

Mias Amigas celebration hosted 400

People began arriving about 4:00 p.m. June 29th at the courthouse square in Eldorado for the 53rd Annual Mias Amigas Meeting where they registered and received name tags. It was fun to see the smiles as people greeted one another. The handshakes and hugs showed that once a friendship had been made it only takes a few minutes to renew that long time acquaintance.

After a nice rain on Wednesday and Thursday the courthouse lawn was a beautiful place for a picnic supper where a sumptuous meal was served to many who had already come to Eldorado for a wonderful time at this Mias Amigas.

Saturday morning at 8:30 a.m. people began gathering at the Memorial Building again for coffee and doughnuts. Then the traditional ringing of the old school bell was performed by Lois Etheredge.

At 10:00 a.m. the annual 53rd meeting of the Mias Amigas was called to order by the president, Patsy Kellogg. The invocation was given by Tom Kent and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Sandra Helmers. Pledge to the flag was led by David Meador, Boy Scout Master.

Recognition was then given to the many who had a part in the preparation of the event by the president.

Each year the class who has been out of school for fifty years is recognized. This year only three members of the 1934 class were present. Aris Carr spoke for the class. R. L. Sample and Ben L. Isaacs were the only others of that class who attended.

The 1964 class, the newest group to be inducted into the Mias Amigas were introduced by a member of the group, Larry Blair, who is Superintendent of schools in Brady, Texas. Twenty members were on the stage representing the class of thirty-four members in 1964. A program was presented by members of the '64 class in which a tribute was paid to a former music teacher, Mrs. Irene Teele, by Lynn Meador who told of many activities in choral, high school choir, dramatic plays and many other ways where her influence was felt. He began the program by playing "The Way We Were" on the piano. Several members of some of the octets that she had worked with sang several numbers. Bob Lester, Mayor of Eldorado, sang "Love Me Tender" reminiscent of Elvis Presley days and a rendition of "Blueberry Hill" done Fats Domino style. Johnny Griffin, George Draper and Bob Lester sang "How Much is That Doggie in the Window?" Then Bob Lester, George Draper and Lynn Meador sang "There is Nothing Like a Dame". As a finale Bob Lester and the Octet sang "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You". Mrs. Teele was then introduced and she told of several incidents about some of her former students.

In other business the names of the founders of the organization were called. There were sixteen original members, eight of whom are still living. Names of members who have lapsed away since last year were called. An arrangement of greenery was placed on a table in front of the platform and as each name was called a white daisy was placed in the bowl and a card with their name was placed on the table, there were twenty-two names.

Many people were recognized concerning Mias Amigas such as: Miss Ruth Baker who has attended the most meetings, every year since it was organized. Mab Hill, the one who taught the longest number of years ago - 1923. Earliest Graduates - Dick Bearce, Zela Baker and Carrie Brown Martin. Most Family Members Present

- Parks Family. Connie Johnson for traveling the farthest and Irene Teele for having the most students in attendance.

Roll Call by classes from 1921 - 1964 was called and the number of members present was given for each class with 1964 having the largest number in attendance.

The election of officers for 1984-85 was then held with the following as new officers:

- President - Noweita Briggs
- 1st Vice President - Tom Enochs
- 2nd Vice President - Shine Spigarello
- 3rd Vice President - Ray Lewis
- Secretary - Mabel Freitag
- Treasurer - Theo Mayo
- Publicity - Patsy Kellogg
- Historian - Ruth Harper
- Photographer - John Ray Barker
- Memorial Chairman - Ethel Etheredge.

The next meeting will be the last Friday and Saturday in June of 1985. Ronnie Mittel closed the meeting with prayer and offered thanks for the meal to follow. About 400 people enjoyed a delicious barbecue dinner prepared by Orland Harris and his helpers.

Letter to the Editor

The community lake or pond as a Mother sees it is a place where families will be brought closer together. Where Mothers and Dads can take their children and grandchildren and share with them at an early age the joy of good clean fun. The joy on the face of a child when he pulls in that first fish and the sharing of father and son in learning to bait the hook and learning patience by sitting quietly waiting for the big moment. Mothers and daughters strolling around the park and the little girls finding beautiful butterflies and watching ducks swimming on the pond, later sharing a family picnic under the shade of a nearby tree. These are things that a child never forgets, beautiful memories that will always make a warm place in the heart when he or she remembers their home town. Possibly this, when they are grown, will help them to become better people and help them to want to share the same joys with their children and grandchildren which could make a better world with more love, which is very much needed in our changing times.

I feel certain there were problems and questions that were unanswered when the swimming pool, golf course, Little League ball park and airport were being considered. These problems were worked out and have been something the community has very much enjoyed and I feel the Lake or Pond would also be an asset to the Community.

I know that a loving, caring community like ours can meet the challenge and overcome all the problems because we care about our children, each other and the Community.

when the rock was excavated from the area to build the courthouse. Is Eldorado doomed to have another "hole in the ground"?

Loeffler awarded "Taxpayers' Best Friend"

The National Taxpayers Union (NTU) Congressional Affairs Director Jill Lancelot presented Representative Tom Loeffler (R-Texas, 21st dist.) with a "Taxpayers' Best Friend" award for consistently voting to reduce the burden of the American taxpayer during the First Session of the 98th Congress. Commenting on the award, Lancelot said, "Where others pay lip service to fiscal responsibility, Congressman Loeffler's voting record is proof that his concern for the U.S. taxpayer is genuine."

Of the 535 members of Congress, only 52 representatives and 12 senators earned the honor of being named a "Taxpayers' Best Friend". At the other end of the spectrum, 154 representatives and 35 senators were named "Big Spenders" according to the recently released 11th annual Congressional Spending Study.

While the average House score fell three percentage points, Loeffler's score was up nine percentage points over his previous year's score to 71, a score which places him above 91 percent of his House colleagues. Loeffler's score compared extremely favorably both to the House Republican average of 59 percent, and the House Southern region average of 37 percent. In a state marked by political diversity five other Texas representatives were named "Taxpayers' Best Friends" and 11 representatives earned the title of "Big Spender".

The NTU study examines EVERY vote that affects the amount of federal spending in order to give a truly unbiased picture of congressional spending attitudes. The scores were based on the 168 Senate and 202 House roll call votes taken on federal spending during the 1983 session of Congress. A perfect score, 100 percent, would indicate that a member always voted against increased spending or taxes every chance he had. In general, the higher the score, the less money the member voted to spend.

The National Taxpayers Union, founded in 1969, is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization representing over 130,000 members interested in reducing government spending and taxes.

You may naturally expect your home to use less electricity while you're away for a week or more. The reduction may not be as great as you think, however. That's because there are many factors that can affect your usage: weather conditions, billing periods and even vacation preparation.

1. Very hot weather before you leave and after you return means increased use of air conditioning; this makes it difficult to compare your bill with a previous month of milder weather.
2. Hot weather causes your refrigerator / freezer to run longer, particularly if your home air conditioning is turned off while you are away.
3. If the time you're away falls within two billing periods, the reduction you expect will be split between two bills.
4. If you didn't turn off your electric hot water heater before you left, it continued to keep your water hot 24 hours a day, even though you weren't there.
5. And don't forget... when getting ready for a vacation, you often use more electricity than usual for cleaning, washing, drying, ironing, cooking and general preparations. The same is true about your return.

Check your meter.

If you learn to read your own meter, you can find out just how much electricity was used while you were gone. And, you'll see just how much energy you're using during the summer, the heaviest electricity consuming season, with your air conditioning operating most of the time.

Independence Day 1984

On this Independence Day, we pause to commemorate, to reflect, and to renew our dedication to the principles of freedom and opportunity so eloquently enunciated and courageously approved long years ago on a hot summer day in Philadelphia. On that day, 208 years ago, 56 representatives of the Thirteen Colonies met under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and John Adams to declare their independence from colonial rule.

Even today, that Declaration on now yellowing parchment, with fading, almost illegible lines, is still a revolutionary document. To read it is to hear a trumpet call. For, it was in what is now known as Independence Hall in Philadelphia that the word went out to all the world, in the words of Thomas Jefferson, that "the God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time."

These Founding Fathers, in their brilliance, brought to all mankind for the first time the concept that man was born free; that each of us has inalienable rights; and that government was created by us, having only the power that we, the people, choose to give.

It is worth remembering what price the signers of this precious document paid for their patriotism and their devotion to principle. Altogether, of the 56 men who signed, five were taken prisoner, twelve had their homes ransacked, two lost their sons, and nine died in the war itself.

Those men knew what they were doing. In the final stirring words of the Declaration, they pledged to one another, "our lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor." And when liberty was at stake, they were willing to pay the price.

Today we reaffirm their courage and take pride in their creation — the world's longest continuously practicing democracy, a government which has stood the test of time. And we recall that the rights proclaimed by our Founding Fathers, preserved by the strength and support of Americans ever since, have produced a society that serves as a shining light, a beckoning force, to all throughout the world who value freedom and opportunity.

On this July 4, the blessings of liberty and the opportunity for prosperity are available to some 236 million Americans. Our right is the promise — based on the very words we commemorate and celebrate — to look to the future with the confidence that we can always move forward to chart new, unimagined paths if we dare.

This personal freedom to become what we choose is a reaffirmation of our traditional, uniquely American values and natural optimism; it is also a reflection of our dynamic spirit of rising and growing, of hewing out for ourselves a life offering the opportunity to strive for economic prosperity as well as a life of personal growth and achievement.

Perhaps one of the most important reasons we commemorate Independence Day is to reaffirm not only what America stands for but of what we have to offer. Independence Day should be a time of rededication to the preservation of the precious freedoms and infinite opportunities that are ours.

Sometimes Ya Kinda Wonder!!

Why is it? A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on the advertised bed, in his advertised pajamas... he will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap; shave with an advertised shaving cream, eat a breakfast of advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in an advertised toaster)... go out in advertised clothing, glance at his advertised watch... he will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk, smoke an advertised cigarette and write with an advertised pen.

Yet this man hesitates to advertise, saying that advertising doesn't pay.

Finally when his unadvertised business goes under... he will advertise it for sale.
