EHS Rodeo Club Competes At Coahoma

By Kim-et Nelson

The Eldorado High School Rodeo team traveled to Coahoma over the weekend. Members participating in the rodeo were Shane Criswell, Cy Griffin, Jamie Belk, Mondee Nelson, Crissi McCormick, Traci Paxton, Stoney Hariman, Justin Paxton and Brent Moore. Avid supporter Dena Manning was also there and we forgot to mention Chris Meador last week.

Just a quick word of thanks not only for the parents of the team, but thanks for the support and help from all the brothers and sisters of the team members -- Matt McCormick, Mandy Belk, Rusty Criswell and Kristal Nelson. These kids do a lot of "go-foring" for the older kids.

Saturday's results were: Shane Criswell - first in saddle bronc; Cy Griffin - eighth in tie down, third in team roping; Jamie Belk - third in team roping; Mondee Nelson - second in cutting, seventh in goat tying, third in pole bending; Crissi McCormick - fourth in pole bending; Traci Paxton - 10th in goat tying; Justin Paxton - fourth in bull riding. The kids really did well considering the windy and cold weather. We are really proud of them.

Sunday, a nice, calm, but cold day, the team placed as follows: Shane Criswell - first in saddle bronc; Mondee Nelson - third in cutting, seventh in goat tying and sixth in poles; Crissi McCormick - eighth in goat tying, 10th in poles; Stoney Hariman - fourth in bull riding; Brent Moore - fifth in team roping; Cy Griffin - seventh in team roping; Jamie Belk - seventh in team roping.

Plan to attend the Eldorado Rodeo Saturday, October 7, at 7 p.m. Sunday, October 8, there will be church services at 9 a.m. at the arena. Cutting will begin at 10 a.m. and the rodeo will begin at 11 a.m. We will have a concession stand with our famous fajitas and other goodies. The profit from this event will be donated to the Bodie Gilstrap Fund. Come out and support these kids and help us help Bodie.

Our high school team is a very self-sufficient group of students, so let them know how proud you are of them by your support at our rodeo October 7 and 8.

See you at the Rodeo!

Bank Franchise Tax Allocations Reported Lower

State Comptroller Bob Bullock on Tuesday sent checks totaling $5.8 million in bank franchise tax allocations to 431 Texas taxing entities.

The payment was the second and final allocation to be made this year, for a total of $39.8 million sent to more than 2,000 cities, counties, school districts, hospital districts and other special districts.

This year's bank franchise tax allocations are 22 percent lower than the $51.3 million that had been allocated last year at this time. The drop reflects the troubled times faced by the Texas banking industry.

"Bank franchise tax allocations have hit an all-time low this year, but should rebound in the 1990s as more and more banks are recapitalized and the Texas banking industry gets healthier," Bullock said.

The bank franchise tax rate is the same as the state's corporate franchise tax rate -- $6.70 per $1,000 of taxable capital and surplus, with a minimum tax of $150, according to Bullock.

But beginning January 1, 1990, both the bank franchise tax rate and corporate franchise tax rate will drop to $5.25 per $1,000 of taxable capital and surplus, with a minimum tax of $68. The higher rate was passed by the Legislature in 1987 as a temporary tax measure to offset revenue shortfalls caused by the Texas recession.

The Legislature authorized the bank franchise tax in 1984, with the first collections taking place in 1985.

Bank franchise tax allocations peaked in 1986 at $70.8 million.

The Schleicher County Independent School District's payments to date are $11,507.79 as compared to 1988's payments to date of $11,165.74, an increase of 3.06 percent. The allocation for Schleicher County, payments to date, are $5,851.01 as compared to 1988 payment to date of $5,558.78, an increase of 5.26 percent. The Schleicher County Hospital District's 1989 to date allocation is $3,564.66 as compared to 1988 payment to date of $3,240.01, an increase of 10.02 percent.

Biking To Beat Cystic Fibrosis

Win exciting prizes while fighting the number of genetic killers of children and young adults in the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Cycle America.

The event is set for October 7 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the county park in Eldorado. All money raised will help the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation fund the research that is closing in on a cure for CF.

SC Historical Society Hosts Open House

Sunday afternoon, September 24, the Schleicher County Historical Society sponsored an Open House and dedication of a new room which has been added behind the original building of the museum called "The Barn".

The building was built by funds left by Ada West Bowder to honor the C.C. West families and early pioneers.

The Barn is used to house antique tools, farm equipment, a honey separator, chuck box, wire collection, saddles, mounted deer and an eagle. A chuck wagon is stored in there when not in use.

The expansion of the museum has allowed for more room for other types of displays in the main building.

A plaque, made by Carrol Green and made of heavy wood with a rope attached around the outside edges, was placed at the entrance to The Barn. Inscribed into the wood is the following: Dedicated to Families of C.C. West and Early Pioneers by Ada West Bowder.

Among the many interesting items in the museum is a coverlet made by Mrs. Henry Dittmore, grandmother of Mary McGinnes. It was made out of thread from their own wool, spun and dyed different colors and made into a coverlet or spread. It was given to Ms. McGinnes by her Dad after her grandmother passed away.

Approximately 100 guests attended the Open House.

SC Courthouse Installs New Phone System

Schleicher County Courthouse now has a new telephone system. Where there were previously seven lines on which to call in, there are now three lines.

The first number to call in order to reach any office located in the office (with the exception of the probation officer) is 853-2766. If busy, then call 853-2833. If that number is also busy, then dial 853-3066.

By calling into the new three-line system, anyone who answers can transfer your call to anyone in the courthouse.

The new telephone system will save the taxpayers an estimated $200 per month.

Life Among The Fishes

By Thomas Giovannitti

The other night we had about ten people for dinner. As we were all happily enjoying the pasta and salad, Maxine was mentioning about some of the speeches given by people in her speech class. The classmates were giving talks about their gripes.

gripes except one. His only complaint was that he couldn't tolerate little noises, like the ones you hear coming from restaurant kitchens. I mean those little clinking sounds that go on during the entire time the place is open, and probably a few hours after it closes.

Many of the budding orators had the usual types of gripes but one fellow started his speech by saying he didn't have any real

We all had a good laugh at the expense of this poor chap, since he must have a really tough time getting through each day. It seems to me, and the rest of the people at dinner, that our waking hours are full of background noises.

This guy mentioned that, while growing up he was irritated by the slurping of coffee by his parents at breakfast. Considering he was alive to tell his story to the college speech class, I assume he never told his parents. Having hypersensitive ears must be a real curse.

I was then wondering what noises, if any, really bothered me. Of course, I have to admit that the sound of chalk scraping on a blackboard ranks right up at the top, but, then, I don't know anyone that that doesn't bother except the mean people who do it. I don't much care for the sound of crashing metal when I am backing out to the drive but that's not a noise I hear too often.

Another noise I don't like is whining children, or even whining adults for that matter. I especially don't care to hear how ill-treated my children sometimes think they are. If they have indoor plumbing and eat regularly I can't see that they have very much to complain about.

I also am not very fond of telephone rings at say three o'clock in the morning. Very seldom, at least since my siblings stopped having babies, do I ever get good news over the telephone at such a very early hour.

But as for all those background noises that are going on all day in every place on earth nearly, I don't much get bothered by them. I do like the sound of my stomach rumbling since that means its time to eat, and the sound of that tinkling going on in any kitchen is music to my ears.

Do you have a pet that most might consider a little strange? Most people have a cat or a dog, even a rabbit or a bird to name a few -- but how about a "critter" for a pet. If you do have a "critter", you may want to consider entering it in a race. Be sure to look in your backyard, maybe even the kitchen cabinet, you may find a winning little "critter" some place.

Here is a list of some races you may want to enter your pet in:

Lizards - World's Greatest Lizard Race, held in Lovington, New Mexico each Fourth of July. These tips are given: "Your lizard should look bold. He should have large pupils and beady eyes. Also, smaller lizards tend to run faster. Make sure you feed your lizard before the race; sometimes a lizard will get distracted trying to eat another contestant."

Crabs - National Hard Crab Derby, held in Crisfield, Maryland Labor Day weekend. This advice is given: "Your crab shouldn't be molting, and he should exhibit a fair amount of stamina. Also, try to keep your crab warm -- not too warm though, because you might scare him."

Bugs - Great American Bug Race, held in West Palm Beach, Florida the second week in October (it's not too late to sign up for that one). A citizen there has this to say: "We do have some standards: no sneakers, no steroids, no wings, and definitely no centipedes, please. On the whole, bugs with lighter-colored legs consistently finish faster. Training your bug is not too hard -- just jog, every day, once around the room with it. Big bugs don't always do well -- it's the energetic bug that finishes first."

Earthworms - Great Worm Race, held in Ashland, Kentucky the Fourth of July. The secret is: "Moistness. Your worm should be moist. No worm can be any longer than eight inches -- and they will be checking for stimulants. For their protection and your safety, you should know they are not responsible for any worms trampled, lost or eaten."

Turtles - Brennan's Pub Turtle Races, held at Marina Del Rey, California every Thursday night. These tips might help: "Well, make sure your turtle moves quite a bit. He shouldn't be hibernating. That's about it. Oh yeah, please, no pointing at the competitors -- they'll stop right where they are and pull their heads back in."

Let's go to the races!!

District Sets Tax Rate

By Larry Blair

The Schleicher County Independent School District Board of Trustees adopted a combined Maintenance and Operation (M&O) tax plus Interest and Sinking (I&S) tax rate of $1.20 per $100 of property value. The effective rate for the 1989-90 school year was calculated to be $1.3232.

By investing $150,000 of the reserve fund account in the 1985 bond payment for this year, an overall savings in this year's tax rate of approximately $.09 will be realized.

The board spent a great deal of time and discussion in arriving at the strategy of applying a portion of the reserve fund to the bond payments in an effort to keep the tax rate down. It is the expressed intent of this board to continue to look at future budgets and the accompanying tax setting process in conjunction with the reserve fund account and changes in the tax base each year.

The two objectives to be met are: (1) The effective use of the reserve fund to handle crises, and (2) Continuing efforts to keep the tax rate down.

This school district is in the same financial bind that districts all across the state find themselves. The State of Texas continues to pass legislation which increases requirements on school districts without passing along any money to fund the mandates. Not only has the state mandated costs such as a required salary increase for teachers and the teaching of key-boarding in the elementary grades (which requires equipment), but also the federal government has placed the burden on the local districts of asbestos abatement (local costs estimated to be in the range of $200,000), Radon gas testing (of which we had none) and lead contaminating drinking fountains (we had none).

In addition, regularly required maintenance is necessary to avoid catastrophic costs in the future for items such as the track and roof repair and replacement. Another major consideration, if not the major consideration for Schleicher County Independent School District, is keeping the instructional supplies and equipment updated in order that our students may continue to compete successfully at the skills and knowledge level required of an ever increasing technological society.

The school board must consider each of these and other financial requirements each year as it works to adopt a budget and set the tax rate. Every effort is made not only to see short term objectives satisfied, but also to strive for financial efficiency for the long term.

"Don't worry if all your dreams don't come true; neither do your nightmares."

It is the last week in September and I, for one, am thankful it is almost over. September is a nightmare month for me and I am always glad to have lived through it once again. I guess one of my current dreams would be to skip September and have said as much to several people. If I did that, I would have to give up thirty days of my life; I'm not willing to do that.

So, no matter how many nightmare Septembers are in the future, I'd rather have them than all the dreams that might cost days I could never get back.

After-Workout Drinks: Doctors long have said that water is the best drink to replenish fluids after a work-out. They claimed that the sugar in sports drinks hampered absorption of fluid from the digestive tract.

Now it appears that although the drinks leave the stomach more slowly than water, they are absorbed into the bloodstream just as quickly through the small intestine. However, the advantages of restoring carbohydrates claimed with sport drinks are not realized unless you participate in a long and vigorous workout. (University of California)

There is a lady in our town named Ruth Harper. Now I like Ruth. As a matter of fact, if Ruth and I had gone to school together, I probably would have sent her a note that would have looked something like this...

I like You.
Do you like me?
Check here for yes.

This past week Ruth gave me a list of bloopers that had been printed in Church bulletins. I had seen some of them before, but they were just as funny this time as they were the first. Thought I'd share a few of them with you...

* This afternoon there will be a meeting in the south and north ends of the church. Children will be baptized at both ends.

* Tuesday at 5 p.m. there will be an Ice Cream, Social. All ladies giving milk, please come early.

* Wednesday, the Ladies Literary Society will meet. Mrs. Johnson will sing "Put Me in My Little Bed" accompanied by the pastor.

* Thursday at 5 p.m. there will be a meeting of the Little Mothers Club. All wishing to become little mothers will please meet the minister in the study.

* This being Easter Sunday, we will ask Mrs. Brown to come forward and lay an egg on the altar.

* The service will close with "Little Drops of Water"; one of the men will start quietly and the rest of the congregation will join in.

* The ladies of the church have cast off clothing of every kind, and they can be seen in the church basement on Friday afternoon.

* On Sunday a special collection will be taken to defray the expense of the new carpet. All those wishing to do something on the carpet please come forward and get a piece of paper.

Thanks Ruth. Love ya a bunch.
Till the next time...May God Bless!

An Editorial

By Gary Smith

It seems that every time someone "new" moves into town, it doesn't take long for "everyone" to determine the "new" person's worth. Preacher's are often judged by how they preach. Business people are judged by their friendliness and demeanor. Some people judge football coaches by their win-loss ratio.

If our new football coach is to be judged by how many games have been won so far this year, then I am afraid that things could look a bit bleak for Doug Kuhlmann. Why, if this is the way we determine his worth, he might be replaced without ever winning a game here.

Never mind that he has recently been selected as "Teacher of the Year". Never mind that the young people he is teaching are really learning. Forget that we are seeing a disciplined group of young men playing football. Don't think about the constant, game to game improvement that this team has shown.

I have had the privilege of watching Coach Kuhlmann work with this year's team. He has shown talent, patience, caring, competence and concern. For what it's worth, I think we're darned lucky to have Kuhlmann here.

The customary Christmas Eve dish in Italy is roast eel.

A wise husband will buy his wife such fine china that she won't trust him to wash the dishes.

A Touch Of History

By Rene Calcote

Saturday was a busy day in Eldorado about 1902. Rural families came to town on Saturday to buy groceries, hardware, dry goods, have repair work done and maybe visit Mrs. Haynes Confectionery. Some of the early businesses were: Allison Mercantile; Williams and Silliman, lawyers; Y.F. Barnett, hardware; H.H. Taylor, physician and surgeon; A.F. Box, physician and surgeon; T.S. Slack, lawyer and insurance agent; Joab McCleary, machinist and plumber; Frank Brooks, "Tonsonal Artist"; Jas. A. Robson, carpenter; E.C. Haynes, fire insurance; O.A. Savage, barber; the Elder Hotel; Mrs. W.M. Whitfield, proprietor; Williams and Silliman, general merchandise; and the Eldorado Paper, editor R.L. Carothers.

One of the most popular places, and busiest on Saturday, was the "West End Barber Shop". While you waited in line for a haircut and shave you also got all the latest news -- free! Much the same as in Eldorado today at the beauty or barber shops!

The first barber in Eldorado was Oscar A. Savage, owner of The West End Barber Shop.

O.A. Savage was born in 1877 to James Levin and Margaret Kirk Savage who moved to Schleicher County in 1888 and owned a hardware store. O.A. Savage was raised in Schleicher County and later married Ella Morris.

Also born to this couple was Ola, in 1879. She later married Dave White of Eldorado. Oran Urah was born in 1881, and he later married Annie Laura Holland of Eldorado in 1901. The fourth child born to Margaret and James was Nora, 1886, who later married Frank Douglas in Eldorado.

Texas Historical Commission Announces Deadline

The Texas Historical Commission is accepting preliminary applications for 1989 Survey and Planning Grants. The grants may be used to further local preservation planning and to identify cultural resources eligible for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places. Interested Texans have until December 1 to submit preliminary applications to the THC.

Eligible grant projects include surveys of historic resources, National Register nominations, publications, and resource protection plans. Cultural resources addressed by the projects, including buildings, sites, structures, and objects, must predate 1945 and should be significant in American history, architecture, archeology, or culture.

This year the THC expects to award $50,000 in grants on a one-to-one matching basis, contingent on the availability of state and federal funding. Grant awards must be matched at the local level. Other federal sources of funding, with the exception of CDBG and revenue-sharing funds, may not be used to match Survey and Planning Grants.

Federal regulations also strictly prohibit unlawful discrimination in federally-assisted programs on the basis of race, color, and/or national origin. Preference will be given to phased projects currently underway, surveys of historic resources in new or priority regions, and preparation of National Register nominations.

For information and application materials, contact Bruce Jensen, THC, National Register Programs, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, Texas 78711, 512-463-6094.

During the era of the Texas Republic, land promoters advertised it was cheaper to raise a cow in Texas than a chicken. It was... because of the hardy characteristics of the Texas Longhorn. She needed no government trapper to guard her calf from wolves. In times of drought, she could walk many miles from water to grass. If there was no grass, she could eat brush and prickly pear. The Texas Longhorn became the foundation of the American cattle industry and there may never be another animal which has had a greater influence on the culture and economy of a people.

American Cancer Society Service And Rehabilitation

We can help...

In the fight against cancer, the American Cancer Society places great importance on cancer patient services -- hoping to ease cancer's impact on people's lives.

The fact that more people are surviving cancer today than ever before -- over 50 percent live at least five years -- reinforces the need to help people get back into life's mainstream.

The hopeful side of cancer, the survivability, is why the ACS offers cancer support programs for patients and their families.

"The aim is to provide assistance that ranges from practical advice and emotional support to meeting the day-to-day needs for hospital beds, wheelchairs, transportation to and from treatment centers and, for patients from out of town, for housing in Eldorado," says Schleicher County Unit Service/Rehabilitation Chairman, Delia Pena.

The ACS Service and Rehabilitation Committee is a group of doctors, nurses, social workers, chaplains, other health care professionals and trained volunteers, some who have had cancer. Their job is to coordinate the cancer patient programs offered by the ACS.

Facilitating some of these programs are health professionals in hospitals and cancer treatment centers.

But also helping with these ACS programs are people who have or have had cancer themselves. These cancer patients are trained and then called upon to serve as role models, helping the newly-diagnosed patient adjust to a cancer diagnosis. These visits are always done with the approval of the patient's physician and are usually done while the patient is hospitalized.

Other services and rehabilitation programs involve aid that begins after the patient leaves the hospital.

In the Eldorado area, the following services and programs are provided without charge by the American Cancer Society:

-- Loan equipment, such as hospital beds, side rails, wheelchairs, shower seats, walkers, commode chairs, and crutches.

-- Gift items, including egg-crate mattresses, comfort pillows, micropore tape, room deodorant, sheepskins, ostomy supplies, laryngectomy stoma bibs, bed pans, urinals, emesis basins, dressings, and other materials related to the rehabilitation programs.

-- Cancer information services, with information about ACS programs as well as other resources within the community. Also, a variety of free educational literature is available and many local volunteers maintain their own cancer patient resource guide.

-- Blood, which is used during treatment.

-- Transportation to and from treatment centers through the volunteer Road to Recovery program.

-- Cancer patient visitation programs, which include the Reach to Recovery program for breast cancer surgery patients, the laryngectomy visitation program of the Lost Chord Club for patients who have had the voice box removed, and the United Ostomy Association's support program for those having had an ostomy operation for colorectal cancer surgery. CanSurmount is also a one-on-one visitation program intended for cancer patients who have not had these special surgeries.

-- Patient/Family Support Programs, including I Can Cope, an educational program in a group setting for patients, their families and friends; and Dialogue, a follow-up program to I Can Cope with education and support activities led by a professional group facilitator.

-- Bereavement Support for those who have experienced the death of a loved one within the past two years.

-- Support materials for parents and families of children with cancer.

-- Housing for out-of-town patients through the Guestroom program.

Anyone needing more information on the services available for cancer patients can call Delia Pena at 853-2533 or 853-2507.

Public Health Week Proclaimed September 24-30

In acknowledgment of the fact that every Texan relies in some way on public health services, Governor William P. Clements has proclaimed the week of September 24-30 to be Public Health Week in Texas. Throughout the week, local and state health employees and volunteers will participate in activities meant to highlight the range of public health services available to every citizen.

Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health, said that public health services often are taken for granted. "Unless something unusual occurs, such as a disease outbreak, or a newsmaking environmental threat, some people would never think about the health professionals and volunteers who routinely protect this state's population. The fact is that if a person enjoys clean air, safe water, non-contaminated food, dependable emergency care, and modern disease control practices, then he is benefiting from the state's public health programs," he said.

The commissioner explained that the Texas Department of Health (TDH) and local health programs offer both direct and indirect services. "Most people think of public health clinics and their direct services to clients, when they think of public health protection. And indeed, these programs attract more human interest.

"The fact that we oversee maternity, nutrition, immunizations and many other services to protect the health of low-income women and their children will always seem, for some, to be our main job. In recent years, our battle against the spread of AIDS also has capture public concern.

"But our indirect services, such as millions of laboratory tests -- from blood samples to water samples -- go largely ignored by the average citizen. Even the fact that every birth, death, marriage and divorce in Texas is recorded and stored by TDH, does not appear commonly known."

Dr. Bernstein added that, "Most of the time, in most of our services, TDH, the regional and local health departments and their staffs are quietly at work, maintaining the health standards expected in this state. Sometimes credit for our success is sparse, compared to the achievement. Therefore, on behalf of health personnel throughout the state, I am pleased with the governor's proclamation."

Emergency Service Available To Texas Motorists

Beginning October 1, motorists in Texas will be able to use a toll-free telephone number to report traffic accidents, suspected driving while intoxicated cases, criminal activities and other emergencies.

The new number is 1-800-525-5555. It will be answered on a 24-hour basis by communications personnel at the Department of Public Safety Headquarters in Austin. Calls will be routed to the appropriate law enforcement agency on a priority basis.

"This number does not replace the 9-1-1 service you may have in your area," stressed DPS Assistant Director James Wilson.

"The new 800 number is intended to be used in cases where no 9-1-1 service is available, or in instances where the person needing assistance does not know another emergency number to call. It should not be used to seek routine information or service."

The new emergency service being offered by the DPS was provided for in House Bill 1633 by State Representative Betty Denton of Waco. Governor William P. Clements signed it into law on June 16, 1989.

"We expect the 800 number will be the most useful to motorists on rural highways, many of whom are travelers not familiar with the phone number they should call in case of emergency," Wilson said. "Those who live in areas served by a 9-1-1 system, or those who know the police, sheriff's department or DPS number in their area, should continue to use that local number."

Texas is now only the 14th state to adopt 1-800-525-5555, which has been designated as the universal telephone number for state law enforcement agencies.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHO GAVE YOU YOUR FIRST BREAK?

Someone saw something in you once. That's partly why you are where you are today. It could have been a thoughtful parent, a perceptive teacher, a demanding drill sergeant, an appreciative employer, or just a friend who dug down in his pocket and came up with a few bucks. Whoever it was, had the kindness and the foresight to bet on your future. Those are two beautiful qualities that separate the human being from the orangutan. In the next 24 hours, take 10 minutes to write a grateful note to the person who helped you. You'll keep a wonderful friendship alive. Matter of fact, take another 10 minutes to give somebody else a break. Who knows? Someday you might get a nice letter. It could be one of the most gratifying messages you ever read.

Sorority Goes Back In Time

By Glenda Harris

Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, September 25, with 14 members and four pledges repeating the Opening Ritual. Following roll call and the reading of the minutes, president Tonya Mahaney reported on the upcoming Halloween Carnival.

At this time we have ten game booths and three food booths. There is still plenty of room and time for anyone interested to add their booths to the fun and make some money at the same time. Set up time for all booths will be Monday, October 30, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Dorothy Dacy and Glenda Harris reported that several members are eligible to move up the Beta Sigma Phi ladder and plans are being made to have these rituals in the near future.

The business meeting was adjourned and the Closing Ritual was repeated. The members then moved downstairs to the Lion's Club Room where we found ourselves transported back in time to the 50's and 60's.

The dress code for the evening was poodle or round, circular skirts, rolled up jeans, bobby socks, pony tails, letter jackets, penny loafers, petticoats, ribbons and bows and scarfs for the hair and even cat-eyed glasses and a few class rings on chains.

Who would ever believe a plastic circle could really bring out the "age" of a person. Our first contest was an elimination contest and it certainly proved that with time comes a very worn hula hooper. The winner of this agonizing event was Stacy Haynes (I really believe it was all those can petticoats holding up it -- no one can hula that long!!).

Seeing everyone was waning from all that exertion, the hostesses then provided us with some nutritious food to build up for the next go-round. We were plied with hot dogs, popcorn, peanuts, chips, cokes and cherry jello with a cherry on top (nice going, Donna).

Remember when your mom used to tell you to put that gum in your mouth or you would have to spit it out? Well, we finally got the chance to exert those frustrations -- we were actually TOLD to blow the biggest bubble we could. The big bubble blowers were Debbie Griffin and Sissy Cheatham. They did receive lots of advice on how to get gum out of hair.

As the night "rocked" on, we finally got to my game -- jacks. With triple elimination, we came up with three winners -- Sissy Cheatham, Pat Gentry and Glenda Harris. It was at this point I decided to pass along my jacks to a newcomer who seemed she had been deprived of this wonderful art -- practice, Debbie, practice.

Our last game proved to me that even games you thought would be around forever, can be lost to time. Can you imagine anyone not knowing how to play hopscotch? Well, folks, it happened!! After receiving instructions from the pros, the rookies gave it a try. Although a true winner was not determined, Kim Mathis seemed to take to this sport with ease.

By the time the clock began to ease its way back to 1989, we all remembered we had husbands and children waiting at home. But for a while we really enjoyed remembering the good old days and how much fun they were. We want to thank Flora Hubble, Kim Clark, Sheila Prater and Caroline Hight for hosting one of the best times we've had in a long time. And to Dorothy, we're all looking, but you will have to share!

Pavement Markings To Be Placed In County

D.L.J. Construction, Inc., of Bertram, has begun work placing raised reflective pavement marking and traffic buttons on highways which were seal coated this summer, according to Joe Lane, P.E., Supervising Resident Engineer for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The contractor expects to complete the work in the 15 counties of District 7 by the first of December. The work will generally move down the highway at a slow but steady pace. The work convoy will have warning signs.

Motorists, upon approaching the work area, should slow down, watch for equipment, and follow any directional signs. The pavement markings will provide safety to the traveling public on the highways of Texas.

Pavements being marked in Schleicher County are US 190 from east city limits of Eldorado to 8.4 miles east and RM 2596 from 12.9 miles south of US 190 to 4.9 miles east.
