Film To Expose Secret Aim Of Nazi Warlords

A picture designed to expose the real aims of Germany's warlords and their determination to bring about a third worldwide conflict, "The Master Race" presents a timely story in its showing Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz.

Notables in the cast include George Coulouris and Osa Massen. The film purports to reveal the Teutonic leaders' long range plans and then shows how the plan is tried out in a little Belgian village.

Coulouris, playing the part of Col. Von Beck, sees with his fellow officers that the war is lost and resolve to spend their lives stirring up trouble between Allies and peoples of occupied countries to create such a feeling of unrest and dissension that in 20 years the war may be attempted again.

How Von Beck, posing as a wounded Belgian patriot, does his underground work is a highlight of the picture. Edward A. Golan, who made "Hitler's Children," produced the new RKO film, which is declared to possess much understanding for this serious, current question. Nancy Gates, who visited frequently in Big Spring and who was Miss Denton at the last West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention held here in 1940 has one of the lead roles in the show.

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC (Delayed)—Four Marine airmen were returned safely to this base following a rescue hundreds of miles away near Jap-held islands.

The men had gone to bomb enemy ships sailing out of Truk, when their medium bomber was hit by ack-ack and crashed into the sea. They spent 54 hours on the water before being picked up by the warship which delivered them here.

While the men were in the water, closer to Jap than American base, a continuous 24-hour search for them was conducted from here under the direction of Marine Colonel Vernon M. Guymon, of Kingsville, Tex.

One of the searching planes finally spotted them about the third afternoon.

Letters To Editor—

None Has Right To Speak For Willkie, Says Reader; Another Scores Pop Corn

Dear Editor:
Noticed in Drew Pearson's column, "Merry-Go-Round," that had Mr. Willkie lived he would have supported Roosevelt. That's a lot of bunk. Nobody has any right to speak for Mr. Willkie, only his own family and not Mr. Pearson, of which Mr. Willkie's brother has already denied Pearson's statement.

Mr. Pearson sure pulls off some good jokes. I wonder if he couldn't tell us Americans whether Santa Claus is for Roosevelt and the New Deal.

I see where Will Rogers, Jr., has come out for Dewey, a democratic congressman from California. No wonder Martin Dies said in his speech the other night that all good democrats had to come up for air—Farley, Garner, Byrd and Dies himself.

Well, win, lose or draw, I am voting for Dewey. God help us, I can't do no other.
A Herald Reader.

Dear Editor:
As a visitor to your city and speaking for others who may come here, I can make a good suggestion to fill a spot in your paper. Pictures are made for entertainment," so says Mr. DeMille. To get the most out of a picture, quiet should reign at all times.

But many crinkling sacks and many persons crunching corn can create considerable noise, especially into the ear of anyone of the majority not eating corn. x x x

To those persons who think they be placed in a portion of the building away from those that do not munch, chew, except at home. xxx
Am I right or am I crazy. As for me, I stay away lots of times when I see a popper in front.

With regards,
Joe Admes.

I see his face in every bulb

EVERY time you turn on an electric light, it becomes a glowing testimonial to the genius of Thomas A. Edison. Sixty-five years ago this Saturday, on October 21, 1879, Edison successfully completed the long series of experiments he'd started many months before to make a practical light source.

You know the rest. The brain of this one man, plus determination, perseverance and patience, created a small glass bulb that has had a vast influence over the living and working habits of people throughout the world.

TODAY, electric light is a commonplace convenience. On the farm and in the cities, in homes, offices, stores and factories; in one-room shacks and in mansions this man-made light source that pushes back the mantle of darkness at the flip of a switch has helped bring about many of the fine things of our modern civilization.

Edison not only invented the first practical incandescent lamp. He also established the first commercial electric generating plant to extend the benefits of his revolutionary invention. The electric industry, today supplying the greatest amounts of power in history as a result of war needs, pays tribute to Edison's lamp and his pioneer electric generating plant.

Riot Participants Let Out On Bail

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP) — Sixteen of 61 alleged participants in the rioting of July 20 in the Plaza de la Constitucion, who have been in the penitentiary since that time, were today granted an "amparo" (a few days bail).

The remaining 45, including Pedro Lopez Gonzalez, Manuel Cucus and Miguel Cargas, leaders of the labor union whose members' protest demonstration against the social security law ended in the riot, were refused "amparo" by the judge of the criminal court and remain imprisoned.

In the rioting a fire engine just purchased in the United States was destroyed, firemen were stoned and severely injured, many automobiles were turned over and burned and show windows were looted.

Simmons Cites Need Of Federal Courts

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 17 (AP) — David A. Simmons of Houston, Texas, president of the American Bar association, suggested in an address here "a minor federal court be established in each community in lieu of the commissions which now make the laws and roam the country looking for violations."

Speaking last night at the annual banquet of the Connecticut Bar association, Simmons said that during the last 40 years "we have built up in the executive department (of the government) many commissions and bureaus and congress has given them powers to make rules with the force of law and to try people who violate them."

By The Associated Press
 Amarillo Air Field, which has a date Nov. 25, with mighty Randolph Field, continues to pace Texas service teams in football but the Sky Giants will be in great danger of taking a tumble this week-end when they play the powerful Navy Zoomers from Norman, Okla.

Norman Navy beat both Oklahoma and Arkansas and appears to have one of the best eleven in the southwest.

The Sky Giants have been polishing for the Randolph game all season, figuring that will be when the state service championship is determined. They'd like to reach their battle with the Ramblers unbeaten and untied. But with Norman Navy coming up with this kind of team it begins to look a little doubtful they'll be able to accomplish it.

Randolph also is undefeated and untied but has played fewer games however, in the three the Ramblers have run off they've outscored any other team in the country with 142 points to 6 for the opposition. And Randolph played three of the top outfits of the Southwest conference—Texas,

Rice and Southern Methodist.
 Two other service teams have unblemished records—Bergstrom Field of Austin with three victories and Hondo Air Field with two—but these teams do not meet either Amarillo Air Field or Randolph.

There are six games for the service teams this week-end. Hondo Air Field starts it off by contesting John Tarleton College at Hondo Thursday night.

The Saturday schedule has Bergstrom Field meeting Ellington Field at Austin, Galveston Air Field going to Monroe, La., to play Seiman Field, Bryan Air Field tackling the newly-organized Marine Air Base team from Eagle Mountain Lake at Denton and the Amarillo Air Field-Norman Naval Station game at Amarillo.

Landis Goes Home

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, who entered St. Luke's Hospital shortly before the world series for a physical check and remained to undergo treatment, proposes to return to his home within a few days.

The condition of the 77-year-old baseball executive was reported as greatly improved yesterday. He missed the all-St. Louis world series, the first fall classic he has not attended since he was named commissioner in 1920.

Bulldogs Picked To Take Clash; Passes To Fly

Playing on the road for the second consecutive week, and the second road game of the season for them, the Big Spring Steers leave home to butt heads with the fast-moving Midland Bulldogs in another battle that will prove the loser one step nearer the cellar than the other.

The Bulldogs have dropped one game this season, that being last week to the Sweetwater Mustangs who are top contenders for San Angelo's coveted pennant, and are heavy favorites to take the game to give them four wins in five starts.

The Midland eleven opened the season against Pampa's Harvesters and moved over that team 18-13, leaving an early season prediction that they would be tough to handle during the year.

In their second week the Bulldogs ran up against an Austin of El Paso eleven that gave stubborn resistance but eventually fell 20-13 before the nifty offensive play of the Midland aggregation.

The Bulldogs entered their third week of play against a highly rated Plainview team and were the decided underdogs for the fray. But discounting all predictions the eleven of District Three ran riot over their north Texas foes and topped in a 32-6 win from the visitors.

Then last week came the payoff when Mack Alexander and his Mustangs took a crushing win from the canines 28-6 to end potentially, their threat for district recognition.

With a rather light and inexperienced line the Bulldogs are sparked by Richards and M. C. Hale. Richards is a good passer and a better punter. He kept the Mustangs in the hole quite a bit of the game last week with long accurate punts that continued to roll out of bound deep in Sweetwater territory.

Hale was the sparkplug of the team in their Plainview victory, getting off several flashy runs and should deal Steer linemen a lot of trouble especially with his end sweeps, where his speed is a valuable asset. Last week he was rather bottled up by a stiff Mustang defense, but will remain a big threat to local tacklers in defending their goal line.

It was Richards' passing however that brought the Bulldog score against the Mustangs, and he proved to be a very accurate aerialist. Also his ground game is a threat, keeping defensive foes guessing as to his next move. In Roy and Hale the Midland eleven has a couple of good receivers and a passing game is due to develop come Friday night. Especially will this be so since a Steer offensive threat developed last week with the Lamesa eleven, with Hugh Cochran passing to Pete Cook for their score, and three of six other passes going for completions.

Cawthon To Remain As Brooklyn Coach

BROOKLYN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Tom Gallery, general manager of the Brooklyn Tigers in the National pro football league, today squelched rumors that Pete Cawthon would be dismissed as coach.

"Pete will be with us for the remainder of the season," Gallery said. "The responsibilities for our three losses so far this season definitely are not his, but due entirely to causes beyond human control."

Worst Fate Of Fan Hits Correspondent

By SID FEDER
BARI, Italy, Oct. 17 (AP)— The worst fate that can happen to a baseball fan is being in Greece at world series time surrounded by British troops and without communications to find out what is cooking. For Greece doesn't know how important the series is and the Tommies don't care.

I missed my first world series in 10 years this fall and if that is not bad enough I was stuck in the middle of Peloponessus with the British army while it was going on. There were only two other Americans—both correspondents—and all three of us talked a mighty good series.

The toughest blow of all came when British paratroopers dropped at Megara last Thursday, and helping one of them out of his 'chute I asked him in desperation if he knew how the series came out.

"I'm not sure," he replied in a thick Lancashire dialect, "but I think a St. Louis team won."

Anyway, we three correspondents wanted to make a numbers bet among ourselves but all the money to be had was in Greek drachmas. And since one buck now is worth 150 million drachmas you can see there is no percentage in that.

The only fellow worse off than we three correspondents was Lt. Andrew Marshall Bristol, Va., who crashed-landed his plane in the hills east of Megara several days ago and just managed to come out of the woods this morning. He didn't even know the Browns won the pennant and wouldn't believe it until Sgt. Dan McIntyre of Geary, Okla., who was among the first Americans to land in eastern Greece, gave us a rundown on the series.

Notre Dame Top Team In Nation For 2nd Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—It's Notre Dame again. For the 12th straight week, including ten weeks from last year, the Irish have been voted the nation's No. 1 college football team.

The unbeaten and untied South Benders, who last week snowed Dartmouth under a 64-0 score, polled 973 points from 107 sports-writers in yesterday's Associated Press weekly poll, the second of the season. The Irish were ranked first on 59 1-3 of the 107 ballots.

Army and Randolph Field, both undefeated and untied, moved up a notch to second and third place, respectively, as 13-13 deadlock with Virginia tumbled the North Carolina Pre-Flighters from second to tenth.

Army polled 862 points, including 11 1-3 first places, to Randolph Field's 681.5, including 21 7-12ths first place votes.

The leaders, with 10 points given for each first place vote, nine for second, etc. (First place votes in parentheses).

Notre Dame (59 1/3)	973
Army (11 1/3)	862
Randolph Field (21 7/12)	681.5
Ohio State (4)	631

Sliding Down The Sports Chute

with BILL
 It looks like trouble is brewing in District Three AA, (dubbed the San Angelo District for sports scribes of that city), for the Bobcats repetition as representatives of this circuit in state play-offs. The trouble lies in Abilene and Sweetwater and will not be decided for some weeks to come.

The Bobcats have an easy week at home this Friday, entertaining the Lamesa Tornados, while the other two have out-of-district contests that should prove quite entertaining, and give a chance at comparative guesses on one clash.

Sweetwater ran wild last week to trounce Midland 26-6 and knock that uprising team from the undefeated class. The Mustangs of Coach Mack Alexander are always a tough foe and with Tower Leeper sparking them from the quarterback slot they may give the Bobcats quite a bit of trouble before giving up a victory, and that is not a sure thing for the champs.

The Mustangs will breeze up to Plainview for a non-conference tilt there that should give them little trouble, as Midland severely trounced the eleven of that city, and it should give opposition to the high flying Mustang aggregation.

In the meantime Abilene is growing in strength and as a threat to Angelo supremacy, after knocking off Odessa last week 14-7 and displaying an offensive threat that is just uncovered. They were already potential contenders for the flag with their tough line which has proved quite a formidable wall defensively. The Eagles tangle with Lubbock this week (Saturday) and it will be the last chance offered District Three teams to down the upstart District One leaders, who have whipped Odessa San Angelo, Lamesa, and Big Spring in their rounds through this circuit. However, it is my opinion that they will have to get up and fly to overcome that Big Eagle team, and they are just bare favorites in my books after seeing what a small team they had. However their tricky offense may pull them through.

On the homefront the Steers take off to Midland to give battle to the tough foe of that city, and are once again the underdogs. They will probably battle the Bulldogs on better terms than any other conference foe, with the exception of Lamesa, they have met this year or will meet during the remainder of the season. The Bulldogs have a powerful little team, but are not in the class with Angelo, Odessa, Sweetwater, or Abilene and the game will be another battle to see who rests nearest the cellar.

The Steers shoved themselves out of the cellar last week in their Lamesa win, and if they can get by the Bulldogs will come up in fifth place in the year, unless a miracle occurs and they trip one of the three remaining elevens in the field... which is practically the same as saying Germany will win the war this fall.

However I am rating the Bulldogs no better than two touch-downs better than the locals and if the Steers can play the kind of ball they showed against Lubbock the last half they may come out pretty well on the scoring end. Here's hoping anyway...

Another warning to you hometown fans. You are really depriving yourself of some fine football classics by not putting in an appearance Thursday afternoons to see the Ward schools battle out for city supremacy in the junior league. Before many weeks go by there should be some extra-fine talent out there at the stadium in regards to youngsters' football as they are fast improving in the inner arts of blocking and tackling. Treat yourself to an afternoon out of the office and drop by to see the kids battle. It will be worth missing that two-dollar sale and will really give them a boost to have a few adults there to shove them on. Encouragement helps and discouragement may ruin the chances of a really beneficial step for local grid teams in years to come.

See you...

Post Team Wins Opener 41 To 24 Over Cadet Five

The Big Spring Bombardiers grooming for a tough schedule against the top-notch basketball teams of the Southwest, looked impressive Monday night as they defeated an all-star Aviation Cadet five at the Post gymnasium by a 41-24 score in a practice game.

Pic. Rex Alexander, rangy center who formerly starred at Murray State Teachers College in Kentucky, led the Bombardier attack with 15 points, going wild in the final quarter.

Capt. Floyd Burdette, six foot five inch guard who formerly burned up the courts for Oklahoma A&M, bagged 12 points.

A-C Ted Stepien, Pittsburgh's outstanding player last year, led the cadets scoring with 10 points, while A-C Don Rogers, ex-school-boy flash from San Francisco, was held to six points. A standout at guards for the Cadets was Bob Moeller, former Butler university star.

The Cadets jumped to a nine-eight lead in the first quarter but Capt. Burdette proved deadly under the basket and pulled the Bombardiers into an 18-12 lead at half-time.

Despite their lack of height, the Cadets played a scrappy aggressive game, drawing up to a short end of a 22-20 at the end of the third period. Then Alexander, playing from the pivot spot, went berserk for the Bombardiers for the winners sewing up the contest.

Capt. Burdette's extreme height gave the Bombardiers control of the ball on numerous occasions. He is a crowd pleaser who is favorite with the fans. Coach of the team, he is schooling his players in the system taught by Coach Henry Iba at Oklahoma A&M.

Pvt. Eddie Breckenridge, former ace official from Ohio, did a fine job as referee.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)— Tuesday p. m. quarterback: ... From the looks of Saturday's scores, Army and Notre Dame will come up to their annual tussle without knowing how good they are. . . The big scores so far don't prove whether they're so good or the opposition so bad. . . And how about Washington with 247 points in four games— and then comes Southern California? . . . Navy's coaches must feel like the guys who normally inhabit such football hotspots as Columbia, O., or Baton Rouge, La., during the Huey Long regime. . . Before every season the fans told them they had a world-beater team and they'd better watch out if they lost even one game. . . Lt. Comd. Rip Miller, Navy's line coach, remarked yesterday: "A lot of coaches are shocked to find out that teen-age boys can play football. We've known that for 20 years." . . . which indicates that the pre-season ballyhoo couldn't have been very far wrong. . .

Service Dept.
 Although Lee Artoe, ex-Chicago Bears tackle, had just returned from two years in the Pacific when he played the first game for the Fort Pierce, Fla., navy amphibious base this fall, he still was able to kick off once so that the ball hit one of the goal uprights near the top. . . Sgt. Clarence (Hooks) Iott struck out 246 men out of a total of 404 fanned by the mound staff of the McKerns, Utah, overseas replacement depot during the past season.

Badminton Finals Slated Wednesday

Major Arthur Foulkes will meet Lt. Joseph Wheeler for the officers singles badminton championship of the Big Spring Bombardier School at the Post gymnasium Wednesday afternoon.

Major Foulkes, who formerly played at the Westchester Country Club at Rye, New York, advanced to the finals Monday by defeating Lt. Frank Wones in two-out-of-three matches. He won the first set easily by a 15-4 score, smashing deep to the back court to tally points.

Staging a comeback, Lt. Wones won the second set by a 15-13 score but he appeared to tie up badly, and the final set was a rout with Major Foulkes winning 15-8.

Lt. Wheeler, winner of the title last year, is a favorite to repeat. Possessor of an all-around court game paced by a deceptive drop shot over the net, he is a former star on the Pacific Coast club badminton team at Long Beach, California.

Mandamus Suit Filed Benefiting Taxpayers

DALLAS, Oct. 17 (AP)— A mandamus suit filed by A. F. Carter in behalf of taxpayers, to require Chairman E. R. Gregg and the board of managers of the Texas State railroad to account for funds of the state-owned line, is on file in 68th district court here.

The line, leased by the Texas & New Orleans Railway company, runs between Palestine and Rusk. Carter, in the petition filed yesterday, asks that the lease be cancelled and that an experienced railroad man be appointed as a receiver to operate the line.

Court attaches said citations were issued.

Pepper Martin Heads Back To The Pasture

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17 (AP)—The wild horse of the Osage, John Leonard "Pepper" Martin is heading back to pasture after a one-year return to the big leagues where he excited fans with his daring antics for 12 1-2 seasons.

The 40-year-old Pepper yesterday received his unconditional release from the St. Louis Cardinals. He had requested it, telling President Sam Breadon he figured he had served his time as an active major leaguer.

Martin came back to the Cardinals at the start of the 1944 season after managing Sacramento and Rochester since 1941. He has never said what he plans for 1945 and today was on his ranch near McAlester, Okla., and could not be reached for a statement. It was believed here he would again seek a job as manager somewhere in double A baseball.

Encouraging Experience

Experience in raising ample funds for an iron lung with such ease that the public has been asked to please desist in its giving to the cause should demonstrate clearly the capacity of Howard county folks for meeting worthy calls.

This was a unique campaign. Not one iota of pressure was exerted upon anyone. Only direct appeals were made by persons who did so without solicitation or suggestion from anyone. The people simply wanted to give and did because they counted it as an expression of feeling as much as an investment in preserving life. The Herald hopes, and surely all others concur, that the iron lung seldom if ever is needed. The knowledge that one is around plus the satisfaction of having made a community gesture toward providing a need will make every gift enduring.

Some will say that it was ill-timed to have the fund campaign run co-incidentally with the drive to raise $28,900 for the community war chest of Howard county. We think not; on the contrary, we submit that the east with which the iron lung drive succeeded is conclusive proof within itself that the public will respond if the appeal is carried to them. The iron lung campaign could not be stopped, for it was spontaneous.

Much of this spontaneity can be injected into the chest campaign under proper stimulus. We agree that it is well that drive plans are to be re-constituted and hope that everywhere people will spread the good work about the chest and its elements, that all will contribute, and that we get his job done effectively and quickly.

It's A Usage Tax

Judge D. Y. McDaniel of Waco, president of the County Judges and Commissioners association, would devote all instead of only half the annual surpluses of the county and district road bond assumption fund to the improvement of rural roads. He would put the expenditure under direction of a state rural road commission, created by constitutional amendment. x x x

Judge McDaniel says that out of a total of 196,989 miles, 170,000 are rural roads. The argument is valid, but it does not prove its case. For the 27,000 miles of state highways carry 76 per cent of the total traffic. The gasoline tax is a road-usage tax, since it is measured by consumption. Hence usage rather than mileage is the true criterion in the determination of an equitable distribution of the proceeds of that tax as between the two systems of roads. It is to be considered, too, that state highways are necessarily much costlier than rural roads. x x x

So the Japanese war-lords lied to their public in their feverish, almost hysterical, claims yesterday of a great victory over the American fleet, fearing to disclose the truth—that United States sea and air fleets not only daringly and destructively assaulted Nippon's very inner island defenses but had administered a smashing defeat to the Mikado's forces.

Tokyo's boast that the imperial home fleet finally had come out and had decisively whipped Admiral Halsey's force, sinking two of our battleships and some fifty other warships, was all pure hokum. A communique from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz's headquarters at Pearl Harbor today discloses that while the Jap fleet did indeed poke its quivering nose into the open, it fled in ignominious panic when it saw the strength of Halsey's contingent. Of the sinkings claimed by the Japs, Admiral Nimitz says:

"There has been no damage of consequence to our battleships or carriers. However, two medium sized ships were hit by aircraft torpedoes and are retreating from the area. Fortunately the personnel casualties in these two ships were small."

As against this, in the fighting which has been proceeding for several days past as the result of our attacks in the Ryukyus-Formosa-Luzon area, the Japanese have lost an estimated 825 to 843 warplanes—a terrific blow. Some 146 ships and other surface craft also have been sunk or damaged.

While the Japanese press today continued to feed to a hopeful population such pap as "desperately fleeing enemy warships completely destroyed," Admiral Nimitz quietly announced:

"Carrier aircraft of the Pacific fleet are continuing to attack targets on Luzon Island in the Philippines."

It's quite in the cards that we may be witnessing the preliminaries to General MacArthur's invasion of the Philippines which he has sworn to redeem.

Hollywood—"The Impatient Years" Is Success

By JACK O'BRIAN
AP Drama Editor

(One star means poor, four excellent.)

"The Impatient Years," with Jean Arthur, Lee Bowman and Charles Coburn.

The first ten minutes of "The Impatient Years" are concerned with getting the story into shape and it seems rather dull and unwieldy; but from then on things progress excellently. This is a gay story about a near-tragedy in the marital life of a young soldier who married after seeing the girl only a few days. When he returns he doesn't even recognize her at first and they have to get acquainted all over again.

Things go badly and they decide on a divorce. The father, played by Charles Coburn, decides they are still in love and with the aid of the judge in the divorce court, orders the youngsters to retrace everything that happened during their swift courtship and honeymoon. Naturally, it works.

While Charles Coburn and Jean Arthur are their usual superior selves in this neat little wartime comedy, the real littlest victor is Lee Bowman. Always an engaging young fellow who played second leads and roles where the other guy got the girl, he turns up now as one of the better young leading men, with more than just tall handsomeness to offer; he actually can act.

"The Merry Monarchs," with Donald O'Connor, Peggy Ryan and Jack Oakie.

Here is a case where top-drawer players raise a poor production far beyond its class. Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan, whose previous films have been cut from the same inferior pattern and have been raised to near-excellence by the sheer exuberance and talent of the youngsters, again do wonders with a corny script.

The story is a cinematic chestnut. Jack Oakie is the father, Donald and Peggy are the children and their vaudeville act is called "The Merry Monarchs." Oakie hits the bottle and a producer puts the kids into a big

Regulars Invite Demo Members To Hear GOP

DALLAS, Oct. 17 (AP)—The 1,500 members of the Southern Democratic Club, are specifically invited by leaders of the Texas regulars to hear Gov. John H. Bricker, republican nominee for vice president, speak in Dallas Oct. 25.

E. B. Germany, chairman and Mrs. F. R. Carleton, co-chairman, of the regulars issued a joint statement last night that they, together with J. Hart Willis, Dallas county chairman of the club, had asked that a section of 1,500 seats be set aside at Fair Park auditorium for the Bricker address.

The Southern Democratic Club is a companion organization of the Texas regulars.

"The electors of the Texas regulars are not pledged to any candidate for president or vice president and we personally have open minds on the subject," the statement said.

The statement added that "Governor Bricker's announced views on principles of government are more nearly the principles of southern democrats than those of any man in the race, particularly as regards states' rights."

Life's Darkest Moment

Ernie Pyle: Infantry Outfit In Mountain War Does Little Riding, Walk And Crawl

Editor's Note: In the following, which is No. 31 of a series of Ernie Pyle war dispatches that we are reprinting during his leave of absence, Ernie gives a classic description of tired foot soldiers.

BY ERNIE PYLE
IN THE FRONT LINES BEFORE MATEUR, May, 1943 — We're now with an infantry outfit that has battled ceaselessly for four days and nights.

This northern warfare has been in the mountains. You don't ride much any more. It is walking and climbing and crawling country. The mountains aren't big, but they are constant. They are largely treeless. They are easy to defend and bitter to take. But we are taking them.

The Germans lie on the back slope of every ridge, deeply dug into foxholes. In front of them the fields and pastures are hideous with thousands of hidden mines. The forward slopes are left open, untenanted, and if the Americans tried to scale these slopes they would be murdered wholesale in an inferno of machine-gun cross-fire plus mortars and grenades.

Consequently we don't do it that way. We have fallen back to the old warfare of first pulverizing the enemy with artillery, then sweeping around the ends of the hill with infantry and taking them from the sides and behind.

I've written before how the big guns crack and roar almost constantly throughout the day and night. They lay a screen ahead of our troops. By magnificent shooting they drop shells on the back slopes. By means of shells timed to burst in the air a few feet from the ground, they get the Germans even in their foxholes. Our troops have found that the Germans dig foxholes down and then under, trying to get cover from the shell bursts that shower death from above.

Our artillery has really been sensational. For once we have enough of something and at the right time. Officers tell me they actually have more guns than they know what to do with.

All the guns in any one sector can be centered to shoot at one spot. And when we lay the whole business on a German hill the whole slope seems to erupt. It becomes an unbelievable cauldron of fire and smoke and dirt. Veteran German soldiers say they have never been through anything like it.

Now to the infantry—the God-damned infantry, as they like to call themselves.

I love the infantry because they are the underdogs. They are the mud-rain-frost-and-wind boys. They have no comforts, and they even learn to live without the necessities. And in the end they are the guys that wars can't be won without.

I wish you could see just one of the ineredicible pictures I have in my mind today. In this particular picture I am sitting among clumps of sword-grass on a steep and rocky hillside that we have just taken. We are looking out over a vast rolling country to the rear.

A narrow path comes like a ribbon over a hill miles away, down a long slope, across a creek, up a slope and over another hill.

All along the length of this ribbon there is now a thin line of men. For four days and nights they have fought hard, eaten little, washed none, and slept hardly at all. Their nights have been violent with attack, fright, butchery, and their days sleepless and miserable with the crash of artillery.

The men are walking. They are fifty feet apart, for dispersal. Their walk is slow, for they are dead weary, as you can tell even when looking at them from behind. Every line and sag of their bodies speaks their inhuman exhaustion.

On their shoulders and backs they carry heavy steel tripods, machine-gun barrels, leaden boxes of ammunition. Their feet seem to sink into the ground from the overload they are bearing. They don't slouch. It is the terrible deliberation of each step that spells out their appalling tiredness. Their faces are black and unshaven. They are young men, but the grime and whiskers and exhaustion makes them look middle-aged.

In their eyes as they pass is not hatred, not excitement, not despair, not the tonic of their victory—there is just the simple expression of being here as though they had been here doing this forever, and nothing else.

The line moves on, but it never ends. All afternoon men keep coming round the hill and vanishing eventually over the horizon. It is one long tired line of antlike men.

There is an agony in your heart and you almost feel ashamed to look at them. They are just guys from Broadway and Main street, but you wouldn't remember them. They are too far away now. They are too tired. Their world can never be known to you, but if you could see them just once, just for an instant, you would know that no matter how hard people work back home they are not keeping pace with these infantry-men in Tunisia.

Shipwrecked sailors covered with fuel oil are now washed with a new soap, especially effective in cleaning men who have been burned or injured.

Washington—Women May Become Part Of Forces

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — When Congress comes back after the election recess, one thing almost certain to come up is a move to make the WACS, WAVES, SPARS and women Marines a permanent part of the armed forces with an Annapolis or West Point of their own.

Rep. Eugene Cox (D-Ga.), already has introduced a bill which would pave the way to such a peacetime departure for the armed forces.

Congressman Cox makes no effort to outline the program himself. He seeks to create a commission of 15 members authorized to prepare a comprehensive plan for the establishment, maintenance and operation of a women's military, naval and Coast Guard academy where women would be trained as commissioned officers to serve in those branches of the armed forces.

The commission would be composed of five members appointed by the president of the Senate; five by the Speaker of the House and five by the President.

Cox specifies that the commission shall report to Congress not later than April 1, 1945, with a

Local Ginners Report 2,122 Bales This Year

Big Spring cotton ginners report that a total of 2,122 bales of cotton have been ginned thus far in the 1944 season.

All of the local gin operators state that the cotton staple is better than it was last year, his year's staple standing at from 7-8 to 15-16. The grade of the 1944 cotton crop is set at middling, about the same as it was last year.

Two of the gins stated that the majority of the cotton they have ginned has been placed in the loan at a price of 21.71. A third gin is buying most of the cotton ginned there and another said that about 10 per cent of their customers were holding their cotton in hopes of a 100 per cent parity.

Mirrors Of Austin—

Why J. E. McDonald Is Silent

By PAUL BOLTON

A recent press release from Austin headquarters of the Texas Regulars cited, as an example of the anti-new deal sentiment in Texas, the votes piled up by two men despite their known antipathies to the new deal: U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel and Agricultural Commissioner James Eric McDonald.

This release serves to point up a fact in connection with this year's political campaign: Commissioner McDonald not only has taken NO sides in this year's campaign (up to this date); he has also held inquiring reporters that he has absolutely no comment.

Such an attitude by the Commissioner could be simply explained in terms of his own reasoning. McDonald is interested in only one thing, agriculture. He is "solid," almost to the point of fanaticism, on one farm plan, the so-called domestic allotment plan. Neither side—neither republican nor democrat—has as yet advocated this plan of farm assistance. Hence there is no reason to take sides as there was four years ago when the late Wendell Willkie agreed with the commissioner's views.

In fact, the commissioner could lean toward the democrats just now if he cared to; for a recent statement by Marvin Jones, the war food administrator, indicated that Jones believes some sort of "protection" should be builded for the domestic supply of farm produce.

Back in the 'thirties, McDonald was one of the original sponsors of the "cotton holiday" law, but today the commissioner believes no restriction should be put upon the farmer's allowed production. His domestic allotment plan as explained by him is the essence of simplicity. The domestic supply need for all agriculture products would be determined by the secretary of agriculture. This need—the "demand"—would be distributed pro rata among farmers in terms of bales, bushels or pounds—not acres. For this domestic supply, the price would be guaranteed, a parity price. The farmer could produce as much more as he cared to; but it would have to be sold on foreign markets at world prices. This, McDonald insists, is comparable to protection for industry, provided by present laws.

When either party adopts this plan, McDonald may get back into "politics" again.

Stray notes by a political correspondent: Even though President Homer Price Rainey's campaign to move the medical school to the University of Texas campus was vetoed by the board of regents, he could logically claim to have made a $2,000,000 profit for the university, as witness: The Sealy-Smith Foundation first offered $1,000,000 if the university would match it in Galveston. As the heat increased, they upped the ante to $1,500,000, out the university's contribution. Finally, they offered $2,000,000, asking nothing in return from the university.

Another educational note: Three coincidental happenings may have no relation. The Austin symphony orchestra has booked Marion Anderson for a spring guest artist (on the university campus). A rumor went the rounds that mixed audiences would attend. The university regents adopted as a fixed policy in writing that there would be segregation of audiences at public affairs on the campus.

And speaking of coincidences: Intimates of Governor Coke Stevenson swear he was undecided about running for his second elective term until the then attorney general, Gerald Mann, issued his politically-famed statement that he, Mann, would continue in office only as governor and that Stevenson was (in effect) reactionary. Then those friends of the governor add: "And Stevenson never gave a thought to running for the United States senate until Tom Connally took the lead in blocking the governor's plan for two sets of elections on the democratic ballot in November."

The discharge of Chief Oil Supervisor James Baskin by a majority of the Railroad Commission (Chairman Beauford Jester and member Olin Culberson; Baskin was member Ernest O. Thompson's appointee) recalls a criticism of the commission published in the Texas Law Review: "Most staff positions are filled on a political patronage basis. Commissioners have frankly declared that appointments are rationed, one-third to each commissioner." The commission now has a policy that division heads shall be named by the "commission" rather than by any one "commissioner." However, Chairman Jester now has the distinction of having named two of the three division heads.

Political Temperature Climbs As Demo Says Dewey 'Fence Straddler'

By The Associated Press

The political temperature climbed today under hot applications by Governor Dewey and Senator Truman, Dewey calling the Roosevelt administration "the most spectacular collection of incompetent people who ever held public office," and Truman labeling Dewey a "fence straddler" with a low opinion of American capacity.

Also warning things up were Interior Secretary Ickes and Rep. Clare Boothe Luce. Ickes said the republican presidential candidate's "one principle is to do whatever is necessary to be elected."

Mrs. Luce, saying the CIO political action committee was "Hitlerian in concept" and stemmed "from the philosophy of Karl-Marx," declared that this group of Roosevelt supporters "is Nazi German sauerkraut with Soviet Russian dressing."

While President Roosevelt awaited his next scheduled speech, on foreign policy Saturday night, Dewey traveled back to New York after leaving these questions with a St. Louis audience:

"Is the tired and quarrelsome New Deal all America has to offer? Must we go back to leaf raking and doles? Must our returning heroes go on the same old WPA? Must our farmers go back to detailed control by a host of New Deal agents, with falling prices to boot?"

Dewey also said that "This idea of keeping men in the army for fear that they won't get jobs after the war was in a report made public last year by Mr. Roosevelt himself." He said this report came from a presidentially appointed conference on postwar readjustment.

Truman, running for vice president with Mr. Roosevelt on the democratic ticket, speaking in Los Angeles, also posed some questions. Saying that "For six years the republican candidate has been seeking the presidency," he asked: "Do you remember the republican leader who took strong stands x x x that were proved correct by subsequent events? Or do you remember him as an office seeker dealing in platitudes and sitting on the fence waiting to find out which way to jump?"

"In 1940," Truman said, "Dewey pooh-poohed the president's goal of 50,000 planes, whereas 'we are building airplanes at x x x twice the number Mr. Dewey said was impossible.' Truman drew the conclusion that 'under a president like the republican candidate, we would have set our sights too low.'"

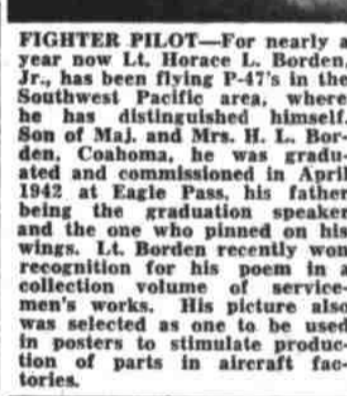

Ickes, in his speech at Newark, N. J., likewise called Dewey a straddler, saying "the republican word weavers and advertising experts are trying to persuade you to accept an ersatz, synthetic Mr. Dewey of luminous convictions."

Mrs. Luce's appearance was before a Pittsburgh audience, to which she said, "Mr. Dewey's opponent is indeed indispensable to the communist-controlled political action committee."

Gov. John W. Bricker, the republican vice presidential candidate, will speak tonight at San Diego, Calif. (11 p. m., EWT, BLU network). He told a San Bernardino audience last night that "expansion of federal activity into local affairs x x x opens the door to political domination of them."

Dallas WLB To Hear 'Show Cause' Labor

DALLAS, Oct. 17 (AP)—A "show cause" hearing will be held in Dallas tomorrow by the Eighth Regional War Labor Board "in order to avert a possible work stoppage at the Fort Arthur refinery of the Gulf Oil corporation," the board said today.

The board said its records showed that the company had refused to extend expired contracts with locals 23 and 254, oil workers in international union, CIO, involving general production and maintenance workers, pending negotiations of new agreements, and that "the union membership has threatened to strike on the basis of the company's refusal."

In another press release the board said that the national WLB had denied an appeal by the Gulf Oil corporation, and affirmed a June 2 directive order of the regional board in a dispute with laboratory workers of the corporation at Fort Arthur, a special classification also members of locals 23 and 254, OWIU.

Job classifications and wage rates approved for the laboratory workers, said the regional board, were: tester foreman $1.40 per hour; assistant tester foreman $1.35; pilot plant operator $1.34; No. 1 maintenance mechanic $1.35; tester helper 95 cents; laboratory trainee 60 cents, and laboratory tester $1.10 to $1.22. The schedule was retroactive to Feb. 11, 1944.

The board said the hearing in the matter of the general workers would begin about 2 p. m.

French To Receive Formal Authority

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to turn over to the De Gaulle administration in a few days formal authority over all the territory of metropolitan France except some port areas and active combat ones.

Eisenhower will take the action by designating the sections of France not in the present fighting zones as an "interior zone."

The effect will be the transfer to General Charles De Gaulle and his associates of virtually complete control over almost all of France. This may speed up the political organization of the country although the principal delaying factor so far has been the lack of communication and transportation facilities.

Eisenhower has had top responsibility for French affairs since D-day because all activities of the country had to be subordinated to the military necessity of defeating Germany. Now only the combat zones, certain great supply ports and some key rail lines have primary military importance.

For some weeks after the Allied drive across northern France General De Gaulle made it clear to the Allied high command that he did not desire the country to be turned back to him quickly.

Now, however, De Gaulle has conveyed to Allied authorities the idea that he is ready to take control and full responsibility for order in the country.

Congress Readies For Coming Fight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Congress expects to tackle the controversial issue of compulsory peacetime military training soon after the election, with both senate and house military committees to be called into session to consider pending bills.

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) told reporters he would summon the senate military committee to meet the week of Nov. 14 and would propose that the committee start consideration of the subject at once, without waiting for the new congress to be installed in January.

At the same time, leaders of the house military committee disclosed that tentative arrangements have been made for that group to start separate hearings on the proposal shortly after congress reconvenes following the current recess.

Reynolds said he considered it inevitable that congress will enact a peacetime training law. Several such bills are awaiting action of the military committees.

Colorado City Jury Returns Indictment

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—An indictment of assault with intent to murder was returned by the grand jury in session at Colorado City Monday against John L. Streets, alias John Sides. The true bill was returned, according to Acting District Attorney Benton Templeton, against Streets for "Alleged assault with intent to murder Dr. Bruce Johnson on the night of August 14, 1944, in Lorraine."

Streets, the district attorney stated, is now in the state penitentiary at Huntsville where he was returned when his clemency was revoked after he was arrested on the assault charge in Lorraine and jail and fingerprinted here. He was on parole from Huntsville where he was, Templeton said, serving a term on a charge of rape from Wichita Falls.

Oil Committee Named By Dallas Chairman

A committee of independent oil operators representing the petroleum industry in all sections of Texas has been appointed by G. H. Vaughn of Dallas, chairman, and Glenn McCarthy of Houston, co-chairman, to fight against the ratification of the Anglo-American petroleum treaty now before the United States Senate. Chairman G. H. Vaughn was asked by Beauford Jester, Chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas, to appoint a State wide committee to oppose the Anglo-American treaty.

"This treaty, if enacted, would establish a governmental cartel which would do away with the independent oil industry in Texas and throughout the United States," Mr. Vaughn said in announcing his committee membership. "This treaty, which seeks to divide up the oil production and markets of the world, would do the State of Texas and every other oil producing state untold harm and damage. Its effects would be wide spread and devastating, for it would spell the finish of the independent oil operators. The effect of the treaty would be felt by our schools and colleges and by those receiving old age assistance, since the taxation of oil affects these public funds."

Coahoma Auction Sale For War Chest Quota

COAHOMA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Eager to raise its quota of the community war chest of Howard county quickly, this community will concentrate on a big auction sale Friday at 8 p. m.

George Boswell and T. W. Farris are in charge of arrangements and reported that initial response to the sale idea has been encouraging. Residents of Coahoma and surrounding area are asked to bring whatever they can give—pies, cakes, chickens, yearlings, pigs, etc.—so that they may be auctioned to the chant of Norman Read, auctioneer. Proceeds will go into the chest.

The Coahoma band will furnish music for the occasion and there may be a brief talk in support of the war fund drive.

NATIONAL FIRE LOSSES

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Estimated fire losses in the United States in September were $31,448,000, an increase of 3 per cent over August and 19 per cent over September, 1943. W. E. Mallat, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said today.

Midway 4-H Club Organizes For Year

The Midway Boy's 4-H Club met Monday, and organized for the coming year. The following were elected officers of the club, Kenneth Plew, president, Wade Choate, vice-president, Elmer Mitchell, secretary, Donald Jenkins, treasurer, and R. J. Self, reporter.

Lester explained proper calf, hog and lamb feeding to the group, placing special emphasis upon balanced rations as the feeding period will be short this year.

The 1944 Food Exhibit which is to be held November 4, in the Ford display room, was discussed and each boy present pledged to bring one or more grain sorghum and cotton exhibits. Proper selection was stressed in each crop for a presentable sample to exhibit.

The next meeting will be held at 2:30, October 30.

Fall From Horse Is Fatal To Virgil Bush

The lad moved to the Robert Golden farm in the Colorado City Country club vicinity two months ago. The family came here from Little Rock, Ark.

Ill of a sinus infection he was not attending school, but had ridden a farm horse to drive up the cows as one of his morning chores. Attending physician Dr. Henry A. Logsdon gave the cause of death as a broken neck.

Insane Veterans Of Current Fight Stand Less Chance Of Big Estate

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Insane veterans of this war stand less chance of having sizeable estates built up for them than insane veterans of World War I.

The reason: World War I veterans receive double disability pay from the government for their war-caused insanity.

They received a pension and, if their insanity was considered a total disability, they received government war insurance payments of $37.50 a month.

"This war's insane veterans receive a disability pension but no insurance disability payments. The insurance issued in this war is life insurance. It is payable only upon the death of a serviceman or veteran. It protects his survivors, not him.

It is that $37.50 insurance disability pay that makes—or made—a big difference in building up an insane veteran's estate. For example:

The regular disability pensions of veterans of both wars is drastically reduced if they are hospitalized and have no dependents. But the World War I veteran had this advantage: No matter how much his regular pension, that insurance payment of $37.50 monthly remained constant.

If he was hospitalized and had no dependents, the $37.50 was set aside for him or invested for him by a guardian appointed through the Veterans Administration (VA). See how it adds up: $37.50 for 12 months is $450. Over a period—say 18 years—that $37.50 would be $12,420. That tidy estate would be even larger if invested.

These, of course, were mostly hospitalized cases. With Uncle Sam footing the hospital bills and the benefits piling up, the estates grew.

(The insane veteran living at home had smaller chance of having an estate built up for him. Much of his benefit money was used for living expenses.)

But the insane veteran of this war, even though hospitalized, doesn't figure to have a big estate. If he's hospitalized and has no dependents, his regular pension will be sharply cut. And he will receive no insurance pay at all.

If he has dependents, however, his pension goes to them whether or not he is hospitalized. His beneficiaries get his insurance when he dies.

2. Dye-Crete will not wear and form traffic lanes.
3. Dye-Crete differs from all other concrete floor treatment.
4. Dye-Crete becomes an integral part of a concrete floor.
5. Dye-Crete floor enamel cost no more than ordinary floor enamel.
