-Mary's Column-

BY MARY JENKINS

Have you ever gone shopping for green plants on a large scale basis? I had my first experience a couple of weeks ago when I went with Sue to buy plants for her new shop The Greenery.

We were not even half-way prepared for this one. Row after row after row of green plants. Sue looked at me and said, "Where do we start?"

We got strange looks from the workers there from the moment we walked in and said "We would like to buy $250 worth of plants." Evidently most store owners call their orders in and have them delivered. (Why not be different?)

We roamed around the four green houses for a while 'oohing and 'aahing over everything. Finally we started "digging" in and had a blast.

After about two hours we had a cart full and then some. The girl there added the bill up, Sue paid and we left with the Bronco full of live "greenery".

My second experience came last Saturday as I journeyed again with Sue to buy more green plants. We took Angi Fitts with us.

Now this time we felt like veterans shopping for live greenery. This time we knew the "arrowheads" from the "philodendron", the "cupids" from the "jade".

As Sue and I picked out plants, Angi very neatly arranged them on the push-cart. She pushed that cart everywhere! Wouldn't let us help at all!

Now these green houses are not like an air-conditioned store, they are hot and humid. Angi worked herself to a frazzle. "It's hot in here!" she said.

As Sue was settling up, Angi, with a "little" help from me, loaded the Bronco. This was no small task considering the limited amount of space she had to work with.

On the way home, I looked back to see if Angi had enough room, and wondered if she could find herself among all the plants. But a small voice cried out, "Turn up the air conditioner I'm hot!"

Eldorado School salaries down

ACCORDING TO TSTA REPORT

Salaries for new teachers in Texas schools were either frozen or cut in eight of every nine school district this school year, according to data released this week by the Texas State Teachers Association.

Teachers in the Schleicher County Independent School District received a 6.13 cut from 1986 to 1987.

TSTA surveyed all Texas school districts and found that this year 111 Texas districts actually cut salaries for beginning teachers, while another 745 districts made no local improvements in the existing salary schedule.

TSTA President Charles N. Beard, Jr. called the findings "appalling" and named local districts which cut pay to ascertain how the funds are being spent and how much is being was in the pre-reform days," he added.

The president called the salary cuts a "sad commentary" on local districts' commitments to improving education in Texas. "Numerous state and national reports tell us that the surest way out of an economic slump is through improvements in the state's education systems," he said. "Top schools require top people and every single report stresses the importance of good teachers to the overall quality of the schools.

Voter input light

A light voter turnout was recorded here last Saturday in school, city, and hospital district elections.

Voters elected two new school board members—Dobbs Lively, 164; and Tip Finley, 139. Also receiving votes were George Gower and Jimmy Martin, 110 each, Joe Max Edmiston, 111, and Buff Whitten and Steve Sykes, 80 each. A total of 457 school votes were cast.

In the city election Richard Preston was the leading vote getter with 221 followed by John Callison with 213. Rooster Jackson and Dora Bosmans each got 151, meaning that a runoff will be held May 28 to fill the third city seat.

Incumbent Terry Neill lost his council seat, pulling 93 votes, and challenger Carlos Estrada got 75. Preston and Jackson are also incumbents. A total of 337 cast ballots in the city election.

In the hospital district races, which were unopposed, Jerry Jones got 357 votes, with Bill Dakan getting 342, Hyman Sauer 337 and Floyd Butler 324 votes. A total of 397 voters voted in the hospital district election.

Absentee voting for the city runoff between Jackson and Ms. Bosmans is now underway at City Hall.

Air Mail present returns

When Debbie Rinehart bought Delia Pina a "Nurses Day" present last week she never thought it would fly away, but it did just that on the wings of a stout West Texas wind.

Debbie purchased Delia a flower-balloon arrangement from Cathy's and stepped outside, only to have the helium filled balloon and flower lift off and head skyward.

This week, however, the entire present came home, when Helen Turner of Water Valley sent Cathy's the arrangement back, complete with balloon and a note of explanation.

Mrs. Turner wrote: "We saw the balloon float over our house and go down in our pasture Friday afternoon, 7 p.m. We live 25 miles northwest of San Angelo. Everything was just as I am sending it back."

Delia's "air mail" present had returned.

District 4-H Roundup held May 7

On May 7, Angelo State University played host to over 200 4-Hers from across Extension West Central District who were present to compete in the annual District 4-H Roundup.

The Roundup featured contests designed to test the skills of youths from the 17 counties which comprise the district.

Senior first and second place winners from the district level are eligible for state competition in June during State Roundup on the Texas A&M University campus.

Schleicher County with 20 team entries was honored with a special award based on a total number of contests entered. Medals given to the first place junior and senior winners of the various contests were donated by the Federal Land Bank Associations which serve counties in the district. Ribbons were donated by West Texas Utilities Company.

4-H Council Officers were installed for the 1988-89 year during the awards ceremony. There are: president, Eric Zimmerman, Menard County; vice president, Mary Frey, Mason County; secretary, Anne Ahlswede, Tom Green County; public relations, Kristi Kuykendall, Menard County.

4-H leaders, Reba Criner of Irion County and Sandy McDonald of Sterling County were recognized as being District 7's recipients of the Texas 4-H Salute to Excellence Award. They will also receive recognition at 4-H Roundup at College Station in June. Bill Helwig, Coke County Attorney, was recognized with a plaque for his outstanding contribution to 4-H with the District 7 4-H Alumni Award.

Senior winners and the contest entered include: First Place winners Stan Meador and Brent Moore, farm and ranch economics; Ashley Johnson and Brant Ward, sheep and goats; Ericka Olson and Rachel Edmiston, poultry; Jennifer Torres and Ginger Sterling, clothing; and Amy Henderson and Angie McGregor, agronomy.

Other first place winners were Cody McCravy and Travis Whitten, meat science; Cory Edmiston and Eric McGinnes, beef; Sondi Nix and Toni Whitten, companion animals; Lindsay Johnson, Shanna Edmiston, Katy McGregor, Erin Meador and Brian Jones, family life education; Tamara Robledo and Lubia Trevino, horticulture preparation and use; Alexis Williams and

PAVE PAWS makes SC presentation

BY EVELYN STIGLER

A scale model of the Eighth Missile Squadron's PAVE PAWS radar facility at Eldorado Air Force Station was presented to the Schleicher County Museum during a first anniversary celebration in the Memorial Building Sunday afternoon, May 8.

The model was constructed by Tsgt Jeff Carter, a quality assurance evaluator at the station. He said he built the model in his spare time and mostly at night.

He explained that the octagonal shaped front of the main building has 1100 active units which focus in atmosphere and on surface as far away as 3000 miles.

The model had 1100 holes in the octagon shaped front, an exact replica of the building.

A reception was held in the Memorial Building, hosted by members of the Schleicher County Historical Society.

Judge Johnny Griffin introduced the guests and the model was presented to Rene Calcote, president of the Historical Society by Lt. Col. John Paul.

It was taken to the museum where it will be on permanent display.

Golf tourney —top of the divide— May 14

Teams will be flighted, with trophies awarded in each flight. Tee-off time is 1 p.m. and entry fee is $36 per team, which includes barbecue supper.

To enter call Candy Richards, Leroy Reeves or Mickey Rathbone.

BY THOMAS GIOVANNITTI

Sometimes, if my children don't behave, I punish them by making them sit down and listen to KELI radio from San Angelo. Any other punishment, especially for my teenager, pales in comparison.

It is not that I think all modern music is terrible. Every age has its music and every age has its major talents but there are some eras when music was especially good or, at least, very innovative.

Even a few of us older folks should be ready to admit that in the late fifties and early sixties there was a definite change in music and some of that change was innovative to say the least.

But, there was a certain time in the middle sixties when the war in Vietnam created some really strong counter culture music. In fact, wars seem to bring out the worst and the best in all of us including musicians.

Wednesday night, May 4, 1988, the Mall in San Angelo had a free concert and dance featuring the Woody Herman Orchestra. Woody is dead, but his music, rendered by some very able young musicians, I am sure brought back some very strong memories of another era and another war.

Maxine and I went both to listen and to dance. When we arrived at the atrium the band was already playing that dancible jazz that Woody Herman helped popularize in the late thirties and forties.

What was really a please though, was to watch the many couples, many gray headed, dancing. You could tell that most of the twosomes had been dance partners for a very long time. I wouldn't be too surprised that many of those couples met and fell in love at a USO dance, gliding around the floor to big band music much like the music heard Wednesday night.

It must have been something to have been a young "flyboy", a real "beebopper" from New York or Chicago, seeing all those pretty Texas girls at the armory. Think about it, it was those girls patriotic duty to make that young man, so far from his home, to feel welcome in Texas. What better way than to dance with him.

From the looks of one couple last Wednesday night, I just got the feeling that is exactly how they met. In fact the way they were dancing, so synchronized, so close, that I could see in my minds eye, him in his uniform, hair all dark and shiny moving smooth as you please with those Irish city kid moves and her waving brown tresses pompadoured in the front, pleated knee length skirt, lipstick put on after she left home, dancing each dance a little closer. By the end of the first evening in some unairconditioned hall in Old Angelo they were in love.

They were still in love Wednesday night, still dancing close, still young. Each age has its music but somehow that Big Band music, the kind where you held onto your partner while you danced, has a special place in the lives of many of us. It was the music of change that made ministers shudder and young girls quiver.

-letters to the editor-

Dear Editor:

I'm upset. This morning I came upon a deer that was hung in the fence, its hind leg laced into the top wires. I ran to the Spinks' house and called Mike Porter, the game warden.

He said he would come out "after a while". Twenty five minutes later I called the sheriff's office and was told they would have someone see about it. An hour later, no one had come, the deer was still struggling and in pain.

My neighbors kids were leaving for school so I had them run and get their daddy. He got the deer out of the fence but it was so badly injured, it had to be shot—not by the game warden, as far as I know he never did show up.

I'm not only upset -- I'm furious.

Rabbit Club attends SA show

A total of 14 members from the Eldorado Rabbit Club attended the Annual Summer Rabbit Show held in San Angelo. The show was sponsored by the Tom Green County Rabbit Club and the Briar Patch Rabbit Club from Midland.

There were over 500 rabbits entered with some competitors bringing as many as 65 rabbits to show. Many competitors were from the local area but some were from Austin, Alvarado, Brahy, Midland and Paris.

The show was a sanctioned American Rabbit Breeders Association show. Some breeds present were Hotots, Lop Rabbits, Satins, Rex, Californias, New Zealand, Dutch, Harlequins, Angoras, English Spots, Netherland Dwarfs and Flemish Giants.

Cory Loyd, son of Pat and David Lloyd of Eldorado, exhibited his Mini-Lops and received a second place, third place and two fifth place ribbons.

Members of the Eldorado Rabbit Club were able to talk with the different breeders and gain valuable information on different breeds and care of rabbits. They were also able to watch the judges and hear each judge critique each rabbit as he or she examined it. "The show was very enjoyable as well as informative," a spokesman said.

Several members came back with new rabbits for their rabbitry. There are now eleven different breeds available in Schleicher County. "The Eldorado Rabbit Club is proud of the varieties its members can offer the community and surrounding areas," the spokesman concluded.

Deadline nears for FmHA Committee

Schleicher County farmers interested in election to the Farmers Home Administration county committee have until May 19 to get their nominating petitions signed and turned in, FmHA County Supervisor, Ben T. Rucker, Jr., said recently.

One person will be elected for a three-year term to the three-person committee at the June 30 election. Rucker said anyone who has an interest in a farm in Schleicher County as owner, tenant or sharecropper is eligible to run for the committee seat and to vote in the election. A spouse of an eligible farmer also is considered to be a farmer for those purposes.

Nominating petitions, which must be signed by the nominee and two eligible farmer voters, and other information can be obtained at the FmHA county office at Box H, Eden, Tx 76837, Phone (915) 869-3941, Rucker said.

FmHA county committees perform a variety of duties, including making decisions on applicants' eligibility for FmHA farm loans. Two committee members are elected by county farmers, and the third is appointed by FmHA.

Farmers Home Administration is an Equal Opportunity Lender. Complaints or discrimination should be sent to: Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Woman's Club ends year

VARIOUS HONORS PRESENTED

BY EVELYN STIGLER

The Woman's Club met in the Memorial Building for their final

DANIEL GLEN PFLUGER

Pfluger receives prestigious honor

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Daniel Glen Pfluger has been named a United States National Award winner in mathematics.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students.

Dan, who attends Eldorado High School, was nominated for this National Award by Cindy Polley, a mathematics (geometry) teacher at the school. Dan will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally. The Academy selects USA meeting of the year 1987-88. The Hospitality Committee planned and decorated tables for a salad luncheon which was served in the main auditorium. Pastel colored cloths covered the tables with spring flowers as center pieces. The luncheon was served buffet style.

The regular meeting was held in the Club Room with president Ora Deal presiding.

Louise Burk was voted on and accepted as a new member for 1988-89.

Since this was the final meeting of this 1987-88 year the program title was "Finish the Course" so Ora Deal, program leader, called on each officer and chairman of committees to give their yearly report.

There were many awards won on different phases of work, among them was an award for Community Involvement which featured the Parade of Homes at Christmas time. Another was for the boxes of wigs, books and many other things sent to M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston.

A large box of Christmas gifts was taken to San Angelo State School in November and a group of volunteers went out there another time and helped to have a party for the residents. The library committee gave a good report on what the club has helped to do in that capacity.

After the president's report a gift of a hand painted china plate was presented to her.

DECIDING TO START A SMALL HOME BUSINESS -- Small home businesses, offering everything from homemade jams and county crafts to custom drapery making, day care or accounting services have popped up all over Texas, especially in rural areas. Economic circumstances are still fragile for many farm families, so anything that can contribute to improving financial security looks attractive. It is important to consider what it will take to own and manage a home-based business. Assess skills such as organizing and planning, handling money, selling ideas and products, ability to take risk and to lead and work alone, before embarking on a home business. Be honest with yourself before you decide whether you can spend the time to learn necessary skills for starting a home-based business or whether you can afford to pay for consultants.

winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Dan is the son of Charles and Helen Pfluger. The grandparents are Mrs. Fate E. Parker of San Angelo and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Pfluger of San Angelo.

The new officers for the 1988-89 year were presented to the club as Evelyn Stigler installed each officer. She used rings and made a corsage with some significant thing representative of that office on the ring; as scissors for the historian, a pencil for reporter, a bell for the parliamentarian, a key for the treasurer to lock up all the money, a telephone for the second vice president, first vice president a miniature calendar, secretary, an address book, etc.

The officers who will serve during the 1988-90 term are: president, Mary McGinness; first vice president, Charlene Edmiston; second vice president, Florence Williams; secretary, Gladys Mittel; treasurer, Shine Spigarelli; Federation Counselor, Imogene Newport; parliamentarian, Ora Deal; historian, Ruth Harper; and reporter, Evelyn Stigler.

There were four guests from the Mertz 48 Study Club. They were Billi Lindley, Lu Ann Bearden, Mary Spurlin and Toby Boyd.

The meeting closed with the Club Collect.

Letters to the editor

Dear Citizens of Eldorado:

You were an important part in making the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-a-thon a success. And though the campaign has ended, our appreciation of your efforts has not gone unnoticed.

We're proud of the 52 riders who rode 784 total miles, volunteers, and the citizens of Eldorado. Thanks to you and to them, we raised $2,036.58. We especially want to thank Parker Foods, Inc. for donating the refreshments for all the riders.

Because of the universal objectives of research and treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, be assured the money benefits children all over the world.

Knowing the people in our community are concerned enough to take quick action for children who need their assistance is heartwarming. You surely must take pride in helping maintain that humanitarian spark. On behalf of the children of St. Jude Hospital, thank you.

Sincerely,
Randy Mitchell
