McKavett Breeders Claim Honors

Each year The American Hereford Association honors the top ten "Premier Breeders" and "Show Bulls and Heifers of the Year."

Mark McClintock and James L. Powell, both of Fort McKavett, have received special recognition honoring their accomplishments. Their breeding programs were among 130 Hereford breeders that exhibited 254 Herefords in ten shows comprising the Southwest Region, one of seven show regions designated by the AHA.

McClintock has earned recognition as a "Premier Breeder" and owner of MCC Mabel 7128, a heifer listed among the top ten "Show Heifers of the Year."

The Powell operation has earned recognition as owner of L1 Point 808

1ET, a bull named among the top ten "Show Bulls of the Year". The "Show Bull" is also owned by Koonsman Ranch of Snyder.

Rocking Chair Ranch of Fort McKavett, owned by Loyd Whitehead and managed by Mark McClintock also received special recognition for its breeding program.

The Rocking Chair operation has earned recognition as an owner of RCR L1 Dom 160D 5ET, a bull named among the top ten "Show Bulls of the Year," and as the runner-up "Premier Breeder". The "Show Bull" is also owned by Morris Hereford Farms of Henderson. Rocking Chair accumulated show points and premiums on 13 different entries throughout their travels to seven regional shows and the National Western.

Points determining the Southwest Region "Premier Breeder" and "Show Bull and Heifer of the Year" were based on attendance at regional shows held in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, and show placings. Points with added importance were given at regional classic and national shows.

The American Royal Livestock Show, North American Livestock Exposition, Western Nugget Hereford Show and National Western Stock Show, served as national competitions. Only Herefords having shown in at least one-regional show were eligible for national show points.

Nationally, approximately 675 Hereford breeders exhibited more than 1,218 individual animals within the seven show regions.

Larry Blair Hired For Superintendent's Position

The Schleicher County Independent School Board of Trustees hired Larry D. Blair Monday night, June 12, to fill the position of superintendent, due to the recent resignation of J. Weldon Moore.

Blair was a 1964 graduate of Eldorado High School. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in history from Angelo State University in 1968 with a provisional teaching certificate. He received his Master of Education from ASU in 1976 with a mid-management certification and professional and life certificate.

He received his Superintendency Certificate from Sul Ross State University in Alpine in 1979. He has instructional leadership training and appraisal training.

Blair received his Doctorate in educational administration from the University of Texas at Austin in 1983. His dissertation was: "A Comprehensive Analysis of the Financial Practices of School District Selected by Data Envelopment Analysis Efficiency Indices."

Beginning his teaching career as a teacher and coach at Robert Lee Independent School District in 1968, he then moved on to principal and teacher in the Medina Independent School District in 1974, and was a teacher and coach in the Fort Stockton School District in 1978.

He was superintendent in the Eden School District in 1980. In 1981 he attended the University of Texas at Austin for fellow cooperative superintendency program. He then went to Brady where he was superintendent of schools. From there he was assistant executive director of the Texas Association of School Administrators in Austin and has presently been serving as principal at Brady Junior High School.

Blair comes to Eldorado with many scholastic honors received in high school and in college. He served many service and honorary positions throughout his career. He has been involved in public education 20 years.

First Half Of 1989 Sees Increase In Sales Tax Allocations

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that local sales tax allocations to cities, counties and transit authorities across the state increased 14.2 percent during the first half of 1989, compared to the first half of 1988.

"The Texas economy continues to strengthen and expand, and the local sales tax rebates reflect that growth," Bullock said. "Even payments to economic areas that haven't fully recovered, such as Austin and San Antonio, are improving."

In the first six months of 1989, statewide city allocations totaled $512.5 million. Last year's payments for the first six months were $465.9 million.

Checks totaling $66.3 million were sent Friday to 875 cities that impose local sales tax at either one or one and one-half percent, Bullock said.

Bullock added that the June 1988 monthly allocation was unusually large, so this month's payments compared to June 1988 payments may appear to be slightly lower than they actually are.

"The best indicator of sales tax rebate trends is the year-to-date totals. One payment won't give as accurate a comparison as six payments," Bullock said.

Eldorado's net payment for this period was $3,559.47, compared to $4,456.34 for the same period last year, a decrease of 20.13 percent. However, 1989 payments to date are $31,344.72 compared to last year's total of $29,477.79, an increase of 6.33 percent.

Other area towns and their allotments are: Sonora, $11,134.75 compared to $13,066.13 last month, a decrease of 14.78 percent; Mertzon, $2,126.03, compared to $2,048.31 last month, an increase of 3.79 percent; Menard, $2,180.48 compared to $2,032.56 last month, an increase of 7.28 percent; and San Angelo, $329,567.16 compared to $329,567.16 last month, an increase of 6.34 percent.

June's checks represent taxes collected in April by monthly filers and reported to the Comptroller's office by May 22, Bullock said.

Life Among The Fishes

By Thomas Giovannitti

Have you ever wondered:

"Where do those pieces of the weed-eater plastic line go when they get broken off?"

"Where do bugs who live under that old piece of carpet in the back yard go after you throw it away? And how come those bugs only live under things and how do they find each other in the dark?"

"Who designed those wash basins in public rest rooms that as soon as you put on the water it splashes on your trousers right in the front? Didn't this guy ever feel embarrassed coming out of the rest room with wet pants?"

"How is it that flies can get in through a very tiny hole in a screen but they cannot get back out the same hole?"

"Better yet, how can bugs get inside the glass bulb of the kitchen overhead light but can't get back out?"

"Why does the mosquito in the bedroom always fly into your ear? How does he find your ear in the dark? And why do they only fly in your ear one at a time?"

"Why do mosquito bites only bother your children when it is time for them to go to bed?"

"Why does flying insect spray only kill flying insects and ant and roach killer spray kill only ants and roaches? I mean, how do the bugs know the difference? And if bugs do know the difference, why don't the flying bugs walk everywhere?"

"Why is there two-ply toilet paper and one-ply toilet paper? Doesn't everyone use enough paper so they won't get their hand dirty?"

"What was wrong with the old style toothpaste tube that the manufacturers had to come out with the "pump"? What is tartar control anyway? Does that mean that, if you use that type of paste, you won't get any more tartar or that you only get a certain amount?"

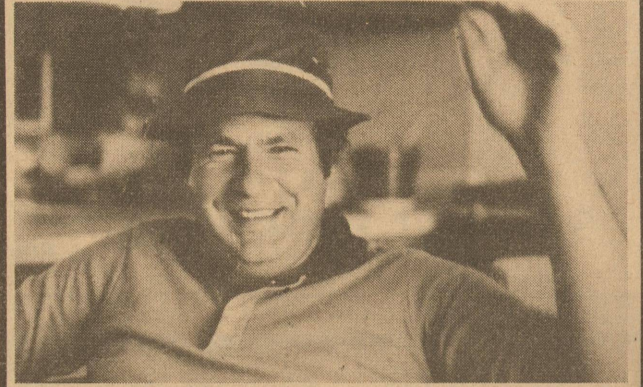

"Did the guy who invented the peanut butter with the jelly already in it keep his job? Did anyone ever buy a second jar of that stuff?"

"Why, when the electric power goes off the digital clock always come back on at the twelve o'clock setting farthest away from the hour that the power went off?"

I know there is no answer to that last question since I believe it has something to do with the rotation of the earth or the position of the moon.

Laugh and Live

by Gary Smith

If I were two-faced, would I be wearing this one?

--Abraham Lincoln

A hawk, a lion and a skunk were arguing over who was the most feared animal in the jungle.

The hawk said, "I am feared more than any animal in the jungle because I attack from above and see things that no one else can see."

The lion said, "I am the strongest animal in the jungle and no one can doubt it."

The skunk said, "I can put up a stink that will scare man and beast out of the jungle."

As the three were engrossed in this discussion, a grisly bear came along and swallowed them all--hawk, lion and stinker.

Have never swallowed a hawk, lion and stinker. I have, however, swallowed a lot of stories-- hook, line and sinker!

Today, I'm thinking about those folk who ride into town, guns blazing, promising to "support the community". And after much brouha, actually support nothing but themselves.

When we are misled, there's not a lot that we can do about it. Not a lot...

Then again...

The thing that makes men and rivers crooked is following the lines of least resistance.

God had something special in mind when He made fathers. He gave them a specific role in life.

A boy needs a father to teach him to be a man, to lead him through life and teach him to be strong, gentle and loving. A girl needs a father too, to protect her, and to teach her to be a woman.

Fathers come in many shapes and sizes. They drive trucks, cars, lawnmowers, and golf clubs.

A father's arms are good for throwing a football, opening a jar of pickles, helping Mom move the furniture, fixing a flat bicycle tire, helping a neighbor, and for hugging his children.

A father likes to growl sometimes when he finds his tools missing, the gas tank is empty, the yard is cluttered, Mom fixes a new "throw everything in it" casserole, and he can't find a clean bath towel.

But a father likes steak, mashed potatoes, fishing with his son, old cars, camping, his easy chair and Mom in a dress looking oh so pretty.

A father's voice is good for calling his kids to supper, reading a story, laying down the law, fussing about the bills and for saying "I love you" to Mom.

You can count on a father to be there when you need him most. He gives advice, protects, and is the guardian of the home.

Happy Father's Day, Dad! I love you!

The Way We See It

By Lola Squyres

"-- one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

When my daughter was in the fourth grade, she had a speaking part in a program at school. It expressed how I, as an America, feel about the symbol of our country. Several years later I asked her if she could remember it. She did. It is as follows:

"I am the flag of the United States. To many I am the outward sign of their devotion and allegiance. To others I represent the struggle that kept this country free.

"I have seen much since I first became the standard of our nation. It was June 14, 1977. Not long after that I saw General Lee surrender to Grant at Appomattox courthouse in 1865. I saw the surrender of General Johnny Burgoyne at Saratoga and of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

"In 1812 Francis Scott

Key watched me as Fort McHenry was bombarded. Through the early morning light he strained his eyes to see whether I had been hauled-down. How exalted the young poet was when he discovered I still floated free.

"I was with Peary at the North Pole and with Byrd at the South Pole and I've been to the moon with the astronauts. Yes, I've seen much. "Tributes and praises" have come to me from the high and the low and yet I know my finest moment comes each day when some small American citizen rises and in a clear voice reaffirms our faith in the future of this great land. " -- One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Those are great words to describe great ideals, the ideals of a country dedicated to the preservation of the dignity of man. I hope I may wave over this great nation forever."

Forest Meador To Attend Youth Range Workshop

FOREST MEADOR

Forest Meador was chosen to attend the Youth Range Workshop at the Texas Tech University Center, Junction, June 25-30. Selection was based on outstanding projects or interest in range management.

Forest's local sponsors are the Eldorado FFA and Eldorado-Divide Soil and Water Conservation District, strong supporters of range education and leadership development of local youth.

The weeklong Youth Range Workshop, sponsored by the Texas Section of the Society for Range Management, is arranged to recognize outstanding range and ranch youth and to provide them an opportunity for complimentary training in range management and leadership skills.

According to Barron Rector and B.J. Ragsdale, Workshop Coordinators from College Station, participants will learn to identify range plants, evaluate rangeland potential and current condition, manage rangeland for livestock production and wildlife habitat and practice ranch planning.

Leadership training will feature discussion of interpersonal relations, communications skills and group leading practice. Field trips away from the Center will be to a Kimble County ranch and the Kerr Wildlife Management Area in Kerr County.

Range Workshop instructors include Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists, teachers from Texas A&M and Texas Tech Universities, a range specialist from the Soil Conservation Service, and other members of the Texas Section SRM involved in the management of the rangeland resources.

This will be the 35th consecutive year for this educational activity for youth which began in 1955. More than 1000 youth have benefited.

An Apple A Day

by Smokey Taylor

I read an article printed in the March issue of Eye Magazine that I felt would be of interest to anyone taking the anti-gout medicine Allopurinol:

Twenty-five percent of 53 patients who had been receiving 300 mg per day allopurinol for gout for 18 months or longer developed a thinning of the anterior clear zone of the lens in their eyes, a phenomenon that is associated with the development of anterior subcapsular cataract. Additionally, 11.7% of the patients had anterior subcapsular opacities. Age was not necessarily a factor because almost 20 percent of those less than 55 years of age had evidence of the thinning. This finding was considered significant because the study was conducted in England where there is generally a lower level of ultraviolet radiation, which can dispose one to cataracts, than in the United States.

Eldorado Girl Wins 4-H Scholarship At Roundup

ASHLEY JOHNSON

Elizabeth Ashley Johnson was awarded an $8,000, four-year Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo 4-H scholarship in special ceremonies held at the Texas 4-H Roundup in College Station recently.

Ashley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Johnson, Jr., of Eldorado, recently graduated from high school. During her 4-H career, she served on the district council and on the 4-H and Youth Committee. She attended Texas 4-H Congress and received state honors in the Share-the-Fun contest. She was the recipient of the Gold Star Award.

While in high school, she was vice president of the student council, secretary of the National Honor Society and president of the Future Homemakers of America club. She was a varsity cheerleader and co-editor of the school yearbook.

Ashley, who plans to major in agricultural economics at Texas A&M University, was one of 50 Houston Livestock Show and rodeo 4-H scholarship winners honored.

The 4-H scholarship recipients were chosen by members of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The selected students all demonstrated academic excellence and strong leadership skills throughout their high school careers.

In presenting the 4-H scholarships, Show President Hal Hillman commented on the Show's ongoing commitment to the youth of Texas.

Scholarship funding is provided by revenues earned at the annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, a civic and charitable event made possible by the efforts of more than 6,000 volunteers. To date, the Show has committed more than $1.14 million in educational funds for the upcoming school year.

Texas High School Rodeo State Finals

The Texas High School Rodeo Association and the Guadalupe County Fair Association presents their production of the 43rd Annual Texas High School Rodeo State Finals. Shane Criswell of Eldorado will be competing at the state finals.

The performances will be held June 17-24 at the Guadalupe County Fairgrounds in Seguin with two performances daily, Tuesday through Friday at 9 a.m. and 7:30 and one performance on Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The Texas High School Rodeo Association is a non-profit organization, that enables young athletes to showcase their talents from throughout the state.

After a year of hard competition, the top four competitors in each event from each of the ten regions in the state advance to the State finals in Seguin.

Then the top four state cowboys and cowgirls in the events will go for the gold, by competing for the team trophy at the National Finals in Pueblo, Colorado in late July. Five of the past seven years, Texas teams have brought home the National Championship Trophy.

Oil and Gas Well Completions Increased

Texas oil and gas operators reported 254 gas and 450 oil completions in May, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance. In April the total was 207 gas and 364 oil completions. May 1988's total was 232 gas and 565 oil completions.

Gas completions in May included 11 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 49 in the Refugio area (District 2), 25 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 64 in deep South Texas (District 4), five in East Central Texas (District 5), 36 in East Texas (District 6), 20 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 13 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 12 in the Midland area (District 8), 13 in North Texas (District 9), and six in the Panhandle (District 10), according to Hance.

Oil completions included 51 in the San Antonio area, eight in the Refugio area, 38 in Southeast Texas, 16 in deep South Texas, 12 in East Central Texas, 15 in East Texas, 82 in West Central Texas, 39 in the San Angelo area, 70 in the Midland area, 41 in the Lubbock area, 51 in North Texas, and 18 in the Panhandle.

Total completions reported in May included 450 oil, 254 gas, and 50 service completions. In April, operators filed 364 oil, 207 gas, and 62 service completion reports.

In the first five months of 1989 the Commission has recorded a total of 3,523 well completions, a 21.5 percent decrease from the 4,489 well completions recorded during the same period of 1988.

Hance said operators reported 953 holes plugged in May, compared to 821 in April. A total of 282 dry holes were reported in May, compared to 238 in April.

Most school children can tell you two negatives make a positive, but few can name the man who first said so. It's said to have been John Lowth who first laid down that rule of grammar in 1762.

Things don't always turn out the way we want. Things don't always work out the way we plan.

Some hard-working young baseball players were disappointed last week when they were not allowed to play on a field that they had cleaned and cleared. They were not only disappointed, they were angry, as were their parents.

It seems that everyone was looking for someone to blame. It seemed logical to blame the person who owned the field and/or the people who were leasing the field.

The field is owned by Mr. Kenneth Homer. The field is leased by the Eldorado Cotton Gin.

The organization that is a lender to the gin has in their lending agreement that no monies loaned to the gin may be used for anything other than agricultural purposes.

According to Chris Mathis,

Wednesday Bridge Club Meets

On Wednesday, June 7, Shine Spigarilli entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club. Guests were Evelyn Wimer and Dick Bearce.

High score was won by Winnie Helen Ratliff; Duce prize by June Jones; and Bingo by Sue Glidden.

A short business meeting was conducted and the rules for the club were updated and revised. The hostess will be responsible for the news item each week.

Dessert was served to 12 members.

manager of the gin, it was regrettable that the boys had to give up their field. There was, however, nothing that he could do about it.

As a token of good will, Chris is making a donation to the Eldorado Pony League, on behalf of the gin, to buy balls and umpire equipment.

A new field has been acquired and these Pony Leaguers will play this Thursday and Saturday on their new field beside the rodeo arena.

I was impressed at how these young men accepted their disappointment with maturity. I was also impressed by Chris Mathis' efforts to work with them. All of these people are surely an asset to Schleicher County.

A Touch Of History

By Rene Calcote

According to Si McCarney, one of the early settlers in the county, the first party bolter appeared in the early history of the county at a county convention, held in the old courthouse.

The argument waxed rather warm and several speakers were trying to be heard at once. The hubbub was great, but above all the noise, suddenly there broke out a loud howl, mournful and prolonged.

It was Frank Bate's dog, which, with his tail between his legs and howling at every jump, jumped from the window of the courthouse and ran for dear life. He had bolted the convention. He was the first party bolter in the history of Schleicher County.

The first justice of peace in Schleicher County was Mr. C.C. West. One day after Mr. West was appointed, one of his children asked Mrs. West, "Ma, are we justices of the peace too?" Mrs. West replied, "No! No! Certainly not. Just me and your Pa are justices of the peace."

Mrs. Kate Robinson related, in the early 1900's, "As I see it, the very scarcest thing in all Schleicher County is "hen eggs". It seems as if the chickens were the slowest of all creatures in learning the possibilities of Schleicher County. "I have gone to neighbors houses and begged them to sell me only two or three eggs."

Mr. Finnis Bates, who moved to Eldorado in 1897, stated, "Never used tobacco in any form in my life. Had one drink of whiskey, to my discredit. This drink was taken one freezing day during the Civil War." At this time Bates was 97 years old.

Ranch Near Eldorado Certified Brucellosis-Free

Matt Brown, owner of the Trueheart Herd near Eldorado, has had his Beefmaster cattle certified brucellosis-free by the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC). Brucellosis, an incurable bacterial disease often called "Bangs's", is highly contagious among cows during pregnancy and calving, and can cause heavy losses due to abortions or weak calves.

The Trueheart Herd is one of 2,113 certified in the state.

Producers with certified herds have the advantage of shipping or selling cattle with fewer restrictions. Also, certified cows sold as breeding stock may command a higher price.

To have a herd certified, a producer enters into an agreement with the TAHC and has the herd's blood tested to ensure none of the animals are infected with brucellosis. If follow-up tests 10 to 14 months later also show no evidence of the disease, the herd is certified jointly by the TAHC and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). To remain certified, the herd must be tested yearly and be free of brucellosis.

As of September, 1988,

1,036 of the 145,899 herds in Texas were quarantined because of brucellosis.

Texas and six other southern states -- Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Florida and Louisiana -- have 92 percent of the brucellosis infection in the United States. Twenty-six states have no known infection, and 19 states have a very low infection rate. Reducing brucellosis infection in Texas could save the state's livestock industry millions of dollars by 1990, when USDA regulations will call for tougher restrictions on moving cattle from states with high infection rates.

Local Theatre Group Organizing

A meeting was held Monday night, June 12, to organize a local Community Theatre group.

The first and major concern is to find a building in which a community theatre group could call their own for their productions. A committee consisting of Jo Ann Sproul, Jean Meador Brazzel and Joyce Ann Speck, was formed to check out several downtown locations.

If any individual or business has a building available or would like to help, please let one of the committee members know. A building in the downtown area is preferred.

Several projects are in the planning stages. Everyone's help is needed.

The next meeting is set for Monday, July 10 at 7 p.m. in the Lions Club room of the Memorial Building.

Pfluger-Powell Exchange Wedding Vows

Claire Pfluger and John Rae Powell, Jr. were united in holy matrimony on June 10, 1989, at seven o'clock in the evening. The ceremony took place in the First Presbyterian Church of Eldorado with the Rev. Richard Olson officiating.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray Pfluger of Eldorado. Her grandmother is Mrs. Loree Price also of Eldorado.

The bridegroom is the son of John Rae Powell of Eldorado and the late Tibbs McMullan Powell. Mrs. Elizabeth Powell of Eldorado is his grandmother.

The sanctuary was adorned with a large floral arrangement of gladiolus, Cleome, Queen Ann's Lace and various types of mums interspersed with ferns and greenery. A pair of brass antique candelabra adorned the altar rails. Each stained glass window sill held an arrangement of greenery and candles.

The family pews were decorated with sprays of rose carnations, pink cornflowers, pink lisienthus and leather leaf fern.

Prenuptial music was played by Mrs. Kerry Joy.

Escorted by her father, the bride chose a gown of Morietta taffeta. A deep neckline with pearls beaded modesty was inserted around the fitted bodice.

The full skirt was gathered to a bustle bow in back centered with a self fabric flower. The skirt, ankle length in front, flowed to a cathedral length train in back.

The matching head piece was created of pearl beaded alencon lace. The silk tulle veiling was gathered and fell into a full length train. She wore pearls given to her mother by her father on their wedding day.

The bride carried an orchid bouquet interspersed with freezia which was surrounded by magnolia leaves and trailed English Ivy with white ribbons.

The bridal attendants were: Mrs. Lowery Craven of Eldorado, Mrs. James Holman of Sonora, sisters of the bride; Mrs. Ken Smith of Carlsbad, New Mexico, sister of the groom; and Mrs. Steve Brown of Mountain Home.

The bridesmaids gowns were cereise morietta taffeta, featuring the same bustle bow and self fabric flower as the bride's gown. They carried nosegay bouquets of star gazer lilies, rose carnations and Queen Ann's lace, surrounded by trailing English Ivy.

Darrell Lathum of Abilene served as best man. Groomsmen were Kent Smith, brother-in-law of the groom; Neal Felton of Mountain Home, and Mark Tillman of Junction.

Ushers were Dr. William Edmiston of Eldorado, Joe Jones of Floydada and Tom Epperson of Cherokee.

The bride is a graduate of Rocksprings High School and a 1985 graduate of Texas A&M University. She is an accountant.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Eldorado High School and a 1978 graduate of Texas A&M University.

After a wedding trip to Ruidosa, New Mexico, the couple will live on the Powell Ranch.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's family following the ceremony.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's father, John Rae Powell, at the Sutton County Steak

House on Friday, June 9.

At this time Johnny and Claire presented gifts to their attendants and the organist.

REMEMBER DAD

Father's Day, June 18,

In Praise of Fathers

Fathers are wonderful people, too little understood, And we do not sing their praises as often as we should.

Somehow Father seems to be the man who pays the bills, While Mother binds up little hurts and nurses all our ills.

Father struggles every day to live up to his image As protector and provider and "hero of the scrimmage."

And perhaps that is the reason we sometimes get the notion That fathers are not subject to the thing we call emotion.

But if you look inside Dad's heart where no one else can see, You'll find he's sentimental and as soft as he can be.

And like our Heavenly Father, he's a guardian and a guide -- Someone whom you can count on to walk close by your side.

Local Businessman Sees Grape Potential

One of the neatest people I know is a fellow named George Gower. When George talks you have to listen carefully. He speaks about 75 words a minute with gusts up to 150.

George has started an exciting new adventure here in Schleicher County. In April of 1988, he planted 4,000 Chardonnay grape plants. In the spring of 1989 he planted another 4,000 plants. These grape vines now cover about 10 acres of land.

According to George, this climate and land is especially good for grape production due to the dry, arid climate and low acidity of the soil.

George's business is called the Eldorado Lantana Winery Incorporated.

Application has already been made to Texas Secretary of State to allow them to operate a winery in conjunction with the vineyard.

When the vineyard is in full production, George expects to produce approximately five tons per acre. Gower's plans are to eventually have 25 acres of grapes planted, requiring four or five full-time employees in pruning and harvesting.

Each wine making season, Gower expects to employ a professional wine maker to oversee production of the Schleicher County product.

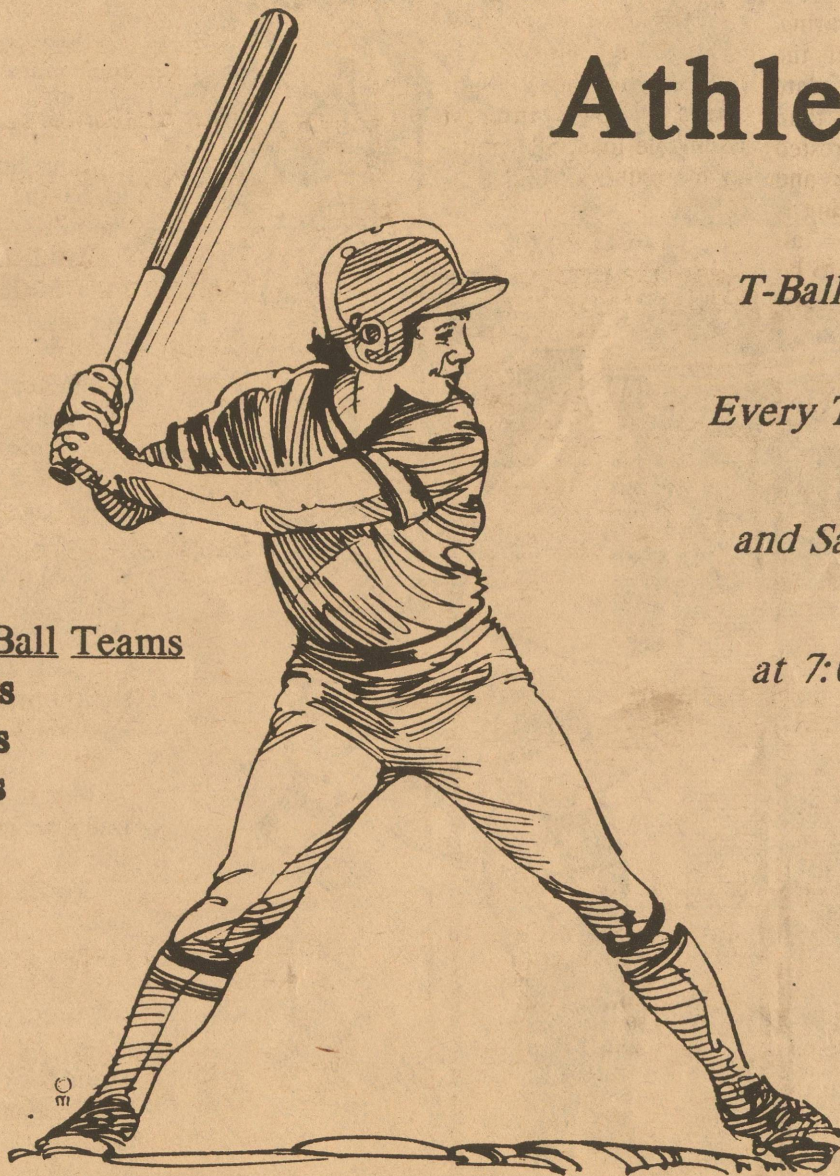

Plans are also being made to process grapes from other vineyards in the area. There will be several varieties of wine bottled at the Eldorado Lantana Winery.

Full production for the winery is anticipated in 1991.

The winery is a stock company. Over $130,000 worth of stock has been sold in $5,000 blocks. The Lantana winery will be the 26th winery established in the state of Texas.

Rules For Teachers

Schools are out now and students and teachers go their separate ways. No more school rules to follow.

Teachers in 1872 had a different set of rules to follow. They are as follows:

1. Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys.
2. Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.
3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to the individual taste of the pupils.
4. Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.
5. After ten hours in school, the teachers may spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.
6. Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.
7. Every teacher should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

8. Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give good reason to suspect his worth, intention, integrity and honesty.

9. The teacher who performs his labor faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of twenty-five cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.
