HAPPY HUNTERS—These three hunters, Monty Seymour, Frank Terry and Doyle Wimberly from Lypan are shown with their kills of the season. The trio were quite pleased as were several other hunters who invaded local pastures for the first days of deer season this year. However, many hunters are thinking they will have better luck when the weather gets cooler.

Portions Of Streets Closed During City Council Meeting

Portions of Orient, Warner and Vermont streets were closed during a meeting of the City Council last week. The action was taken after the

Men Elected

Five men have been elected from the school, city and county to serve on the tax appraisal district. Members of the three taxing jurisdictions voted on a pro-rata system based on their tax rolls.

Elected to serve on the district board will be Jack Bebee, Floyd Butler, John Callison, Mike Moore and Ray W. Willoughby Jr.

They will take office in January.

final reading of a petition presented by Cramer Sofge and Patton Enochs.

The city's legal consultant, F.W. Ferrell, advised the council about restrictions concerning mobile home park development.

Ferrell also brought the council up to date about the process on lots the city is purchasing next to City Hall. Holvey Enochs and Ethel Etheredge discussed the process with city aldermen and told the council they would proceed to clear the title but the price for the land would be increased to compensate for legal fees and expenses.

W.T. Sipe of the American National Insurance Co. met with the council and presented a group insurance plan. No action was taken and Sipe will meet with the council at a later date to answer any questions.

The council placed their allotted number of votes for John Callison for a position on the tax appraisal district.

City secretary Carolyn Mayo told the council there was a problem with the NCR billing machine and Ferrell was authorized to contact NCR about its maintenance contract.

Superintendent Hal Whitten was authorized to get price estimates on replacing gas lines after a brief discussion.

Mrs. Mayo was requested to contact Television Enterprises regarding its franchise payments and the additional stations and weather channel.

Thanksgiving Services Are Planned

The annual community Thanksgiving Service will be held at the Westside Church of Christ at 9 a.m. Thanksgiving morning.

Mike Sokoff, minister, is in charge of the service.

The Thanksgiving service is sponsored by the Eldorado Ministerial Alliance and is held at a different church each year.

This service is open to the public and gives the community a chance to reflect on the good aspects of our life in this community and this nation.

School Board Adopts Policy On Teacher Renewal Contracts

The Eldorado school board approved a new policy regarding renewal of contracts for teachers during their meeting last week. The policy was written as mandated by Senate Bill 341, known as the term contract non-renewal law.

Following the state law, each school district in the state must have a policy regarding renewing teacher contracts allowing teachers to have ample time to correct any problems they may have. Guidelines for the policy are also spelled out in the law.

Following the policy for the local school system, all teachers must be evaluated by their principals before Nov. 15. If there is any problem with any teacher, the principal is to have a conference with the teacher and outline the problem.

Other conferences and evaluations are to be held until the problem is corrected.

If the administration chooses not to renew a contract with a teacher, the teacher will be given written notice before April 1, listing the reasons for non-renewal.

Teachers whose contracts are not renewed have the opportunity to request a hearing with the school board but must do so within ten days after he/she receives the nonrenewal notice or the board will take final action during its April board meeting. Hearings must be 15 days after the request for a hearing is made and the board must notify teachers in writing of final action within 15 days following the hearing.

The policy lists 16 reasons for nonrenewing contracts and also states the superintendent can suspend teachers immediately pending an investigation and decision concerning certain listed allegations.

In other business, Orval Edmiston addressed the board saying that the condition of the pens and barns at the show grounds were very poor and encouraged members of the school board to visit the facilities.

"It is a shame to treat it (the barn and pens) like that," he told the board.

He was also concerned about the fact that pigs and lambs had adjoining pens which he said he felt was very unacceptable.

In reply, vocational agriculture teacher Fred Igo agreed the facility "was a mess," but it was because there were more students in Future Farmers of America and in 4-H than before. He told the board the pens at the barn were assigned on a "first come, first served" basis and at the present time there were over 40 pigs on feed there. He informed the board that show pigs cannot be fed on a concrete floor.

The board authorized Igo to buy additional panels for extra pens and have several yards of dirt put into the barn so that pigs could be kept there, apart from lambs. Board president Billy Williams said he felt the board would look into expanding the show barn facilities during the next year.

Ray Lewis Ballew, director for the new tax appraisal district, gave the board a tax collection report, saying that collection was going smoothly. He also reported that the school picked up 307 rural improvements during the re-evaluation last year.

Also meeting with the board was San Angelo architect Gary Donaldson who reported that the renovation of the gym was complete and the project was closed.

He also gave a report on options the board could take on housing for teachers, recommending the board consider buying lots and then planning ready built houses on it because they were of good quality, lower price and faster to obtain.

The board voted for the choices of directors on the tax appraisal district, voting for John Callison, Mike Moore and Ray Willoughby.

The board approved the textbook committee which is composed solely of school employees and principals. Members will be Kathy Newman, Nancy Doyle, Melissa O'Harrow, Imogene Edmiston, Marcy Willis, Robert Walters, Robert Sosa, Matt Chalmers, Shirley Jackson, Dana Owens, Fred Igo, Pat Moore, Guy Whitaker, Richard McCarson and Dick Richey.

School superintendent Guy Whitaker presented an audit report which noted only one bookkeeping discrepancy.

At the end of the meeting, the board met in an executive session with high school principal Richard McCarson and athletic director John Clawson.

Watch For Prussic Poisoning

Frost will be hitting Schleicher County before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forages.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazing after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

To prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock, follow these steps:

1. Allow plant material affected by frost to dry thoroughly before grazing. This may require a week or more of good sunlight.
2. Feed animals hay or a supplement before turning them in on plants that may contain prussic acid. Animals that are not hungry will not be affected as seriously by toxic material since their intake will be limited.
3. Remove all animals from the pasture if one in the herd shows any signs of poisoning.
4. Call a veterinarian immediately if an animal appears to be poisoned. An antidote to treat affected animals is highly efficient if given early. This product is available from veterinarians.
5. Have suspect plant material checked by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories at College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples for you.

The overall key to prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed.

From Your County Agent

By Jerry Swift

Fall is often the time when fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year.

With the arrival of fall, there's often a tendency to forget our peach and plum trees that served us so well last summer.

Applying fungicide now can stop or reduce three of the six diseases that attack peach and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker.

Puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were due to peach leaf curl fungus. The only time to effectively control this disease is in the fall with a copper-containing fungicide such as Kocide 101.

Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding tree damage. Copper is a metal and may cause severe defoliation unless applied correctly.

He advises spraying when 70 percent of the leaves fall off the tree. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide. But again it's important to spray at the right time to prevent foliage burn.

Leaf Spot
Bacterial leaf spot affects both fruit and foliage. The infection causes fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots which drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming on the trunk and main limbs.

Fall spray in northern Texas is most often applied from late October to Nov. 15, in Central Texas from Nov. 1 to Dec. 1 and in South Texas from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15. Application time will vary with the season, so check your fruit trees closely.

Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees because there's no other time when 50 percent of peach and plum tree diseases can be controlled with one spray.

Start for Spring
If you want to have an abundance of winter and spring flowers in your garden, start to work now.

Because of Texas' mild winters, gardeners can enjoy such favorites as pansies, snapdragons, calendulas, candytuft, larkspur, petunias and sweet peas, to name a few.

Annuals planted in the fall will usually bloom three to six weeks earlier than spring-planted ones depending upon the variety and specie. Occasionally plants may be damaged by extreme temperature changes, prolonged low temperatures or high winds, but many gardeners consider it worth the risk.

Bed preparation and watering are essential. Be sure beds are well prepared several weeks before planting and raised to insure good drainage during prolonged wet periods. When starting plants from seed, make sure the soil does not dry out or seed won't germinate.

Plant seed closer than for spring planting so that seedlings have a better chance to survive winter cold.

Well-rotted manure is an excellent soil conditioner and fertilizer. Chemical fertilizers contain nitrogen, phosphorus and potash are more convenient to use but offer no soil conditioning qualities. Peat moss, gin trash, compost and other organic matter is essential for gardening success and should make up at least 25 percent of the soil volume.

Once this year's crops are harvested, you can get a jump on the next season by getting your soil tested and then arranging for your 1982 fertilizer needs.

Soil testing is one of the wisest moves a farmer can make. It provides a "blueprint" for fertilization practices for the coming season's crops.

Knowing your fertilizer needs for the 1982 season may be particularly helpful this fall for several reasons.

First, you may want to make arrangements or contract for your fertilizer supplies as soon as possible since prices will likely go up in the months ahead.

Fertilizer prices are expected to gradually increase due to energy, transportation and other production cost increases.

In addition to these reasons for fall soil testing, another plus is that fall is usually a better time to take soil samples due to more favorable weather conditions. And fall soil testing beats the spring rush.

Come by the extension office to pick up soil test cartons along with instructions and information sheets.

Since each field should be sampled every two or three years, make certain you are "up to date" on your sampling procedure. Also, when you receive your soil test results compare them to the last results from the same field to see if any changes in fertilizer needs have taken place. Soil test results provide valuable records.

Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God; and every one who loves is born of God and knows God. The one who does not love does not know God, for God is love.

By this the love of God was manifested in us, that God has sent His only begotten Son into the world so that we might live through Him. We love, because He first loved us.

Woman's Club Has Heritage Program

The Woman's Club of Eldorado met last Tuesday in the El Dorado Restaurant for their annual Thanksgiving luncheon and American Heritage program.

Members were dressed as typical pioneer women in honor of our Heritage. Some wore split bonnets, aprons and dresses that belonged to their mothers.

The program began with the flag salute led by Scoutmaster Lynn Meador and scouts Jon Ingle, Donald Huckabee and Trey Walker. Dressed in their scout uniforms, they demonstrated the proper way to fold a flag after it is taken down.

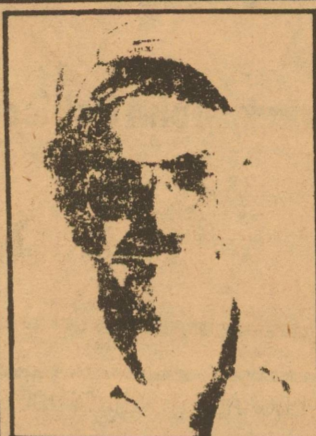

A prayer of Thanksgiving was led by Mrs. Carrol White.

After a delicious turkey dinner, the group sang patriotic numbers. Mrs. Otis Deal, program leader for the day, introduced Miss Jane Reader from San Angelo who gave an inspiring message along with beautiful slides of Our American heritage. She was dressed as Uncle Sam, complete with red and white stripes, pants, white shirt, navy jacket and top hat.

Her message and beautiful pictures made members realize that we still have a beautiful America and we must preserve our heritage. During the business meeting, an announcement was made that we will have the annual Parade of Homes Dec. 13 from 2 - 5 p.m. Tickets will be sold by members.

A box was filled with items needed by the San Angelo Center patients and taken to the center by Mrs. Virginia Griffin.

Pipelines... make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry... and we want you to help us keep it that way.

liquids on or a mist above the ground in the area of a pipeline.

- Flames originating from an opening in the ground. If you become aware of a pipeline leak...
- LEAVE THE LEAK AREA IMMEDIATELY.
- Avoid driving into vapor clouds.
- Avoid direct contact with the escaping liquids.

AERIAL MARKER

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record, once in a while a leak can occur. Indications of a leak might include:

- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by petroleum or product escaping from a pipeline).
- A dense white cloud or fog.
- A spot of dead or discolored vegetation.
- An accumulation of petroleum

• Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match, start an engine or even switch on an electric light.

• Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police. Advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

If you see someone digging near a pipeline or doing other construction work... or if you plan to do such work near a pipeline yourself... please call the telephone number shown on the sign and let the pipeline company know so damage can be avoided. It's in your interest... and the nation's.

America's Petroleum Pipelines

Pipelines are the safest way to move petroleum and products and you can help keep it that way!

Eagles End Season with Victory Against Wall

Eagle of the Week

Ron Landes

Sponsored by

Eagle Dairy Mart

Owner: John Callison

The Eldorado Eagles found their first victory Friday night at the expense of the Wall Hawks, 13-8. This upset makes the Eagles' record 1-9 for the year. The Hawks out-ranked the Eagles, but they also lost five fumbles which made the difference.

All of the Eldorado scoring came in the first quarter.

First, after Wall fumbled the opening, Eldorado drove the ball down to the one yard line where quarterback Gregg Davidson pushed it in. The PAT was not good.

After another Wall mistake in the first quarter, the Eagles drove down to the seven yard line. From there Douglas Ussery carried the pigskin over. The extra point was kicked by Danny Pina and made the score 13-0.

Wall scored their only touchdown when John Sefcik ran 11 yards in the second quarter. The PAT was not good and that was the end of the scoring.

The Hawks threatened several times during the second half, but a stiff defense lead by Whit Paxton, Jimmy Lloyd, Gene Edmiston and Eddie Montalvo halted their efforts.

Lloyd crushed Wall's last chance to win when he sacked Sefcik while he was attempting a drop back pass with only seconds remaining in the game.

This victory was also the Eagles' final game. They will try to regroup during the off-season and attempt to improve on their 1-9 season.

Eagle fans will have something to look forward to because the junior and seniors of the 1982 teams make up the current junior varsity team which are undefeated.

In other district play, there was only upsets. Ozona stomped the Reagan County Owls 28-0 and Junction outplayed Mason 24-14 for the district crown. Men-Menard was open. Junction will face the champion of district 10A, which is Sonora.

JV Does It Again

The Eldorado junior varsity finished their second consecutive undefeated season last week by coming from behind to beat the Wall JV 15-14.

Mark Nikolauk scored the winning touchdown and two point conversion in the final minutes of the game.

Wray Crippin scored the first touchdown during the fourth quarter. This was an example of the entire season for the JV Eagles, because even though they had a victorious season, they had only a few easy games.

These two undefeated seasons is a record for Coach Larry Mitchel.

The outstanding players of the team are Brett Nikolauk, Mark Nikolauk, Tim McAngus, Ron Sauer, Sonny Dean, Tom Dean, Bill Clark, Steve Minor, Trey Bradshaw and Luke Brame.

The junior high teams also finished the season with victories.

Eighth grade Eagles mowed over Wall 21-0 with Jay O'Harrow doing all of the scoring for Eldorado. This victory makes their record 4-3. Outstanding players were Jay O'Harrow, Mathew Dahlberg, Eric Cheatham and Kenney Gutierrez.

The seventh graders also had a good season, ending up with a 3-1-1 record for the year, beating Wall 18-0.

James Harlin, Russ Dacy, and Felix Ramos scored the touchdowns. Outstanding players were Harding, Dacy, Martin Espinosa, Ramso, Jon Ingle and Dan Shives.

Coach Baker Likes Coaching In Small Town

Which coach likes to read, comes from a tiny high school and loves fat juicy cheeseburgers? No, not that one. It is Coach Theresa Baker.

Mrs. Baker comes from a community that consists of a school, church and a cotton gin. One of the ten members of the 1976 graduating class from Union Terry, she now lives near Christoval with her husband Cary, whom she met at college. "There are advantages and disadvantages to living so far out in the country," Coach laughingly said. "One big advantage is not having my car egged on Halloween, but the biggest disadvantage is not being able to get involved with the community activities."

During her high school years Coach Baker was very active. She played varsity basketball and volleyball, she was a varsity cheerleader, the student council vice-president and treasurer, and she also worked on the school's newspaper.

Coach is a graduate of Angelo State University. When asked if she had always wanted to teach physical education, she said, "Not necessarily. I have always wanted to be involved with kids on a recreational level, and this seemed like the best way to do it."

She coaches girls' junior high basketball and track and helps Coach Larry Mitchell with the high school girls' athletics. She has taught freshman English and now teaches senior health. Asked her preference, she said, "I enjoy teaching the junior high athletics better because that age is easier to work with and are eager to learn."

Since she came from a small school, the question of advantages in small schools arose. "Yes, there are, again, advantages and disadvantages to small town life," she replied. "You can get closer to the teachers and kids and you can really get involved in school activities, but in small schools, you aren't allowed a large variety of electives. Also, small schools are really hard on new people because of cliques have already formed and if you aren't good in athletics, there isn't much other choice."

Taking the good with the bad, she prefers small town living to city living. She is really happy with her position here and as for her ability as a good coach... her record speaks for itself.

Girls Serious About Season

The girls in high school athletics are taking this year very seriously. They are excited about their prospects of a good basketball season and want to do their best for themselves, their school and their coach. Coach Larry Mitchell said "If I had to pick the favorite to win district, it would probably be Big Lake. We have a good chance with the height and experience, but we need a lot of hard work with the handling of the ball."

Beginning October 15, the girls could work out after school, and they have been working hard. Their first scrimmage was against Christoval. The Eagle JV won 54-22, with Vikki Cavaness dropping in 8. The Varsity won 48-22. Lori Patton, high point, contributed 16 points.

High school girls' teams scrimmaged Brady last Tuesday evening. All teams won with the following scores and high points: Varsity, 47-24. Tammy Landis, 12; JV, 37-19. Victoria Powell, 14; Freshmen, 30-20. Stephanie Field, 18.

Coach Mitchell said "I feel that the Freshmen played well enough to win, but there is a lot of room for improvement." He also said that the JV and Varsity have improved since their first scrimmage, showing more poise under pressure and playing better defense.

"They did not have as many turnovers and the shooting percentage was better," he added.

Steady Eddy Always Ready

Faster than a speeding halfback, stronger than a 200 pound lineman and able to leap tall tacklers in a single bound! It's a bird; it's a plane; no, it's Steady Eddy! Yes, Steady Eddy, alias Eddy Montalvo, who is always ready to fight for the green and white.

"We nicknamed his Steady Eddy because he is always ready and willing. Eddy is the most dedicated player on the team and he will play anywhere for the good of the team," said Coach Johnny Clawson.

The leading tackler on the football team, this calm senior also participates and has lettered in basketball. In his third year in varsity sports, he said that he really enjoys them.

"A big influence in my life has been my brother Juan (an EHS graduate of 1975)," said Eddy. "He encouraged me to participate in sports and to try hard in my studies."

He is busy on the playing field; he is also busy off the field. If he isn't playing football or basketball, he will be either at work or school. Eddy is the Student Council president, the senior class vice-president and the "E" club president. He is also a member of the Talon staff.

Eddy is planning to go to a training school to learn to drive large trucks. He said that he might go to college afterwards.

Pooh Bear In Play

Winnie the Pooh, Winnie the Pooh, ta ta tummm, ta ta tummm.

Yes, ladies and gentlemen, the scripts are in! Parts have been distributed, rehearsals have begun and many arguments are on the way!

The Speech Club has taken a slight new turn this time, with a difference. Music...or a better word for it would be singing. Yes, you heard right-singing! Not only has EHS been blessed with actors but singers as well, as they will attempt to prove later on.

The play is set for early December. Those hustling to have scenery and costumes ready are crew members Kara Garlitz, who is also assistant director, Christy Cornelius, Mellanie Moody, Anna Robledo, Becky Ragsdale, Lamar Hardee, Melissa Sauer, and Debbie Sutto. Cindy Velez is in charge of lights.

Those memorizing lines and tunes and learning all about stage right and stage left are Luke Brame as Christopher Robin, Laurence Brame as Winnie the Pooh, Randy Lentz as Rabbit, Shane Wells as Eeyore, Houston Taylor as Piglet, Kim Payne as Owl, Linda Gentry as Kanga, Helen Tinney as Baby Roo and Whit Paxton as Skunk. Baby rabbits will be played by Melissa Burleson, Jeanne Redwine and Mark Hardee. The Voice is Bill Clark.

Spotlight on Business

Adobe Has New Manager

A greatly improved inventory in almost every department and many lower prices are the new features of the Adobi Mini Mart in Eldorado, according to the store's new manager, Becky Jones.

"We are putting more emphasis on groceries," said Mrs. Jones, explaining that the inventory has been greatly expanded in every direction. The store had added more fruits and vegetables, all kinds of canned juices, all staples and paper goods.

Their supply of cereals has doubled and in the frozen food section, they will be carrying pie shells, frozen berries, vegetables and even turkeys and cornish hens in addition to all of the usual fast food items.

The Mini Mart is now handling all kinds of car accessories including oil, brake fluid, tools, jumper cables and many other car-related items.

There will be many sales on soft drinks. Each week the store will have several specials that will be of interest to persons of age category.

In addition to grocery items and fast food items, the store has an excellent delicatessen which will be expanded slowly. Jack and Jill donuts are delivered daily and there is free coffee for everyone. And if you have your own container, you can get free ice from the store.

The store also has indoor restrooms and telephone for the general public.

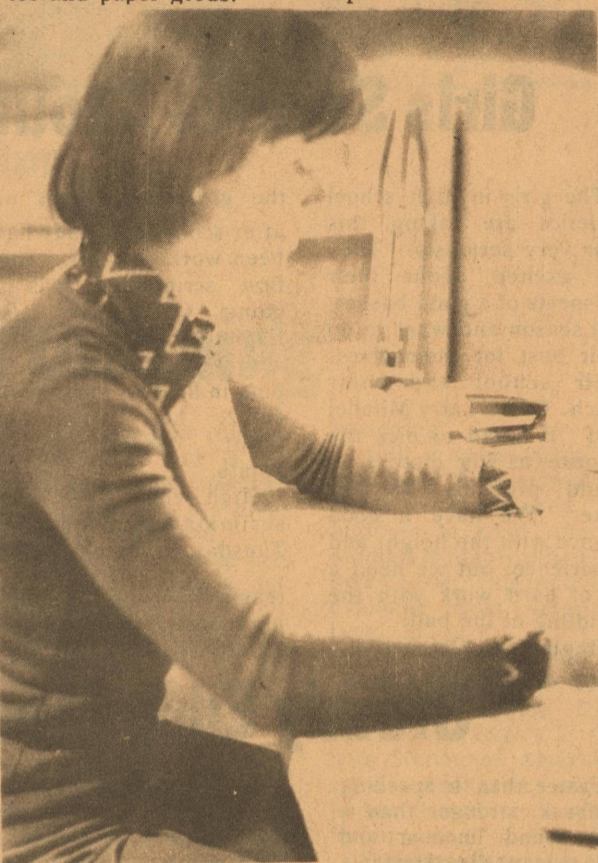

Other items for the housewife are steam cleaners for carpets and other vacuum cleaner items.

They also sell gas and will take Master Charge, Visa and Chevron credit cards.

Because they keep only a small amount of cash on hand, they do not cash payroll checks or checks for ten dollars over the amount of purchase.

The new manager is being helped in her new efforts by assistant manager being helped in her new efforts by assistant manager Billie Sue Rogers, delicatessen cook Deena Day and employees Marlon Samuels, Dianna Barajas, Norma Belman Sarah Day and Troy Heffernan. There are always two people on each shift.

Mrs. Jones praised her supervisors saying they were being very supportive of her efforts and wanted this store to be the convenience store with the cleanest atmosphere. Lowest prices and best merchandise in town. And that is exactly what she is intending to do.
