Suit Seeks To Set Out Injury Award

Asking the award of the State Industrial Accident board be set aside, Roy Holcomb has filed suit in district court against the Texas Employers' Insurance Association in an effort to obtain compensation.

He asks 401 weeks at $12.46 a week, allowing the defendants the customary six per cent discount for lump sum payment.

New features of the FORD TRUCK

THROUGHOUT the chassis of the Ford truck you will see evidence of the heavy strength which secures reliability and long life under every condition.

An important example is the new rear axle. It has a spiral bevel gear of special Ford truck design, with straddle-mounted pinion. The housing is exceptionally sturdy. The axle shafts are heavier than formerly, and because of the three-quarter floating type of construction, they serve only to turn the wheels, without carrying any of the weight of truck or load.

Come in and examine the features of the Ford truck which add so greatly to its value.

BUFFS TAKE TWO FROM CATS

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

A double victory scored by the Houston Buffs over the Fort Worth Cats and the effect thereof on several hundred feline fans, who seemed to think Umpire Ballanfant responsible and tried to take him apart, lent a touch of paprika to yesterday's Texas league warfare.

If nothing else, the incident proved that there still are several hundred patrons who take their baseball seriously. It was the first time anything remotely resembling a scene had occurred this season. It might be viewed as a good sign.

The Buffs took the opener, 4 to 0, such a decisive margin that the Fort Worth bugs scarcely could blame it on the umpire, but the score of the nightcap was 0 to 5, the Duffe pushing across the winner in the last frame, and several of Ballanfant's decisions did not receive popular favor. An indignation committee went after the arbiter immediately after the last out, but by clever foot work he reached the haven of his dressing room without having more than his dignity ruffled.

Ralph Judd, recently of the Giants and Cardinals, allowed 11 hits in the first tilt, but kept them well scattered, while his mates jumped on Hardaway hard in the first four frames. George Payne was credited with the second victory after relieving Rose in the sixth.

A brace of homers and a single by Chick Shiver featured some concerted batting that gave the Beau-

Edgar Witt Gaid Of Bledsoe Withdrawal

WACO, June 12.—The announcement that former Senator W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock has withdrawn from the race for Lieutenant Governor was pleasing to the supporters of Senator Edgar Witt of Waco. The Lubbock man was looked upon as a formidable candidate, due to his long service in the legislature and his wide acquaintance in west Texas.

When informed of Bledsoe's withdrawal, Sen. Witt stated that he now felt certain of winning the nomination in the first primary. An earlier development favorable to Witt's candidacy was the announcement that Hon. Tom W. Perkins, of McKinney, formerly a state senator, would not make the race for Lieutenant Governor.

Senator Witt has served longer than any other member of the present senate, with one exception. He was elected in 1918 while still away in the army, and has served continuously since. He has been very active in prison reform, judicial reform, State University and educational legislation.

Walker Smith of Beaumont was asked to lead the discussion on Evangelism and Dr. O. T. Cooper of Dallas the discussion of how financial claims might be secured in full.

Lawson for his contest against Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, who is to receive $36.10 for her expenses and $20,000 to the widow of the

The bill carries $10,000 for protecting the government's interests in naval petroleum reserves; $32,072 for the George Washington bicentennial celebration commission; $1,000,000 for the Porto Rican hurricane relief commission, and $2,200,000 for the veterans bureau in addition to reappropriating unexpended balances for military and naval compensation.

In the allotments for the agricultural department, $1,000,000 was set aside for the extension service to encourage use of the Federal Farm Board's facilities; and $100,000 for cotton ginning investigations.

The navy department was allowed $6,500 for congressional medals for officers and men of the Byrd Antarctic expedition; $1,175,000 for the Marine corps in connection with activities in Nicaragua and $5,532 for expenses of the Marine band to the Grand Army of the Republic encampment at Cincinnati, Ohio.

TRI-MOTORED PLANE HAS OPEN COCKPIT

SEATTLE (INS)—Lots of large transport planes have long debated whether a closed or open cockpit is the more desirable. The Boeing Airplane Company will shortly fly what is said to be the first tri-motored passenger transport with an open cockpit. Having built a fleet of closed cockpit planes for the San Francisco-Chicago passenger route, the latest Boeing transport will have a pilot's cockpit raised to a height permitting vision back over the wings, with the pilots exposed. Thus the mooted question may be solved.

Bolter Votes For U. S. Senator May Be Challenged

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—Although the Texas state Democratic executive committee has invited all those members of the party who bolted the presidential nominees in 1928 to return to the fold as voters and participate in the 1930 primaries, under the law they may be successfully challenged when they attempt to express a preference for United States senator.

Here is an excerpt from the Texas election laws: "No person shall vote for any candidate for the nomination for United States senator who does not belong to the same political party with which the voter affiliates and when any voter attempts to vote for any person as a candidate for the nomination for United States senator, and is challenged he shall, before being permitted to vote, make an affidavit that he is a bona fide member of said party and if he voted in the preceding general election held for the election of state officials, he voted for the nominees of the party whose ticket he desires to vote."

The state executive committee cannot suspend a law passed by the legislature, it was pointed out, hence, although inviting 1928 bolters to participate in the 1930 primaries, it would be powerless to guarantee the right to these to vote for a candidate for United States senator.

The law was called to the attention of Gov. Moody recently and he expressed surprise at its presence on the books. However, he said it was very plain that the votes of bolters could be successfully challenged when they came to express a preference for the United States senate.

HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE BOUT TONIGHT
Laundry Hits Simms In Third, Defeat Cosden 7 to 3

And wasn't yesterday an ideal day for the grippers? Strawberries and whipped cream for the mooners and the groaners. To cap the climax Cotton Clover, the arbiter, hooked us in the trousers just as we were wending our way homeward and informed us in no uncertain terms he was through, quitting, resigning and chucking the job as umpire.

"I," declared the heavyweight between puffs, "wouldn't stand out there and argue with those bosos for any amount of money."
Evelyn seemed to be the chief broadcaster of the day. He didn't like Simms' delivery, keeping his foot out in left field or something, and started walking and talking about the first of the first and continued until the last of the last. If there is anyone present that thinks he can nose around this hamlet and find a better umpire than Clover for Three Bucklets an afternoon we'll sign him up. Now all we have to do is go down to the Continental Supply and sit on a piece of 12 inch casing and talk Clover into coming back. What a life.

Brown aided Simms in his bad inning Wednesday. Brown helped him out—way out. We might have stretched a point in allowing Brown a circuit clout on his lefty hit to left field. Despite the fact Spike Henninger arranged to get the hay crog gathered in the outer garden. It is still hard to see, especially as dark as it was yesterday. Just as the ball landed in the left sunken garden an excited fan jumped in front of our frontal vision. Whether Gilliam was in error couldn't be seen. When in doubt, the golden books says favor the batsman. Brown got a favor from us.

Simms had a tough day. He struck out eleven men, and two of them got on base on Morton's errors. Although he was nicked for 10 hits, he spread the blanket in six of the seven innings he was on the mound. In the third the four hits he allowed, combined with two errors, spelled his Waterloo.

Crouch, on the other hand, having no noticeable ailments, received about the roughest support imaginable. Eight errors were made behind him. Some were hard chances it is true, but not a one but what could have been fielded. Kendrick at short and Taylor at second contributed heavily to the error column.

Brewer, who rapped out more singles than any man in the loop at the first of the season, has gone into a huddle of slumps. He has become suddenly ill with fever lately. As one of the curbstone coaches declared, "he hit until the pitchers warmed up." Bruce Nesbitt, leading the loop with the big stick, lowered his yesterday via the Simms route. He got one bingle in four trips, and besides went out after the game to find a foul ball had won in a bout with his windshield.

We aren't responsible for windshields left parked in automobiles.

It is rumored a team from San Angelo may drop over in July for a bout with a picked team of the city league. What a picked team from the City League needs is competition.

The center of controversy yesterday was the manner in which Simms kept his foot behind the slab. We don't know whether Clover warned him after Evelina's protest or not. We've always understood an umpire can work better in the park than in the grandstand. And we understood further that Simms said he knew he was wrong all the time. It is a funny thing. We've never seen a questionable play but what the player in the field always declared he was wrong. It's baseball nature to reflect on the knowledge and integrity of the arbiter. Sometimes we can't blame Sammy Sain, the initial ball and strike yellow, for wanting five strikes a day for yelling.

Although his vision is normal, Miles Robisud, 8-year-old Verdigre, Neb. boy, writes backward.

W. J. Brown, Nowata, Okla., pipeline walker, has covered 73,000 miles in the last 18 years, walking 18 miles every week day during that time.

A clock at Portland, Ore., has been in the service of a railroad company for 61 years.

CROUCH HAS NICE DAY ON HILL

Errors Contribute To Simms Downfall In One Frame

Getting next to Simms in the third inning, the Laundry gathered seven runs to beat Cosden Refinery 7 to 3, Wednesday afternoon at Dusty Diamond.

The Laundry won their fray in that inning. Before and after that it was a string of zeros handed out by the Cosden moundman.

Although the Laundry, pleased 10 hits off Simms' crop of offerings, he kept them scattered well except in that third frame.

Kendrick opened the fray with a single. After Aiken had laid an easy sacrifice bunt down and arrived at first when an attempt was made to catch Kendrick at third, Kendrick tallied when Nesbitt went out at first, after Taylor had placed. Aiken and Taylor tallied on Brown's circuit clout to left. Brewer, although he whiffed, was safe at first on Morton's error, and Fierro went to first on Purvis' error. With two on Crouch singled tallying Brewer and Fierro, and Kendrick got his second single of the inning to score Crouch.

After that it was few hits and no runs as far as the Laundry was concerned.

Crouch held the Cosden batsmen to three clean hits, but several of his offerings were smashed to infielders who muffed. Kendrick and Taylor, at shortstop and second, had had times with the fast grounders that sailed their respective ways.

Cosden tallied in the third inning when Taylor made three errors and Kendrick one, Purvis scoring. Potter tallied for Cosden in the fourth on two errors by Kendrick. In the seventh inning Martin singled to tally when Harris went out at first.

Brown made a one handed snag of Baker's high one to left field to end the fray.

Cosden was tied with Ricocho this morning for third place, following their sudden descension from the top rung. The Laundry was second, closing on the heels of the Barbers, holdings of first place honors, if any.

EIGHT TENNIS LIGHTS START

Dallas, June 12. (AP)—Eight of the section's leading tennis lights, survivors of a field of 72 that started match play at the Dallas Tennis club Monday, squared off today in the quarter-finals of the Dallas district tournament.

Bruce Barnes, Austin, southwest conference champion for two years and topheavy favorite, was paired against John Barr, slashing Dallas star, in a match that promised to feature the day's play.

In the lower half of the same bracket, Earl Taylor, teammate of Barnes on the Texas University Longhorn team, was opposed by J. B. Adoue, Jr., 47-year-old Dallas stylist, with the college star a slight favorite to win. Chances were, however, that it would be quite a debate, as Adoue showed flashes of his old form yesterday in trimming Frost Carvel of San Antonio, 6-4, 7-5.

A third Texas University player, Lucien LaCoste of San Antonio, was in the opposite bracket from Barnes and Taylor, but prospects were that Simms said he knew he was wrong all the time. It is a funny thing. We've never seen a questionable play but what the player in the field always declared he was wrong. It's baseball nature to reflect on the knowledge and integrity of the arbiter. Sometimes we can't blame Sammy Sain, the initial ball and strike yellow, for wanting five strikes a day for yelling.

Golfers Start Third Battle

DALLAS, June 12. (AP)—Five Dallas hopefuls, two from Fort Worth and one from the wide open spaces of West Texas, teed off in the third round of match play in the Dallas Country Club invitational golf tournament today.

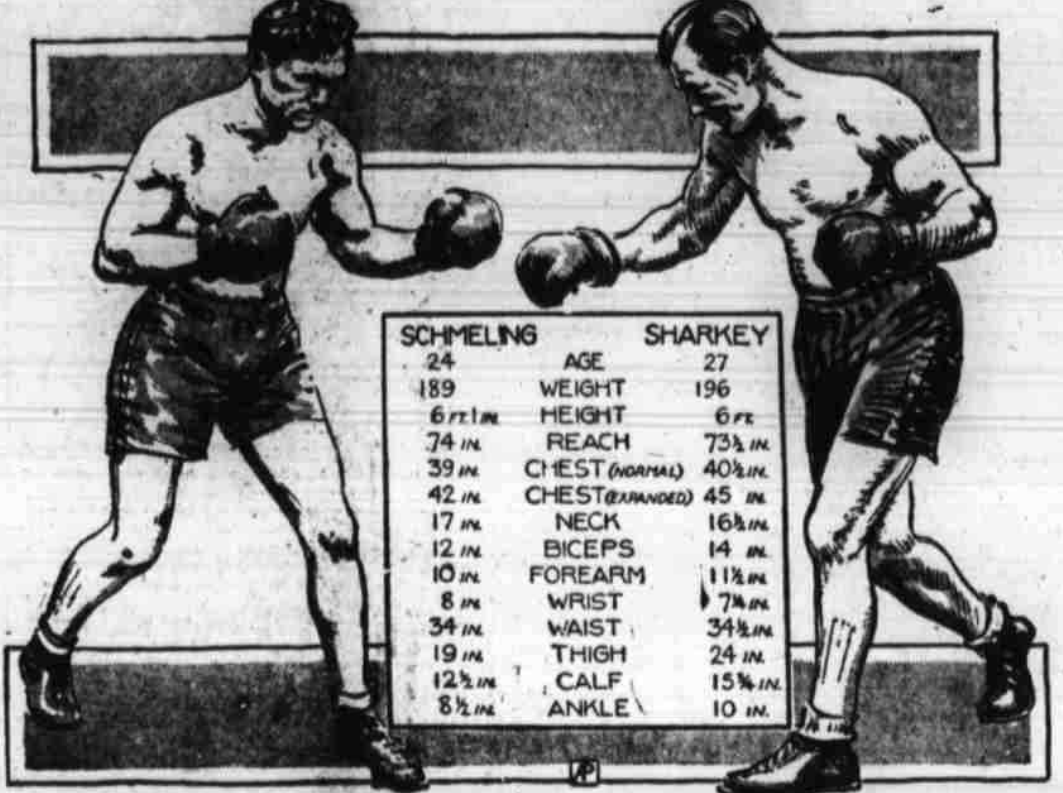

Still in the favorite's seat was Dennis Lavender, representing both San Angelo and Abilene, who shot a 71 to tie for low in the qualifying round and yesterday polished off his first two opponents, Kenneth Haggart and G. S. Avon, Dallas. In today's round Lavender was paired against Travis Daniel, Fort Worth, who supplied one of yesterday's features with a 3 and 2 victory over Neil Smith of Dallas.

Other pairings today were: W. F. McGonagill, Dallas, vs Lanham Connor, Dallas; Ed Connor, Dallas, vs Charles Ramsel, Fort Worth; and John Falconer, Dallas, vs George Wofford, Dallas.

MAGNOLIA LOSES TO A & M

The American Maracabo, new entry in the Oil Belt League, replacing Continental, tumbled Magnolia from her position as the league leader for the first time since the season began by defeating the first half champions in a tightly-contested game 8 to 7.

Cramer, ace of the Magnolia staff, started for the losers but gave way to Rainey in the fifth after the American Maracabo vine had slugged out seven runs off of his delivery. Rainey held the victors at bay the rest of the day but a seventh inning rally was nipped short when Young of the victors fanned two straight men. It was Cramer's first defeat of the season. Gaut and Chester of Magnolia were the batting stars of the day.

The league has been altered somewhat for the second part of the race. Continental has gone in with Humble and his place has been taken by the day's conquerors of Magnolia. Sun has been allowed to sign four men not connected with oil field work, something against the original constitution. Only the rosters of Magnolia, Moody and Merrick and Bristow remain unaltered.

BROOKLYN ROBINS LEAD

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer Despite a ninegame winning streak by their dread rivals, the New York Giants, Wilbert Robins continue to show their heels to the rest of the National League field and confidently look forward to their first pennant since 1920.

Nothing could better illustrate the fast pace the Robins have been setting than the fact that the Giants, despite their long string of wins, still are five games out of first place.

The Giants took Pittsburgh over the hurdles, 9 to 2, yesterday, but gained not one inch of ground as the Robins, behind Dazzy Vance's great pitching, nosed out the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1.

Vance held the Reds to four hits, but it took a pinch single by Al Lopez in the ninth to bring the Robins victory. Curt Walker's pinch home run in the eighth had tied the score, but in the ninth the Robins filled the bases, and Lopez, batting for Vance, broke up the ball game with a single.

Charley Root's fine pitching enabled the Chicago Cubs to break their losing streak at Philadelphia's expense, 6 to 2. Cuyler's homer with two on in the third gave Root all the runs he needed to win.

In the American League, Washington's Senators advanced to within a game and a half of first place by whipping Chicago, 2 to 1, while the Philadelphia Athletics were bowing to Cleveland, 6 to 2.

Lefty Grove, Athletics' left handed ace, went nearly two months without losing a game but charged with his second defeat in as many days yesterday. He was no puzzle to the Indians and retired in favor of Ernie Shores after the seventh inning with Cleveland leading 3-1. Willis Hudlin pitched a strong game for the Indians until the ninth but was removed when the A's made a few threatening gestures. Ferrel finished up in fine style.

Wink Boy, Sophomore In Oklahoma U., Dies

NORMAN, Okla., June 12. (AP)—The body of John De Arcy, 20, of Wink, Tex., sophomore at the University of Oklahoma, was found in the grocery store here where he was employed. A coroner's jury stated he had died of acute indigestion.

A rat poison spray gun was found near De Arcy's body. When last seen last night, De Arcy told H. L. Harris, store owner, that he would change his clothes and spray the store before retiring.

Funeral arrangements awaited word from the youth's mother, Mrs. Rena De Arcy, Wink.

Detroit put on a seven-run rally in the seventh to trounce the New York Yankees, 13 to 7. Ownie Carroll, former Tiger pitcher traded to New York, was driven out of the box in the fifth inning and Gomez, McEvoy and Johnson were not much better.

Other scheduled major league games were postponed.

FISTIC EXTRAVAGANZA EXPECTED TO DRAW $750,000 GATE

Jack Sharkey Ruled The Favorite To Beat Back Challenge Of Schmeling

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Ol' New York was again the big fight town today with its rush and roar as the background for a world's heavyweight championship match between the youthful German from Hamburg and the hope of the homebreds, a Lethuanian-American from Boston.

Tonight, some 45 minutes from the heart of Broadway, where the old-timers bellowed defiance at each other, Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling swap punches for 15 rounds or less, each seeing the same object—recognition as the heavyweight king and successor to the retired ruler, Gene Tunney.

At the ringside, perhaps in evening clothes, Gentleman Gene was expected to see the new monarch of man crowned to restore once again the line that has seldom been was "all right" after Jeffries, then a 22-year-old kid, knocked out the veteran Fitzsimmons in the 11th round.

In the spacious American league ball park tonight, seven times as many people as witnessed the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons encounter, hoped to see many a "hard blow" struck in return for their devotion to the box-office to the extent of paying from $2.10 to $26.25 or more at the speculators' price, for a seat.

Little Ol' New York has seen, appraised and cheered and even booed the heavyweight champions from ancient to modern ring times. Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Corbett, Willard, Dempsey and Tunney all have fought in the Big Town for the most prized of all fistic titles.

Tonight's was the eighth heavyweight championship affair brought to some corner of the metropolitan screege. It was the first, however, to involve two contenders for the title, vacated two years ago by Tunney. Its only parallel in ring history since Sullivan's era was the fight in Sydney, Australia, in 1908 when Jack Johnson whipped Tommy Burns for the crown cast aside by Jeffries.

Jack Favorite Sharkey ruled the favorite to beat back the challenge of his youthful German antagonist, keep the line of title succession in the United States and climax his own erratic fistic career with a victory. The ex-sailor fumbled his two previous chances, in 1927 and 1928, to battle his way into the championship spotlight. Temperamental and uncertain though he has been, the majority of experts picked Sharkey to win. The gamblers backed him at odds pruned from 2 to 1 down to 7 to 5.

Boxing skill and experience were on Sharkey's side, with a vicious punch to support them. Courage, ambition and an equally dangerous walk were the main assets of Schmeling. Both possessed the stamina for a hard fight, if necessary.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS Answered By Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Washington, D. C.
What do you think of the suggestion of a uniform Federal marriage and divorce law? Would it not diminish divorce difficulties and strengthen home life?

Do you not also believe that the clergymen and other officers authorized by law to perform marriage ceremonies should in some way have some evidence placed before them of the physical, moral and spiritual fitness of the parties to the marriage before performing the ceremony?

Eminent jurists are not unanimous as to the advisability of a Federal marriage and divorce law, assuming such a law would be constitutional. In the judgment of those who oppose it experiments would be cut off. Their arguments are not convincing for those who believe, as I do, that the divine law of marriage has been established by Christ. He decreed it inviolable, except for the sin of adultery. As the matter stands, many of the divorce laws of our various states are in a hopeless tangle, and their conflict with each other is due to their different requirements. Under certain conditions a man divorced in our state is regarded as married in another, his marital status depending on his geographical location for the time being. Anything which would bring order out of this chaos appears to me, as a layman, as greatly to be desired, even if that meant an amendment to the Federal Constitution.

But legislation by itself is not of much use except to eliminate technical difficulties. We cannot hope to improve the moral quality of social institutions unless we first improve the moral quality of the people who establish them. In the latter direction lies the real solution, as I see it. Admittedly there are decided theoretical benefits and possibly some practical gains in added restrictions upon matrimony. But if those restrictions are needlessly multiplied the number of lawful marriages might decrease, with more and more detrimental results to society than now exist. Consequently to require one certificate for physical health, another for moral character and a third for spiritual fitness, in all probability would create a standard subservient of the excellent purpose such innovations were designed to effect. I believe candidates for marriage should undergo a thorough physical examination by competent physicians. Much sorrow and anguish would thereby be avoided if physical defects or diseases existed which would make marriage undesirable or even impossible. Successful marriage begins in the childhood and youth of its contracting parties. We must return to first principles and develop character in the home. Once that is done, many of our present difficulties will disappear. Our hope for the immediate and the lasting future of marriage is a rising generation permeated with finer ideals of what the compact is and what it signifies. Since the vast majority of our people are pledged to its monogamous form, let them instruct their children in its tested virtues.

Buffalo, N. Y.
Why do we not have more women preachers? Men with their crude natures and exalted opinion of themselves do not always appreciate the spiritual needs of women.

If your premises are correct your argument is conclusive. Men may be spiritually inferior to women. But women do not think so, or they would not prefer men as their pastors and guides. Somebody had to do the work of preaching, and since Christ chose twelve men for the duty, I suppose that my sex, despite its crudeness and egotism, must have had some qualification for the ministry of the Gospel.

Miss Agnes Made Royden, the British social worker and preacher, educated at Cheltenham and Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford, became assistant preacher at the City Temple, London, in '97, and the first woman in modern Britain to occupy the pulpit of a regular place of worship. But the Primitive Methodist found room for women in their itinerant ministry seventy years ago. The Salvation Army Lassies have endeared themselves to the world. The Mother of the Army, Mrs. Booth, secured a wide international hearing as a preacher and her gifted daughters followed in her train. Mrs. Callington Booth has long been one of the most attractive preachers and lecturers on this continent. Who supposes that Lady Henry Somerset or Miss Frances E. Willard would not have graced a cathedral pulpit? I wish that women of this type were more numerous. But hitherto they have been the exception. Nevertheless, in the new day now upon us, women will be heard more frequently and in larger numbers in the Protestant churches. The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church held at St. Paul in May, 1929, approved the ordination of women, and similar action was taken by the Reformed Church at general synod in Indianapolis. No larger field could be found for their peculiar gifts than that which the advocacy of faith, hope and love supplies.

Happy Mother Highly Praises Modern Konjola

Relates How New And Different Medicine Banished Ills Of Her Daughter

MISS DOROTHY RHYNE

"My ten year old daughter, Dorothy, has been troubled with chronic constipation ever since a small child," said Dorothy's mother, Mrs. J. D. Rhyne, 616 East Eleventh street, Amarillo. "This condition caused her to become nervous, and she frequently suffered with bilious attacks and dizzy spells. Often she had severe headaches and I had to keep her home from school for two or three days at a time. She was very flighty, had no pep or vitality, and tired very easily.

"After Konjola so thoroughly relieved me of my ailments, I decided to give it to Dorothy. It is amazing how quickly this medicine went to work. Now she is like a different child. She has only taken Konjola two weeks, and I am going to have her continue the treatment until she is again in perfect health. I highly recommend Konjola to mothers of ailing children."

No wonder Konjola is a beautiful household word in tens of thousands of American homes. Here is a medicine for old and young; for all the family. A complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is recommended.

Konjola is sold in Big Spring at Collins Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—adv.

cary, to the limit of 15 rounds, with a referee and two judges to cast the final verdict.

The Sharkey of four or five years ago, when he was scrapping courageously for heavyweight recognition against any and all foemen, would have gone into the big test as an even bigger favorite than he has been. Sharkey fought then for his living—"for 'im and 'er and it" as Kipling phrased the situation. Today Sharkey was spurred on by ambition to reach the goal previously denied him, but with wealth and even social position already in his possession, it seemed that some of the old vital urge was missing.

Under-Dog Spirit

Youth and its compelling forces were on Schmeling's side this time. In the reversal of the situation, in the do-or-bust spirit of the under-dog, many of his experts foresaw the German's best chance of triumph. They envisioned Max in the same position as Dempsey at Toledo, as Tunney at Philadelphia, fighting against odds but also with an excellent fighting chance.

Moreover, Schmeling represents the new Germans. He is the first Teuton to challenge for the heavyweight championship and typical of the youthful generation that has figured in Germany's athletic comeback, one of the most remarkable in history. They have labelled him the "German Dempsey," largely upon a physical resemblance. But he needed the old Manassa Mauler's aggressive courage and punch tonight to gain a fistic footing on the heights occupied for so long by Dempsey.

Ear Witnesses

The eye-witnesses were numbered in thousands but the 'ear witnesses' figured to run well up into the millions, with a national network broadcasting the blow-by-blow details from the ringside. On short wave lengths, the ringside story also was to be broadcast to Europe and South America, with the chances that Australia and the Orient might be able to tune in. More than 500 newspapermen were assembled to peer intently at the proceedings and contribute a few jillion words to the descriptive output.

The fight preliminaries were billed to begin around 7 p. m. (eastern standard time) and the main bout at 9 p. m.

SKY OVERCAST

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—The official weather report at 10:15 (e.s.t.) this morning gave assurance that while the sky would continue overcast, no rain was expected to interfere with tonight's heavy weight battle between Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling.
