Not only will a host of local riders be entered, others from all parts of Texas will be here to participate. Come out and support the 4-H Youth Rodeo.

SS Rep Slates June Visit To Eldorado

Garland Gregg, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his June visit to Eldorado. He will be at the Community Center (formerly McCalla's) on Thursday, June 21 between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.

Traci Paxton, daughter of Ronnie and Prissy Paxton, won the Miss Texas Teen Congeniality Award in the Miss Texas Rodeo Pageant. The pageant was held in San Antonio on June 13-17. Ms. Paxton was sponsored by the Schleicher County Rodeo Association. To be eligible to run for the Miss Rodeo Pageant, the contestant has won a queen title and be sponsored by an organization.

ASU Honor Roll

Five Eldorado area students attending Angelo State University in San Angelo, are listed on the honor roll for the spring semester at the university.

Those listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll include Maxine Giovannitti, an undecided major.

Those listed on the 3.50 to 4.00 honor roll include Michelle Moore, a business major, Cynthia Anne Velez, a business major, Daniel Gus Willeke, an animal science major, Susan Michele Crippin, a drama major and GERALYN Marie Beach, an elementary education major.

The Voyager Encounter

Now Showing At ASU Planetarium

The Voyager Encounters is the new star program playing at the Angelo State University Planetarium every Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon beginning in June and running through August 16.

As the Voyager spacecraft recedes from the solar system into deep space, the new show in the University Planetarium examines the many accomplishments of the most successful unmanned mission to the outer planets.

Narrated by Patrick Stewart, who plays Captain Jean Luc Picard in the popular television series "Star Trek: The Next Generation," the program reviews the history of exploration of the planets Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune from the perspective of the earth-based telescopes.

"Through a blend of special effects, music, photographs, and narrations the program takes the audience to the realm of these mysterious gas giant planets of the outer solar system," said ASU Planetarium Director Dr. Mark Sonntag. "It examines in detail the fantastic storm systems, moons, and rings of the planets."

Sonntag also noted that the planetarium star projector will be employed during the show to highlight the summer night skies, finding the brightest stars and planets currently visible.

The Angelo State University Planetarium, one of the largest and technically sophisticated university planetariums in the nation, is located in the Nursing-Physical Science Building on the ASU campus. Show times for The Voyager Encounters are Thursdays at 8 p.m. and Saturdays at 2 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for the general public, $1 for students, senior citizens, and ASU faculty and staff. For additional information call the University Planetarium at 942-2188.

Pictured above is the future site of the new Senior Citizens center located on the corner of Gillis and Poplar. The land was donated by the City of Eldorado.

Rodeo Parade

Anyone who wants to be in the parade meet at the football parking lot at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, June 22, 1990. At this time we will get in line. The parade will start at 5:00 p.m. Our route will be the following: From the football parking lot to the Mertzson Highway towards Main Street (Bank), go two blocks, turn at Shots, go past Perry's two blocks and back towards the football parking lot. We have floats, a drill team, riders, old tractors, a clown and more. Prizes will be given. Come and enjoy the fun.

Life Among The Fishes

by Thomas Giovannitti

I don't normally like to do advertisements in this column but under the circumstances I thought that this week I would make an exception. This Monday night there will be a presentation of Christian music by a group called the Celebrant Singers. They are going to sing and then witness about how Jesus has changed their lives. There is no charge for this although they may writing about this is to invite everyone here in town to come over to the courtyard of the Catholic church 8:00 P.M. Monday June 25, to here these young men and women. They sing good easy listening Gospel music and other religious music with fine harmony and peaceful rhythms. I would especially encourage those of you mature enough to remember the coral groups of the 50's that gave us clear sounding songs, take up a collection at the end of the show.

Actually these singers were here several years ago. It is unusual for one of these groups to come to such a small town, but we happen to be strategically located between Odessa and San Antonio. We also have a very generous group of Church ladies who agreed to provide them with a meal and we'll house them overnight.

The reason I am even understandable and melodious.

Besides the singing they even have a person who signs the songs for the hearing impaired. Not all of the people will offer their testimony but enough of them that if you are not already sure of Jesus' role in your life they may, in fact, make a difference.

It is not merely the plans of mortal men that bring these people to our little town. Think about it!

Laugh and Live

by Gary Smith

Well folks, we are living in a topsy-turvy world. Seems like something awful is always happening. Why, just this week, a man was electrocuted for killing a policeman. Another man shot and killed ten people because his car had been re-possessed. Over and over, we hear about all of the terrible things that are happening all around us.

BUT... every once in a while, our thoughts are taken away from the world's dilemma and our attentions are focused. This is what happened to us this week. Last night, we drove 80 miles for "THE HAPPENING". And, this morning... it happened. Shannon Kyle came into this old world at 8:37 a.m. on Wednesday, June 20 weighing seven pounds and seven ounces and measuring in at 21 inches long.

For a while, that's all that really mattered in our family.

Now, Shannon is the son of Corey and Bobbie Ann Ritchie. Corey is Cathy's brother. Cathy is Corey's sister. Cathy is my wife. This makes Shannon my nephew.

Put another way, Shannon is the grandson of Gerald and Sandra Ritchie. Gerald is my father-in-law and Sandra is my mother-in-law. Shannon is their oldest son's son. Their oldest son is my brother-in-law. Gerald's oldest son's son's mother is Bobbie Ann, who is Corey's wife, who is my wife's sister-in-law, therefore, she is my sister-in-law as well. My sister-in-law's first son is my nephew.

Shannon is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jennings, to whom, I am not related. I think that whether or not I am related to the Jennings, I am still Shannon's uncle.

Anyway, even though there are bad things happening all around us, there are some good things happening too.

Shannon and mama are well and fine. For us, that's enough to occupy our thoughts for a while.

"Til the next time...

MAY GOD BLESS.

Letter To The Editor

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Schleicher County:

We would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all of the good citizens of Schleicher County for allowing us into your hearts and homes for the past eleven years. A special thanks goes to those who publicly and privately supported us in the last few months. It would be an impossibility to express our gratitude in mere words, but you and our memories of Eldorado will travel with us in our hearts and prayers wherever we may go.

We appreciate so much your willingness to take a stand this past spring and encourage you to continue to make yourselves aware of changes in your school and community and to be actively involved in seeing that they are changes you want and can support. If the wishes of the majority are to rule—as they should in a democratic society—then in takes active participation by the many, not just the few.

We feel that Eldorado is a wonderful community in which to live and raise your children. The small communities of our state offer so much that in order to truly appreciate their greatness you need to live in a place where people are unfriendly and uncaring. From the volunteer ambulance to the dedicated teachers in our local system to the volunteer firemen and our local officials—all of these people go out of their way to be friendly and to help others. Our decision to move was made more difficult by the fact that we know we are leaving a community that emotionally and financially supports its own.

However, in order to maintain all of the good things that Eldorado has to offer, the citizens of Schleicher County must be aware of what is happening in both city and county government and in the local government, your various churches, and all local volunteer organizations. These are the things that give Eldorado its uniqueness and make it the special place it is. You cannot afford to grow complacent about your hospital and nursing home, your E.M.S., your fire department, your school system, your city and county services, your children's activities, and most of all your churches.

We leave you with the words of the immortal Spock, "Live long and prosper."

Our Sympathy

L. Roy Phelps Jr., 71, of Dallas, formerly of Eldorado, and Waco, died Tuesday, June 12, 1990 in Dallas. Memorial services were held June 16, 1990, in Restland Funeral Home Chapel in Dallas. Burial was in Restland Memorial Park.

Roy Phelps was born March 2, 1919 in St. Louis, Missouri. He attended high school in St. Louis, Missouri and graduated from there March 2, 1919.

He entered the Air Force in San Angelo in 1942 and was in Photo Lab work. He was accepted for Cadet training in San Angelo and graduated, commissioned as a navigator.

He married Creola Henderson of Ballinger in September 1944. He was discharged from the service in September 1945. They lived in Louisville, Kentucky three years and there he serviced pipe organs. In 1947 they moved to St. Louis, Missouri.

In 1915 they moved to Eldorado, Texas where he was associated with Western Auto Stores for several years. He was manager here.

While living in Eldorado, the family were members of First Baptist Church and were very active in the music life of the church, as they all sang or played instruments. Roy was a deacon in the church and a member of the fire department.

In 1966 they closed the Western Auto Store and moved to Waco where he was associated with Baylor University Pipe Organs as a technician.

Survivors include his wife, Creola, 6564 Chicory Court, Dallas, Texas 75214; two daughters, Teresa (Terry) Bledsoe and Marilyn (Mickey) Elliot, both of Dallas; two sons, Kenneth (Kenny) Phelps of Houston, and Dennis (Denny) Phelps of Austin and five grandchildren.

An Apple A Day

by Lee R. (Smokey) Taylor, R.Ph.

Skin Cancer Risk on the Rise: Women under 40 years of age are showing up with many more skin cancers than in the past. Doctors suggest that intermittent heavy exposure to the sun may be more damaging than long-term, low-level exposure.

Additionally, they warn that childhood sunburns seem to be particularly damaging.

Staying out of the sun and using sunscreens remains the best preventive measure, but the future may hold a vaccine to treat these cancers.

Do You Qualify For LINKS?

by Jane Finley

I am very excited to have the opportunity to be in on the 'ground floor' of this new program, administered by the Texas Department on Aging, even though my job is temporary, only lasting through the summer. My job is to introduce OIL-Options for Independent Living-to qualifying older persons in my assigned area, Schleicher County. I will screen applicants mostly by age. They must be 60 years or older and not on a current Medicaid Program.

Currently nine OIL programs are functioning in Texas with more preparing for operation. This four county operation is entitled LINKS, as our program is a link between our seniors and services that they might need. Our four county operation will be based in Junction with case manager Fran Padilla as head. She is setting her schedule to visit Eldorado every Thursday to consult clients and set up the necessary services for them.

There are so many people in our area that could qualify and utilize this program as we are a 39% retiring community. My goal is to give service to at least 11 seniors. Basically one needs to be 60 years of age or older to apply.

So many times a family is faced with caring for an elder with a medical, handicap or frailty inconveniences. Most times these seniors are still living in their own homes and struggling to maintain for what they have worked all their lives. By utilizing LINKS, the program can cushion financial strain and relieve the caretaker from the daily worry of providing necessities for their elder's welfare.

Available services to eligible persons include the following: Homemaker, Respite Care, Benefits Counseling, Transportation, Home Delivered Meals, and Residential Repair.

Persons with income in between current Medicaid eligibility level and 250% of the poverty level can pay for the cost of care on a sliding fee basis. However no one will be refused services due to inability to pay. Most people that qualify are more than willing to pay the suggested donation, but donations from individuals are only about 8% that help fund the program. I certainly wouldn't mind paying $1.00 an hour for respite care, if I ever needed it, considering current charges are from $30.00 and up for an LVN or RN. Any individual would be happy to have professional help and at the same time pay what they felt like they could afford to maintain their option for independent living, staying in their own home and paying their own way.

We have a video available to various groups or organizations. It is tentatively scheduled for Monday, June 18, 1990 at 5:00 with the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce. Another showing will be with the Hospital Auxiliary on Thursday, July 5, 1990."

Texas Schools Must Enhance Local Control

In its opinion in Edgewood vs. Kirby, the Texas Supreme Court called for an efficient system of public education in Texas. Spending more on our poorer schools is necessary. However, to achieve efficiency and effectiveness in education as required by the court, Texas must enhance local control and accountability. This can be accomplished by the following:

1. Performing schools, evaluated on the basis of student achievement, should be rewarded by being relieved of a substantial number of state regulations;
2. Principals should have the authority to hire, fire and inspire on their campuses;
3. With the greater flexibility, principals should also be held accountable for the results achieved in their schools. Principal appraisals should be based primarily on student academic performance gains on their respective campuses;

4. School districts and individual campuses should be graded just like pupils. Their report cards should reflect success in attaining local objectives as well as how they stack up against certain performance indicators, including TEAMS test scores, dropout rates and attendance;

5. Future state aid should not be limited to outright grants of money. Rather, a certain percentage should be reserved for incentive funding, to be based on gains in performance;

6. Beginning in the fourth grade, students should be given a national, standardized test. The TEA-developed Texas Assessment of Academic Skills, which assesses minimum skills, should continue to be given in odd-numbered grade years;

7. For state funding purposes, students should be counted at the end of the school year, thus encouraging schools to keep youngsters in class. This would be in addition to the current counting schedule;

8. The governor, with the approval of the Texas Senate, would appoint the commissioner of education. The commissioner would have authority to set rules and regulations for local schools;

9. Open enrollment within districts should be encouraged to generate a spirit of competition among schools;

10. Money alone is not the answer to the crisis in public education. Reforms must be measured by their ability to provide true local control, a less centralized bureaucracy and more accountability for results.

Community Barbeque

The Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department and Ladies Auxiliary will be having a community B-B-Q. Saturday, June 23, 1990 is the date and the meal will be served between 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. This will take place on the north side of the courthouse lawn under the trees.

This event will be the main fund raiser for both organizations during 1990. Proceeds will help in sponsoring the Spring Hill Country Fireman's Convention and will also buy needed equipment.

Brisket, goat, sausage, beans and potato salad will be served. Adult tickets are $5.00 and 10 and under will be $3.00.

Tickets are available from any Fire Department or Auxiliary member. They can also be gotten at Jerry's T.V. or H-G Automotive.

Anyone wishing to donate any article of food should notify Jerry Jones at 853-2314 or Roger Powell at 853-2733.

Stealing electricity is against the law!

Stealing electricity is a felony.

Some people tamper with their electric meters to avoid paying for the energy they use. Stealing electricity is a felony offense in the state of Texas and violators will be prosecuted. West Texas Utilities' Current Diversion Department is working hard to help combat the growing problem of energy theft.

Energy theft is dangerous.

Not only is service theft a crime, but it is also very dangerous. Serious injuries can result from meter tampering.

A crime against you!

When someone steals electricity, they are not only stealing from WTU — they are also stealing from you, as a rate-payer. Just as shoplifting increases the cost of items you buy in the store, power theft increases the cost of your electric service.

WTU will prosecute.

Because we are concerned about the dangers and costs resulting from meter tampering, West Texas Utilities will prosecute energy thieves.

Sales Tax Increase

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that Texas businesses will have very little time to prepare for the quarter percent sales tax increase approved by the Legislature to pay for public education and human services programs.

"We will do everything possible to help businesses and merchants with this rate change," Bullock said. "The short amount of time puts a very heavy burden on the 467,000 businesses that collect sales tax from their customers."

The sales tax increase, signed by Governor Clements on Thursday, takes effect July 1. It raises the state tax from 6 percent to 6 1/4 percent. With local sales tax added, the new maximum rate will be 8 1/4 percent.

Bullock said that more than 250,000 retail outlets in the state will have to reprogram cash registers.

Bullock is mailing a postcard notice to all sales tax permit holders Friday to notify them of the change. New 6 1/4 percent and 8 1/4 percent rate cards have been printed and will be available in all 33 Comptroller offices throughout the state next week. A new listing of the combined state and local sales tax rates for every city in the state will be available by June 18.

"Unfortunately businesses will have to make this change almost overnight," Bullock said.

Bullock said that business owners and managers who have questions about the sales tax can call the Comptroller's Office toll free at 1-800-252-5555 or the local Comptroller office in their area.

TSTA Seeks Supreme Court Action

The Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) called on the state Supreme Court justices to "clear the air" and bring an end to continuing teacher "career ladder" confusion that is hampering planning for school districts and holding up bonus payments for some 48,000 Texas teachers.

The state's largest education association is asking the Supreme Court to rule -- "one way or the other" -- on a pending motion to rehear the case in which the court earlier this year struck down a law making significant changes in the state's career ladder bonus pay program.

Olivia "Ollie" Besteiro of Brownsville, president of TSTA, said, "In the midst of profound changes in the way Texas finances schools nad other changes affecting the operation of the State Board of education and local school districts alike, local school officials are further frustrated in making plans and thousands of teachers are suffering hardships because of a lawsuit that should not have been filed or pursued in the first place."

Besteiro said TSTA has received telephone calls from frustrated teachers who have been forced to cancel family vacations, drop out of graduate school courses, and even postpone surgical treatment due to the delay in receiving career ladder payments.

TSTA, representing some 95,000 Texas teachers and other school employees, is asking the state's high court to respond to a "rehearing" request filed months ago by the State Board of Education and Texas Education Agency on a case that resulted in the court invalidating a law passed last year to overhaul the Texas career ladder program.

The case against House Bill 2566 enacted in 1989 was brought by the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE), which based its complaint on a clerical error over implementation dates in the respective versions of the law passed by the House and Senate.

Both the Senate and House this spring passed resolutions clarifying their intent and supporting the request to the Supreme Court to rehear the case.

In the meantime, Education Commissioner William N. Kirby has advised school districts to put a "hold" on making career ladder placement and payment decisions for teachers seeking to enter level two of the ladder because of the confusion over which law will be in effect.

At the same time, Texas Association of School Board (TASB) lawyers are advising school districts to hold off all career ladder decisions "as long as possible," which would be August 31 with or without HB 2566.

According to TSTA President Besteiro, the conflict over implementation dates was resolved last fall by a timely Attorney General's ruling that was subsequently affirmed by the State Board of Education.

"The biggest problems with the new law were resolved at that time," said Besteiro. "Implementation proceeded as smoothly as could be expected and TSTA and all other teacher groups except ATPE dropped formal complaints against the law.

"That is not to say that anyone, including TSTA, likes every provision in HB 2566. We don't. But, overall, it has more positive changes than negative ones for teachers. And in any event, the resolution passed by both the House and Senate make it clear that even if the Supreme Court sticks by its decision to strike down HB 2566, the legislature will simply enact it all over again next year."

"Why put the schools and teachers through all this again?" asked Besteiro. "We're all paying the price for ATPE's legal blunder."

Peril At Pumpernickle Pass, directed by Marcy Willis is currently in rehearsal. Make plans to see your friends and neighbors act out this melodrama! It will be under the big tent at the rodeo grounds on July 13, 1990 at 9:00 p.m.

The Way Off Broadway Players will present Patio Porch, June 29 and 30 at 9:00 p.m. This production coincides with Mias Amigas. Tickets are available at C.R. Sproul's office, the ASC office or at the door.

The Allen brothers, land speculators who founded Houston, encouraged Sam Houston to establish the capitol of the new republic in their own town. Houston "was, predictably, enchanted with the idea of a capitol city named after himself." The Allen brothers even promised to build the capitol at their own expense, so Houston City was named capitol of Texas in late 1836.

The first boatload of goods headed for Houston was brought up Buffalo Bayou in January 1837 by New Orleans merchant Frank Lubbock. He missed the site entirely and continued upstream until he ran out of bayou. He backtracked until he found the landing, which turned out to be a narrow path leading up the bank. When the first legislature convened in May, 1837, the capitol was still unfinished and carpenters lashed tree branches to the roof for shade.

DOWNED POWER LINES — THE LOADED GUN

When an overhead power line is downed by accident or weather, it's not necessarily dead — but you might be unless you stay away from it! An electrical power line is due the same respect as a firearm. Just as there is no such thing as an unloaded gun, there are no dead power lines.

A downed line that seems dead may be reenergized by a lightning strike on the line, contact with other power lines or interaction with another source of electricity somewhere back down the line. This may happen without warning or opportunity to break contact.

High voltages may be transmitted through materials other than metals. A wooden pole, a fiber rope or other normally non-conducting materials may carry an electrical current if they become wet or soiled. The loose ends of the conductor may also energize the wiring, plumbing or steel supports of structures, metal fences, telephone or cable television systems, and vehicles. Green tree limbs will conduct electricity.

Given the wrong set of circumstances, a current will go to ground in you. Don't give it the chance! Handle it safely by not handling it at all. Keep others away and give your electrical utility a call.

SCISD Board Meets

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of Schleicher County Independent School District was held on June 18, 1990, at 6:00 p.m. in the Administration Building. Trustees employed Shelly Speck from Eden and The University of Texas at Austin as high school math teacher and Harold Steele from Marfa as elementary principal. Steele and his wife Charlotte have three children: Jeremy, age 15; Sara, age 12; and Zachary, age 9. The Steele's expect to be in Eldorado by early August.

In further action, the Board accepted the resignations of Ruth Ann Callihan as high school science teacher, Matt Chalmers as high school teacher/coach, and Ruthie Chalmers as high school Spanish teacher. Also, Dr. Blair informed the Board, Ilse Williams had returned her contract unsigned.

Dr. Wayne Williams discussed with the Board plans to establish a trust fund for students of SCISD. The purpose of the fund would be to encourage academic excellence by offering scholarship money to students for each semester of high school in which the student's average in core subjects is 92 or better. Williams explained that they are now in the process of obtaining tax exempt status and thus plans are being developed for accepting donations for the fund. The fund will be a unique opportunity for any Eldorado High School student to earn scholarship money for an advanced education. It would be for Eldorado by Eldorado.

Dr. Blair reported that it looks as if SCISD will receive approximately $220,000 new dollars due to the new education legislation. He noted that this district's high tax effort, even though it is considered a high wealth district, is the reason SCISD was not hurt by the new legislation. Districts with low tax rates will lose money as a result of the legislation. Blair further explained that the state has placed several new mandates on districts which will absorb part of the new monies that the district will receive. Other changes resulting from the recent legislation include the commissioner of education being an appointed position with increased power. Also, more emphasis will be put on accountability at the campus level. Principals will be held accountable for the campus performance on state-wide tests. Because of the increased accountability, they are now responsible for choosing their own personnel. There is also a provision for individual campuses as a result of high test scores on the state-wide TAAS test and the newly mandated state-wide achievement test. Exemplary campuses would be freed from many of the current mandates and allowed to operate as they see fit as long as they are producing the desired results.

Achievement test results for the 1989-90 school year were reviewed. It was also reported that the State has mandated that a state-wide achievement test be given beginning in 1991 in grades 3 through 11.

The budget preparation process was discussed, and it was reported that SCISD's taxable value is up approximately $17 million. Next year's budget will be approximately $3.5 million. Blair said that the district has been notified to expect an approximate 20% increase in the cost of health insurance. He is presently looking for other options.

In a discussion of various summer projects, Superintendent Blair indicated that wood is presently being put on the fence around the bus yard, the pipe has been set for the fence around the football field, one coat of paint has been applied to the tennis courts, the inside of the school's house on Field Street has been painted, the asbestos abatement and tract refinishing will begin on June 19th, the restrooms at the football field will have six additional stalls and improved drainage, and the middle of the football field has been reseeded.

Board members voted unanimously to accept the high bid of $1,505 from G.G. Buchholtz for the purchase of the green storage building at the west end of the football field. The building is to be moved within 10 days. Also, Mittel Insurance Agency was approved as property casualty insurance carrier for SCISD for the 1990-91 school year, and a school calendar was approved. The calendar includes not only the usual Christmas holidays, but also a break in February and another one in March, with the first day of classes being August 27th and the last day May 23rd.

After the financial report and budget amendments for the month of May were approved, Ray Lewis Ballew presented the proposed 1991 operating budget for the Schleicher Co. Appraisal District, the estimate of costs per jurisdiction, and the proposed collection budget for the school and city. He said that collections are up to approximately 98%, and he discussed with the board sending a "pay or sell" letter to seriously delinquent tax payers. The Board approved the proposed budget for the Schleicher Co. Appraisal District.

A letter for thanks from Dr. Jim Bob Brame was read. Dr. Brame sent his appreciation to SCISD for its community spirit and for sharing its facilities with the 4-H program.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

Insecticide Containers To Be Refilled

When Texas farmers and aerial applicators buy Karate insecticide this year, many of them will purchase only the product.

The packaging that holds the liquid will remain the property of the manufacturer, ICI Agricultural Products. After it's empty, the container will be collected, refilled at a specially equipped facility in Lubbock, then shipped to other users in the region.

Growers and applicators aren't complaining about giving up insecticide containers. For many, it's becoming harder to dispose of the plastic jugs that normally hold these products. The jugs must be thoroughly rinsed, then trucked to a landfill that accepts them.

ICI makes refilling possible by switching from plastic jugs to 15-gallon stainless steel kegs. The safety-sealed drums can be filled repeatedly with Karate, a third generation pyrethroid insecticide that controls a broad spectrum of cotton pests, including tobacco budworms, cotton bollworms and boll weevils.

Robertson Bonded Warehouse, Inc., in Lubbock will refill the kegs -- called Boomerang pesticide containers -- in a 10,000-square-foot facility set up for the system. In the program, empty containers will be routed from applicators to the dealers and distributors who originally sold the Karate. From there, the kegs will be shipped to the plant for refilling, then picked up by other dealers for their customers.

Several agricultural product manufacturers have ventured into refilling programs. Until now, though, they have relied on out-of-state facilities to handle the containers. This long-distance processing increases shipping expenses and turnaround time, says Grady Robertson, president of the Robertson warehouse operation.

"By refilling locally, ICI keeps its product readily available and holds down costs," says Robertson. "We should have containers on hand at all times during the peak use periods. There will be very little lag time between when containers are returned to us and when they are ready again for the farmer or applicator.

"Normally, we will have a keg refilled by the next day. In a pinch, we can refill it on the same day it's returned."

The Lubbock operation will service a cotton production region of up to 4 million acres, from the High Plains to San Angelo and Wichita Falls, according to Billy Campbell, an ICI technical sales representative based in Lubbock.

Robertson will refill the kegs from a large holding tank. To resist corrosion, the tank and its plumbing are made from stainless steel. The refilling equipment itself, is surrounded by a safety dyke that could contain accidental spills. A 6'-by-3' silicone-sealed tunnel also runs under the building as a backup containment reservoir.

"This is a state-of-the-art facility in terms of both handling and safety features," says Campbell. "It's been inspected by the Texas Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and ICI's own engineers. The plant meets or exceeds all governmental requirements."

Robertson and ICI put the plant through trial runs late in the insect-control season last year. During the 1990 cotton growing season, Robertson expects to transfer several thousand gallons of Karate to the refillable kegs.

Robertson's warehouse operates as a supply depot for a number of agricultural product manufacturers. He doesn't own inventory. Instead, he holds it for his clients until their customers need it. In the future, he predicts that more manufacturers will request the refill service.

"Several other companies are talking with us now about this option because they know that container disposal requirements will only get stricter," says Robertson.

"Currently, we're using just a small portion of the building for this repackaging operation. Within the next two to three years, though, I expect to have the building pretty much full of tanks from other companies. That's how quickly this trend is moving."

Humid Heat Can Cause Hypothermia

The late spring of 1990 may well be remembered in some parts of the state as the time when torrential rains, flooding, high winds and lightning repeatedly brought death and property destruction. The Trinity River flood in May, for example, killed as many as 12 Texans. The extent of damage along the river's course through East Texas is still uncalculated.

But as if the ravages of violent weather were not enough, an early heat wave has combined with high humidity to pose a less obvious, but also deadly, threat to humans.

Health officials warn that heat stress, or hyperthermia, causes about 200 deaths and thousands of illnesses each year in the U.S. The victims usually are the elderly, the very young, or people weakened by other illnesses, although prolonged heat stress can be fatal to anyone. Last year, as many as nine Texans may have died from excessive heat, although weather records for the state show that the hot months of 1989 were generally cooler than average.

Dr. Patti Patterson, Acting Associate Commissioner for Personal Health Services at the Texas Department of Health (TDH), said that high temperature alone is physically tolerable to most people. Combined with high humidity, though, heat can cause a person's natural cooling system, perspiration, to work overtime. "If a person fails to replace fluids and salts they lose during perspiration," Dr. Patterson said, "dehydration can follow."

The symptoms of dehydration include muscle cramps, dizziness, nausea, low blood pressure and headaches. "These are serious warning signs," Patterson said. "Anyone with these symptoms should immediately find shade, ventilation and fluids—preferably water—to drink until the symptoms subside." She explained that if fluids are not soon replaced, heat stroke can follow, causing sudden weakness, severe headache, disorientation leading to loss of consciousness, brain damage and death.

To avoid overheating, Dr.

Patterson said, people should wear light-colored, loose-fitting clothing and drink more than their normal intake of water. Those with heart or respiratory conditions or people taking medications should be especially aware of early signs of physical problems.

"One of the best ways to know whether to take special precautions on a given day is to follow a local weather forecast. Although forecasts cannot be exact all the time, meteorologists are usually accurate enough to predict approximate temperatures and humidity," she added.

Forecasters often refer to a "heat stress index," a numeric table which reflects how hot the air will feel to humans. A heat stress reading of 105 degrees is considered very dangerous, yet it can occur while thermometer readings are still in the mid 80s.

For more information, contact Dr. Patti Patterson, Acting Associate Commissioner for Personal Health Services, at 512/458-7321, or Margaret Wilson, Public Information Coordinator, Public Health Promotion Division, at 512/458-7405.

Land Available To VETS

Detailed information of 283 tracts of forfeited state land included in an August high bid sale is now available through the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB).

Located in 110 Texas counties, these tracts are being offered exclusively to eligible Texas veterans and can be purchased with no down payment.

The VLB will finance the entire loan amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one land purchase in the sale.

"I want to encourage all eligible Texas veterans who have been looking for quality land to take advantage of this sale," said Jack Giberson, Executive Secretary of the VLB. "Since these tracts have never been offered for sale by the Board, this sale gives Texas veterans an excellent opportunity to buy good land with 100 percent financing." Giberson noted that these tracts of land are being offered exclusively to Texas veterans because the VLB has always given Texas veterans the first chance to buy forfeited tracts. If any of the tracts do not sell in the August sale, they will be offered for sale to the general public through real estate agents.

Eligible Texas veterans will receive an 8.75 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable bid fee for each bid submitted is required.

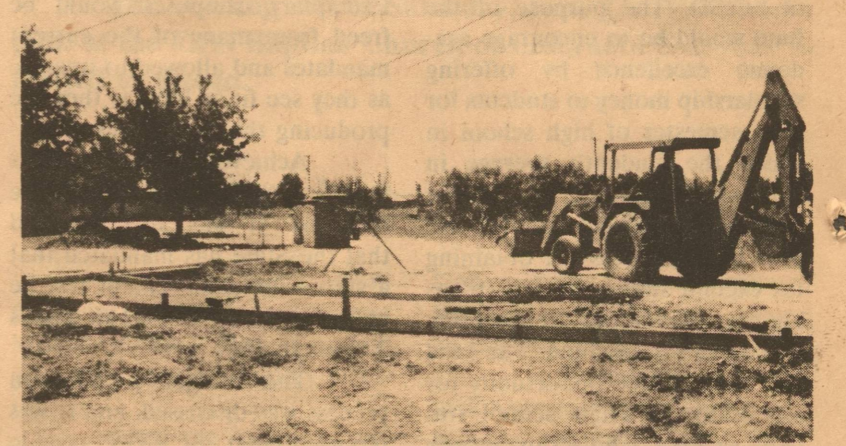

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with the minimum bid set by the Texas Veterans Land Board. All bids must be received by August 21 at 1:00 p.m. Any and all bids received after that time will be rejected. Bidders need not be present at the bid opening.

Eligibility requirements, details of the sale and a brochure describing each tract and its location can be obtained by calling the VLB toll-free at 1-800-252-VETS.

Centennial Dance

A dance featuring the group Canyon will be held in conjunction with the Winters Centennial. The dance will be Saturday, June 23 from 9:00 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Lawrence Brothers parking lot on North Main. Tickets will be $7.00 in advance and $8.00 at the gate.

Tickets are available at the Centennial Headquarters, 102 South Main, or call 915-754-4295 in Winters. In case of bad weather, the dance will be in Lawrence Brothers building on South Main. For more information, call Barbie Bradley 915-754-5207.

A new shop building and maintenance building are under construction for the low rent housing located on the corner of East street and Hill street.

American Poetry Contest

The deadline for entering the American Poetry Association's contest is June 30. The contest is open to everyone and entry is free.

The Grand Prize is $1,000 and the First Prize $500. There are 152 prizes worth $11,000 in all.

"This contest is dedicated to discovering new and unknown poets," said Robert Nelson, publisher for the association. "You do not have to be a professional poet to win."

Poets may send one original poem, no more than 20 lines, name and address on the top of the page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CO-55, 250-A Potrero St., P.O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

Poems postmarked by June 30 are eligible to win. A new contest opens July 1.

Poems are judged on originality, sincerity, and feeling.

Each poem is also considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a leading collection of contemporary verse.

Every poet will receive a copy of the "Poet's Guide to Getting Published," a four-page booklet full of useful information.

During 8 years of sponsoring the American Poetry Association has run 36 contests and awarded over $180,000 in contest prizes to 3,300 winning poets.

Hospital Update

The Schleicher County Medical Center went through its annual Medicare inspection on June 11-13. While the inspectors wrote a number of "deficiencies", correcting most of these deficiencies will require only learning to do a better job on the paperwork.

The inspectors commented that the quality of actual patient care was better than what they see at the big hospitals (of course, we already knew that).

Only one temporary change in the operation of the hospital is being made; all bacteriology tests will be sent out to a reference lab. This change should not be noticeable to the patient, and we hope to begin offering in-house bacteriology again soon.

Edwards Co. Rodeo

The Edwards County Fair Association, Inc. will sponsor its annual Open Rodeo on June 29th and 30th in Rock-springs, Texas.

There will be one rodeo performance on June 29th at 8:00 p.m. with a dance featuring Jay Eric & Bleders Creek following the rodeo.

There will be two performances on June 30th at 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. with Darrell McCall being featured at the dance that night.

Other attractions will include a county team roping and a county steer saddling for the residence of Edwards County.

Food and drinks of all kinds will be sold on the fairgrounds.

Sandwich Supper

There will be a sandwich supper, Friday night and a barbecue Saturday on the court house lawn for Mias Amigas. The dates are June 29th and 30th. The class coming in is 1970 and the class honored is 1940. Several hundred people are expected for this reunion where old friends get together with joy and laughter, tears and regrets... joy at the sight of familiar faces, laughter at remembering past events, tears at parting for another year and regrets for those absent.

The Class of 1960 will be having a 30 year reunion in the ranch home of Jackie and Harris Napier on Saturday night. Several classes will gather for coffee Friday night after the sandwich supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Whitten.

Public Notice

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.

Pursuant to the settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.

Claim Forms And Additional Information

Those customers who think they may be entitled to a refund or who desire more information must call 1-800-782-3026, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or write to WATS Refund Pool Administrator, One Bell Plaza, Room 670, P. O. Box 650376, Dallas, Texas 75265-0376, to request a WATS Refund Information Package. The WATS Refund Information Package will contain further information regarding the lawsuit and eligibility for a refund, a description of documentation required to support a customer's claim for refund, and a refund claim form to be filled out and submitted requesting a refund. REQUESTING A WATS REFUND INFORMATION PACKAGE DOES NOT OBLIGATE YOU IN ANY WAY.

All claims for a refund must be received by the Refund Pool Administrator by Friday, October 5, 1990, and all rejections of the settlement (that is, requests for exclusion from the class action lawsuit) must be received by the Court by Wednesday, September 5, 1990. Only those who respond by filing a claim or by filing a rejection of the settlement, as explained in the WATS Refund Information Package, will receive notice of future developments in this proceeding.

Persons who wish to obtain further information may also contact the Public Utility Commission, Public Information Division, at (512) 458-0257 or (512) 458-1221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Disabled Qualify For SSI

People who are developmentally disabled may qualify for monthly benefits under either the Social Security or the Supplemental Security Income (SSI), sometimes both. The medical requirements for eligibility so far as disability is concerned are the same for both programs. However, other eligibility rules differ.

A mentally retarded person can get Social Security payments when a parent starts getting Social Security retirement or disability payments, or when an insured parent dies. It doesn't matter how old the child is, but he or she must have become disabled before age 22. A retarded person who has worked long enough under Social Security can also get benefits on his or her own work record.

SSI payments are paid to disabled people of any age, as well as the blind, and people 65 and over. However, SSI payments are based on financial need, and are made to people who have limited income and resources.

In deciding if a child under 18 and living at home can get SSI payments, part of the parents' income and resources are considered to be that of the child. After applying allowances for work and living expenses, and for other children living in the home, the remaining amount of the parents' income is used to decide if a child meets the income and resource limits.

Although people living in institutions are generally not eligible for SSI payments, an application may be submitted when it appears that a person will be able to leave an institution soon.

Golf Tournament Planned

There will be a 27 hole three person Select Shot Golf Tournament on June 23, 1990 at the Schleicher County Golf Course. Tee off time will be at 1:00 p.m.

Everyone come out and join in the fun!

OOPS!
We Goofed!

In last week's Success we stated that Albert was the son of Lucia and Luiz, but Luiz is actually the son of Albert and Lucia Martinez.

Luiz Martinez, son of Lucia and Albert Martinez, rounds the corner of third base in a baseball game held on Monday, June 11, 1990.
