New trash dumpsters to be in use soon

With the arrival of the dumpsters for the City's new debris collection system last Tuesday, the installation of the system should not be far behind. The dumpsters will be placed at their appointed sites as soon as the hinges, hooks and lids are placed on each unit. The preliminary study prepared by the city office staff calls for four houses to use a large 3 yard dumpster and two homes to share a 1 1/2 yard unit. In some instances there may be changes in the placement should the dumpsters be inadequate for their location. Superintendent Hal Whitten said that each dumpster will be utilized by the City to the maximum advantage. The dumpsters, whether they be placed on the streets or in the alleys will all be uniform as to alleviate the necessity for the truck which operates with a side loader can travel in one direction and not repeat its route.

The City Council of Eldorado elected to select this particular system in that it showed that it could be self-supportive in its own budget and that it would not only keep our alleyways cleaner in that the lids would prevent the trash from blowing and that the size of the dumpsters were almost "dog-proof". The lids of the dumpsters are made of light weight polyurethane and have a warranty should the extremely tough material break. There should be no problems with either the elderly or young children placing trash in the dumpsters because of heavy metal lids.

The dumpsters are not designed for trash burning and when one places tree trimmings in the containers they should be stripped of their limbs and should be no longer than 3 feet in length. The City of Eldorado would like to express their appreciation for the use of Foxworth-Galbraith's forklift to assist in the unloading of the dumpsters.

Hope everyone had a safe and happy 4th of July!

C/M history of government

The National Municipal Review has been a major vehicle for disseminating the ideas of the Plan, and the Model Charter, although varying in detail in each of its five revisions since 1915, has provided a continuous sanction of the plan.

In 1908, there was one city manager city; in 1928, there were 335 cities under the council-manager form. By the end of World War II, more than 600 cities were recognized as having the form. Today, approximately 2,400 local governments are counted among council-manager governments.

As the process of adoption takes place, considerable emphasis is placed upon the characteristics of the council-manager plan and upon their benefits - presumed and real. The elements of the plan have remained essentially unchanged, although accumulated experience, advances in the techniques of management, and a growing recognition of the manager's roles as community and opinion leader; coupled with shifting community needs, have all worked toward a reinterpretation of the meaning of these essentials.

As Stone, Price and Stone noted 34 years ago, although the arguments for or against the council-manager form often centered around pre-developed arguments concerning the merits of the plan, the determining factors in its adoption - or rejection - were often quite local issues.

The continued existence of the plan and of the vitality of city manager government can best be explained by two words: adaptability and professionalism. The council-manager plan is first of all a marketing device, a method for presenting a basic rationale for a government and for prescribing expected roles and the qualities of expected services.

In the adoption of the plan, compromises are made with the requirements of the local situation. It is not the plan that is often bought, but is essential ingredient - the professional city manager.

Even a cursory look at the governmental characteristics of contemporary council-manager cities reveals clearly that the plan most often is not bought as a complete package. A council-manager city might be classified as a model city if its form permitted only the election of a small council in an at-large election, with the mayor selected by the council and with the election of no other municipal officials.

In more than 50 percent of the cities, the mayor is selected directly by the electorate and thus has political and/or official functions that separate that officer from the rest of the council. A mayor, so elected, breaks the unified policy role imagined by the plan for the council.

In almost 20 percent of the cases, some form of ward election takes place in the process of selecting council members. In one-quarter of the cities, one or more officials other than mayor or council member are elected. In many of the cities, these elected officials play a prescribed audit or fiscal function such as that exercised by a panel of auditors, assessors, controllers, and treasurers. In other cases, however, the elected officials include operating program officers with the responsibilities normally thought to fall within the province of a city manager. In a few cases, a relatively large number of officials are elected independently.

Fatal Wreck

Carmen Flores, 26, of Brady died Saturday night July 2nd of injuries he received in a car accident. Mr. Flores' 1975 Mustang was involved in a one car accident on FM 864 near Ft. McKavett. The car rolled 1 3/4 times over the subject.

Sheriff asks: Watch your fences

The Schleicher County Sheriff's Office and the livestock raisers of the area have always worked together well, but now, we need to ask for your help. We have one problem at the Sheriff's Office that always seems to come up when we're busy with other matters.

The problem is loose livestock. Many times a day we receive calls from people of livestock running loose on the highways, and to worsen matters some of these calls are on the same cattle or sheep that we receive calls on almost every day. The officers at the Sheriff's Office are more than willing to help you any time you need us, if some of your stock breaks out of the pasture or whatever. We know that fences break sometimes. The problem that we usually see are fences that have had no repair for several years.

What most land and livestock owners don't know is that they can have charges filed against them for allowing livestock to run loose on U.S. and state highways. They can be found guilty of a misdemeanor and fined up to $200 for each day that the cattle or sheep roam is a separate offense. You can be held libel for any injuries or death that occur because of the livestock running loose, so why take chances? You'd feel pretty bad to wake up some morning and find out that some of your cattle or sheep caused an accident last night and had taken the life of some family or worse, some child. Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Cowboys to compete in Wichita Falls

More than 200 real working cowboys will compete under the banners of 14 of Texas' largest spreads for braggin' rights as this year's best ranch in Texas during the third Texas Ranch Roundup to be held in Wichita Falls August 19-20.

Plans for the annual tussle were announced recently at a press conference at the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, which is co-sponsoring the event with Budweiser. The two-day schedule of events is reminiscent of a late 1800's roundup competition, upon which today's rodeos are based. The event emphasizes working ranch skills.

The Moorhouse Ranch, headquartered in Benjamin and commanded by J.C. "Togo" Moorhouse, will return to defend the title its ranch hands won last year. The Moorhouse team will face tough competition, not only from the 12 other ranches which competed last year, but also from new-comers -- hands from the Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie.

In addition to the Moorhouse and Four Sixes Ranches, other participating ranches include R.A. Brown Ranch, Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch, Lewis Ranches, Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., Scharbauer Ranches, Renderbrook - Spade Ranch, Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co., Tongue River Ranch Corporation, U Lazy S Ranch, and the W. T. Waggoner Estate.

In combination, these ranches sprawl over an area half the size of New Jersey, some 2.5 million acres of Texas ranch land.

The "best ranch in Texas" battle isn't based solely on the grit and gumption of the cowboys in the arena. A ranch queen contest, a talent contest, and a ranch cook-in' contest also figure into the final tally, since they mean additional points for ranches winning these events and additional colorful Texana for spectators.

The roundup opens Friday, August 19, with the performance at 7:30 p.m. Teams of cowboys from each ranch will compete in saddle bronc riding, team roping, team branding, wild cow milking, team penning and a wild horse race. The dance at 9 p.m. features Mountain Smoke.

On Saturday, jackpot roping and barrel racing, two events outside regular competition, will begin at 8 a.m. A ranch food cookoff, the talent contest and the ranch queen contest are featured Saturday afternoon before the final roundup events that evening at 7:30 p.m. The Mountain Smoke band will again perform at a dance Saturday at 9 p.m.

Points will be awarded to ranch teams in each event and tallied to determine the best ranch, while team members from each ranch will cast top hand votes for individuals from competing ranches. The winning ranch will take home a traveling trophy, a bronze sculpture by Lex Graham. The top hand will receive a hand-tooled saddle.

Roundup tickets are as follows: reserved seats $7.50, general admission, $3. Tickets to the dances are $6 per person each evening, and tickets to the Saturday afternoon contests are $3 general admission.

Tickets will be available at Wichita Western World, The Cow Lot, Holts Sporting Goods, Cruse Western Wear and Cuttys, all in Wichita Falls; Hughes Western Wear in Vernon and Frontier Western Wear in Bowie.

Proceeds from the 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup will benefit the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls; the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene; and the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo.

Family Heritage Program seeking participants

Pointing to the importance of recognizing and remembering the pioneer farm and ranch families in Texas, Senator Bill Sims invited long-time farming families to participate in the Texas Department of Agriculture's 1983 Family Land Heritage Program.

Registration for the program, which recognizes families who have had land in agricultural production for 100 years or more, is now open and will extend through August 16, Senator Sims said.

"To date 90 properties in Senatorial District 25 have qualified for the Family Land Heritage Program, and this year I hope we will be able to identify many more," he said. Since the program was established in 1974 to honor pioneering families, 1558 such families have been recognized.

The basic requirements of the program include continuous agricultural production on the farm or ranch for 100 years, land ownership within the family, complete operation or supervision of the farm-ranch production by family members who are Texas residents, and a size of at least 10 acres with a minimum of $50 from farm or ranch products. If the farm or ranch is smaller than 10 acres, sales must total $250 per year.

"These families are living, productive symbols of our family farm unit. We celebrate their past achievements, and acknowledge the importance that such family farms hold for us in the future," he said.

This year's certified registrants will be honored at a state ceremony in the capitol in November. The honorees will receive a certificate and a copy of the Family Land Heritage Registry, which is a brief history of each farm or ranch, including old photographs of the families and their homes.

Those who wish to apply may obtain an application from their County Judge, County Historical Commission chairman, the nearest TDA district office, or by writing to: Family Land Heritage Program, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Radles attend convention in Beaumont

Bill and Louise Radle of the Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department attended the 107th annual conference/convention of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association of Texas June 18-22 in Beaumont.

Pike Powers, executive assistant to Governor Mark White, was keynote speaker. Powers is an attorney and former state representative from Beaumont.

Delegates attended business sessions and seminars on such topics as use of computers in the fire service, certification, budgeting, public relations, and legislation.

The SFFMA was established in 1876 and represents the majority of Texas's 1,500 fire departments, many of them rural, volunteer departments.

The Association conducts a statewide certification program, sponsors the annual Texas A&M fire training school and the Fire Museum of Texas in Grand Prairie, publishes a monthly magazine, and represents the fire service in the Texas Legislature.

A bill sponsored by the Association in the last session of the Texas Legislature would have created a $20 million fund for the purchase of much needed firefighting equipment. The bill was passed unanimously in the Texas House but died in the Senate Economic Development Committee, largely because of the opposition of the fire insurance industry.

Monies for the fund would come from one percent of the fire insurance premiums collected in the state and would be allocated to individual departments through grants and low-interest loans.

Delegates to the Beaumont convention voted to support a petition drive asking Governor White to put the funding bill on the agenda for the upcoming special session of the Legislature.

Even though it rained every day, Bill and Louise reported it was a successful convention. While at Beaumont Bill and Louise went down to High Island and fished on Thursday after the convention. They caught quiet a few sand trout and croakers. Louise, of course, had to catch 2 eels. They also visited with Louise's nephew Jerry Phillips and his family.

Ford offers farmers low rates on tractors

Ford Tractor dealers in Texas are offering their customers the lowest advertised interest rate for financing the purchase of industrial tractors in the United States, according to J.J.L. Johnson, general sales manager for Ford Tractor's North American Sales Operations.

Ford's model 555 tractor-loader-backhoe, "The Lone Star Special," will be offered to Texas customers at an annual 7.75 percent financing rate (APR) starting June 27 through September 30, he said.

"We are offering the lowest interest rate for financing industrial machines in the United States," Johnson explained. "We also are offering a free maintenance kit worth more than $500 to sufficiently maintain the unit for up to 12 months."

The maintenance care kit includes backhoe replacement hoses, loader replacement hoses, engine oil, engine filters, hydraulic oil, transmission oil, and miscellaneous parts when needed.

"The Lone Star Special" will be a 555 tractor-loader-backhoe boasting more horsepower and strength than previous models, Johnson said.

"We are really fired up about this program," Mr. Johnson. "With the lowest financing rate in the country, we think that contractors and owner-operators have an attractive deal to consider."

We will be using special decals, badges, and television and radio advertisements in order to promote this special deal," Johnson said.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intraLATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas para servicio de teléfono en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 1o de agosto de 1983, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission (PUC, ó Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y que es servida por Southwestern Bell, y dicho arancel está disponible para inspección pública en todas las oficinas de Southwestern Bell en Texas. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios cada vez que Southwestern Bell solicite un cambio en dichas tarifas.

Como resultado del arreglo judicial al cual se llegó tras el proceso legal entablado en contra de AT&T por el U.S. Department of Justice (Departamento de Justicia), Southwestern Bell dejará de formar parte del Bell System (Sistema Bell) a partir del 1o de enero de 1984 (ó en la fecha que disponga el United States District Court — Tribunal Federal de Distrito), y llegará a ser posesión de accionistas públicos. Bajo las condiciones de dicho arreglo, Southwestern Bell ha identificado 15 regiones dentro del Estado de Texas en las cuales puede proporcionar servicio, y el tribunal federal con jurisdicción en el arreglo ha dado su aprobación provisoria a estas regiones, que se denominan "LATAs" (Local Access and Transport Area, ó Regiones Locales de Acceso y Transporte). A partir de fecha 1o de enero de 1984 aproximadamente, Southwestern Bell no podrá proporcionar servicio entre dichas LATAs, y además deberá ceder a AT&T todo equipo ubicado en premisas de clientes y alquilado a los mismos.

Estos cambios se han incluido en el propuesto arancel de tarifas de servicio revisado que Southwestern Bell ha archivado con la PUC. Dichas tarifas tendrían vigencia a partir del 1o de agosto de 1983, a menos que fueran suspendidas por la PUC; sin embargo, se espera que si seran suspendidas, y que las tarifas que en último caso establezca la PUC entrarán en vigor a partir de fecha 1o de enero de 1984 aproximadamente. Si las tarifas entrarán en vigor tal y como se han archivadas, aumentarían en un 48.2% los ingresos no-ajustados de Southwestern Bell para año de prueba (unadjusted test year revenues), ó sea un aumento de 76.36% en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell para año de prueba, ajustados para reflejar el efecto del desposeimiento entre Southwestern Bell y AT&T. Cualquier cambio en las tarifas para cualquier servicio tipo-interLATA que proporcione AT&T ó una compañía subsidiaria después del 1o de enero de 1984 podría afectar a los clientes de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para servicios tipo "intraLATA interexchange toll", cualquier cambio en dichas tarifas también podría afectar a los clientes de otras compañías de servicio telefónico. EVEN WHEN YOU'RE AWAY...YOUR HOME KEEPS RUNNING

You may naturally expect your home to use less electricity while you're away for a week or more. The reduction may not be as great as you think, however. That's because there are many factors that can affect your usage: weather conditions, billing periods and even vacation preparation.

- Very hot weather before you leave and after you return means increased use of air conditioning, this makes it difficult to compare your bill with a previous month of milder weather.
- Hot weather causes your refrigerator/freezer to run longer, particularly if your home air conditioning is turned off while you are away.
- If the time you're away falls within two billing periods, the reduction you expect will be split between two bills.
- If you didn't turn off your electric hot water heater before you left, it continued to keep your water hot 24 hours a day, even though you weren't there.
- And don't forget... when getting ready for a vacation, you often use more electricity than usual for cleaning, washing, drying, ironing, cooking and general preparations. The same is true about your return.

Check your meter.
If you learn to read your own meter, you can find out just how much electricity was used while you were gone. And, you'll see just how much energy you're using during the summer, the heaviest electricity consuming season, with your air conditioning operating most of the time.

Student loans to receive help from Sallie Mae

The South Texas Higher Education Authority of McAllen, Texas recently signed a forward purchase commitment with the Student Loan Marketing Association (Sallie Mae) of Washington, D.C., in support of the agency's $148.3 million, three-year student loan revenue bond issue.

The commitment provides the South Texas Authority with a one-time option to sell up to $130 million in student loans purchased from Texas banks to Sallie Mae at par. The agreement further provides that upon exercising the commitment, the South Texas Authority will continue to service any loans it sells to Sallie Mae.

"The commitment agreement with Sallie Mae will allow the South Texas Higher Education Authority to expand its purchase activities and meet the needs of student borrowers", stated Bill Davis, Director of the authority. "By contracting to service loans that we eventually will sell to Sallie Mae, we can continue to maintain close contact with our borrowers."

The South Texas Higher Education Authority was established as a secondary market in 1977 to meet the liquidity needs of financial institutions located in 54 Texas counties that originate student loans under the federally-insured Guaranteed Student Loan Program (GSLP). Since its inception, the authority has provided financing for more than $50 million in student loans.

The GSLP is the nation's largest single source of student credit for post-secondary educational financing. Under the GSLP, undergraduate and graduate students can borrow up to maximums of $2,500 and $5,000 a year, respectively. Students are required to begin repaying the loans on a monthly basis following graduation.

Sallie Mae is a government-chartered, stockholder-owned corporation granted broad statutory authority by Congress to provide a national secondary market for guaranteed student loans. Since beginning operations in 1973, Sallie Mae has made available more than $9 billion in liquidity to GSLP lenders, including state agencies, thrift institutions, commercial banks and educational institutions.

Railroad Commission
approves decrease

AUSTIN, Texas - The Railroad Commission has approved a decrease in contract gas rates between Esperanza Transmission Co. and Lone Star Gas Co. that will decrease Lone Star's weighted average cost of gas.

The weighted average cost of gas is the gas cost that utility companies pass through to their customers with purchased gas adjustment changes.

The changes involved two contracts. Through one, Lone Star's weighted average gas cost will be reduced by approximately .86 cents per Mcf. Through the other, it will be reduced by approximately .47 cents per Mcf.

Esperanza's estimated annual revenues will decrease by approximately $4.1 million.

The changes will be effective July 7.

Lone Star serves more than 500 city gas distribution systems in the state.

Cleaning water troughs and the Holy Ghost

By Dale Lipsett, Pastor
First Christian Church

When I first came to this country, I worked for a rancher who was mighty particular about how he wanted his water troughs cleaned. Pulling the plug and letting the dirty water drain away just didn't suit him. As a matter of fact, most of his troughs didn't even have plugs to pull. Instead, the trough first had to be scraped on the sides and bottom to dislodge the scum growing there. Then the trash left by the buzzards had to be picked out and thrown away. After that, with bucket in hand, I had to climb up on the trough, bend over and start sloshing the dirty water out faster than the clean water was coming in at the valve. I couldn't just throw that water anywhere either. No sir, that water had to be used to clean down the pad around the trough. The rancher said that if the trough were cleaned that way, the water would smell better to the cattle. As I said, he was a mighty particular kind of man.

Well, after I'd been at this for a while, I got to thinking that cleaning water troughs like this was just about like the sanctifying work that the Holy Ghost is supposed to do in the life of a Christian. When the Holy Ghost first comes to a person, he cuts loose all the scum and dirt that has surrounded that person's heart. After that, the Spirit just sets to work sloshing out all the filth that's been collecting inside. The more he scoops out, the faster that clear, clean water of life flows into the one that he's cleaning.

It's a funny thing that as the Spirit keeps on throwing that dirty stuff out, he wets down all around the one that he's working on. Pretty soon, other people begin to notice that there's something different, something clean and good just being around him.

They begin to notice a change in his style of living, a change for the better.

Did the Holy Ghost ever start to work on you? Aren't you tired of being like that water trough -- scum growing on the walls and buzzards hanging out around you? Why not let the Holy Ghost clean up your act? All you have to do is ask.

Supreme Court rules on raising of severance tax

The U.S. Supreme Court has unanimously ruled that States may raise the severance tax on natural gas produced and sold within a state and, at the same time, prohibited the producer from passing along the tax increase. The Supreme Court said, "it is the state's legitimate purpose to protect consumers from excessive prices." Also, the court exempted the royalty owner from the ruling, saying it would encourage investment in oil or gas production. Will the ruling apply to all other extractive mineral produced and sold intrastate? Will it apply to other ducts? And could it apply to other taxes as well? We'll try to keep you posted.

In other news, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 that pipeline companies who produce and sell their own gas can raise prices on the gas that is sold interstate. Gas prices could go up by as much as 250 million dollars a year, nationwide. Hundreds of millions of dollars in retroactive charges could result from the decision. Most gas consumers in Texas will not be affected by the court's ruling.

Social Security News

Show name and S.S. number when paying cash

People in the San Angelo area who send cash payments to Social Security to repay an overpayment or for some other purpose should be very careful to show their name and Social Security number when they send the payment, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security District manager in San Angelo, said recently.

If the payment is not identified with the name and Social Security number, several things take place, all of them bad, Upp said.

First, the person making the payment does not get credit in Social Security records and will have to make the payment again. Second, the money will go into Treasury Department General Funds and will not be credited to the Social Security trust funds. As a result, everybody loses, Upp said.

Social security makes every effort to identify the person who make the payment but it is very difficult without proper identifying information. Nationally, these unidentified funds total over $300,000 for a year.

But, Upp said, the best way to avoid this situation is to prevent overpayments in the first place. This can be done if people report all events to Social Security which can have an effect on their monthly benefit.

It is even more important for people receiving Supplemental Security Income payments to make prompt report about any change in income or other circumstances which can affect the amount of their monthly payment.

Anyone who has any doubt about what must be reported to Social Security is urged to contact the San Angelo Social Security Office promptly.

The people there will be glad to send you a booklet outlining your reporting responsibilities. The office is located at 2214 Sherwood way, and the telephone number is 949-4608.

Farm Bureau seeking ammendment in Immigration Reform Act

The Texas Farm Bureau is seeking amendments to the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1983 that would soften its impact on agriculture, according to TFB President S.M. True Jr.

In a message to leaders in TFB's 216 organized county Farm Bureaus, TFB asked that they contact their congressmen, urging them to vote for amendments to H.R. 1510, the House of Representatives Immigration Reform Bill. The Senate approved S. 529, its version of the bill, on May 18.

H.R. 1510, as written, would include the following stipulation: Employer sanctions in the form of heavy fines and/or prison sentences for any employer who "knowingly" employs an illegal alien. It would also require employers to keep strict records on all employees hired.

Does not include a workable guest worker or temporary worker program for agriculture.

Provides amnesty for those illegal aliens who entered the U.S. prior to Jan. 1, 1977, and have been here continuously since that time. Those entering the U.S. after 1977, but before January 1980, could apply for temporary resident alien status and apply for permanent status after three years.

According to Ed McKay, TFB's national affairs director, the Farm Bureau is working to secure sponsors and votes for amendments to this bill.

McKay said Farm Bureau is asking for a vote against the bill "if amendments are not adopted to correct the severe employer sanction provisions, or to provide a workable guest worker or temporary worker program for agriculture."

Hopes high for use of 1982 loan cotton in PIK

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 28 (Special) -- Stong support for a bill requiring USDA to reopen bidding on 1982 loan cotton for use in the payment-in-kind program was voiced here today by a National Cotton Council official.

The bill is designed to forestall the use of 1983 crop cotton to fulfill government obligations under PIK contracts with cotton producers. It would provide unlimited bidding for at least two weeks with the requirement that USDA accept bids up to the amount needed so long as they do not exceed the maximum accepted under the feedgrain program.

John S. (Duke) Barr, III, Oak Ridge, La., grower, told a House Agriculture subcommittee that USDA's earlier bid program for cotton contained a 7 percent cap. Shortly after the program was announced, however, he said stronger cotton prices resulting from bad weather and rising exports made the government bid at that level inadequate.

The Council's Producer Steering Committee chairman stressed that the adjustments now needed could not have been foreseen and should not be blamed on USDA.

But he pointed out that using 1983 crop cotton for PIK, as Agriculture Secretary John Block recently announced, will result in both serious monetary losses and costly litigation. Since many growers have already contracted to sell both their PIK cotton and their 1983 crops, Barr said this will mean farmers will be selling the same bales twice and will either have to break their contracts or purchase cotton to fulfill them.

In addition, he said cotton merchants and textile manufacturers who bought cotton forward and hedged their purchases face lifting hedges on cotton they would not receive. This would mean a considerable loss to them since prices have moved up substantially in recent weeks, Barr added.

The Council producer described the cost of re-opening the bid program as "minute" compared with the losses and litigation costs that would be incurred by various cotton industry segments if the 1983 crop is used extensively for PIK.
