He Makes Quilts

Do you have a hobby? An unusual one? Jesse L. Thurman of Big Spring has. He makes quilts; and an interesting story about his proficiency in this line is on Page 3 of today's Herald. The Herald would like to record interesting features about other people's hobbies. If you have one, or know somebody who does pursue unique enterprises in spare hours, the editor (Phone 728) would like to know about it. Pictures and stories are wanted. Let's see about these hobbies!

Moisture Is Heavy North Of Big Spring

Area Gets Relief From Heat, Crops Are Benefitted

DOWNPOUR IS HEAVY ON SOUTH PLAINS Some Hail With Rains In Scattered Areas Of West Texas

Big Spring and Howard county shared in the general rains falling over the south plains area early Tuesday, receiving relief from hot weather and perhaps benefits to crops.

The U. S. weather bureau at the airport reported a total of 3.0 of an inch precipitation during a slow rain which started at 8 a. m. and continued until 11:30 a. m. The U. S. Experiment Farm gauge showed .50 of an inch.

At the L. M. Anderson place 2.1 miles north, an inch and a quarter fell, and west and slightly north near the county line, S. L. Lockhart's ranch reported a good two inches. The Luther area was reported to have received a good supply of moisture.

In Martin Co. Ackerly, in two hours of slow rain starting at 7:30 a. m. had about half an inch over the entire surrounding area. Lamesa recorded an inch and a half.

A good part of Martin county was blanketed with half an inch of rain, with the heavier part going to the southern tip of the county. The rain started as a slow drizzle and increased in intensity toward noon. Tarzan, in the northeastern part of the county reported a two-hour rain with long hanging clouds giving promise of additional moisture.

South of Big Spring the rain gradually lightened until it amounted to only about 1.8 of an inch at Elbow. In Garden City where recent showers have left the terrain in good shape, not so much as a sprinkle was reported.

MAN AND WIFE ARE KILLED IN MISHAP

LUBBOCK, July 20 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bynum, each about 30, of Meadow community, were killed and their bodies mangled, and their son, Billy, 6, and Mrs. Bynum's brother, L. T. Downing, 40, seriously injured when the automobile they occupied collided with a heavily-laden lumber truck 15 miles southwest of Lubbock shortly before noon today.

R. N. Marchbanks of Lubbock, named by state highway patrol men as driver of the truck, escaped injury. He is employed by a lumber company here.

Eye-witnesses reported to Deputy Sheriff Grady Harriet, who investigated, that the machines came together head-on and both turned over several times. The automobile, a light sedan, was demolished.

TRIAL ORDERED IN FORD PLANT RIOTING

DETROIT, July 20 (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy today ordered eight individuals and the Ford Motor company as a corporation, held for trial in the Wayne county circuit court, on an assault warrant based on the riot at the Ford plant gates May 26.

The formal charge was assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, in connection with the beating of United Automobile Workers members attempting to distribute union literature near Ford's River Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn.

NON-INTERVENTION EFFORTS COLLAPSE

LONDON, July 20 (AP)—Italian refusal to discuss the withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain was understood from sources today to have caused a breakdown in non-intervention negotiations.

Efforts To Reach Settlement Of Dispute In Crisis Fail

TIENSIN, July 20 (AP)—The Japanese army seized control today of the entire waterfront at Tangku, including wharves, Chinese customs offices, and foreign shipping companies in preparation for the expected arrival of 35,000 troops from Japan.

Tangku is the port for Tientsin, connected by rail with water with this city in the center of the North China conflict.

By the Associated Press Chinese and Japanese armies battled in a Peiping suburb today soon after an ultimatum demanding withdrawal of Chinese troops expired.

Japanese artillery was reported to have wrecked the towers of the walled city of Wangpinghsien, western suburb of Peiping, at 2:30 p. m. The Chinese arsenal and barracks were said to have burst into flames under the "punitive shelling."

At noon the deadline for Chinese compliance with Japan's "last warning" had passed unanswered.

The Damed (Japanese) news agency said Japanese infantry charged near the Marco Polo bridge and the engagement became general at the scene of the first clash in the North China dispute.

No Settlement Efforts to reach a peace formula setting the dispute which began with a clash at the Marco Polo bridge July 7 thus far have failed.

A formal report at Shanghai said families of Japanese diplomats to the Chinese central government were preparing to leave Nanking for Shanghai Friday.

The Japanese army in China had warned commanders of the Chinese 29th army, which has been fighting in the Peiping-Tientsin area, it would "take independent action" if the Chinese failed to cease firing and withdraw.

The Chinese response, Japanese said, was to open fire on Japanese positions near Wangpinghsien.

Despite the resumption of hostilities, British sources in Tientsin reported officers of the 29th army.

Three Found Shot To Death

MURDER-SUICIDE VERDICT Returned In Texas Violence

CARTHAGE, July 20 (AP)—Justice of the Peace J. L. Barton rendered a verdict of murder and suicide in a triple slaying near here today.

Barton held that J. J. Wills, 78, Panola county farmer, killed his wife, Ethel, 42, and his daughter, Maggie Lou, 12, and then turned the shotgun on himself.

There were no eye-witnesses. A negro who happened to be passing the farm home, 10 miles west of Carthage, heard the shots.

Barton said the negro told him that after hearing the first shot, he heard a man say "get down there on the floor and kiss her goodbye."

The passerby was quoted as having heard the girl plead for her life.

"Daddy, you don't know what you are doing, please don't do this," the negro quoted the girl as having said. He told Barton that two shots broke off the conversation.

Then, according to Justice Barton's reconstruction of the scene, Wills placed the barrel of the shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger with a piece of stovewood. Today was Mrs. Wills' 42nd anniversary. The justice was informed that the elderly farmer had been despondent.

Hospital Bid Given Study

City's Supplementary Bid Reviewed By State Representatives

Further check of Big Spring offers in connection with its bid for the new West Texas hospital for the insane was being made today by representatives of the state board of control.

Officials here included Dr. Charles W. Castner, medical director of the state eleemosynary institutions; Hood Pitts, chief technician; and Wyatt C. Headrick, Fort Worth chief architect on the projected institution.

Items in the city's supplementary brief were reviewed at a meeting with chamber of commerce representatives, and the city's proffered site was viewed by the visitors.

Details on electric, gas and telephone service available here were presented by representatives of the Texas Electric Service, Empire Southern Service, and Southwest Bell Telephone companies. Water and sewerage facilities were discussed with City Manager E. V. Spence, R. C. Griffin, land and tax commissioner for the Texas & Pacific railway, was consulted as to possible rail connection with the proposed site.

Detailed check of various applications had been planned by the board of control before final selection of site of the institution. Several other West Texas cities are bidding for the hospital.

FOUR INJURED IN HIGHWAY COLLISION

HENRIETTA, July 20 (AP)—James Dillard Moore of Mount Pleasant and Elmo Barnes of Bowie were injured and two other persons were injured when four automobiles tangled in a wreck centering about a rain-stalled truck.

W. B. Gragg of Wichita Falls and a Mr. Smith of Henrietta were slightly hurt. A truck driven by J. C. Seiger was stalled by water and Gragg stopped to give aid. Two other cars rammed into the automobile and truck.

The accident occurred at Smith Creek, ten miles southeast of here last night.

Birthday Anniversary Of Juanalee Nance Is Celebrated With Party

Miss Juanalee Nance celebrated her sixth birthday with a party given recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nance, 806 East 15th.

Mrs. Nance was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Echols, in directing the playing of games, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

The guest list included Ruby Lois West, Mamie Jean Meador, Jimmie Meador, Margaret Smith, Anne Smith, Bobbie Sanders, Pauline Wood, Juanita Wood, Inez Carson, Joyce Clardy, Joyce Todd, Sonny Barlow, Rose Mary Acuff, Wanda Jean Forest, Jean Forest, Joy Woodman, Jimmie Goodman, Anna Jean Williams, James E. Williams, Jeanette and George Bugg, Robert George Nixon, Richard Nance and Elouise Mench.

REPORT IMPROVED

Mrs. Jess Johnson, who has been ill in Hivings hospital for the past month, is reported improved and was moved to her home at 1205 Sycamore. Her mother and brother, who arrived last week to be with her, will remain here indefinitely.

FINICKY APPETITES OFTEN ONE RESULT OF CONSTIPATION

When nothing tastes right, and you don't eat as you should, the trouble may be common constipation. Poor appetite is one of its symptoms. Others are headaches, listlessness and sallow complexions.

Constipation is usually due to "low-bulk" meals. Serve your family Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a generous source of "bulk."

Within the body, this food absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and sponges out the system. How much better than taking pills and drugs!

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Three times daily, in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into appetizing muffins, breads, etc.

Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Home Missions Is Studied By Church Society

An unusually large attendance of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church met at the church Monday afternoon to hear discussions about home mission work, particularly among India and Mexican women in their own auxiliaries, by Mrs. Emory Duff and Mrs. R. W. Middleton.

Mrs. W. C. Barnett, secretary of Assembly's home missions and S. & P. home missions, gave an interesting devotion, "Transformed Womanhood Around the World." The devotional hour was closed with singing hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," and prayer by Mrs. Barnett.

Main thoughts expressed throughout the program were "Is Anything Too Hard for God," "Other Foundation No Man Laid Except in Jesus Christ" and "Meditation That God Giveth the Increase." The program was followed by singing hymn, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." Mrs. J. E. Pritchett, who presided during the business hour, led in a prayer for the work and leaders. "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" was sung after which the Mizpah was repeated in unison.

Roll call was checked in circles and the following answered: King's Daughters, Mrs. A. A. Porter, chairman, Mrs. Elouise Arnold, Mrs. C. W. Cunningham, Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Mrs. H. H. Moser, Mrs. R. C. Piner, Mrs. H. D. Stanley.

Ruth Circle, Mrs. J. S. Pritchett, chairman, Mrs. N. J. Allison, Mrs. E. L. Harracks, Mrs. W. C. Barnett, Mrs. Hal Farley, Mrs. G. D. Lee and Mrs. Lee Porter.

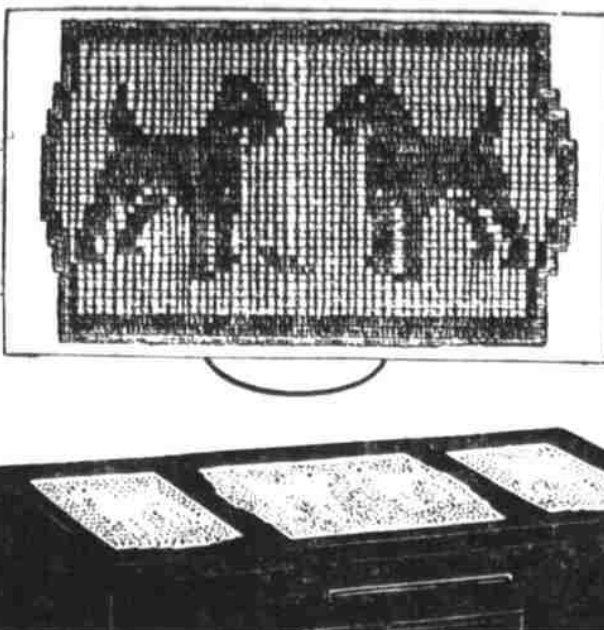

Darcus Circle, Mrs. H. W. Caylor, chairman, Mrs. T. S. Currie, Mrs. F. R. Denny, Mrs. Ellen Gould, Mrs. D. A. Koons, Mrs. D. E. McConnell, Mrs. R. C. Strain, Mrs. Carl Strom, Mrs. J. O. Tansitt, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr., and Mrs. Alex P. Smith, visitor.

INJURIES FATAL

CLARKSVILLE, Tex., July 20.—Cecil Petty, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Petty, died in a hospital here today of injuries received Sunday when he was hit by an automobile while he was riding a "scooter."

His death marked the third fatality of children in mishaps here Sunday. John Adams, 14, died of accidental gunshot wounds and C. D. Gaines, 14, drowned.

The second chapter of the study book, "Congo Crosses" was subject for discussion Monday afternoon at the W. M. U. meeting of the East Fourth Street Baptist church when Mrs. Lloyd Montgomery was program leader.

The leader selected her scripture from Romans 8:31-38. She was assisted by Mrs. Walter Cundiff and Mrs. W. W. Coleman, who discussed topics of interest.

Others present for the meeting were Mrs. Jack King, Mrs. Fannie Mae Barrett, Mrs. John Whittaker, Mrs. H. Drake, Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, Mrs. Cecil Nabors, Mrs. W. G. Anderson and Miss Louise Whittaker.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

"THE PROFITS OF WAR," by Richard Lewisohn, (Dutton: $3). Trust the French to get at the heart of the war profiteering business. This feat has been accomplished by one Richard Lewisohn in a book which originally was called "Les Profits de Guerre a travers les Siecles." An excellent translation by Geoffrey Sainsbury preserves, we are sure, much of the flavor of the original while providing an English text which has an idiomatic flavor of its own.

Mr. Lewisohn divides his book into six long chapters, each of which contains numerous subsections. "The Profits of War" have gone to several classes throughout the centuries, and each of these has a chapter. First the generals and then the soldiers under the general were the profiteers.

Next came the financiers, the Fuggers, Jacques Coeur, the Rothschilds, the Morgans. The third class to benefit chiefly was the armament makers, of whom the Krupps, the Schneiders, the DuPonts, the Bethlehem Steel works and Vickers are supreme examples. The contractors came fourth in line, with Ouvrad perhaps the first conspicuous example but by no means the only one before modern times. And fifth there are the speculators who also have operated in all time, but perhaps most disastrously in the last war.

None of these classes has sharply cut off its profit at any specified time—Lewisohn does not mean that the financiers no longer make money out of war, or that armament makers suddenly and cleanly resigned so profitable a field to the canned goods makers. What he means is that the area of greatest profit has been traveling, slowly but perceptibly, through these classes and that now it is the people farthest from the actual war who make the most money. Armament makers are properly being watched, Lewisohn believes.

State regulation of war profit is a good idea not likely to be effectively enforced, he feels. Nevertheless, it is evident to him that the movement for the regulation of war profit is a historical one coming down through time, and some day, perhaps, something effective will be done.

63rd Birthday Anniversary Is Celebrated

STANTON, July 20.—In celebration of her sixty-third birthday anniversary, children and grand children of Mrs. Lula P. Metcalf gathered at her home here Sunday in a family reunion.

Forty-seven immediate family members were present, together with four other guests, for the birthday dinner which was served buffet style. The birthday cake was lighted by candles.

The ten Metcalf children were all present including Mrs. J. J. Cook of Stanton, Mrs. Gordon Cross of Courtney, James M. Metcalf of Amarillo, M. C. Metcalf of Amarillo, Phenix Metcalf of Fritch, Tex., Miss Perla Metcalf of Fort Stockton, C. W. Metcalf of Odessa, J. B. Metcalf of Monahans, and Mrs. Charlie Hall of Monahans. Lindley Metcalf introduced his bride of a few weeks to the family. All sons-in-law and daughters-in-law were present except Mr. Hall of Monahans.

Also present were the honoree's 27 grandchildren and three step-grandchildren. Others attending the reunion were Miss Mattie Phenix of Lamesa, niece of Mrs. Metcalf, a nephew, Ewell Helms of Dothan, Ala., who is making his home with Mrs. Metcalf, Miss Sybil Mitchell of Lamesa, and Preston Kelly of Stanton.

Mrs. Metcalf was the recipient of a number of gifts, including one from John Hawkins of the United States navy, who sent a gift from Seattle, Wash., to Mrs. Metcalf, whom he calls "his mother." He is an intimate friend of her son.

Another unique gift was that of a group of blocks, sufficient for a quilt, pieced by Mrs. Metcalf's three granddaughters: Margaret Mildred and Rosa Lou Cross, and embroidered with names of each of her grandchildren.

Party Celebrates Third Birthday Anniversary Of Little Joan Smith

Mrs. H. W. Smith invited several friends of her little daughter Joan, to their home Monday afternoon for a party in celebration of her third birthday anniversary. A lovely color note of pink and white was used in decorations and refreshments of cake and ice cream.

Young People's Conference Is Well Underway

The young people's conference of the West Texas Christian church, which is convening on Scenic Mountain this week, got under way this morning when Dean Edgar Lloyd Smith of Colorado directed the assembly period at 10 o'clock, bringing the conference opening message.

Rev. Smith will conduct a series of messages on "Progress Through Improvement of Life" at the assembly hour, stressing the point that progress depends on making the most of natural relationship with self, with others, with possessions, and with God. Other speakers scheduled for this hour will be Mrs. Frank Garrett, missionary to China, and Mrs. Vida Elliott, missionary to India at one time, and who at present is conductor of missionary education for young people in Texas. Mrs. G. C. Schurman is devotional leader and will present special features from time to time. It was announced.

An interesting hour of the conference program is vesper services conducted each evening at 7:30 o'clock with Rev. G. C. Schurman, local pastor, in charge. He will conduct a series of messages, "The Gospel in a Verse." Rev. Schurman has chosen John 3:16 for his scripture reference and will use for his subject tonight, "Love." Last night he delivered a message on "God."

HOBBIES OF BIG SPRING FOLK—

Quilt A Week No Trick At All For Man Who Makes 'Em For Fun

The man across the street is a very ordinary fellow—ordinary habits, ordinary occupation, and ordinary personality until you get a look at him from behind his hobby. Then, likely as not, he becomes a distinct individual expressing some intrinsic talent through unusual avenues.

The fact that almost everybody has some sort of a hobby doesn't relegate them to the realm of humdrum, for hobbies are bounded only by the imaginations of the men who create them.

There's no predicting a hobby. Perhaps it is a natural outgrowth of a vocation more likely it is an expression of the other side of a personality.

Least of all would you expect Jesse A. Thurman, a sailor during the world war and now operating a shoe repair shop here, to have a hobby that requires tedious, minute work and a rare sense of color and design.

He has those qualities, for making quilts demands it. Making quilts is not entirely odd for a man, but turning them out on the scale he does is unusual for anyone. Last year he made 52 quilts, one for every week in the year. This year he has not been so active and has turned out something like a dozen.

"It's just my hobby," he grins, "and I like to ride it the same as other folks do theirs. I get more kick out of it than most do out of their golf."

Thurman taught himself how to quilt when he was confined to the naval hospital at Philadelphia in 1918. "Because I was convalescing patient," he recalls, "they ordered me to work on some light project and suggested knitting. I didn't care for knitting so they told me to look around. In the basement I found an old sewing machine and a bunch of scraps and started to work, figuring out things as I went. The nurse helped me straighten it out. When I was transferred to Norfolk hospital and later to Walter Reid, I took my work with me."

In eight months at the naval hospital he turned out half a dozen quilts. That same year, planning to get married, he started out to build up a reserve of quilts. A bonnet factory gave him enough material for 10 tops and a round bale gin enough to fill them. By the time the war was out, Thurman had produced 37 quilts.

He more or less forgot his hobby until last year when he picked up some scraps and began sewing. J. C. Douglass, in whose building Thurman's shop is located, didn't believe that Thurman could quilt—and if he could, he couldn't finish the quilt in a month. Thurman boasted he would finish it in a week. He did, and having done so, elected to do a quilt a week.

A few of his patterns he turned out include "Dutch Doll," "Rocky Road to California," "Dutch Windmill," "Dutch Rose," "Butterfly," "Red, White and Blue Triangle," "Cross for Cross," "Four Square," "String," and "Missouri Star."

Centennial Design For 1936 he turned out his "Texas Lone Star" centennial quilt, and for a bit of soulful expression he created his "Musio Goes Round and Round" quilt.

Thurman works fast at his quilting, doing it on his machine. His record is a 7,000 piece quilt with 800 yards of thread in seven days. All his quilts are 72x82 inches.

Perhaps quilting is predominantly a woman's assignment, but Thurman adds the man's touch very effectively by refusing to use scissors to cut his pieces. He uses a knife and some wooden and pasteboard patterns, cutting as high as 20 pieces at a time.

When he goes shopping for material he buys enough to last for quite a time. Once last year he bought 38 pounds of scraps.

What does he do with all the quilts?

"I make them for gifts to my folks and friends. No, I don't sell them. Making quilts is just my hobby. I get a kick out of doing it, and a kick out of giving them away."

GOVT. EXPENDITURE QUOTAS MORE THAN 7 1-2 BILLIONS

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—Congress has appropriated more than $7,500,000,000 this year for federal expenditures, committee records showed today.

This includes an estimated $133,298,999 for the interior department which the house may cut before giving final approval.

The budget bureau recommended general expenditures of $7,834,036,159.95, while the comparable appropriations for last year were $8,703,324,108.52.

This year's appropriations would be more than $1,000,000,000 ahead of last year's had not congress voted $2,237,000,000 in 1936 to pay the soldiers' bonus.

Records of the house appropriations committee show these comparisons for regular appropriations (relief, CCC and deficiency appropriations are not included):

Blame Placed On Public For Forest Fires

Blazes 90 Pct. Man-Caused, Declares Head Of U. S. Service

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—A. Silcox, chief of the U. S. Forest Service, has appealed to vacationists to be more careful of fires they build in the nation's forests.

Ninety per cent of all forest fires are man-caused, Silcox said. The nation suffers an annual billion dollar loss from forest fires which sweep over 40,000,000 acres.

Silcox praised a painting by James Montgomery Flagg showing Uncle Sam in the uniform of a Forest Ranger pointing toward a burning forest and the words "Your Forest—Your Fault—Your Loss."

The painting officially accepted by President Roosevelt, will be used extensively by the Forest Service in fire prevention work. Through the aid of co-operating agencies, poster copies of the painting are to be distributed throughout the country.

Human Element Stressed "Mr. Flagg has gone straight to the essential point in the problem of fire control—the human element," Silcox said. "His title tells the whole story in rapid-fire style."

"America's forests are literally 'Your Forests.' Forests, no matter where they are, under private, state or federal ownership, influence the daily lives of millions of people directly dependent for a livelihood on forest products, and additional millions who use the forests for hunting, fishing, camping and other forms of recreation.

"Green forests protect watersheds and exert a powerful control on the sources of floods. "Blame Fairly Placed "The second part of Flagg's title—'Your Fault'—means just this: 90 per cent of all the forest fires in the nation are man-caused. Because they are caused by man, they are preventable.

"Due to the close interrelationship between the forests and our everyday life, the phrase 'Your Loss' becomes equally true. It may reasonably be said that when a forest burns, everybody loses. "Flagg has made a valuable contribution in the fight against forest fires which burn annually over an area almost as large as the entire state of Washington," Silcox said.

Something unusual and likely very new in construction of homes is in progress near Colorado. H. W. Whitney, city secretary, said today.

Back from Colorado where he and Jimmie Greene, chamber of commerce manager, and R. J. McDaniel, city superintendent, inspected that city's amphitheatre, Whitney told of a house being raised out of dirt on the ground where it is located.

The ground had been mixed with asphalt emulsion, stabilizing the dirt. The finished product is an adobe product with the consistency of brick.

Builder of the house had painted the exterior white and plastered the interior, and was covering with an asphalt roof sprinkled with red brick chips. Those who inspected it said the thick adobe walls made it ideally cool.

One of the most attractive features of the house is that it cost approximately half of what the equivalent quality in another type of construction would cost.

THANKS!...That's what millions of car-owners now say to Goodyear for alertness in providing them First-Class Travel at Reduced Rates!

ADD this to all you've read about Higher Prices—and see if it doesn't cheer you. For prices are climbing—labor, materials, all production costs! But there's good news from Goodyear! Rising costs put us really on our mettle to show you all over again how far Goodyear leads the world's rubber companies.

Months ago Goodyear saw the signs of higher costs—and met the threat with the tire industry's leading resources and talent. We fought rising costs with brains and ingenuity. And came through—with the husky, handsome new "R-1"—AT THE PRICE YOU'RE USED TO PAYING—the most sensational tire value of recent years!

SITTING PRETTY—"riding with pride" on tires with real nation-wide reputation—THE leading make—at the price you're used to paying!

Sensational tire-value surprise! This great new "R-1" incorporates the principles learned building "G-3" All-Weather tires, most famous in the world—and more than 23,000,000 Pathfinders! Principles of thrifty tire performance—safe going—sure traction—amazing mileage!

Every inch of this big, tough "R-1" is built to take it! Extra "beef" in the massive tread—12% more rubber—gives longer wear. Flatter, wider tread gives more road-contact and broader traction. Shoulders higher and broader hold truer on curves. It has all the great top-value Goodyear features! Center traction—the Goodyear Margin of Safety. Wider riding-ribs for easier steering and slow, equalized wear. And patented Supertwist Cord in every ply for maximum blowout protection. Your nearby Goodyear dealer or Goodyear Service Store has the new "R-1" in your size. Go take a look—today!

LOOK! HERE'S WHY THE NEW "R-1" IS GREAT! See these safe-mileage, big-value features which you get at this new low price because of Goodyear's unequalled facilities, experience and leadership. FLATTER, WIDER TREAD gives you more road-contact, more traction. 12% MORE RUBBER IN TREAD gives you longer wear, greater mileage. HIGHER, BROADER SHOULDERS give you more "hold" on curves. CENTER TRACTION gives you the Goodyear Margin of Safety. SUPERTWIST CORD IN EVERY PLY gives you maximum blowout protection. HANDSOME, STREAMLINED SIDEWALLS give your car smart, modern looks. Remember—THE CHEAPEST THING ON YOUR CAR IS THE BEST THING YOU CAN BUY!

COUPLE FOUND DEAD IN N. Y. APARTMENT

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—Police, pursuing a murder theory, awaited an autopsy today on the bodies of a young couple found dead in their Queens apartment under strange circumstances.

The couple, George Chinery, 27, and his wife, Ella, 25, apparently had been dead for several days. The bodies were found last night by patrolmen summoned by Chinery's father and George Sherbetlan, the apartment owner.

Chinery lay in a pool of blood in the bathroom. The body of his wife, clad only in underwear, was in an adjoining bedroom. He body, said Police Captain James Smith, was covered "from head to foot" with bruises.

Neighbors, who told police they had heard nothing to indicate an attack, said they had last seen the couple on Thursday.

AGE BENEFITS DUE

DALLAS, July 20 (AP)—Ernest L. Tutt, manager for the social security board here, said today that old-age benefit payments are due on accounts of more than 8,000 retired or deceased persons in the 104 Texas counties in the Dallas district.

Only 120 claims have been filed and 45 payments have been made. Tutt said in explaining that his office is not permitted to notify the account holder that he is eligible to file a claim. Claims that have been paid have ranged from a few cents to $104.

Each retiring worker or the estate of each deceased worker is due 3 1-2 per cent of wages he received since his social security account was opened.

Mrs. Loy Acuff, assistant county superintendent, is vacationing and plans to make a brief visit in San Antonio.

RURAL ELECTRIC LINE TO BE CONSTRUCTED

DALLAS, July 20 (AP)—G. C. Henry, engineer for the W. E. Alsham Construction company of Dallas, said today work would start in about 10 days on $11 million of rural electric power line in Hill, Ellis and Johnson counties. The construction company yesterday was awarded the contract on a bid of $245,126. It was announced by W. G. Morris, engineer for the Hill County electric co-operative under the federal government's rural electrification program. Read The Herald Want-Ads.

WOMAN VICTIM OF UNDERWORLD RIDE
NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—The body of an attractive young woman, shot three times near the heart, was found today sprawled Harlem river speedway, apparently the victim of an underworld ride. Her identity was not immediately established. Her clothes were rumpled and dust-covered and from their appearance the police concluded she probably had been tossed from a car as traced along the old road near 166th street. The woman was about 30 years old, dark of skin and apparently of Spanish or Italian origin. City Fish Pond for Show ASHLAND, Wis. (UP)—Ashland's city hall fish pond is inhabited again following receipt of half a hundred German brown and brook trout through action of the North Wisconsin Rod and Gun Club. Caretaker William Lammery, city hall custodian, warned visitors to the pond at the hall, to refrain from feeding or molesting the fish. Read The Herald Want-Ads.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Pepper Martin and his baseball nine are pioneering today, going into a part of the country where they have never enjoyed too much success but they're confident and that should be enough to win the first game, especially against a team like Wolforth. They always play their best ball under pressure and may hand the Amerada Oilers a package.

Shell's Red Raiders, with able assistance from Bobby Savage, who pitched a two hit game, defeated the Colorado Shell aggregation, 4-3, Monday afternoon on the Mundy diamond. It was the second beating in a row the Foran team has handed the Mitchell county representative. The Colorado outfit will try again next week.

Following Sunday's game in which they defeated Cleveland, 5-1, the New York Yankees had won half as many games as they won during 1936. They'll probably cop the bunting again this season by almost as many games. They have Chicago yet to encounter on their western road trip in addition to St. Louis but thus far have defeated the two real contenders in five of six games. The Yanks never did have much trouble with the White Sox.

Continental suffered a 4-1 setback at the hands of the TP Shoppers Sunday afternoon. The hard hitting Conoco team managed only two hits off T. Fierro and trailed after the second inning when the Gas House Gang tallied five of their six runs.

NEARING RECORD DALLAS, July 20 (AP)—Second Baseman Stan Sperry of the Oklahoma City Indians today was only three games away from the Texas league's consecutive game hitting record. The infielder has hit safely in 34 straight games—three shy of the mark set by Ike Boone in 1933 while with San Antonio.

COSDEN TAKES EIGHT .300 HITTERS TO TOURNEY

H. WALLIN MAY START ON MOUND

Six southpaw swingers may handicap the Cosden Oilers no little as Manager Pepper Martin leads his crew into the first round of the Lubbock invitational baseball tournament today against the Wolforth Wolves, but the locals will be heavily favored to enter the second round with one victory.

The six left handers, however, have been pounding the pellet at a terrific clip and five of the eight hitters who are hitting at a .300 level.

LUBBOCK, July 20—Five inches of rainfall put Tuesday's game under water. Cook and Charlie Morgan are right handers.

Two Saved Cook and Morgan will be saved to throw up against the opposition that will come if the Oilers win. Should the locals cop today's affair, the Amerada of Monument, N. M., or the Lubbock Hubbers, will form the opposition Thursday.

The Oilers and the New Mexico outfit have met three times this season and the Cloverman have made away with two victories but things may shape up differently in a park.

At any rate, whether the locals win or lose today's game, they will not be entirely eliminated. They have two opportunities to remain in the tournament, meeting Tip-Top of Lubbock should they lose.

Back Into Lead Rat Ramsey bounced back into the lead in the batting race by collecting two hits in four trips to the plate against the Coahoma Bulldogs, while Pat Stacey was going hitless in three attempts but Al Doren continued to show the way with the timber by garnering three bingles off Beard and Bib Hardy.

The former San Angelo catcher is hitting .444 and has driven in a total of 10 runs.

Tommy Hutto, who had three "anubers" in the Sunday game, increased his average for the season to 16 points to an even .380 to take runner up honors to Ramsey who had .393.

Meanwhile, Jake Morgan climbed back into the 300 circle, collecting two hits in four trips against the Coahomans.

Ramsey continued to lead in runs batted in with 17 and has scored 16 runs to lead in that department while Hutto is first in base hits with 27 for the season.

Johnson Lifesaver Of Cardinals As Dean Ailing

Associated Press Sports Writer It must be extremely cheering news to Manager Frankie Frisch that Jerome (Big Toe) Dean, is hastening to Boston to rejoin the St. Louis Cardinals and help put them back on the right, or pennant winning, track.

Frisch has missed the Dean right arm to no end. But, if he has it miss, it's even more, it's due to Silas Kenneth Johnson. On the Cards' current road trip, Johnson has won four games, his latest a 3-2 defeat of the Giants yesterday, while the Redbirds have lost three.

Johnson previously had appeared in 16 games for a record of one win and three lost.

Yesterday he turned back the Giants on six hits, to save the Cards from a shut-out in the four-game series and drop the Terry-men to a full game behind the Cubs, who blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-0.

After being clipped in the ninth for Wally Berger's eleventh homer of the year, he was able to choke the rally under his own power with the tying run on base.

With the Pirates nosing out the Phillies, 6-5, the Cards managed to keep up with the parade until Dean's return to action.

Meanwhile, the Yanks carried on their American League slaughter. Freshman Tom Henrich's homer, double and single furnished four runs in the 8-5 triumph, thirteenth of the year for Lefty Gomez.

The White Sox kept their place, six games behind the Yanks, by edging out the Red Sox, 6-4, for a clean sweep of the series, and the Tigers mauled the Senators for an 8-4 triumph.

The Reds and Bees in the National and Athletics and Browns in the American League had open dates.

ATHLETES SAIL NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—Eighteen track and field athletes, comprising the first contingent of 33 national champions and near champions who will tour Europe and Japan this summer, sail on the Berengaria tomorrow. The Japan-bound team of 15 will leave from San Francisco Aug. 5.

Henkel Is Winner In Cup Games

Defeats Betsy Grant In Four Sets To Even Matters

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 20 (AP)—Heinrich Henkel stolid Teuton defeated the Atlanta Atom, Betsy M. (Betsy) Grant today, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, 4-4 and boosted Germany into a tie with the United States in the Davis Cup interzone tennis finals with only one singles match between Don Bacon of Oakland, Calif., and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, yet to be played.

Aside from a temporary let-down in the second set, Henkel kept the tiny Grant pretty well under control to bring the series count to two victories each.

It was Grant's second successive defeat of the series. He bowed to Von Cramm, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, in the opening match Saturday. Henkel split even in his two singles engagements, bowing to Budge, 6-2, 6-3, on Saturday. The American's second point came yesterday when Budge and Gene Mako whipped Von Cramm and Henkel in the doubles, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6, 6-4.

Bucs Triumph Over Leaders

'FURRINER' VIC TO TRY TO END ALI'S WIN STREAK

Thirty-one base hits, including nine home runs, three triples and a trio of doubles, rang out when Galveston's Buccaneers slugged their way to an 11 to 8 win over Oklahoma City in the feature tilt of the Texas League last night.

The display was thought to be the most impressive extra-base hit performance in the circuit since 1930 when Gene Bye slammed three homers in an inning for Vaco.

"Found 'Em," Paul Easterling cracked two of the circuit-wallops to account for five Indian runs while Doolley of the Blues drove three triples plus a homer for a total of 13 bases and five runs batted in.

Skipper Zach Taylor of the San Antonio Midgets' pinch-hit his Missions to a 9 to 2 victory over Fort Worth in the last of the ninth. It was the Alamo City's third straight triumph over the Cats.

A pitching duel between George Milstead of Tulsa and Jimmy Lyons of Houston ended in a 2 to 1 win for the former in a series opener. It was the fourth time Milstead defeated the Reds.

The cellar-dwelling Dallas Steers tried hard but failed to take a third game from Beaumont, dropping the tilt 4 to 3. Dallas won a twin bill night before last to break a long losing streak.

DYKES IS REAL LEADER OF SOX

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—He's the dean of all American League infielders and "old peglegs" to his fans, yet Jimmy Dykes, in his 20th major league season, still is showing the youngsters a trick of two.

The Chicago White Sox manager, who'll be 40 years old next Nov. 10, isn't breaking into as many box scores as he used to. But when he does, as happened yesterday, fans and players alike realize the great job he is doing in keeping his club well up in the first division.

His team was tied with Boston yesterday at 4-1 in the eighth, with two on base. Dykes, with his bad leg so sore he could not place all his weight on it, went in to pinch hit and landed a double to right center which won the ball game.

A fast man could have made it a triple, Dykes, winning with every step actually hopped on one leg the last few feet to second base. It was a fifth straight win for the Sox.

He will talk about everything but where his club is liable to finish this season. He believes pennant talk will tighten up any club and prefers to go along, taking the good with the bad, the wins with the losses.

Early arrivals included Miss Elinor Jones of Albuquerque, New Mexico state women's champion and winner of the recent Big Spring invitational, and Mrs. Harry Ralston, Mrs. Theron Hicks and Mrs. Gordon Phillips, all of Big Spring.

The San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Amarillo, Abilene, Clovis and Sweetwater and other delegations were expected.

Wacoan In Loss To McGehee, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 20 (AP)—Seeded players paired off today for quarter-final matches in the national junior interscholastic tennis championships at the Meriton Cricket club.

Results yesterday included Billy McGehee, New Orleans, seeded fourth, drew a default in the first round, then defeated Edward Brown, Waco, Texas, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

A first round match between Bobby Curtis, Houston, Texas, and Arthur Jordan, Jr., Chapel Hill, N. C., was postponed until today. The winner meets M. C. Hooper, Tulsa, Okla., for a quarter-final position.

Reynolds And Kress Are Miller Factors

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—Two major leaguers are providing much of the punch which is keeping Minneapolis in the American Association pennant race.

Carl Reynolds, Millers left fielder and Ralph (Red) Kress, shortstop, produced timely hits yesterday that were important factors in the Millers' 8 to 7 win over Milwaukee.

The league-leading Columbus outfit nosed out Indianapolis, 6-5. St. Paul unleashed a 17-hit offense against Kansas City to down the Blues, 13-5. Louisville walloped Toledo, 9-8.

R. E. Hendricks, commercial manager of the Texas Electric Service company, with headquarters in Fort Worth, was a business visitor in Big Spring Monday.

Maybe this was what Tex Watkins was referring to when he said all "furriners" should be on the special events and not the main attractions of any wrestling show. Jack is from "North of 36," away up in the land of the red coats. Tonight he meets a native Texan, Speedy Franks of Abilene, in the first bout of the Big Spring Athletic club's three-bout card.

Sailor Watkins, whose offense has moved him half way up the ladder, will attempt to complete that journey tonight when he crawls through the ropes to meet Pancho El Poppo of the land below Cancer. It's the senior's initial appearance and it may be his last if Tex is feeling good.

The far tossed Olie Erickson about the ring last week and in minutes of the people's time with as good a strut as has been seen in the neck of the woods in many days.

Speedy Franks of Abilene, debuts in the special event with Terry. The initial bout will begin at 8:30 p. m.

WASHINGTON—Such is the importance of Senator Norris that he has passed the seven-TVA power and flood control bill this session has about been abandoned because of his illness.

He was taken ill only a few hours after he had outlined and argued for the bill in the senate members from the agriculture committee. It is a bill to set up "authorities" over various divisions of the country similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority in the south.

Senators who expected Norris to lead the fight for it plan to put up an appearance fight, and that is about all.

The bill to authorize resumption of construction on the Florida ship canal also seems sapped, in spite of the report of army engineers which now favors it. Its proponents, including the Florida members from the north part of the state, insist they will get it next session. Doubters are the Florida members from below the route of the canal, which they say would be ruinous.

Bank Slapping

Farm state senators, in a move inaugurated by Senator Pope of Idaho, are attempting to put the federal land banks on the spot in the matter of taking deficiency judgments in mortgage foreclosure proceedings.

With a deficiency judgment, the land banks or other mortgage holders can seize a farmer's bank account or crops on other farms he may get for years to come to make up the difference between the amount of the mortgage and what the foreclosed farm brought by sale "under the hammer."

Pope introduced a bill prohibiting deficiency judgments by federal land banks after his own state legislature was compelled to repeal such an act under threats by federal and other lending agencies that not another farm loan would be made in the state if it remained on the books.

After Pope introduced his bill the Farm Credit Administration told him it was taking no deficiency judgments, but needed the power as a whip over recalcitrant farmers. But immediately a farmer from Oregon wrote in to protest that the land bank had taken a deficiency judgment against him. Pope called the Credit Administration. They dropped the case. Now Pope is polling his state to uncover more land bank deficiency judgments and is asking other senators to do likewise.

Bachelor Tax

Incidentally, don't cackle up your sleeve at the "bachelor taxes" in Italy used by Mussolini in an effort to boost the birth rate. The United States has had a bachelor tax for years. Glance over an income tax blank. Married persons get a $2,000 exemption. Bachelors and others single for any reason, get only $1,000 exemption. And the birth increase angle is there, too. For every child you don't have, you lose $400 exemption. And the states carry on the trick with their tax laws.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Nice variety in previews recently. In three separate films Paul Muni gets old, Edward Arnold gets funny, and Mickey Rooney gets young.

The pictures have nothing in common except celluloid, but two of them are the kind that make you want to see more pictures. I mean "The Life of Emile Zola" (Muni) and "Easy Living" (Arnold-Jean Arthur).

Paul Muni plans to "retire" for at least six months. "Zola" entitles him to a vacation. As he and Director William Dieterle dramatized a man of science in "Pasteur," they dramatize a fighting man of letters in "Zola." The natural climax is Zola's struggle in the Dreyfus case. The picture is built to hit that climax and sustain interest.

Muni's performance is for the most part restrained and powerful, but you have to give Joseph Schildkraut an equal hand for his Dreyfus.

Slight Misunderstanding Edward Arnold has been funny before, but never in such a potpourri of nonsense as "Easy Living." In fact, it's such a light tidbit that Eddie, accustomed to lord-it-over his pictures, would seem out of place if he had as much footage as usual. The picture belongs to Jean Arthur and Ray Milland, who is stepping right into that head-man class.

It's about a poor working girl who finds herself established in the most luxurious apartment the movies ever dreamed of simply because the hotel owner thinks that than ever. So the cop pounced—and came up with Ray Block, the conductor. "It's like this," explained Ray to the suspicious gendarme, "I'm after night crawlers. I've got a date to go fishing tomorrow."

The CBS maestro then backed up his tale with a can of wiggling, husky worms. He had about 50. "Okay," grumbled the cop, "but you better move on."

He still doesn't know whether Block put anything over on him or not.

There is a minema house on the east side which overcomes its patrons' resentment for its not being air-conditioned by serving free lemonade.

33 Boy Scouts Off To Camp

Leave Here In Truck For Annual Jaunt To Barksdale

Scouts from five Big Spring troops were off to an early start today for the opening of the annual Buffalo Trail summer camp at Barksdale.

Headed by John R. Hutto, scoutmaster of troop No. 7, and George Thomas, assistant in troop No. 1, the scout convoy took off at 6 a. m. with 33 aboard.

The boys traveled in a large truck over which a tarp was to be stretched in event of rain or appearance of a bright sun. The group had a two-hour start on the rain which began falling here around 8 a. m.

Among those aboard were boys from the following troops.

- Troop No. 1—Don Thomas, Richard Thomas, Jack Graves, Lester Bender, James Skalicky, Vernon Alredge, Sam Atkins, and Grover Cunningham. Troop No. 2—Hal Battle. Beer Worm Is Damaging Cotton Crop

Another insect has been added to the growing list of tiny creatures menacing the current cotton crop. This time it is the beer worm, or more correctly called the yellow-bear caterpillar. Scattered reports Monday told of sharp damage from the woolly worm in a few fields.

County Agent O. P. Griffin said that best way to combat the worm is to dust cotton with Paris green and lime mixed in equal parts. If Paris green may not be had, a very liberal dusting of calcium arsenate may do the work. However, usually the arsenate has little effect on the fuzzy foliage destroyer. The worm is raised on the senescent weed or groundsel, said Griffin. The weed itself is poisonous and may account for the ability of the worm to withstand arsenic. It bothers cotton only when the weed plays out.

Thousands and thousands of acres of cotton up to a good stand and showing strong stalks have very little fruit due to early ravages of the cotton flea hopper. No thorough check has been made since 10 days ago when widespread damage was being reported from the hopper.

In the Vincent area an estimated 1,000 acres of cotton and young feed had fallen prey to the combined attack of jumbo and winged grasshoppers and rabbits.

Fence Is Fatal Trap CANTON, N. Y. (UP)—The body of William E. Burch, 79, was found entangled in a barbed wire fence near his home shortly after his half-brother, John H. Walters, of Watertown, N. Y., had died while digging a ditch. Burch died from exposure. He had apparently wandered into the fence while walking to his nearby gasoline station, relatives explained.

FLAME TRAIL

By Marie De Nervaud

Chapter 23 A MOONLIGHT RIDE It was quite dark when Kay clattered up to the Flying Six ranch house. At her whooped Babs and Ruth came dashing out. Dismounting, she met them at the foot of the steps, and they all three burst into the living room together, their arms intertwined.

"Well, well, bless me if you don't all look the same age!" Josh Hastings got up and came toward them. Though he addressed the whole trio, his eyes were fixed on Kay, with her bright eyes and flushed cheeks framed in a tumbled mop of auburn curls.

Kay instantly straightened up, and smoothed her hair. It was all she could do to repress the angry contempt and scorn she felt for this man who had tried by such sneaking means to get the best of her, but she realized that for the moment, at least, she must act as though nothing had happened to change her usual attitude toward him.

"Where've you been all day?" Aunt Kate's querulous question broke the awkward moment, and Kay turned to her with relief.

"I was terribly sorry not to get over sooner," she contritely went over and kissed her, but I was waiting around for Ted Gaynor to come back with his mother and sister."

A curious pause followed these words, and something made Kay glance up keenly at Josh Hastings. His eyes were narrowed on her with an enigmatic stare, and a half smile twisted his lips into a sinister line.

Kay felt a cold, unreasoning clutch at her spine. With great difficulty, she repressed the involuntary shudder that contracted her muscles.

The memory of that premonition she had had when Ted said goodbye to her flashed over her again, but she sternly ignored it. No matter what Josh Hastings had tried to do to her, she couldn't blame him for Ted's failure to appear. She at least had to be fair enough to admit that.

"I reckon you've made a mistake taking on that man and a whole parcel of relatives," Aunt Kate broke through the strained moment. "It'll be a good thing if he doesn't show up at all."

Josh Hastings let out a great gasp. "Trust Aunt Kate to hit the nail on the head!" he exclaimed with indignant appreciation. "She's said a mouthful!"

"Sure I have," Aunt Kate agreed complacently, a pleased smile on her lips at the flattery of her host's glance.

"Perhaps I have made a mistake," Kay obeyed a sudden mischievous impulse. "If they weren't coming, you and Babs could come back now and have that cabin."

"Well, seein' you've promised it to them, I reckon you'll have to see it through."

Kay smiled at Aunt Kate's hurried change of tactics, as she saw herself transferred from the comfort of her present quarters to the rigors of the pioneer life in a small cabin.

"How about that lumberland you were thinking of buying the last time you were here?" Josh Hastings' tone was elaborately careless as he put this question, but his eyes were alert as he studied Kay's expression to try to discover whether Scrap Johnson had told her what his errand to town that day had been.

The fact that Kay had come over to the Flying Six would seem to indicate that she had not divulged her effort to double-cross her, but Josh Hastings was eager to get this point cleared up. If Scrap had told her, he'd have quite a bit of explaining to do, and he had a plausible yarn all ready. But if she knew nothing about it, his best line obviously was to let well enough alone.

"Oh, yes, I was telling you about that," Kay met his glance with wide-eyed innocence. "I brought it up. In fact, one of my punchers was in town attending to it for me that afternoon I was here. Didn't I mention it?"

"No, you didn't," Josh Hastings, efforts to conceal his feelings were less successful than Kay's, and she smiled inwardly at his disgust.

"Well, if you take my advice you'll sell out while you've got a chance." Aunt Kate put in her word. "Josh Hastings, here, is giving you the best offer you're likely to get."

"Perhaps," Kay turned to the door to hide the flash of anger she felt against her aunt for being such a busy body in Josh Hastings' hands. "I'll have to be getting back now."

"I'm going with you," Josh Hastings announced.

"No, you mustn't!" Kay expostulated, angry at herself for not having foreseen this outcome of her visit. "I'd rather go alone! It's moonlight, and I'm not the least bit afraid."

"That's not the point," Josh Hastings reached up for his hat and coat. "I'm doing this for my own pleasure."

Realizing that she was fair caught, and that to protest any further would be to place undue importance to the situation, Kay gave in as gracefully as she could. After saying goodnight to Babs and her aunt, the two started off together.

For some time they rode through the moonlight without saying anything. As he had insisted on coming, Kay decided to leave the burden of the conversation to him and the magic of the night inevitably drew her thoughts to Ted Gaynor.

The long rolling reaches of the mesa stretched out in silver radiance before them, broken only by ghostly stumps of brush, with their twisted shadows, lengthening in the moonlight.

If only Ted had come when he had said he would, she would be taking this ride with him instead of Josh Hastings, Kay reflected, with a renewed wave of disappointment.

"It's An Ugly Story" As though reading her thoughts, her companion suddenly broke the long silence, chiming in with what she was thinking with an uncanny insight.

"Your Aunt Kate was right about that Gaylor guy, Kay." His tone was full of friendly protection. "There are a few things I want to tell you about him, and then I think that you'll agree with her."

"Yes?" Kay waited non-committally for what he had to say, although her eyes held a hostile belief of whatever it might be.

"I'm surprised that he'd have the nerve to come to any range where he knew I was," Josh Hastings went on, "but I reckon he won't stay long, even if he does show up—which I doubt."

"Why?"

Josh Hastings hesitated, then spoke with a show of reluctance.

"It's an ugly story, but I think you ought to know it, for your own protection. When I had my ranch over in the Clear Water basin, the Gaylor was punching for Old Man Gage of the X Bar L. He was involved in a rustling raid of his boss's cattle, and the shooting of his son."

He paused a moment, then added, "There was a girl mixed up in it, too, but I won't go into that."

"You may as well give me the whole story, now you've started," Kay's voice was coldly unconvinced and Josh Hastings flared up at her implied disbelief.

"Just a pretty case of getting the girl in trouble and then deserting her," Josh Hastings shot a sidelong look at Kay to get her reaction to this news, and as he caught the quick look of surprised unbelief, he added, "She committed suicide."

"How do you know that Ted Gaylor was responsible?" Kay demanded hotly. The story was certainly ugly, but she found it impossible to associate it with Ted. He couldn't have been guilty of a thing like that! It sounded much more like the sort of thing Josh Hastings himself would be capable of.

"It was common talk," Hastings answered her indignant question with a more toiling tone. "I don't wonder you are startled. But now you can see the probable reason for his disappearance. He knew you'd hear his story sooner or later from me, and figured he'd better clear out while the going was good."

For several moments they rode on in silence, then Kay said slowly, "I'm certainly not going to contact anyone by 'common talk' and rumor. You ought to have something more tangible to go on, before you spread a story like that to ruin a man's reputation."

Josh Hastings gave a short laugh. "I must say your confidence in me isn't any too flattering."

"Would you repeat that story to Ted Gaylor's face?" Kay demanded.

"Sure I would! But don't worry—I won't have to," Hastings sneered. "Take my word for it, that talk about showing up again with his mother and sister was all one grand bluff."

Kay made no answer, but she touched up Flicker with her heel, and touched up Babs' reins on the spot, didn't for one minute believe Josh Hastings' story, but she was animated by a sudden impetive desire to get rid of his hateful presence.

Nothing Done On Neutrality

Committee Avoids Test On Nonintervention In Spain

LONDON, July 20 (AP)—A nine-power committee of the "Hands Off Spain" group of 27 European nations adjourned speedily today without facing what British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said would be its "stand or fall" test. The only discussion was on the provision of Britain's compromise plan for non-intervention in Spain, assigning observers in Spanish ports. British observers said the sub-committee agreed in principle to the plan which would substitute the observers for the international control fleet from which Italy and Germany have withdrawn. They said a technical sub-committee would devise an operating plan. The prime issue was expected to be the proposal to grant limited belligerent rights to both sides of the civil war. Lord Plymouth, British chair man of the non-intervention committee, presided at the meeting at which France, Germany, Italy, Portugal, Belgium, Russia, Czechoslovakia and Sweden also were represented. H. C. Porter returned this past weekend from Hollywood, Calif., where he spent two weeks with Mrs. Porter and daughter, Jean.

Want Primary To Pick Man For Senate

Business Interests Favor Voting On Successor To Robinson

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 20 (AP)—Demands for a party primary to nominate a successor to the late Joseph T. Robinson won organized backing today from a group of business and professional men. A committee, headed by former State Senator Arthur Johnson of Star City, opened headquarters for the "We Want a Primary" movement in the same downtown hotel where the state democratic committee will meet Friday to decide how the party's senate candidate shall be chosen. The committee holds power either to select a nominee itself or to order a primary. If a primary is called it is expected to postpone until mid-July the general election now tentatively set for Sept. 14. Before the committee meets definite decision may be reached by Governor Carl E. Bailey on the question of whether an interim appointment to Robinson's seat will be made. Capital sources indicated this decision would be influenced largely by developments at Washington where both the senate majority leadership and fate of President Roosevelt's court bill have to be decided. Bailey is expected to seek the senatorial seat and while he is not formally on record on the supreme-court question he frequently has classed himself as a Roosevelt man.

Marconi

at his summer residence at Castel Gondolfo. He sent a special blessing to the inventor. Marconi had been closely associated with the pontiff. He installed the first radio station at the Vatican and when it was inaugurated in 1931 it was Marconi who introduced Pius, the first pope ever to speak over the radio.

Despite his illness yesterday, Marconi insisted on working on his latest micro-wave experiments. The Marquis Luigi Solari, head of the Italian Marconi company, the inventor's biographer and life-long friend, said that late yesterday Marconi came into his office "to talk about his micro-wave experiments."

Marconi was only 21 years old when in the spring of 1895 he first tapped out the three dots of the letter "S" in the Morse code on a wireless transmitter in his laboratory in a barn.

Leconically, he announced his invention: "I have discovered how to telegraph without wires." Italy was skeptical, however, of the usefulness of the young inventor's discovery and his Irish-born mother took Marconi to England. There, with the aid of her relatives, he was granted the first patent for a practical system of wireless telegraphy in 1896.

'Will Of Christ' Is Discussed By Wise At Revival Service

A good audience was present Monday evening at the Church of Christ revival meeting now being conducted at Fourteenth and Main street. Melvin J. Wise, a former Big Spring minister, is doing the preaching. Mr. Wise spoke last evening on "The Will of Christ," basing his remarks on Hebrews 9:15-17: "For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. For a testament is of force after men are dead; otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth."

The speaker said in part: "These Hebrew Christians, whom the writer addresses in the text, were not finding the Christian life to be very easy because of the great trials and persecutions that they were having to endure because of the new faith which they had espoused. Judaism had prevailed for 1500 years, and the religion of Jesus Christ was such a radical change, we can but expect the followers of Christ to be persecuted. Since these Hebrew Christians had not entirely broken away from the national worship and religion of their fathers, Paul wanted them to see that a new dispensation rested on the blood of Christ. He wanted them to know that Christ was not the defender, nor the reformer of the ancient system of Judaism, but that He is the Mediator of a new covenant."

"Webster defines a testament as a solemn authentic instrument in writing by which a person declares His will as to the disposal of his estate. There are two different kinds of wills. One, in writing by the testator himself; the other, dictated by the testator and later reduced to writing. The latter is the kind that Jesus made. He dictated it to His apostles and they reduced it to writing by the guidance of the Holy Spirit, and thus we have the New Testament, or Will of Christ today."

"The conditions of the will of Christ are found in the great commission which He gave to His apostles. These conditions are: Faith in Christ; Repentance from sin; Confession of the name of Christ before men; Baptism in the name of the Sacred Three; and a faithful life unto death. The will of Jesus began to be operative on the first Pentecost after His resurrection from the grave."

"The establishment of the will of covenant of Christ abolished the covenant God made with the Jews at Mount Sinai. Hear the apostle as he says: 'He takes away the first, that he may establish the second. By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all'—Hebrew 10:10. We are sanctified by the second will (the will of Christ) not by the first (the one made at Mount Sinai). Thus no one has the authority to go back beyond the cross of Jesus and bring any ordinance over into our present age. Hence the question with us should not be 'What did the thief on the cross not have to do?' but 'What must I do to be saved?'"

FATHER AND SON ROBBED BY PAIR

LEONARD, July 20 (AP)—Albert P. Maris, WPA road supervisor, and his son, Bert, were held up west of Paris last night by two armed men who robbed them of their money, the clothing they were wearing and their handbags. The sheriff's office at Paris said the hold-up men were in a coupe with an Arkansas license, the same plate carried by an automobile believed driven in Oklahoma by the escaped convict, Pete Traxler. Officers said the bandit car headed west after the hold-up.

Scout Members Are Given A 'Send-Off'

Scouts of Troop No. 3 gave a "send-off" barbecue to members of the troop attending camp this year at the city park Monday evening. The affair was a joint barbecue and swimming party. After an hour swim, the group was served a delicious barbecue supper prepared by the scoutmaster, Jack Hodges, and his assistants. Games were played until 9 p. m. when the boys were brought back to town on a truck furnished by H. W. Dearing. Dearing took them for a moonlight ride about the city. Attending were Jack Hodges, J. L. Webb, Jr., Jack Riggs, Warren Woodward, Jack McDaniel, Sammy Mellinger, Julian Fisher, Paul Kasch, Joe Robert Myers, Howard Smith, J. A. Shannon, Howard Walker, Billy Welch, Cecil Westerman, Jr., Raymond Houser, and two visitors, Mr. and Mrs. George Melear. Those who will attend camp this year are Ray Wilson, Sammy Mellinger, Paul Kasch, Cecil Westerman, J. A. Webb, Jr., Arvie Walker, Howard Peters, and J. L. Wood, Jr.

MOVIE EXTRAS HELD FOR DEATH INQUIRY

LOS ANGELES, July 20 (AP)—Kay Tutwiler and Luther Allen movie extras remained in jail today, pending an inquest tomorrow in the death of Dorothy May Garland, former deputy city attorney. Dr. A. F. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, reported his belief that Mrs. Garland died of acute alcoholism last Saturday and that bruises found on her body, at least in part, were not self-inflicted. Dr. Wendel W. Starr, who had been treating Mrs. Garland, said he witnessed a fight between her and Miss Tutwiler last Wednesday. Allen also said he had heard "some sort of a squabble" between the women. He was held as a material witness.

Miss Tutwiler, booked on suspicion of murder, denied she and Mrs. Garland had fought. District Attorney Euron Flitts said his further action in the case would depend upon the findings of the coroner's jury.

USED NARCOTICS?

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—Investigation of a charge that strikers engaged in the Memorial Day steel strike riot was ordered today at a coroner's jury inquest into the slaying of 10 men in the clash. Coroner Frank Walsh instructed Policeman Phillip Igoe and Robert J. Mautner to appear as witnesses after the latter submitted information concerning the narcotics. Policeman Igoe was one of the officers injured in the riot. He told Mautner, the latter declared that he had evidence that demonstrators had been drugged and that he found "scores" of the half-smoked cigarettes at the riot scene.

WHEAT PRICES DROP

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—North American wheat prices tumbled sharply today, in some cases the five cents per bushel daily limit, as heavy selling caught the pits with scant buying orders. Chicago September wheat broke to around $1.21 1/2 while October wheat at Winnipeg dropped to $1.37 3/4, both off five cents.

First Six Months Of Second Term Over, FD Facing Divided Party, In Contrast To Situation In 1933

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt completed today the first six months of his second term, during which democratic ranks have divided over his court reorganization proposal in contrast to their solidarity in 1933. On January 20 the chief executive was inaugurated for the second time. Democrats held the big state majorities in both houses that day. Mr. Roosevelt himself had been re-elected by the greatest popular vote plurality in history.

"In every land there are always at work forces that drive men apart and forces that draw men together," he told a rain-soaked throng after taking the oath. Two weeks later he proposed the court reorganization bill. It became a nationwide issue, bringing predictions of a new political alignment in 1938 or 1940. During the first half of the president's original term, on the other hand, congress in a 100-day special session enacted the broad outlines of the new deal. Democrats voted with Mr. Roosevelt almost unanimously, and many of his measures got more republican support than opposition.

This session of congress, however, has moved slowly and has devoted most of its attention to routine matters, except for the court bill. Party leaders said there no longer was need for the speed that characterized passage of emergency measures in 1933. Outside of congress, new difficulties arose. The president learned in March that revenue receipts were far lower than the treasury's estimates. This forced a revision of the budget and abandonment of his immediate plan for balancing the 1938 budget. An economy campaign developed in congress, but quickly died down.

"Sit-down strikes sprang up in some of the nation's major industries. Mr. Roosevelt's hands-off policy drew condemnation from critics within congress and out. Meanwhile, the court bill gradually was working its way through committee to the senate floor. Two weeks ago today debate began. The line up was extremely close. Then the death of the president's legislative leader, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, confused the situation further. While the court bill was developing into the session's greatest legislative problem, the supreme court was upholding such major administration measures as the social security act and the Wagner labor relations law. These decisions, however, created new demands from opponents for withdrawal of the court bill.

Retirement of Justice Van Devanter, meanwhile, provided the president with his first opportunity to make a supreme court appointment. STILL HOPEFUL
HONOLULU, July 20 (AP)—George Palmer Putnam, husband of Amelia Earhart, clung today to the hope a fishing boat had rescued his wife, although the United States navy was convinced after an unprecedented 180,000 mile search she was dead. Putnam expressed the hope in Los Angeles, "a miracle may happen," after Rear Admiral Orin G. Murfin, commandant of the Pearl Harbor navy yard, expressed the opinion the aviatrix and her navigator died in the tropical Pacific. He directed navy planes and ships in the methodical hunt which was abandoned yesterday.

SPANISH FACTIONS BATTLE FOR MADRID

MADRID, July 20 (AP)—Rival armies, each believed to have 100,000 men in action, were pitted today in the slugging of the great encounter of the year old civil war—"the battle for Madrid."

Confronted by a flood of seasoned reinforcements drawn by Generalissimo Francisco Franco from less active fronts, the government command appeared back of the insurgent lines west of Madrid with aerial operations calculated to demoralize the fresh troops and shatter their lines of supply.

Government bombers dumped heavy cargoes of explosives on Navalgamella by four raids in yesterday's operations alone. Thousands of insurgent troops were being rushed to the Valdemorillo and Colajorna sectors in an effort to pinch off a 100-square mile pocket which government troops had carved out of insurgent territory in a two-week offensive.

FUNERAL HELD FOR LUMBER CO. OFFICIAL

The Burton-Lingo Lumber company closed doors Tuesday during funeral services conducted at 3 o'clock in Colorado by J. L. Johnson, former vice-president of the company, who died Monday in El Paso.

Arthur Woodall, Wesley Stall Rev. P. Walter Henckell and Buck Richardson from Big Spring were among those attending the funeral. Mr. Woodall was an active pallbearer.

TWO NEW ARRIVALS

SAN ANTONIO, July 20 (AP)—A rare coincidence: It was revealed today at a hospital here that a mother and daughter give birth to baby girls at the same time. One baby was the fourteenth child for Mrs. Mable Dears, 45, while the other baby was the second born to her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Moore, 18. The babies were born shortly before 1 a. m.
