

Mitchell Bradley at back of Royster home.

Bradley Youth Becomes Local Hero

"I wasn't scared. I was just focusing on trying to get her out," said Mitchell Bradley, Eldorado's newest and possibly its youngest hero.

The 12 year old youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley, has been credited for pulling Mrs. Mattie Royster, an elderly retired teacher, out of her burning home March 13. Her house is located catty-cornered to the Bradley home and one block down the street, across from Meador-Peters agency.

"Mom and I were watching television and I got up to get a drink, he said, relating the event. 'I looked outside and saw the fire and then I called the fire department. I didn't know whose it was and didn't even know if anyone lived there. I put on my clothes and jacket and ran out the door and down the alley.'"

The youth arrived at the scene before the fire trucks arrived and watched the firemen for a few minutes. Deciding that his mother might become worried about him, he began to return home.

"As I came around the corner, I could hear her scream, 'Help me, someone,'" he said. "Then I saw her. She was standing in the back doorway, all slumped over. I jumped over a fence and drug her out by the arms. But I couldn't get her over the piece of tin and so I yelled for help.

That's when Barry (Schleicher County deputy) came and helped me carry her out. He took her to the hospital."

Mitchell said "I wasn't scared, the fire was on the other side of the house. I was just worried about smoke inhalation because there was a lot of smoke coming out of the house. But I figured she wasn't hurt too bad because she had fallen down low where the air flow was good. But she was coughing and choking and I choked a lot, too."

He went on to say, "I was focusing on trying to get her out, but I couldn't see very much. Then I thought I heard someone else, but I guess it was something falling inside."

The youngster said after he had pulled the woman out, he "got real excited and started running around all over the place." He finally went on home, but was too excited to sleep, so he stayed up until about 2 a.m. trying to watch two more movies, "but I just couldn't concentrate." He finally dozed off, but "I got up at 7 a.m., the same old time."

Of course the news of his rescue travelled fast and within a few days, the sixth grade student was known as the town's hero.

"Everybody has been asking me about it and I guess I have told the story about a hundred times." Does he feel like a hero? "No, I don't," he says, "Anybody would have done it. I was just glad she was alive. I tried to see her at the hospital, but the nurses said she was too sick for me to visit, so I haven't seen her."

Mitchell's efforts and fast thinking quite possibly came from his training in the Boys Scouts, which he is a very active member. His troop had recently undergone training for crisis during fires and other emergency situations. Apparently, Mitchell remembered his training well.

Mrs. Royster was hospitalized at Schleicher County Medical Center and is expected to be released this week.

Bank Groundbreaking Is Set For April 2

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new First National Bank of Eldorado will be held at 9 a.m. April 2, announced Jo Ed Hill, bank president. Construction of the 8800 square foot facility will begin the first part of April and will take about ten months to complete. The new building will be between the present bank site and the Menard Highway.

Hill noted that the new building will have a greatly expanded lobby, and customer service area, more teller booths, a note department, enlarged bookkeeping department and offices for all loan officers and vice presidents. The vault will also be enlarged to accommodate expansion of the safety deposit box area.

There will also be off-the-street parking between the new building's back entrance and the West Texas Utilite Building. There will be two main entrances, the one at the back and one off of Main Street.

The building will be a brick and masonry building and will be complemented by attractive landscaping.

Hill said the bank was organized in 1907 and the first building was built shortly thereafter on Main Street. In 1942, a second building was built at the present location, containing about 2,000 square feet. It was expanded in 1964, adding on 3,000 additional square feet.

Hill said the work force at the bank had doubled in the last 15 years and the volume of work had also increased correspondingly. He said total assets at the bank were $5,822,000 in 1970 and are now $22,200,000. Total deposits in 1970 were $4,975,000 and in 1980 they were $19,920,000.

"All of this reflects the growth in the community," Hill said. Adding the community has seen more growth in the past five or six years than it has since the bank was organized.

Gary Donaldson of San Angelo will be the bank's architect and Templeton Construction of San Angelo will be the contractor.

No definite plans have been made for the present building.

Candidates Concerned About Progress Of Eldorado In The Future

Eldorado City voters will have to choose between six people to fill two positions on the City Council, Edwin M. "Rooster" Jackson, Jr., Wayne McGinnes, Ronnie Sauer, Ruby "Cookie" Heffernan, Anne Hyde and Dee Dee Duncan.

Running unopposed in the mayor's race is Jimmie Doyle.

McGinnes was born and raised in Eldorado. He and his wife, Cindy, have two children, Erik and Whitney. He is a Vietnam veteran and has been postmaster for five and a half years. He was appointed to serve on the council to fill an unexpired term of Frank Williams. He is running for re-election because that "if I live here, I should take an active interest in the city and hope that by being on the council I can help the city and the people who live here. I know from serving on the council before what can be done and what cannot be done and how the council operates."

Mrs. Duncan, who owns and operates the Texaco station with her husband, Billy, says she is running for the office because "I want to become involved and do what I can to help. I want to do what is best for the city and the people. I want to work for and with the people here. After all, we are going to spend the rest of our lives here."

Mrs. Duncan has lived in Texas for ten years and in Eldorado for two and a half years. She formerly managed a convenience store. She has one daughter, Mrs. Diane Lowery of Eldorado and a son, Barry Duncan who lives in Midland.

Jackson is a life-long resident of Schleicher County and has lived in the city limits of Eldorado for the past 22 years. A rancher, he and his wife, Annette, own and operate Top Liquor Store. They have two sons, Derek and Cody, remaining at home.

Jackson says he is running for the council "Because I would like to serve my community better."

Mrs. Heffernan has lived in Eldorado five and a half years. She and her husband, Troy, have seven children. She is a housewife and the granddaughter of former Eldorado residents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kerr. She feels, "The town could stand some improvement as a whole, with the streets and the garbage being among some of the problems. There should be some way to get the young people into cleaning up the city. I also think the city needs a youth club of some kind, they need it. Parents need to know where their children are and what they are doing."

Mrs. Hyde has lived in Eldorado for three and one half years. She and her husband, John, have two daughters, Crystal and Lindsay. A housewife, she says she is running for the council because "I want to be a part of the community here and help it grow and progress through the City Council."

Sauer is a lifelong resident of Schleicher County. 37 years old, he has been employed by Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative for the past 17 1/2 years and also farms. He and his wife, Rozanna, have lived in Eldorado for 20 years and have a daughter, Tracy, 16 and a son, Ron, 14. He is a member of the Lions Club and the Westside Church of Christ.

"I will serve to the best of my ability and try to do anything I can for the general good and improvement of the city. I want to be an active part in the community," Sauer stated.

Doyle is a native of Eldorado and has lived here for the past 34 years.

He has two sons, Jimmy Dan and Mike and is married to Nancy Doyle.

He has been employed by the Department of Public Highways and Public Transportation for the last 27 years and is a construction supervisor. He was a member of the Eldorado fire Department for many years and is serving on the airport committee. He was a write-in candidate for mayor two years ago.

Doyle says he is running because "I enjoy working on the council. It is a good council and we have gotten a lot of things done in the last two years and I hope to see more improvements done in the city. I want to see the paving project completed and think that the gas system is muchly improved."

Bridget Robinson Is Lions Club Queen

Bridget Robinson, Lori Patton, Sandy Willeke

Bridget Robinson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Robertson was chosen Lion Club Queen last week. She will represent the Eldorado Lion's Club in the District contest in April.

First runner up was Lori Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Patton.

Second runner up was Sandra Willeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Willeke.

The nine contestants, all juniors and seniors were interviewed individually by four judges from the Sonora Lion's Club.

They were judged on personality, poise, and appearance.

Stated Sonny Turner, President of Lion's Club, "I feel that we would have been well-represented by any one of the participants in the contest."

Bill Gentry has been elected Lion of the Year by the Club.

He will be presented a plaque for his outstanding service in the Lion's Club during their installation of new officers.

Three Hospitalized after Two Auto Accidents

Three persons were hospitalized after suffering injuries in two separate accidents last week.

Mrs. Arch (Rose) Edmiston and Gregory Stewart, 14, were taken by ambulance to Schleicher County Medical Center after a two-pickup collision about 8:30 a.m. Saturday. The accident happened on the Old Sonora-Fort McKavett road as Mrs. Edmiston, who was going west, was coming out of a low water crossing. The two vehicles met almost head-on, according to Schleicher County Sheriff Orval Edmiston. The second pickup was driven by Rodney Darron Jones, 16, also of Sonora.

Mrs. Edmiston suffered severe lacerations on the forehead, a broken ankle and a broken arm. She was later transferred to a San Angelo hospital.

The Stewart youth was released from the hospital Sunday.

Hospitalized earlier in the week was Mike Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Phillips who suffered injuries when his Kawasaki motorcycle collided with a pickup driven by Bill Maness. The accident happened as Phillips was going south and Maness was pulling into the Eagle Dairy Mart. Phillips remains in St. John's Hospital where he underwent surgery on his ankle Monday morning.

A fourth person, Jimmy Lewis, formerly of Eldorado, escaped injury Thursday when he swerved to miss a deer on the Old San Angelo highway, 7.1 miles north of Eldorado. His 1969 Dodge rolled over on its top. The car was totally demolished.

AG Lends Support To Bill

Attorney General Mark White today expressed his support of a bill to be introduced and co-sponsored in the Senate by Senators Peyton McKnight (D., Tyler) and Bob Glasgow (D., Stephenville), and in the House of Representatives by Representative Neal T. "Buddy" Jones (D., Hillsboro) which would require the defense to raise any technical problems in an indictment before the trial so that such non-substantive formal deficiencies could not be raised on appeal. White said that yesterday's decision by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to dismiss indictments against six people convicted of possessing cocaine because of legal technicalities illustrates the need for a change in the law. White was not critical of the Court, but he said the decision clearly shows that the law must be changed to prevent guilty parties from being freed on technicalities that have been hidden from the trial court.

Commissioners Discuss Jail

Schleicher County Commissioners met Monday for a brief meeting to discuss several minor items.

Commissioners read a letter from Atmar Atkinson of Lubbock, architect for the new law enforcement center, concerning the lettering for the new center. Atkinson said cots for the lettering he suggested, which could be either four or six inches high, would cost about $884. No action was taken on the suggestion.

Sheriff Orval Edmiston met with the court to discuss the lettering and also ask for the purchase of a television for dispatchers working through the night, general cooking utensils for the new kitchen and an adding machine. Commissioners granted permission to buy the adding machine and cooking utensils but declined to purchase the television set at the present time.

The court agreed to call for bids on a lawnmower to be used at the courthouse and cemetery during their next meeting.

Dorothy Evans, county tax collector, met with the court to discuss remodeling her office in the courthouse, since law enforcement personnel moved into the new law enforcement center. She was granted permission to remove the existing partition and have an 18 inch counter built.

Commissioners signed a letter to the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife asking for reinstatement of the permit system on deer hunting next year.

They also signed a lease with Anderson Petroleum of Midland retaining the mineral rights of 2.47 acres and the right of way on the Old Angelo Highway. The lease paid the county $128.

Commissioners also discussed cleaning bar ditches on the county roads which they believe will be a long process, with county roads foreman Clay Burleson. They also discussed widening and clearing out Cedar Lane in precinct three. No action was taken at this time.

Postage Rates Now in Effect

The United States postal rate increase from fifteen to eighteen cents will go into effect Sunday, March 22.

As of Monday, the Eldorado post office had not yet received the new "B" stamps. Postmaster Wayne McGinnes said the post office had plenty three cent stamps though, which can be added to the fifteen cent postage until the new stamps arrive.

The new stamps were printed with a "B" instead of 18 cents because at the time of printing no one knew exactly what the new rate would be.

Fire Damages Home

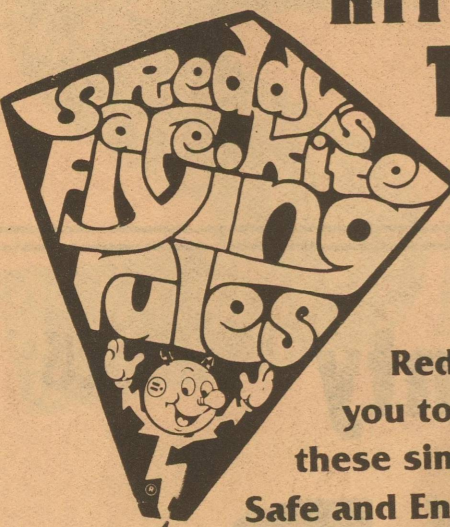

The home of Rita Lloyd, Murchison Street, was heavily damaged by fire last Wednesday morning, March 18.

The Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department answered the fire call at approximately 9 a.m. Fourteen firefighters fought the blaze for approximately one hour, which destroyed the bedroom and left the rest of the house with heavy smoke damage.

Authorities believe the fire started in the television set. No one was home at the time and no injuries were reported.

Discipleship Is Tough

"Whoever loses his life for my sake will gain it." Matthew 10:39.

Another long passage, but even with a quick reading we feel the impact of discipleship. At best a tough calling, and a rough reward. Fascinating, isn't it, that even today these names come to us out of the past? Equally fascinating that we know so little about them. It is a research project to determine who they were and what they did and where they went. What we do know is some cases would not impress ministerial search committees as they seek to fill vacant pulpits today.

We've come a long way from the challenge to the twelve with reasonable salaries, comfortable homes, supportive congregations, comfortable pews, painless giving, and the Lord blessing us real good. But there are places in the world where to witness is to risk one's neck; to worship is to break cherished family ties; to care for the crowd and strive for justice is to be taken to court and thrown into prison. There are names about which (like the twelve) the world knows little and remembers less. And from them the weakened church of the present borrows strength and vitality.

Many Local Gardens Damaged By Root Knot Nematodes

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT--Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ford wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Darlene, to Michael Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Don Watson of Tuscola. Darlene is a graduate of Eldorado High School. She has lived in Eldorado for 14 years. Her fiancé is employed at the Tuscola High School and he has lived in Tuscola for ten years. The couple is planning a June wedding and are planning to live in Eldorado.

EDITOR'S NOTE-- This is the fifth of a 13-part series concerning gardening in Schleicher County. Provided by extension agents Jerry Swift and Nancy Lester, the series will run weekly in the Leader.

Root knot nematodes are the single most important home garden disease in Schleicher county. I would estimate that at least 50 percent of the gardens in this area are damaged by root knot.

One problem with controlling this pest is that it's hard to detect the problem early enough for gardeners to take protective measures. Once nematodes are found on plant roots, little can be done to save that year's crop.

So, it's important to inspect the roots of plants for galls as you remove them from the garden in the fall. These galls or knots on roots indicate the presence of root knot nematodes and this is the time to take effective steps to control the pests. Another symptom of root knot is stunted, yellow plants. Examine the roots of such plants for galls.

As soon as root knot nematodes are found in the garden, immediately remove all diseased plants. Get as much of the root system as possible because it is in these roots that the nematode will carry over in the egg stage to the next crop. Root tissue around the eggs will protect them from chemical treatment and drying.

Once plant roots have been removed, till or spade the area as deep as possible. This breaks up remaining roots so they will decay faster and dries the soil to reduce the number of young nematodes (larvae) in the soil. If nematodes are detected in the spring garden, continue spading at 2-3 week intervals until fall planting time. This continual tilling of the garden will reduce the nematode population even further.

In that portion of the garden not being used for winter vegetables or for those of you who do not want to plant a fall or winter garden, plant the garden to rye (cereal) in mid-September. Water the garden regularly to get maximum fall growth for the small grain.

Rye will act as a control for nematodes. Many of those entering the roots will not be able to undergo complete development and will be killed. When the rye is spaded or tilled under at the end of the season, it decays and produces an organic acid toxic to nematodes.

In addition, rye serves as a source of organic material encouraging the growth of fungi which feed on nematodes. Rye should be turned under as soon as possible after Jan. 1. This will allow some time for plant decay before spring planting.

When soil temperature reaches 50 degrees F for seven days at a depth of 6 inches, treat the area with Vapam fungicide using 1 qt. per 100 sq. ft. Water the chemical into the soil using 1 inch of water at the time of treatment. Re-water in 24 hours, using an additional 1 inch of water and repeat in 48 hours.

Vapam is water soluble and will be leached down into the soil with irrigation. It is important that the chemical be moved as deep in the soil as possible to get maximum control. There may be some of you in the county whose soil is such that 1 inch of water cannot be applied before run-off occurs. In these areas, apply water until run-off begins and then repeat at 24 and 48 hours after treatment.

This method of treatment takes care of the entire area compared to row application where only a 12-inch band is treated. After treatment, leave the area undisturbed for seven days. Then till the soil to get the chemical out. Wait an additional two weeks before planting.

Additional steps can be taken at planting to further insure nematode control. In those areas where root knot is found to be most severe in summer or fall, plant onions, garlic or sweet corn. These crops are not susceptible to root knot, and their use will further reduce the nematode population.

Also, it should be standard practice to plant nematode resistant varieties when available. Following is a list of nematode resistant varieties that have done well in this county.

Crop: Tomatoes, Root Knot Nematode Resistant: Big Set, Better Boy, Terrific, Bonus, Small Fry (cherry type).

Crop: Southern Peas; Root Knot Nematode Resistant: Mississippi Silver (cream)

Crop: Sweet Potatoes; Root Knot Nematode Resistant: Jewell, Centennial. Gardeners who find that they are able to follow only one or two of the above-mentioned practices because of planting or economic restrictions will have less success in controlling nematodes. Once nematodes are found in a garden, the control program as outlined above must be followed annually. Based on current knowledge, it is impossible to completely eliminate nematodes from a garden. But a sound control program will keep the population at a manageable level.

Planting your garden is next. More on that later.

Cancer Program Slated

Television Enterprises will present a special cancer awareness program entitled Cancer Can Be Beat on Wednesday, April 1, from 7 to 8:30 pm.

The program will be informational in nature, discussing the warning signs of cancer, preventive measures, treatment and cures. A number of prominent physicians will be featured to explain just what cancer is and its effects. There will be interviews with cancer patients, both those who have been cured and those still undergoing treatment. They will discuss the emotional aspects of this disease and the treatments available.

Farah Fawcett, Larry Hagman, Minnie Pearl, Dorothy Hamill, and Barbara Belgedes will also appear on the 90-minute special program.

Cancer Can Be Beat is co-sponsored by the national Cable Television Association and the American Cancer Society and will be aired live on Channel 11, WTBS, in Sonora and Eldorado.

Gas Production Reported

Texas oil and gas wells produced 561,545,108 Mcf of gas in November 1980, down 4.72 percent from field runs a year earlier.

Marketed gas production totaled 485,672,305 Mcf and reflected a 3.78 percent decrease from the November 1979 volume. Marketed production is the total gas to transmission lines, carbon black and plant fuel and lease use.

Gas exported from Texas in November totaled 267,055,690 Mcf. Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America was the month's largest exporter, moving 73,428,676 Mcf of gas of which 44,171,482 Mcf was Texas-produced gas.

Exports of Texas-produced gas in November totaled 203,714,592 Mcf, and reflected a 0.53 percent decrease from the year-earlier month.

Texas gas production in November came from 209,792 oil and gas wells.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley of Eldorado, Buddy Roberts of San Angelo, Raye Roberts of Corpus and Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lively of Fort Worth.

Great-grandparents are Mary Helen Stockton of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Roberts of Nixon and Avis Cole of Corpus.

The baby has a sister, Jennifer, three years old.

Second HandSmoke Hurts NonSmokers

Research with both healthy adults and children shows that the lung function of nonsmokers is affected by others' tobacco smoke.

Two carefully controlled, major studies-- one on children whose parents smoked at home, the other on nonsmokers exposed to smokers at work -- have demonstrated that the small airways in the lungs of nonsmokers are affected adversely by tobacco smoke in the environment.

According to the American Lung Association of Texas it is possible, though not proven, that the changes which occur in nonsmokers exposed to a smoky environment for long periods may improve when the smoke is removed. However, it is also possible that the changes may lead to further lung disease. More research is required. What is clear is that lungs do not function normally when forced to breathe smoky air.

During the last few years, says the Lung Association, ways have been pinpointed to determine changes in the small airways. What is significant is the rate at which the person forcibly exhales. Inhaling air is not usually a problem, not even for those with advanced lung disease. But to exhale efficiently, the lungs must be healthy and elastic.

After the person forcibly inhales a deep breath, an instrument called a spirometer measures exactly how fast and how much air is forcibly expelled. Disturbances in the smallest airways are measured at precise points during the exhalation -- during the middle half, for example, and at one later point in the exhalation.

PRELIMINARY RUN--Becky Ragsdale, EHS student, runs goes to the finish line in the Sonora track meet to get fourth in the 100 meter low hurdles. With a 16.8 timing, she qualified for the finals. The EHS girls track team won the meet, barely squeezing by the Junction girls in the 800 meter relay.

Send Seperate Checks To IRS

When two different federal tax payments are made at the same time, separate checks or money orders should be used, the Internal Revenue Service says. An error in crediting one or both payments is possible if two payments are combined, especially if different tax forms are involved.

Taxpayers should write their Social Security numbers, form number and year involved on every check or money order sent to the IRS. This simple procedure ensures the proper crediting to their account, in case the check is separated from the form, according to the IRS.

Checks should be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service." Cash should never be mailed to the IRS, but can be used to make payments in person at an IRS office.

List Dependents On Tax Form

A common error of taxpayers claiming head of households filing status is not listing the name of a qualifying dependent or child, and this can lead to a refund delay.

To file as a head of household, a taxpayer must be unmarried and provide more than half the cost of keeping up a home that is the main home for his or

Other qualifying persons must be the taxpayer's dependents. They generally must live with the taxpayer. However, the taxpayer's dependent parents may qualify, even though they live elsewhere, if the taxpayer paid more than half the cost of keeping up their home and is eligible to claim one or both parents as dependents.

Unmarried includes single, legally separated, divorced and widowed persons, the IRS said.

Without a child or qualifying dependent, unmarried taxpayers are not eligible to file as heads of household and if they do not qualify as surviving widows or widowers, they file under single status and use the corresponding tax table.

Callison In Eagle Spa

Dairy Mart Adds Eagle Spa

Because of a son's injured knee and his wish to play basketball and the desire to get away from the big cities, John and Jo Callison and their family moved to Eldorado.

In November, 1975 John Callison and Buddy White built the Eagle Dairy Mart, but Callison later bought White out and is full owner. The Dairy Mart is a small center in itself. It has a large dining room, game room, meeting room, and a health club.

In addition to the regular menu of hamburgers, hot dogs, hot steak sandwiches Mexican food and pizza, Callison serves a buffet Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. with bar-b-que being served every Friday. A shrimp buffet is served Friday evenings from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30p.m. with all you can eat for $7.95. Drinks are not included.

After a meal at the Dairy Mart or those just wanting a mid-day snack there is wide variety of ice cream delicacies to choose from such as soft vanilla ice cream on a cone, malts, shakes and sundaes. Callison has recently added a counter of ice cream in eight flavors.

For those early morning risers, the Dairy Mart opens at 5a.m. Monday through Saturday, serving a full breakfast.

The large game room has nine machines for the young and the young-at-heart. There are two pin ball machines, five electronic games, two pool tables, one ping pong table, and a juke box.

Callison added the Eagle Health Club approximately a month ago and remodeled the meeting room, making it larger. The meeting room is set up to accommodate 32 people, with space for more if necessary. The room may be used by local club and organizations by making arrangements with Callison in advance. The room is also used by a local Sunday School class on Sunday mornings.

The Eagle Health Club is a welcome addition to Eldorado for those who enjoy working out on exercise machines. The club has two isometric machines, and olympic weight-lifting machine, an abdominal stretch board, knee-flex machine, two bicycles, and a rebounder. The club also has a steam-sauna room. The membership is for one year (prorated the rest of the year through December 31) for $120 a year. Callison will instruct those who are not familiar with the machines.

The Callison's are originally from West Virginia, John being from Beckley and Jo being from Grafton. They both attended the University of West Virginia.

After college the Callisons ventured out to the Four Corners area in New Mexico and Arizona and taught school on the Navajo Indian Reservation for two years. For approximately ten years the Callisons lived in Durago, Colorado where John worked for Reynolds Aluminum in the oil and gas division.

The family came to Texas by being transferred to Houston by the company. In Houston, John went to work for Pet Incorporated as controller and was transferred to San Antonio where they lived for 16 years. Their son Russell had injured a knee and was not permitted to play basketball in San Antonio. He planned to live with his sister and brother-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Gene Stark in Eldorado his last year in high school so he could play, but learned he had to be a resident of the city in order to play first string. Being ready to move from the big city, it didn't take much persuasion for the Callisons to move to Eldorado. The move was made in September 1974, in time for Russell to enroll in school.
