

Berlin Bound Yanks Dig Into Germany

Heavy Bombers Pound German Oil Targets

Giant Air Armadas Support Allied Drive On Western Front

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP) More than 1,000 American heavy bombers attacked half a dozen oil plants deep in central and eastern Germany today and, with their escorts, destroyed 70 more Nazi fighters.

Supreme invasion headquarters announced that heavy bombers had cut German oil production 61 per cent since May 1.

The American armadas cut into Germany while many hundreds of other planes pummeled the foe close to the western battlefronts. They destroyed 45 planes in aerial combat and another 25 on the ground. American losses were not immediately announced.

Another force of 500 or so American heavy bombers from Italy attacked the Wasserberg factory at Ulm where the Nazis were building new and secret jet-propelled Messerschmitt-262 airplanes.

In three days, American planes alone and only those striking from the west have destroyed 398 German planes, 175 of them yesterday by Eighth air force fighters and bombers.

In clear weather, the bombers struck visually at these objectives: Synthetic oil plants at Ruhland, northeast of Dresden; Baolen, near Leipzig; Magdeburg and at Brux on the Czech border.

Refineries at Hammingsstadt near Heide and at Milsburg near Hannover; an engine plant near Kiel; an ordnance depot at Friedrichstadt near Magdeburg.

The Germans said yet another American force was hitting south Germany from Italian bases.

Moscow reported scores of U. S. Eighth air force bombers landed on Russian bases yesterday after bombing Chemnitz, 50 miles southeast of Leipzig.

The German radio filled European air waves with warnings of bombers and fighters approaching from England, France and Italy, declaring in one announcement that 1,300 Allied bombers were nearing western Germany. It was the fifth straight day of heavy air attacks.

In all, 203 German planes were destroyed in the west yesterday. Fighter bombers of the U. S. 9th air force knocked out 28, including nine in combat, while the 175 victories were by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's Eighth air force. Four more were destroyed in the Mediterranean theater and seven in Russia, making total German losses 214.

Highway Bill Meets Sharp Opposition

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — A move to seek immediate passage of a bill laying the groundwork for a $3,375,250,000 road construction program met sharp opposition today from a group of republicans led by Senator Taft of Ohio.

Saying that congress can not pass intelligently on a bill contemplating government expenditure in excess of $2,000,000,000 (the states would supplement federal contributions) until the size of the postwar government budget has been determined, Taft told a reporter.

"A number of other republicans feel that this bill should be considered along with other public works programs, such as flood control, river and harbor work and public housing, so that we will know how big an expenditure we are letting ourselves in for."

Taft acknowledged, however, that Senator Hayden (D-Ariz.) would have strong support for a motion to take up the bill in the senate this week, possibly today, and Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Reed (R-Kan.) said they were backing Hayden in this course.

KILLED IN CRASH

POCATELLO, Idaho, Sept. 12 (AP)—Maj. William M. Clark, 47, operations officer at Pocatello army air base, and M/Sgt. Tandy B. Belew, Jr., 25, were killed when an amphibious plane crashed into American Falls reservoir yesterday. Lt. Col. John L. Eaton, commanding officer, said today.

Belew was from Vernon, Tex. Sgt. Alyn E. Trego, 36, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was seriously injured in the accident.

Tokyo Radio Tells Of New US Attack

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor

Tokyo radio today reported American carrier planes struck at the Philippines a second time on the heels of the first U. S. seaborne air attack on the islands which cost the Japanese 89 ships and 68 planes.

In the first strike, announced last night by Adm. Chester W.

Yard Enters 2nd Day Of Shutdown

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — Although 3,000 men and women employees of the Todd-Houston Shipbuilding Corporation reported for work on the day shift today, they were sent home, and the huge yard entered the second day of complete shutdown as a result of a strike of boilermakers.

The strike began Saturday when about 700 members of the Burners, Heaters and Helpers Union Local 731, failed to show up for work.

Col. Ike Ashburn, industrial personnel director, said the striking members of the various boilermakers unions, who went off the job with the Local 731, so crippled work at the yard that continued operations were impossible.

Members of the Local 731 are not striking, according to Covert E. White, president and financial secretary. They are out of work because of a continuous meeting being held at the union hall, he said.

"The meeting will continue until the War Labor Board calls an election in the plant to determine which union should have the bargaining rights," he declared.

Submarine And Crew Is Believed Lost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — The submarine Gudgeon with her crew of approximately 65 officers and men is overdue and presumed lost, the navy announced today.

Loss of the Gudgeon raises to 29 the number of submarines lost since the war started. Of that total four were lost in non-operational missions.

No information was given by the navy on where the Gudgeon operated on her last war patrol, but presumably she was engaged in operations against the Japanese.

Her skipper, Lt. Commdr. Robert A. Bonin, was listed as missing in action.

Dewey in Nebraska

VALENTINE, Neb., Sept. 12 (AP) — Governor Thomas E. Dewey came to the sandhills of Nebraska today for conferences with cow country political leaders and a short rest at the ranch of Sam R. McKelvie, former governor of the state.

The republican presidential nominee was greeted by a large share of the 2,188 residents of Valentine when his train pulled in at 11 a. m. (CWT) after a run from Des Moines.

Allied Armies Jam Against Line Positions

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP) — The American Fifth and British Eighth armies jammed against the main Gothic line positions across Italy today "in many places along the entire front" after two to three-mile advances through high mountain positions in the sector above Florence, headquarters announced.

Heavy fighting continued on the Adriatic where Poles, British and Canadians have been slugging within sight of coastal Rimini for a week or more.

As Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's troops moved forward, medium and light bombers attacked rail and road bridges, gun positions and other battle objectives in northern Italy. Supply dumps and command posts were struck. Foul weather grounded heavy bombers.

The headquarters communique said the chief advances were "into the high ground north of the upper Siegfried" north of Florence.

One Fifth army spearhead was within 35 miles of Bologna in the Po valley. Other troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's command cleared out the provincial capital of Pistoia and Prato and advanced on northeast.

The Germans said the "detaching movements to the Apennine (Gothic) line were concluded according to plan," indicating that a decisive battle for north Italy was at hand. At nearest points, the Allies were four miles from Rimini, heavily fortified eastern anchor of German defenses.

Maine Republicans Celebrate Victory

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 12 (AP) — Maine Republicans today celebrated a sweeping victory over democrats, two of whom had CIO support.

Traditionally republican Maine gave Horace A. Hildreth a better than two-to-one margin over democrat Paul J. Julien when virtually all of the state's 827 precincts had reported in yesterday's governorship race. Their totals at this stage were 120,850 and 54,396 respectively.

This margin compared with a 49,000 vote for the republican candidate two years ago and one of 70,000 four years ago.

In the state's first district where Rep. Robert Hale triumphed easily in his re-election try, the loser was Andrew A. Pettis, CIO Shipyard Union president backed by the state affiliate of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

The count was Hale 47,635, Pettis 21,569.

British Forces Capture LeHarve

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Berlin-bound American troops and tanks fought into the Siegfried line five miles inside Germany today, while 290 miles to the rear British forces captured Le Harve—needed to supply massive assault on the reich.

The war swept into Germany with an American First army plunge over the frontier. Farther south, the U.S. Third army cracked through the old Maginot line to Thionville, on the Moselle above French bridgeheads already forged across that river.

Both border plunges were made by the U.S. First army. Eupen is 10 miles below the Siegfried fort city of Aachen. U.S. armor burst over the frontier in this area at 6:10 p. m. Monday. Tanks beat forward deeper this morning. The crossing from Luxembourg hit into the reich northwest of Trier.

A solid front from the North Sea to the Mediterranean was formed by a junction of the Third and Seventh army. The British Second army was over the Dutch border, pounding toward a less formidable section of the line guarding Germany.

A battlefront dispatch said the fiercely resisting Germans at Le Harve, France's second port, has surrendered at 11:30 a. m., 36 hours after a crushing British assault began and after thunderous air and sea bombardment.

Doughboys of the First army, driving 40 miles in 48 hours, thrust into Germany northwest of Trier, and apparently were within five to 10 miles of that city, the biggest Siegfried fort center on the lower Moselle.

Hard on their right flank, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army slashed through the Maginot fort town of Aumetz so fast its big guns were found intact, and carried the battle on to Thionville. This brought the struggle to or beyond the Moselle along a 45-mile front from above Metz to below Nancy.

The first great battle of Germany was shaping up along the middle and lower Moselle.

Above Trier, Lt. Gen. Courtney Hodges' First army broke into Eupen, Belgian City which had been annexed by Germany, and fought within eight miles of Aachen, Germany.

The Third army and Seventh army which landed on the Mediterranean linked up near Somborn, 15 miles west of Dijon, welding a solid front and dooming German remnants still in central and southwestern France.

The American First and Third armies were joined by Patton's capture of Aumetz, 22 miles northwest of Metz and three miles from Luxembourg.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' motorborne infantry hit the outer line of the Siegfried system in a 25-mile sweep to the northeast which liberated the city of Luxembourg, the capital of the duchy.

The American invasion yesterday marked the first time since Napoleon's day that an invading force from the west had entered the Reich in more than a 100-year strength.

The Americans advanced behind an artillery barrage. The channel coast was clear but for 30,000 to 35,000 Germans putting up a last stand at Boulogne, Calais, Dunkerque and in the tightly drawn pocket south of the Schelde mouth.

The British made their push into Holland — aimed toward the communications center of Eindhoven — 1-1.2 miles north of the tiny village of Degroote, which was reached after a German stand with self-propelled 88-millimeter guns and a few tanks was beaten down at Hachtel, a cross-roads northeast of Bourg-Leopold.

RED CROSS MEETING

Regular monthly meeting of the Howard-Glasscock counties Red Cross advisory council is to be held at 8 p. m. today in Red Cross headquarters, it was announced.

Quebec Parley Concerns Battle Against Japan

QUEBEC, Sept. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill conferred today, summoned their military staffs for an afternoon session and again officially emphasized that their meeting was primarily "military" and concerned with the Pacific war against Japan.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, and Robert Cruikshank of British information services, brought to a pre-noon press conference word of the day's schedule.

Early opened his remarks by saying that the president "is most pleased with the press of yesterday, on the basis of the papers he has seen and a resume from Washington, that have emphasized the military sense of the conference and the Pacific theater."

Realignment of American and British land, sea and air power in the Pacific and Asiatic areas figured heavily today in a Roosevelt-Churchill conference officially dedicated to Japan's swift destruction.

In a sense, two conferences are in progress here. One is between Roosevelt and Churchill in the governor general's residence.

The other conference proceeds in the chateau Frontenac, Quebec's famous hotel, between the top military commanders and official aides of the two powers.

There, it is understood, are being discussed such questions as whether a powerful thrust should be made across Japan's water lifeline to the Netherlands East Indies, isolating these rich islands for British-Dutch reconquest and marking the Japanese home land and its nearer defenses for American assault.

SOVIETS PLAN FOR FULL SCALE THRUST INTO NAZI TERRITORY

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 (AP)—Back in their own lines after a second patrol expedition into East Prussia within three weeks, Red army units gave the Soviet command "important information" today for a full-scale thrust into German territory expected to begin at any moment.

This second penetration of the enemy's own land was made across the Sessupe river, which forms the boundary between the Soviet Lithuanian republic and the area of East Prussia northeast of Insterburg.

Red army artillery has been pounding this sector for days. Meanwhile a powerfully-sustained Red army drive plunged into the outskirts of the northern Polish rail center of Lomza, after overrunning 30 or more settlements in one of the most stubbornly defended sectors of the eastern front.

Outflanked from the west and battered by the attacking forces closing from the south appeared about to fall.

(Berlin reported the opening of a long-awaited "concentrated assault" on Warsaw's eastern suburbs.)

In the south, the combined Russian-Romanian offensive through the Transylvania hills surged down within 40 miles of the Danubian plains.

In Romania's Russian columns climbed from the Danube valley through the 8,000-foot Transylvanian Alps by way of Vulcan Pass and captured Pétrosani, 124 miles from pre-war Hungary's frontier.

FDR Nominates Bradley For Army Promotion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — President Roosevelt today nominated Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley for promotion to the permanent rank of major general in recognition of his accomplishments on the battlefields of northern France.

The nomination was sent to the senate along with a long list of other military promotions recommended by the president.

Bradley now is a commanding general of the United States Twelfth army group.

His promotion was recommended by Secretary of War Stimson who wrote the president urging Bradley be advanced to the permanent grade of major general of the line "in recognition of his outstanding accomplishments on the battlefields of northern France."

Bradley commanded the ground forces at the time of the invasion.

In addition the president nominated these officers to be advanced to the temporary rank of lieutenant general:

Maj. Gen. Thomas T. Handy, who has been chief of operations in all theaters since General Dwight D. Eisenhower went to England to take command of Allied forces; Major Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., commander of the Sixth Corps in southern France; Maj. Gen. Daniel I. Sultan, deputy commander of the China-Burma-India theater.

House Told Dewey Hit Below Belt

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—House Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts today accused Governor Thomas E. Dewey of "brazen disregard of the truth to get votes" when he charged the democratic administration with failing to plan for demobilization of the armed forces.

McCormack told the house that the republican presidential nominee "hit below the belt" in his recent Philadelphia and Louisville speeches, "in an attempt to create a false issue."

Discussing Dewey's charge, McCormack said that "he will stop at nothing to try and get votes."

Dewey, in his opening campaign speech at Philadelphia quoted Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Hershey, director of selective service, as having said that "we can keep people in the army about as cheaply as we could create an agency for them when they are out." Of this quotation, McCormack said:

"General Hershey has absolutely no connection with the war department x x x. Governor Dewey knows or ought to have known that General Hershey has nothing whatsoever to do with demobilization."

Demo Committee Believes It Has Worked Out Plan

By DAVE CHEAVENS DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP) — A committee representing conflicting factions of the state democratic convention told the session today that it believed it had worked out a method by which all accredited voting delegates would be admitted and given seats.

A last-minute snarl over admission of delegates, with both pro- and anti-Roosevelt forces protesting the original plan of issuing credentials daily — ended opening of the session for more than two hours.

Chairmen of each county delegation were called to the platform, where a committee representing both sides was passing out new credentials in the effort to seat every delegate entitled to admission.

This roll call, it was expected, would take more than an hour.

In brief, the situation was that many delegates already listed on the convention's temporary roll were not able to get into the hall.

Tickets and badges of admission were issued by Charles E. Simons, secretary of the executive committee, on the basis of one for every 300 votes cast for the democratic candidate for governor in the last general election. The allocation of votes, however, was figured on basis of one for every 300 cast in the various counties for all the candidates for governor in the July 22 primary.

Leaders of both sides were protesting the fact that many of their delegates could not get in. While both sides agreed that something ought to be done, up to noon there was no agreement on the mechanics of arriving at a solution.

Floor leaders of both factions, Gov. Coke Stevenson, and convention officials were attempted to find the answer. The crowd was restless, and there was considerable pushing and shoving on the floor in tussles over signs.

Mark McGee of Fort Worth was decommenced as temporary chairman and keynoter of the state democratic convention today.

McGee, formerly state director for the office of Price Administration, is now a practicing attorney and a close friend of Gov. Coke Stevenson.

He has not been prominently identified with either of Texas' two embattled democratic factions.

The committee recommended L. Wilkes of Hubbard for the platform and resolutions committee.

Pro- and Anti-Roosevelt factions clashed sharply over admission of delegates to the state democratic convention today, with Pro-Roosevelt leaders promising to "raze hell" if all their accredited forces did not gain admission to the hall.

The convention was late in getting started. When Gov. Coke Stevenson entered the hall, there was a cheer.

Stevenson said that five names had been suggested to him as possibilities for temporary chairman, and that any one of the men would be acceptable to him. The men were Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, Wright Morrow of Houston, Mark McGee of Fort Worth, Tom Tyson of Corsicana, J. K. Brim of Sulphur Springs.

While the controversial issue of whether or not this state's 23 electors would ultimately be pledged to vote for Roosevelt and Truman touched off fighting talk in pre-convention causes, little opposition was voiced to a proposal that the Texas party take steps to reorganize itself in an effort to get around the U. S. Supreme Court decision opening its primaries to negro voters.

The state executive committee, dominated by district leaders opposed to the administration, voted 32 to 21 to seat anti-Roosevelt delegates from seven of nine counties which sent contesting delegations to the convention.

Two pro-Roosevelt contesting delegations were seated. While this constituted a preliminary victory for the anti-Fourth termers, leaders of the pro-Roosevelt faction were sure they could muster enough votes to control the convention.

Watchman Killed In Fall From Building

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — A 55-year-old night watchman was thrown or fell from the roof of the 22-story Commerce building early this morning after going there to investigate the presence of a prowler.
His body, badly mangled, was found on the Main street sidewalk, six feet from the building wall.
Police officers investigating the death of the nightwatchman expressed the belief that he got into a tussle with the prowler on the roof and was thrown off or fell to the concrete sidewalk below. Police Lieut. Volney Shown said the section of the roof had a guard railing about knee high and that Bailey could easily have tripped and fell or been pushed over it in the scuffle.

After going through three major battles unscathed, it took a bicycle accident in his home town to injure Richard Goodson, soundman's mate third class of Big Spring. Goodson was "pumping" his sister, Mary Ann Goodson, on a bicycle with "home in Big Spring" visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Goodson of 605 Douglas street. One of his sister's feet caught in the wheel spokes and off Goodson went over the handlebars, suffering a broken arm.
He received treatment at Big Spring Bombarrier school, for two weeks in a service hospital in New York, and now has returned to duty, receiving training in a soundman's school at Key West, Fla.
Goodson served 14 months overseas, participating in battles of Tunisia, Sicily and Anzio beach-head. He received five weeks' furlough after returning to the states and spent the time in Big Spring.
A brother, Pvt. James L. Goodson, is with the Fifth army in Italy. He has been overseas since March of 1943. A letter received recently by his parents stated he was all right.

5,516 War "Vets" Already Re-Hired by U. S. Steel

Veteran of Guadalcanal, Tulagi and New Guinea, Marine Raider Andy Lony was down six times with malaria, and finally given a medical discharge. Returning home, he went to work at a McKeesport, Pa., plant of U. S. Steel. Andy's story is much like that of 5,515 other war veterans who have come back to work for U. S. Steel. A warm welcome is given to U. S. Steel's former employees when they return. Every opportunity is offered for advancement, including special training in the skills for which they are best suited.

Nazis Say Defeatism Is Spreading But Is By No Means General

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ
(Substituting For Hal Bayle)
MADRID, Sept. 3 (Delayed)—
What do the Germans think about their present military and political position in the war?
With France almost entirely in Allied hands and both the western Allies and the Russians on the threshold of the reich itself I sought the answer on the Franco-Spanish frontier this week.
I talked to German deserters, German soldiers and officers who had crossed into Spain because they were unable to escape to the reich, to neutrals and to Frenchmen just out of occupied territory.
All seemed to agree it would be a great mistake to assume that Germany lies beaten, awaiting only occupation and preferably by the Allies.

They said defeatism is spreading but by no means is general. Many expressed the belief that the decisive battle of Europe is still to be fought.
Here is what the Germans seem to believe—and hope—today:
That there still is hope of a definite defense although it is generally understood that France, Italy and most of the occupied Europe is lost.
That Germany can and must hold the Stegried line and the Polish front against further United Nations thrusts for at least three months.
That within this period the United Nations may split over postwar planning and the Nazi use of new weapons may permit an offensive.
That even if previous possibilities fail to materialize, three months will enable the greater reich to strengthen itself internally and prepare for the defense of Germany and to outlast the patience and exhaust the striking power of the United Nations and permit the hope of a negotiated peace.
So far the German army seems to have lost little prestige in the eyes of the German people. The idea that the German high command now is leading both the western powers and the United Nations into positions the Germans desire for the decisive battle of this war may have been a figment of Goebbels' imagination but it is now a widespread conviction among Germans.
They seem to believe the Luftwaffe is now in somewhat the same position as the RAF in 1940, that Goering still has enough planes to defend the reich itself, enough to destroy the Allied invading air force as the RAF destroyed the German invaders. They believe the Russians have exhausted their striking power for the present due to the distances from bases and sources of supply.

IN UNIFORM

Cpl. John M. Nobles, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Nobles of Big Spring, has arrived safely in England, he informed his parents in a letter dated Sept. 1 and received here Monday. Another letter written on shipboard was received at the same time. Cpl. Nobles, who is in the anti-aircraft division, had been assigned temporarily to military police duty. He had always thought that would be fun, but wasn't enjoying it as much as he expected.
Three sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Redding of Big Spring are serving at widely separated points. Cpl. Morris E. Redding is in France as a gun man with a repair unit which reports to air fields which have been captured. He has been in England and France 24 months. Pfc. Grady Redding is in New Guinea with the signal corps. He has been overseas 10 months. Pvt. Clarence Redding is to complete mechanics' training at Keesler Field at Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 16.
Staff Sergeant Luther E. La Boff of Big Spring has been presented with a Battle Participation Star for his contribution in the European air offensive. A communications specialist in "Beaty's Raiders", the Ninth Air Force A-20 "Havoc" light bomber group commanded by Lt. Col. Sherman R. Beaty of Washington, Sgt. La Boff, by the efficient performance of his ground duties, rendered a vital contribution to the "Raiders" in their program of round-the-clock bombings in close air support of ground troops on the western front. A graduate of the Big Spring High school, he enlisted in the army in March 1931. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. La Boff.

Letters Concerning Purchase of Sorghums Received By Agent

Letters from county agencies in Texas and other states concerning purchase of grain sorghums directly from the farmer or local feed dealer are being received by Durward Lewter, Howard county agent.
The agencies state they would rather buy the grain in the county where its is produced, Lewter said.
"Since the crop is generally fair to good over Howard county, I thought some of the farmers would like to go together and supply the needs of the farmers requesting feed. It seems that it might provide a saving to them as well as the farmers who come here to buy the grain," Lewter said.
Any farmer who would like to cooperate in forming this type of market may do so by contacting Lewter.

TULSA SET FOR ALL CHALLENGERS

By WALDO WIESE
AP Newsfeatures

DES MOINES — It looks like Tulsa's Golden Hurricane will roar again in the Missouri Valley conference, which actually isn't much of a loop as far as competition goes this season.

has spread outside the conference and, taking the Missouri Valley region as a whole (which embraces the Big Six), Tulsa appears powerful enough to withstand any challenge to the supremacy it has enjoyed for two seasons.

There are some who believe Coach Henry Frka will have one of the top teams in the nation and many predict it will be the greatest Hurricane of all time. And that's saying a lot because Tulsa has played in three bowl games in as many years—Sun Bowl in 1941, Sugar Bowl in 1942 and 1943.

From the amazing 4-F club (all

FELTO PREWITT
Frka's Crack Center

Tulsa's top players are 4-F) that went through last season's schedule undefeated—only to lose a bowl thriller 20-18 to Georgia Tech—Frka has 22 veterans returning.

Among those returning veterans are: tailback Maurice "Red" Wade; blocking back Al Kowalski; swingback Ed Shediak; Leo Walker and Charlie Mitchell; full backs Camp Wilson, Allen Smith and Bob Hellinghausen; centers Felto Prewitt (expected to be a candidate for all-America honors) and Jack Thomas; guards Dick Jones, Carl Buda, Ellis Jones (the famous one-armed player) and Bogner Stubbs; tackles Glen Burgels, C. B. Stanley, Sam Gray and Sam LaGreca, and ends Eric Field, Clyde Goodnight, Nolan Luhn and Barney White.

Outstanding among the newcomers is Bobby Jack Stuart, the most highly-publicized prep school star in Oklahoma last year, whose blazing speed may win him a starting assignment at tailback.

At Oklahoma A. & M. Coach Jim Lookabaugh will have a squad of 40. The two Aggie aces, Bob Fenimore, back, and Neill Armstrong, end, will be back, along with three other lettermen, Nate Wilson, back, and J. C. Colbover and Ross Duckett, tackles.

Aggie hopes are pinned to an unusually promising incoming crop of 17-year-old freshmen. Armstrong is the nation's leading pass receiver with 39 completions last year and Fenimore, a three-way back, is considered the best thrower the Aggies have developed in the last decade.

At Drake Coach Vee Green expects to have seven veterans and almost 20 freshmen. He isn't very happy about the prospects of facing nine teams, all but one of which have service personnel.

No Revolt Seen
The conference will not join the revolt of some colleges against the established collegiate football rules, but the coaches have these comments:

Lookabaugh says the Aggies will agree with all rivals on the kickoff change to eliminate out of bounds kickoffs. Green declares the rules revolt was "the height of the ridiculous" and Frka announces Tulsa will play any way the other conference members desire.

The name, according to Johnston, "is pronounced Minnie Kelly—his mother must have been Irish." . . . The "great" part is Jimmie's addition. He isn't saying much about Menichelli's first name; it's Fernando, which might remind some folks of the celebrated bull.

Clear Sailing Ahead For Okla. Sooners

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 12 (AP)—It's clear sailing ahead, m'lads, for Oklahoma's Sooners in the Big Six, if Dewey (Snorter) Luster's rival coaches know what they're talking about.

Snorter might even agree (but never for publication) if it weren't for the fact that those 35 Navy boys wearing the red and white may start singing their swan songs (Anchors Aweigh) about Nov. 1.

Until they do, however, Luster is definitely Mr. Big in the Big Six. His Sooners, on paper, look equally as good as his 1943 champions, undefeated in the conference.

With Derald Lebow, all Big Six halfback, heading a horde of stalwarts, Luster can count 10 other lettermen including two all stars—Bob Mayfield, 190-pound center, and Dub Wooten, 180, tall pass-grabbing end.

The Snorter, however, must worry about three tough Texas teams on his schedule besides his conference foes.

Oklahoma takes on the Texas Aggies Oct. 7 and Texas U. Oct.

AMARILLO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Amarillo airfield's Sky Giants open their ten-game schedule Saturday night at Albuquerque, N. M., against the University of New Mexico Lobos with a lineup that will average nearly 200 pounds per man.

This season's play marks the first football campaign for the Giants, whose backfield will average 189 pounds. The line will average 294 pounds, raising the team average to 197 per player, said Coach Capt. Dan Salkeld, who replaced Maj. Douglas Fessenden temporarily this week after Fessenden left for Colorado Springs, Colo., on detached service.

Plans For Expanded Postwar Air Transportation Consummated

Plans for expanded postwar air transportation directly affecting Big Spring were consummated in New York Monday when A. N. Kemp, president of American Airlines, Inc., signed a contract with Donald W. Douglas, president of Douglas Aircraft Co., for the purchase of 55 new high speed four-engine flagships at a cost of $30,000,000.

Twenty-five of these will be DC-4's—44 passenger, four-mile a minute flagships—and thirty of them will be DC-6's, which will have a seating capacity of 55 passengers and a speed of five miles a minute.

Actual construction of these new superliners especially designed for domestic and transoceanic services will begin immediately after the war ends or sooner if the government permits. Kemp said Douglas had declared not one plane ordered or needed by the government for war purposes would be delayed by construction of these planes.

The DC-4 carries four 1,450 horsepower Pratt and Whitney Wasp engines, while the DC-6 cargo liner is equipped with a quartet of 2,100 horsepower Wasps. Both are commercial developments of the Douglas C-54 transport which has more than 6,000 ocean crossings to its credit and is declared to be the most thoroughly tested and proved transport plane flying.

Use of the DC-6 will reduce coast to coast schedule time to approximately 8½ hours and the New York-Chicago time to two hours and 40 minutes. Non-stop cruising range of the ship is 2,715 miles which can be kicked to 3,540 miles. Gross weight will be 80,500 pounds, 117 feet and length 100 feet. The ships will have tri-cycle landing gear, will have pressurized cabins at high altitudes and have complete meal service and other modern refinements.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the National Professional Golfers association, would make those holes all "fours." He would do away with par because he says it's too confusing to the sports fan.

For instance, points out the P.G.A. official who was here for the Texas Victory Open, if you hear or read: "Byron Nelson was one under par on No. 18" what does that mean to you? You don't know what par is on No. 18 so you don't know what Nelson shot.

"Make each hole four," said Corcoran "then everyone would know what the score was if you say 'Nelson shot one under four.'"

Speaking of Nelson, Sam Schenider, the Corpus Christi professional who played with the Toledo star in the early rounds of the open, explains why Byron is so great:

"He thinks he can do it and he does."

In other words, Nelson has the necessary confidence.

Sam also added that he has the shots it takes to make him confident.

Out at Amarillo, C. L. Duniven won the city golf championship hitting a wood shot.

Duniven used his irons—driving with a 1-iron.

Pro George Aulbach, Pat Powell of the Amarillo News tells us, rushed back into the clubhouse following Duniven's victory, got all his 1-irons out and started shining them up.

George was preparing for the rush.

You'll find Texans on any college football roster you come across these days, whether it be Naval V-12 or just regular students.

Now comes Georgia Tech's list and there are three Lone Star staters on it—Roland Phillips of Pampa, a guard, and Jack Bills and Billy Williams of Dallas, tailbacks.

All are juniors at Tech.

Up at Oklahoma University Don Weir, son of Henine Weir, the Schreiner institute coach, is playing quarterback. He'll show his ware in Dallas this year against Texas. Don is a Navy V-12er and is slated to move on to Annapolis next summer.

COACH—J. N. Shiley (above), USNR, of Lebanon, Pa., former coach at Brown, has been appointed head coach of San Diego Naval Training Station football team.

MARKS TODAY'S RUBBER CENTER OF THE WORLD

Built in less than two years by America's synthetic rubber experts largely with the aid of alcohol supplied by the beverage distillers

WHEN the Japanese captured the chief natural rubber producing centers of the world, they thought they had dealt a death blow to America's war effort.

But in two short years the United States became the new rubber producing center of the world.

This great war miracle was achieved by America's brilliant synthetic rubber experts largely with the aid of alcohol supplied by our country's beverage distillers.

The rubber experts had the technical production knowledge that made synthetic rubber possible. The beverage distillers furnished the huge volume of alcohol required by the alcohol-butadiene process... the most practical at that time.

Today we are producing enough synthetic rubber to meet our needs for essential civilian and war rubber goods. Proof!...the request of Bradley Dewey, Rubber Director, to terminate his wartime powers.

Current production is at rate of 200,000 tons more annually than the entire country consumed for all purposes in 1940.

Thank you for your patience!

To aid in the achievement of this wartime miracle, America's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey nearly two years ago and produced nothing but industrial alcohol. They are fully aware of the inconveniences you faced during the 22 months when not a drop of whiskey was made in this country. For your extreme patience and understanding during that time, they are sincerely grateful and appreciative.

Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc.

CRISIS IN 1942

"If we fail to secure quickly a large new rubber supply our war effort and our domestic economy both will collapse."
—Baruch Report, Sept. 11, 1942

ACHIEVEMENT IN 1944

"A synthetic rubber industry has been established and is in complete operation. It is providing the nation with an ample supply of rubber."
—Bradley Dewey, Rubber Director, July 25, 1944

TRIBUTE

Commenting on the beverage distilling industry's contribution, a high W.P.B. official said on April 13, 1944...

- "...it is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date, as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry."
- "...synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production."
- "...an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war."
—Dr. Walter G. Whitman

WLB Faces Homefront Decisions

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The War Labor Board and the administration are faced with one or two — very important home front decisions:

1. Whether to break the "Little Steel" formula established in 1942 to keep wages in check.

2. Whether—if the decision is made to break the formula—action is to be taken before election day, Nov. 7.

Such action would please the workers but probably not some other blocs of voters.

Specifically the decision will involve about 1,800,000 workers in the steel, automotive, meat packing, aluminum, electric, textile and flat glass industries. All have cases pending before the board.

All are asking wage increases which would break the Little Steel formula. They are asking for other things, too. Such as guaranteed annual pay, vacation pay, dismissal pay.

Actually the decision involves many millions of workers. If the WLB broke the formula for those mentioned, other workers would pile in, asking increases.

From information obtained at WLB it seems that if a decision is made before Nov. 7—one way or the other—it will mean a fast job by the WLB.

Last February the WLB established a 6-man fact-finding panel to examine and report on the claims of the steel workers and the denials of the companies.

This week the panel, without recommendations, will turn over its findings to the WLB in a 500-page report.

Meanwhile, workers in other industries—meat packing, aluminum, electric, textile, flat glass and automotive—have put in wage demands.

Separate panels were set up to hear those cases and report back to WLB.

The last of those panel reports is not expected to reach WLB before the end of September. It was said at WLB that—since all the cases involve the Little Steel formula—the board will take no action until these final reports come in at the end of this month. Then the board can do one of two things:

1. Decide against the workers and refuse to break the Little Steel formula although some of the other demands, like extra pay for night work, might be granted.

If the board turned down the workers on wage increases, the president still could step in and make some adjustments.

2. Or investigate further. In that case, the board would call a hearing for all persons interested in breaking or preserving the Little Steel formula.

If, having received the last panel reports by the end of September and having decided on No. 2, the board would set a hearing date. The board probably would give all interested persons at least about two weeks' notice.

Fire Destroys Four Buildings in Quitman

QUITMAN, Sept. 12 (AP) — A drug store, a restaurant, a variety store and a business building were destroyed by a fire which last night roared through this East Texas Wood county-seat town.

Mineola firemen responded to a call for assistance and two of them were hurt fighting the blaze, which began in the drug store, Mrs. Lawrence Butler, wife of the Wood county sheriff, reported. Quitman has no fire department.

The blaze was being brought under control about 10:45 p. m. At which time the fire had been underway about two hours.

Texans Join Arkansas Grid Team As Bible Puts Longhorns Through Mill

By The Associated Press
Two Texans joined the University of Arkansas football team and Coach D. K. Bible is putting the Texas Longhorns through a new offense with the admonition that the club is starting all over.

Those were among the latest developments in Southwest conference grid training camps today as the clubs neared opening day games.

At Austin, Coach Bible made sweeping revisions in the Steer coral, gave the club a new offense, and then said "Boys, we're starting over."

Texas opens here Sept. 30 against Southwestern. Coach Homer Norton of the Texas Aggies seeks a passing combination from among the 85 men trying out at College Station. He still has 12 or 15 promising backs to choose from.

At Dallas, Coach Jimmy Stewart announced a game-condition scrimmage for tomorrow and said he hoped to hold two a week until the season opener Sept. 30 against North Texas. In a tard scrimmage Saturday, two freshmen tailbacks, Louis Williams, Waco, and Johnny Powers, Gilmer, performed like veterans in passing and running.

Texas Christian devoted their practice at Fort Worth yesterday mainly to offensive and defensive phases of passing, dummy scrimmage and returning kickoffs. The Rice Owls held no practice yesterday, as Monday is set aside for naval drilling.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 12 (AP) — The weather bureau reported today that hurricane warnings are indicated for the northern Bahama Islands, and advised persons along the Atlantic coast from Miami to Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, to be on the alert for further advice about a severe tropical storm.

"The great Atlantic hurricane," said the bureau, in a 10 a. m. advisory, "is centered near latitude 26 degrees north, longitude 72 degrees west, moving westward about 10 or 12 miles per hour. This position is about 525 miles east of Miami.

"It is attended by full hurricane winds over a considerable area around the center, and gales extending outward 200 miles."

News Of Class 43-5— Lt. Cleland Awarded The DFC

Bombardier on the Liberator "Spirit of 46," 1st Lt. Thomas H. Cleland of Longmont, Colo., has flown 26 missions over enemy targets in Europe and been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with three clusters and a Presidential citation. Lt. Cleland was stationed with a bomber group in England.

No further word has been received concerning Lt. William J. Dolgin of Los Angeles, Calif., since he was reported missing in action over western Germany Dec. 1, 1943. Lt. Dolgin was stationed in England.

Awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three clusters for successful completion of 25 bombing raids against occupied Europe from his 8th Air Force base, 1st Lt. Grenville C. Braman of Washington, Conn., returned home in February for a leave, after which he was assigned to duty at Midland, studying bombardiering and navigation and doing some instructing. His entire heavy bombardment group received a Presidential citation for the Brunswick raid of Jan. 11.

1st Lt. Robert Manning of Dallas, Tex., has won the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in Africa and Italy and was last reported in an Italian hospital where he had been for about three weeks, but it was not revealed whether he had suffered wounds or contracted some illness.

Returning from a bombing mission over Germany, Lt. Robert M. Courtaway of Overland, Mo., was critically injured when the bomber crashed and was returned to the States for further medical treatment. The injuries were sustained in England on Nov. 13 and he has been awarded the Purple Heart. A patient at O'Reilly General Hospital at Springfield, Mo., since his return, Lt. Courtaway has been expecting a medical discharge for disability.

Lt. Courtney Cooke of Shorewood, Wis., has been guarding the approaches of the western hemisphere from a base in the Galapagos Islands off the coast of Ecuador, where the intense heat is the airman's worst enemy. With one motor gone but with the ship under control when last sighted, the Flying Fortress which had taken Lt. Leslie C. Matthews of Muskegon, Mich., on eight devastating raids over Germany and returned successfully failed to complete its ninth raid, and Lt. Matthews and his crew have been listed as missing since Dec. 22. Only a few days before he had been reunited in England with his brother, who later returned to the States with the young flier's Air Medal, awarded after his first five missions. He was attached to the group known as "Ted's Flying Circus." Other fliers on the same mission have expressed the belief that the missing men are safe.

Upon the completion of his raids from England, 1st Lt. Allen P. Dean of Champaign, Ill., was retained in England to carry on in a special job connected with the frequent bomber raids over Germany. He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters.

Returning from a tough raid on Gdynia, Poland, Lt. Leonard G. Conly of Jenkinstown, Pa., and other members of his crew were forced to bail out of their disabled plane over German-occupied Denmark. Shortly afterward the fliers were reported interned in neutral Sweden, enjoying all the comforts of life but bored with their inactivity. How the lucky men escaped capture and reached Sweden must remain a mystery until the war has been won.

Seeing Lt. Guardia Field from the window of the plane that brought him back to the States was an experience only a little more satisfying than his first glimpse of his Liberator bomber base in Italy after he took to his parachute during a raid over Austria March 19, Lt. Charles W. Cornelius of Walls, Wash. believes. "I was fortunate in returning to friendly territory," is all that the flier is allowed to say concerning his experiences during almost two months behind the enemy lines. His plane was shot down in a running battle with a strong force of enemy fighters over the Austrian target. Lt. Cornelius was uninjured in the jump and lost only a few pounds dur-

American Council To Push Markets Advocated By Kyle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — Establishment of an international agricultural council to promote markets among all of the nations in the western hemisphere has been advocated by Dean E. J. Kyle of Texas A. and M. College in a series of conferences with administration and congressional leaders.

Kyle, an advisor to the state department and a representative of the coordinator of Inter-American affairs, declared in an interview that congress should take the lead in such an organization by authorizing immediately an American council.

"It should be composed of real dirt farmers and livestock men, as well as economics and state department representatives," he outlined.

"Similar councils could be set up in all Latin-American nations. Representatives of each body then could get together to work out a co-ordinated overall agricultural program."

He declares this country should utilize the vast air and sea fleets it will have on hand when the war ends to set up an efficient and speedy transport system designed to bring about a greater flow of agricultural and manufactured goods between the Americas.

By coordinating the movement of crops, price levels can be stabilized and market glutts prevented, he declared, citing as an example the marketing of citrus fruit in this country by growers in California, Texas and Florida.

The Texan recently was elected by the American Association of Learned Societies to its special committee dealing with Latin-American educational relations. As a representative of the coordinator of inter-American affairs he has made an extensive tour of South American countries studying their agricultural problems.

Revival Service To Honor Those In Armed Forces

Rev. O. O. Moore, evangelist, began the fall revival last Sunday at the Wesley Methodist church. Morning services are at 10 a. m. and evening services are at 8 p. m.

On Wednesday evening a service will be presented honoring the boys and girls in the service. Rev. Moore and Rev. W. L. Porterfield, regular pastor, have asked each member of the congregation to bring a flower representing someone in the service. A white flower should be brought for those who have died and a red one for the living. The flowers will be placed in separate containers at front of the church. The sermon for that service will be "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

The Thursday evening sermon will be "The Blood of Christ."

On Friday night Rev. Moore will speak on "The Christian at Home" and that night has been designated family night. "Home Sweet Home" will be sung by vocalist Willie Mat Culwell.

The Saturday evening sermon will be on "Repentance."

Suspect Questioned

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP) — Wounds found on the face of Frederick F. Davis, 57-year-old Knox City boxing instructor beaten to death and robbed here Sept. 4, fitted the broken leather-punch blade on a knife found on a 37-year-old suspect, chief of detectives Will Frits said today. Davis' body was exhumed and examined under a court order issued by Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett.

Frits continued his questioning of the suspect who he said had been identified by three witnesses as having been with Davis shortly before he was slain.

Clean Your Lamp Bulbs and Fixtures for Better Light

A few strokes with a damp cloth is all it takes to get more light from your lamps and lighting fixtures. It's that easy to remove the film of dust that absorbs a lot of the light you should be getting. When the job is done, you'll be agreeably surprised how much more light you get, how much brighter your home seems.

Soap and water may be necessary to clean kitchen and porch ceiling fixtures which cannot be dusted frequently. Always be sure to disconnect lamps or cut off the current before cleaning lamps or fixtures.

Wartime "Bag-o-Tricks"

to Get MORE LIGHT from Your Lamps

- Try this sleight-of-hand with a damp rag. Rub it over the lamp bulbs and reflector bowls — and presto, more light to help you see better. Why? Because dust can hold back as much as 50% of light.
- Shade tricks for more lights use white-lined shades; brush silk shades; relime parchment shades, using shelf paper and scotch tape or flat white paint. And be sure shades are deep enough.
- Be sure that lamps have proper bulbs. Eyesight is more important than ever in these war days.
- Arrange your lamps and furniture so each lamp can, if necessary, serve two or more people with good light. But be sure each person sits close enough to the lamp to get the full amount of light.

Plan On Lasting Basis

Thought apparently is crystallizing into action now on community planning. The chamber of commerce Monday took steps to implement the effort with ample help and thus answered one important problem for the planning committee in its deliberations this evening.

While we have contended that we are a little tardy with our activities in this direction, we do recognize the advantage in having little work to be undone. Our policy of watching and thinking has avoided the pitfall of too visionary planning, or having set up blue-prints which, by change of times and events, have proven impractical.

It is easy in looking into the future to put on rose colored glasses, or rather to include all those things we have dreamed about but which we knew neither practical or virtually out of reach. In short, it is easy to wish rather than to plan.

Now that the end of the European conflict, and we hope the war in toto, is in sight, many things are increasingly clearer to us. We are finding that certain fundamentals are still important in building a city and in developing an area. We are aware that things come to those who are alert, who are prepared, and who are tireless.

With this background, we believe that the planning committee will set in motion machinery which should prove of lasting value to the community. We use the term lasting for one of the things which has presented itself more forcibly in recent months is that post-war planning can be of maximum effect only if it is long range planning.

Venturing On Dubious Ground

May things have changed in the past two and a half years, and one innovation is that of price control as a necessary wartime fixture.

While this doubtless has had some gross inequities, by and large it has worked to a sound advantage. Now OPA seems to be entering a new field, if reports from farmer meetings over the area can be taken at face value. The agency, upon proper petitioning, indicates it is able to fix ceiling prices for cotton picking.

Certainly farmers would desire something of this character, and certainly we want the farmer to get his labor at a price where he can realize profit from his investment in time, equipment and land. But we seriously question the authority or the wisdom of OPA in entering this field. We do not believe cotton picking is a matter of "price ceiling," but one of pay for services. And the two are separate and distinct.

The situation has been worked out fairly well in common practice in the past with reasonable justice to both picker and producer. Efforts in the past to adopt a rigid single price schedule have been argued down as collusion and therefore as hubbing monopolistic control. Common practice can be achieved in this field by common practice and commonsense, and, we hope, without resorting to the government to do something which we did not venture to do as individuals.

Washington—Henry Wallace Takes It On The Chin

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Few men have ever recovered more quickly from a serious political setback than Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

For months B. C. (Before Chicago) Wallace had been running for renomination. There never was a hint that he had any advance indication that the President was going to ditch him. At Chicago, in the pre-convention hours, Wallace and his workers were still toiling mightily.

Then out of the clear blue, the word came that he was to be bypassed for Sen. Harry S. Truman. Such a brushoff has wrecked greater politicians completely. And Wallace is generally credited with being the poorest practical politician in the President's official family. Yet, in that fact probably rests the secret of Wallace's sudden emergence as an important political force in fourth term campaign.

In 1940 when the breach between Roosevelt and Vice President John N. Garner had widened to where it became apparent the President no longer wanted him as a running mate, Garner went home and into a retirement from which he has emerged rarely.

In the same year, when the President threw James A. Farley overboard both as a political confidante and a running mate, Farley "took a walk" to New York, private industry and the less broader pastures of state politics.

Similarly rebuffed the supposedly unastute Wallace immediately started making fourth-term campaign tours down east and into the troubled border states. He had a long private confab with "the Chief." He was invited to a nice little family luncheon on the White House lawn.

He suddenly found himself courted by the very men who were telling the President in other days that he would be a political liability on the ticket this year. And more importantly, he mapped out an independent campaign strategy which is apparently making political hay for the fourth term as well as widening his own circle of personal political influence.

The Vice President's part in the campaign is now becoming clear. On a trip into the east, rather than make speeches before large groups, Wallace huddled with the political leaders and made little informal talks (at which he is much more effective than when speaking to masses or over the radio).

Pleased with the results, he tried the same strategy on a trip to the southwest and to Texas. What did he talk about? Politically, his philosophy of liberalism and the need for survival of the Democratic party may be found in his speech at the Iowa state Democratic convention in Des Moines. For the rest, about corn and farming and good neighbors and the things he knows best.

The results, from all reports reaching here, were such that Wallace could come back and tell newsmen: "I've never been happier in my life." And according to numerous political observers he might have added: "Nor more influential."

Conditions In Old Peoples Home Worse?

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (P) — State Rep. Ennis Favors of Pampa says conditions in convalescent homes for old people seem to be worse in Dallas than in any other city in Texas. Favors is chairman of a house committee holding an investigation here.

The committee is gathering information in a series of hearings which might serve as the basis for remedial old age pension legislation to be presented to the state legislature when it convenes in January. Committee members include representatives O. H. Moore, DeLeon, secretary; Tom Dean, Floydada and L. L. Duckett, Ast Bernard.

Life's Darkest Moment

Ernie Pyle: I've Been Taken For Lots Of Things But Never An Irishman

By ERNIE PYLE

NORTHERN IRELAND, July, 1942—I got by first sight of an American soldier on Irish soil while riding on a train. Two soldiers got on at a little station and sat in the two seats next to mine.

Being slightly homesick already, I couldn't resist starting a conversation. "Where are you from?" I asked. "That town where the train just stopped," one said. "I mean where in the States," I said.

So one of them said Maine, and the other Missouri. "Have you been in the States?" the Maine boy asked. I told him I had spent years there.

"It seems as if nearly everybody you meet over here has been in the States," he said.

I've been taken for a lot of things, but that's the first time anybody ever took me for an Irishman.

The Maine boy had some chewing gum, so he passed it around the compartment. Across from us was a short, heavy woman with a strikingly beautiful little girl, about 5. Each took a piece of gum. The little girl started sucking hers like a lollipop.

We watched, entranced. Finally the mother told her to put it all in her mouth and chew it. It was all so new to her that we couldn't take our eyes off her. Suddenly the Maine boy yelled, "Don't you swallow that!" She had been on the verge. Everybody laughed but the girl.

As we were pulling into a station the large woman got up, put an arm around the Maine boy's shoulder, half hugged him, and whispered in his ear that he was welcome to Northern Ireland.

The Irish people were a little standoffish at first, it seems, but they warmed up. They say the Americans got a bad name here before the troops arrived. That was caused by the large contingent of civilian construction men who came long ago to build camps and storehouses ahead of the troops.

"Doughgirls" Lacks Laugh Asset

By JACK O'BRIAN

AP Drama Editor (One star means poor, four means excellent.)

"The Doughgirls," with Ann Sheridan, Jack Carson, Charles Ruggles, Alexis Smith, Irene Manning, Eve Arden and Jane Wyman. The basic tenet of comedy, so obvious that it is a minor embarrassment; even to explain it, is that it should be funny. Therefore the plight in which the assorted comics in "The Doughgirls" find themselves certainly is a sorry one.

There would be other reasons for the film being as bad as it is, even if the dialogue were not so utterly without humor. When it first was produced on Broadway, the comedy by Joseph Fields was timely and brightly witty, if a bit racy even according to Broadway standards, which certainly are rather low at times. It was directed by George S. Kaufman, who is the possessor of a fine antic feeling for screwball stage business. All in all it added up to superior if completely bawdy, amusement.

Faced with the problem of tidying up the script so that it could get by the Hays office, Warner Brothers found themselves left with one gas, and like the fellow who jacked up the crank and built an automobile around it, they had to start from scratch. The running gag on which a considerable piece of change and some usually creditable talents were squandered is the simple and now quite ancient fact that there is a housing shortage in Washington. On the stage the three couples involved were unmarried, which made for all sorts of raucous jests. Naturally, Will Hays would have no part of that stuff, so the lengths to which the scriptists had to reach for comedy resulted in their taking a complete nosedive, and not the sort which

What Kind Of A Surrender

By WALTER LIPPMANN

As we come nearer to the end, we shall probably find that there are two radically different ways in which the unconditional surrender of Germany can come about. The Germans may surrender in bits and pieces—by regiments, divisions, armies, and when the Allies enter Germany, by cities and provinces. Or German authority may appear which offers to surrender the whole country at once.

Both forms of surrender will present us with grave problems calling for swift decisions on high policy. Moreover, Allied policy, if settled before the final collapse, may determine which form the surrender is to take.

Let us examine the problem of an over-all surrender. A German government asks for an armistice with unconditional surrender. The question at once is: what is the authority of this government, in what sense is it able to surrender? Marshal Badoglio surrendered unconditionally, but in fact he was able to deliver to General Eisenhower only bits and pieces of the Italian armed forces; the Allies had to fight for more than a year to obtain possession of the Italy which Marshal Badoglio said he was surrendering.

Now, even if we assume that a German Badoglio was able to surrender the Reichswehr, which is by no means altogether certain because of the special Nazi divisions, a surrender of that sort would still leave the Allies with the huge and dangerous task of purging and subduing the Nazi regime.

For this reason the Allies must also certainly be prepared to tell any German government that it must prove its authority and its reliability by positive acts—more precisely, by arresting and delivering to the Allied command the leading members of the Gestapo and of the Nazi party, and the chief war criminals in the army. If the German government, which is offering to surrender, will not do this, it will disclose its bad faith and no reliance can be placed upon its signature. If the German government is unable to do this then it lacks effective authority; the surrender is only a partial surrender, and the Allies can grant the safety of surrender only to those Germans who in fact deliver themselves physically into their hands.

We have demanded of Italians, Romanians, Bulgars and Finns that they do more than cease fighting us; we have demanded that they will disclose their bad faith and no reliance can be placed upon their signature. If the German government is unable to do this then it lacks effective authority; the surrender is only a partial surrender, and the Allies can grant the safety of surrender only to those Germans who in fact deliver themselves physically into their hands.

Vehicles To Be Released

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (P) — Between 200 and 300 additional surplus army vehicles will be released to the procurement department of the treasury in Fort Worth for sale to automobile dealers, the Eighth Service Command said, adding that the release would take place within a few days.

that they assume their share of the risks and costs of dealing with our enemies. We should not demand less of Germans, allowing those who are tired of war to resign from the war while Allied soldiers have to bear the whole burden of dealing with the Nazi guerrillas, the groups of saboteurs and assassins who will set traps and ambushes for them in the alleys of the cities and at night on country roads.

We must distinguish, therefore, between military control, or even the military government of Germany, and the immediate task of purging, pacifying and policing the Nazi fanatics operating as guerrillas or as an underground. We must find ways to induce and compel Germans to bear the brunt of the dirty work of mopping up the Nazi system. We must not blunder into a situation where either we have to do the whole job or the job is not done, while the mass of the German people sit passively, protected and fed by our occupying troops, and wait to see whether or not there is a future for Nazism and pan-Germanism.

It has often been said by critics of Allied policy that our terms are so severe that there is no inducement to Germans to play a part in overthrowing Nazism. What inducement could we offer the Germans which was so attractive that they would take risks, like those of the F. I. in France, against being massacred by the Gestapo? The only inducement which will make men take such risks must come from patriotism and the love of liberty. When and if Germans fight for German liberty with some part of the fanaticism with which they have fought to enslave others, they will have begun to earn their freedom, and they will begin the restoration, in the only way in which it can begin, of Germany among the nations.

We must demand that any government claiming to speak for Germany bear a large part of the burden of settling with the Nazis. The price of peace with the Allies should be war by Germans against the Nazis. That is the only way to distinguish clearly between Nazi and non-Nazi Germans. It is the only way to destroy at its roots any notion that the Nazis, driven underground, remain the true German patriots resisting the Allied world. It is the only way to promote the appearance of Germans, who have broken irrevocably with Nazism, who have made themselves by their own acts, the forerunners of a democratic Germany.

It is, moreover, the only way to shorten the tedious and dangerous business of occupying Germany. If we have not only to occupy, disarm, and for a while to govern, but also to purge, pacify and police the whole German nation, we have an infinitely difficult task, not the least of the difficulty being the need to co-ordinate the action of three or more occupying powers in its endless and controversial detail.

Eisenhower Warns Civilians To Move

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sept. 12 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower told the peoples of the Ruhr and Rhineland today that areas in which they live soon will become theaters of war and that in order to prevent needless civilian casualties, they should leave immediately.

"Bear communications of the remnants of the German army retreating into Germany will be subjected to bombing as devastating as that which preceded and accompanied the Allied campaign in Normandy," his broadcast message said.

"Civilians are hereby warned that everyone who lives or works in the vicinity of road, railroad or canal communications; of military depots, camps, installations or factories working for the Nazi war machine, must from now on reckon that they will not be safe from high level or low level attack at any hour of the day or night."

He warned, too, that perpetrators of atrocities against non-Germans in the Ruhr and Rhineland "will be brought to trial for those crimes."

City Picks Up 33 Women Here

Since Sept. 1 a total of 33 women have been picked up for venereal disease checks, including four who were booked on vagrancy.

However, at the moment - the number being held under quarantine is eight. Others were released after tests were negative or after they were declared non-infectious and agreed to continue treatments at the clinic.

Johnnie Hughes, 44, San Angelo, arrested with a woman later fined for vagrancy last week, entered a plea of guilty to vagrancy and was fined $200.

Lena Cameron, who entered a guilty plea to a vagrancy count, was fined $100 but $85 of the amount was suspended. Priscilla Corona drew a $50 vagrancy fine.

Fans Asked To Buy Tickets In Advance

Football fans were urged Tuesday to buy their tickets for the opening game of the season at 8:30 p. m. Friday against Colorado City in advance of the game.

Tickets are available at the chamber of commerce office or at the school tax office. Season tickets are available at the latter office.

School officials pointed out that considerable congestion and delay at the gate could be avoided by advance purchase of tickets.

Colorado City brings one of the strongest teams the Wolves have had in several seasons. There are nine starting lettermen against only five for Big Spring.

DIES OF WOUNDS—Pfc. Tadmage (Tuffy) Jackson has died of wounds received in action, his brother, N. L. Jackson, Big Spring, has been informed. A former Golden Gloves boxer here, Pfc. Jackson enlisted at Camp Wallace and was assigned to camps in California and Oregon for training in the quartermasters corps. For the past two years he has been overseas. Survivors include his widow and one son, whom he has never seen, of Phoenix, Ariz., and his brother, and mother, who resides at Abilene.

Patches Arrive For TB Tests

A limited number of tuberculin patches, on order since April, have arrived and the follow-up test of families of children which showed positive on X-rays is to get underway at once, Anne Fisher, county health nurse, said Tuesday.

Only 400 out of a 1,000 patches ordered were shipped, but Mrs. Fisher hoped that others would be furnished. She plans to test first graders in the city and rural schools as long as the patch supply holds out. When the supply is sufficient, she also intends to complete testing of rural schools, a project which remained incomplete last school term.

The patch method is a simple, painless and harmless method of determining if a student is particularly susceptible to tuberculosis. A positive reaction does not necessarily mean the child has active tuberculosis, but an X-ray is recommended in order that any active cases might be clearly diagnosed.

All Parties Will Remain In Suit

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—All parties to the suit of the city of San Antonio against the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority and the Lower Colorado River Authority will remain in the suit, according to rulings made today by District Judge Ben F. Wilson in the 61st district court.

The suit, involving many millions of dollars in properties and promising to develop some senseless, was transferred to Harris county from Bexar county by Chief Justice James P. Alexander of the Texas supreme court. An array of lawyers from San Antonio, Austin and elsewhere are appearing in the case.

Attorneys finished this morning on informing the judge as to the nature of the suit and heard the defense exceptions to the plaintiff's plea.

Curtin Denies Govt. Knew Jap Fleet Was Near Pearl Harbor

CANBERRA, Australia, Sept. 12 (AP)—Prime Minister John Curtin today flatly denied that the Australian government knew a Japanese fleet was sailing toward Pearl Harbor before the Dec. 7, 1941, attack.

Commenting on a statement in the United States congress that Australians had spotted the fleet and warned Washington, Curtin said, "this is pure invention. Our cables had no data regarding the Japanese fleet."

(Rep. Harnes, Indiana republican, told the house yesterday that "there appears to be an abundance of evidence" such information was received to Washington by Australia 72 hours before Pearl Harbor was bombed.)

Local Gins Ready For Fall Season

Local cotton gins report that they are ready for the fall season and several are already in operation.

One company reports having ginned 25 bales of the current crop and others have ginned five and six bales. Ginners report that a majority of the cotton ginned will be put into government loan, the loan price for strict middlings ranging from 21.18 to 21.40.

It is predicted that the cotton crop will not be as good as it has been previously due to deterioration as a result of extreme heat and dryness, but it will be better than expected at first.

The price for cotton seed at the present time is $52.00 a ton.

Colleges Assured Govt. Will Pay Regular Fees

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—State and Municipal Colleges which charge little or no tuition were assured today that the government will pay them more than the customary fee when war veterans enroll for study.

The Veterans Administration has ended a long period of worry over the controversial tuition problem by announcing that:

1. Public institutions may bill the government at their "non-resident" rates, regardless of whether the veteran is a resident. These rates are generally higher than resident rates—anywhere from $30 to $300 higher for a scholastic year.

2. Otherwise, the customary tuition shall be charged, except that no college, whether public or private, shall be paid less than $10 a month tuition for a full-time veteran trainee. This is exclusive of standard fees such as library, infirmary, or laboratory fees. Limited allowances would be made for standard, necessary supplies.

If the college is on the quarter system, the minimum tuition will be $30 a quarter, or $90 a scholastic year. If on the semester system, the minimum is $40 a semester, or $80 a scholastic year.

These decisions were made just in time for the first fall term of government-financed education for veterans. It was announced that about 10,000 veterans have applied for study at institutions of their own choice, and that 5,600 of them have already been determined to be eligible and are waiting for the opening of the new college year.

Eventually, between 800,000 and 1,000,000 veterans are expected to attend school at government expense.

The decision appears to be that nearly all public institutions will be paid considerably more than would be the case if the veterans administration had insisted on a strict interpretation of the "customary tuition" phrase in the G. I. bill of rights.

Claude L. King, Forsan, has enlisted in the air corps enlisted reserve for subsequent assignment to air combat crew training, it was announced here Tuesday.

His enlistment was through the AAF examining board at West Texas recruiting district headquarters in Lubbock.

'Coal Miners Kicked In Face' Says Lewis

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, told the opening session of his union's convention today that President Roosevelt "publicly kicked every coal miner in the face" during the wage disputes last year and appealed to the UMW membership, in effect, not to vote for him in November.

Lewis referred to the president's radio appeal to the miners in the spring of 1943 as the "kick in the face," saying that Mr. Roosevelt denounced the men and their union after the policy committee had voted to call off the strike.

"How did you like it?" Lewis asked the packed auditorium. "Perhaps you would like some more of it."

"No, no," came the cries from some delegates. Others shouted "pour it on, John!"

"Well," continued the UMW chieftain, "vote him into office in November and I think you'll get some more of it next April."

Invitations To US Meeting Sent Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Immediate action to prevent a post war scramble for choice world air lanes, looking toward eventual establishment of a permanent international air commission, was set today as the primary goal of a November parley of more than 50 nations.

Invitations to the meeting, to be held in the United States, were sent out by the state department to all the United Nations and all the neutrals—except Argentina, with which the United States does not have diplomatic relations.

The first aim of the conference, the department announcement said, is to assign provisional air routes throughout the world.

Possessed of an offensive odor, the man was ordered to bathe Monday afternoon. It was discovered then that he was wearing a wig. He had been operating a cafe in the northwest quarter of the city.
