Grover C. Cunningham, local attorney and chairman of the democratic executive committee of Howard county, will introduce the speaker.

Winding up a strenuous campaign in Southeast Texas last week, Senator Small entered into an active campaign in the Plains and Panhandle country, beginning at Amarillo. During this tour he has spoken to large crowds, and the gatherings increased as he came southward with the largest, 4500, at Lubbock Tuesday night.

He has been active in presenting and prosecuting, through the senate and state legislature during his office as senator, measures which he considered of vital interest to AUSTIN (AP)—The court of criminal appeals Wednesday reversed and remanded the conviction of Sherman Clayton, convicted in Cass county of murder in the "prayer healing" death of his daughter, Bernice, 3-1-2 years old. Clayton was sentenced to eight years imprisonment.

The reversal was ordered on account of improper argument by the district attorney to a jury which the trial court refused to instruct the jury to disregard.

The girl died December 19, 1932, after three days and nights of prayer service in Clayton's backwoods home.

He was elected by the club June 6 to lead the organization for the ensuing year. Installed with him were other elective officers. Corley presented Dr. Malone, under whose leadership the club witnessed a phenomenal growth in membership and steady increase in activities, with a past president's pen. Before retiring Dr. Malone reviewed briefly the accomplishments of the club during his tenure in office. On December 13, 1933 there were 11 active members. This number witnessed a startling growth in the next six months that brought the enrollment to 80 by the end of his term.

With renewed life, the club undertook civic services which included the development of a Plaza for Mexicans near Mexican Ward school house, Christmas baskets for destitute Mexican families and additional support to the Lion sponsored Boy Scout troop.

Hunt—

Congressional investigators have laid extensive plans to hunt down subversive Nazi propaganda this summer and fall without regard to the season's heat. There is just a suspicion some of them may be feeling the heat of forthcoming election campaigns.

Assorted sub-committees are going on tour to uncover the German-American (anti-Jewish) Swastika in its native lair. It is interesting to note the make-up of these sub-committees in relations to the cities where first hand information is to be sought.

Only two hearings have been set thus far. Evidence of undermining influences will be welcomed in New York City on July 9. About August 11, another picked group of Congressmen will hold open sessions in Los Angeles.

Rep. John W. McCormack (Dem.), of Mass., chairman of the full Nazi committee, will preside over the New York hearings. J. Will Taylor, of Tenn., will furnish the Republican flavor and the third member will be Samuel Dickstein (Dem.), of New York City. Dickstein fathered the investigation and would have been chairman but for the intervention of prominent Jews who insisted a Gentile take the driver's seat. On his home base he should be a prominent cross-examiner.

New faces will be seen around the committee table at Los Angeles. A home-town boy—Rep. Charles Kramer (Dem.)—will be chairman of this sub-session. He will draw strength from Dickstein and Reps. Carl M. Weldman (Dem.), of Detroit, and U. S. Guyer (Rep.), of Kansas City, Kan.

Those in the know say there are going to be five hearings in all, scattered among the ballistics of Committee members. Chairman McCormack says no arrangements have yet been made to plumb the situation in Boston. Earlier public hearings here tended to show our synthetic Hitlerites are strongest in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago. Undercover men report Boston is free from any such menace.

This doesn't mean Boston and other "member towns" won't get a show sooner or later. The Nazi (Continued On Page Five)

SPORT LINES

By TOM BEASLEY

The Mexican Tigers will play the Sinclair ball team here Friday afternoon. The Tigers, with an irregular line-up, were swamped by the Co-Op Gliners last Saturday.

Boyle Robinson set out Tuesday afternoon to replenish the coffers of the Big Spring Soft Ball Association, and before the day was over had collected something better than $80 from local merchants to better the sporting enterprises.

It has become very evident that if night baseball is to be continued here more and better facilities must be provided. If satisfactory lights are erected the cost will run into several hundred dollars. It seems to this department that since so much money has already been spent, the league might as well go ahead and do the thing right. The present lighting set-up is very inadequate. The outfield is absolutely in the dark, and there isn't enough light in the infield for fast playing. Added to that is a soft, sandy field and a bad pitchers and batters box.

Both soft ball leagues voted Monday night for the 12-inch in-seam ball. The using of the small ball will necessitate the increasing of the size of the diamond, which will make the lighting problem still more difficult to solve. Too, the game will probably be much too fast for some of the old folk.

Early Tuesday morning some of the team managers let out loud squawks about changing the size of the ball, and as a result another meeting has been called for 7 p. m. today on the mezzanine floor of the Settles Hotel. A vigorous campaign was made Tuesday against the use of the smaller ball, and from all indications the 14-inch ball will go back into circulation after the vote tonight. Some teams will protest now because they have already purchased new equipment, while others threaten to withdraw unless the 14-inch ball is used.

The Robinson grocery team and the Cosdenites both favor the faster game. The Grocery contingent has had some practice with the small pellet, and most of the other teams fear the Refinery boys because of their practice playing "har-ball."

Shirley Robbins, winner of the 1933 Big Spring C. C. Invitational golf tournament, and one of West Texas' outstanding shotmakers, will not get to take part in the Abilene invitational tourney next week and sensible in its willingness to abandon the withering control of the "dead hand."

Last Lap Race Opens Tonight

Ford and Cosden Lab Gain Entrance To League No. Two

At a meeting of team managers of the Big Spring Soft Ball Association Monday night, two new teams, Ford and the Cosden Lab., were admitted to League No. 2. The two new additions make an eight team loop.

The last half race in both leagues opens tonight, with games on the Zeity park diamond. All league No. 1 games this week will start at 7 p. m. and league No. 2 games will follow. Next week, league No. 2 teams will

Several fans met with the league president, Jess Hall, Wednesday morning and steps were taken toward improving the city park diamond. Large Benjamin flood lights were ordered, and two more poles will be installed on the field. About seventy dollars has been raised to pay for the new lights and sixty more is needed. The field will be packed and put in good condition within a few days.

Play Continues In Golf Tourney

Second round play in the Municipal golf tournament continued to click off in grand style Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

Guy Rainey won his second round match in the championship flight Tuesday by ousting Charley Ferguson 2 up. Rainey played the last nine holes in even par.

In another championship flight, Friday, V. Mason defeated Little 2-1 Wednesday morning.

E. V. Spence advanced in the second flight by winning from R. L. Beak 7-5.

In the ladies' division, Mrs. Ther-

Kiwanis and Robinson teams vie tonight and Ford and the First National Bankers.

The first half winner in league No. 1 has not been decided, and will not be until Robinson and Cosden play off a protested game at 7 p. m. Friday. The Cosdenites are only one-half game behind the Robinson team, and if they defeat the Grocery men Friday they will win the first half championship by one-half game.

The Linkmen were easy winners in league No. 2, taking eight out of eight games for a perfect first half season.

The league No. 2 season will end August 19, a few days earlier than the first league. Richardson is manager of the Cosden Lab team and Leo Cole pilot of the Ford entry.

Ball Players Meet Tonight

Large Flood Lights Ordered For Diamond, To Be Improved

A very important meeting of team managers of the Big Spring Soft Ball association will be held at 6 o'clock this afternoon on the mezzanine floor of the Settles Hotel.

At that time it will be decided definitely what size ball will be adopted for league play. A survey of surrounding towns revealed that most teams are using a 14-inch in-seam ball and a number of play-

CAPITAL GOES SOCIAL IN A MODERN WAY

Even through the depression years the community trust idea has grown until today $39,250,000 is producing more than $1,000,000 every year for the social needs of 76 communities.

These trusts, established on the trail blazed in Cleveland in 1914 are based on the idea that when individuals leave money in trust for specific charitable purposes, those purposes often become stilted in the light of changing conditions.

Marion, Ind., for instance, has a line of fine hitching racks at the corner of the courthouse—useless now, though an appreciated public benefaction once. But the person who gave the square itself to the courthouse specified that hitching racks must be maintained and so lines of motor cars look down their radiators at the out-model posts that must stay there.

Forty years ago an Ohio woman left in trust a bequest to her city to be invested until an Asylum for Inebriates should be founded there, when the money should go to this asylum. There never has been any, and the money lies unused and unusable.

The community trust idea was to create a permanent fund administered by a board of public-spirited citizens as the needs of the community demanded. And the plan has progressed until the Cleveland Foundation, pioneer in the work, today has $5,981,000 and that of New York, $7,702,600.

Income from these funds is used for community needs as they are today—not as some long-dead benefactor thought they might be today. Much of it went last year in direct community fund relief work.

Some of the larger appropriations, for example, of the New York community trust for last year went to the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, the Charity Organization Society, the Girl Scouts, the Hebrew University in Palestine, the Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, the Salvation Army, United Hospital Fund and Visiting Nurse Service.

And all these and other appropriations from the fund were approved by a set of impartial and public-spirited trustees, who have power to alter the channels of original benefactions in case the public interest so indicates.

Several of the larger community trusts for the last few years have been allotting larger sums for direct relief and Community Fund work than usual, diverting such funds from educational and research work which might be equally valuable in the long run, but was less urgently needed during these difficult times.

The rise of such funds even in the face of the trying conditions of recent years indicates that all capital is not antisocially-minded, and becomes every year more practical

— what it means

Section of a Chesterfield blending department.

— to blend and cross-blend mild ripe tobaccos to "weld" them together

THERE are a great many different kinds of tobacco grown in this country and abroad. No two kinds are quite alike.

Every variety has a different taste and other different qualities all its own.

Some have more natural sweetness than others—some add a rare spice and a rich aroma—some burn more freely than others.

To get Chesterfield's milder better taste we take the right amounts of the right kinds of home-grown tobaccos, then add aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way—balanced—each kind of tobacco helps to bring out the best smoking qualities of the others.

That's what blending and cross-blending means to Chesterfield—milder better taste. And that's why They Satisfy.

Crowds Thrill at Music of Detroit Symphony at Fair

A great and enthusiastic audience greeted the premier concert of the Detroit Symphony orchestra in the bandshell of the Ford gardens at the new World's Fair in Chicago. Throughout the summer, the Detroit and the Chicago Symphony orchestras under the direction of Victor Kolar and Frederick Stock, respectively, will offer free outdoor concerts to Fair visitors. The concerts also are broadcast for those who are unfortunate enough to miss them at the Fair. The opening concert included some of the best known compositions of Wagner, Strauss, Mascagni, Rubenstein, Mendelssohn, and Saint-Saens. Selections from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" and the lighter pieces of MacDowell, Middleton and Romberg comprised the second part of the concert. It will be the purpose of the conductor to give as wide a selection of compositions as may be arranged, to satisfy tastes of people lacking opera opportunities.

CAMERA REWRITES FINISH OF N. C. A. A. SPEED EVENTS

After a close study of motion pictures of running events in the N. C. A. A. championships at Los Angeles, officials shifted the statistics and winners in five events on the basis of their findings. Here is the finish of the 100-yard dash, won by Ralph Matcalfs (right) of Marquette. The camera did not change the decision on his victory in 0.7 seconds, but Hunter Russell (left) of Illinois, originally considered third, was given a tie for second with Charles Parsons (center) of Southern California. # MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

Chapter 41
PUZZLING AMBUSH
 Donaghy suddenly recaptured his jaunty manner. "Certainly I've got a big roll of bills, a regular man's size make."
 "What of it? There wasn't any money missing, was there? I didn't win it on the horses. That's just a yarn I pitched to noisy John, to make his eyes pop. This is money I've saved up from my wages and I'm not trusting it to any bank. Now, if you want to count it, or write down the numbers, or look for fingerprints on it, it's all right with me."
 Harper waved aside the mocking-ly offered wallet. "So you carry your hard-earned savings around with you, yet you borrow small sums of money from your fellow servants to take you over to the next payday? I must say I like the horse story better, Donaghy!"
 "This time the chauffeur's temper blew up. 'I don't give a damn what you like or don't like,' he sputtered. 'It's my business. If you think you've got anything on me, go along and make the pinch. You can bluff me and you're not going to hang anything on me, either, by hanging around the kitchen and wheedling gossip out of the help.'
 "Put the screws to the servants, make 'em jump through hoops when you crack the whip. Ask anything we've got to answer. But I haven't heard you making any noises like that upstairs. Try badgering them and see what you get!"
 "Donaghy went on, unheeding. 'These are lots of things you don't know about, Mr. Sergeant of Detectives, for all your snooping. I'll give you a couple of hot tips and dare you to do something about it.'
 "You can't question Mrs. Dufrene because her face is all wrapped up in bandages. Question her, hell, you can't even get into the room. Well, she can talk, because I heard her talking to the doctor, and talking plenty."
 "Here's another! Mr. Dufrene hasn't been near her since she came back to this house last night. Is he staying out, or is he being kept out? If you can spare a little time from the butler, the chauffeur, and the cook you might look into a few things like that, going on right under your nose."
 Harper got down from the table. "Donaghy, I'm running this case in my own way. Right now we're discussing your part and I'm going to tell you what I think, in plain words. It's for your own good."
 "I am convinced you hold the key evidence in this case, because you know who that dead man was and why he came here. If you have accepted a bribe for your silence, or loved blackmail on the strength

PRESIDENT AT CREW RACES

President Roosevelt (right) is shown aboard the referee's boat at a regatta in London, Conn., when he saw the Yale-Harvard crew races. He witnessed the defeat of the Harvard freshman crew, on which his son, Franklin, Jr., rowed by the Yale freshman crew. (Associated Press Dispatch)

Harper took a slip of paper from his vest pocket. "Ellen Becker at 1221 West Magnolia Street, I don't think you've expected and I doubt if you'll be welcome."
 "Harris found her in a little over an hour," he told Lafferty. "That youngster will make his mark. He's got a nose for the scent as sharp as a beagle's."
 "Do you expect her to cut and run?"
 "If she knows something, that's very likely. I'll be interested to see her reaction when she finds out who we are."
 The police car threaded its way through the city lanes until the driver pulled up at the opening of a narrow street. "Here you are, Sergeant," he announced. The detectives got out and Harris emerged at once from a tobacco shop on the corner and joined them.
 "Any sign of activity?" Harper asked.
 "I think so," Harris reported. "Miss Becker has been called to the phone in that store twice. There's a booth, so I couldn't hear what she said, but she looked excited."
 "Good enough. Wait here for us," Harper directed, and he and Lafferty turned into the narrow street, solidly lined with neat, but small, two-story houses. They mounted the low steps at 1221 and pulled the old-fashioned bell.
 They had a wait before the door opened about a foot and a middle-aged woman with iron-gray hair looked out at them suspiciously. Harper greeted her politely. "We would like to see Miss Ellen Becker."
 "She's not at home," the woman answered brusquely.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

HEH-HEH! HENRY SMITH TOLD ME THAT PRIZE HARRIS BRITISH JUNE, IT'S A KNACK-OUT

IT SEEMS THE SUPERINTENDENT OF AN INSANE HOSPITAL WAS SHOWING ONE OF THE TRUSTEES AROUND AND THEY OWNED UPON A SWIMMING POOL WHICH HAD RECENTLY BEEN INSTALLED

THE TRUSTEES ASKED IF THE PATIENTS LIKED IT AND THE SUPERINTENDENT REPLIED THAT THEY LOVED IT

IN FACT THE POOL HAD BEEN A GREAT SUCCESS, THE PATIENTS DOING A LOT OF SWIMMING IN IT

IT WAS PARTICULARLY ENJOYED BY THOSE WHO COULD DIVE, SO MUCH SO THAT THE SUPERINTENDENT WAS CONSIDERING PUTTING WATER IN IT

HOW ON EARTH COULD THEY SWIM IN THE POOL IF THERE WAS NO WATER IN IT? WHY, IT'S PERFECTLY RIDICULOUS

of that knowledge, I warn you that you're playing with dynamite. Both those murders were treacherous, cold-blooded affairs. There may have been a strong reason behind the first killing but Officer Hamill was murdered for one reason, and only one—he knew the killer's identity. Any one who will kill, and kill again to cover the first crime, can keep right on killing so long as there is danger of discovery."
 The dark blue limousine with the blue and gold seal of the city blazoned on the door slipped swiftly past the snow banks that lined the country road.
 Harper and Lafferty had gone over the scene of Dufrene's ambush of the day before with extreme care and with the help of Officer Watson, to whom Dufrene had first reported the affair. And they had found exactly nothing whatsoever.
 No cars had been seen, no trains had passed that could have served the hidden gunman, and all traces of his hiding place had been hidden, if they existed at all, by the snow.
 "It looks as if we're up against an invisible man," Lafferty remarked.
 "Make it plural," returned Harper with a sharp look. "The sniper vanishes in a few minutes in the midst of a bare, flat country. But he must have been back in the city almost as soon as Dufrene, who drove him mad."
 "And then a still smarter man murdered the sniper, and escaped from Dufrene's house without leaving a track in the snow. Either it's magic, or someone's been dragging red herrings across the snow."
 "You mean some of our clues have been planted?"
 "Exactly. By the way, you haven't told me how you made out at Mrs. Morlock's."
 "Well, Mrs. Dufrene's alibi is just as strong as her unsupported word here is the situation, Steve. Dufrene called up his wife about 4:30 and told her about the ambush. He said he was safe, was staying in the Austerlitz for the night, and that there was a police guard."
 "She seemed greatly upset by the news, complained of a nervous headache, begged off attendance at Mrs. Morlock's dinner party and immediately retired to her room."
 "About five o'clock the maid left a tray outside the door. When she passed a little later it had been taken in. The point is that no one actually saw Mrs. Dufrene from five o'clock until the maid went up to announce that Doyle was asking to see her."
 "Dinner was served at seven and while they were dining one of the chauffeurs gave the alarm about the fire in the garage. The telephone wires were strung at the back of the garage and the phones went dead right after they'd called the Fire Department. Naturally, the whole house was in an uproar, but that Mrs. Dufrene did no one in the house seems to know."
 "That wouldn't take any prize as an alibi, would it?" Harper asked quietly. "I always thought that when a murder was planned the murderer, usually turned up armed with the best alibi—not the worst. It's almost a law of criminal nature. Now who, would you say, had the very best alibi in this

Small Ball Shelved In Favor Of Old 14 Inch Outseam Sphere

Carter Knee Action slugger pounded out a 27-17 victory over the Bankers Tuesday evening in the initial 12-inch in-seam soft ball game.

After one inning of brutal slugging, the smaller and heavier ball was shelved in favor of the 14-inch outseam sphere which has served the league until now.

During the first frame the Bankers slapped the small pellet around for 5 runs and Carter retaliated with eight. Poor lights made it impossible for the players to see the smaller ball, they said.
 Thereafter, slugger continued at a merry pace but it was toned down considerably. Hits were frequent but loose fielding played an important part in the mounting score.

Carter Knee Action was to journey to Forsan Wednesday to meet the Couden Pipelers in a game at 8:30 p. m.

Steady Paul Dean Taps Tenth Pitching Victory Of Season

ST. LOUIS—The St. Louis Cardinals made the most of their 13 hits Tuesday to defeat the New York Giants, 13-7, behind the effective hurling of Paul Dean, who hung up his 10th victory of the season as compared to only one defeat.

BRAYES & CINCINNATI 1
 CINCINNATI—Lee's timely singles gave the Boston Braves the essential of a 5 to 1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Tuesday.

Five straight hits off Don Brennan in the ninth—Berger's triple, Whitney's double and singles by Lee, Hogan and Frankhouse—gave the Braves three runs.

PHILS 5-1, PIRATES 4-4
PITTSBURGH—The Pirates and Phils split even in Tuesday's double bill, the Phils taking the first, 5 to 4 and dropping the second, 4 to 1, in a five inning game stopped by rain.

Bucky Walter's home run in the fourth inning of the first game with two on base put the Phils in the lead and Phil Collins held it throughout.

In the nightcap Ed Hotley gave only three hits in the five innings, but they netted four runs.

"Extending Big Spring Trade Territory" Subject Of Talk By Watson Before Rotary Club

A talk by C. T. Watson at the Rotary Club Tuesday noon, in their weekly meeting at the Settles on "Extending Good Will and Extending the Big Spring Territory," although cut short by lack of time was well received.

Watson had prepared a three-page brief of the needs and possibilities of this subject and distributed these to all present, referring to various parts of them during his talk.

The talk brought out the fact within a radius of 70 miles of Big Spring, based on the 1930 census, there was a population of 93,000, Howard county having 33,000; there were 31,500 families, 5,557 being in Howard county; there were 12,600 home owners, 1,913 being in Howard; there were 5,200 farms, Howard having 1,194; there were 3,400 farm owners, 377 being in Howard; and the crops sold for $17,022,070, Howard county farmers receiving $2,018,000 of this amount.

He further gave the retail sale volume as $54,000,000, Howard county merchants having done $7,700,000 of this amount. There were 29,600 automobiles registered, Howard county having registered 4,800 of these.

A two-act playlet coached by Miss Jennette Pickle featuring Bill Jean Porter and Gene Hardy Jewellen entitled "The Gay 90's" was well rendered and received hearty applause.

The club succeeded in naming Jim Davis' new baby for him and Shine Phillips presented him with a very pretty cake, which he tried to divide with club members, but could not do so.

Guests for the day were F. P. James, San Angelo, a Rotarian, Mrs. V. H. Jewellen, Jim Hanson, A. C. Allen, state relief commissioner, and E. W. Conway of the federal transit bureau.

Goal Reached For Purchase Of Painting

Five Hundred Dollars Raised By Popular Subscription Deposited Today

The $500 goal for purchasing the Caylor oil painting "The Trail Herd" has been reached according to an announcement made Wednesday morning by the committee in charge. The money has been deposited in a local bank and is to be expended toward a permanent dwelling for the Big Spring Museum.

The painting is the work of the late W. H. Caylor, West Texas artist, whose widow gave the painting to the museum with the proviso that a $500 fund be raised by popular subscription. This sum was to be given the museum.

Gratitude is expressed by the committee in charge of raising the fund, for the willing spirit in which the city made subscriptions. Though some contributions were small the spirit of cooperation was manifested, the committee agrees.

The most recent contributions were made by Judge and Mrs. J. B. Little, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Brooks and James T. Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Edmund Noltestine, Joe Flock, Dr. Marie Weeg, Vernon Strahan, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Coburn, Mrs. W. A. Ricker, Tom Good, J. B. Harding, Mrs. B. F. ## $32,792 Goes To Martin Farmers

MIDLAND—Martin county farmers this week will receive $32,792.05 in cash.

The government checks were received Tuesday by S. A. Debnam, Martin-Midland farm agent, and he will deliver them to farmers from his Stanton office Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The $32,792.05 will go to 535 farmers, and there are 134 more checks yet to come, which will add about $8,000 more farm money to Martin county, the farm agent said.

These first checks are but half of the total. The remainder will be paid in August or September. This money represents cotton acreage rentals.

Midland county checks are expected any day—in fact, were expected last week.

Many farmers will use part of their checks for payment of taxes, in order to escape added penalties and costs which go into effect after Saturday.

SCIENTIFIC "ALCOHOL" EXHIBIT

Unique Feature at Century of Progress

Attracted by the tinkle of the little bell rung by the mechanical man as he points to the terse trulians in his big book, a striking looking and very vocal young woman stopped, with her male companion, to look at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union exhibit at the Century of Progress in Chicago. Aloud she read, "Safe—Useful OUTSIDE the Body—Injurious INSIDE the Body," and sneeringly remarked, "That's some folks' ideal!" She was also disgruntled by the caption "Dry and Decent."

However, as she began to note the arresting phrases on the turning pages of the mechanical book, she quite visibly became more interested. By the time she had read "The Man Who Drinks 'Now and Then' Usually Drinks More Now than He Did Then," she had become rather thoughtful and turning to her companion gravely murmured: "True enough! I wish I could see this. He needs it. We'll have to get him to come around."

Occupying a modest hundred square feet of floor space, Booth No. 19, on the first floor of the Social Science Hall, has already become an outstanding attraction for a large proportion of those Fair visitors who are interested in an unusual appraisal of both sides of the alcohol question—a "dry" organization.

Alcohol Inside and Out

The exhibit, according to Miss Helen Ferguson, one of the hostesses in charge, has attracted the attention and interest of many college young people, social workers and educators, as well as men and women in all walks of life and has already been viewed by upwards of 25,000 visitors during the opening weeks of the Fair.

Prepared under the immediate direction of Mrs. Flora Kays Hanson, National director of Fairs and Exhibits and Miss Bertha Rachel Palmer, National director of the department of Scientific Temperance Instruction, of the W. C. T. U., the booth demonstrates the new emphasis on alcohol education. Especially attracting the attention of every visitor to the corridor is a pit of the Methodist church at Stanton last Sunday evening in lieu of Rev. Jim H. Sharpe, who is in Coahoma holding a revival meeting.

Rev. Albert Mason, pastor of the Lenora Methodist circuit, recently created, visited friends in Coahoma Monday en route with his wife for a short visit to her parents, who live near Vealmoor.

Rev. Horace Krebs, young Methodist minister visiting in the parsonage home here for the last two months, returned to his home at Wilson Thursday. He will engage in evangelistic work during the next two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar of near Brownfield have moved to Coahoma. Mr. Farrar is employed in Big Spring. Their daughter Fioell has been attending school here the last term.

Rev. Hamilton Wright, Floyd Dunn, Jim Sharpe and members of the Wright family were dinner guests in the J. C. Neel home Sunday.

Rev. A. W. Click and child, the former pastor of the Colorado Methodist circuit, visited among friends in Coahoma last week. He will shortly conduct a revival meeting at Bayless Chapel, a few miles north of Iatan.

Large crowds are attending the Methodist revival in the municipal tabernacle. Rev. Jim Sharpe, pastor of the Stanton Methodist church, is doing the preaching. There were three rededications at the Monday night service. The meeting will continue through Sunday morning, July 1.

Grandmother Boyce, who has been ill for several days at the home of her daughter, Miss Johnnie Boyce, is reported much improved.

At the Methodist parsonage Saturday night, Miss Lillian Hardin and O. J. Free, both of Colorado, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. Hamilton Wright. The newly weds will make their home near Colorado.

Rev. Floyd Dunn, young preacher, filled the last Sunday evening appointment at the Methodist church at Center Point. The morning hour was supplied by Rev. Horace Krebs. Rev. Ham Wright, Jr., supplied the Richland pulpit in the afternoon.

Rev. Hamilton Wright, local Methodist pastor, supplied the pul-
