MASON COMING FRIDAY

Broncos top Eagles

BY TERRY B. NEILL

"They couldn't have written a better script for what they wanted to happen if they had the opportunity," one of the Eagle coaches said Friday night.

He was referring to the Sonora Broncos, who got the undefeated Eldorado Eagles in an early hole and never let them out enroute to a 24-6 victory.

Playing in front of a pack Eldorado stadium the locals fumbled the kickoff, recovered, but couldn't move on three plays and punted to Sonora at the Eagle 28-yard line. "Not bad field position for your first possession," Coach Larry Mitchell noted.

Eldorado entered the game undefeated and a two-point favorite, but as is usually the case when neighbors play out a rivalry, you can forget about who is supposed to win.

Sonora fielded a big, quick team, sparked by a ball control offense and a conservative defense. EHS had several fumbles and quarterback Brad Bass had his worst game in two years, giving up six interceptions.

The Eagles played hard, however, finally getting on the scoreboard with 28 seconds remaining before the half.

Bass hit fullback Carter Edmiston, who had a good game, over the middle with a complete pass at the Sonora five-yard line.

Seconds later Bass passed to tight end Howard Ledbetter for the score. The two-point conversion failed.

Sonora added to its first scoring effort by tacking on a scoring run with 4:34 remaining on the clock. The PAT failed and it was 12-0.

In the second period the Broncos scored from the two yard line with 7:33 showing and on a pass with 2:51 remaining to clinch the contest.

Neither team could score in the final half, as the Eagles had several promising drives thwarted by turnovers.

This Friday night the Eagles entertain playoff-hardened Mason on the local field. The Puncers are unbeaten and should be a real test for the War Birds of Coach Armando San Miguel. Kickoff will be at 8 p.m.

HEAD EAGLE--Eldorado Eagle mascot Lou Anne Crowder continues to rack up the mascot honors. See story.

Mascot is winner

Lou Anne Crowder, Eldorado High School's mascot, was recently nominated by the National Cheerleaders Association to receive honorary award recognition. Also, Lou Anne will have her biography published in the "Who's Who Among American High School Students", 1988-89. She will have the opportunity to apply for a $1,000 scholarship.

Who's Who is the largest, most widely respected publication in the nation recognizing students who have demonstrated leadership in academics, athletics and school or community activities. Over 14,000 high schools and our country's most prominent youth organizations nominate students for this national honorary award.

Miss Crowder was elected "Best Mascot For 1988" at this past summer's cheerleading camp at Seguin. She received a plaque and will be participating in this year's Cotton Bowl Parade and football festivities in Dallas. See MASCOT, Page 6

ANOTHER GOOD 'UN GONE...

Jimmie West is gone and nothing will bring him back. Eldorado and Schleicher County will never be quite the same again.

We will miss Jimmie. He was one of the first to come into the office and welcome us back to Eldorado two years ago and since then he has seldom been a stranger, dropping in to give us a news tip or tease us with a political rumor or two.

We'll never forget the last time we saw the old codger. (We called him 'old codger' and he seemed to like it!)

He came in the office as spry as a cat and sporting his usual smile.

"Hey, T.B., I gotta story I wanna tell you..." pointing his finger at us in the process and already smiling, apparently savoring the punchline of the joke he was about to tell.

And we remember Jimmie last winter when he and a dozen or so others of us huddled around a campfire and waited for the arrival of a group of orphans from Fort Worth.

Jimmie was a member of the local Masonic Lodge and lodge members and several others of us were going to guide the orphans on a deer hunt the next day and Sunday.

With the reflection of the campfire twinkling in his eyes the veteran ranchman recounted more Schleicher County history in an hour than we could have garnered from three history books.

But that's the way Jimmie was if he liked you. If he liked you he started pointing that finger and telling stories.

In the style of a true West Texican he never flaunted anything he had and worked hard until the day he died.

He thought a lot of Grandpa Sofge too, and the last time he came by he grew serious for a moment and asked if we had seen Cramer. He hadn't heard anything from his old podner and wanted to make sure he was okay.

Monday morning this columnist drew the duty of calling Grandpa and telling him of Jimmie's death. Grandpa will miss him too.

Jimmie was a good cowboy, a good person and a good 'un! Goodbye Jim.

Dove season update

Several dove hunters from around Texas have phoned the Eldorado Success recently, inquiring about the condition of dove hunting in the Schleicher area.

Tuesday the Success asked Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Game Warden Mike Porter about local conditions.

Porter said that while hunting had been a little slow due to a lack of birds, conditions were improving.

"I just got in from riding around and there appears to be a lot of young birds. The problem here is a lack of dove leases for people to get on and shoot."

CHURCH COULD CLOSE

Bishop's visit slated

On Sunday, September 25, the Rev. Earl McArthur, Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of West Texas, will be visiting Saint Mary's Episcopal Church, Eldorado.

Bishop McArthur's visit will serve two purposes. First, he will be making the annual Bishop's visitation to Saint Mary's. It is traditional in the Episcopal Church that a bishop of the diocese makes a yearly visit to each parish or mission church.

During these visits, bishops celebrate the Holy Eucharist, confirm new members of the church, and, if necessary, visit the sick and shut-in.

Second, a most critical aspect of the Bishop's visit to Eldorado this year is to determine the feasibility of keeping Saint Mary's Church open.

Saint Mary's Church has served Episcopalians for over 30 years in Eldorado, but in the past few years has experienced a drastic decline in membership and attendance. The bishop, and the Vicar, The Rev. Monte Jones, invite and urge all Episcopalians and "would-be" Episcopalians to attend this service on September 25 at 8 a.m. if they are concerned for and interested in an Episcopal presence in Eldorado.

It has also been noted that it will be essential that those who come and express interest in the continued operation of Saint Mary's Church continue their support through attendance and good stewardship, in order for the church to continue to keep its doors open.

Due to an almost total lack of communicants, services, at this time, are now held only one Sunday a month, but that could change if there were to be increases in attendance and support.

The Rev. Mr. Jones, on behalf of the Bishop, the diocese, and the very few but very loyal members of Saint Mary's Episcopal Church, urges all who have an interest in seeing this facet of Christ's body continue to provide ministry to the Episcopalians of Schleicher County be in church on Sunday, September 25 at 8 a.m.

Dukakis Gun Bill aimed at BB Guns

Michael Dukakis' gun control laws in Massachusetts are so liberal "they make felons out of kids who own a BB gun," said Tom Loeffler, co-chairman of the Texas George Bush for President Campaign.

"That's right, own a Daisy, go to jail," Loeffler said. "Michael Dukakis is a tried and true liberal who not only wants to confiscate the firearms in America but also thinks children who own a BB gun and don't register it with the state should be in prison."

In his state, Dukakis signed legislation which imposes a one-year prison sentence on anyone caught with a gun which was not registered with the state—including children caught with BB guns. When the state legislature realized the silliness of the law, it passed a corrective measure which would not make felons out of children. Dukakis vetoed the corrective legislation.

"Michael's gun law says every handgun, rifle, shotgun and BB gun must be registered and every owner licensed," Loeffler said. "That kind of ultraliberal legislation may be popular in Massachusetts, but it won't cut it in Texas. There is a clear choice in this election. George Bush is a conservative who supports law-abiding citizens right to own a gun. Dukakis wants us to register our guns and if we don't, he'll take them away."

—letters to the editor—

Dear Editor,
I read the statement of Linda Creel in the September 15, 1988 edition of the Eldorado Success.

My initial reaction was—"Wait just a damn minute, lady!" Then I regained my composure—I am well known for my composure under conditions such as this—and decided that there is no place for emotion in this matter.

Ms. Creel first compares coaching stipends to library books. I believe it would be more useful to compare coaching stipends to salaries for instruction and administration.

The $31,400.00 for coaching stipends in the 1988-89 budget compares to $1,555,101.00 for instructional and administrative salaries and benefits. This translates to $49.52 in instructional and administrative salaries for each dollar spend for coaching stipends.

By the way, an assistant football coach receives approximately $2.00 for each hour spent coaching.

I'm sure we would all prefer to have teachers who are certified. In some cases, however, the best applicant for a particular position may not be certified. This does not mean they are not qualified.

I strongly support our teaching staff and I believe the two "non-certified" individuals referred to by Ms. Creel exhibit exceptional commitment and dedication to their work.

They are very well qualified for their positions and have a plan that will enable them to become certified within the allotted time.

Ms. Creel continues her statement by saying that "Those Eldorado students who took the ACT between the fall of 1984 and the spring of 1988 scored below the national average in all areas tested".

Does she mean that each of the individual students scored below the national average? If so, she is mistaken.

Some people will tell you that numbers don't lie, but I will assure you that you can make numbers support just about any story you wish to tell.

Each year, several students who have not been on the "college preparatory" curriculum during high school decide to take college entrance exams.

In general, they are not as well prepared and they do not score as well as the students who have been on the college prep curriculum.

This naturally brings down the overall average for all Eldorado students who take the exams. We continue to have students who do extremely well on the entrance exams when you consider individual scores.

We also continue to have Eldorado graduates who attend major colleges and universities. Many Eldorado graduates have received scholarships and other academic recognition which indicates that our "no good" school system must have done something right.

I don't think our local school is perfect—it never has been and never will be. I know we can continue to make improvements which will make Schleicher County I.S.D. even better than it presently is.

I'm proud for my children and children of my friends and neighbors to have the opportunity to attend a very fine school.

Sincerely,
Richard Sterling

Dear Editor,

I am responding to the letter written by Linda Creel in September 15's paper. I graduated from Eldorado in 1985. I am now a senior at Angelo State University and will graduate in May.

I fall under Creel's category of "not measuring up to the norm" since I took the ACT test and SAT test during this period and planned on attending college. I feel I couldn't have made it as far as I have without the concern of my teachers and the educational values I learned while attending EHS. I have nothing but respect for the time and effort the teachers of Eldorado put in to making our school the best it can be. Granted, there's always going to be problems with any school system, but to say EHS is not a "good school" or not even an "average school" is a falsehood.

Standardized test scores, such as the SAT and ACT, have always played an important part in our school system, but one must remember that there are skills that can't be measured by a test where one colors in the correct dots. One must also remember that students must be willing to learn what is being taught them. Those willing to learn and pursue an education to the best of their ability will come out on top. Those who don't give a whole-hearted effort to learn end up pulling the whole school system down, as well as the test scores.

Eldorado's school system provided the type of learning environment that my grandparents felt was good enough for my parents and my parents felt was good enough for me. I am very proud to have graduated from Eldorado High School and wouldn't have it any other way. If Ms. Creel isn't satisfied with EHS may I suggest she try to find a better school in the surrounding area—if she can.

Signed
A very grateful and satisfied EHS graduate Michelle Walker

unities hold "October Fests" of one sort or another. These events can range from small church socials to wide ranging events involving the whole town. There is usually plenty of good smoked turkey or sausage, polka music and handicraft to admire or purchase.

Football is surely a big part of fall in Texas. (Now, there is an understatement of major proportions!) Watching the Friday night game in short sleeves while fanning yourself with the program cuts into that "Fall" feeling but only a little, especially if your team is winning.

On the other hand folks in Montana are already shoveling snow, so it does not appear to me that they have that much time to have "Fall" at all.

The local apple and pear crop seems to indicate "Fall" is here. There haven't been too many ducks or geese seen overflying the divide yet, but they may not be this far south yet.

Fort Concho day coming October 1

Step back in time at Fort Concho for a day of cavalry charges, infantry rifle volleys, 1880s-style baseball, an evening dance, refreshments and dozens of Indian Wars soldiers in uniform on Saturday, October 1.

The Fort Concho Troops will take on the San Angelo media in an 1880s baseball game, complete with period uniforms, nineteenth century rules, and a field laid out to the specifications of a century ago. The "Concho Nine" has won all but one its games in the past three years, some come out and support them or the Media Underdogs. Game time on the fort parade ground is 4 p.m.

At 6 p.m. the troops leave the baseball diamond for the drill field nearby and display the horsemanship and tactics that made the infantry and cavalry so formidable on the frontier. The Fort Concho Cavalry will perform their famed charge while the 16th Infantry and Buffalo Soldiers will display the fire power that made dismounted troops so feared by their Indian foes.

Beginning at 8 p.m. Shadow Fax will supply the music on the dance floor at the nearby Arc Light Saloon. Soldiers in uniform with their ladies in long dresses will be there. The public is invited to dress in the late nineteenth century costume of their choice.

All afternoon and evening refreshments will be available. A family picnic—bring your own and take advantage of the food and drinks for sale—will take place as the troops perform their drills.

The baseball game and drill

I guess most people all over the country don't really feel "Fall" until October and Halloween are upon them. Once we have something hot to drink when we come in from out-of-doors or when the straw hats are all put away. Another real good sign is when we glass wearers come in from outside and our lenses fog up.

When and where I grew up we knew it was fall, not only by the color of the tree leaves but by the smell of fresh bread baking. It just came to me that one other sound of the fall was the tingle of the grocer's door bell.

It was a small brass bell on a coil and every time I would push that heavy door open it would welcome me with the sound of an angel getting his wings. It didn't ring in the summer, probably because the door was open and only a screen door blocked my way.

Maybe the tingle of a bell just isn't as well heard in the summer?

performance is free and open to all. Tickets for the dance cost $5 for individuals, $8 for couples, and $50 for a table that accommodates ten people. All proceeds will benefit the Fort Concho Living History Program.

Fort Concho is located just south of downtown San Angelo and can be reached by Highways 67, 87, 208 and 277. For more information contact Fort Concho at (915) 657-4441.

growth fund will be managed by a board of trustees consisting of four members appointed by the Governor and one member from and elected by the membership of each of the following: The Board of Regents of the University of Texas System; The Board of Regents of the Texas A&M System; The Board of Trustees of the Teacher's Retirement System of Texas; The Board of Trustees of the Employee's Retirement System of Texas; and the State Board of Education. The trustees may set the investment policy of the fund, enter into investment contracts, and take any action necessary for the creation, administration, and protection of the fund. The amendment authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System and the State Board of Education, in managing the permanent university fund and the permanent school fund, to acquire, exchange, sell, supervise, manage, or retain any kind of investment, including investments in the Texas growth fund. The fund will be phased out after the tenth anniversary of its creation, but the Legislature may create a second growth fund by a two thirds vote of each house.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the investment of the permanent university fund, the permanent school fund, and public employee retirement systems in the Texas growth fund created by the amendment, which will directly create, retain, and expand job opportunity and economic growth in Texas."

EHS has many Clubs

Eldorado High School is very fortunate to have a great variety of clubs and organizations that enrich students through many varied activities and service opportunities. Below is a brief sketch of those groups and their importance to Eldorado High School.

TALON YEAR BOOK

Although Talon is a class, it is also a united group of students that work for the purpose of creating a memory book for each year of happenings in our schools and community.

The yearbook is entitled "Talon", which is derived from the Eagle's claw. Many hours of planning and hard work go into this book to make it a treasure down through the years.

The Talon class this year contains 19 students.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is a national organization in which the Eldorado Chapter is a part. The eligibility of juniors and seniors is determined by the local chapter. New members must have an 87 grade average or higher since their freshman year of high school.

Active members must maintain this average to remain a member of the society. This society brings recognition to those students who seek a level of high academic achievement and reflect a standard of integrity and dependability.

Eldorado is very proud of its National Honor Society students.

Mrs. Su Scott and Mrs. Pat Moore are the sponsors of the local chapter and they are very dedicated to making this organization one of the best chapters in the nation. They are planning several projects for this school year and future years.

The National Honor Society is sponsoring "the principal's A-B Team" this year. "The A-Team" is made up of students who have made the six weeks honor roll. To qualify for the honor roll a student must have an overall average in each of his or her classes of 90 or above for each of the six week periods. At the end of the school year, the principal's A-Team will be treated to a day in San Antonio.

This year's membership is 10 students. Officers for this year are Stan Meador, president; Dusty Barton, vice-president; Kimberly Scott, secretary; Ashley Johnson, treasurer; and reporter, Charissa Halbert.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This report on Eldorado High School clubs and organizations will be continued in next week's Success. t.b.

Tri-County Camp set in October

It is time to go to Camp again! The Tri-County Nutrition Project and Concho Valley Council of Governments are sponsoring a Rural Senior Citizen's Retreat at the H.E. Butt Foundation Camp in the Texas Hill Country for the elderly of the region.

The Retreat is scheduled to begin with check in at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, October 10, and will last until check out at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, October 12.

The Retreat will be at Singing Hills this year. This facility will accommodate 100 campers and has 10 cabins, pavilions and a large waterfront and playground area. A large kitchen and dining room are located at the camp site. All cabins have complete baths, vented heat and bunk beds.

Reservations must be received by September 30. After this date, refunds will be made only for medical reasons or death of next of kin.

Because so many campers have requested no "KP", the camp this year will be $30 per person. This payment covers cost of meals and insurance and clean up.

Each camper is responsible for his/her transportation to Camp. "Car Pooling" is suggested because of the shortage of parking space. Please do not park cars on grass or play areas. Do not bring large buses (such as Greyhounds) as the road is too narrow for them to enter. Campers coming in large buses will

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 1988

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that when the federal government reimburses the state for expenditures of state funds dedicated to acquiring rights-of-way and for constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways, such federal funds must also be used for those purposes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment and/or clarification providing that federal reimbursement of state highway dedicated funds are themselves dedicated for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way and constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury. The fund would consist of one half of the unencumbered balance of general revenues at the end of a biennium and three fourths of the difference between the net oil and gas production taxes received in a fiscal year and the net oil and gas production taxes received in the 1987 fiscal year. During any fiscal biennium, the amount in the economic stabilization fund could not exceed 10% of the total deposited in general revenue in the preceding biennium.

The state comptroller and the state treasurer could decide to transfer monies from the fund into the general revenue fund to alleviate a temporary cash shortage in general revenue. The legislature could make appropriations from the fund on approval by a three fifths vote of each house to make up the difference between anticipated general revenue and appropriations. On approval of two thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, the legislature could appropriate monies from the fund for any purpose.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment establishing an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury to be used to offset unforeseen shortfalls in revenue."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that establishes the Texas growth fund. All investments of the Texas growth fund must be directly related to furthering economic growth and employment opportunities in Texas. At least 50 percent of the fund must be invested in equity and/or debt security for the initial construction, expansion, or modernization of business or industrial facilities in Texas. Not more than ten percent of the fund may be invested in venture capital investments. Of the funds available for venture capital investments, not more than 25 percent may be invested unilaterally, and the remaining investments must be matched at least equally by funds from other sources. ## Chili Supper slated

The Eldorado Eagle Booster Club will host a Chili Supper on October 7 from 5:30 until 6:45 p.m.

The supper will be held at the high school cafeteria before the homecoming activities begin.

There will be chili and beans and all the fixings for $2.50 per person.

"Come out and support the boys this weekend and join in on the victory line at halftime to boost the Eldorado Eagles," A SPOKESMAN SAID.

Vaccinations for children mandatory

You may be old enough to have grandchildren if you can recall when vaccinations for youngsters were neither available nor required in Texas. Some parents of children entering school and day care this year were themselves born after the advent of modern vaccines.

They do not realize that only a few decades ago, such deadly and disabling diseases as polio and diphtheria threatened every child, and outbreaks and epidemics occurred more frequently every year.

But with the development of vaccines, large-scale outbreaks of some once-common diseases may have become items in our history books. Texas law requires children entering day care or school, public or private, to be immunized at certain ages against polio, tetanus, measles, rubella (German measles), mumps, and diphtheria. In addition, the law requires pertussis (whooping cough) vaccine for all children less than five years old in day care and public school. The Texas Department of Health (TDH) further recommends the pertussis vaccine for all children through age six.

Not only have immunizations for these diseases averted misery and death for thousands, they have proved to be the nation's most cost-effective preventive health care practice. It is estimated that these vaccinations, begun early in childhood and kept up-to-date, save at least $1 billion in health costs each year in the U.S.

Robert D. Crider, director of the TDH Immunization Division, said, "The vaccine-preventable diseases are certainly not wiped out, but they could be, if everyone would be sure to keep their immunizations current." Today's victims include not only children whose parents have neglected their youngsters' immunizations, but also adults who have allowed their own diphtheria-tetanus immunizations to lapse.

In 1987 TDH recorded sporadic outbreaks of measles (452 cases), mumps (338), pertussis (111), rubella (5), and tetanus (5) in the state. No cases of either polio or diphtheria were reported.

Small treasures: Microscopic diamonds older than the sun and the planets have been found imbedded in three different kinds of meteorites. Chemically unaltered since before the solar system was formed four and a half billion years ago, International Wildlife magazine reports that the diamonds may be the oldest particles ever discovered. They are so small that trillions of them could fit on the head of a pin.

EMS week declared

Gov. William P. Clements, Jr. has proclaimed September 18-24 "Emergency Medical Services Week in Texas". The event honors the specially trained persons whose timely actions often make the difference between life and death. The Texas Department of Health and local EMS groups will sponsor activities throughout the week to educate Texans about EMS.

"Knowing how to call EMS, and what to do in the first minutes of an emergency are sometimes crucial to a victim's survival," said Gene Weatherall, chief of the TDH Bureau of Emergency Management.

"When you call EMS," Weatherall said, "stay on the line until the dispatcher tells you to hang up the phone. In many cases, EMS is on the way while you are still talking to the dispatcher."

"If possible, you should also turn on your porch light, and have someone wait by the road to direct the EMS crew," Weatherall added.

More than 40,000 EMS persons are certified in Texas. TDH and its regional offices closely monitor the training, certification and field work of all EMS personnel.

"Dependable emergency medical care is our goal, and Texas' EMS is a leader in the nation," Weatherall said.

Texas ambulances respond to more than a million calls each year. State law requires each vehicle be licensed by TDH, and that each be staffed by at least two persons certified in EMS.

For more information on EMS training and responses, contact TDH at 512-458-7550.

Insurance program announced for '88

The crop insurance program announced for 1989-crop winter wheat will enable producers in Schleicher County to tailor a policy to their own needs and budgets, according to Dottie Sampley, Area Claims Consultant for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

yields increases the maximum amount of protection, Sampley says.

Until now, producers have had to provide detailed, year-by-year records to qualify for yield-based production guarantees. Under new rules, only a signed yield certification is needed, along with records that can be supplied on request.

The deadline to apply for insurance on wheat is September 30, 1988. But Sampley suggests that interested producers should apply as early as possible to provide agents with time to determine the most favorable and affordable level of available coverage.

The coverage options permits selecting both the yield guarantee and the amount of the indemnity to be paid per bushel in the event of a crop loss.

The streamlined policies also make it easier for wheat growers to obtain production guarantees based on their own previous yield experiences. A record of high

New Hotline for illiterate folks

For the estimated one in five Texans who are functionally illiterate, and those who want to help them learn to read, a new source of help is available. In a news conference at the Capitol, First Lady Rita Clements announced a toll-free literacy information hotline, which will be administered by the Texas Literacy Council, a division of the Texas Department of Commerce.

development. For many reasons, it is important to provide basic literacy skills for all Texans."

The hotline number is 1-800-441-7323 (1-800-441-READ) and has been activated for calls from within Texas effective immediately. Calls will be answered by Texas Literacy Council staff members. Using a donated computer data base, they will provide locations for literacy training to potential students, give instructions on how to begin a literacy program to potential literacy providers and share information between literacy programs that wish to expand or improve their services.

The hotline will be publicized by statewide public service announcements.

The Texas Literacy Council was created by the 70th Legislature. Its goals are to make literacy instruction available in every Texas community, to identify and coordinate available literacy service, to break the cycle of illiteracy by providing services to individuals in need, and to promote literacy projects for the economic well-being of Texans and the Texas economy.

"Literacy is the foundation on which an individual's personal growth as well as employability are based," said Mrs. Clements. "From a strictly economic point of view, there is a permanent and direct link between educational achievement and economic de-

ORANGE AID: There's a new killer chemical on the horizon, devastating to household pests but apparently safe for humans, animals and the environment. And it smells great. According to National Wildlife magazine, the magic ingredient is citrus oil from orange peels. Researchers have found it to be a valuable replacement for poison in killing houseflies, fleas and fire ants.

Whitis died Saturday in San Antonio after an extended illness. He was born April 26, 1905 and married Helen Miller on November 9, 1935 in Fort Worth.

He retired from public school administration several years ago. His career in administration spanned 48 years and included stints as administrator and teacher.

He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Sheepmen had to be tough

BY RENE CALCOTE

Despite resistance from the cattlemen, sheepmen moved into Schleicher County with their sheep herds about 1880. The sheepmen found the area good sheep land and soon outnumbered the cattle ranchers.

Early day sheep ranching was quiet different from today's methods.

The sheep were divided into flocks of fifteen hundred with one man, who was known as "sheep rustler". Two other men herded the sheep and took care of two flocks in open range.

The Chuckwagon was a wagon drawn by two horses. It carried bedding, provisions and cooking utensils for the "outfit". The end of the wagon contained a chuckbox for provisions, which folded down and made a table. A saddle horse was carried with the outfit also.

The first woven wire or "wolf proof" fence was erected by Edd Ratliff in 1909. He fenced one section of land in the wire, which was 26 inches high. Cedar posts held the woven wire tight with three barbed wires at the top.

This "wolf proof" fence was erected by Joe Tisdale. The cattlemen predicted that Tisdale would have to sell his land to pay for the eight miles of fence. This proved untrue and the fence soon paid for itself. Tisdale bought more land and became one of the top sheep and goat raisers of the county.

The first sheep run by Schleicher County ranchers were of a Delaine type and while small, Delaine sheep produced high quality wool.

As the demand for mutton increased, ranchers crossed Delaines with Lincoln and Cotswold sheep to get more mutton, but there was a loss in the wool production.

Eventually, Rambouillet sheep became the dominant breed in Schleicher County because they are hardy and produce good mutton, good wool and lots of lambs.

Angoras, which are good mohair producers, are the dominant breed of goats.

IN NEW ALMANAC

Bits of wisdom abound

BY TERRY B. NEILL

Published every year since 1792, The Old Farmer's 1989 Almanac by Robert B. Thomas is off the press once again.

Still thought of as almost a Bible by many farmers and ranchers, the new version contains planting tables, Zodiac secrets and recipes. It also features astronomical tables, tides, holidays, eclipses, etc.

Inside the $2.50 almanac the editors explain that about nine million people in the United States read the publication each year. Their median age is 59.5 years and most live on more than one acre of land.

Many farmers in West Texas still use the Almanac to tell them when to plant or harvest their crops, and respect runs high for the book's long-term weather predictions, which even if in error, draw much discussion at the coffee shops and spit and whittle benches across the country.

After perusing 28 pages of advertising in the front of this year's version of the Almanac, you will get into a myriad of features, touching on many topics.

The Almanac predicts that there will be a total eclipse of the moon on February 20 and a total eclipse of the sun on March 7.

Making interesting reading too are the many classified ads that the Almanac contains, coming from all over the nation.

Here's a few samples:

- Squirrel tails wanted.
- Top prices paid for your goose and duck feathers.
- Become an ordained minister.

--Find your true love--Christian companions.

- Family tree research.
- Rainbow Revitalizing Ranch for women.
- Spells performed immediately.

Other little goodies included in this issue are articles on how to get your child into an Ivy League school, recipes for hard-tack, Flash! A Passionate Kiss Burns The Calories In One Potato Chip, Want To Know How Many Children You'll Have?, and How Long Life Should Be.

In short the new, 'er old book has a little something for everyone and will no doubt be as popular as ever.

Club names officers

Angelo man dies in Bullriding

A benefit bullriding, scheduled in Eldorado last Sunday to benefit an injured local cowboy ended in tragedy when a San Angelo contestant was killed.

Some 54 riders had signed up for the benefit, organized to help raise funds for hospital bills for Eldorado's Michael Phillips, who was injured recently when he was thrown and the bull stepped on his face.

Most of the bullriders pulled out and went home Sunday, however, due to inclement weather, spurred north by hurricane Gilbert. The Eldorado area received over three inches of rains over the weekend and the local arena was extremely muddy.

According to a witness about 11 or 12 riders decided to try their luck anyway and the competition got underway. Two other riders had already been thrown and slightly injured when San Angelo's Mark Hatcher came up.

Hatcher was thrown and the bull either stepped on his face or kicked him in the head. Schleicher County EMS personnel transported him to a San Angelo hospital but he was dead on arrival.

Funeral services for Hatcher, 28, were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Second Baptist Church. Burial was in Sunset Gardes, directed by Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home.

He was born September 14, 1960 in Fort Stockton. He was a member of the Second Baptist Church.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Hatcher of Odessa; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T.A. Hatcher of Logansport, La.; his girlfriend, Debbie Snelson of San Angelo; one brother, Alton Hatcher of Odessa; one sister, Barbara Jones of Odessa; and several nieces and nephews.

Rodeo Club does well at Rankin Rodeo

Saturday, September 17 the rain came down, but it did not stop Eldorado's High School Rodeo Club. The club was well represented in Rankin by members Bradley Bass, Amy Henderson, Crissi McCormick, Ashley Johnson, Mondee Nelson, Skeeter Roubison and Cy Griffin.

Amy Henderson placed first in breakaway roping. Ashley Johnson placed first in barrel racing. In saddle broncs Skeeter Roubison placed second and Shane Criswell was third. Crissi McCormick placed third in breakaway and seventh in pole bending. Cy Griffin was sixth in calf roping and eighth in team roping.

"These young people did a fine job under very adverse weather conditions. They were wet and muddy at the end of the day, but their smiles and good spirits were not dampened. The Sunday rodeo at Rankin was cancelled due to the weather," a spokesman said.

Next Saturday and Sunday the club will be in Odessa. "It is a real joy working with these outstanding young people. Best of luck in Odessa," rodeo sponsor Anne Darnell said.
