

How's Your Head For Marketing?

Do you use your head when you head for the market? Why not take this quick quiz and find out?

- Which would you consider a better value?
 - a 16-ounce container of frozen orange juice for 63¢
 - an 8-ounce container at 4 for $1.00
 - a 32-ounce quart container for $1.19

- Which do you think cleans your clothes more effectively?
 - a nationally known laundry detergent in a 49-ounce size
 - a store brand detergent in the same size
- Which would you buy for the nutritional value of whole milk?
 - chocolate flavored milk
 - chocolate flavored milk drink

Answers

1. (b) The eight-ounce container costs $1.19 an ounce. The quart container costs $1.00 an ounce, and the 16-ounce container, 63¢ an ounce. (a) Chocolate-flavored milk is made from whole milk, chocolate-flavored milk, partially skimmed milk, and a small amount of sugar. (b) Store brands, such as those manufactured by Wico Chemical's Ultra Division, using the spray-dried method, have the same basic ingredients as better known brands and are backed by equally fine research. As a rule, they cost significantly less.

2. (a) Chocolate-flavored milk is made from whole milk, chocolate-flavored milk, partially skimmed milk, and a small amount of sugar.

HOMEMADE BREAD MADE EASY

Everybody loves homemade bread...the rich, nutritious taste, the lovely aroma...the wonderful feeling of having baked it yourself "from scratch."

Until recently, bread baking, and home baking in general, seemed to be a lost art. Why go through the tedious process of kneading and kneading, when plucking a package loaf from a supermarket shelf is so easy. Today, baking homemade bread need not be

QUICK BROWN BREAD

- 3 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 1/2 cups milk

Preheat oven to 425°F.

In large mixer bowl, combine dry ingredients. Combine vinegar and milk; let stand 5 minutes. Add to flour mixture. Blend at Speed 2 until moistened. Increase to Speed 5 and beat for 3 minutes. Grease and flour a 9" round pan (oven proof) or cookie sheet. Spoon dough onto baking container. Flour hands and shape into flat 7" circle. With a sharp knife dipped in flour, cut a deep cross from side to side in the top of dough.

Bake for 40-45 minutes, or until bread sounds hollow when tapped. Cool before slicing.

CAREFREE WHITE BREAD

(especially suited for the busy homemaker)

- 5-6 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 pkgs. active dry yeast

- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups hot tap water (120° - 130°F.)

In large mixer bowl, combine 5 cups flour, yeast, sugar, salt, and butter. Add water all at once. Mix at Speed 4 until ingredients are moistened and butter or margarine is melted. If necessary, gradually add remaining flour. Adjust bowl pan to small bowl position. Increase to Speed 6 and knead for 5 minutes.

Cover bowl; let dough rest for 20 minutes. With floured hands, divide dough in half. Shape into loaves and place in 2 greased 9" x 5" x 3" loaf pans.

Cover with a dish towel, or if desired, place loaves in plastic bags and secure with twist tie, allowing room for expansion. Allow to rise in refrigerator for as little as 2 hours or as many as 24 hours. Bake whenever it is convenient within this time period.

To Bake: Preheat oven to 400°F. Remove bread from refrigerator; let stand at room temperature for 10 minutes. Bake at 400°F. for 35-40 minutes or until done. Yield: 2 loaves.

Note: Ingredients in this recipe have been especially adapted for the cool rise method. Only follow this technique for this recipe.

The Country Parson

Question: What does the Bible say about degrees or measures of punishment in Hell and rewards in Heaven?
Answer: Notice what the Bible says, Matthew 23:14, "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites because you devour widows houses, even while for a pretense you make long prayers; therefore you shall receive greater condemnation."
Jesus said that these religious leaders were going to receive "greater condemnation"! Why? The "therefore" points back to the reason. They were religious hypocrites. They had greater knowledge of God and His will and greater opportunity for service; but instead, they took by fraud what belonged to others (widows). And while in the process of cheating others out of their property they put on a good show of piety and holiness! Their long prayers were a front behind which they hid and sinned.
Jesus, while teaching about His second coming, said, "And that slave who knew his master's will and did not get ready or act in accordance with His will, shall receive many lashes, but the one who did not know it, and committed deeds worthy of flogging, will receive but few." Luke 12:47-48. Once again we see that punishment will be in accordance to the individual's knowledge and opportunities for obedience and service.
In Matthew 11:22 and 24, Jesus said that it would be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for the cities of Chorazin and Bethsaida: and that it would be more tolerable for Sodom than for Capernaum. Why? Because the cities of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum had an opportunity to see, know, hear, and obey the Son of God, but did not do so! Their opportunities to know, obey, and serve were greater and their punishment would be in proportion to their opportunities.
While the Bible teaches degrees of punishment in Hell, it doesn't teach degrees of reward in Heaven. All the laborers will receive the same reward, Matthew 20:1-16. Not only does the Bible imply that there will be measures of punishment, but justice seems to require such. I do not know how the punishments will vary in severity because the Bible doesn't say.
Fact that there will be "lesser" and "greater" punishments does not make Hell desirable or more tolerable! Hell will still be Hell! Even if one receives the lightest degree of punishment, it will still be Hell, and it will still be forever!
Next week we will notice "What Is Hell Like?"

NEW YORK, N.Y. It also makes them feel healthier and more youthful." It is now available to the American public.

Indications are that the new E-Pill gives quick and effective results to as high as 4 out of 5 people (80%) who have used it. Some people report no great change but feel the high potency of vitamin E in the pill does quickly make them feel better from a general health standpoint.

Other reports also show it tends to "lessen daily tension and give a more relaxed, happier outlook on life."

Bible Facts

To people who get the feeling that life is passing them by, the Bible suggests that the answer may not just be for more to happen, but for the individual to enjoy more what's happening.

Much satisfaction in Jesus' life came from His work. He says (John 4:34 NEB) "It is meat and drink for Me to do the will of Him who sent Me until I have finished His work." START WITH APRICOTS

TIPS TO HELP YOU

SPARKLING HOLIDAY APRICOT PUNCH

A natural holiday crowd pleaser that's also a nutritious knockout is a bright, holiday-red punch that's made with pure apricot nectar. The nectar gives it a tangy taste while the low-sugar fruit juicy-red Hawaiian Punch adds a tropical fruit flavor and color. For quick energy, delicious taste and nutrition during the holidays, try apricot nectar chilled by itself or added to your favorite desserts and drinks. This easy-to-prepare, easy-to-serve recipe makes about 48 servings of 4-ounce each.

"Cot-Cocktion" of the Day

- 1 can (46 ounces) chilled apricot nectar
- 1 can (46 ounces) chilled fruit juicy-red Hawaiian Punch
- 2 cups rum
- 1 quart raspberry sherbet
- 2 bottles (28 ounces each) chilled club soda

Combine apricot nectar, Hawaiian Punch, rum and sherbet in a large punch bowl. Just before serving, pour in soda; stir to mix. For a festive touch pour punch over apricot halves in punch cups or glasses.

The Centennial Revisited

(Editorial Comment reprinted from The Dallas Morning News.)
In 1936, the fair State of Texas will be 150 years old, and the State Fair of Texas expects to do something about it. Those of an age to recall the 1936 Texas Centennial observance held at the fair will look with special pleasure on the prospect of a rerun 10 years from now.

On any showing, the Texas Centennial was the best thing to happen to Dallas since the coming of the railroad in 1872. It gave the city both a financial and a moral lift in the midst of the Great Depression and kicked off an era of spectacular civic growth.

Mayor Robert L. Isom now declares that any sesquicentennial celebration ought to be as big as the Centennial. At least as big, would most Dallasites not agree? The state government will of course have something to say about what kind of celebration marks the state's 150th birthday. But given the precedent of 1936, the State Fair should have little trouble receiving an official blessing.

Now, at any rate, is the time to start looking ahead. Ten years in Texas goes by before you know it.

FIBER REPLACES CALORIES IN NEW BREAD

"Every time I'd go on a diet, the first thing I'd cut out was bread," stated a 35-year-old, slightly overweight homemaker in Illinois. Her comment has been echoed millions of times across the United States by would-be dieters who have come to assume that bread and other products containing flour were making it difficult for them to lose weight.

Recent research has shown this concept is false. In fact, studies over the past two years at Michigan State University indicate that incorporating more bread in the diet can be an excellent way of maintaining or losing weight.

Moreover, according to nutrition professor Dr. Olaf Mickelsen, the Michigan State studies have demonstrated that a new product on the market—high fiber bread—provides an even more effective way of losing weight when six or more slices are consumed each day along with a moderate calorie intake from other food sources.

What is High Fiber Bread? According to IIT Continental Company, which has just introduced a high fiber bread called Fresh Horizons throughout the country, the product resembles traditional bread in every respect, including taste, texture and nutrition. However, some of the flour and shortening have been displaced with plant fiber. The result is a product with 30% fewer calories per slice.

Recently introduced reduced calorie/high fiber bread—available in both white and wheat varieties—offers the taste, texture and nutrition of regular bread with 30 per cent fewer calories than white and 400 per cent more fiber than whole wheat.

Plant fiber is not digested by the human body. As such, it supplies no calories. At the same time, the fiber, frequently referred to as "bulk" or "roughage" because it moves through the stomach and intestinal tract without being changed, provides a feeling of satiety or "fullness" without contributing calories to the diet.

The makers of Fresh Horizons say that their bread contains 400 per cent more fiber than whole wheat bread—as much fiber per slice as a bowl (one ounce serving) of 100% bran cereal. Whole grains, along with fresh fruits and vegetables, are principal sources of roughage in the American diet.

Since 1910, the amount of fiber in the average American diet has gradually declined from more than six grams per day to less than two grams, according to Corinne H. Robinson in Normal and Therapeutic Nutrition.

19.4 Pounds Lost in Eight Weeks

In the Michigan State study, 16 overweight college men were given 12 slices of bread per day—eight received Fresh Horizons, eight an equal amount of regular white bread. All men ate basically the same meals as other students in the health center cafeteria, but cut down on rich desserts, limited the amount of butter used, and abstained from alcohol.

Over an eight-week period, both groups lost weight. The men eating reduced-calorie, high fiber bread lost an average of 19.4 pounds, while those on regular white bread lost an average of 13.7 pounds.

The official report on the MSU study concludes: "The inclusion of large amounts of low-calorie bread in a weight-reducing diet produced a feeling of satiety before the individual consumed his usual calorie intake. Not only does the bread assist the individual in reducing his food intake, but it does so without leaving him hungry between meals."

Other Benefits Cited

In testing for product safety, other possible benefits of fiber—long overlooked by nutritionists because it is dietetically neutral in the body—were revealed. Fiber foods, for instance, may reduce the amount of fats absorbed in the intestines. Clinical studies also indicate added fiber in the diet may reduce serum cholesterol by binding bile acids, thus preventing their reabsorption into the body.

It has also been noted that in years of observation of certain African tribes with high fiber diets consisting of whole grains and raw plant foods, cancer of the colon and other gastrointestinal diseases prevalent in westernized societies are almost non-existent. Many years of additional research will be required, of course, to determine the validity of these theories.

Moderate Calorie Diet Required

In addition to the possible medical benefits, tests at Michigan State indicated that the more high fiber bread a person eats, coupled with a moderate calorie diet, the more weight he is likely to lose. As the study notes, any weight reducing diet should be undertaken only under the supervision and with the advice of a physician.

APPLESAUCE QUICKIES

Bargain hunters at the supermarket are discovering the variety of processed apple products available now. They include smooth applesauce, chunky applesauce, canned apple slices, apple pie filling, baked apples, apple rings, pickled crabs, apple juice and cider and a host of baby foods. These foods are ready-to-eat and some are available unsweetened as well as sweetened. Here are a few ways to use the most plentiful of all smooth applesauce.

- Boston Casserole — Open two cans kidney beans, a can of smooth applesauce and a can of luncheon meat. Cut the luncheon meat into 1/2 inch cubes and arrange the three ingredients in alternate layers in a beanpot or casserole. Garnish with cocktail sausages if available.
- Meatloaf — Add a cup of applesauce to 2 pounds of meat, equal parts ground pork and beef are best. Season with salt, pepper, onion and your favorite herbs.
- Glaze for ham — 1 cup applesauce, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon hot mustard, 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Heat to blend well, brush over surface of ham.
- Sauce for shrimp or fish appetizers — 2 cups applesauce, 1/3 cup prepared horseradish, 2/3 cup sour cream.
- Dip for cocktail sausages or ham cubes — 1 cup applesauce, 1 cup sour cream, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon grated onion and a dash of Tabasco.
- Spread for crackers — Mix equal amounts of ap-

- Season with prepared horseradish, about 1/2 teaspoon per cup of spread.
- Sauce for blintzes or French toast — Add 1/4 cup strawberry jam to 1 cup of applesauce. Heat in can or jar of applesauce. Mix well. Serve warm or cold.
- Weekend breakfast — broil link sausages, roll into thin pancakes, serve with spoonfuls of hot applesauce.
- Topping for gingerbread — Combine 2 cups applesauce, 1 cup sour cream, 2 tablespoons finely chopped candied ginger and 1/2 cup chopped walnuts.
- Mix well. Serve over warm gingerbread.

- Easy dessert — toast slices of pound cake. Spoon chilled applesauce over the top. Garnish with sour cream and slivers of candied ginger.
- Meat accompaniment — add 1/2 cup chutney to 2 cups of applesauce. Serve with ham, poultry or pork chops.
- Salad garnish — Mix equal amounts of cream cheese and applesauce. Shape into balls and roll in finely chopped peanuts.
- Open-faced sandwich — add 1/4 cup chunky style peanut butter and a 1/4 cup crumbled bacon to 2 cups applesauce. Serve on toasted whole wheat bread.

How To Foil A Pickpocket

One of the best defenses against losing money to pickpockets is awareness—being aware that they might be around, being aware of how they operate, and being aware of how to protect yourself.

An even better defense is to carry your funds in travelers cheques. The pickpocket gets frustration, instead of your money, should he succeed in acquiring your wallet.

Here are five basic tips about beating pickpockets.

1. Remember that wherever you are a pickpocket may be near. In any crowded area such as a store, shopping mall, theater, bus stop line, or train station, a thief may be lurking.

2. Look alert. Foiling a pickpocket can sometimes be a simple matter of looking as though you're protecting yourself. Chances are, he'll find a less guarded victim.

3. Women should take special care. Most pickpocketing victims are women, considered by thieves to be easier targets than men. Two-strap handbags with the sides of the bag raised above the clasp or zipper offer the most protection for belongings. The wallet itself should be deep inside the bag, under the other contents. The thief usually makes a momentary dive into the bag, and won't fish around to locate a well-hidden change purse.

4. Know the rules of the game. Most pickpockets operate according to this procedure. The "Stall" bumps into a victim, distracts him, and allows the "Dip" (known sometimes as the "Hook") to reach into the bag or pocket for the wallet. The "Dip" immediately passes the wallet on to the waiting "Duke," a third person, who slips away. So even if you grab the hand of the "Dip," there's no wallet in his possession. He can even make a scene and threaten to sue you!

5. Foil the pickpocket before his first move. If you're traveling, or are in crowded public places, carry your money in American Express Travelers Cheques. If your cheques should be stolen, American Express will give emergency refunds of up to $100 through Holiday Inn Hotels.

Simply knowing that pickpockets abound is the first step towards foiling them. They thrive on the easy victim—so don't be one!

Homemaking At A Glance

by Nancy Lester

Ladies in the county are reminded that entries for the Women's Division should be turned in on Thursday, January 20, at the show barn. The rules for the show were mailed to individuals in the county and were also published in last week's paper. So if you have a question check the rules or call the county Extension office. If you are in doubt about whether to enter an item or not, go ahead and enter it. Even if you don't win, your friends and neighbors will enjoy seeing the work that you have done.

January is known as the month for "white sales" and this calls for special savings in the bed and bath departments. Towels and sheets are no longer routine household fabrics. A rainbow of colors, dazzling designs, easy care fabrics and endless new uses make household linen selection a real challenge.

It's a good practice to replace a pair of sheets and pillowcases for each bed every year, but two on the bed, two in the wash and two on the shelf in good condition should be sufficient. A minimum of four bath towels, hand towels and washcloths for each family member should also be kept on hand.

Color and design should be considered when shopping for household linen. The natural look in neutrals, dulled blues and greens, browns and dusty colors are increasing in popularity.

Towels with abstract contemporary designs can be made into attractive wall hangings. Besides the "ordinary" use for sheets, they can be draperies, tablecloths, shower curtains (use the old curtain for a liner) or even hostess gowns and capans.

Check carefully when shopping for household linens. Price is not always an indication of quality so be sure to shop different stores because prices do vary.

PRAYER FOR OUR GOVERNMENT. On the occasion of the Inauguration of the 39th President of the United States, Jimmy Carter, Jan. 20, 1977, special permission has been given this newspaper by THE CHRISTOPHERS to reproduce this prayer.

Father, a handful of courageous men in a moment of danger, pledged their lives, fortunes and honor to proclaim a nation whose citizens' rights were based not on the nod of king or ruler, but on creation at your hands.

Grant to our administration a ministry of service to all, not the few; to our Congress the upholding of public interest, not merely a welter of competing private claims; to our judiciary a wisdom in interpreting law, grounded in principle, not expediency.

Send your spirit on our people, that they may become active in the affairs of government, that they may not confuse dissent for disloyalty, that they may use their mighty power for the healing of differences among nations with justice and mercy and love.

Judge This Fudge -- Fantastic!

Everyone's grown up with fudge, so every candy lover (and isn't that everyone?) is an expert. Judge this fudge and you'll say it's fantastic.

Homespun Skillet Fudge is different enough from the ordinary to make it appealing. It calls for ingredients that are not found in the usual fudge varieties. A bit of cinnamon added to the chocolate chips provides a little kick, offering emphasis without proclaiming its presence. And 3-Minute Brand Quick Oats, the surprise ingredient, serves as a replacement for nuts. Only a half cup of chopped nuts is needed in the recipe, thanks to the oats. Yes, these oats have been oven baked to make them as chewy and nut-like as the nuts themselves!

Miniature marshmallows and flaked coconut are two other ingredients that make this fudge so mouth-watering. And, best of all, this recipe yields three and a quarter pounds of home-made fudge, so it can truthfully be called inexpensive to make. Thus, everyone gets lots of fudge to judge — and enjoy.

Homespun Skillet Fudge

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 3 cups sugar | 2 cups (12 ounces) chocolate chips |
| 1 can (13 ounces) evaporated milk | 1 cup 3-Minute Brand Quick Oats |
| 3/4 cup butter | 1/2 cup chopped nuts |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1/2 cup flaked coconut |
| 1 cup miniature marshmallows | |

Combine sugar, evaporated milk, butter, cinnamon and salt in an electric skillet. Bring to a boil over medium heat (250 degrees F.) Boil for seven minutes, stirring constantly. Turn heat off. Blend in remaining ingredients, stirring very well. Pour into buttered 13 x 9-inch pan. Chill and cut into squares. Makes 3-1/4 pounds.

SAINTHOOD?

So, you sang in the choir when you were a kid. And sometimes you snatched cigarettes back of the church while the grownups were having their social hour inside. Sometimes you pretended to have a sore throat, so you could be "excused." You looked like an angel, but were you one?

No way!

But no one held it against you. The door to the Church stood wide open then, and it still does. Why not take a walk inside some Sunday? See what it's like today! The years in between won't seem to matter.
