

County prepares for annual deer season

By Jim McWilliams

Each year around the middle of November the population of Schleicher County grows by 200 or more in a single day.

The "booms" and "boon" will arrive as deer and turkey hunters try their luck with the abundant wildlife on our county ranches and farms.

The "booms" will be from the rifles and shotguns. The "boon" will be from the money spent by the hunters during the Fall season.

The deer season will begin tomorrow morning (Saturday) one-half hour before sunrise, and continue until January 1, 1978.

Hunters may be out one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

Last year $34,650 was spent in the county on season leases and day hunting, according to County Extension Agent Jerry Swift. The total revenue from wildlife sources for 1976 was $120,000. That figure does not include motel bills, restaurant and gasoline charges, ammunition, and other hunting supplies purchased by the hunters.

The report from area ranchers indicate that leases were going for $200 to $400 per lease, or from $100 to $150 per gun, depending on the facilities offered and the amount of acres in the lease. Others are charging $1 an acre, but all of them are usually long-standing leases to companies or friends.

The 50-day season signals the start of the holiday season to local merchants.

McCalla's Department Store breaks out their hunting gear. Signs go up that say, "Welcome Hunters" and "Hunting Licenses For Sale". Both motels are booked in advance for the initial weekend of hunting, and a constant flow of hunters "bed down for the night" throughout the season.

Shaw's Motel is completely filled this weekend. "We have these reservations a year ahead", Christine Hodges said. She expects to stay close to capacity until January.

Cramer Sofge reports his motel units are being rented to hunters this weekend, while others remain occupied by monthly tenants.

Cramer opened a new deer cold storage locker last year, and will operate it again this year. His vault will hold 100 deer carcasses when full. Last year he stored about 100 deer during the hunting season. If a hard freeze and an ice storm had not hit on the first day of hunting, he would have probably stored more deer earlier in the season.

City still without emergency gas

At the City Council meeting Tuesday night in City Hall, Secretary Phil Olson reported that he had written to one potential supplier of an emergency gas supply to serve the town, and they had stated that for the present they would be unable to serve Eldorado. The reason given was that that would put them in the utility supply business which they did not wish to do at this time.

Later in the evening, a cold dry norther blew in and by morning we had a light freeze and trouble developed in the compressor in the Page Field that serves the town of Eldorado. Most local residents had low gas pressure and chilly homes, on Wednesday morning. Ernest Hanusch was dispatched at 5:00 a.m. Wednesday to work on the compressor which is operated by Cities Service.

The supply of natural gas for Eldorado, and how it is provided and piped in and distributed within the town, is just one of the chronic problems that plagues Eldorado.

Mayor Pat Ragsdale presided at the meeting Tuesday night and aldermen on hand were Raymond Hall, Bob Sykes, Richard Kent, Jimmy Doyle, and Bill McCravey.

Loeffler announces for Republican nomination

By Jim McWilliams

Tom Loeffler, a native of Mason, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the 21st District congressional race at a San Angelo news conference last Monday.

Loeffler blasted President Carter by calling his minimum wage bill an "irresponsible approach" to the problems the country faces.

He favors a cut-back in imported beef by saying we don't need to "import a billion pounds of beef every year."

Loeffler said "Washington is as anti-Texas as they have ever been" on the energy bill the House passed.

He promised to protect the Texas viewpoint if elected.

He is for a strong defense posture, for gas and oil deregulation, and for keeping the Panama Canal.

He opposes the President's energy plan, minimum wage bill, and Government agencies such as OSHA and the Food & Drug Administration telling the private citizen what to do without approval of Congress.

"The 55 m.p.h. speed limit is an example of the President's energy plan. It doesn't work", Loeffler said. And he doesn't want the President to get control of intrastate gas and oil.

Tom Loeffler, a resident of Kerrville, officially announced his candidacy for United States Congress for the 21st District on Monday, November 7. Loeffler appeared in six cities throughout the district on Monday, following a "preview" announcement in his home town of Mason on Sunday evening. Loeffler, 31, a Republican, has served as Chief Legislative Counsel for Senator John Tower, Deputy for Congressional Liaison at the Federal Energy Administration and as Special Assistant to President Ford.

Local tax collection nearly complete

Tax collections continue to come in steadily at the three tax offices here in Eldorado.

Highest percentage collected thus far is reported in Sheriff Orval Edmiston's office, for state, county, and hospital district assessments. That office reports that 98 per cent of the taxes have been paid.

The school tax office reports over 80 per cent collections.

Phil Olson, assessor for the City of Eldorado, reports collections this week of just over 50 per cent.

This current month of November, a 2 per cent discount is allowed those making tax payments.

Something To Think About

by Jannette Wilkerson

"WHAT? - NO CHICKEN SALAD?"

The call usually comes at midnight - the response is better that way. Then Wham-Bam - before you know what happened, you've been signed up to work in the concession stand at the football game, basketball game, track meet, or tiddley-wink tournament.

Parents file through the door of the concession stand rolling up their sleeves, stacking sandwiches, opening chili cans, and candy boxes. That's the easy part. The first customer is usually a referee who orders a cup of coffee and pays for it with a 100 dollar bill. This, of course, is before the change has been brought in, so you try to stall him by singing the school song or balancing a pickle on your nose.

The fun really starts at half time. That's when the coke machine balks - and the popcorn machine rebels. Head-on collisions are common and usually to the mothers wearing a white blouse. I've seen a three-mother pile up with cokes, chili dogs, popcorn, and bubble gum. It's not a pretty sight. No fatalities, but a lot of casualties.

Anyone who works in the concession stand should be eligible for Veteran's Benefits, because nothing constitutes a deferment. Flat feet, ruptured ear drums, or shooting off your toe won't get you out of serving your time. Anyway...who'd want to? It's a great place to test your patience, coordination and endurance.

It's true concession stand workers are Special - They have Dr. Pepper in their veins, the ability to tell a First Grader what he can buy for 8 cents, the brains to compute the cost of 5 chili dogs, 6 popcorns, and 10 cokes, while one person is giving you another order and someone else is dripping hot chocolate down your back, and the tact not to jump out the window and grab the wise guy by the throat who says, "What? No chicken salad?".....and THAT's something to think about this week.....

Eldorado twirler SUPERIOR

Paige Helmers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Helmers, was the only Eldorado twirler to receive a One rating in twirling at the Band Marching Contest in Brady last week. Paige is a junior in high school.

Hext's grandson -- Football star

Mr. and Mrs. Granvil Hext received a telephone call last week from their grandson, Rodney Hext, of Albuquerque. Rodney was a very happy boy, as he is a Y.A.F.L. Boy. His team is the "Oilers". Rodney is a running back for his team, No. 22. They won every game but one. They were the division champs. They played the Jaguars, for championship and won.

They were very happy as they went to the University of New Mexico and played the game. They were escorted there on a special bus. Afterwards, a banquet was had for them and a big write-up about them in the Albuquerque papers.

Rodney is 11 years of age and very much like his dad and granddad (Granvil Hext) about football.

By the way Grandma (Mary Hext) was wearing the picture button of her champion grandson, her Y.A.F.L. boy.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Ed:

Few lives in Eldorado have remained untouched by the tragic loss of Rev. and Mrs. Lyman Mobley and Lyman's father. I do not remember when I have met anyone with whom I have had such an intimate friendship so quickly as was my experience with Lyman. His wife, Myki, was charming, talented and just as ready to extend herself to everyone as was Lyman. Although I did not know Lyman's father, I feel I became acquainted with him by knowing his son.

As a pastor it has been my privilege and awesome responsibility to minister to some very distraught families in the loss of loved ones. Some of these occasions have been among horrible circumstances much like this tragic accident. However, this tragedy has left me, and so many others I am sure, most distressed, angry, hurt and devastated. The promises of God which He made possible through our Saviour Jesus Christ and the comfort of the Holy Spirit have been my strength. But, there has been one other great source of strength for me...the congregation of the Presbyterian Church. Lyman shared with me one time about how he sought to instill in his parishioners an awareness of each of them being God's minister. In his bulletins he listed himself as pastor and the congregation as ministers to emphasize this point. I know how happy he and Myki are to see their congregation fulfill this commission so completely as they meet the needs of the Mobley family and continue to "carry the touch" of the gospel even under these trying circumstances. I praise God for the brief gift of two such beautiful lives. I am thankful for my brothers and sisters in Christ at the sister church in our community. The words of II Corinthians 1:4, 5 have taken a new meaning for me. "Blessed be God who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ."

Thank you, Ed, for your fine paper and I know all of us will continue to uplift Mrs. Mobley, and her family, and Myki's family in prayer.

Very truly yours,
Gene Stark, Pastor

Cougars will represent district in play-offs...

Cougars win 40-14 over Paint Rock

The Cougars remained undefeated, and won themselves a spot in the play-off as the 6-B representatives against Marathon next week, by defeating Paint Rock 40-14 last week.

The Cougars face Talpa in the final district game tonight. A Cougar loss would give them a tie for the district crown, but Christoval would represent the district in the play-off because they defeated the other co-champion.

Christoval scored 18 points in the first quarter on runs of 45 yards and 28 yards, by Tim Hayes. Hayes also kicked a 2-point PAT and a 27 yard field goal.

In the second quarter Paint Rock scored on a 65 yard run by Paul Meeks to make it 18-6. But Hayes followed with a 27 yard TD run to put Christoval ahead 24-6.

Paint Rock scored once more to close within 10 points at 24-14 on a 1 yard TD by John Haechter. Meeks kicked the PAT. The Cougars shut out Paint Rock for the rest of the game.

Other Christoval scores were on a 60 yard kick-off return by Joe Jacquez and a 21 yard run by Frank Arango.

The final score was Christoval 40, Paint Rock 14.

The place and time of the Marathon game has not been decided yet.

Christoval's Bob Holland

By Sunshine

Robert L. [Bob] Holland, Christoval's oldest True Native was born Jan. 17, 1894 to G.M. and Calley Holland at the East Holland Ranch [now the Bois d'Arc Ranch] 4 miles south of Christoval. He was a seven month baby and weighed only a tiny 2-3/4 lbs. His mother died 2 hours later. He was raised until age 5 by his mother's parents, the Cockrans. His father married his sister-in-law, Amelia Cockran and Bob lived with them.

Bob had 9 brothers, 2 sisters and their place was known as Kid Holler, due to the many children.

His first grade teacher at Christoval was J.B. Smith, who was also Principal. It was an eleven grade system then and two teachers handled all the duties.

One day Mr. Smith went home to lunch [where Mrs. Hall now lives] and the students were crowded around the box stove. "Myrtle Chaney had a cedar switch and was hittin' me with it, so I told her to quit or I would kiss her. She didn't and I kissed her just as the Principal came in the door." Bob received a lickin' for his "Romeo-ing" but Myrtle's brother told his mom, who agreed it was her fault too, who took it up with the Principal, who apologized to Bob with a grin on his face.

The two teachers got "crossways" over another antic of Bob's when a boy in the other room kept putting his fingers around the door facing and Bob tied his fingers with a top string to a nail on the wall. When the recess bell rang, he couldn't go and the teacher got mad "cause HIS teacher let him do it. Bob says he was told to not do it, but couldn't resist so tied it up anyway.

"We had 3 burros we rode to school and we made them pitch until Will Williams got pitched off and hurt, and the teachers made us quit.

We had a Bat Cave near where I was born and we killed bats with paddles as they flew out the cave. There were 2 rooms in the cave about 8 to 10 feet tall, but it was blown up with dynamite by the Jacob Kid.

We had a big flood in 1906. Lots of cattle and horses were drowned. Dennis Hays, foreman at Head of the River and Hillary Simmons stayed in a tree about 100 feet from the usual river's edge all night with water lapping at their feet."

The Hollands built most of the houses in Christoval, including the Methodist Church and the old School House. The house where he now lives was built by his father in 1912 for Otto Williams and is still in good repair, and is now having a new room added. They really knew how to put a permanent place up then.

"The nearest doctor lived in Knickerbocker. His name was Cornish", Bob recalled.

Bob's dad sold the Ranch and built a hotel in Christoval catering to "Lungers", those with tuberculosis. One bucket of water was for the sick and another for the family, but Bob said, "the kids never paid no mind and drank out of both buckets, but didn't take sick or nuthin'."

"My half brother, Archie Wright, owned and ran the Eldorado Success 25 or 30 years and then sold the property and had a grocery called Wright Grocery until he retired. He lived to the age of 87 in Eldorado."

Bob had his right thumb jerked off 2 years ago behind Pate Boones antique store loading a Buffalo. The Buffalo was going to Bob's birthplace, Kid Holler [now Bois d'Arc] Ranch. The doctors thought he was putting them on about how it happened.

Bob's wife, Ollie Mae, had 2 girls. One died at 3 months of age and the other one now lives in McCahey.

Bob cowboied in his younger days and broke horses. He was paid $10.00 a month for his first job.

You could write enough to fill a library about this fascinating fellow, who is a Neighbor Everyone Knows.

The Nov. 11th meeting of Troop 225 Junior Girl Scouts was called to order at 3:30 p.m. by leaders Ann Hyde and Nancy Terry.

After opening with the Pledge of Allegiance and the Girl Scout Promise, the roll was taken and all members of the troop: (Anna Aguilar, Tracy Cansler, Mendy Edmiston, Stephanie Field, Eloisa Hill, Eureka Norton, Priscilla Rodriguez, and Brenda Suarez) were present.

The girls reported on their calendar and cookie sales which the girls said were going very well. They discussed the District Song Fest, to be held in the Memorial Building, the 12th of Nov. in Eldorado.

After deciding on their Christmas Service Project, they started working on the tray favors that their Troop and the Brownies are making for patients at the local Nursing Home for Thanksgiving.

Refreshments were furnished by Priscilla and her mother. Troop reporters for this week were Ann Hyde and Nancy Terry.

Anyone interested in Junior Girl Scouts can come to the meeting at the Methodist Church Sunday School Building on any Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

"Come see the new '78 Thunderbirds at (Sonora Motor Company). Thunderbird luxury is very easy to own"

One compelling reason for owning Thunderbird is the car itself. With the luxury, quality and fine engineering one traditionally associates with Thunderbird. The fact that its down-to-earth price makes Thunderbird so easy to own is almost unbelievable. Consider what you get in styling. Clean, lean, classic lines. Concealed headlamps. Opera windows. And distinctive wrapover roof with bright moldings. Thunderbird trimness, a refined suspension and wide stance provide remarkable agility. You'll welcome that on the road, or while parking. And these are just a few of many reasons for Thunderbird's resounding success. See it today at Sonora Motor Co.

Nov. 17th designated as "Great American Smokeout" by local Cancer Society

By Jannette Wilkerson

Don't forget - November 17 - It could be the day that changes your life. Give it a try. I am. One day at a time.

Cigarette smoking causes at least 80 percent of lung cancer. More than 30 million Americans have kicked the habit. So it's not impossible. Today, over 100,000 American men and women have lung cancer. In this year alone, another 98,000 will be stricken with this disease. During this same year, 89,000 will die of lung cancer--or approximately 244 a day-- Now that's the best reason. There are a lot more.

Consider the cost of that smoking habit. A two-pack a day smoker will burn his way through $365.00 each year. In ten years he will have spent $3,650 on his habit (more like well over $4,000 as cigarette cost and taxes rise)

But we know all that - It's the actual "cold turkey" of quitting that seems the hardest - First, decide to quit all at once or gradually. Start thinking about how you can reach your goal, and remember, I still have all those cute buttons.

I've tried for years to quit smoking. This time I'm really going to do it. I have to. I've shot off my big mouth in print. If I can - anybody can.

Nursing Home

Again, we have threatening clouds, so keep your fingers crossed!

It was about the same 7 and 6 here in the Home the past week.

The residents who had been, more or less, "under the weather" recently, are doing fairly well, I believe, for which we are thankful.

The First Baptist Church conducted the Service in the Dining Room this Sunday, but only three members from that church, besides the Pastor, Gene Stark, attended the service. We enjoyed it very much.

I do wish that the citizens of Eldorado and Schleicher County would appreciate this Nursing Home more and exhibit it by visiting here more often. We all surely would appreciate it and enjoy seeing them.

The First Presbyterian Church will conduct the service here next Sunday, November 13th.

We had more visitors here last week than usual and that was good. They were Fannie Gilbert of Santa Anna, Texas who visited her mother, Hattie Blaylock; Nora Poe and Savannah Kelly, both of San Angelo, visited their sister Mae Mercer, also Lenora Lankford of San Angelo, who is a niece of Mae Mercer. While they were here they went by to see Beulah Harris. Roy Daniels of Pineville, Oregon, came to see his mother, Elva Daniels; Brandi Jean Thomas and Marcella Blaylock visited their grandmother, Hattie Blaylock; Beulah Harris had her son, Milton Harris and his wife from Sonora as guests; Mrs. William Sauer of Van Horn visited her father, Fred Gunstead; Mrs. Jane Browning from Brady, Texas, visited her mother, Waxie Mund.

The Bingo winners last Wednesday were: Beulah Harris 2; Bess Andrews 2; Erna Rexroat 2; Granny Casbeer 1; LaVita Brooks 2. On Friday, the winners were: Delia Gardener 1; Erna Rexroat 1; Carrie Blakeway 1; Elva Daniels 2; Frank Reed 1; LaVita Brooks 2.

Mrs. Winnie Jackson, our Candy Case Lady, was back with us in the lobby last week and is here again this week - and she says she is improving daily - We are so glad to have her here again.

The older a man gets, the further he walked to school as a boy.

LaVita Brooks, Beulah Harris, Reporters.

Library Board Meets

The Board met on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 10:00 o'clock in the Library Reading Room.

We were happy to have Mrs. Winnie Jackson back with us. We have missed her.

Some new books for teenagers were on display. These have just been received and will soon be on the shelves.

We had 3 new readers in October and 456 books were read.

There will be a Library Workshop in San Angelo this month, on Reference Material presented by Anna Lea Donaldson. The Librarian and helper will attend.

Present for this meeting were Winnie Jackson, Jewel Hodges, Maudie Bassinger, Dorothy Clark, Grace White, Ruth Baker and the librarian, Gladys Gunn.

By Jim McWilliams

The Eagles knocked on the touchdown door twice in the first quarter, but it would not open, as the Mason Puncers shut out Eldorado 35-0 in the Eagles final game of the 1977 season.

Mason scored on their first possession to go ahead 6-0. Then, on Eldorado's first possession, they marched 60 yards to the Mason one-yard line. The drive was highlighted by a fake punt run by Sam Whitten of 33 yards. But on 1st and goal-to-go from the Mason one, the Eagles fumbled and lost the ball.

The Eagle defense held Mason to only 3 yards from there, and the Puncers were forced to punt.

Eldorado set up shop on the Mason 39 yard line, but went only 11 yards before they fumbled the ball back to Mason.

Mason managed to gain 2 yards before they fumbled. Eagle Larry Fay recovered the ball on the Puncer's 21 yard line.

On first down Sam Whitten ran for 12 yards to set up another first down on the Mason 9 yard line. Then Whitten carried for 5 yards, Mike Lux for 2, and Charlie Bradley pushed for 2 more. Then on 4th and one the Eagles could not get the ball in.

The first quarter ended 6-0 Mason.

Eldorado never got closer than the 15 yard line for the remainder of the game. Mason scored 8 points in the second quarter, 6 in the third, and 15 in the final period.

Eldorado finished the season with 2 wins and 8 losses for the year. Their district wins were over Big Lake and Robert Lee; while they lost to Menard, Wall, Mason, and Junction.

The Eagles will return a "bunch" of experienced freshmen, sophomores, and juniors next year. They should be a strong competitor in district 9-A next year.

The Eagle defense this year showed great desire to hit, and quick pursuit. But the offense never seemed to get out of the hole. They made some fine gains on the ground, but they seldom got started with good field position. And it's hard to go 80 yards for a TD every time they got the ball.

Above all, the Eagles displayed outstanding sportsmanship and team pride this year. Eldorado should be proud of their determined young men.

Jr. High teams split games

The Junior High football teams hosted Junction here the night of Thursday, Nov. 3rd, on Eagle Field for final games of the '77 season, and the locals took a win and a loss.

The 7th graders won 6 to 0, and the 8th graders lost 0 to 6.

Low Gas Pressure- Menu change

Tennis Club will not meet until next spring.

When residents at the Nursing Home went to breakfast Wednesday morning, they discovered that the trays were minus the usual servings of scrambled eggs.

The reason given was the low gas pressure. There was not enough gas to heat the griddle to scramble the eggs.

There will be no more regular meetings on Monday night of the Tennis Club until further notice. The meetings are canceled for the Winter and will start again next Spring.

Episcopal Church holding services

St. Mary's Episcopal Church here has been holding lay services in the absence of the priest, Rev. Lea Roy Aldwell. Rev. Aldwell underwent surgery in St. John's Hospital about the 1st of November and is still a patient there.

Preaching at the lay service this Sunday morning will be Joe Lombardi of Sonora. The service will start at 10:00. Lombardi was formerly with Station KVRN and is now a member of the police force in Sonora.

Eldorado's Paul Page holds SMU records

By Lester Jordan

More than 30 years have passed since Paul Page of Eldorado played his first football game for the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, but his name appears frequently in the 1977 SMU Roster and Record Book edited by Bob Condon, sports information director of the institution.

The present-day Eldorado businessman is named along with Doak Walker, Kyle Rote, and Preston Johnston in the backfield for the 1940-49 SMU decade team.

Among other listings for Page are the following: Most passes intercepted during career -- First with 35.15.

Most yards gained rushing in one game -- Third with 195 yards in 1945 game against TCU.

Longest gain on pass reception -- First with 86-yards on toss from Gil Johnson against UCLA in 1947.

Most passes intercepted one season -- Tied for second with seven interceptions in 1947.

Most passes intercepted one game -- Tied for second with three against Texas A&M in 1947.

Long kickoff returns -- Sixth with an 81-yard return against Texas in 1947.

Page, who was SMU's leading rusher in both 1945 and 1946, is one of several former Mustangs who have caught passes for more than 100 yards in a single game.

The Eldorado also was on the receiving end of the longest pass completed by SMU in its six Bowl games. It was a 53-yarder from Doak Walker in the 1948 Cotton Bowl game against Penn State.

Ladies organize volleyball play sessions

All you ladies in Schleicher County - take heed! Do you feel disgusted with yourself for lying around the house getting fat and lazy? Do you need a place to use that excess energy? Or do you just need something special that doesn't include your husband or your children? Consider the women's volleyball team!!!

We work hard under the supervision of our coach, Ilse Williams, but the rewards are worth it. Your body will be in better shape (after a week of sore muscles and bumps and bruises); you'll take pride in the improvements in your skills; and you'll love the warmth and friendship you'll share with your team-mates. There's a lot of aches for the four or so tournaments we enter during a season, but it's worth it, and we might even win one this year with your help.

Practice is on Wednesday nights at 6:30 in the elementary gym. At least try it one time - Don't be bashful newcomers - You'll probably know someone there, and if not, you'll make new friends.

There will also be volleyball play on Monday nights at 6:30 for everyone - men and women - If you're not interested in serious play, this could be just for you.

Phone your family this Christmas.

This Christmas, give your family the gift of gab. With beautifully designed GTE phones to match their individual personalities and decorating styles. You won't find a more unique or personal gift anywhere.

So why don't you call our business office for complete details and give someone you love a phone for Christmas. It's an exciting new way to ring in the holidays.

We have an eye for your ears. GTE GENERAL TELEPHONE

With the close of football play for the Eagles last week, attention will now turn to basketball.

Next Thursday night, Nov. 17th, the A and B girls' teams will host Crane for the opening games of the

'77 season. Play will start at 6:30 p.m. in the local gym.

The Friday night following, the girls' and boys' teams will go to McCamey for games starting there at 5:00 p.m.

Eagle Booster Club will continue to meet

The Eagle Booster Club met Monday night to view films of the final football game of the 1977 season. Support has been astounding thus far and we now are anxiously focusing towards the basketball season. Our meetings will continue, but because there will be no film of the games, we will meet only every other week, beginning November 21. Two more "Spirit Award" plaques have also been purchased and will be given each week to a boy and girl participating in basketball and showing outstanding enthusiasm, spirit, and leadership.

We urge parents of these athletes to attend the meetings and continue to support our children's efforts and achievements.

In other business, the Council heard from Secretary Olson that he had written to the fire chief in San Angelo about whether that department would have a surplus pumper the local department could buy. No such units were available at present.

The dump ground, or Sanitary Landfill that Eldorado uses five miles west of town on Highway 29 was subject of concern by the Texas Department of Health and Air Quality Control Board.

Mayor Ragsdale read a letter from Jack Carmichael of the Texas Department of Health. Carmichael is director of the Division of Solid Waste Management and his letter cited results of inspections of the landfill by personnel from his department.

Deficiencies noted by the inspectors last April were: improper earth covering procedures, improper disposal of brush and construction demolition debris, and improper disposal of large, heavy and bulky items.

The Council discussed what had been done in intervening months to improve conditions at the dump and it was stated that an inspector from Air Quality Control Board was expected to look over the dump sometime this week and make recommendations. A rubber-tired loader may be bought to mash down cans and debris, in the future.

Briefly discussed in connection with this was the smoke from the gin incinerator which affects the west part of town whenever there is a south wind.

It was pointed out that a parking permit was required for each new mobile home that is brought in and the ordinance pertaining to this will be amended at the next meeting of the Council, if ready by then.

The City government will be required to pay Social Security on part-time, temporary, and contract labor employed in the future. This is a change from the past. The Council voted to amend the 1953 City Ordinance to make this new provision.

Effective Jan. 1, 1978, the City of Eldorado will join other political sub-divisions in registering with the Texas Employment Commission and paying an Unemployment Compensation Tax on employees. Options are the "taxed method" and the "reimbursing plan" and the Council voted to adopt the latter. The preliminary work on setting this up will be done by the 1st of January.

The Council considered a bid from the Abbott Building Company of Midland in the amount of $18,539 to erect a building to house two of the fire trucks. Ted Short was on hand and he inquired about the estimates on the building.

The Council estimated that a new building would probably cost over $20,000 by the time Abbott erected it and finishing touches to it were done. This was tabled for the present.

Firemen Jerry Jones and Jerry Richards were also on hand to inquire about the progress being made on getting better fire equipment and housing for the trucks.

It was reported that McRan had ordered the three new doors for the present fire station, but they are not in yet.

Briefly discussed was the recent vandalism that took place Halloween weekend, but no definite action was taken or recommendations made.

Marvin McAngus reported that Tommy Green of the Texas Department of Health had stated that state approval of the city water system and supply would hinge in the future of having two water operators certified. It is hoped that two employees can be so certified at sometime in the future with Class C licenses.

The Council approved future purchase and installation of a new bed for the dump truck and will call for bids in the near future. They voted to sell the old dump truck and the old trash hauling truck by putting them up for bids.

JUST JOGGIN' ALONG!

By Express News Publisher, ED MEADOR

No doubt those geese I spoke of last week knew what they were talking about. Wednesday's cold front dropped the temperatures into the upper twenties, and if anyone is wondering just where or when Winter will make its appearance, they can rest comfortably in the knowledge that it's here right now. One of the heaviest blizzards in years was the lot for those friends of ours in the North and Midwest the last couple of days, so it may be a long time before we have those balmy days of recent weeks back with us.

It is said that extremes follow extremes, but I'm hoping that it won't hold true as far as this Winter's weather is concerned. If it should get as cold as it was hot during the past summer, we're in for some bad times. Monday night's rain was a welcome thing, although as has been true for most of the recent showers, it was rather spotty. It fell slow and soaking, however, and every drop counted. We could use an area wide rain like that which would drop about three inches of moisture. Wouldn't be much help to the grass, but all these oats that have been planted since late August might make it to the top of the ground.

The annual trek to the old hunting lease is on. We'll be seeing a lot of strange faces around the convenience stores, the grocery stores, cafes and gasoline stations. And from time to time, familiar faces won't be so much in evidence. There's a certain feeling about the opening of deer season, but my enthusiasm seems to dwindle a little each year, and it's getting more difficult to drive myself out of a warm spot to the cold reality of a frosty morning.

This season seems to hold less promise than normal since the dry weather has taken its toll on the deer population. The last few weeks have seen considerable improvement in condition of the deer, and that can probably be attributed to falling acorns, and the few showers that have been around. The bucks ought to be fat, but I haven't seen many does who were carrying much weight, and especially so, if they happened to have a fawn running by their side. This might be the year that a goodly number of does should be harvested. Otherwise, I think the indications are good for a considerable die-off as range conditions worsen during the coming Winter months.

I won't be one of the anxious nimrods taking to the bush Saturday. This happens to be Homecoming week-end at SMU, so I'm going to have the privilege of seeing the Ponies play my second favorite university, Texas Tech. I wouldn't care to place any bets, but I will wager that it will be a tremendous game. When those two rivals get together, you can count on some exciting moments.

So all of you hunters take it easy and cautiously. Let's hope that there will be no tragedies this year, and that everyone will be around to enjoy all the football games on New Years day.

Presbyterians set meeting

A congregational meeting is scheduled for this Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian Church immediately following the morning worship service.

Jimmy Powell will preside at this meeting in which the main item of business will be selecting a pulpit committee to begin looking for a new pastor to succeed the late Lyman Mobley.

At the service Sunday morning, Dr. Edward Dixon Junkin, academic dean and professor of church history at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will preach.

Cancer Society changes meeting time

The Schleicher County Unit of the American Cancer Society has changed its meeting time to Wednesday, Nov. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building. Dr. Brame will be there to speak about Laetril and answer questions concerning this new and controversial drug used in the treatment of Cancer. Every one is urged to attend. Don't forget Thursday, Nov. 17th is "Smoke-Out" day. One person out of every four will be affected by Cancer. We want to wipe it out in your lifetime. See you there!

Deer licenses have been selling at a record pace this year. All locations report some sales last week and early this week. Licenses may be purchased at the following locations: Sofge's Grocery, Adobe Mini-Mart, Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., and Western Auto associate store.

Charles Harris at Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. said, "We have been selling hunting licenses steadily for many days to local as well as out of state hunters."

Adobe Mini-Mart manager, Rick Crawford, said hunters were already buying supplies at his store too. His business in caps, licenses, and ammunition has been higher than usual for the past 7 days.

Jerroll Sanders, at the El Dorado Restaurant, said he is lining up extra help this week to take care of the usual boom in business during hunting season.

The Eagle Dairy Mart is now open at 6:00 a.m. for breakfast, and John Callison is preparing for a good early morning business.

The deer population in the county is variable. It is better than last year in some places, but not as good as last year in others. The bucks are reported in good condition as well as good size. But doe are reported in poor shape in most areas.

If the cold weather holds until Saturday, the buck should be running and a few good ones should be taken.

Glynn Edmondson at Top Package Store, is having his 13th annual deer trophy awards this year. Hunters must register at the store before they begin hunting.

For the third year, the American Sportsmen's Club of Dallas has leased the Jim O'Harrow Ranch. The men from Dallas will hunt in groups and do it all on foot. The O'Harrow Ranch is in northeast Schleicher County.

GARDEN CHECK LIST FOR NOVEMBER

1. Still time to plant top quality spring flowering bulbs except for tulips and hyacinths which should be kept in the refrigerator until mid-December.
2. Plant pansies and calendulas in Central Texas. Use started plants at this time.
3. Good time to make a soil test. You will be in a better position to take advantage of any fertilizer sales that may be advertised.
4. PREPARE CHRISTMAS CACTUS. Prepare Christmas cactus for Christmas blooms by placing the popular houseplant in a cool location with night temperatures below 65 degrees if possible. Do not allow the plant to have more than 10 or 12 hours of light per day, particularly if you are growing the cactus under artificial lights.
5. CLEAN THE VEGETABLE GARDEN AREA of dead vegetation which may harbor insects and diseases. Preparation now will be a beginning for very early spring gardening. Late winter will be planting time for winter vegetables.
6. MULCH PLANTINGS to protect against winter cold. Pine needles and dried leaves make an excellent insulation against cold. Clean straw or hay also works provided there is no grain or seed to attract rodents.
7. CORRECT POORLY DRAINED AREAS in the landscape to prevent winter rains from standing around plant and grass areas. Keep wet leaves raked from lawn grasses which may block aeration and sunlight.
8. Dig and store caladium tubers.
9. TAKE CUTTINGS OF TENDER PERENNIALS which will not take the cold so as to have a start next spring...such plants as coleus, geranium, alternanthera, and copperleaf... may be carried over in a protected area.
10. Still time to collect some interesting seeds, seedpods, leaves and other interesting dried plant materials for winter or Thanksgiving arrangements.
11. Prepare feed and winter shelter for birds.
12. Mid-November through January and early February is the ideal time to plant trees and shrubs.
13. Spring annual flowers that can be planted now for early flowers include pansies, pinks, wallflowers, snapdragons, etc. These seem to prefer the cool weather of Winter to become established.
14. Place those leaves and garden debris in the compost bin, not in the land fill. Regardless of how you dispose of them keep them raked off the lawn area to keep from smothering the grass.
15. Don't forget to water during prolonged dry spells.
16. Store tools but first, oil and sharpen so they will be ready to use.
17. Drain gasoline from power tool tanks or run until empty. This will prevent fuel lines from getting gummed with evaporating gas.
18. Spot check evergreen plants such as Euonymus, Holly and others, for scale. Use dormant oil spray as directed on the label.

19. Brown patch can really ruin the appearance of the lawn and often weakens it to the point that Winter injury can readily occur. Treat infected areas with Terraclor (PCNB). Apply according to label instructions.

20. Count your blessings and be Thankful!

TREE-SHAPED PLANTS FOR LANDSCAPING

Tree or standard shaped plants can add interest and contrast to the landscape. A variety of such plants may be available at local nurseries or garden centers, or you can have the satisfaction of growing your own specimens.

Such plants can be grown in containers for indoor landscaping or placed outside. Azaleas, Japanese yew, hollies, and wax-leaf ligustrum are standard plants that can be used for "tree-shaped".

Place a strong stake in the container alongside the central trunk or leader of the plant. This braces the plant for later development of top branches.

Remove all side shoots from the plant to allow a sturdy trunk to form. When the central leader reaches the desired height, pinch off the central bud to start the branching process.

Do not remove the stake supporting the central trunk until the plant has grown strong enough to support the top branches.

A container for a "tree-shaped" plant should have an adequate drainage hole. Use a good mixture of rich sandy loam soil and organic materials such as peat moss. A good water soluble fertilizer will promote the growth and health of your new "tree".

For an unusual touch, use flowering perennials and annuals such as coleus and geraniums. English ivy covering a round ball of chicken wire also makes an interesting "tree".

No matter what specimen of plant is used, most require occasional pruning and feeding as well as considerable time, to make an attractive addition to your landscape.

HANGING BASKETS SAVE SPACE

If you don't have room for all the gorgeous plants you wanted to put in your house, don't worry. Just hang them somewhere.

Hanging baskets can live on terraces, porches, eaves or the walls of a house. Any types of drooping, spreading plants such as ferns or airplane plants look good in hanging baskets.

Asparagus sprengeri ferns are good for hanging baskets because they can tolerate a lot of direct sun and some cold. Succulents are also fairly hardy plants. Boston type ferns require high humidity and partial shade.

Periwinkles are well suited to hanging baskets and will bloom through the hottest weather until the first frost. Petunias, which also look attractive in hanging baskets, are best to use during the Spring and early Summer.

Any clay or ceramic pot with good drainage hung in a galvanized wire, wooden, terra cotta or string hanging planter is suitable to use.

Use a good potting soil which is high in organic matter. Put the plants in the basket at the same depth they were originally growing. Allow about an inch of space between the soil line and the top of the container, so water does not overflow.

A convenient way to water and fertilize hanging baskets is to immerse the entire container in a tub of water containing a small amount of soluble fertilizer. Hanging baskets may have to be watered once a day during hot, dry weather.

Legion Post honors WWI Vets

This Saturday morning, Nov. 12th, at 7:00 o'clock in the Memorial Building, the Bev McCormick post of the American Legion will put on their annual breakfast honoring World War I veterans and their widows. Commander Tom Miner and other Legion post officers report that arrangements are about complete for the event which has been put on for the past several years on or about Veterans Day: Nov. 11th. There are only seven World War I veterans known to be still living in Schleicher County. They are W.F. (Rocky) Meador, Fred Gunstead, Andrew Campbell, Jud Brannan, Lester Henderson, H. Leslie Jones, and Happy Doss.

All World War I veterans known to be living here were given life membership in the local American Legion post some years ago. Legionnaires of the local post will assist in cooking and serving the breakfast Saturday morning.
