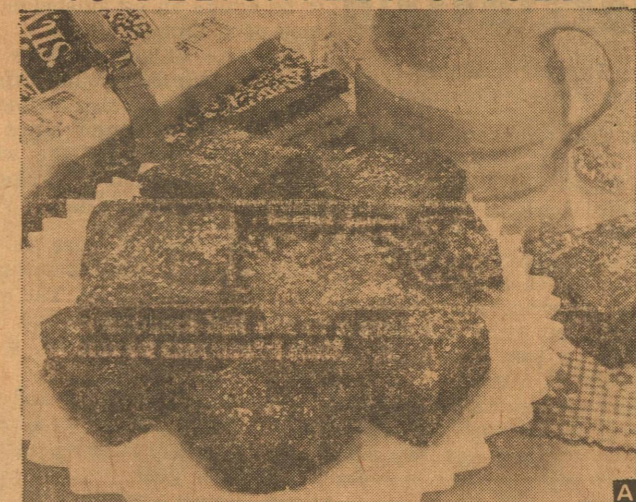

Providing a safe, airy enclosure for children to play in and keeping stray pets from spoiling shrubbery and flowers beds are traditional reasons for fencing a yard.

A recent improvement in the design of residential chain link fencing is a process whereby the top and bottom edges of the wire fabric are "knuckled." This means the wire ends are turned under to make a safer selvage. The Chain Link Fence Manufacturers Institute promoted the adoption of the process among all manufacturers and has been commended by the Consumer Product Safety Commission for voluntarily taking steps to comply with the new Consumer Product Safety Act.

Chain link fencing is available in a wide variety of types. The CLFMI advises discussing fencing needs with a fencing contractor before purchase. The Institute also suggests that prospective buyers inspect several installed fences before deciding on the size and type of chain link fencing material desired.

THIS BROWNI-EST BROWNIE IS DELICATELY SPICED

Chocolate brownies are an American invention and loved from coast to coast. This recipe makes a rich, "fudgy" treat, fragrant with cinnamon to enhance the chocolate flavor. As a bonus, it's very easily made.

CINNAMON BROWNIES

- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
- 4 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1-1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a medium saucepan melt butter and chocolate over very low heat. Remove from heat; stir in sugar and eggs; set aside. In a medium bowl combine flour, cinnamon, baking powder, salt and orange peel. Stir into chocolate mixture just until smooth and well blended. Stir in nuts. Spread in a greased 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350°F.) until mixture starts to come away from sides of pan, about 30 minutes. Cool slightly on a wire rack. Cut into squares; remove from pan and cool completely. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar, if desired. Yield: About 30 brownies.

In 1908 a two-cent stamp was enough postage to mail a letter from the U.S. to Great Britain.

Bentsen Seeks To Simplify Tax Forms

(from the office of U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen)

Washington, D. C.—Senator Lloyd Bentsen Monday said complex Federal tax forms will cause millions of Americans to make errors when they file their income tax returns his year.

Bentsen, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, said he will urge the committee to adopt simplified tax forms as part of the tax cut bill. The committee begins writing its version of the tax cut legislation tomorrow. The House of Representatives has already approved such a measure.

"It is getting to the point that it takes a certified public accountant to fill out even the short version of the federal income tax return," the Senator said.

"Back in 1954 all you had to be able to do was add and fill in about 30 blanks if you used the short form. But today, according to the General Accounting Office, you have to add, subtract, calculate percentages, multiply and fill in 50 blanks."

"I want to change this and I am going to urge the Finance Committee to support proposed changes in the tax forms," Bentsen said.

At present, a family of four with a $15,000 income which claims the standard deduction has to make six computations involving deductions, exemptions and a tax credit. Using a simplified form proposed by Bentsen they would make no computations, rather they would simply look in the new tax tables to determine the amount of tax they owe.

Bentsen said that the Internal Revenue Service reports that, in the early weeks of the current tax season, about 11.5% of the tax returns using the short form contained errors. At this rate, he said, some 2.1 million of all the short forms filed will have errors.

"The taxes people pay are enough of a burden without forcing them to hire a lawyer or an accountant to learn how much they owe," Bentsen said.

"I want to trim these forms down, simplify them, and I believe the Finance Committee will agree," Senator Bentsen said.

Consumer Food News

College Station, Tex.—Lamb promises feature prices on some cuts as supplies are increasing for the season at Texas grocery markets, Mrs. Gwendolyre Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, reports.

Lamb specials will include loin and rib lamb chops, leg of lamb and shoulder roasts, she said.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

At beef counters, best values appear on chuck cuts, while good buys are available on a number of steaks for broiling and rib roasts. Other good choices are ground beef, round steak and beef liver, the specialist said.

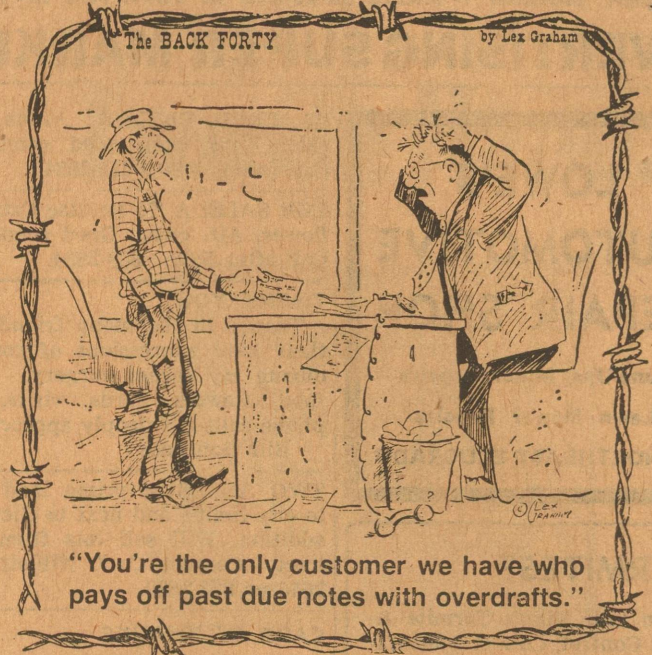

In poultry departments, fryer chickens have reasonable prices—and turkey prices make them a good protein value with large birds providing the lowest cost per serving, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

At pork counters, ham is a popular seasonal choice, but consumers should read labels carefully because 'ham' has many meanings, the specialist cautioned. Pork values in some markets are in whole pork loins—while others are featuring Boston butt-roasts, end chops, quarter-loins cut into chops, loin end roasts, smoked picnics, bacon, frankfurters and liver.

At fruit counters, high-quality winter pears are 'big'—while other economical choices are oranges, grapefruit and apples.

In vegetable buying, items in good supply at the most economical prices include broccoli, carrots, head lettuce, potatoes, collards, mustard, turnips, rutabagas and spinach.

Consumer Watchwords: Pasta products are featured—and they make excellent protein extenders or stretchers for more economical meals. Remember to buy enriched products, as they are more nutritious and usually cost no more.

REVOLUTIONARY investment

It's been 200 years since Americans were first asked to take stock in America. And take stock they did. Our brand-new citizens invested over $27,000,000 in their new country's fight for freedom. And it sure paid off. Today, over 9 1/2 million modern Americans invest in their future as well as their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds are safe, dependable, and profitable. And when you join the Payroll Savings Plan, saving becomes automatically regular, too. So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They're a revolutionary way to save.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

A trip to the tropics, a vacation with family or friends in Peoria. Wherever you go, the excitement increases—and the memories become more vivid—when you bring home vacation highlights in color snapshots. An easy-to-use, lightweight camera can be as important to the traveler as tourist maps and passports. Pocketable and convenient, a Kodak Tele-Instamatic camera with its two built-in lenses is an ideal traveling companion. You can take overviews of panoramic scenes with the normal lens, then flick to the telephoto lens for details. Here are some general picture-taking tips from Kodak experts to help you get the most out of your camera when you're on the go. * Keep the background simple to focus attention on your subject. Use the telephoto lens to eliminate unwanted clutter, or shoot from a different angle. * Move in as close as the camera allows to add impact, impart intimacy, or emphasize details. * Estimate camera-to-subject distance as accurately as possible for well-focused pictures. * Put people in the pictures to personalize, and show them doing something—admiring the view, browsing in native market-places, or frolicking on the beach. * Frame your pictures by including an object—a tree branch, stone fence, rock or foliage—that is closer to your camera than the main subject. * Avoid storing camera and film on dashboards or inside glove compartments if you're driving in hot, tropical climates. * Remember the basics. Keep your camera handy for fleeting picture-taking possibilities. Hold it rock steady and squeeze the shutter button gently. Make sure everything you want is included within the viewfinder framing marks. Seals are mammals and breathe through their lungs but they are equipped to stay under water several minutes.

Letter To The Editor

The Citizens Of Eldorado, Texas:

I am not trying to cause anyone to vote for or against anything by publishing this information. It is to present my feelings as near as I know how concerning a subject I feel is very important to us all and certainly everyone should consider them as they apply to his or her situation.

I and the many people who helped circulate the petitions to get this election called thought it would be a change that would improve our present situation. The main purpose on my part was to give the people of Eldorado a chance to determine what they wanted to do themselves at the election.

In discussing the proposition of the Dissolution of the Municipal Corporation of Eldorado over about the last year and one half with many citizens, I have encountered many different opinions but no one has told me anything just terrible it would cause.

The change, if it occurs, will of course present some questions of a legal nature. None of these at this writing (2:30 P. M. March 21, 1977) seem impossible to solve in the opinion of our County Attorney, T. P. Robinson, Jr.

There is a good reason for the fact that it is hard to get absolute answers to some questions people have concerning how certain parts of city property will be handled. As every situation is different this consolidation is very close to unique in that it is not caused by any default in payments or defunct conditions. Crockett County and Ozona are about the only pattern in Texas to study, if the change occurs. They didn't have to make the change since they have always been unincorporated. I feel if the County Government in Crockett County can handle an estimated ninety six million tax base operation, our county government will have very few problems running our estimated eighteen million tax base operation in Schleicher County and Eldorado.

I think the great majority of Schleicher County Citizens have a very high regard for the integrity and abilities of our County officials who will be handling the change over if it occurs. I regard their integrity and abilities very high. It is inconceivable to me that any utility bond owners would feel that their interest were not in good hands and unless there was an absolute legal necessity for a receiver I would think on investigation a receivership would be waived.

I simply feel that the change would be good for me and mine but am not suggesting that anyone follow my example as our situations are all different. These feelings are not all fact and they apply only to me. I will leave you with this admonition: free advice is many times only free if it is not used. Figure out from your own viewpoint and your own situation.

Learning Art Of Good Living In France

GOOD LIVING in France also means good eating and the delight of dining outdoors at a tree-shaded restaurant of Provence. Here the chef at the Abbey of the Celle displays one of his specialties.

Whether they are experiencing the countryside that inspired the world's greatest artists or dining in restaurants that inspired the world's greatest gourmets, more Americans than ever who visit France are discovering the art of good living.

To some, good living may be a sketching trip through the Tuileries Gardens in Paris or on the Riviera. Interestingly, the French Riviera, long the focus of sun and sea vacations on the Mediterranean, has rapidly become an art center as well. More than 35 museums now dot the coastline and nearby hill towns, from Menton to St. Tropez.

New museums also tempt the traveler in Paris, Avignon and Aix, while Lyon also sounds the call to good eating. Distinctive folklore and regional cuisine are high points of travel through Brittany, Alsace and the Pyrenees country. Vineyards and celebrated cellars invite tourists to a visit and a friendly toast in champagne, Burgundy, Rhone Valley and Bordeaux.

Not only does each region add a course to France's good life, visitors to France can also take a course in French cuisine. The classes, which are all in English, are especially convenient for travelers who wish an initiation into classic French cooking. In Paris, there are the world-famous Le Cordon Bleu, and La Varenne. On the Atlantic Coast there is the Dieppe Cookery Course, the Cours de Cuisine de Morlaix and the Cours de Cuisine a Deauville. For Americans interested in becoming wine connoisseurs, courses are offered at the Academie de Vin in Paris and the Institut D'Oenologie in Bordeaux. These classes are also in English and cover wines of many regions.

This year, more Americans than ever are discovering that not all the masterpieces of France are in its museums, and are learning that they can appreciate the art of good living even on an artist's budget. Further information on the many travel packages now being offered is available at your travel agent or by writing the French Government Tourist Office, 610 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10020.

GREAT MOMENTS IN SPORTS
 IN A NUTSHELL

Brief Stories Of Long-Remembered Triumphs

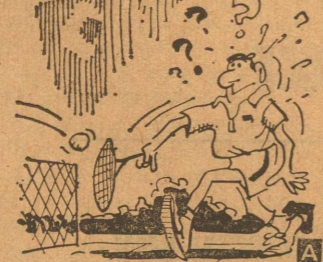

It was a great moment for sports back in 1860 when, for the first time, skiing was treated as a sport. The king of Norway awarded a trophy to the winner of a ski-jumping contest near Oslo and subsequently appointed a committee to draft rules for annual tournaments.

A great moment in sports occurred in 1952 when Bernard Malivoire became the youngest Olympic contestant by coxing the winning French coxed pairs at the age of 12. Young sports today can enjoy nutritious Baby Ruth and Butterfinger snack bars for some of the energy they need in their active lives.

A great moment in sports occurred at Wimbledon in 1969 when Ricardo Alonzo (Pancho) Gonzalez beat Charles M. Pasarell, also of the U.S., in a 112-game singles match that, though interrupted by nightfall, lasted 5 hours and 12 minutes.

When you are away from home leave your radio on. A radio uses little electricity and gives the impression that your house is occupied.

BARBED WIRE and Babbling Brooks

Spring sun shines on babbling brooks — and barbed wire. A bird song lilt prettily on fragrant air — and a sniper shot splits the silence. New green burgeons through brown winter grasses — and red blood drenches jungle earth.

One's description of the season depends upon location. In some parts of the world there are happy people, enjoying the spring, looking forward to Easter services. Other faces of this globe find suffering people, anguished by the sunshine, hungry, afraid, lonely, dying.

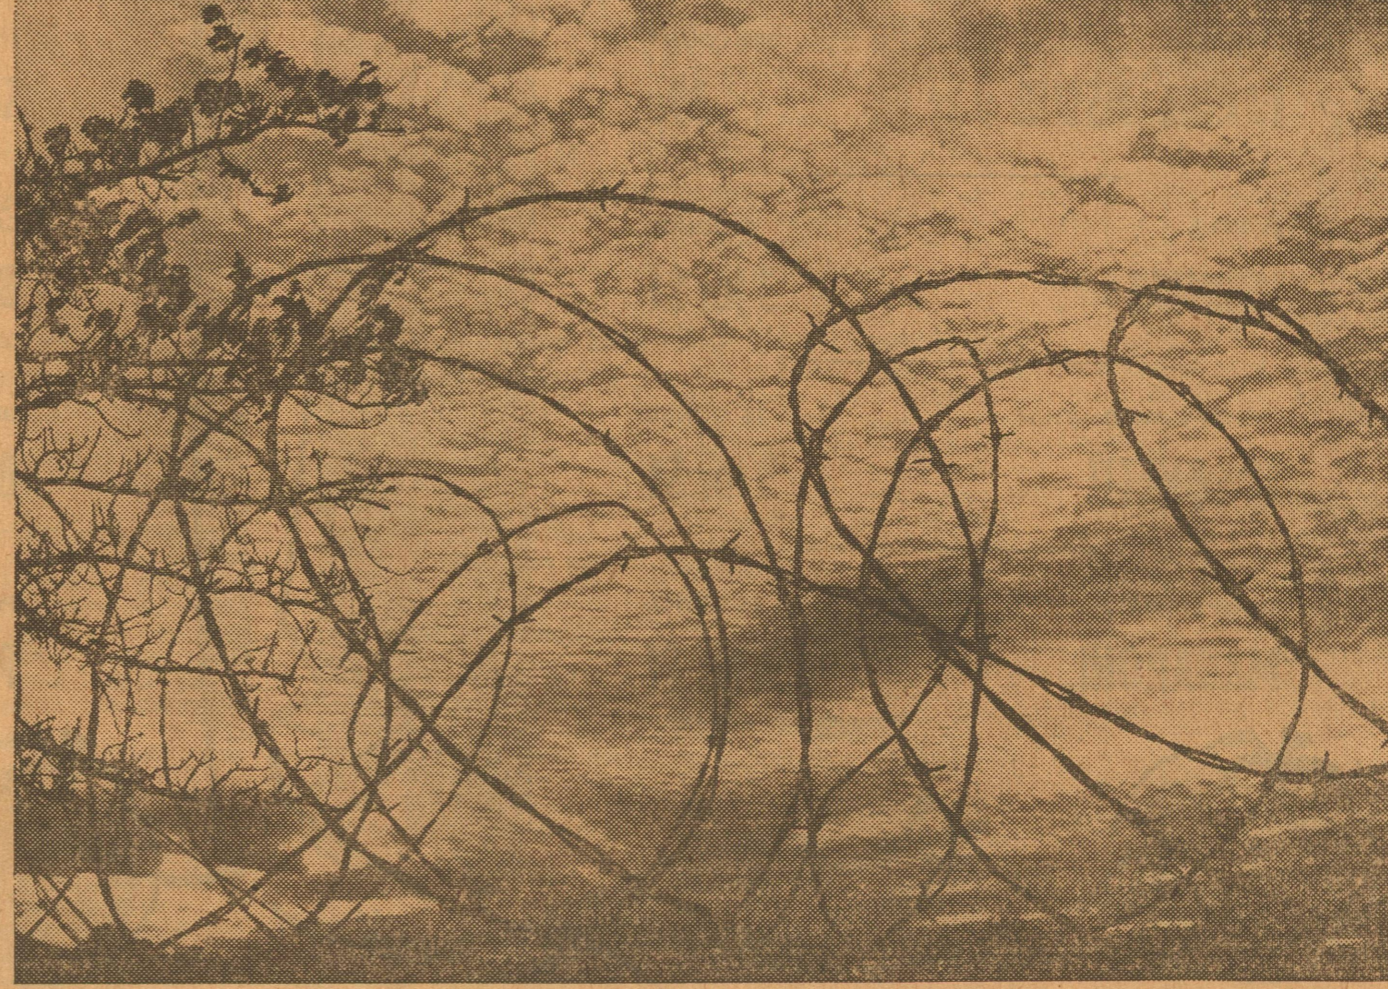

Centuries ago on black Calvary hill, Jesus of Nazareth demonstrated perfect love. Down through the ages, His life and teachings have pointed the way for mankind to heal the ills of the world.

So, in this Lenten season let us offer ourselves—our time and talents—to the service of His Church, in its task of making His kingdom come upon earth.
