Old Fashioned Quality—Fact Or Fancy?

"They don't build them like they used to."

That's an old saw that one hears with increasing frequency these days about everything from automobiles to appliances.

The implication is that today's mass-produced consumer goods lack the quality and durability of the "hand-crafted" products of the "good old days."

In reality, however, the quality of many modern, assembly-line products has improved over that of yesterday, thanks to sophisticated test equipment and inspection procedures used by manufacturers who want to ensure that their customers will be repeat buyers.

The automatic dishwasher is typical of the complex major appliances found in today's homes.

General Electric Company, for example, has 37 engineers and specialists assigned full-time to testing its dishwashers and food-waste disposers at its Louisville, Ky., plant.

Some 400 dishwashers are tested round-the-clock. Production models selected at random are run through 4,200 cycles. Pre-production models — new dishwasher ideas under consideration for the future — are subjected to 7,500 or more operating cycles.

In the course of a year, the GE test program requires 1½ tons of detergent, more than 61 million gallons of water, and enough electricity to meet the average annual requirements of 425 homes.

Besides the factory life-test program, there also is continuous "in home" testing of an additional 400 dishwashers and disposers.

In other GE factory labs, selected dishwasher components are subjected to tests far more severe than they would face in actual home use: water valves are turned on and off 100,000 times, water pressure is cycled from 0 to 200 psi 100,000 times to check hoses, and the wash mechanism is subjected to 132,000 "on and off" operations. Doors are slammed shut 100,000 times. The loading racks are pulled out, then pushed back in, a similar number of times. Rinse-agent dispensers are activated 15,000 times, and timers are put through 15,000 cycles.

These torture tests won't guarantee that an occasional model with a defect won't slip by, but they do go a long way toward assuring the consumer that the basic design is sound and that the components are rugged.

No, they truly don't build dishwashers today as they used to. They build them better.

Almond Party Dessert

Chocolate cups with a fluffy caramel-almond filling make fanciful dessert fare. They're easy to make, but elegant in appearance and taste.

Caramel Almond Sponge au Chocolat

- |  |                             |
|--|-----------------------------|
| 1 package (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces or 6 squares (1 oz. each) semi-sweet cooking chocolate | 1 envelope plain gelatin    |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine  | ½ cup cold water            |
| 1 tablespoon water   | ¾ cup scalded milk          |
| 1 cup sugar  | ½ teaspoon salt             |
|  | 1 teaspoon vanilla          |
|  | 1 cup whipping cream        |
|  | ¾ cup roasted diced almonds |

Heat chocolate, butter and 1 tablespoon water over hot water until chocolate is partly melted. Remove from heat and stir to blend; cool slightly. With back of teaspoon or pastry brush, coat inside surface of 8 or 9 paper baking cups with thin layer of chocolate mixture. (Allow about 1 tablespoon chocolate mixture for each cup. If mixture becomes too thick to spread easily, thin over hot water.) Place coated cups in muffin tins; chill until hard. Melt ¾ cup sugar in heavy skillet, stirring until sugar is dark and caramelized. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup water.

Add caramelized sugar slowly to scalded milk, stirring briskly to prevent curdling. Stir until all sugar is dissolved. Add gelatin and stir to dissolve. Stir in remaining sugar, salt and vanilla. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Whip cream; fold into gelatin mixture along with all but 2 tablespoons almonds. If necessary, chill again until mixture mounds on spoon. Heap lightly into chocolate cups; sprinkle with remaining almonds. Chill until firm. To serve, peel off paper cups; place chocolate cups on serving plate or individual plates. Makes 8 or 9 servings.

REVOLUTIONARY investment

It's been 200 years since Americans were first asked to take stock in America. And take stock they did. Our brand-new citizens invested over $27,000,000 in their new country's fight for freedom. And it sure paid off.

Today, over 9½ million modern Americans invest in their future as well as their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds are safe, dependable, and profitable. And when you join the Payroll Savings Plan, saving becomes automatically regular, too.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They're a revolutionary way to save.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if receipts are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Gas Withholding Investigation Sought

(From the office of Lloyd Bentsen, U. S. Senator.)

Washington, D. C. — Senator Lloyd Bentsen Tuesday called for an interior Department investigation to determine to what extent the withholding of natural gas from production in the East and Midwest contributed to the natural gas shortage this winter.

"We know of at least three areas in the East and Midwest where there is natural gas in the ground that was not being produced and supplied to the American people during this coldest winter in the history of our Republic. I want to know how many other cases there are," Bentsen said in a Senate speech.

The Senator said he has sent a telegram to Interior Secretary Cecil Anorus seeking the probe.

"Until the crisis this year the State of Pennsylvania had blocked efforts to drill for gas on the U. S. side of Lake Erie even though Canada had been drilling on her side for years," Senator Bentsen said.

"There is an estimated 600 billion cubic feet of natural gas under Lake Erie but until the shortages this year the Governor of Pennsylvania refused to allow drilling in the lake."

Bentsen also pointed out that politicians and other East Coast residents went to court in a successful effort to prevent development of an estimated 1 trillion cubic feet of natural gas and 1.4 billion barrels of oil in the Atlantic Ocean's Baltimore Canyon.

"It is neither fair nor rational for them to come in and drill off the Texas coast and the Louisiana coast and then block efforts to drill off their coast," the Senator said.

"It is neither fair nor rational for them to get their gas at a low, subsidized price while the people of Texas and other producing states pay for virtually all of the natural gas exploration that is being done in this country," he said.

Senator Bentsen noted there are 1.3 trillion cubic feet of natural gas in proven reserves in Ohio that it is not economically feasible to develop because of Federal regulation of natural gas. The reserves are held by utility companies which are subject to regulation by the Federal Power Commission.

"These politicians from the East and the Midwest and the West who are now charging that natural gas is being deliberately held off the market remind me of the youth who killed his parents then demanded mercy because he was an orphan," Bentsen said.

"The fact is that some of these same politicians are withholding natural gas either through court suits or executive actions or thru their continued support of a misguided system of government regulation which promotes waste of natural gas and hampers development of this clean burning resource," Senator Bentsen said.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

As the Girl Scouts celebrate their sixty-fifth birthday, I believe that it is fitting and proper for us to take a moment and reflect on the assistance given to us over the years. The Eldorado Success and its staff have been enthusiastic supporters of El Camino Council and the Girl Scouts of Eldorado and the surrounding area over the years. However, I am not sure we have properly thanked you for all your help and assistance in the past.

The Eldorado Success has produced some beautiful Girl Scout articles over the years such as the excellent coverage always given Girl Scout cookie sales, troop and age-level events and, of course, Girl Scout Week. With help such as yours, El Camino Council is headed towards its Road to the Future. This is evidenced by the increased number of girls and adults registered and the increased concern for the financial needs of the Council by the various communities served in our 18-county area.

Again, thank you for your support and assistance from all the Girl Scouts of El Camino Girl Scout Council.

Sincerely,
I. W. Santry, III
Council President

Recycle Your Career

In today's world of accelerated developments in technology, it is almost mandatory for men and women to engage in supplemental education and training. Experts predict the average worker may expect to "recycle his career"—that is—change his occupation, from five to nine times during his working life.

Where do you get this "extra education?" Here are some ways: (1) Institutions of higher learning offer day and evening courses in professional, vocational and technical fields. (2) Many companies provide and pay for employee training courses to assist them in upgrading their job potential. (3) Correspondence schools offer an opportunity for education in your spare time at home. According to the National Home Study Council, which has over 100 accredited member schools, there are 1.5 million students enrolled today in home study.

R. E. Buono of Fort Washington, Pa., for example, was hesitant in deciding to prepare for employment in the broadcast communications field—he was told by his friends the subject was much too difficult to master at his age (42). However, after enrolling in a correspondence course in communications, he passed the examination for his first class radio-telephone license and became a professional in the broadcast field.

KRUEGER CALLS FOR END TO DOUBLE TAXATION ON ESTATES

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Bob Krueger (D-Texas) today urged the Congress to adopt an estate tax reform measure aimed at preserving the family farm.

The legislation, H.R. 2674, would eliminate the carryover provision of the Estate and Gift Tax Reform Act of 1976. Under the new proposal, only an inheritance tax could be levied on estates by the federal government.

"This issue is of crucial importance to people involved in agriculture," Krueger said. "Some farms and ranches have been passed down through generations, and, of course, the land increases in value through the years. Consequently, land which was purchased fifty years ago, is taxed on its increase in value in addition to being taxed as an inheritance."

"The sort of double taxation currently practiced on a federal level is contrary to the policies we need to follow to encourage the maintenance of the family farm and greater production of agricultural commodities," Krueger said.

The bill is sponsored in the House Ways and Means Committee by Rep. Omar Burlison (D-Texas).

Krueger noted that last week the Texas House of Representatives passed legislation that would raise Class A exemptions from $25,000 to $200,000. The effect of the bill is to insure the integrity of the family farm in the event that an owner of the property should die.

"The Texas legislature has addressed this problem and I hope the Congress will have the foresight and wisdom to follow suit," Krueger said.

PLAN AHEAD
Sort clothes according to type of fabric, color-fastness, degree of soil and garment construction. You'll save both hot water and electricity by doing similar items together. Accumulate a full load before running your washer.

BE SELECTIVE

Choose the cycle that is precisely appropriate for the clothes you are washing. Is a "hot" temperature setting really necessary? Except for heavily soiled items, most loads will come clean in either a cold or warm wash. Look into cold wash detergents.

Use the least amount of detergent that will get your clothes clean—most loads require only an ounce or less!

Overloading causes extra strain and wear on your equipment; check the manufacturer's recommendations for load weight. Balance your load by alternating small and large items.

FOR SAFETY SAKE

Be sure control is "off" before reaching into your washer. If one is necessary, use only a heavy duty extension cord. Be sure your washer is grounded. Keep dry cleaning agents, color remover and Fibersol out of your washer. It's a good idea not to wash clothes containing cleaning fluids in your washer.

Next Tuesday, March 15, the annual Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting for District 7 will be held in Coleman. Home Demonstration members who are planning on attending this meeting are: Patsy Kellogg, Geneva Wade, Connie Spence, and Nell Williams.

This past Monday I helped judge the Needlework category of the Women's Division at the San Angelo stock show. Rita McWhorter also served as a judge. The display of work there is really beautiful.

This week I have some information on food safety.

Your family may enjoy meals, day after day, and never get sick from foodborne illness. Then comes a big family gathering or a large party. You are handling larger amounts of food; your refrigerator is overcrowded. Food is prepared in advance and sometimes not stored properly. Also, you may serve the food buffet style and it stands and stands as your guests come and go. People pick over the food. Later on, some may complain of diarrhea, vomiting, and other problems. What has gone wrong? The answer may be food poisoning.

Bacteria cause food poisoning. All they need to grow is the right combination of time and temperature. If you follow these simple rules you can avoid trouble:

Keep HOT Foods Hot (Above 140 F.)

Bacteria grow best in lukewarm foods. Keep protein foods such as seafood, poultry, and cooked meats hot by using an electric hot tray or chafing dish. Small candle warming units may not keep hot foods hot enough. Never let these foods stand at room temperature for more than two hours.

Keep COLD Foods Cold (Below 40 F.) Cream pies, puddings, seafood salads, and many other dishes made with eggs, fish, meat, and poultry need to be kept cold. This keeps dangerous bacteria from growing. Do not let these foods stand at room temperature more than two hours. Don't put out large quantities of these foods at one time. Serve only what is needed and replace often so foods keep as cold as possible. Serve these foods in containers that can be stored in the refrigerator and then be brought directly to the table.

Plan Your Party for Safety. Plan ahead on ways you can keep hot food hot and cold food cold. Can you borrow or rent the necessary chafing dishes or warmers, for example?

Arrange to have enough large serving dishes so that you can bring the cold food from the refrigerator or the hot food from the oven frequently and replace dishes on the table.

Check to see if you have enough dishes and utensils for eating. The disposable kind are often better. Hasty washing often means that dishes and utensils are used when they are not properly cleaned.

Figure how much refrigerator space you'll need to store foods. Keep the temperature at 40 F.

Contrary to common belief, refrigerating warm food does not cause it to spoil. However, don't put so much warm food in the refrigerator that it raises the temperature. When your refrigerator is overcrowded, the temperature may rise enough to cause increased bacterial action.

Never put deep containers of hot food in the refrigerator. Put hot food in shallow containers so it will chill quickly.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Robt. Frost presided at the meeting Monday night of the Historical Society, and Mrs. Wenona Isaacs served as secretary.

With Spring coming on, the Museum will soon be open again for regular hours and days.

County Road Is Set For Improvement

San Angelo, Tex.—Reconstruction of part of R. M. 2129 southwest of Eldorado is included in the recently approved 1977 Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Program.

State Department of Highways and Public Transportation District Engineer D. R. Watson of San Angelo identifies the Schleicher County project as beginning at U. S. 277 south of Eldorado and continuing 8.3 miles west on R. M. 2129. The work will include adding some new base material to the foundation course, reshaping, and placing a new 20 foot two course asphalt pavement.

The job will be done by State forces at an estimated cost of $144,000. Work may possibly begin in late 1977.

Statewide, the 1977 program provides for the improvement of some 4,665 miles of highways at an estimated construction cost of slightly more than $40 million.

Similar programs were deferred for about a year in 1975 and 1976 as a result of the financial crisis of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

However, since such programs included rehabilitation of old and obsolete highways, safety measures, and provisions for increased traffic capacity, they could not be long deferred.

Programs such as this are necessary to prevent deterioration of the highway system and a resulting decline in mobility.

Oatmeal Crescents Are Theater Date-Bait

"The play's the thing!" Across the country, everyone echoes the sentiment, whether it's the big-time Broadway stage, neighborhood little theater or even high school productions. People love joining friends for an evening at the theater—and discussing the play later at someone's home.

An interesting idea for after-theater serving is Date-Bait Oatmeal Crescents, which can be prepared earlier in the day and then presented with cinnamon-spiced tea, an inexpensive beverage which will keep nobody awake at bedtime.

The Oatmeal Crescents are an easy-to-make yeast bread which boasts a new twist. The filling of dates and nuts is a delightful, crunchy contrast to the light and airy bread. The bread, of course, is a sweet bread, and the surprise addition of 3-Minute Brand Oats offers a nutty-type flavor. Drizzled over each Crescent is a sweet glaze, making the sweet bread absolutely irresistible.

From tragedies to dramas to comedies to musicals, the "play's the thing," and each playgoer adds his opinions as he partakes of the newest after-theater refreshments. Each woman begs the recipe for her next Sunday brunch. The Oatmeal Crescents are definitely theater date-bait, and everyone loves them.

Date-Bait Oatmeal Crescents
1 cup 3-Minute Brand Quick Oats	Filling
1 cup boiling water	3/4 cup finely chopped dates
1/2 cup shortening	3/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/3 cup sugar	1/2 cup chopped nuts
1-1/2 teaspoon salt	6 tablespoons butter, melted
1 package active dry yeast	Glaze
1/4 cup warm water (110 degrees)	1-1/2 cups powdered sugar
1 egg	2-1/2 tablespoons milk or cream
3-1/2 to 4 cups flour	1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine oats, boiling water, shortening, sugar and salt. Mix well and cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in water. Stir into cooled oat mixture along with the egg and half of flour. Add enough remaining flour to form a soft dough.

Knead until smooth and satiny. Place in a greased bowl, turning once to grease surface. Cover and let rise until double in size.

Combine filling ingredients. Divide dough into 3 parts. Roll each into a 12-inch circle and cut into 8 pie shaped wedges. Place a teaspoon of filling on wide end of each wedge. Rolling from that end, roll each wedge to point. Place point side down on greased baking sheet and curve to make crescent. Let rise 45 minutes. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes. Combine glaze ingredients and drizzle over each roll.

ON THE WAY UP

Four years out of college . . . assistant to a department head . . . the junior executive considered most likely to succeed.

Fifteen years from now—or twenty—do you think he'll be president of the company? We haven't the slightest idea. All we know is that, right now, he's on the way up.

Many things determine a man's potential for positions of responsibility and trust; one of them is character.

Character isn't easy to define—it is much easier to recognize.

This man goes to church every Sunday . . . not because he is seeking character . . . but because he is seeking God.

And the people who know him best figure that is one of the clearest marks of his character.
