Fire Department Wins Big At Convention

Members of the Eldorado Fire Department were in Ballinger on April 7 for the Spring Convention of the Hill Country Fireman's Association. Approximately 40 people attended from Eldorado.

Following the morning business meeting, an exciting afternoon of pumper races was held. Of the five races run, Eldorado brought home four first place and one third place trophies.

The six man pumper team placed third with a time of 22.19 seconds. This team is made up of Felipe Pina, Kermit Mahanay, Philip Meyer, John Cheatham, Mark Daniels and Chuck Jones.

The three lady team of Kathy Smith, Dee Dee Meyer and Pam Daniels brought home a first place trophy. Their time of 10.48 seconds is the second fastest time on Hill Country records.

The three man team also received a first place trophy with a time of 10.83 seconds. Joey Jones, Norman Smith and James Holley make up this team.

James Holley earned a first place in the one man race with a time of 10.34 seconds.

The most spectacular race of the day was when the Eldorado six lady pumper team literally ran away with the first place trophy and a new Hill Country record. Their time of 15.93 seconds broke the old record of 16.33 which was set by Eldorado in 1983. This team consists of Kathy Smith, Jan Bailey, Sissy Cheatham, Beverly Powell, Lenette Doran and Karan Holley.

It was reported that 341 people registered for this convention. Eldorado was selected as the site for the 1991 Spring Convention.

Easter Society Riders Stop In Eldorado

The Easter Society Riders, a group of friends who make a ride each year to the Big Bend Easter Rally, came to Eldorado on Thursday, April 12. They have been doing this since 1975 and have been passing through Eldorado since 1976. Each year they camp at the Eldorado Airport where Floyd West has given them permission to use his hanger.

The riders can ride by invitation only. They include

I.B.M. employees, lawyers, truck drivers and retired military personnel.

O.J. Miles, spokesman for the outfit, stated, "Thursday night we stay in Eldorado, Friday night we go to Fort Davis, Saturday we get into Big Bend, Sunday we usually end up in Del Rio, and Monday we are back home in San Antonio. We usually travel about 1200 miles during the weekend."

Floyd West, (second from the right on the bottom row), is pictured above with the Easter Society Riders. Floyd hosts the riders each year when they come through Eldorado on their way to Big Bend.

Bike-A-Thon Scheduled Saturday AT City Park

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced that Sheila Prater will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon in Eldorado on Saturday, April 21.

Ms. Prater has asked residents to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon slated for this weekend at City Park beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing until 11 a.m.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and provides medical care for over 3,200 active patients. Currently, over $183,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to Ellen Marie Haynes. Five-year-old Ellen Marie, from Rossville, Georgia, developed a malignant tumor in her abdomen in June, 1986. After treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, which consisted of surgery, radiation, and chemotherapy, Ellen Marie was taken off all therapy in January, 1987. Although she isn't cured of her cancer yet, her prognosis is good.

"This ride is a vital part of the fight against childhood cancer at St. Jude. Riders are needed. They make or break a Bike-A-Thon," said Ms. Prater.

Riders sign up sponsors who promise to make a donation based on each mile completed. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate. Those who raise $25 receive a certificate and a St. Jude T-Shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a barrel tote bag, a T-Shirt and a certificate.

If you haven't been asked to sponsor a rider, but are interested, please call Sheila Prater and a rider will contact you.

Each rider gets a lap card at registration. Every time riders pass the checkpoints, the card is initialed. At the end of the ride, the card is checked and signed to show that the rider earned what the sponsor pledged. Riders return to sponsors to collect the pledge.

For more information or for sponsor-registration forms, contact Sheila Prater.

I wrote a few months ago about gossip and what it can do to others. I wrote that there are three things to ask before you speak: first, is it true; second, is it needful; and third, is it kind.

This not only applies to gossip but to rumors -- especially those made up that are completely and totally false.

Such was the case when I heard of a rumor going around Eldorado High School, supposedly made up by a couple of high school students. Not only was it totally false, it was vicious. It not only hurt friends, it also hurt family members to think that such a rumor could be started.

I have to wonder why these students would start such a rumor in the first place. Was it born out of jealousy? Did this other person do something so terrible to them that the rumor was the result?

As I understand it, one of these students was truly sorry for what they had done, but the other got mad that it hurt someone else. That person didn't feel like he/she had done anything wrong. Are our teenagers today so callous that they make up rumors about their peers and feel no remorse for their actions?

It is one thing to repeat a rumor you have heard -- even to twist it a little into something else. That is bad enough. But to make up something from out of no where -- something conjured up in the minds of these students -- I'm sorry, but I don't understand.

I am not trying to cut down these teenagers for their actions, it applies to all of us. Rumors are never nice no matter who starts them. Think about what you are saying before you say it. Think about who you might hurt. Think about it!

HOW TO KNOW YOU ARE GROWING OLDER

Everything hurts and what doesn't hurt, doesn't work. The gleam in your eye is from the sun hitting your bifocals. You feel like the night before and you haven't been anywhere. Your little black book contains only names ending in M.D. You get winded playing cards. Your children begin to look middle aged. You join a health club and don't go. A dripping faucet causes an uncontrollable bladder urge. You know all the answers, but nobody asks you the questions. You look forward to a dull evening. You need glasses to find your glasses.

You turn out the lights for economic rather than romantic reasons. You sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going. Your knees buckle but your belt won't. Your back goes out more than you do. You have too much room in the house and not enough in the medicine chest. You sink your teeth in a steak and they stay there. You are wondering why more people aren't using this size print!

'Til the next time...
MAY GOD BLESS.

I hope you all had a happy Easter and didn't stove up on hard boiled eggs. As a dad, of course, I get to eat the eggs the kids have hidden several times, all cracked and dirty. But, since I paid for them, I can't bring myself to toss them out. That is not totally true, if they are really dirty, I throw them out.

I do like hard boiled eggs. The only trouble I sometimes have with them is when I try to peel one and I don't get that very thin membrane that is between the shell and the shiny moist white. It seems that if I don't get that membrane to come off with the shell it is nearly impossible to get off. I've always wondered why that is there? Actually I only think about that once a year, at Easter time.

I have to admit I am not old enough to remember what was put in Easter baskets before the invention of the colored paper grass. It must have been someone with no children and a hired house cleaning person who invented that stuff.

I am forever finding strands of the stuff long after the Easter season is over and all the eggs have been eaten. It is just like Christmas Tree tinsel, no matter how well you clean, little bits and strands show up for the next six months. Even powerful Hoovers can't extricate them from the carpet. Months later they show up in the cookie jar, or under the couch.

The only thing that keeps me relatively calm about the Easter grass is that it appears to be relatively harmless. As far as I know, no laboratory rats have gotten cancer from being exposed to Easter basket grass, which is more than can be said for hard boiled eggs!

Comptroller's Office Sends Checks Totaling $74 Million In Tax Rebates

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that his office sent checks totaling $74 million in local sales tax rebates to cities and counties in Texas.

"That's a healthy increase over last April's payments and good news for the state's cities and counties," Bullock said.

Checks to cities total almost $67 million, an increase of seven percent over last year's total payments at this time, Bullock said.

Houston received $11.7 million, the state's largest payment while Dallas received the state's second largest payment of $7.6 million. San Antonio received $3.9 million and Austin received $2.8 million.

Rebate checks to counties totaled $7 million this month for an increase of nearly 16 percent over last year's total payments at this time. The increase is partly due to more counties collecting sales tax now, Bullock said.

Eldorado's payment for this period was $5,024.49 as compared to the previous year's payment of $3,746.41, an increase of 34.11 percent. Total 1990 payments to date are $25,514.72 as compared to 1989 payments to date of $21,526.01, an increase of 18.53 percent.

Schleicher County's payment for this period was $3,023.53 as compared to the previous year's payment for this period of $1,697.83, an increase of 78.08 percent. Total 1990 payments to date are $13,368.61, as compared to 1989 payments to date of $3,235.13, an increase of 313.23 percent.

This month's checks include taxes collected on February sales and reported in March by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

Merchants collect the sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its six percent share and each month sends cities and counties their portion of the sales tax.

All local sales taxes must be approved by local voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put the money in their General Fund and use it for operations like fire fighting, maintaining roads and law enforcement.

Small Clues to Alzheimer's: Although scientists are beginning to understand what happens in the brain with Alzheimer's disease, treatments still center around drugs to control behavioral changes.

Because the chemical acetylcholine has been found lacking in the brains of people with this disease, investigations are aimed at slowing its breakdown in the body.

Some drugs that do this are being tested, but the results vary widely. It is now thought that possibly a combination of chemicals may be required to treat the disease, but this theory is still far from practical treatment.

Every Day Is Earth Day In Texas State Parks

When pink and yellow primroses peek out of the woods and bluebonnets drape the meadows, it is time to experience April's love affair with Texas in a state park. This year there is more reason than ever to celebrate the parks and Earth's bounty. April 22 will commemorate the 20th anniversary of Earth Day. "Lands have been set aside in state parks as a natural response to the beauty of Texas and a simple desire to preserve it for everyone to enjoy," said Wilson E. Dolman, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's parks director.

For almost 75 years, in acts of public farsightedness and private generosity, Texans have chosen to conserve canyons, beaches, prairies and woodlands in the state park system, he said.

In 1989 a record 21 million people visited Texas state parks for the second year in a row. Today the system preserves the natural and cultural heritage of Texas from Panhandle canyons to Gulf shore beaches, from Big Bend's desert wilderness to the woodlands of Deep East Texas. As the state park system moves into the 1990s, important new resource conservation goals are being assessed and met.

"Our wilderness parks are more than simple museums of the outdoors," says Dolman. "Here there is clean air and clear water, here wildlife is unfettered, and here people can experience the great living wonder of Texas."

Fort McKavett State Historical Park, an 1850's - 1880's era frontier fort, will be holding a special "Historical Preservation Celebration" in observance of Earth Day on Sunday, April 22.

Fort McKavett State Historical Park is located 23 miles west of Menard on Ranch Road 864. Admission is free to the park and for the program.

Activities for the program will include special guided tours of the park conducted at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. The tours will emphasize the historical, archeological, architectural and environmental aspects of the park.

The Menard County Historical Society will give special presentations throughout the day in the Old School House on old ranching methods/environmental practices, general history of the Menard County/Fort McKavett area, area flora and fauna -- both past and present -- historical preservation of the area and other interpretation activities.

Some volunteer members of the Fort Concho Living History Units will portray Cavalry and Infantry Soldiers of the 1870's and will provide ongoing interpretation of the soldier's role during the Indian Wars period.

Bill Dakan from Eldorado will set up his authentic chuckwagon and provide demonstrations and interpretation of its use and role in history.

The park is open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. and picnic tables are available for day use. No camping or alcoholic beverages are allowed. For further information on the program call 915-396-2358.

Highway Department Seeks Maintenance Contractors

The highway department is sending a message to maintenance contractors: "We want you as a new recruit."

"Since the Legislature directed us last year to increase contracting to 25 percent of our routine maintenance budget, we need to attract more bidders to keep the process as competitive as possible," said Engineer-Director Arnold Oliver.

Routine maintenance includes just about any kind of work performed on the highway right-of-way, from mowing and picnic-area maintenance to pavement marking and crack sealing.

Contracts are awarded throughout the year in all areas of the state.

In the past, each of the department's 24 districts maintained its own list of prospective bidders. When a contract was to be let, the district would notify contractors on the local list. Now, the department will maintain one computerized statewide bidders list in Austin. The data base will include the types of work each contractor can perform and the areas of the state where each contractor wants to work. When a district office needs bids on a contract proposal, contractors on the statewide bidders list will be notified automatically by mail.

To reach more prospective bidders, the department has installed a toll-free number for contractors to obtain information about getting on the statewide list. The service is active between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 800-535-9013 (465-6283 in the Austin area).

Anyone can get on the list. Many of the department's contracts go to small businesses. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is an equal opportunity employer.

Oil And Gas Permits Issued Increased In March

A total of 1,344 drilling permits were issued by the Railroad Commission in March, according to RRC Chairman Kent Hance. In February, the total was 1,155. March 1989's total was 1,192.

The March total included 834 permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 54 to re-enter existing well bores, 43 to deepen existing holes, 177 to plugback existing holes, and 86 for other wells.

Operators were also issued 150 amended drilling permits.

Hance said permits issued for new oil and gas holes in March included 41 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 36 in the Refugio area (District 2), 65 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 91 in deep South Texas (District 4), 21 in East Central Texas (District 5), 53 in East Texas (District 6), 54 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 108 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 149 in the Midland area (District 8), 99 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 86 in North Texas (District 9), and 31 in the Panhandle (District 10).

In the first three months of 1990, the Commission has issued 3,812 drilling permits, a 20 percent increase from the 3,053 issued during the same period of 1989.

The 1,344 permits issued in March included 617 oil permits, 259 gas permits, 400 oil and gas permits, 45 injection permits, four disposal permits and 19 other permits.

Benefits Available For Developmentally Disabled

People who are developmentally disabled may qualify for monthly benefits under the Social Security or the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program, sometimes both. The medical requirements for eligibility so far as disability is concerned are the same for both programs. However, other eligibility rules differ.

A mentally retarded person can get Social Security payments when a parent starts getting Social Security retirement or disability payments or when an insured parent dies. It doesn't matter how old the child is, but he or she must have become disabled before age 22. A retarded person who has worked long enough under Social Security can also get benefits on his or her own work record.

SSI payments are paid to disabled people of any age, as well as the blind, and people 65 and over. However, SSI payments are based on financial need and are made to people who have limited income and resources.

In deciding if a child under 18 and living at home can get SSI payments, part of the parents' income and resources are considered to be that of the child. After applying allowances for work and living expenses, and for other children living in the home, the remaining amount of the parents' income is used to decide if a child meets the income and resource limits.

Although people living in institutions are generally not eligible for SSI payments, an application may be submitted when it appears that a person will be able to leave an institution soon.

ELECTRIC METERS — SEALED FOR SAFETY

Electrical meters measure the amount of service delivered by measuring the flow. Every meter in operation has some current flowing through it, and residential meters usually carry the full load. The typical residential load can be up to 200 amps of current.

Removing the meter while it is under load, that is when current is flowing through it, can lead to disaster. The metal housing is at a different electrical potential from the meter. Any contact between the metal housing and the meter will result in a violent discharge or "arc" of electricity between them.

The resulting electrical explosion can severely damage the meter and the electrical system, and can cause electrical fires. The person working with the meter could be injured, blinded or killed by flying glass and metal, or by the radiant flash caused by the explosion.

Your meter should be removed or serviced only by representatives of your utility company, or by electricians or emergency personnel authorized by your utility.

Remember — the seal on your meter is a seal of safety!

On May 1, 1718, Martin de Alarcón, the Spanish governor of Texas, founded a new mission three-quarters of a league (approximately three miles) down the creek from San Pedro Springs. It was the first of the missions established along the east bank of the San Antonio River. He called it San Antonio de Valero.

Today, the mission is better known as "The Alamo."

MILLIONAIRE MAKER REVEALS SECRET!

DON'T LET THIS OPPORTUNITY PASS YOU BY.

Can you picture yourself making at least $5000 dollars a week, every week? If you can, I urge you to read this article, it could be worth thousands of dollars to you!

My name is Mark Preston. I am 32 years old and a self made millionaire. A few years ago I discovered a money making method that changed my life forever. This is not just another "get rich quick scheme." This is a unique new system that is in demand everywhere, yet few people even know it exists.

Anyone can do it. Trust me. If you want to make money, this system is for you. When I first started this money making program, I was flat broke and at least $10,000 dollars in debt. My family thought I was crazy and said I should be out looking for a "real job." That did not stop me. I was determined to make it with this fantastic money making plan I had discovered.

I started at home on the kitchen table with no capital. Within a year I was taking in over $20,000 A WEEK... MORE THAN A MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR. You heard me right, OVER A MILLION DOLLARS A YEAR! I went from driving an old beat up Pick-Up to a Brand New Lincoln Continental. I paid for it in cash. I bought a new home in a prestigious neighborhood, a waterfront summer cottage, and a Townhouse in Florida. I do not mean to brag, but these are my results using this amazing money making system. Do not envy me, join me!

THE SECRET REVEALED

I knew then I had discovered a revolutionary new money making program that would continue to make me thousands of dollars a day. It seemed so easy. I asked myself why everybody wasn't rich? Then it dawned on me that not everyone knew about this secret method of making money. You do not need special training or even a college education for this money making system to work for you.

Once you have learned how to use it, your money worries will be over for life. You will have financial security and peace of mind. This money making system is perfectly legal and amazingly simple. It has nothing to do with real estate, the stock market, or gambling of any kind.

It does not matter what your financial situation is now. You can start this money making program at home in your spare time with less than $15.00. In a few short weeks you will see the cash start to roll in. Once you put this money making system to work for you, the sky's the limit! You will have cash to spend on whatever you want, whenever you want it. Think of it! Enough cash to finally put an end to economic nightmares forever!

HERE'S PROOF

I am sure you are somewhat skeptical at this point. That just shows you have good business sense. Read what a few people had to say about my money making program.

Dear Mark,
I ordered your program 3 months ago and started using it the day I got it. To say the least I was shocked at the results. Last month I deposited over $11,000 in my bank account. Thank you so much.
N.C., Stuart, Florida

Dear Mark,
When I first saw your article I had my doubts. I said to myself I might as well try it, at least I'll be $25.00 ahead with your guarantee. Well, your material changed my life from being flat broke in July to practically a millionaire in December! If I can do it, anyone can.
J.S., San Diego, CA

Dear Mark,
Before I ordered your money making method, I was slaving away cutting lawns for $4.00 an hour. At 19 years old my future looked bleak. Last week I made over $14,000 in less than 20 hours of work. I am the envy of all my friends. Thanks for a new life!
J.B., Loudonville, NY

Cattle Prices To Stay At Current Highs For Next Two Years

Beef cattle prices to the producer during the next two years are predicted to continue near current levels, the highest in about a decade.

Dr. Ernest E. Davis, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said producer prices generally will remain at today's levels, although some seasonal fluctuations will occur.

"We have fewer cattle available this year, and this has tended to keep prices up," Davis said. He expects it to take about two years to build the numbers high enough to send prices back down.

Meanwhile, consumer prices for beef are expected to hold steady through the spring and summer.

Davis said a variety of factors are influencing the price situation, including the drought in Texas and other cattle-producing states, the relatively lower amount of beef held in cold storage in U.S. warehouses and the slaughter schedule of feedlot animals across the country.

Davis said drought in Texas wheat producing areas this season restricted wheat grazing and forced stocker cattle into feedlots earlier than usual, even earlier than last year.

"As a result, more animals were placed in feedlots for fattening and were slaughtered and placed in the food chain earlier than normal," Davis said. "This has decreased the number of animals available for spring marketings as well as the total number of Texas beef cattle."

Davis said the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Cattle Report shows current 1990 inventory for all cattle in Texas totals 13.4 million head, but about 200,000 less than last year and the year before.

Current producer prices are about on par with those of 1979. Davis said Texas feedlots placed 290,000 cattle and calves on feed during February, 16 percent below placements in February 1989. Marketings of fed cattle from Texas feedlots during February totaled 345,000 head, down five percent from a year ago.

"This represents fewer animals going on feed and fewer being slaughtered during that month," Davis said.

He said cattle and calves on feed March 1 in seven major cattle production states -- Nebraska, Iowa, California, Colorado, Kansas, Arizona and Texas -- totaled 8.32 million head, five percent more than in the two previous years and the largest number on feed since 1974.

But cattle feeders, facing large numbers of fed cattle marketings this summer, reduced the number of cattle and calves placed on feed from January to February by 26 percent.

"Across the seven states, even with feeder cattle supplies down for the eighth consecutive year because of the downslope of the cattle cycle, it looks like we may still feed more cattle than a year ago," Davis said.

Davis said cold storage beef supplies in U.S. warehouses at the beginning of February totaled 265.2 million pounds, down 16 percent from a year ago and 16 percent less than in 1988.

A Texas livestock marketing industry leader and board chairman of Port City Stockyards at Brenham and Sealy, James D. Sartwelle, expects producer cattle prices to continue near today's level for about two years.

"Unless the basic economy crumbles, the cow-calf producer should get prices comparable to today's levels," he said.

Many ranchers in drought counties, Sartwelle said, have had some rain which boosted grass growth and improved ranges.

"Quite a few of these producers now want to purchase cattle and restock their ranges," Sartwelle said. "The demand for good young cow-calf pairs is brisk and quite competitive."

What do these producer prices mean to the consumer?

Dr. Dick Edwards, an Extension Service food marketing specialist, said the upbeat cattle market is not yet raising prices at the supermarket.

"For the consumer, beef prices have been steady, and they are not expected to change in the near future," he said.

He said demand for beef traditionally increases in the spring and summer, which should reduce any extra supplies from increased beef marketings and keep prices at about the current level.

Edwards said consumers will continue to find some beef cuts on sale each week at the supermarket as managers promote beef.

April 22-28 Designated Victim Rights Week In Texas

Each year, criminal violence touches over 34 million Americans. These victims and their loved ones often face severe financial, physical and psychological losses.

In the past, our criminal justice system often failed to provide assistance and protection for victims of criminal attacks. Victims were not protected from defendants released on bail and they were not informed before decisions were made regarding their cases.

Today, those in law enforcement and other related fields are being educated to better meet the needs of the victims. There has also been an increase in community programs to provide direct assistance to crime victims and to better protect their interests. Dedicated individuals in a variety of fields are making impressive strides in assuring the rights of these innocent victims of crime.

"I commend the many victims and survivors of crime who have demonstrated extraordinary courage and strength by seeking ways to help themselves and others," commented Governor Bill Clements.

Therefore, Governor Clements has designated the week of April 22 through 28 as Victim Rights Week in Texas and urges the appropriate recognition.

Nomination Forms Available For Creative/Productive Thinking Program

At this time of year, new students are identified for next year's Creative/Productive Thinking program in Eldorado Elementary School. A parent may nominate his/her own child for the program.

Nomination forms are available in the principal's office and may be picked up from 8:05 a.m. to 3:40 p.m. Forms must be returned before May 10.

Please be aware that high grades are not always an indication of giftedness. In this program, the object is to identify those students who have outstanding abilities in reasoning and understanding and who can also use their imaginations.

The identification procedure includes nomination by parents, teachers, and peers' achievement and abilities test scores; and a group inventory.

If you have any questions about the Creative/Productive Thinking program, feel free to call the school. Also remember, if your child was in this program this year, they will not need to be re-nominated.

Awareness Key To Reducing Employer Discrimination

By Lamar Smith

Despite the fact that a 1986 law to crack down on illegal immigration is achieving its goals, some people want to do away with it.

Congress's investigative agency, the General Accounting Office (GAO) recently issued a report citing an increase in discrimination against foreign looking and sounding people and linked this discrimination to the law's effort to stop illegals from entering the country.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 (IRCA) established penalties for employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens or fail to verify a new hire's work authorization. The GAO found 10 percent of the employers they sampled discriminated against people because they feared violating the law.

There are solutions to this problem. The first is educating people about the requirements of IRCA, the second is improving the system of verifying who is eligible to work in this country.

Repealing employer sanctions to end discrimination makes as little sense as legalizing drugs to end drug trafficking. In each case, surrender is disguised as a solution.

Sanctions should also be kept because they work. Although not eliminated, the flood of illegal aliens pouring across our border has been greatly reduced by employer sanctions, and aliens are having a tougher time finding work.

The United States needs to send a message that people should come here legally, or not come at all. Jobs should not be available to those who break our laws to enter the country and employer sanctions are the only way to send that message.

Fortunately, there is a way for this law to continue to discourage illegal immigration, while reducing the discrimination being faced by thousands of job applicants.

One way is to improve the way we verify a person's eligibility to work, as suggested by the GAO. A single, tamper-proof worker identification card will go a long way toward eliminating discrimination. Employers are understandably confused by the 17 documents they can accept, and worried by the widespread fraud occurring because these documents are so easy to fake.

Another possible solution is a national call-in verification system similar to that used for credit cards. Employers would be able to call the agency responsible for work authorization and obtain a verification code that would establish their compliance with the law.

The second way to reduce discrimination is to let employers know what their responsibilities are under IRCA. The requirements are fairly simple, and over 80 percent of the employers are following them.

Employers now need to ask all applicants or new hires to provide one of 17 documents that establishes their work authorization. The employer must then file a verification form (called an I-9) with the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and the Department of Labor.

The law does not require an employer to determine the validity of the work authorization document. Employers who ask for proof of work authorization and fill out an I-9 form will not be prosecuted for hiring someone who produced a forged document.

All United States citizens, including naturalized citizens and those born in Puerto Rico, are automatically eligible to work.

It is against the law to ask only foreign looking people to provide documents or to refuse to hire someone with proof of work authorization because he looks or sounds foreign.

Discrimination based on national origin is not acceptable under any circumstance. Congress must now address this serious problem, not surrender by repealing employer sanctions.

Pony Express Arrives In Winters

In the year 1890, mail was brought in to the new town of Winters by Pony Express. Winters will be reliving that experience this Saturday, San Jacinto Day, April 21 at 10 a.m.

There are many exciting plans for that day. The Rock Hotel will be the station for the Pony Express to deliver mail from the east. There will be a stamp cancellation. Plan to take something with a postal stamp on it and Dean Thompson, chairman, will cancel it with the pictorial cancellation, a picture of the Rock Hotel and Winters

Centennial.

In the dining hall of the Rock Hotel, there will be a mock bar selling sarsaparilla at 10 cents a shot. High school girls will be bar maids. There will be simulated gun fights, a lot of spitting, whittling and tall tale spinning going on.

There is also going to be a big flea market sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Garage sales will be taking place all around town also. There is going to be lots of food and drink booths and this will be a fun day for the whole family.

Flea Market Slated April 28

The Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Flea Market on the courthouse parking lot on Saturday, April 28.

If you would like a booth or more information, call the chamber office at 853-3109 from 9:30 a.m. to 12 Noon.

Fire Prevention Poster Winners To Go To State

The Fire Prevention Poster Contest which was held in the fall is probably long forgotten by most, but to several people it is still on their minds.

Two posters from Eldorado received awards and will go on to the state contest to be held in El Paso in June.

In the high school division, Matt Williams received a second place and Michael Taylor received a third place trophy. These posters were selected during judging at the Spring Convention of the Hill Country Fireman's Association in Ballinger on April 7.

"The Eldorado Fire Department wishes at this time to thank all the students, grades kindergarten through 12th grades, who participated in this contest. About 100 posters were turned in for the local contest. Another competition will be held in October, so everyone start planning your poster," commented Kathy Smith, member of the Eldorado Fireman's Auxiliary.
