RICHARDSON GETS 99 YEARS

Everything In Readiness For Highway No. 1 Construction

W. A. French, Engineer In Statement

W. A. French, district engineer on the state highway department, said Friday that everything was in readiness for construction work on Highway No. 1 through Howard county.

He said that all that was needed was a work order from the commission. The highway department is ready to handle the project as soon as the word is given, he said.

Highway No. 1 through this county will likely be handled as a drought relief project.

French had no comment to make regarding status of highway No. 9 north and south.

County Judge H. R. Debenport and Chamber of Commerce Manager C. T. Watson received communications Friday from Magda P. Cusnod, recorder for the state highway commission, granting an audience to delegations from Howard and Dawson counties.

"In compliance with your request of June 17," wrote Cusnod, "we have registered representatives from counties of Howard and Dawson for a hearing before the highway commission on July 31, 1934."

The emissaries are to appear before the commission in an effort to expedite construction work on highway No. 9.

Robbins To Perform In Big Spring In This Plane

Shown here is the special built racing plane of Reg Robbins, famed Texas pilot, who will be in charge of the air show here Sunday at the Wilcox Farm, being sponsored by the Buffalo Trails Council Boy Scouts of America. Circus To Be Held At Wilcox Farm On San Angelo Highway

Reg Robbins, shown here, Fort Worth flier who gained international recognition as an endurance flier and for a projected refusing non-stop flight from Seattle to Tokyo several years ago, is to present a complete air circus here Sunday afternoon beginning at 2:15 on the Wilcox farm four miles south of the city on the San Angelo highway. The Buffalo Trails Council of Boy Scouts will share in the proceeds.

Arrangements for the show, which will be supplemented by daredevil stunts on the ground by Louis Tackett, motorcycle rider, will be completed here Friday by the flier, who expects to go back to Fort Worth tonight, returning Saturday with a racer plane.

He came to Big Spring Thursday from Ballinger in his big Tri-motor Ford.

Included in the troupe will be Leon McKennon, parachute jumper; Cal Murray, noted parachute jumper; Jess Britlow, stunt pilot; Louis Tackett, motorcycle rider and Robbins. Five planes will be brought here by the ace and these, supplemented by other West Texas pilots, will fly over the city in formation Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A charge of $1 per car, with no limit on the number of passengers, will be made at the gate. There will be a charge of 50 cents per person where the car has been parked out on the road and the passengers are walking into the grounds, it was explained. A cold drink stand will be the only concession on the ground, and the Boy Scouts will share in proceeds from the stand.

While the 'show is the thing,' passengers will be taken aloft by Robbins in his tri-motor Ford plane. Opening the show with a major thrill will be the 5,000 feet parachute jump to be made by Leon McKennon. He is to drop 3,500 feet before opening his parachute and his fall will be marked by a trail of flour. This stunt is scheduled at 2:15, and the balance of the show will follow on scheduled time, Robbins says.

Robbins said he would take aloft any couple desiring to be married in his plane while flying. The wedding time is set for 3:45. Robbins may be reached at the Crawford hotel.

Kenny, director of the state division of fisheries and game, attributes the gain to improvement in economic conditions.

Drouth Dried Out Airplanes CHICAGO, (UP)—The 30-day drouth in the midwest did peculiar things to unprotected spars and plywood used in airplane wings. Smith McKinnon Friday withdrew as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Howard county.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR "RESPECTED BY ALL"... with purity and holiness will I pass my life and practice my art...

It is not likely that Dr. A. R. Dafeo thought of those words from the ancient Hippocratic oath...

"Respected always by all men." They say, up there in the backwoods Ontario neighborhood...

Yet Dr. Dafeo's pockets are stuffed with letters from medical men of the cities wanting to know details of the one-in-a-million case of the Dionne quintuplets.

Note the gruff warning to Dionne that he'd better get a hired girl or start making arrangements for a new wife.

Note the 4 a. m. trip to Dr. Dafeo to the Dionne home, the calm way in which he relieved the trembling midwife when a third baby had been born and two more were yet to come.

Note the untroubled way in which this country doctor regarded the whole thing as just another childbirth, how with a kindly dictatorship over the household...

It is good indeed to look upon Dr. Dafeo, a medico of the old school, who saw his duty and did it.

ROBERT T. FINER

Ira Thurman, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, Friday morning received a letter from Robert T. Finer, active vice president of the institution...

The shot was made on a 125-yard hole, which is buffeted by many hazards. Mr. Finer said he made the shot with a No. 5 iron, the ball striking in the middle of the green and rolling to the pin for a do-do.

It was reported Mr. Finer and daughter had intended to return to Big Spring latter part of this week, but since making the hole-in-one, his appearance on the links has been in much demand, and there was a possibility of being matched with Oil Dutra in tournament play.

Mr. Finer reports the California country is agreeing with him, having gained over five pounds since he has been vacationing there.

The Linck soft ball team had a narrow escape in beating the Cunningham & Phillips team 13 to 12 Thursday in a League No. 2 game.

The Druggists, lagging 13 to 10 at the end of the sixth inning, opened with a rally in the seventh but it fell one run short of tying the score.

Scoring was nip and tuck, and both teams made numerous errors because of high wind.

SPORT LINES

By TOM BEASLEY

Next Wednesday teams in the Big Spring Soft Ball association can wipe the slate and start off neck-and-neck again. It will be the first day of the last half. The Robinsonites have a clinch on winning the first half pennant. There's no way to change that, but the department predicts a shift in the standings during the last lap.

The Cosden No. 1 soft ball team, intent on taking some of the smartness out of the Cosden Pipe Line aggregation stationed at Foran, will play the Pipe Liners at Foran on Saturday at 5 p. m. today.

Spike Henninger, skipper of the Cosden Oilers, entrants in the UB Eighty league, is a worried man. The Oilers have absorbed one shel-lace after another and now rest in the cellar position. Henninger knew that something had to be done and done quick. As a result, Spike has a surprise hurler to take the mound against the Coahoma Bulldogs here Sunday. The new pitcher is from Lubbock. Other changes in the line-up will be made, the manager informed us.

One of the most improved teams in the league is the Bible Class. The Churchmen started the season with a very weak line-up, but now rank among the strongest. The Kiwanis outfit is another team with a bolstered line-up.

Golf Field Is Narrowed Down

The field of golfers in the Munny tournament continued to narrow Thursday as two championship flight first round matches and one first flight match was played.

Theron Hicks, for a number of years one of Big Spring's leading golfers, and a regular member of the Sand Belt golf team, staid his game Thursday afternoon to eliminate W. W. Pendleton 5-4 in a first round match. Pendleton was two down at the turn. Hicks was forced to shoot near par golf to win the match.

Roosevelt Popularity Shows Gain With Over 1,000,000 Votes Talled In Literary Digest New Deal Poll

The New Deal gains an increasing approval as 1,109,827 ballots are tabulated in the Literary Digest's nationwide poll on Roosevelt's acts and policies, the returns of which will be published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

Forty-seven states still show a majority vote for the president with Vermont only dissenting by the narrow margin of 2.38 per cent.

This sixth report on the poll gives a tally of 727,700 ballots in favor of the New Deal, or 62.21 per cent of the total vote, to 442,127 ballots registering opposition.

Seven states give the president a vote of more than 3 to 1 and ten additional states ballot over 2 to 1 in favor of his acts and policies.

An "Analysis of How Voters in this Poll Voted in 1933, and How They Vote Now" shows that more than 4 out of 5 who voted officially for Roosevelt continue to support him, and further, that more than 1 out of every 3 who voted for Hoover are now in favor of the New Deal now.

Twenty-eight states give the president a larger majority in the poll than they did in the election, while twenty states, mainly in the south and the agricultural regions, give the president a smaller ratio than when he was elected.

The heaviest gains for the New Deal are noted in all of the north-eastern states, California, Oregon, Ohio and the border states of Kentucky and West Virginia.

South Dakota, one of the drought states, shows the widest swinging from the Roosevelt banner. There, about every 3 out of 10 who voted for the president eighteen months ago are opposed to his policies now.

The New Deal shows a gain of 1.02 per cent over the balloting reported two weeks previously, which was the smallest majority for it registered in any of the poll tallies.

Business men of the nation also favor the New Deal, according to the returns from a special poll conducted amongst them by The Literary Digest.

The business men vote 57,626 for the New Deal to 11,892 against it.

In ten states the business men register a clear majority against Roosevelt's acts and policies. More than 1 out of 4 of them who voted for Roosevelt in 1932 register opposition to his policies in their special poll.

In thirteen states the poll of the physicians reveals a majority opposed to the New Deal. Only 76,622, 15,711 "No" votes in answer to the question: "Do You Approve on the Whole the Acts and Policies of Roosevelt's First Year?"

A third special poll conducted among the clergy, from coast to coast, shows the ministers favor the New Deal by a majority vote of 53.75 per cent. Of the 14,465 votes tabulated so far in the clergy poll, 8,064 support the president and 6,401 vote against him.

The ministers who voted for Roosevelt in 1932 give the president the staunchest support he receives from his election adherents in all of the several polls as 83.40 per cent of the clergy who voted for him officially are for him now, according to the poll returns.

Returns this week in The Literary Digest-College Newspaper Poll of American undergraduates record an approving ratio of 64.46 per cent of the 13,654 ballots returned to date from fourteen colleges.

A comparison of the previous week's tabulations shows that the lead for the New Deal is gaining in all except New York University, Harvard and Virginia.

The University of Wisconsin votes strongest for the New Deal with a 72.03 per cent majority, while the lowest ratio comes from the University of Illinois, where only 57.46 per cent of the ballots are marked in favor of the Roosevelt-acts and policies.

An analysis of these college ballots as to how the students voted in the 1932 presidential election shows that Hoover "carried" ten of the fourteen colleges while the poll returns show that Roosevelt is now "carrying" all fourteen of the institutions.

"The New Deal has lost ground in thirty-three states since the last report," The Literary Digest will state editorially tomorrow.

"However, in most cases the losses were so small as to be negligible. Those fractional losses may be regarded leveling rather than a significant reversal.

"There is an apt comparison: Shake a bucket into which sand has been poured and the peak will be leveled and lowered but there will be still the same amount of sand in the bucket.

"The states that show an increase over last week are in general, those farthest from Poll Headquarters in New York City. Mailing times and distance have made totals for those states mount slowly. Their returns reflect the same early increase evident in the nearer Eastern and Mid-Western states.

"The poll shows but nine 'marginal' states that give the New Deal less than a 5 per cent edge on the opposition: Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, South Dakota, and New Hampshire.

"Vermont is still the only state in which the 'Noes' have outnumbered the 'Yea' ballots. The edge there is only 2.38 per cent for those who have registered disapproval of the New Deal 'on the whole.'

"Of the six states that have returned a majority of disapproving 'No' ballots in The Literary Digest poll, six of the fifteen states that gave Roosevelt less than 50 per cent of their popular vote in 1932, only six now fall in the list of 'marginal' states in The Literary Digest poll: Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont.

"The returns in three special Literary Digest polls of the clergy, physicians, and business men are in this week.

"The results indicate that business men, as a class, stay quite close in the wake of the results in the main poll, instead of breaking away as did the banker-ballots.

"It could have been predicted safely that physicians and the clergy would not differ greatly from the general voice of approval for the New Deal—their approval was expected.

"The case of the business-ballots presents a different problem. Judging from the comment scribbled on The Literary Digest poll-ballots and a hundred other popular expressions, the NRA has been a bone of contention that could be expected to turn a great many business men against the New Deal—certainly as much so as certain of the President's policies have antagonized the bankers. Such has not been the case.

"Business men in only twelve states returned majorities of 'No' ballots in their special poll. The returns were heavy enough in but nine of the twelve to be of any real significance.

"This special Literary Digest poll showed the strongest opposition among the business men in Maine and Vermont. Illinois and Connecticut hovered close to the five per cent edge that marked them as 'marginal' states."

T.E.L. Class Holds Social, Business Meet

Members and guests of the T.E.L. Sunday school class of the First Baptist church met in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon for a social and business meeting. In the absence of the president, Mrs. D. J. Dooley had charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Willis J. Ray, wife of the new district missionary, was introduced to the group by the class teacher, Mrs. K. E. Beckett, and welcomed by the class. Mrs. Ray gave the devotional which opened the meeting.

Among business matters taken up was the election of Mrs. Gibson as third vice president to succeed Mrs. T. L. Layne, resigned. Reports of committees were heard.

Great interest was manifested in the announcement that Miss Lucille Ragan, missionary in the Baptist church foreign field, is on her way home for a rest from her work in Africa.

A program of readings and music followed the business meeting and the class then went into a social hour during which refreshments of angel cake and ice cream were served by Mesdames Layne, Beckett and Annie Bensley.

New Greyhound Bus Put Into Service

The first five of the 15 new streamlined buses ordered by the Southwestern Greyhound Lines have been delivered and put into service over the line from Dallas and Fort Worth to El Paso.

Containing the very latest developments in equipment of this nature, the new buses provide maximum travel comfort plus added protection against road failures, as a result of dual engine features which operate together or independently of each other.

With the addition of these new buses by the Southwestern Greyhound Lines, the Dallas-El Paso territory will continue to enjoy bus transportation equal to the best in the nation. Ten additional new buses have been ordered and will be placed in operation between Dallas and St. Louis via Tulsa within the next two weeks, providing service from St. Louis to El Paso without a change in buses, and requiring only one change (at El Paso) between St. Louis and Los Angeles.

N. Y. COMMAND CHANGES HANDS SOCIALITE BOXER GETS IN TRIM; BOUT THREATENED

Enzo Fiermonte, handsome Italian boxer who married Mrs. William K. Dick, the former Mrs. John Jacob Astor, already has begun getting in trim for his proposed fight next fall with Maxey Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion. The New York state athletic commission warned Madison Square Garden, however, that it would not approve a title bout between the two fighters. Above is "Crampton House," palatial establishment at fashionable Westhampton, L. I., which was leased by Mrs. Fiermonte as training quarters for her husband. (Associated Press Photo)

Names 'Radicals' In Little Red Book

AWAITING ARRIVAL OF STORK

While confirmation was withheld in both households, it was reported in New York that the stork is expected in two famous families, those of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion. Mrs. Lindbergh (left) is the mother of one son, Jon Norrow Lindbergh, born after her first child was killed by kidnapers. Mrs. Tunney (right) also has one son, Gene Lauder Tunney. (Associated Press Photos)

To Trial For Murder

Victim In Slaying

AUTHOR WITH ACTOR-HUSBAND

'PROBLEM BOY' IS CONVICTED

George Rogalski (right), 14-year-old Chicago boy charged with kidnaping in connection with the death of two-year-old Doretta Zietlow, was convicted by a jury and sentenced to 10 years in prison. Rogalski, shown with Judge Francis B. Allegretti, who heard the case, admitted enticing the baby to an abandoned building and leaving her to die. (Associated Press Photo)

ROMEO QUIZZED ON WIFE'S FATE

This Associated Press radiophoto sent from London shows Capt. Ivan Pudarjaj, former Yugoslavian officer, who was held in Vienna during the far-flung investigation into the mystery surrounding the disappearance of his American wife, Agnes Tufverson, formerly of Detroit and New York. Developments revealed that Pudarjaj, whose stories included a number of verisons, had been entangled in more than one international romance.

CUBAN PRESIDENT ESCAPES BOMB

Golf, too, has its Business Moments

"HEAD DOWN, eye on the ball." When this admonition to yourself brings the reward of a zinging drive up the fairway, a beautiful mashie shot to the green or a twenty-foot putt right into the cup . . . It's then that the real thrill of the game begins to seep into your veins; the worries of state give way to the pleasant concern of lowering your score; while the fresh air and the exercise pay dividends in health and mental fitness for the battles of life.

"Head down, eye on the ball." But keep your eye also on that other phase so productive of added pleasure—the possession of up-to-date equipment.

August is golf's mid-season. Sale of golfers' requisites are on or imminent. That set of matched irons, that swanky new-fangled bag, those comfortable spiked moccasin-tops, or those look-the-part-of-a-golfer-togs—all are beckoning to you from the stores in this city.

Keep your "head down"—and keep the cost of your golf down too. Keep your "eye on the ball"—and on the golfing-supplies advertisements in this newspaper. Shrewd buying—the business phase of your golf—is at hand. Cash in.

P. S.—There are good bargains, too, in equipment for tennis, swimming, camping, fishing, touring.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

Chapter 37
BATTLE OF WITS
"Who knows?" asked Harper. "If the dead man wrote the letters, that will be all, but just a minute ago you were ready to pin it on Andrews. He's still very much alive and quite capable of writing letters if he wants to. Besides that, there may be a genuine Mr. X hiding in the woodpile. It's at least possible that these threatening letters had nothing whatever to do with last night's affair."
Lafferty snorted. "Sure, and maybe there weren't any murders here last night. For heaven's sake, let's pinch somebody, then listen to them arguing themselves out of it."

"There is proof that there was such a plot."
It would save a lot of wear and tear on us."
They grinned amiably at each other, but Harper went right on with his analysis. "The next point is the fact that each letter is on a different color of paper, yellow, gray, blue, light green and so on. A good quality paper, too, though a little soiled and faded."
Harper nodded. "I think you're right. It is also my idea that they were written by a man of considerably higher intelligence than their contents indicate. Printing the words is a dodge used by persons who are afraid that even a dis-

Witchcraft Charged

Mrs. Anna Jurich was arrested in Milwaukee and accused by the state medical board of malpractice. She allegedly attempted witchcraft in efforts to prevent the birth of a child. (Associated Press Photo)

"Sure. I heard voices overhead, and I thought you were hiding a seance, so I let go. You never can tell what may come from a surprise."
"Well, you nearly scared the Crocodyns to death, but Dufreme never batted an eyelash. It gave me a good opening to break the news about finding the gun. I predicted the bullets would check up and they have. While I tackle Andrews again you'd better hop over to Mrs. Morlock's and see what you can gather there, but be smooth about it."
Lafferty rose. "Don't worry about that, but I'll bring back the bacon just the same. And don't you be too gentle with Andrews. It's about time we sat down on somebody and sat down hard. We've been doing all the talking up to now. Let's give the others a chance."
After the detective had gone Harper gathered the letters into one.

In a non-partisan way that they are pledged to return here in November and December to make a final report, regardless of their luck at the polls. Meanwhile, the inquiry will proceed steadily, aided by representatives of the Department of Justice and the Comptroller General's office.

There has been no grandstanding by the subcommittee. It has not sought the spotlight with open hearings. Everything has been conducted in date behind closed doors—which brings walls from General Foulis.

Committeemen point out they did NOT recommend a court martial for Foulis. They merely have called for his transfer to some other post in the military establishment. They laid unpleasant charges of "incompetency" and "mismanagement" on his doorstep but they did NOT allege sharp practice.

Back on May 16 this column discussed the investigation and revealed there was a feeling Foulis had built up a ruling clique of oldtimers in the Air Corps that new blood could not penetrate. It was disclosed that Assistant Secretary of War Henry H. Woodring was working with the subcommittee to give army aviation a new deal. On March 16—if you chanced to be reading this—this column disclosed the committee's original amazement that aviation bids had been non-competitive.

Foulis is bitter about the charges. He has a long and honorable career behind him. He was one of our first aviators. He says he can meet his detractors at any time in open court. The General has served long enough to retire voluntarily, although he has not reached the compulsory age.

Trade

NRA has gone into the publishing business. Each week a four-page paper called the "Blue Eagle" is distributed free under an official frank to "code authorities, compliance boards, trade associations, etc., and other individual bodies interested in rulings, and policies of the NRA."

It is a paper that carries some information—and a lot of plugs for the Code Eagle, new emblem of acquiescence industry.

Also, the first edition carried facsimiles of four newspaper ads. One was by a New York department store, one by a Washington ladies' store, and two had been inspired by a Masonic, O., bank.

The "Blue Eagle" explained in a box that "The advertisements shown are a few reduced reproductions taken from the daily press, and are presented to show how merchants and other business interests are using the new Code Eagle in their local advertising."

This appraisal of the ads in question was correct. They were devoted entirely to extolling the benefits to be derived from operating under a code, merely carrying the name of the advertiser once.

Opponents of the New Deal, however, have dug up Rule 39 of the "Regulations of the Joint Committee of Congress on Printing relative to periodicals and field printing." It says:

"No publication or any other printed matter accomplished at a field plant shall contain any advertisement inserted by or for any private individual, firm, or corporation." A compulsory opinion says this holds true in any government publication because it gets free circulation and the ad would give the firm selected an unfair advantage.

Labor

Over tremendous outside opposition, and despite non-inclusion on the administration's list of "must" legislation, the Brotherhood forced through the railway pension bill and the Dill-Crosson measure establishing federal boards to settle this summer's railroad labor disputes.

The American Federation of Labor was not half as lucky. They had backed all the way on the Wagner bill putting teeth in the National Labor Board. The compromise that passed finally was branded unsatisfactory in advance by President William Green.

But Green can rest on his laurels for the moment. Important factions of the union movement had been yelling for his scalp because of alleged lackadaisical leadership.

The bold manner in which he held off a strike in the steel industry has won him back considerable support—despite the claims of the operators that the workers did NOT want to walk out in the beginning.

More grief is in store for Green this summer. The employers are sharp-shooting at him.

Notes

Old hands in the state department foresee conditions in Cuba which will compel Uncle Sam to butt in. FDR went through the jam of closing hours in fine spirits, signing bills—and vetoing them—with both hands. Uncle Sam is preparing for a real run-in with Germany on debt payments, and equal treatment of creditors. In his swansong Commissioner Guevara of the Philippines predicts that Uncle Sam will find chaos in the islands after application of the independence act.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

Partner

Insiders will tell you that the National Association of Manufacturers is serving the Republican party as an extremely useful silent partner these days.

NAMUSA's sphere of action is not too obviously partisan. The first move is to obtain the attendance of as many of the big shots of each industry as possible at this year's trade conventions. Once they're assembled NAMUSA's spokesmen go to work. Outspoken attacks on the New Deal are surprisingly rare. Rather it's usually suggested that the NRA is worth retaining—but wouldn't its benefits be more pronounced if it were administered by safe and sound Republicans instead of flighty and radical Democrats?

The general implication is that Republican handling would mean continued suspension of the anti-trust laws which big business wants—but revision of NRA labor features distasteful to industry and less government supervision of codes.

Orthodox

The idea is attractive to many business men who might be offended if the approach were directly political. In this way NAMUSA can do—and is doing—an organization job for the Republicans that the Republicans as such can't do for themselves. Don't underestimate the political potency of the trade associations operating on a united front. They were the backbone of the successful Hoover campaign in '28.

The Manufacturers' Association's hostility to organized labor is hardly a secret. Here again the silent partner can foreshadow a party policy which appears to concernatives. The party itself is not exposed to an official commitment that might prove embarrassing to NAMUSA is helping intelligently to rebuild Republican foundations on orthodox lines without premature publicity. The very fact that it functions backstage adds to its effectiveness.

Votes

NAMUSA representatives are privately pushing an idea that gives a neat slant on the Republican tie-up.

At more than one trade convention they've broached the thought that persons accepting relief from public funds should be disfranchised while they are on the relief rolls and for one year thereafter. It has registered well with industrial magnates who are convinced that most of their woes trace to radical legislators elected by "the jobless democracy."

You might ask what the trade associations can do about it. For one thing they have influence with many state legislatures—and states determine the qualifications of voters within their boundaries. New Hampshire has a basic precedent in an old law which rules out recipients of town relief. For another the associations are in a position to supply tested planks on which candidates can base their platforms.

Goat

Financial men interested in aviation agree that General Foulis had to be the goat on the air mail fiasco—as predicted in this column in March. Look at his qualifications: (1) He owes his job to Hoover. (2) He's not a West Pointer. (3) The General Staff dislikes him cordially. (4) He rubbed the House committee the wrong way when he testified before it. New York insiders say this last accounts for his failure to get the consolation of a single Republican vote in his support.

Even the aircraft people who got the criticized army contracts have chilled on him. They say Foulis can't get appropriations from a hostile congress—and what use is he without money to buy planes?

Only the Air Corps itself comes to his defense. The pilot's language is sizzling and the yalk of another Billy Mitchell show.

Fire

The Foulis uproar isn't all smoke. Insiders say the fire is in the procurement set-up at Dayton. Those who should know tell you aircraft builders who weren't "in" stood the proverbial snowball's chance of getting contracts.

The General's honesty isn't questioned. He's rated well-meaning—but way out of his depth.

Envy

The impossible has happened—New York is envious of Chicago. Local stock brokers look longingly at the column of commodity transactions on the Chicago Board of Trade and wonder what it feels like to make a profit on commissions. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate).
