Cotton, Grain Acreage Appeals Due

January 9 Deadline For Cotton Appeal

January 9 is the final date to file appeal on cotton yield acreage appeals, said Charles Daniel of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Muleshoe.

Daniel outlined the procedure for figuring the 1970 yield appeals for cotton, feed grain and wheat. He said the procedure has been changed for this year.

According to Daniel, "If no acreage was harvested in one or two years of the base period, which is 1966, 1967, or 1968, the proven yield will be determined by multiplying the allotment or base for the applicable year times the current year (1970) projected yield."

"The product will then be weighted with the actual production data for base years in which acres were harvested."

For an example, Daniel added, "Assume a farm has a 1970 projected cotton yield of 500 pounds. During each of the base years the farm allotment was 100 acres. The producer presents evidence of production for 1966 and 1967. He has no production evidence for 1968 because no acreage was harvested (the entire crop was hauled out.)

"All production for each base year where harvesting occurred must be included and weighed to obtain the proven yield. In other words, if a low yielding crop was harvested in one of the base years, the production evidence for such a year cannot be omitted."

He added that the total production divided by the total program acres will give the proven yield.

Daniel said that if the harvested acres are unrepresentative to one or more of the base years, the proven yield will be determined by weighting the production and acres harvested with acres of the allotment not harvested with the current year yield.

He stated that production evidence for cotton must include the following information: bale identification, gross weight of each bale, total weight of years' production and above all, the evidence must clearly identify the farm and year of production.

"Due to this change in figuring proven production," said Daniel, "you should report to this office any acreage that was not harvested for 1969. The 1969 crop year will be used in figuring 1971 proven yields. The harvested acreage will be taken from the records in the county offices."

"And remember, because of this change in figuring proven yields, the County Committee will accept late filed appeals on cotton. Appeals should be filed by not later than January 9, 1970."

Daniel also stated, "The skip-row planting rules will be the same for cotton, feed grains and peanuts for 1970. In general, under these rules, only the land actually planted to the crop will be counted in determining compliance with program provisions."

After the United States Department of Agriculture announced the 1970 feed grain program, Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, said two changes for 1970 will hurt the farmers in the High Plains area.

According to Harp, the two Cont'd on Page 3, Col. 4

Mail Registration To Speed Process

AUSTIN--When the owners of Texas' seven million motor vehicles get their 1970 license plates, they will find that the Texas Highway Department has taken a lot of frustration out of registration.

Owners will receive motor vehicle registration applications by mail early in January.

This three-part form is the key to convenience. In previous years, the vehicle owner had to hunt up his certificate of title and last year's license receipt and take them to the tax office or a substation. Often, he found himself at the end of a long, slow-moving line.

The lines should be much shorter this year. And there are provisions for license plates by mail.

Here's how easy it is: If a motorist goes to the county tax office or a substation, all he need take is the three part form--the motor vehicle registration application--that came in the mail. And the registration fee, of course.

If he should find a line, chances are it will be shorter and faster-moving than any he remembered from previous years. All he needs do is to present the renewal application and pay the fee. The clerk will validate the application with the new license numbers and return part of the form as a receipt. Another part of the form is retained for the county's records and the third is sent to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

Should the vehicle owner decide to register his vehicle by mail, he sends the entire renewal application, the fee and an additional $1 to his county tax officer. The $1 additional charge is provided by statute to cover the cost of handling and postage.

The registration "season" begins at county tax offices and substations on February 1. The vehicle owner can register his vehicle in person until April 1.

If he wants his plates mailed to him, he must send in his application, the fee and the $1 postage and handling charge to his county tax officer by March 1.

This allows 30 days for delivery before 1970 license plates must be displayed after midnight, April 1.

Easy-to-follow instructions are printed on the three-part form. The Highway Department asks that the owner leave the form intact and that he not separate the three parts.

The new system is the product of many months of planning and work. The system began taking shape in 1967 with

City, County Law Enforcement Up To Full Forces

With the addition of two new officers on January 1, both the city and county law enforcement agencies are up to full force.

Sheriff Dee Clements announced the hiring of J.D. 'Pete' Black, longtime Muleshoe resident, to replace Bob Henderson, who resigned, effective January 1.

Black has been a Bailey County and Muleshoe resident since 1931. Mrs. Pete (Ruth) Black, operates an insurance agency in Muleshoe. Black was a farmer prior to his employment as a Deputy Sheriff.

The Blacks have two children, Buddy of Muleshoe and Bobby of Dumas. They also have six grandchildren. Black has several brothers and sisters in the area.

To fill a six month vacancy in the Muleshoe City Police Department, Chief of Police Harold White announces the employment of Lee Simmons of Littlefield.

Simmons, a native of Littlefield, graduated from Littlefield High School and served in the air force. He began his duties on January 1 also. He and Mrs. Cont'd on Page 3, Col. 3

W. Q. Casey Retires From Active Banking

"I don't know how much it will take to adjust after spending the past 46 years in banking," said W.Q. Casey Friday of his retirement from active banking.

Bill Loyd, president of the Muleshoe State Bank, announced that Casey had retired. He will retain his position as Chairman of the Board of Directors, a position he assumed following Loyd being named to the office of president in 1969. Until that time, Casey had been president of the bank since 1957.

The Caseys moved to Muleshoe on April 1, 1949 from Haskell. He was mayor of Haskell at the time he and his family moved to Muleshoe. At the time he moved here, he worked in the loan department of the Muleshoe State Bank for Jess Osborn. Casey's banking career began in 1924 in Abilene, He worked for the First National Bank there until 1937, then spent two years with the bank in Spur before moving to Haskell.

He said he will keep his insurance business which is located across the street north of the Muleshoe State Bank and will maintain his longtime farming interests in Bailey County.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey have two children and four grandchildren. Their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Heathington, Don and Donna, live north of Muleshoe and Heathington is a farmer and member of the Muleshoe Independent School District School Board. Their son, J.W., his wife and children, Grady and Rhea Lynn, live at Arlington, where the younger Casey is a salesman.

Father Julian, far from being a stranger in this area, explained Father O'Leary, has been preaching missions or revivals, in both English and Spanish, throughout the southwest for the last 17 years. Originally from Escanaba, Mich., he spent many years preparing himself for this work as a priest and missionary, by studying scripture, philosophy and theology. He studied in various colleges in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. Born June 23, 1909, he was ordained to the priesthood on June 8, 1939. Together with the Pastor, the Rev. Father O'Leary, the visiting missionary cordially extended an invitation to all Christians of this area, both Catholic and non-Catholic, to attend the inspiring services.

changes which will hurt the High Plains Grain sorghum farmer are: No advance payments, and a five percent cut in diversion payments.

He said farmers had been able to get 50 percent of the diversion payment in advance by signing up in the feed grain program. He added that the present 45 percent diversion payment will be cut to 40 percent and will reduce the payment by about $5 per acre.

Harp added that USDA had given budgetary problems as reasons for the cut in diversion payments.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

The proper foods can contribute greatly to your natural beauty and health. There is an old saying "You are what you eat." This is true to a great extent.

No matter what beautiful features or good health that is passed on to us by our parents--without healthful eating and living habits, we can destroy our looks and our health.

This is not to say you can't eat chocolate--that extra piece of pie or stay up to 3:00 a.m. ever. It does mean these things must be done in moderation.

The habits of a lifetime are set during childhood and the all-important teen period. Parents must set an example for their children. This applies to all phases of life--health habits, social habits and outlook on life.

Encourage your children to eat all fruits, vegetables and meats. If you do not care for liver and spinach--don't make an issue of it. In fact, take a serving even if you only pick at it. The more variety in a person's diet, the more likely he is to get all the vitamins and minerals he needs.

Yogurt, sour milk, sour cream, buttermilk and sauer kraut juice are often disliked by children. Off hand this seems unimportant, until you know that all these foods are very high in lactic acid. Lactic acid is hard to come by and has long been known to be a "beautifier."

Awards were presented Joyce Payne, Felipe Garcia, Frieda Foss, Lauranette Mason and Lilly Rodriguez and a scrapbook was presented Bernice Splawn.

At the next meeting, a special night will be held. The six months queen for the year will be crowned. The club will have a salad supper and a dress parade.

The History Of Beta Sigma Phi

BY MARGERIE SCOTT
The founder and first president of Beta Sigma Phi was Walter W. Ross. The first chapter was formed in Abilene, Kansas, on April 30th, 1931. There were seven members in that first Chapter, and it seemed reasonable to suppose that what appealed to them would appeal to other young women like them.

But this was the year 1931, and the United States still in the throes of the worst depression in its history. Anxiety ran high and money was short; who would want to spend it on something which could not be held in the hand, whose values from the beginning were largely spiritual? Walter Ross must have argued that people who need wider knowledge, deeper culture, and the comforting warmth of close and lasting friendships need these things even more urgently when times are difficult and everyone is afraid of the future.

Beta Sigma Phi succeeded, not in spite of the depression, but because of it.

When Walter Ross was asked if the growth of Beta Sigma Phi from seven members to something over 200,000 had surprised him, he replied that the physical growth had not surprised him at all, he had expected it and planned for it. "I am quite sure," he said thoughtfully, "that all these things have come from the quality and character of the members themselves."

No time was lost in putting Beta Sigma Phi on a business-

Each member is asked to bring the following to the next Thursday night meeting: a large dress to wear in the dress parade, a gift for the birthday box, a $2 gift for the six months queen, a salad, two forks and those who have not paid their 25 cent royalty is asked to bring it at that time.

Rose Sain gave a 'pep talk' to the members present.

DICK TRACY TOO VIOLENT
St. Petersburg, Fla.--The St. Petersburg Times has dropped the comic strip, Dick Tracy, because it has become too violent. A spokesman for the Times said the decision to drop the long-popular strip had not been made lightly.

Art Association To Show Paintings

The members of the Muleshoe Art Association were invited to have a showing of their paintings in the lobby of the Western Plaza Cinema lobby at Amarillo.

Forty paintings by local artists will be hung in the lobby for one month, beginning January 12.

They may be viewed at any time during the hours the theatre is open.

The New Year

The year 1970 begins for many who are happy to see the sixties pass into history on a note of hope. Both in the domestic and international fields, the sixties were a turbulent, controversial era for the United States.

History will probably record that the Vietnam war was the most divisive in the nation's history. The demands of the war, its priorities in money and other fields, helped create a domestic crisis which spawned more violence, crime and general disorder than the country has witnessed since tragic scenes in the South during Reconstruction days.

At last a U.S. President is desecrating the war. But whether he can continue to do so is an open question. And domestic problems, poverty, education and intergration, are being attacked, and progress made. Militants preaching violence and the overthrow of the government demand more, however, and demand it now, but represent only a fraction of one per cent of the people.

This year, the early seventies, are to be a test for the leadership of the nation, for Congress. All citizens must learn or be taught to respect the laws of our society, the goal of which is justice for all and to recognize and appreciate the many blessings all Americans enjoy, to a greater degree than any other people. The seventies can thus be either a decade when the nation rights itself and corrects its ominous drift toward ever-increasing violence and anarchy or a continuation of the dis-sentation and division which has so weakened the nation in recent years. Every citizen, of whatever creed, color or race must do his part if the American dream is to succeed, if our government and society are to function effectively.

SATURDAY NITE IS FOR GUYS & DOLLS

Dear Amy:
My girl and I have been dating now for 8 months. We're both in our early twenties and see each other Friday night, Saturday night and Sundays. Sometimes, we even see each other during the week.

A couple of boyfriends of mine asked me to go out with them on a Saturday night and I said no because I see my girl. Well, they asked again recently (and I felt funny always saying no) so I told them I would.

When I told my girl, she hit the ceiling and would hardly talk to me. She said that Saturday nights a guy spends with his girl, not with the guys. If it were Friday, she could see it, but not Saturday night. She also said that if I would prefer to be with these guys on a Saturday night, then I could just find another girlfriend.

Well, she's calm now, but I know she's still hurt. I told her I wouldn't go if it upset her so much, but she said to go and do whatever I wanted to do and that she couldn't care less.

Amy, am I wrong in wanting to spend a Saturday night with the guys? I happen to love my girl a great deal and I know I could never find any other girl like her. I dated a lot while I was in the service and those girls didn't hold a candle to her and I've never dated anyone since we have been dating.

If I'm wrong about going out with the fellows on Saturday night occasionally, then I won't. I don't want to hurt her or loose her. It took me too long to find a girl like mine.

Dear Jim:
Saturday night is date night when one is single... but not with the fellows. Keep the peace, buddy, and see the boys on Friday night.

Dear Amy:
I am another girl in the group of "Social Rejects". I'm 20. Upon reading other girls' letters in your column, it wasn't surprising to learn there are very many girls who cannot find boys interested in dating good girls.

It pleases me to know there are good boys still interested in good girls. Boys of that caliber are the kind I like.
A.W.

Dear A.W.:
The letter which you read in my column from the "Social Rejects" was, in my opinion, such a growing problem with young girls today that I chose to print it in an effort to show these girls that they were wrong.

The letters I received from the boys, which you read in my column, proved my point. Frankly, I do not have hundreds of nice boys hidden away to fill the hundreds of requests I received through the mail, but they are all around you. It's up to you to continue to be discriminating and find them! And believe me, they are there!

Your experiences up till now may have been disappointing. However, until you find boys who admire you, like you for what you are and what you stand for, don't give into the other kind. They are not worth having as friends under any circumstances.

PERSONAL TO Nylons:
Regardless of what you say you aren't, you obviously are something which is not normal. You need a psychiatrist on the double!

PERSONAL TO A Dog-Lover:
I have carried out your request but can't possibly print your letter unless you condense it. It was long on lines, and I'm short on space.

PERSONAL TO R.S.V.P.:
If you have put up with such physical and mental torture for 25 years, don't expect a miracle to change him now. The decision to stay with him is yours, but why should you unless you enjoy being battered around and abused. No one you have talked to can help you. You must help yourself!

Get Up When You Fall Down

PAUL HARVEY

There is no more pertinent advice anybody could give to anybody than this: Get up when you fall down.

Christ said nobody is beyond redemption. "Though you sins be as scarlet, . . ."

Dr. George Beto believes Christ meant what he said and has dedicated his life to demonstrating it.

Dr. Beto left the comfortable life of a college president to become a shepherd for the most motley, miserable and mean flock of sheep in all Texas.

He's called "Director of the Department of Corrections," what that means is that he runs the Texas prison system.

In 14 units he has confined 12,000 bad guys who are thus paying for an assortment of sins ranging from black to scarlet. But instead of just locking them up for whatever period is prescribed by law, this former Lutheran clergyman is rebuilding character and integrity in these evildoers.

It's by their fruits that we are to judge others, Hear this: Most prison systems overflow with "repeaters." Two-thirds of all discharges return.

In the years since Dr. Beto instituted his pre-release program, the rate of recidivism (repeaters) has been reduced from 66% to 11.5%!

He's a worker and everybody around and under him works. Most modern penologists would call Beto's administration "tough." He's "Dr. Beto" when he's around and "The Man" when he is not.

He believes that the key to character building is "doing necessary things even when you'd rather not."

Soon after he took over there was a convict "strike." They refused to work. Dr. Beto went to the scene, evaluated the grievance and ordered his guards, "Put them to work." They did.

Dr. Beto says, "Either the administration runs a prison or the convicts run it. The administration runs this one."

If the cost of Dr. Beto's success were astronomical, it would perhaps be less commendable. But where the national average cost to the taxpayers per prisoner day is $5.50, under Beto this cost has been reduced to $2.37.

It's not all work within the walls. There are basketball leagues, a prison newspaper, musical groups, arts and crafts projects.

Dr. Beto feels that when men and women become convicts, the church has failed its mission. Crime, he says, is mostly caused by liquor and sex and the inability to finance these appetites.

Doing always what we "want" to do and neglecting what we "ought" to do leads to character disintegration.

To reclaim those characters, Dr. Beto believes, we must retrain men to doing necessary things even when they'd rather not.

So, says Dr. Beto, after the family and the church have failed to do this, the prison administrator must.

Near the cellblock exit through which all convicts are released, there is a sign which says:

"Failure is not the falling down, but the staying down." Under the administration of this uncommonly dedicated man, fallen men are picking themselves up again.

TV COMMENTARY

WE WERE INTERESTED this month in seeing Bethel Leslie give a fine performance on one of "The Virginian" series. We remember Miss Leslie who played in so many of Robert Montgomery's TV plays and later as Maggie on "The Doctors." In "The Virginian" she had the part of a woman captured by the Indians and who came back to the world of white people.

OCCASIONALLY we see actors who we have seen in plays but who are appearing in a commercial. We think we discovered Dr. Aldrick a few days ago saying he would rather fight than switch.

STORIES APPROPRIATE for this season of the year started early. The adaptation of Robert Anderson's 1959 play "Silent Night, Lonely Night" was seen with its snowy Christmas setting in a small New England town where two lonely people had come. Leads were taken by Shirley Jones and Lloyd Bridges. "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer" was rerun and a number of specials with a Christmas theme were on the air.

ELEANOR PARKER gave a good performance in the musical version of "Hans Brinker" but we thought the story was confusing in spots.

VINCE EDWARDS plays the part of a psychiatrist who answers people who dial for help in an ABC movie "Dial Hot Line."

SPORTS FANS will have a wonderful time on January 11th. There will be six and one half hours over CBS devoted to sports.

U.S. asks Japan to permit calls by nuclear ship.

dry up, lady!

Think about it. Your biggest complaint about washday is probably the clothesline routine. With a family, it gets to be a hang up. You can spend a big part of your life hanging out T-shirts, mini-skirts and Hubby's socks. And sheets, and jackets, sweaters, bedspreads... even curtains. Not to mention the unmentionables.

You don't like lifting, lugging and wrestling loads of heavy, wet wash to the backyard. Then there's always the weather. Now's the time to do something about this bundle of problems with a GAS clothes dryer. A gas dryer does five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. So, dry up with gas.

Farmer of Today Cultured, Alert

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. -- The day of the "country hick" is gone with the farmer of today as well-educated and well-travelled as his urban counterpart, according to Reagan Brown, Extension sociologist at Texas A&M University.

Brown says the greatest change in the past half century is what is called "cultural uniformity," which means that rural and urban people are alike.

Agriculture has achieved closer equality with industry in terms of available credit with production asset value continually rising. In 1947, Brown says there were six million farms in America with 26 million people on them and a total farm debt of eight to ten billion dollars. Today, the farm population has dropped to ten million with the number of farms only half that of 1947. The debt has increased by more than five times and is about evenly divided between mortgage and short-term obligations.

According to Brown, between 1950 and 1968 the labor input was cut in half with quantities of mechanical power increased by 35 per cent. The use of fertilizers and liming material nearly doubled and the number of persons fed by each farm worker nearly tripled.

In 1968, the average American commercial farm had production assets of $119,000. Today the value of production assets for each farm worker is about $46,000. The value of machinery and motor vehicles alone is $5,000 for each farm worker.

The future will be as full of new things as has the last half a century, Brown asserts. Collective bargaining will be used in an increasing role in the highly competitive American food market.

Eventually, livestock will be grown out on one-third less feed and in one-third less time than is done presently. Brown says that biological and specific chemical methods will eliminate many of the insect problems that producers face today.

Brown also predicts that as farm population declines further, the values of the American people that are often attributed to the rural population will have to be found in the mass of Americans being concentrated in large urban areas.

a little BIG NOW

We all get a thrill out of seeing our children put on our hats or shoes. Obviously they don't fit now, but some day he, or she will grow to fit them. At the same time imagine that they are trying on our lives. Would they fit? ... or do you live the type of life that you would want them to grow to. Live a life of worship of the Lord.

"Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
