Mayor Doesn't Choose To Run For ReElection

After serving two terms, Raymon Mobley told The Success this week that he does not intend to run for re-election in the City Election set April 2. The mayor's decision came as a surprise to the voters of Eldorado, as he is considered doing a good job as the head of city government.

In making this announcement he said that he is making it early, so that the coast will be clear for one or two new candidates to run. The City Election notice is printed on page 3 of this Success issue.

Austin, Tex.—Texas family market basket prices for January increased an overall average of 95 cents—to $19.27—according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

The Agriculture Department's monthly survey covers 20 commodities and 15 major cities.

Coffee, pork, and lettuce price increases tipped the average upward. Coffee prices jumped 59 cents to $2.92 a pound, pork nine cents to $1.25 per pound for chops and bacon 12 cents to $1.22 and lettuce from 44 to 52 cents a head.

White said indications are pork prices will come down by mid-February.

San Antonio still held first place with lowest prices of any city checked—for a total of $18.37. But the increase in that city was $1.43 over December higher than the average.

Corpus Christi was rated highest with $20.01. McAllen $19.77, Fort Worth $19.58, Lubbock $19.50, Dallas and Houston $19.48, Tyler $19.24, Abilene $19.22, El Paso $18.18, Austin $18.80 and Laredo $18.52.

The survey covered milk, eggs, cheese, margarine, bread, chicken, ground beef, round steak, pork chops, tuna, bacon, apples, corn flakes, lettuce, tomatoes, pinto beans, coffee, detergent and orange juice.

White advised consumers to "do a lot of shopping around" since the market responds to buyer resistance.

Short Snorts . . .

Sixty eight per cent of school superintendents in a survey indicated they favor increasing the general sales tax by one cent and earmarking revenues for public schools.

Two legislators have introduced resolutions to recall Texas ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests in Texas dropped slightly—to 1,539—last month.

Last year's construction in Texas increased 30% over 1975.

At least 542,020 Texans must be provided jobs by 1980 if the state's unemployment rate is reduced to 4%, according to Texas Industrial Commission.

Only 17% of Texas' industrial locations in 1976 were in rural areas.

Mrs. Adah Bowder of San Angelo visited here Friday.

Post Script

James Williams remarked last week that he had had 1.15 inches of rain in January, and the underground moisture is in good shape for spring planting—if we'd ever have spring.

But for last week, the ground was too wet to plow, and the vegetation on the ground was dormant and farmers were seen hauling bales of hay to supplement their livestock feed.

James said that if we had a week of hot weather there would be an abundance of sheep feed.

Monday it rained and the ground and weather were still cold. With blizzards in the Northeast and drought in California, it appears that Schleicher county is not such a bad place.

SUMMER CORN MACARONI A TASTY TREAT

A new canned macaroni product with tiny meatballs makes a great base for all kinds of macaroni dishes. Here's a summer special that suits the whole family, especially the kids, who love cornbread, corn and macaroni. We've baked it in individual dishes which can be eaten "as is" for those in a hurry; or, it can be turned out on a plate and the macaroni corn mix becomes a topping for the cornbread.

CORNED RONI

- 1 cup yellow cornmeal
- 1 cup sifted all purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup soft shortening
- 1 can (6 oz.) corn niblets
- 1 can (15 oz.) Chef Boy-ar-dee® Meatball-a-roni
- 1/4 pound sliced American cheese

Combine cornmeal, flour, sugar, baking powder and salt in medium sized bowl; stir until well mixed. Beat egg in small bowl. Add milk and shortening. Add egg mixture to flour mixture. Beat for one minute. Grease two 4 oz. or 6 oz. glass baking dishes. Drain corn niblets and combine with Meatball-a-roni. Place about one-half cup of Meatball-a-roni mixture in greased baking dish. Cover top with an inch of cornmeal mixture and cheese slices. Bake in preheated 425°F. oven for 20 minutes. Eat from dish or turn out on serving plate. Serves 2 or 4.

Proper Energy Management Can Save You Money!

HELPFUL TIPS FOR YOUR DISHWASHER

- A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.

Homemaking At A Glance

by Nancy Lester

The Schleicher County Home Demonstration Council met Thursday, Feb. 3, in the Reynolds community at the Country Store. Mrs. Patsy Kellogg, council chairman, presided over the meeting. The council members talked about the possibility of having a baked goods division for adults along with the Women's Division at the stock show. Voting delegates for the District T.H.D.A. meeting were elected. They are Patsy Kellogg, Connie Spence, and Geneva Wade.

Alternates are Nell Williams, Flora Riley and Gertrude Williams. This meeting will be held in Coleman on March 15.

On Tuesday, Feb. 8, Geneva Wade, Patsy Kellogg and I attended the District T.H.D.A. Planning Meeting in Sweetwater. Geneva helped conduct part of the program for the meeting.

One problem we all seem to have at one time or another is mildew. Here is some information on how to prevent it and how to do away with it.

Mildew is a whitish-to-purplish or gray growth produced by various kinds of molds. Molds that cause mildew are always present in the air. It grows on any surface that is warm, damp, poorly ventilated and lighted. It causes a musty odor and often leaves a stain. It causes fabrics and some surfaces to rot or decay.

Remove mildew spots as soon as they are discovered. Don't give mold growth a chance to weaken or rot the material. Brush off any surface growth outdoors to prevent scattering the mildew spores in the house.

Sun and air clothing and household fabrics thoroughly. Dry clean fabrics that cannot be washed or sponged with water. Wash things which are washable in detergent and water at once. Rinse well and dry as quickly as possible. If any stain remains, bleach with lemon juice, salt, and sunshine or use sodium perborate bleach or a diluted solution of chlorine bleach. Do not use chlorine bleaches on wool, silk, or fabrics treated with special finishes.

If upholstered articles, mattresses and rugs are wet, dry as quickly as possible by using an electric heater or fan to speed drying. Take up wall to wall carpeting in order for it to dry thoroughly. Remove loose mold from teh articles by brushing with a stiff brush. It is preferable to do this outside to prevent scattering mildew spores in the house.

Vacuum to draw out all the mold possible. Thoroughly clean the vacuum cleaner and its attachments immediately. Discard the disposable bag from the vacuum cleaner.

Sun and air the article to stop the mold growth. If the mildew or stain remains on carpeting, shampoo and again dry thoroughly.

Clean upholstery or mattress fabric with a damp cloth or sponge using 1 cup of rubbing alcohol in 1 cup water and dry thoroughly. Then using a low-pressure spray containing a fungicide, kill any remaining mildew spores.

If molds have grown into the inner part of an article, send it to a reliable disinfecting and fumigating service.

To remove mildew from leather goods, wipe with a cloth that has been wrung out with 1 cup denatured or rubbing alcohol, diluted with 1 cup water. Dry in a current of air.

Dry mildewed wood with heat and ventilation. Wood that is badly infected may need to be replaced with treated or naturally decay-resistant wood.

Scrub wooden surfaces with a mild alkali, such as washing soda or a disinfectant. Rinse well with clear water and allow the wood to dry thoroughly. Then apply a mildew-resistant paint.

Prune Roses For Top Quality Blooms

February is rose pruning time in Texas. Heavy pruning makes hybrid tea roses more manageable and also makes for large, top quality blooms.

In most areas of Texas, roses will become too large and difficult to care for unless they are severely pruned each year. The Panhandle area is probably the only exception to this, and even there annual pruning keeps the plants shaped and healthy.

A good set of hand shears, a sharp pruning saw, a pair of long-handled loppers, pruning paint and a pair of heavy leather gloves are essential tools when pruning old, well-established rose bushes. To begin with, the gloves will protect the hands from the sharp woody thorns. The saw is the only way to remove heavy basal canes over two years old while the loppers should be used on large canes of the past season. The shears are for smaller branches. Cover all cuts and ends of canes with the pruning paint to prevent entry of diseases, and insects.

As far as the actual pruning process is concerned, cut back the top growth to 12 to 15 inches above the ground. Retain four to six of the healthy canes arising from the graft or bud union or those within 4 to 6 inches above the union.

Also remove all dead, diseased and injured twigs and branches as well as all of the thin spindly growth frequently found at the base of an old established plant.

Since most climbing roses produce a great abundance of flowers in early spring. These should receive their major pruning after the spring flush of blooms. On healthy, vigorous climbers, any cane over two years old should be removed or cut back severely. Thin last season's growth at least one-half and cut back to within several feet of the base to encourage new growth.

Roses will usually start growing within two to three weeks after pruning. Be ready to start your preventive disease control program against Black Spot at this time and make an application every two weeks until frost.

Remember, three or four properly cared for rose bushes will provide all the cut flowers needed in the average home. Determine the size of your rose bed by the time you can devote to their care and not by the space available.

Home Garden Potential Great In 1977—Home vegetable gardens could pay off handsomely in 1977 due to current vegetable market conditions. Both fresh and processed fruits and vegetables will be in short supply this spring due to weather calamities in Florida and California and less than ideal conditions in South Texas. Thus prices will be up. Early planning, including ordering seed and getting the soil in shape, is important for a productive garden.

A&M Beef Short Course—The 27th annual Beef Cattle Short Course at Texas A&M University, April 4-5, will be highlighted by discussions on breeding soundness in bulls, libido and mating behavior in bulls, and new potentials in cattle marketing. Other talks will deal with parasite and insect control, brucellosis control, price outlook, Rumensin as a new feed additive, and the nutritional value of large hay packages, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mobile Crane Inspection Workshop—A Mobile Crane Inspection Workshop is planned for April 4-6 at the Texas State Technical Institute in Waco, announces Dr. Gary Nelson, agricultural safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The workshop is designed to provide professional training for individuals responsible for the development and implementation of mobile crane inspection programs. Training will deal with machine functions, power transmission, carriers and mountings, booms and attachments, hydraulic cranes, wire rope and rigging, and standards covering safe operations.

Accurate Records Will Help Taxpayers File Their Returns

Taxpayers who keep good records during the entire year will be better prepared to file a complete and accurate tax return, the Internal Revenue Service said.

By keeping good financial records, the taxpayer can not only substantiate expenses, income and itemized deductions listed on his or her return but also be aware of certain deductions that might otherwise be overlooked.

Taxpayers are not required to keep any particular type of records, but they must retain all receipts, cancelled checks, bills, and other written documents to provide their expense.

These records must be kept for at least three years from the date that the return was due or filed, or two years from the date that the tax was paid, whichever occurs later.

Some records should be kept even longer, the IRS advised, such as property records which should be retained as long as they are useful in determining the basis of the original or replacement property. In addition, copies of past tax returns can help the taxpayer prepare future returns.

Goat Inventory Is Up Over The State Of Texas

While Texas sheep producers begin the new year showing the lowest animal inventory in almost 60 years, goat ranchers at the start of 1977 record their first year to year increase since 1973, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

All sheep and lambs in Texas on Jan. 1, 1977, are estimated at 2,520,000 head, a decline of 3% from the previous year and the sixth consecutive year of decline in total numbers.

"Producers place blame for the decrease on the continuing predator problem which decimates kid crops throughout the producing region," White explained.

"Goat producers must also fight predators among their kid crops," he continued. "But the good prices now being received for mohair have made it profitable to keep older goats as long as possible to help account for part of the 16% increase in total inventory."

Increased value of mohair has also provided additional incentive to protect against predators and improve kid crops.

Total inventory of all goats and kids in the state is estimated at 1,300,000, all but 200,000 of which are of the Angora variety.

Value of all goats and kids is placed at $32.5 million, with an average value of $25 per head compared to $19 a year earlier.

The inventory value of all Texas sheep and lambs on Jan. 1, 1977, is $93,240,000, up 14% from the previous year. The average value per head is $37 compared with $31.50 on Jan. 1, 1976.

Consumer Food News

College Station, Tex.—Cold-weather cuts in produce from Florida are affecting vegetable supplies and prices in Texas, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, reports.

In vegetable buying, consumers should compare prices on fresh and processed items—as increased prices on fresh produce have stimulated sales of some processed vegetables and fruits, she advised.

"Consider features of 3—for and 4—for if it is food you buy and use regularly—and if you can store it adequately. Canned sweet corn and green peas are frequent features," she said.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In fresh-vegetable buying—turnips, rutabagas, onions, hard shell squash, and white and sweet potatoes are among the most economically priced items, she said.

"In fruit buying, Texas grapefruit and oranges—and Mexican tangerines—remain moderately priced, but heavy demand also may raise citrus prices.

"Orange juice may be among items with higher prices, so for consumers with low stocks of that item, this would be a good time to take advantage of advertised specials," Mrs. Clyatt said.

Currently, apples and pears are also worth considering for price and quality—and pineapples, bananas and avocados have reasonable prices, she added.

At meat counters, fryer chickens are featured as slightly higher prices, and turkeys are in adequate supply. Economical beef choices include chuck roasts, round, rib and sirloin steaks, ground beef and liver.

Pork supplies are seasonally large, with economical choices in Boston butt roasts, quarter-loin cut into chops, smoked picnic, bacon and frankfurters.

Consumer Watchwords: Milk and dairy production levels are above usual—with heavy supplies of butter, cheese and non-fat dry milk.

Tea was introduced to America by the Dutch.

The Purple Heart medal was originated by George Washington in 1782. Only three or four were awarded during the American Revolution.

OUR CULINARY HERITAGE
Little Known Facts About Our Foods

BICENTENNIAL FESTIVAL—American food, decor and traditional costume is being celebrated around the world.

SOUTHERN STYLE

Some people in other countries aren't aware how great native American cooking and native American foods can be.

Giving them a taste of the truth is part of a Bicentennial observance by Hilton International hotels.

In 40 countries, these 64 hotels are celebrating the Bicentennial Festival of American Culinary Heritage by serving traditional dishes from New England, New York in the 1890s, the Pennsylvania Dutch country, Virginia, New Orleans, the Great West and California.

They have decorated their dining facilities to show the style of the age and area, and dressed their waiters and waitresses in costumes of the times.

Among the many American dishes being served is a sample of Southern hospitality: Virginia Peanut Soup, made from this traditional recipe:

VIRGINIA PEANUT SOUP

- 1/2 cup butter, unsalted, cut into bits
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 quarts chicken stock
- 2 cups peanut butter
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon celery salt
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice, strained
- 1/2 cup peanuts, ground

In a casserole, melt the butter, add the onion and celery. Cook till vegetables are tender. Stir in flour and when fully incorporated, pour in the chicken stock. Stir with a whisk and bring to rapid boil. Let simmer 30 minutes. Puree the soup in an electric blender. Scrape the peanut butter into a casserole and whisk in the stock little by little until all the liquid has been added. Season with salt, celery salt and lemon juice. Heat to boiling point (but do not allow to boil). Pour soup into tureen and serve with ground peanuts on the side to be sprinkled on by each diner. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Small Wonder

Jimmy is looking at a miracle. The more science learns about us, the more marvelous we are discovered to be. The complex structure of our eyes . . . the infinitely delicate balance of our hearing . . . the unequalled functioning of our brain . . . hundreds of smaller miracles that combine into one great miracle — a human being!

No man on earth can create another. We are God's handiwork, and we are most wonderfully made.

But there is a lot more to Jimmy than can be seen in a mirror or under a microscope. There is that determining factor . . . character. He needs church guidance to help him build the kind of character that will sustain him throughout his life.

The Christian religion has one main purpose . . . to mold men in Christ's likeness . . . the perfect image of God.
