Sweethearts Crowned At Homecoming Friday

The weather was perfect, the mood was festive and best of all, the Eagles won a victory over the Menard Yellowjackets to make Homecoming 1978 complete.

Homecoming activities began with a bonfire at the 4-H barn with a large stack of wood rebuilt after the first bonfire was burned the week before. During the game Friday night, three local girls were honored. Kara Homer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenith Homer was named homecoming queen. She was elected over three other candidates, Angie Fay, Jeanie Nicholson and Lori Whitaker. Miss Homer is a sophomore.

Cherie Niblett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Niblett, was named band sweetheart, and Sammye Jay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jay was named football sweetheart. The night was made complete with the victory over the Yellowjackets, as the Eagles scored the only touchdown in the game during the third quarter. They won the game 6-0. Final homecoming activities were a high school dance in the Memorial Building and a junior high school dance in the school cafeteria.

Eldorado Surprises Yellowjackets, 6-0

The Eldorado Eagles kept pace with the high spirits of the homecoming events last week as they downed the Menard Yellowjackets 6-0 here Friday night before a large homecoming crowd.

It was a very sweet victory for the previously disheartened Eagles who had seen their coach, Mike Williamson, enter the hospital the day of their first scrimmage where he spent the next 47 days fighting his own battle against a disease called Guillain-Barre Syndrome.

But Friday night, with Coach Williamson returning to the sideline, brought a new dimension to the little Eagle team which left little doubt that these boys were going to win and they were going to win for their coach.

Throughout the game fans were thrilled by play after play as the Eagles matched wits with the Yellowjackets, finally scoring in the third quarter for the only score made in the game.

After the final play Coach Williamson threw his walking cane into the air and was hoisted to the shoulders of some of his players and carried onto the field where he was greeted by the rest of the team. Before going to the dressing room they knelt on the field with the coaches for prayer. Yes, Coach Williamson is back home with his kids and they proved it Friday night.

Both teams played solid defense most of the first half with neither team mounting any kind of scoring threat until late in the second quarter.

Keith McCormick recovered a Menard fumble at the 50 yard line late in the second quarter and Sam Whitten picked up nine yards on the first play. On the next play Menard was guilty of a pass interference penalty taking the ball to the 17 yard line and a first down.

The Yellowjacket defense backed the Eagles back to the 25 yard line where John Cheatham tried a field goal on fourth down. The kick was no good.

The Yellowjackets took over on the 20 yard line and moved to the Eagles nine yard line in four plays. On a second and nine situation Cheatham picked off a pass to stop the drive and end the scoreless first half of play.

The Eagles received the second half kickoff and moved for two first downs before being forced to punt on fourth down.

Menard took over on their 15 yard line, but the fired up Eagle defense forced them into a punting situation. Joel Robledo rushed in and blocked. See EAGLES, Page 2

Just Talking

By NELL EDMISTON

Mrs. F.M. Bradley Sr. is now a patient at St. John's Hospital in San Angelo. Mrs. Bradley is 90 years old and this is the first time she has ever been in a hospital. That is a fine record in this day and age when they seem to be finding more and more things that can be wrong with you, even when you feel well.

Be sure to vote in the elections Tuesday. We have a story on this page telling where you can vote and listing all the candidates. Although we did not have space in this paper for all their views on the major issues, you have probably heard all you need to from other sources. Keep what you have heard in mind and vote for the candidate you feel is best qualified.

If you'll look at Dorothy Evans these days, you may think her hair is getting a little thinner. If so, it is because she has her hands more than full tending to county taxes.

As secretary to county tax-assessor and collector Orval Edmiston, she was plenty busy getting out tax statements. But now she is getting return mail with payments enclosed. In fact, she was getting up to 200 letters a day after statements were sent out.

At first, she had to work both Saturdays and Sundays to keep up with the mail. Now she is back on a five day schedule but still has not time to stop and chat.

When you walk into the office she is usually glued to her chair and is running an adding machine so fast it makes your ears ring.

But she is optimistic about the job as she has done this for several years. All she can do is keep busy and remember there will be a lull period after the first of the year. Then she can relax and take things easier — until tax time next year.

Voters Are Studying Candidates As General Election Day Nears

Tuesday is the big day. The big day for all politicians, that is, because it is general election day.

Polls here will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in four places. Precinct one voters will go to the high school gymnasium; precinct two voters will go to Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative; precinct three voters will go to the Memorial Building and precinct four voters will vote in the high school band hall.

Friday will be the last day of absentee voting which takes place in the county clerk's office. County clerk Helen Blakeway reported that absentee voting this year has been light as only 40 persons have voted absentee.

In local elections, voters will have only one choice in all but one race. Johnny F. Griffin won the May Democratic primary for county judge and is the only person listed on the ballot for the office. It is the same story with district and county clerk Helen Blakeway, county treasurer A.G. "Mack" McCormack, county commissioner for precinct 2 Holvey Enochs and justice of the peace Frank "Pancho" Bradley Jr.

However, voters in precinct 4 will have to decide whether to vote for either incumbent commissioner

David Meador or writein candidate De Lux. Meador and Lux met in a runoff last June after the May primary and Meador won that contest. But Lux has refiled as a writein candidate. His name will not appear on the ballot so persons voting for him will have to write his name in the column for writein candidates.

In statewide elections, the decisions may not be that easy. Running for U.S. Senator is Democrat Robert "Bob" Krueger, Republican incumbent John Tower, Luis A. Diaz DeLeon of the Raza Unida Party and Miguel Pendas of the Socialist Workers Party.

In the race for U.S. representative for the 21st district are Nelson Wolff, Democrat and Tom Loeffler, Republican, Mario C. Compean, Raza Unida and Sara Jean Johnston, Socialist Workers are running for governor.

In the lieutenant governor's race, candidates are Bill Hobby, Democrat; Gaylord Marshall, Republican and Andrea Doorack, Socialist Workers.

Running for attorney general are Mark White, Democrat; Jim Baker, Republican and Agnes Chapa, Socialist Workers.

Bob Bullock, Democrat, is the only person listed for comptroller of public accounts.

Warren G. Harding, Democrat if facing Derrick Adams, Socialist Workers, for state treasurer.

In the race for commissioner of general land office, Bob Armstrong is the only man running for the office and Ragan V. Brown is the only man running for commissioner of agriculture. Both are Democrats.

For railroad commissioner, candidates are Mack Wallace, democrat and Jana Pellusch, Socialist Workers.

John H. Poerner, Democrat and James W. Lacy, Republican, are opposing each other for an unexpired term of railroad commissioner.

There are eight Democrats running unopposed for seats in the justice system. They and the offices they are trying to fill are: Joe R. Greenhill, chief justice, supreme court; Franklin Spears, associate justice, supreme court, place one; Sam D. Johnson, associate justice, supreme court, place two; Charles W. Barrow, associate justice, supreme court, place three; Robert M. Campbell, associate justice, supreme court, place four; Wendell A. Odom, judge, court of criminal appeals, place one; Sam Houston Clinton, judge court of criminal appeals, place two and W.C. "Bill" Davis, judge court of criminal appeals, place three.

Other Democrats running unopposed are W.E. "Pete" Snelson, state senator, district 25; James E. "Jim" Nugent, state representative, district 56 and John C. Phillips, chief justice, court of civil appeals, third district.

In addition to these races, voters will also vote on nine constitutional amendments which were listed in the Leader two weeks ago.

Ghosts And Goblins Spare Eldorado

It was relatively quiet Halloween this year with less vandalism than in the past two years, according to Schleicher County Orval Edmiston.

Edmiston said he attributed the quiet night to the fact that Halloween and the Halloween carnival were on a school night.

Edmiston said most of the "spooks and goblins" were home by 10 p.m. with a few stragglers out until midnight.

Besides tons of toilet paper strung around some of the homes and shaving cream and water balloons thrown at the carnival, there were no reports of any major vandalism.

Scouts Begin Cookie Sales

An annual American tradition will begin locally this weekend, as Girl Scouts begin selling cookies. El Camino Girl Scouts will be taking orders for the cookies from Nov. 3-19 going door-to-door. Varieties offered are Savannah, thin mint, chocolate chip, cheddarette crackers, Scot-tea, country oats and nut crisps and chocolate and vanilla creme.

All proceeds from cookie sales remain in the community in which it is raised and is used to benefit girls.

Firemen Plan Rifle Drawing

The Eldorado volunteer firemen will draw for a deer rifle during their meeting Tuesday night.

Anyone wishing to buy tickets may do so by contacting any fireman.

The firemen meet at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday.

Antlerless Deer Permits Will Be Issued Nov. 14

Schleicher County landowners or their designated agents may pick up their 1978-79 hunting season allotments of antlerless deer permits Nov. 14 at the Memorial Building.

Calvin Van Hooser of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, will be issuing the permits. He will answer any questions for persons eligible to receive them

Landowners are urged to pick up their permits at the stated time to avoid possible delay and inconvenience later.

In this county, the portion of land between the Mertzon and Big Lake Highways is allowed one permit per every 200 acres. In the rest of the county, the landowners are permitted one permit for each 125 acres.

Memories Of World War II and POW Camp Are Recalled During Air Force Reunion

It's a small world. You never know when you will meet where, and sometimes it is someone you haven't seen in 35 years.

Jerroll Sanders is testimony to this statement. He had the occasion to relive many memories of World War II during a reunion held in Washington, D.C. last week. It was the annual reunion of the Eighth Air Force, which he served in during the war.

Sanders got to see many of the men he had flown with not only on occasion but on seven or eight flights. He also met a man who had received the congressional medal of honor shortly after Sanders arrived in England and the officer who ran the mess hall. He admitted none of them looked like the "daring young eagles" he remembered.

Sanders arrived in England May 19, 1943 as one of 23 replacement bombardiers. He flew 23 missions before being shot down over Germany Feb. 11, 1944. He was wounded twice, once in the hand and once by machine gun fire in the leg. He recalls he was standing fastening the harness of his parachute when hit. "If I had been kneeling behind the gunner like I usually did, I would have been shot in the face." The way it was, junk metal did hit his face, head and arm.

When his plane was shot down, he landed by parachute 25 or 30 miles inside the French coast. "When I hit the ground, there was a German sergeant looking at me, about 10 feet away. He said, 'You will come with me, please.' And, of course, I did."

Sanders and the plane's navigator were captured immediately. One man was killed in the plane and one was injured. The injured man was kept by the French underground and eventually turned in to a hospital where he was captured by the Germans. The other six men were hidden by the underground and were returned home.

Sanders was taken to a little town and then put on a train at Paris which took him to Frankfurt where he had dropped bombs two days before. He was then taken to the prisoner of war camp Stalag Luft I at Barth. He and several other prisoners spent one night in a Berlin train yard in a box car. During that night, the British dropped bombs almost constantly.

Once at the camp, he joined about 9,000 U.S. Air Force prisoners. He says they did not receive bad treatment, although they "were a little hungry at times." Red Cross packages were supposed to come once a week for each man, but sometimes one package had to be rationed between four or five men. They supplemented the basis diet of cabbage, potatoes, rutabagas and brown bread that "looked like sawdust."

One night in April, the German guards left the camp with the Russians on their tails. POW's put their own men in the guard towers "to keep the Germans out and the prisoners in."

On May 2, a Russian colonel arrived at the camp to liberate it. He ran a tank along the wire boundaries and had the prisoners burn the towers. "I gathered my chocolate bars and headed east with the Russians," Sanders remembers.

When he and the group of men he was with reached Paris, they were stopped by MP's who spotted their helmet liners and the homemade insignias they had fashioned out of tin cans. They were stopped and ordered to send telegrams home, and then were sent on their way.

At Wismar, Germany on the River Elb, they stopped at a bridge manned by Russian guards on one end and British on the other. "Communication was difficult," Sanders says "because we spoke English and a little German, but the guard spoke only Russian. But then we found out that one of us spoke Polish and so did he. We told him we wanted to cross over to the Allies and he said he could not let us. We told him we would wait until dark and then swim across. Then he grinned and motioned us across."

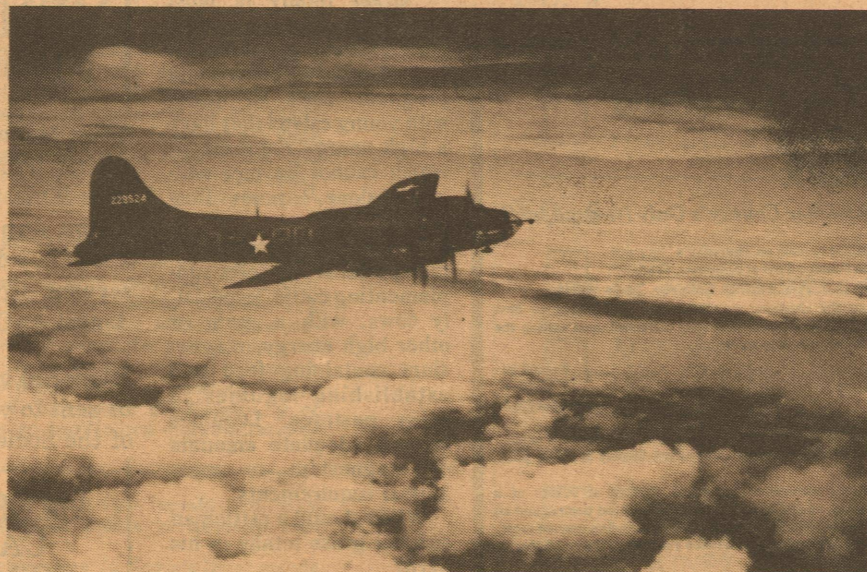

When they got halfway across the bridge, a jeep made a U turn on the other side. On its side was an American flag. "You talk about some boys whooping and hollering, we did it," he laughed. The men spent the night with an American artillery outfit and they showed the former prisoners something new — bazookas. "They set up a 50 gallon barrel of gasoline in a field and then shot it with a bazooka. We were impressed and I bet the Germans were, too."

Sanders was put on a boat headed home and landed in Boston and then went home to Texas. He and his sweetheart, Bobbie, were married while he was on leave. They were headed for Miami, Fla. when the Japanese said they wanted to negotiate for peace.

All of these memories and more were relived during the recent reunion. In addition to meeting the men he had flown with, he saw several books on the eighth air force and pictures of the crews he worked with.

One of the highlights was a visit of the White House. "But I was too busy visiting to go," he laughed.

Eagles Surprise

ed the punt and Eldorado had a first and goal to go at the two yard line. The determined Yellowjackets defense only allowed the Eagles one yard on four running plays and took over on the one yard line. On Menard's first play the Eagles defense hit so hard and fast it caused the second Yellowjacket fumble in the end zone and Cheatham dropped on the loose pigskin for Eldorado's only points. The PAT was no good and the Eagles had a 6-0 lead with 4:54 left in the third quarter. The Eagles kept the Yellowjackets pinned down in the third quarter, not allowing them a first down. Cheatham kept Menard's back to their goal on some great coffin corner punts. One at the six yard line and another going out at the four yard line. Menard got out of the hole midway through the fourth quarter on a long bomb from quarterback Danny Hanna to John Nicholas for 61 yards down to the Eagle 30 yard line. Eric Kothman picked up 16 yards to the Eagles 14 yard line. The Eagle defense regrouped at this point, lead by Sam Whitten and David Hill, to toss the Yellowjackets back to the 17 yard line where the Eagles took over on downs.

The Eagles couldn't move the ball and Cheatham punted out to the 48 yard line where Menard took over and moved quickly down to the 25 yard line. On first and 10 from the 25 Whitten again dropped the quarterback for an eight yard loss back to the 33. Kothman gained three yards and on third down Whitten bulldozed his way to the quarterback for another six yard loss. On fourth down Eldorado held and took over on the 35 yard line.

The Eagles were forced to punt again and the Yellowjackets set up on their 28 yard line.

The Yellowjackets used a halfback pass from Cary Rambo to end Robert Hernandez for 18 yards and another from Rambo back to the quarterback for 21 yards to move to Eldorado's 41 yard line.

Hanna kept the ball on a sneak for five yards, but the Eagles were flagged for a face mask penalty moving the ball down to their 18 yard line and giving Menard a first down.

With only two seconds remaining Eagle Randy Morrison picked off a Hanna pass at the goal and returned it to the seven yard line to preserve the homecoming victory.

The Eagle victory was truly a great team effort with one big play after another highlighting the contest.

Lush Forage Can Be Fatal

Cattle in some parts of Texas may find lush forage to their liking this time of the year, but the grass could be a "death trap."

The problem afflicting cattle, especially cows in late pregnancy or early lactation, is known as grass tetany or grass staggers, points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Grass tetany is caused by a deficiency of magnesium in the animal's diet," explains Dorsett. The problem is most prevalent in early spring and late fall when forage is often lush but is low in magnesium. Dry grasses can also be a factor once cold weather hits.

"Grass tetany is most often a problem when cows are on a strict grass diet. It is particularly prevalent in pregnant cows or those with young calves that have a high energy requirement which cannot be met with grass alone," notes Dorsett.

To prevent grass tetany, the specialist suggests supplementing cattle, especially cows, with a grain or other high energy, magnesium containing feed and establishing legumes in grass pastures. Legumes contain adequate amounts of magnesium to meet animal requirements.

When should a cattleman suspect grass tetany in his herd?

"The physical symptoms are broad and include a depressed appetite, nervousness, stiff movements, twitching of the muscles, extreme excitement, grating of teeth, convulsions, coma and finally death of the animal," explains Dorsett.

How You Can Save Energy

Food preparation accounts for 4.3 percent of the nation's energy use. Here are some ways that you can cut down when cooking.

Use the smallest appliance possible for preparing small meals. A pop-up toaster uses one-third of the energy that a full-size oven requires to toast bread. A table-top oven is ideal for small-to-medium-size baking and broiling need.

Always boil water in a kettle or covered pot — it will do the job faster and with less energy. A whistling kettle is helpful — it tells you when the water is ready and can prevent accidents by letting the water boil out.

Pans with non-stick lining require lower temperatures for frying or stove top broiling. Use them to cut down on energy while you cut down on cholesterol.

Ceramic and glass casseroles retain heat better than other materials. When they're used for baking, you can lower your oven setting by 25 degrees. How about some energy saving one-dish meals?

Don't drown your vegetables. Less water will heat faster, the vegetables will taste better and retain more nutritive values. Try a pressure cooker.

Many recipes tell you to start off by preheating your oven, without any regard for the amount of time you will need to assemble your equipment and ingredients and prepare the food for cooking. Five or ten minutes is the maximum time required for preheating; don't waste energy by turning on your oven sooner than necessary.

Always turn off your burner or oven before removing the food from the heat — that's a safety rule as well as an energy tip.

When preparing casseroles or meats, you can turn off the heat 10 minutes before the food is done. The residual heat will finish the job.

Stop peeking while those cookies are baking! Each time the oven door is opened the temperature drops 20 to 50 degrees. So every peek you sneak sets you back in both time and energy. (If you're in the market for a new oven, a glass door can help you kick the peeking habit.)

A microwave oven will save you time and help you achieve real energy economy; it uses only 20-25 percent as much energy as a conventional oven.

Food plates, and platters can be warmed with the stored heat remaining in the oven after baking, with no additional energy use. Oven-to-table dishes are excellent for this purpose and are now available in a wide variety of patterns pretty enough for party use.

Plan a no-cook dinner at least once a week using fruit, salads, cold meats and milk products to produce a tasty, energy saving meal.

Check your oven door seal. A cracked or brittle seal can cause heat loss which wastes energy and costs you money.

COOLING

Put a note up on the refrigerator reminding the family members to think about what they want from inside before opening the door, and to take out what they want in as few trips as possible. Loitering in front of an open refrigerator door and frequent door openings waste energy by allowing cold air to escape.

Make sure the refrigerator door gasket has a good seal. You can check this by placing a piece of paper between the door gasket and the cabinet. If the paper can be pulled out easily without any resistance, the seal needs replacing. If your gasket does not seal properly it will let cold air out — the refrigerator will have to work harder to maintain the proper temperature.

Keep your freezer or freezer section well stocked. Less electricity is used to maintain the temperature when the freezer is full.

Friday Oct. 27 was a happy day for Mike Williamson and some others. It all began at 7:30 p.m. when the "Mean Eagles" started their battle against the Menard Yellow-jackets. At half-time the score was 0-0.

During the halftime activities Kara Homer was named Homecoming Queen. Cheri Niblett was named Band Sweetheart and Sammie Jay was Football Sweetheart. Other Homecoming contestants were Lori Whitaker, Jeanie Nicholson and Angie Fay.

Green Funeral Is Held Here

Funeral services were held Tuesday for a Schleicher County native, Glenn Wilson Green. Mr. Green, 61, of Lubbock was found dead Monday at his residence.

Graveside services were in Eldorado Cemetery with the Rev. Gene Stark officiating. Kerbow Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Green was born Jan. 19, 1917 in Schleicher County and attended Bailey Ranch School. He graduated from Eldorado High School in 1934 and from Texas A&M University in 1950.

He served in World War II with the Air Force in the Pacific. He was a county extension agent for Callahan and Val Verde Counties. He also worked for the United States Department of Agriculture in Commodity Credit Corporation as a warehouse inspector. He retired in November of 1977. He was then employed by West Tex Industries. He was a Baptist and a Mason.

He is survived by five brothers, Carroll Green of Lake Charles, La., Kenneth Green of Bruceville, Odell Green of San Angelo, Billy Green of Sonora and Tommy Green of Georgetown and one sister, Mrs. Wallace Joiner of Eldorado and several nieces and nephews.

L.D. Mund, D.R. "Rusty" Dannheim, Wayne Joiner, Peyton Cain, W.C. Parks, Bethel Jeffrey, all of Eldorado and Clint Langford and Si Loeffler of Sonora were pallbearers.

EAGLES' NEST

By STASSI DONALDSON

Kara Homer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenith Homer. She is a sophomore, participates in band, FHA, 4-H, Spirit Club and is on the annual staff.

Cheri Niblett, Band Sweetheart, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Niblett. Cheri is in the band and plays basketball.

Sammye Jay, Football Sweetheart, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jay. She is a cheerleader.

After half-time activities were over the football game resumed.

There were no scores for either team until third quarter. In the third quarter Eldorado scored and prevented the Yellow-jackets from scoring for a 6-0 victory. It was a very special night for everyone.

Monday the students got a break from class rooms while all the teachers had to work.

On November 4 the big Eagle band is travelling to Brady for contest. The twirlers will also be doing their solos. Everyone load up and go along to see our band at its best.

The Eldorado Chapter of FFA is selling citrus fruit. Contact Mr. Igo or one of the FFA students and place your order soon. Deadline is Nov. 13 and the delivery date is the first week in December.

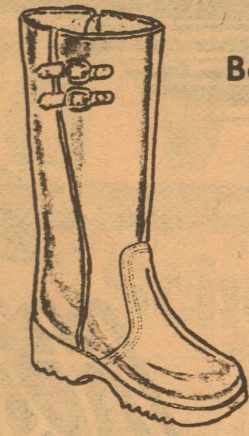

SS Visit Set For Nov. 16

Garland Gregg, representative of the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his November visit to Eldorado. He will be at the Fire Station on Nov. 16 from 1-2:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo at 949-4608.

If you meet your Medicare medical insurance $60 deductible in the last three months of the calendar year, you can carry it over and will not need to meet the deductible for the following year.

Why Tom Loeffler Is Our Best Choice For Congress

Texan Heritage

- Fourth-generation Texan, born and raised in the Hill Country
- Former high school football star, attended University of Texas on football scholarship, then earned law degree there
- Working rancher
- Practicing attorney

Washington Know-How

- Served as Chief Legislative Counsel for Senator John Tower
- Deputy for Congressional Liaison for Federal Energy Administration
- Special Assistant for Legislative Affairs for President Gerald Ford
- Has the knowledge and experience right from the start!

Freedom To Fight For Us

- His legislative know-how allows total independence to fight for our best interests
- Not beholden to liberal Democratic leadership in the House — will not have to "go along to get along"

The Choice Of Leaders And Laymen Alike

- Has gained respect and support of the working man, farmers and ranchers, small businessmen and homemakers
- Has broad-based financial support from more than 1, 700 contributors
- Has the endorsement and active campaign support of Ronald Reagan, John Connally and President Gerald Ford

Why Nelson Wolff Cannot Best Represent The District

"Freshman" Congressman

- Without Washington experience, would be powerless to do other than add one more vote in favor of national liberal policies of Tip O'Neill
- Has repeatedly aligned himself with Carter administration policies — inescapably tied to them

Liberal Programs And Policies

- Supporter of George McGovern and Caesar Chavez
- Supports continuation of O.S.H.A. and the Environmental Protection Agency
- For new Department of Education — continuation of new and expanding bureaucracy
- Supports unworkable and unrealistic predator control program
- Against B-1 Bomber program
- Favors increased corporate profits taxes
- Has "Written off" Texas oil and gas industry

The Hand-Picked Candidate

- In 1974, and again in 1978, is the hand-picked candidate of a group of "Big 10" San Antonio powermasters
- Receives support and financial aid of Big Labor

Believes He Can "Buy The Office"

- Financial reports show this wealthy Democrat has loaned his campaign over $200,000 of his own and his family's money in effort to "Buy" the office of Congressman with massive advertising

COMPLETES SEMINAR — Jerry Swift (left) Schleicher County extension agent, receives a certificate of completion for an agricultural financial management seminar from Richard L. Trimble. Trimble is acting project leader and economist-management of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The week long seminar was conducted Oct. 2-6 for extension employees who counsel with farmers and ranchers on financial matters.

Natural Look Featured In Mens Fall Fashions

Men's fashions for fall and winter depict the "natural" look in styling, fabrics and color.
 In tailored clothes, the natural, softer shoulder is in vogue, with notched collars, narrow lapels, fuller cut jackets and back vents, says Marlene Odle-Kemp, a clothing specialist.
 Ms. Odle-Kemp is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
 Dress shirt collars have shorter points — some rounded or short button-downs.
 Pants are fuller straight legged and pleated at the waist.
 Ties are narrower, ranging from three and one-half inch silks to two-inch knits, the specialist reports.
 Sweaters are bigger, looser and bulkier than ever.
 Fabrics are natural in cotton/polyester shirting wool for tweed, herringbone, check and shetland suiting.
 Leather is a must for outerwear with wool and acrylic for sweaters and pullovers.
 Colors are grey, blue-grey, brown and earthy heathers with white and red accent, Ms. Odle-Kemp adds.

Minor Accident Occurs Saturday

A minor accident occurred Saturday night at the Adobe Mini Mart. The accident happened when the camera driven by Jesus Cardona Garcia of Eldorado backed into a Mercury Marquis owned by Stephen Willis Skinner of Austin.

Nursing Home News

"What a Beautiful Morning." That should be our theme song this morning, because it surley is just that. Bright sunshine, a light breeze and just enough to be pleasant.

We should be enjoying these lovely days, because any day now that November is just around the corner and practically at our back door, and it likely will bring us some chilly and probably dark dreary days, which as we know, will continue more or less for the next four months.

Most of our residents, who are usually up and around, are able to do just that. We are always glad to see that they are at least trying to keep getting some exercise.

Leslie Jones, who lives on his ranch in the Fort McKavett area, has been here in the home again during the past week. We are glad to have him with us and we hope that he will be feeling better soon and can enjoy living here.

Mrs. Etta Dannheim was hostess last week for the 42 club which met in the club room of the Memorial Building.

Present were Jake Spencer, Annie Speck, Rose Brannon, Opal Parks, Zelma Henderson, Bessie Doyle, Wanda Peterson, Irma Fuller, Natalie Stockton, Jessie Sudduth, Florence and the hostess.

The club will have a Thanksgiving luncheon Nov. 9.

Again, I want to say that the personnel here take such good care of all of us in the home, and I am so very thankful that we have it right here in Eldorado.

We had a few visitors last week. Gwendolyn and Billy Charles Gunstead of Lewisville, visited their grandfather, Fred Gunstead. Mrs. Sally Head of Grand Prairie, also visited Fred Gunstead. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Blaylock of San Angelo visited his mother Fannie Blaylock on Sunday.

The Church of Christ on the Merton Highway conducted the service here in the dining room Sunday afternoon. They have a new pastor, Brother Virgil Fiske. He had been the pastor of a church in Memphis, but has moved to Eldorado and will be their fulltime pastor. He was here Sunday and conducted a short service, and then some of the members of that church led in a good song service, which we all enjoyed very much. Quite a number of their members were here and we appreciated them coming very much.

Next Sunday the West Side Church of Christ will be in charge of the service and we hope that a good number from that church can be present at that time.

The bingo winners last week were: On Wednesday, Juanita Sanchez, 1; Christine West, 2; Frank Reed, 1; Elva Daniels, 1; Fannie Blaylock, 1; Bess Andrews, 1; Beaulah Harris, 1; Lester Garrett, 1; Mable Wilkinson, 1.

On Friday the winners were: Beaulah Harris, 2; LaVita Brooks, 2; Frank Reed, 1; Fannie Blaylock, 1; Juanita Sanchez, 1; Erna Rexroat, 2; Urel Holland, 1; Mabel Wilkinson, 2; Fred Gunstead, 1; Elva Daniels, 1.

Ruthie Dacy has been on vacation the past week and we surely miss her. I suppose she will be back with us Nov. 6 and we will be glad to see her and have her back with us.

CHRISTOVAL ★ News and Views

RAILROAD FIRE — The last section of a railroad bridge in Christoval went up in smoke Saturday while a demolition crew worked to tear it apart. The fire started when a bolt heated by a cutting torch fell on dry timber. This picture was taken by Travis Parker who watched construction of the bridge during the 1920's and then watched it burn Saturday. The Christoval fire truck was on hand in case a grass fire started from this fire.

Cougars Pop Indians, 40-32

Did you ever wake a sleeping Cougar? They wake up wanting to fight and that's exactly what some Paint Rock Indians found out in Christoval Friday night when Joe Jacquez lead the Christoval Cougars on a scoring rampage to win 40-32.

The Paint Rock team got off to a good start in the first quarter on a 15 yard scoring run by John Haechten. Rusty Cobern added the PAT to give the Indians a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter Indian Mark Meeks got the second Paint Rock TD on a 20 yard sprint and the PAT was good for a 16-0 lead over Christoval at halftime.

Third quarter saw Christoval's Joe Jacquez come alive on a 75 yard kick off return for the TD. Pete Morado added the PAT and Christoval was on the board but trailing by eight points.

Jacquez wasn't going to be stopped now. He added two more touchdowns on five yard runs and Morado followed up with the extra points each time.

Paint Rocks' Chris Meeks got loose on a 20 yard sprint to add another TD on the Indian side. The PAT was true and third quarter ended with an even-up score of 24-24.

Jacquez was determined though and he was off again in the fourth quarter scoring on a 60 yard run-away and a 10 yard drive. Morados' PAT attempts were good on both plays.

John Haechten ran 60 yards to score for Paint Rock and Cobern added the PAT to end the scoring for Paint Rock and Christoval walked away with a well deserved 40-32 win.

This Friday night the Cougars will be facing Water Valley at Water Valley at 7:30 p.m.

School Daze

By LENISE SULLIVAN AND PAM WALTON

This week was full of club meetings and planning for the Halloween carnival on Tuesday.

Also, this week three of the Christoval Cougars showed their dedication by getting burr haircuts. The three were Byron Sawyer, Cary Tomerlin and Corkey Solomon.

At the pep rally Friday, everyone was really in the spirit for the big game Friday night. The Cougars won the game 40-32.

Monday was a student holiday.

James D. Goode of Christoval has been appointed to the State Commission on Jail Standards, according to an announcement by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

Goode will be replacing David H. Youngblood of San Antonio.

He has been in the construction business for 21 years, and is Chairman of the Board of James D. Goode Construction Co., Inc. of San Angelo.

He served in the U.S. Army during World War II, and was a member of the San Angelo Police Dept. for 11 years.

Homecoming For Pardee

A town meeting has been set Nov. 8 to discuss plans for a homecoming honoring Jack Pardee, coach of the Washington Redskins. The meeting will be held in the school gym at 6 p.m.

Pardee graduated from Christoval High School and later graduated from Texas A&M University.

Kelly Baker Semi-finalist In Miss Abilene Contest

Kelly Baker, a student at Christoval High School qualified as a semi-finalist in the 1979 Miss Abilene contest. Miss Baker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Don Baker. She is a member of the Beta Club, Future Teachers of America, a member of the annual staff and is on the drill team.

Two rounds of preliminary judging for the 36 Miss Teenage Abilene semi-finalist will be held Saturday, November 4, in the Abilene Public Library Auditorium. The 36 girls represent 18 schools from the Big Country area serviced by Dr. Pepper Bottling Company of Abilene, sponsor of the program.

A slightly different procedure for preliminary judging is being initiated this year.

In the past, two Saturdays have been set aside for preliminary judging, with one half of the girls participating each time.

cedure for preliminary judging is being initiated this year.

In the past, two Saturdays have been set aside for preliminary judging, with one half of the girls participating each time.

This year, all 36 semi-finalists will participate in preliminary competition on one day. Saturday's two judging sessions include poise and personal appearance, 9-12 noon and individual accomplishment, 2-5 p.m. The preliminaries are open to the public at no charge.

After preliminary judging is completed, the semi-finalist will go into rehearsals for the Miss Teenage Abilene Pageant set for 8 p.m., Saturday, November 18, in the Abilene Civic Center.

During the program, the 36 semi-finalist will compete in formal judging, and later, the 12 girls with the highest cumulative point totals will be named Finalists. These 12 will go on to compete for the title of Miss Teenage Abilene 1979.

In addition to a $500 scholarship from the Dr. Pepper Bottling Company of Abilene, Miss Teenage Abilene 1979 will win an all-expense paid trip for herself and her chaperone to the National Finals Week of Miss Teenage America competition.

Current Miss Teenage Abilene is Margaret Massey of Abilene.

Nursing Home News

By RENA GAINES

A big welcome to a new resident, Mrs. Emma Derr, whose son, Roy McCann lives in Christoval. She also has several grandchildren living here.

Jane Wells came Sunday from Brownwood to visit Charleen Kirk. Charleens' granddaughter, Charleen Wilchek, also visited her.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Bennett of San Angelo visited with her mother, Mrs. Haggard.

Chris Arnold, Mrs. Lamb's grandson, visited her.

Mrs. Grace McShan visited her son, Fred McShan in San Angelo Sunday.

Gwen Henson visited his aunt, Annie Henson.

We are glad to have our new LVN Kathleen Wilcoxon at Golden Years.

June and Harold Pettitt are in Del Rio.

Gilbert Aguirre won a barbecue barrel and a goat at Friday nights football game.

Mrs. Stella King celebrated her birthday with a cake and party.

Barbara Barton, Mary Lou McDonald and Ruth Anne Callihan of First Baptist Church brought their classes to Golden Years Sunday night. They were dressed in their Halloween costumes. They sang several songs and then were "treated" to candy and gum. Everyone enjoyed the little ghosts and goblins.

SHORT NOTES

The teachers had a work day Monday, much to the glee of the students who enjoyed their holiday.

Evon and Jim Freeman is currently under the weather but hopefully will soon be recovered and back serving their patrons at Christoval Drug.

This past Sunday was Pastor Appreciation day at the First Baptist Church in Christoval. They also observed the every fifth Sunday lunch after morning services. Sunday night the smaller children sang at Golden Years nursing home and trick-or-treated the residents. When they returned to the church they were treated to a punch and cookie party.

The Halloween party was on Tuesday from 6-8 p.m. at the school gym.

Fern Parrent was seen gingerly sipping soup at the drug store. She was suffering with a terrific toothache, but assured us she was headed to the dentist.

Ann, Lisa and Amy Green spent Saturday night in Talpa with Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edens. They enjoyed the Talpa Halloween carnival while there.

Lester and Ann Rogers returned to Iraan for their homecoming festivities this past weekend. Their daughter Shirley was also down from Ft. Worth.

Don't forget the dance at the Knickerbocker Catholic Church Nov. 4 from 8-12 p.m. The $2.50 per person charge will go toward a trip planned for the church youth group. Music by Richard's Disco.

There will be a community sewing meeting in the basement of the Methodist Church at 9:30 a.m. to complete the robes for the nursing home. Please attend and bring a sack lunch.

Keep an outstanding person in this important job.

Most newspapers pick Hill over Clements

"John Hill may be the best candidate for governor in decades. Judging from his record, he should win easily over his Republican opponent, whose chief qualification is money. Unlike his opponent, Hill is not given to outrageous promises, intemperate personal attack or underhanded tactics. He will work hard for the best interests of the state and its people."
— Austin American Statesman

"The more Mr. Clements has explained his blunt viewpoints — even those views we could agree with — the more he has raised doubt as to how effective a bulldozer could be in Texas government. Conversely, John Hill has grown in our evaluation as a man who not only is the best state attorney general in recent history, but also is a man with the intelligence, savvy and ability to serve Texas well as governor."
— Abilene Reporter-News

"We believe Hill will bring vitality and leadership to state government. Hill is not an advocate of big government. Nor is he a free spender. He has pledged that no new taxes will be levied if he is elected. His anti-inflation program is the kind of fiscal conservatism Texans can accept gleefully."
— Corpus Christi Caller
