

On The Divide

We haven't told this before, but Wylie Ratliff, local Gulf Agent is about the only citizen of our fair city who bears the distinction of having a genuine, full-fledged license to prevaricate. Hanging above his desk is the document, neatly engraved in colors of red and black, properly framed and prominently displayed.

Taking advantage of his absence from the office, one day this week, we persuaded Mrs. Ratliff to reveal the low-down on the instrument. It seems that our friend was awarded the License some years ago while in the grocery business at Austin. Legality of the document could hardly be questioned as it bears signatures of B. Ullslinger, President; Heza Liar, vice president and X. Aggerator, secretary.

Evidently possessing more paint than he knew what to do with and desiring to demonstrate his hand at slinging the brush, some vandal has somewhat molested the "welcome" sign erected south of the city. A few touches has been added to the attractive sign, thus rendering it almost illegible. The erection of such a sign costs considerable money and time and efforts of the Lions club in having it set up is of value, therefore, it might be suggested that excessive paint be smeared on someone's barn, back fence, or other unsightly object—it might be more appropriate.

Self-Serve Grocery Is Redecorated

$22 Per Capita School Aid Set By State Board

Per capita apportionment to schools was set at $22 for the 1939-40 school year this week by the State Board of Education at Austin. This is the third consecutive year the per capita aid has been $22.

The Board of Education's decision to maintain the $22 apportionment for the school year, will distribute to schools of Schleicher county a total of $16,060, according to County Judge C. L. Meador. There is a total of 621 scholars in the Eldorado Independent school district and 109 in the rural school districts.

Outstanding Club Work By Sherrad Girl Wins Gold Star

Outstanding work as a poultry demonstrator won Miss Floyce Sherrad the title of 1939 Schleicher County Gold Star Girl. Daughter of Mrs. Grace Sherrad, she is a member of the senior 4-H club.

Floyce was chosen Gold Star Girl by a judging committee of Miss Ruth Baker, member of the council Education committee with the assistance of two 4-H club girls in Schleicher County to receive a gold star pin.

At the presentation of the pin by Miss Stewart, Miss Sherrad made a talk on the work she accomplished to receive this honor.

In her poultry demonstration, she raised 85 baby chicks; sold 35 of them at 40 cents each and won second place on her canned chicken at the district show. She also made three dresses, two slips, a shoe rack, hat stand, pajamas, aprons, cup towels, and pot holders and won several prizes on these at the district show. ## Shell-Page Well Prepares To Shoot Casing; Opp On Pumping Test

Cave Explorers Find Indian Relics

A pair of old moccasins, arrow heads, and rocks used by the Indians in grinding corn were among the relics brought back by George Dickens, Dolly Dickens and Faebell Enochs of Eldorado when they returned from cave exploring on the Rio Grande Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The three walked five miles and crossed three deep canyons before reaching the cave. They didn't spend much time at the cave however, due to lack of water.

They plan to return this weekend with a guide from New Mexico. They will also take along a motor boat and more tools with which to work.

"Exploring caves is very interesting and a lot of fun," said Miss Enochs in relating their experiences.

Oil Activity In County Promising

Records in the office of County Clerk H. T. Finley, reveal continued interest in oil and gas leasing in Schleicher county. Several transactions reflect possibilities of considerable drilling activities in the near future.

Among most promising is the re-leasing of several tracts by major companies that had formerly been forfeited.

Dr. Emial Ott, consulting geologist of San Angelo and associates of Okla., have secured leases from the Baugh estate, McElroy and Milligan tracts.

Reports are that drilling is scheduled to be started in the near future.

Phillips Petroleum Company have leased from Joe Tisdale, Mrs. E. L. Calcote, W. F. Meador and others in the last few weeks. There has been considerable trading in leases by local residents in the section near the Harold B. Opp well, five miles northwest of Eldorado.

It is understood that Harold B. Opp is planning to stake an additional well near the present location in the near future. This report has not been confirmed, however.

Two-inch tubing was rerun and a pumping test started Wednesday night at 11:30 on Harold B. Opp's No. 1 J. T. Jackson well 4 1-2 miles northwest of Eldorado. The 24-hour test was to be completed Thursday night at 11:30, to late to give complete results in this issue of the Success.

Telephone conversation from the well Thursday afternoon, revealed that the test was not far enough along to determine the possible production of the well. It was believed, however, that the well was at least capable of producing 100 barrels daily.

A bailer lost Wednesday in Lone Star's Shell-Page well in the field nine miles southeast of Eldorado, was recovered Wednesday night, according to reports from the well Thursday. Preparations were being made to perforate casing opposite porous zones shown by an electrical survey.

Talk on the streets in Eldorado Thursday indicated that general belief is that the Shell-Page well will be largest yet brought in in the county, although no definite information was available.

701,449 Acres Land Under The 1939 Range Program

$22,373.00 To Date Has Been Expended By Ranchers For Soil Conservation Practices

In a check up in the County Office it is found that 701,449 acres of ranch land is under the 1939 program. This being an increase over the 1938 program, as the amount last year being 580,000 acres of land under the range program, stated county agent, W. G. Godwin this week.

The County office is applying for 63,768 animal units under the 701,448 acres in order to receive the maximum that should be received under the program as the base for establishing range allowance is 11 acres to the animal unit. This means that 124 ranchers will have at their disposal $67,796.98 to spend on Soil Conservation Practices.

Compliance under the 1939 Range Program is expected to exceed 90 percent participation.

Ninety three percent of all producers in Schleicher County will either be under the Farm or Ranch program in 1939.

MARS NEAR ON JULY 27

From a maximum distance of approximately 248 million miles, Mars approached to within about 36 million miles of the earth July 27, the nearest it has been to us since 1924. Astronomers will take advantage of its nearness to make further study of conditions on that planet.

Despite its relatively close approach, however, Mars will not outshine Venus in brightness, although the latter is much farther away. The distance of Venus from the earth ranges from 25 million to 161 million miles.

Much discussion has been indulged in concerning the so-called canals on Mars, but most astronomers do not believe these are real, or that there is any life on the planet capable of constructing works of such magnitude. In fact, if there is life on Mars at all it must be very different from anything we can imagine. Scientists estimate the temperature on Mars to range from 40 degrees at noon to 100 degrees below zero at night. There is very little oxygen in the thin atmosphere of the planet, perhaps not more than one per cent of that contained in the atmosphere of the earth, according to Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of Mount Wilson Observatory.

The air we breathe is about four parts nitrogen to one part oxygen, with minute quantities of other gases. The atmosphere of Mars is believed to be principally carbon dioxide, and very little of that.

GHOST WRITERS

The employment of "ghost writers" by statesmen and others to write speeches for them is a very ancient custom, according to Senator Ashurst of Arizona, who himself is one of the greatest of contemporary orators.

He said it seemed well established that Nero, the Roman emperor, delivered speeches written by his prime minister, Seneca, and that Julius Caesar had a ghost writer named Hirtius. Ashurst quoted Senator Vandenberg as authority for the statement that Alexander Hamilton wrote all but four lines of George Washington's famous Farewell Address.

The ghost writers have often caused their clients much embarrassment by cribbing from the writings of others. The most tragic instance of the sort is told of Speaker John White of the Twenty-fifth Congress who employed a writer to prepare his farewell speech to the House.

Several South Carolina farmers were victimized by a man who said he was a government "lightning rod inspector" and charged fees of from $6 up for looking at their lightning rods. It appears that there is no diminution in the crop of suckers.

Two farmers near Benton, Ky., panned up $790 in buried gold coins.

IT'S GETTING CLOSER

Nobody's Business

By Julian C. Capers

Austin.—A maximum state ad valorem tax levy for general purposes of 35 cents, made necessary by the action of the Legislature in authorizing a levy sufficient to pay a $22.10 per capita apportionment for educational purposes was anticipated here this week, as the State Board of Education and the State Automatic Tax Board were scheduled to meet and fix the levy. There is a shortage of $3.10 in the $22 per capita school apportionment for the current year, and if the Attorney General holds a sufficient levy can be made to absorb this deficit, authorities agree the maximum of 35 cents levy will be necessary. The present rate, set during the Allred administration, is 7 cents per $100 of valuation for general purposes, the lowest state tax rate in a quarter of a century.

Reports of county tax assessors to State Comptroller George Shepperd indicated an increase of about $25,000,000 in the valuation of property for State taxation purposes this year, with a total estimated taxable valuation of $3,522,027,141. Harris County which received a special tax remission for ten years at the last session of the Legislature, led the State with a total of $290,488,910 with Dallas county second.

Meanwhile, latest information on the deficit in the State general fund showed a rise to $18,035,927. Checks issued by the State against the general fund are averaging about seven months "hot"—that is, there is no money available to pay such checks until about seven months after they are issued, and they are discounted accordingly.

Counties Must Wait

About the only benefit that county governments will get in the near future from enactment of the road bond assumption act by the regular session will be a continuance of 100 percent payments of principal and interest on bonds issued to improve roads that are now part of the State highway system, as in the past, plus assumption of the bond service debt on such additional roads as have been taken into the system since January 1, 1932.

The other benefits—including the assumption of bonded debts on lateral roads in the counties,—will have to wait another year, as members of the staff of the bond assumption board declare at least a year will be required to figure out division of the surplus in the fund and the complicated legal aspects of the new law. The law provides for ultimate assumption of the service charges on certain lateral roads in the counties, under a complicated formula, but county judges and commissioners who expected, while the bill was pending, that it would open an immediate wide-open gateway to the State treasury for the benefit of the county political machines, are doomed to disappointment. There is even some talk that a court test of the legality of the entire act may be launched before any lateral road payments are made. Many authorities believe the state has no power, under the constitution, to underwrite and pay off county bonds on roads which do not belong to the State and over which the State has no control.

Tax Remission Aids Counties

More "manna from Heaven" for the counties will come the remission of half the ad valorem tax levy for general purposes, which is effective this year. Actual effective date awaits an opinion from the Attorney General, but most officials think the money will not be available until Sept. 1, 1940, end of the fiscal year. This will distribute about $5,000,000 annually to the counties, and some of them are using no time in finding a way to spend it. In Dallas county, for instance, where the general fund of the county is over half a million dollars in the "red", the County Commissioners Court held a special meeting the day after the Governor signed the bill, and raised the pay of 16 county employees. The plea made during the session was that the counties needed the State's money to pay for relief work, and to aid sorely pressed county taxpayers. But indications are that counties using the money to reduce the county tax rate will be few and far between.

Pension Future Uncertain

Future fate of Texas pensioners remained uncertain, as checks for July pensions, made late by a delay in Federal approval, went out. The Federal authorities have okayed August pension payments, but after that Federal participation will depend upon pension rules and regulations instituted by the new State Welfare Board, which will take over pension administration after Sept. 1, and on application of the newly liberalized pension law. The action of Congress on pending measures to liberalize Federal pension participation may also have a strong influence upon the future welfare of Texas pensioners. Full effect of the liberalized law, which it is believed will add a minimum of 50,000 new beneficiaries to the Texas pension rolls, will not be known until the staff can make inspections and pass on the flood of new applications now on hand, which will require several months. Meanwhile, politicians here were watching for Gov. O'Daniel's announcement of the nominations he will make for the three places on the new administrative board. The Federal government requires experienced social service workers on the pension staff, but on the other hand, O'Daniel has bitterly condemned the case workers who make pension inspections, during his campaign and since, and a wholesale clean-out of the present staff, working under direction of Jack Little as supervisor, may result. Upon pension developments of the next few months most observers here believe, will depend the probability of a special session of the Legislature.

Must Have Drivers' License

Failure of the Legislature to enact a drivers' license law did not invalidate the existing law, and it will remain in effect until new legislation is adopted, Attorney General Mann held. Licenses now held by drivers are automatically extended. The Public Safety Department will stamp an extension notice on illness of any motorist who visits out of Texas, in order to avoid trouble with local officers in other States, the department has announced. The old regulations for issuing new licenses remain in effect.

KERRVILLE FIRM PERFECTS PRODUCT TO CONTROL PARASITES

After four years' experience the Bice Oil Company, a Kerrville firm, has succeeded in perfecting a livestock spray with a white-oil base, which has proven to be very effective in controlling external parasites on livestock and poultry, such as all types of ticks, lice, fleas, blue-bugs, etc., according to a report from the firm this week.

For years it has been a well-known fact that dip has proven injurious to animals. This new discovery eliminates the need for dipping. It is easily applied as a spray; it is safe and economical, as tests have proven.

Bice's TIC-DED spray already has received wide-spread endorsement from many leading West Texas ranchmen. Each week sees others being converted to its use. Especially has TIC-DED proven efficacious in eradicating lice on goats and sheep. The spray is retained on the wool mohair fibers but penetrates to the skin of the animal, thus coming into intimate contact with the lice and other parasites present both on the fibers and on the skin. Experiments have further shown that Bice's TIC-DED is perhaps one of the most effective blow-fly repellents now on the market. Many leading ranchmen now use it in preference to any other blow fly repellent.

Many ranchers report that after shearing goats and sheep they have sprayed them with TIC-DED and that cold rains and winds do not immediately chill them. In this connection the experiments have proven that the mortality rate from cold rains and winds after shearing has decreased materially.

Instead of making laboratory tests on TIC-DED the Bice Oil Company went into the ranching areas, contacted leading ranchmen, and proceeded to use their entire ranches as testing laboratories, using TIC-DED on one-half the stock and using dip on the other half. The ranchmen who had opportunity to observe the tests on the ranches were so impressed with TIC-DED's results that they have abandoned completely the dipping of livestock.

ONE THING And
THEN ANOTHER
By Fred Gipson

CORPUS CHRISTI.—I see where the old-time trades day is coming back in vogue again. One after another, the smaller towns about the state are setting aside one day a week, or ont every two week, when all the country folks can bring into town their weaned milk calves and fence-break mules and swap them off for a bucket-kicking milk cow or an egg-sucking coon-hound.

And I'm all for it. We used to have trades day when I was a kid. And I'll never forget the time Papa hauled a couple of black shoats over to Mason and swapped them off for a crump-ltd-horned milk cow, which he swapped off for a stud horse.

Maybe IT'S the HEAT

... but anyway, we're thinking that a lot of folks are going to find it mighty comfortable to break their vacation trips this summer with stops at Humble Service Stations . . . What with the two Fairs and all, we're expecting a lot of vacation travelers, and we've provided everything we can think of to make their trips more comfortable . . . You know what a Humble Service Station is: you've heard how clean the rest-rooms are—maybe a neighbor told you, if you haven't found out for yourself; anyway, they're reason enough to plan your stops where you see the Humble sign . . . But they're not everything, not by a jugful! There's an abundance of refreshing ice water waiting for you. There's cool shade, a stretch of green lawn, a glimpse of bright flowers . . . And last, but far from least, there's a friendly greeting and a cheerful goodbye from a neatly uniformed, courteous station salesman who renders you a service that's prompt, trained and genuinely helpful . . . So, when you plan your vacation trip this summer, also plan to stop and stretch your legs where you see the Humble sign!

HUMBLE

which he swapped off for a Jersey heifer and a broom-tail mare and then swapped the heifer off for his two black shoats again and hauled them back home, with the mare leading behind the wagon.

Which aggravated Mama like all get out, because the shoats were chicken-eaters to begin with and the mare turned out to be a balker.

But there are people in that country yet who talk about what a shrewd trader Papa was. And they never could understand it, either. Because Papa wasn't a whittling trader at all. He could go to town with a wagon-load of hens with their feet tied together with fodder twine and come back with a bay mule and a turning plow and never open his knife.

But, of course, Papa was just an exception. Anybody who recollects the old-time trades days knows that a trader was judged by the size and his use of the whittling knife he carried.

I used to get a terrible lot of fun and stomach-aches out of going to trades days with Papa. The stomach-aches came from the peanuts and red soda water. The fun came from a number of things.

I guess the greatest fun, though were the runaways. Seems like we had one every time a trades day was held. In spite of the fact that everybody knew there was a big swarm of bees living in the old big live oak that's still standing east of the court house square, there would always be a bunch of saddle horses and wagon teams tied up there. The old well under the tree and watering trough were likely the main attractions. They're gone now.

Anyhow, about the time the swapping was the hottest and the whittling the fastest, some cantankerous bee, or one with a perverted sense of humor, would whizz down at the root of some half-broken mule's tail and pop it to him.

And the fool mule would fall back in harness and break his tie rope. And that would scare his mate that was already looking for a booger, anyhow. And the two of them would wheel and take out down the street.

And right off, somebody would see them an drun out and wave his hat and holler "Whoa!" And that would scare them worse. And they'd run right into a line o' trading cows and horses and goats and pigs and dogs and men. And they'd all break loose and scatter and howl and squeal and fall right in behind the runaway team and curl their tails and the fun would get better.

And cowhands would quit the saloons and come rushing out, their spurs rattling, and leap a stride their mounts, aiming a catch the runaways, and their mounts would get excited and swallow their heads and unbuckle themselves and start skyward, sunning their sides on the way up.

And altogether, by the time the runaway team had crashed into a wagon-load of watermelons and turned it over and busted the melins to where puddles of juice were forming in the horse and cow tracks and the mules had piled the wagon up in the door of the backsmith shop, everybody was ready to go home and call it a mighty successful trades day.

J. Paul Anderson, a 62-year-old one-armed retired steel worker, swam eight miles in the Susquehanna River in eight and a half hours, just to show that he could do it. He showed no ill effects from his difficult feat.

Arthur Wagner, charged with killing another Negro, escaped from jail at Macon, Ga., and fled to Atlanta. Then he hopped a freight for Birmingham, he thought, but wound up back in Macon. Police were waiting for him and returned him to jail.

Bernarr MacFadden, 71-year-old publisher, led a party of 82 persons who walked from Philadelphia to the New York fair. MacFadden still pilots his own airplane in spite of his advanced age.

COMMISSIONERS COURTS OF AREA AFFILIATE WITH FREIGHT RATE FIGHT

ABILENE. — Commissioners' Courts in all parts of West Texas are affiliating with the Freight State Equality Federation, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in its campaign to secure equalization of freight rates between the Southwestern zone and the highway favored zones of the north and east.

Response by West Texas Counties to the call for FREE affiliations has been fine and almost 100 per cent agitation of the counties in this region is expected within a few weeks, West Texas Chamber of Commtrce officials said.

Report of the activity of the WTCC and the FREF in the recent freight rate hearing conducted by the Texas Railroad Commission in Austin has been submitted to the Commissioners' Courts as well as to the WTCC's 200 directors.

The two organizations, which for months have led in the growing movement against discriminatory freight rates, presented 46 charts and exhibits and 31 witnesses who testified as to the unreasonableness of differential and class rates in the state.

An order from the Commission revising differential rates and prescribing the official rate scale of the Ohio-Indiana territory for Teyas was asked by the WTCC and the FREF. Studies made by the WTCC claim Texas rates are from 60 to 85 percent higher than the Ohio-Indiana rates.

There has never before been a freight rate hearing on such a broad base, D. A. Bendeen, WTCC manager and FREF secretary said. We feel that we presented an overwhelming, convincing case before the Commission and are hopeful that a favorable order will be given by that body.

WTCC officials were gratified with approval by the Governor of $30,000 appropriation by the Legislature to the Attorney General's department for prosecuting the case for freight rate equality. The organization had advocated the appropriation, pointing out that some other Southwestern states have made similar appropriations and that some states in the favored regions had appropriated funds to fight freight rate equality.

Good progress is being made in the rate equality campaign and work will be carried on until Texas producers, consumers, manufacturers and shippers are given equal opportunity with those of the north and east. WTCC officials declared.

EVOLUTION OF RUBBER

Recent barter negotiations for the exchange of American cotton for British rubber emphasize the indispensability of both commodities in the modern world. But while cotton has been used for 3,000 years or more, the rubber industry is of comparatively recent development.

Early explorers found natives of Central and South America using the substance now called rubber in various crude ways, but little attention was paid to it, and it was not until about 1770 that scientists began trying to make practical use of the peculiar material.

The advent of the automobile greatly increased the demand for rubber, which by 1910 reached about 90,000 tons. In 1935 world consumption of crude rubber totalled over a million tons, of which the United States used more than all other countries combined.

Prior to 1900, wild rubber trees, mostly in Brazil supplied all the world's crude rubber. Now more than 98 per cent of all rubber is produced on plantations, principally in British possessions in the Far East.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!
