Bailey Performs At Covered Wagon Theatre

By Rene Calcote

A plush green bed of range grass, surrounded by huge live oak trees in the midst of low rolling hills provides a setting for "The Covered Wagon Dinner Theatre". Beautiful plumage from the wandering peacocks tempts the vision with gorgeous colors.

The state gives a rustic look, backed with cedar posts and Texas and American flags.

Following a delicious dinner of chicken enchiladas a "sing-a-long" was led by Scott Gilmore, who also served as master of ceremony. Maxine Locklin accompanied the "sing-a-long" in singing such old songs as "Home on the Range", "Buffalo Gals" and many other oldies. Among guests recognized were Pat Atteberry and her mother.

The program for July 7, emphasized the struggle and hard times of the early pioneer women in West Texas.

Nancy Brockman portrayed Bessie Wyatt Vanderstucken, telling of her early days in Sutton County.

Second on the program was the portrayal of Elizabeth Harris Neill by Carolyn Earwood -- struggles of a young school teacher.

Tribute to longtime Sutton County rancher Edwin Eugene Sawyer, Jr. and his parents was presented by Carrie Neely who portrayed Mae B. Sawyer.

Highlight of the evening was the portrayal of Mattie Cloud Roach given by Jewell Bailey, featured speaker of the evening.

Preceding her performance, setting the mood for her story of Irish heritage was John Temple Hoover singing Irish Ballads, Roxanne Fargason from Junction played the Irish Bag Pipes, each in delightful Irish costume.

Modeling her mother's trousseau were friends and relatives of Jewell's. Wearing her mother's wedding dress, she gave her performance. This story is shared with Success readers in "A Touch of History".

Throughout the evening, black, boiled camp coffee was made on a campfire near the stage, and served by Biscuits O'Bryan. Western attired

Biscuits stated that his coffee was ready to serve when a horse shoe didn't sink to the bottom of the pot!

To conclude the program, Scott Gilmore led the singing of "I'm Proud to be an American", with all performers and children on stage.

If you have not been to a performance and dinner at The covered Wagon Theatre, you are missing something special.

Life Among The Fishes

By Thomas Giovannitti

You know what I think? I think George Bush is not going far enough with his idea of a Constitutional Amendment to make it unprotected freedom of expression to burn the American flag.

We need an amendment that would make it wrong to wear or display Swastikas or other symbols of Nazi Germany. I mean it ought to be against the law to have a "Commie" flag also.

People shouldn't be able to make replicas of important government officials and then burn them in effigy. In fact what about all this nasty literature that is put out under the protection of the First Amendment, why not a Constitutional amendment that requires that all forms of expression be submitted to a board of very prominent persons who, if they find the material, or the art, or the proposed form of expression to be tasteless, harmful to people under thirty, irreverent, crude, or provocative, that they could stop it from being published or shown to anyone else.

It would be easy to pick this group of people. They would be people who like the same things we do, read the same sort of art we do, and always express themselves in the clearest of syntax and, of course, only in English, just as we do.

That is the problem with making laws, especially amending the Constitution, that may limit or even suppress the ideas and expressions of people who disagree with us; they might be the people who make the changes.

Just as George Bush does, I get a little irate when someone burns the flag. I am pretty sure in "My Mind" that there are plenty of other more subtle ways to express one's dissatisfaction with our form of government than by burning an American flag.

The trouble is that me and George and a considerable number of other Americans probably don't see eye to eye with the fellow who burned the flag and, if we had our drothers, we would take him behind some barn and explain that to him.

But this is America, and under that flag he burned so rudely he should be allowed to express himself, and if his mental capacity limits him to such crude forms of expression, then George and I shouldn't be able to limit him.

We better take a very hard look at ourselves, and see why it is we are unable to tolerate the few jerks who need to express themselves so tastelessly and feel it necessary to tamper with a very important freedom because our sensibilities have been offended. If we are not careful, some day this paper might only have printed in it the ideas that do not offend those with the power to alter the Constitution.

Folks say that today's children are not as well behaved as they used to be. Well, I happen to know why that is so.

When we were kids there was plenty enough discipline for everyone. My father was very strict, but along came the safety razor and the electric razor and that did away with the razor strop. Then furnaces took away our woodsheds. Along came taxes and worrying about that took away my Daddy's hair and with that the old hairbrush disappeared. Moving from the farm to town took away the hickory tree--no more switches. And that is why the kids are running wild today... the Old Man ran out of weapons.

Editor's Clips

By Mary Jenkins

As I sat watching television the other evening, I began to wonder why we do some of the curious gestures that we do. For example, why do we nod our heads to answer "yes" or "no"? Who started this anyway?

What if we only had this means of communicating with one another? We usually take these gestures for granted, never giving them a second thought. This is our way of life.

Here's another one, why do people stick out their tongues at other people? This custom is supposed to mean dislike of another person, therefore you stick your tongue out at them.

What about crossing your fingers. This can mean more than one thing. It can mean "keep your fingers crossed" that something works out okay; or, "it doesn't count, I had my fingers crossed."

Speaking of fingers, there is the thumbs up and thumbs down signs. The thumbs up means good and the thumbs down means bad. Wonder where that one came from?

Here is one of my favorite ones, crossing your heart. You can seal a promise by crossing your heart.

Shrugging our shoulders is another one I have to wonder about. It usually means "I don't know" or "I'm not sure".

And what about the good ole handshake? It means to seal a contract or promise, it is used as a greeting when meeting someone, and is usually done with the right hand. How did this get started and who started it?

And one more, a really good one, is winking of the eye. Sometimes it means the implication of a secret shared between two people and other times is usually taken as flirting.

If you know where, how or who started any of these gestures, please write in and let me know. I'm sure our readers would be interested.

The Way We See It

By Lola Squires

"One man's trash is another man's treasure."

Recently I was at my sister's home while she was having a garage sale and being a people watcher, I found the sale of a mirror very interesting. One young lady looked at a mirror several times, borrowed a tape to measure the mirror and wrote her findings on a small tablet she took from her purse. She said she would measure the space and return for it if it would fit where she planned to put it. She gave my sister her name and number and asked that my sister call her should she decide to take less for the mirror than it was marked. It wasn't ten minutes until another young lady came, looked at the mirror, thought it was a bargain, paid for it and took it home.

There are lots of folks in this world that think they should have something for nothing. I don't think it works that way.

An Apple A Day

By Smokey Taylor

The sun is the major cause of premature skin aging and skin cancer. Yet last year, over five out of every 10 Americans didn't use a sunscreen (that doesn't include children).

One out of every seven Americans will be affected by skin cancer. Obviously, over half the nation is unaware of, or ignoring the facts.

Skin cancer is on the rise in the United States. The rate we're getting skin cancer has grown 15 percent to 20 percent in just six years. This year, an estimated 1/2 million cases of skin cancer will be diagnosed.

Now over 6,000 deaths a year are caused by malignant melanoma, the dangerous form of skin cancer. Most skin cancers are completely curable when treated and removed in their earliest stages. However, in early stages, skin cancers may appear as a skin discoloration and not a growth.

While use of sunscreens neither heals skin damage nor prevents skin cancers arising from past sun exposure, it offers present protection for the future. Everybody can benefit from sunscreen protection.

Remember: While fair or sun-sensitive skins are particularly vulnerable, anyone with any skin type who receives considerable sun exposure can be affected. So be sure to see your doctor or dermatologist about any unusual or persistent skin condition.

Social Security Recipients Should Consider Direct Deposit

Over four in 10 Social Security beneficiaries are not at home waiting for the mailman on the third of the month. They are visiting, vacationing, taking care of business, or doing whatever else they want to do. Why? Because they have direct deposit. In other words, they have their benefits deposited directly into their account at a bank, credit union, or other financial institution. These people have discovered some distinct advantages to direct deposit. for example:

-- Their money is safe. No thefts, muggers, or lost checks to worry about.

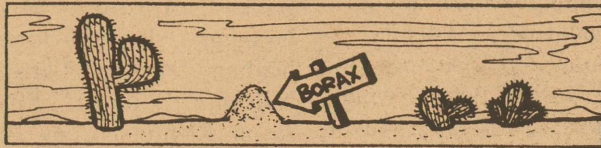

-- They have time and money. No lines to stand in. No extra gas to buy to go cash the check. The Government saves money, too, by paying you this way which means more money is available for other benefits and services.

If you are now getting

Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks and want direct deposit, just call any Social Security office.

Even if you have direct deposit, you still must notify Social Security promptly if you change your address. This is because important notices are mailed directly to you from time to time.

Slow down your electric meter!

You can help slow down your meter and lower your cooling bills by following these tips:

Set your thermostat on 78° or higher and use ceiling or portable fans to help circulate the air.

Have your air conditioner serviced annually and once a month, check the filter. A dirty filter can keep your air conditioner from working efficiently.

Keep doors, windows, and drapes firmly closed to keep cool air in and heat out.

Protect ceiling and walls with adequate insulation. Make sure cracks around windows, doors, pipes and wiring are tightly sealed with caulking and weatherstripping.

Use heat producing appliances, like ranges, dishwashers, and dryers during the cooler part of the day.

A Touch Of History

By Rene Calcote

Dreams of sailing away to America, the land of opportunity, filled the soul of John Roach, Sr. He felt helpless, not being able to provide for his family, consisting of his wife, Mary Katherine, and seven children -- Pat, Ambrose, Mary, Robert, Matt, John and Julie.

On their two acre rented farm, in Wexford County, Ireland, the family raised potatoes. The year was 1870 and times were hard, the country suffered from drought, potato blight and famine.

In 1878 the Roach family had a good potato crop. John loaded the crop and hauled it to market in Dublin.

Katherine became worried when John did not return from Dublin. Distressed, she set out to find him. At the dock the potato wagon stood empty, horses tied securely, a note pinned to the springboard bench. It stated, "Have gone to America, will send for you in six months. John."

Six months later one of the children was sick and the family was unable to sail to America. One year later another child was sick -- still no trip.

The six oldest children went to a convent where they were able to receive food and schooling.

Finally, in 1881, Katherine boarded a cattle boat on the bottom deck with her children, blind mother, five sacks of Irish potatoes, and all their belongings -- never to return to her homeland.

Storms at sea caused the boat damage and it lost its course. The trip to America was long and difficult. The food supply was nearly depleted after 42 days. The arrival in Galveston was a welcomed sight.

The family traveled to Austin to meet John -- but John was no where to be found. After three days of waiting, a stranger recognized the photo of John that the children were displaying as being a man waiting at Georgetown for his family.

It was a joyous reunion that frosty October morning in 1881 when the Roach family was finally reunited.

John died shortly after his family reached Texas. In March of 1882, he left his tiny 80 pound wife and seven children, a cow, a mare, two colts, and no money. Even in these strange surroundings the family met the dire situation with courage and fortitude under the guidance of their Christian mother. The three older boys, Pat, Ambrose and Matt, began work to support the family.

The boys worked hard at various jobs and acquired property. One of the boys, Ambrose, drove the mail back to San Saba. John and Matt dealt in livestock trading, particularly horses.

Ambrose married Mattie Cloud, daughter of John Austin and Eliza Yows Cloud on September 3, 1903. Their first home was a small farm near Lometa.

John and Matt visited Eldorado in 1905, and after reading the Eldorado paper in which Schleicher County was described as "the land of milk and honey", they decided to buy land here.

Ambrose, John and Matt bought four sections 12 miles out toward Mertzon.

After the wagon wheels were greased and two covered wagons were loaded with all their possessions, Mattie and Ambrose traveled the rough road to Eldorado. After five days, the old windmill at the courthouse square was a welcomed sight.

The family settled in a three-room house, and prepared for the cold Schleicher County winter.

A short time later Pearl Cloud, Mattie's sister, came for a visit. The first leg of her trip was by train to San Angelo and then on stage to Calcote's Store, a rest stop for horses and passengers.

John met Pearl at Calcote's Store and this sparked a romance. They were married January 21, 1906 by Judge J.A. Whitten.

Matt married Mae Clark of Mertzon and moved to Irion County.

John and Ambrose remained partners for many years, even sharing a joint bank account.

Children of John and Pearl were: Mabel (Mrs. C.M. McCain), Mary Lee (Mrs. Allen Casey), Mildred (Mrs. Gene Galbraith).

Children of Ambrose and Mattie were: Eldred, Jewell, Jim Tom, and A.J., Jr.

Matt and first wife's children: Mattie Pearl (Mrs. Albert Davis) and Aubrey.

Matt and Mae Clark's children: Reva Kate (Mrs. McMillan) and William.

Katherine died June 23, 1913. Her story is an example of deep faith, integrity and endurance.

This Roach family had a love for America that most of us take for granted.

Mattie and Ambrose Roach are pictured here on their wedding day, September 3, 1903.

Squyres Named To Dean's Honors List

Kelly Joanne Squyres of Eldorado is among students named to the Dean's Honors Lists at Texas Christian University for the 1989 spring semester. This recognition cites undergraduate students for academic achievement.

Though not the only indication of educational accomplishment, outstanding grades mark the meeting of high challenges set by the University's faculty members, according to Dr. William H. Koehler, vice chancellor for academic affairs.

In order to be eligible, a student must have been enrolled for 12 or more semester hours of study and have achieved an exceptional grade-point average.

Kelly is a sophomore arts and science pre-major. She is the daughter of James and Lola Squyres of Eldorado.

Marsh-Frost Exchange Wedding Vows

MRS. WADE JAMES FROST

Elizabeth Michelle Marsh became the bride of Wade James Frost, July 1, 1989, at two o'clock in the afternoon in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church of Eldorado. The Rev. Chris Graham, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated by Mrs. Carrol Sproul. Greenery was placed on the front rails and across the rail in front of the choir. Four large crystal vases filled with mixed colors of flowers were placed around the floor of the rostrum. One large white candle in a brass candle holder was on the table in front to signify the presence of Jesus.

Strands of pearls were entwined among greenery and other places. Large white bows with pink silk flowers in the center were placed on the pews.

Music was furnished by a group of musicians from area towns. All of them were band directors. A brass quintet, composed of Bryant Harris of Sonora, Forrest Perry of Winters, Richard Herrera of Rankin, Bob Vetter of Big Lake, and O'Siel Hernandez of Mertzon, played the processional, "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, and the recessional "Wedding March" from A midsummer Night's Dream by Mendelssohn.

There were two clarinet duets by Manuel San Luis and Maria Chadwell, the Marsh's daughter, and a flute solo, Schubert's "Ave Maria", by Carol Graham, accompanied by Chris Graham at the piano.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gene Marsh of Eldorado. She is a 1985 graduate of Eldorado High School and attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock for four years. She plans to attend the University of Houston at Clear Lake this fall to finish her elementary education degree.

The bride wore a gown of bridal satin with boat neckline trimmed with seed pearls and pearl droplets. The long fitted sleeves came to a point at the wrist with lattice work accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins down the center of the sleeves.

The full gathered skirt ended in a cathedral train decorated with lattice work and roses appliqued in lace on front. Victorian lace trimmed the bottom of the skirt and train.

She wore a white satin picture hat trimmed with white silk flowers, sequins and seed pearls. Attached to the back was puffed net extending to a finger tipped veil.

Her bride's bouquet was of pink and bridal white roses with Freesia intertwined with iridescent pink ribbon and English Ivy.

Matron of honor was Kari Frost, sister-in-law of the groom from Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Allison Bond of Amarillo, Laura Carter of Midland and Sharon frost, both sisters of the groom from Dallas and Maria Chadwell, sister of the bride from Denton.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids wore pale pink taffeta tea length dresses. They had a natural waist line, full gathered skirt, puffed sleeves below the elbow trimmed with scalloped lace. The back of the dresses had a scooped neckline with buttons to the waist.

They wore pale pink satin shoes to match the dresses and carried arm bouquets of mixed shades of Astromeria tied with pink ribbons.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Austin Frost of Midland. He is a 1983 graduate of Midland High School and a 1987 graduated of Texas Tech University.

The groom wore a phantom grey tuxedo.

Best man was Greg Frost, brother of the groom from Lubbock. Groomsmen were Troy Eiland of Allen, Quinten Rideout of Hampton, Virginia, Tim Carter of Midland and Brian Pili-green of Waco. They wore phantom grey tuxedos with pink ties and cummerbunds.

Ushers were Randy Estes of Midland and Bill Treadway of Lubbock. They wore the same grey tuxes but with matching grey ties and cummerbunds.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church. The house party consisted of Lola Squyres, Brenda Swartz of Garden City, Betsey Thackerson, Sharon Mittel, Cynthia Sauer, Susanne Johnson, Melissa Murr, Lyna Mikeska, Jannell Hausenfluck, Mary Nolen and Lynetta Plumbly of Marfa.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C., the couple will be at home in Clear Lake near Houston where Wade will be a mechanical engineer with Hamilton Standard NASA in Houston.

Ginger Sterling Attends TAFE Workshop

Ginger Sterling, along with sponsors Marcy Willis and Linda Thomas, attended the TAFE (Texas Association of Future Educators) Summer Leadership

Workshop at Southwestern University in Georgetown June 25 through June 29.

Decision making, problem solving, communication skills, parliamentary procedure and group dynamics were just a few of the activities offered at the workshop.

At the TAFE State convention in Austin during February, the Eldorado chapter was elected to the office of State Vice President. Ginger was chosen as the student representative for that office.

Around 100 people attended the 1989 Edmiston reunion held at the Memorial Building July 17 and 18, in Eldorado.

Family members gathered under the family tree displayed on the north wall of the room to visit and enjoy a pot luck dinner Saturday. Afterwards, they dispersed to play golf, games, visit or go swimming, meeting again for supper.

Sunday morning, all gathered again, after attending respective church services, for a barbecue meal prepared by Jerry Edmiston and Danny Halbert.

Heading this year's reunion plans were E.W. Wilson, Phil Edmiston and Mrs. Chris McCravey.

Elected to plan the reunion in 1991 were Genelle Sample, Jill Crawford and L.G. Schooley.

Early Summer Passes Without Deathless Day

As of June 15, Texas had yet to achieve the "One Deathless Day" sought by the Texas Coalition for Safety Belts.

At least one traffic fatality had been recorded on each of the first 20 days of the summer campaign, which began Saturday, May 27. The coalition's goal is one day without a traffic death during the 101 Days of Summer. The promotion will continue through Labor Day, September 4.

From May 27 through June 15, according to preliminary counts from the Department of Public Safety, the day with the lightest toll was May 31. Only one death has been recorded on that day. The season's worst day so far was May 28, with 19 fatalities.

The last deathless day on Texas roadways was January 5, 1977, more than 12 years ago.

The coalition encourages all Texans to buckle up and drive carefully.
