Schleicher County Days Honor Isaacs and Enochs Families

By Rene Calcote

ISAACS

John Fowler Isaacs was born to Dr. and Mrs. Abraham Conn Isaacs in September of 1851 in Caldwell County, Texas. Being the son of a professional family, John respected the value of an education. He wanted his children to have the opportunity to receive as much schooling as possible.

John and Alice Lee Clark Isaacs were parents to seven children: Ben Lester, Willie Lee, Bettie Smith, Alice Mabel, Nettie, John Fowler, Jr. and Leonard Conn. Three of these children, Willie, Bettie and John, Jr., went to business colleges.

Nettie attended Baylor Dental School, Texas Dental College and Michigan University of Medicine. Dr. Nettie Isaacs was a dentist in Eldorado for several years.

Ben Lester, the oldest of the Isaacs children, worked as a cowboy for Will Gray. He went on several cattle drives into Indian Territory, OK, encountering several dangerous incidents with hostile Indians.

The Isaacs family had several investments in McCulloch County in 1895. John F. Sr. and his sons operated farms, ranches and the Lohn General Store. Two acres of land with a water well was given to the Lohn Community for religious use by the Isaacs family.

Ben Lester married Willie Pearl Hampton in 1907, and settled in Lohn. Their oldest son, Conn, was born here.

In 1910, Ben followed his father to Schleicher County, buying the "Cook" ranch in Rudd Community.

Ben and Willie remembered many changes during the years they lived in Rudd Community. They remembered an encounter with the first automobile owned in Schleicher County. It seems Dr. Lewis, owner of the auto, was headed West, and the Isaacs were making their monthly 25 mile trip into Eldorado for supplies. At sight of the strange automobile, the buck-board team bolted and did not stop until they were in Eldorado.

Will Isaacs bought his brother Ben's, Rudd ranch in 1913. Will and his wife Isabella Finley and their five children, Will L., Jr., Maggie Lee, Robert, Leonard and Isabella remained on the ranch until 1920. The ranch is still in the Isaacs family today.

After the death of John F. Sr., Ben L. moved to his father's stock farm 2 miles South of Eldorado. In 1915, he sold the farm and moved to Eldorado. It was here the youngest son, Ben L. Jr. was born.

Ben L. Jr., nicknamed "Junior", loved growing up in Eldorado. He remembers many pleasant times with friends, riding bikes to Christoval, swimming, playing ball, hunting, fishing and parties. Junior enjoyed sports and was active in Eldorado High School football. After graduation, he attended Hardin Simmons University on a Football Scholarship. In 1935, he returned to Eldorado to marry his childhood sweetheart, Weona Enochs.

ENOCHS

In the Fall of 1901, O.K. and Annie Wheeler Enochs, with their three children: Christianna, Jeff and Edna, travelled by horse drawn surrey to visit their dear friends, the Lohmann family in Schleicher County. The rich, black soil of the County enticed Mr. Enochs, he being a farmer. The following year he loaded all their household goods and drove their cattle from Travis County to a new home in Schleicher County. They bought farm land seven miles North of Eldorado. Christianna (Chris), 19 years old by this time, bought adjoining land.

Chris is remembered and loved by many local citizens as being a caring civic leader for our community. She spent much of her life helping her family and friends.

Many hardships were encountered developing this new land. The family lived in a tent until a house could be built, a water well drilled, fields cleared, land broken and crops planted.

O.K. and his son Jeff, hunted deer and turkey for meat. Mr. Enochs was noted for his collection of deer horns, which he saved. The prongs were hung close together and were hung in a row three or four feet deep all around the East room of their house. It was a very unusual sight.

Jeff married a Schleicher County girl, Annie Myrtle Smith. Eight children were born to this union, Oran, Ethel, Alvis Ray "Bus", Fae Belle, Weona, Patton, Holvey and Tom. The older children attended Vermont Rural School. The Lester family moved to Bailey Ranch community and the other children attended school there, as well as in Eldorado.

Mr. Enochs was commissioner for Precinct 4 for eight years, and was an avid civic leader for Schleicher County.

Weona, the fifth child of Jeff and Myrtle, grew up in Eldorado. She enjoyed her youth in this small town with her family and many friends. She remembers the fun of an old-fashioned cedar tree and home-made decorations at Christmas time; the enjoyment of family with lots of brothers and sisters; parties, picnics and many other events.

After a three year courtship, Weona and Junior Isaacs were married in Eldorado. They are the parents of two daughters, Sharon and Shirley.

Weona relates, "The greatest joys of our life are times shared with our daughters and families."

Junior and Weona live in Eldorado today and are members of the First Baptist Church, Eldorado Golf Club and Schleicher County Historical Society. They have worked many hours establishing the Museum and the history books for the Historical Society.

The Isaacs and Enochs pioneer families are well represented by this couple.

The Great Gold Rush!

By The Chamber Pride Committee

The first wave of the gold rush is over! It involved all the community in one way or another - from those who actually participated to the cheering squad who cheered us on with their favorable comments. By the time you read this, weather permitting, over 3,800 plants with gold blossoms will have been planted within the "City of Gold." This is 3,800 ways of saying "Yes, we care!" "Yes, Eldorado can be beautiful!"

The project could not have been accomplished without the help of merchants and individuals who rallied to the call. Thank you Cathy's for getting two trailer loads of plants from San Antonio for us at her cost. Thank you Olive's and Scherz of San Angelo for donating plants for our various city parks. Also we thank our local merchants, the Southwest Texas Electric Co-op, Eldorado Wool Co. (Feed Dept.), The Western Co., and Lux Realty and Insurance who donated barrels and various planting materials. The following individuals and groups helped in many wonderful ways: Jerry Jones, Jerry Felver, George Spinks, Steve Snelson, Ronnie Sauer, Jackie Napier and Family, the Eldorado Fire Department, Woman's Club, Tuesday Bridge Club, Main Street Beautification, Potty Jones Lucas of Midland, The Americal Legion, George Gower, Marvin Clark and Lola Humphreys. Last, but not least, we would like to thank the merchants and individuals who purchased and planted flowers at their home or places of business.

Time rendered it impossible to reach all of you and some of you were out of town, however, as of Monday, we still had flowers available at Cathy's.

Coming up on September 15 is "E DAY," which coincides with the "Great Texas Cleanup - Greenup." Along with our State let's try to Eliminate trash on our streets, lawns and lots and to Emphasize putting trash in dumpsters, trash cans and waste baskets.

AGAIN The Chamber Pride Committee, otherwise known as The Petal Pushers, and/or The Gold Magnolias appreciates you!!!

Life Among The Fishes

By Thomas Giovannitti

A few weeks ago, my wife and her mother had a carport sale. You know, that is one of those home sales where we put up for sale all kinds of things that we had been storing somewhere for years and finally decided we could live without. It also consists of clothes that no longer fit anyone in the family.

The idea, I gather, is to mark everything at a price that is irresistible to everyone except the most miserly of people. I mean hardly worn garments go for twenty five cents while those that have been laundered a few times sell for a dime. Nick-naks sell for whatever the traffic will allow, but always much less on the second day.

Maxine and Mom took such joy in their take, congratulating themselves on having had such a great sale. (They would have done this even if they had made even less money, since the most happiness seems to come from having avoided throwing away most of the stuff they were able to sell.)

Of course, the shoppers at garage sales are a curious lot also. Many people are just random shoppers, bored with Wal-Mart and K-Mart and looking for something of which they are not quite sure, but will recognize if they see it. Garage sales are about the last place you can buy those old ceiling light fixtures, or lamps with the oil bubbles, or pink and black furniture from the fifties.

I am not sure who is the happiest, the seller who finally parts with some piece of furniture that they have had since their first child was in diapers, or the young couple who have been looking all over and this garage is the first place they ever found a wicker day bed for an infant. So a few of the wickers are busted, but with a little paint and some airplane glue it will look just perfect.

I am sure a good accountant could show any garage sale planner that if he/she took into account the hours of planning, marking the goods, paying for the adds, and keeping the early birds from worming their way into the sales early, that they not only did not make money on their operation, but they lost a few dollars. But that is not important. The sale is for many other reasons besides money. I know this because my wife tells me that it's one of the ways she can get me to buy new furniture. That is, she sells the old stuff.

TEXAS AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

County Agents Report

by Jerry Swift, County Extension Agent - Schleicher County

LAWNS - White Grubs - Control with Diazinon or Dursban during the first part of August, usually for the best results.

DOGS & CATS - Flea Control - Successful flea control must include treatment of the following sites: (1) Infested Animals (2) Indoors (3) Outdoors. These treatments must be done simultaneously in order to be effective. Leaving one or more sites untreated will provide a reservoir of fleas from which new infestations will arise. Suggested insecticides for indoor use are Bendiocarb and Synergized Pyrethrins. Suggested insecticides for outdoor use are Bendiocarb, Carbaryl (Seven), Diazinon, Malthion and Synergized Pyrethrins.

ROSES - Pests/Aphids - Plants heavily infested with aphids appear wilted. Some aphid species cause leaves to yellow and drop from the plant while other species cause young leaves to be stunted and curled. Heavily infested buds may fail to open, be deformed or produce small blossoms. Besides damaging plants, aphids transmit a number of diseases. Suggested pesticides for use on roses for the treatment of aphids are Acephate (Orthene), Diazinon and Malthion.

COTTON - DON'T OVERLOOK BENEFICIALS! Natural occurring beneficials can provide some of the most effective pest control available for South Plain's farmers. We often think the control they provide as free. This is not the case. We must provide an environment which encourages beneficial conservation, i.e., use of pesticides ONLY WHEN NECESSARY.

To conserve beneficials it is necessary to monitor both pest and beneficial populations as well as damage to determine the need for chemical control. While not free, scouting and the conservation of naturally occurring beneficials is the cheapest crop insurance available, and well worth it I might add.

KEY BENEFICIALS in our area include: minute pirate bugs, damsel bugs, spiders, big-eyed bugs, assassin bugs, and spined soldier bugs. I generally count only those when making decisions for fleahopper and bollworm control. Lady beetles and green lacewings (larvae only) can be counted for aphid control decisions but not much else.

When checking for beneficials, count infested terminals only. Record populations of key beneficials as, light (0-10% of the terminals have them), medium (11-20% of the terminals have them), or heavy (over 20% of the terminals have them). If the field just barely is at economic threshold and has heavy key beneficials, I WOULD NOT TREAT. Reexamine in 2-3 days.

Augmentation or adding more beneficials to a field is often tried in our area, particularly with lady beetles and trichogramma wasps. Neither research nor experience supports the use of released lady beetles for bollworm control. While releases of trichogramma wasps might work, USDA entomologists have thus far found that only several releases of 50,000 to 100,000 wasps per acre with each release have given adequate control. Most programs in our area deliver less than 10,000 per acre. Thus conservation rather than augmentation seems to be the best use of beneficials in our area.

BOLLWORMS/BUDWORMS - Bollworm population development is anything but synchronized right now. You can find all sizes of larvae in the fields. I believe we had a couple of flights of moths into our area this summer. We expect another egglay late this week or early next week.

With the relatively cool weather we are having, worm populations grow and develop slower than normal. Instead of eggs taking 2 days to hatch, they may take 3 or 4 days. A larva that we would normally call a three day old worm may actually be 5 or 6 days old. Damage will also occur at a slower rate when temperatures are cool. What this means for the producer is that he has a little more time to make a treatment decision. So, be sure you have a problem before you try to correct it with a chemical. Bollworm populations have been so sporadic this year that to make a decision on one field based on what is happening in another field or based on what your neighbor is doing just is not good management.

Dr. J. W. Stewart, Extension Entomologist at Uvalde, has reported that a large percentage of the tobacco budworms that he has tested recently have shown resistance to pyrethroids. This should indicate to us that we need to be very careful in how we use the pyrethroids and in the way we determine whether or not we really need to treat a certain field.

Aphid populations are increasing in many fields. Decisions regarding aphid control are ways difficult to make because the economics of control are not adequately worked out. I would not recommend aphid control where aphids are present only on isolated plants in the field, even if they are heavy on those plants. Use the seat-of-the-pants threshold of 25 aphids per leaf if you just have to have some kind of number to work with. Now, the 25 per leaf is determined by counting the number of aphids on an equal number of top, middle and bottom leaves. So, some leaves may have hundreds of aphids and the field still not reached the threshold.

An exception to the treatment level for aphids is when you are going to treat the field with a pyrethroid for other pests. Where aphids can be easily found and you are going to treat with a pyrethroid, I would add a phosphate such as Dimethoate, Bidrin or Swat for aphid control.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

This past Saturday I had the pleasure of attending a meeting of 24 County Chairmen in Austin, Tx. The purpose of the meeting was to nominate someone to fill the vacancy recently created for Associate Justice, Third Court of Appeals. The man nominated, Mack Kidd, is a fine gentleman and well qualified for this seat. He has spent many years working for the Democratic Party candidates, and will make a fine representative on this court.

As with all Democratic candidates on the Ballot this year, Mr. Kidd has promised to serve the people who elect him, not the special interest groups who finance the high dollar Republican Campaign. The Democratic party does not believe that you can BUY votes like the Republican Party tries to do every election. This is so evident in the Governors race this year, with Clayton Williams spending 6 million dollars of his and others money trying to buy the Governor's seat, much like Bill Clements did. Let's not be fooled again. Look what we got with Clements! All good Democrats, both here in Schleicher County, and all around the State, need to come back to the party that made Texas great, The Democratic Party.

Vote for Ann Richards and right down the line of Democratic Candidates. Don't be fooled anymore by the republican party and their high dollar, no substance campaigns.

Brian Holsey
Chairman Schleicher County
Democratic Party

Laugh and Live

by Gary Smith

Fellow by the name of Robert Fulgham wrote a book called All I Really Needed To Know I Learned In Kindergarten. Lots of folks have read it, but for those of us who haven't, thought I would give you a little excerpt from it.

All I Really Needed To Know I Learned In Kindergarten

Most of what I really need to know about how to live, and what to do and how to be, I learned in kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate school mountain, but there in the sandbox at nursery school.

These are the things I learned: Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life. Learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work some every day.

When you go out into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together. Be aware of, wonder. Remember the little seed in the plastic cup. The roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really knows how or why, but we are all like that.

Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the plastic cup...they all die. So do we.

And then remember the book about Dick and Jane and the first word you learned, the biggest word of all...LOOK. Everything you need to know is in there somewhere. The Golden Rule and love and basic sanitation. Ecology and politics and sane living.

Think of what a better world it would be if we all...the whole world...had cookies and milk about 3 o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nation and other nations to always put things back where we found them and cleaned up our own messes. And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together.

Sounds Pretty Good To Me!

'Til the next time...

MAY GOD BLESS.

Walker Weds Fairchild

By Evelyn Stigler

The beautifully decorated First Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Suzanne Michèle Walker of Eldorado and A.C. "Jack" Fairchild of Kerrville on August 4, 1990 at 3:00 p.m.

Music was furnished by organist Sharon Brown of Round Rock, pianist Pam Williford and soloist Sherry Belk.

Maid of Honor was Vicki Simmons of San Angelo. Bridesmaids were Renetta Robinson Moore of Lake Jackson, Kara Garlitz of Brenham and Debbie Sutto of McAllen. Flower girl was Candace Highsmith of Kerrville, niece of the groom. Registering the guests was Susan Walker, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a white gown with a lace bodice completely covered in sequins and pearls. The Queen Anne neckline closed in the back. Three strands of cascading pearls accented the open back. Sequins and pearls enhanced the cathedral train. A headdress consisting of pearly and silk flowers held a veil of puffed tulle.

Best man was Vern Stehling of Ingram. Groomsmen were Bruce Robinson of Kerrville, Todd Birdick of Kerrville and Kelley Fenner of Austin. Ring bearer was Brandon Rieger of Berlin, Germany, nephew of the groom.

Ushers were Trey Walker, brother of the bride and Sam Huffstutler, Nacadoches.

After the bridal party had assembled at the altar, Sherry Belk sang "All My Life", then Dr. Don Williford, pastor of First Baptist Church of Brownwood, performed the marriage ceremony. Following the ceremony, the Unity candle was lit by the couple while Sherry sang "How the Candle Glows".

The bride, daughter of Herman and Deanne Walker, lived most of her life in Eldorado, except for a short time in Ingram, Texas. She was a 1985 graduate of Eldorado High School and a 1989 graduate of Angelo State University. She has a B.S. Degree in Education and was a teacher and coach in Llano High School last year. She plans to continue teaching for a while.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Arlene Pike and the late A.C. "Jack" Fairchild of Kerrville, Texas. He attended Tom Moore High School in Ingram. In 1985, he enrolled at the National Institute of Nutritional Education. He is manager of New Life Health Foods in Kerrville and is a certified serologist and reflexologist.

After a wedding trip to Aspen, Colorado, the couple will be at home in Fredericksburg, Texas.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church. Hostesses were: Brandy McGuire of San Angelo, D. Laine Young of Brady, Marilyn Walker, Anthinette Mankin and Sharon Mittel of Eldorado.

A number of pre-nuptial parties were held to honor the couple. Among them a salad supper and lingerie supper was given on July 28, in the home of Mary Jo Hill, with Frances Peters and Helen Marie Page as co-hostesses. A gift coffee was held on July 21 in the home of Helen Pfluger. She was assisted by Sharon Mittel, Ebba Nikolauk, Mary (Jim) Robinson, Karen Henderson, Becky Moore, Jo Helen Kotsch, Pat Lloyd, Jan Fuessel, Julie Griffin, Mable Blaylock, Lois Dean, Janice Finley, Anthinette Mankin, Bobbie Sanders, Vernelle McCalla, Robbie Heald and Betsy Thackerson. A bridesmaid's luncheon was held at the Manor House in San Angelo, hosted by Mrs. Philip Walker and Susan Walker, aunt and cousin of the bride. The rehearsal dinner was given in the Walker home, hosted by Mrs. John Pike, mother of the groom. It was a western dinner, catered by Bill and Alana Dakan.

Pfeiffer, Menzies Exchange Wedding Vows

Shanna Dance Pfeiffer and George Craigmile Menzies, IV, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at 6 p.m., June 16th, at Wooster Baptist Church in Baytown with the Rev. David Elliott officiating.

Parents of the bride are Wilburn and Geana Pfeiffer of Baytown. She is the granddaughter of Elgin and Elona Reichenau of Baytown and Loisa Pfeiffer of Fredericksburg and the great-granddaughter of Mada Reichenau of Mason.

Parents of the groom are Craig and Linda Menzies of Eldorado.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a designer gown of candlelight bridal satin. The heavily-beaded bodice featured a wedding band collar with a shadow sweetheart neckline and basque waist. The long fitted slightly pouf sleeves were embellished with French-smocked motifs was trimmed with deeply-scalloped and beaded Schiffli embroidered lace. A cathedral-length train cascaded from a large bow revealing extensive beading and lace detail.

To compliment her gown, the bride chose a wreath-shaped headpiece of bridal pearls, crystals, and lily of the valley, with a spray that graced the side of her face. Her three-tiered cathedral-length veil was accented with illusion poufs at the top.

She wore a lucky sixpence in her shoe to insure wealth and prosperity. The sixpence, which was a gift from her mother, was bought from England and dated the year of her birth.

Her crescent bouquet consisted of peach sweetheart and tea roses, rosebuds, gardenias, English ivy and spider plant leaves. The bouquet was accented with beige feathers, pearl sprays, and embroidered ribbon. Attached and entwined to the bouquet was her maternal great-grandmother's lace handkerchief and a strand of pearls given to her by her maternal grandmother.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Melissa Hullum of Baytown. Serving as bridesmaids were Michelle Riffe of Austin and Lori Nelson of Baytown, both cousins of the bride, and Nancy Menzies and Heather Menzies, both sisters of the groom from Eldorado.

The bridal attendants wore dresses of emerald green iridescent taffeta featuring a high-low hemline. The basque bodice and long fitted sleeves were covered in matching lace and featured a deep 'V' back. A large fan-style bow accented the lower back waist. They completed their attire with emerald stone and gold earrings and matching fan-shaped fabric shoe clips.

The attendants carried cascade bouquets of varying shades of peach and cream tiger lilies, roses and rosebuds, freesia, English ivy, spider plant leaves, and large pearl stems. Gold bead sprays, iridescent green and gold ribbons were used for accent.

Serving the groom as best man was Craig Menzies of Eldorado, his father. Groomsmen were Trey Bradshaw of San Angelo, Jeff Kimbrell of Sonora, Brian Gillaspay and Stanley Spinks, both of Eldorado.

The groom and his attendants wore black tuxedos with tails by Lord West Crown Collection.

Flower girl was Michelle Ponder of Baytown, cousin of the bride. She was attired in a long taffeta dress of matching fabric which featured a large bow at the back waist. Cotton lace trimmed the short pouf sleeves and bodice. She wore a wreath of small peach rosebuds, iridescent flowers, baby's breath, pearl sprays, and peach and ivory ribbon streamers. Her basket was accented with the same wreath design.

Bible bearer was Matt Pfeiffer of Baytown, cousin of the bride. He and the ushers were attired in black tuxedos with tails, iridescent green bow ties and cummerbunds.

Ushers were Russell Jones, of Baytown, Frank Spotts of Fort Worth and Mike Walters of Oglesby.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Elizabeth Hendricks at the organ and soloist, Ronnie Hendricks. Selections included "Sunrise, Sunset," "God, A Woman and A Man," and "We've Only Just Begun."

The top altar area of the church held a center rainbow candelabra featuring a large peach floral and wedding bell arrangement. On each side were large floral arrangements on columns and dressed spiral candelabras. Votive candelabras and ferns enhanced the piano and organ area. The lower altar held dressed spiral candelabras and cascading ferns in marble urns. Aisles were adorned with glass globe candelabras pew markers dressed with English ivy and satin bedding bows. The entrance and foyer tables were adorned with large peach and cream floral arrangements.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The bride's lace skirted table held a four-tiered, two-satellite ivory wedding cake with the top tier holding a porcelain bride and groom. The third tier was adorned with columns and displayed satin bells, illusion and pearls. The bride's table was draped with garlands of plumosa fern with floral bouquets and ribbon attached at the top of each scallop. Silver candelabras adorned with floral arrangements, mints, and two silver toasting goblets, a childhood gift from her great aunt, completed the table decor.

The groom's table, skirted and garland draped to match, held a German Chocolate Cake adorned with a handblown crystal antique car and chocolate dipped strawberries, silver coffee urn and services, floral candelabra arrangement, and silver framed engagement picture completed the decor.

Behind the tables were illusion draped lattice work with a large floral and wedding bells arrangement attached in the center. Columns holding peach floral arrangements graced the sides of the lattice work.

The head tables and guest tables were decorated with white and peach linen tablecloths, candle rings and votive cups. Pictures of their parent's wedding day were placed on the family tables.

The buffet tables held an ice sculpture of the bride and groom, fresh fruit trees, vegetables trees, and various seafood and fingerfoods. The ice sculpture and food trays were garnished with carved vegetable "flowers" dyed to compliment the bridal color theme.

Karen Haley of Randall's Catering, along with her staff, Jin Briscoe, Tanya Sadik, Janie Sims, Becky Barrios, Jennifer Copeland, Rhonda Eckert, Jackie Hargrove, La Lynda Hodges and Shelly Higginbotham completed the houseparty.

Lindsey Duke of Houston, registered guests and Danielle Pondor of Bayton, both cousins of the bride, passed out the birdseed roses. Both were dressed in emerald green iridescent taffeta. The birdseed roses and decorated baskets were made by the groom's mother.

Music for the reception was provided by Joe Webber from Good Time Music. The "Grand Wedding March" was led by Herman Dodson and Joyce Caraway.

David Chappel chauffeured the couple to the reception and aided in their get-away in his classic '51 Chevy.

Following a wedding trip through Texas, the couple will reside in College Station.

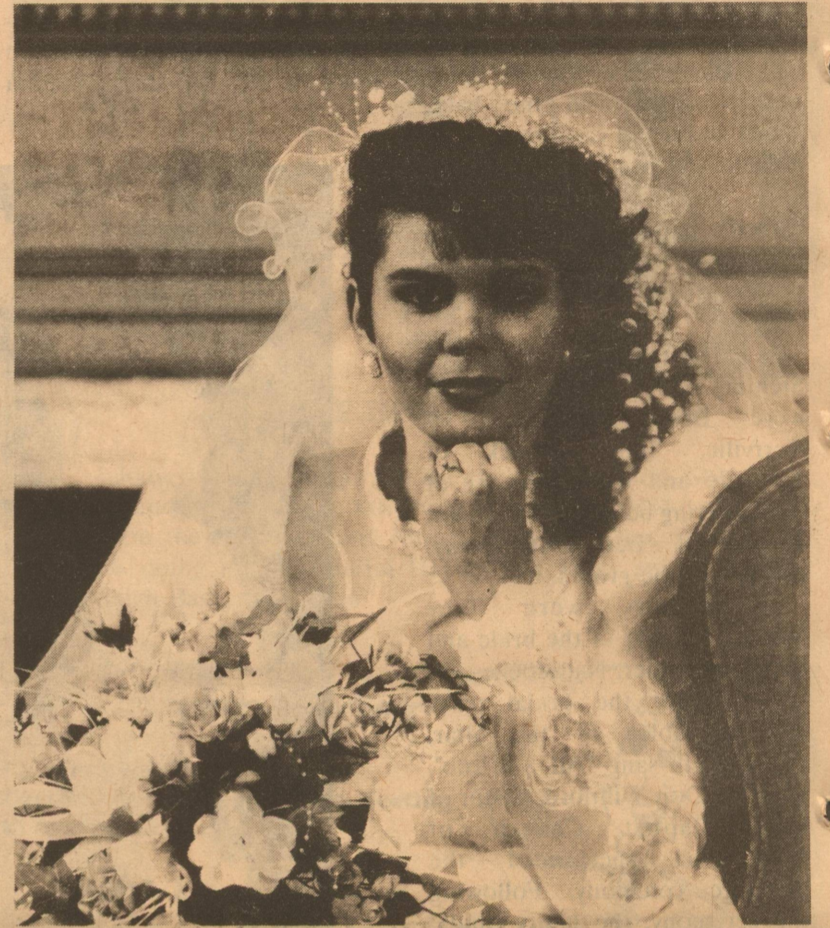

The bride is a graduate of Ross Sterling High School. She attended Tarleton University and is now at A&M to finish her degree. She is employed at the Texas T Store in Bryan.

The groom graduated from Eldorado High School, attended Tarleton University and is finishing his degree at A&M. The groom is employed at the Buffalo Ranch in Snook.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Craig and Linda Menzies and Tony and Sharon Parkey on the eve of the wedding at Murray's Family Restaurant.

The bride-elect was honored with a wedding shower in Eldorado. Hostesses were Elaine Marsh, Lana Jones, JoAnn Sproul, Vidette Saltee, Sharon Mittle, Linda Thomas, Janell Hausenfluck and Debbie Conatser.

DOVE SEASON DRAWS NEAR

As the doldrums of summer pass and the south begins to prepare for its winter grasp, hunters anticipate the upcoming seasons of abundant game. Before old man winter ambles his way to our countryside, flocks of dove make their way to more suitable climates. Unlike most northern states, Texas dove may reside in this area year round.

Mourning dove (Zenaidura macroura linnaeus) mate during spring and lay two eggs which are incubated by both adults. Normally fledglings leave the nest 14 days after hatching. This makes it possible for dove to nest as many as six times during the summer.

Mourning dove exhibit a high reproductive rate, but consequently have a high annual turn over rate. This phenomenon occurs whether or not populations are hunted.

These birds do not scratch for food as do many ground birds. Dove eat a variety of grasses, seeds and weeds. During the fall, grains from harvested crops compose a significant portion of the diet.

Dove hunting is viewed by many, especially my wife, as the most enjoyable and relaxing hunting situation. Reasons for this are obvious. How many hunting situations do you know where 1) it is not cold outside, 2) you do not need to sit all day without seeing anything, 3) the animals come close to you, 4) it does not take 2-3 men to load your game into a pickup and 5) you never need to move from your hunting chair.

Even though dove hunting takes little work and preparation there is skill involved in becoming a competent wing-shooter. Many people are frustrated year after year from shooting countless boxes of shells and retrieving very few birds. Problems normally occur when a hunter chooses the wrong choke or wrong size shot to enter the field. Modified or improved cylinders are ideal chokes for all dove shoots and #6 through #8 shot should suffice on any given day.

Twenty gauge or twelve gauge shotguns are excellent choices for all ages of hunters. What frustrates youngsters is when their Dads buy them a brand new 410 gauge (their first shotgun) to take dove hunting. To me and many others, that little 410 is for only the expert wingshooter, not the beginner. If you do not agree, next time you are out dove hunting, take along that single shot 410 and see how many shots vs. dove you get. If you are considering buying that youngster their first shotgun, go ahead and get that 20 gauge, you will be glad you did.

Successful dove shoots are planned in advance. Even though you do not sit down and plan where you are going year after year, experience has taught most of us where the dove hot spots exist. Two major areas come to mind for the most productive shoots. Waterholes and grain fields are second to none. Because of all the rain lately, I doubt the stockponds will be productive. Your best chance for heavy dove action will be along grain fields and heavy flyways.

During dove season, follow game laws and use good management practices when in the field. Two rules of good management will help you have many enjoyable outings: 1) Stop shooting one hour before sundown, (this allows dove to feed before dark) and 2) A field should not be shot more than every fourth day or birds will be scared away.

The mourning dove season authorized for 1990-91 are North Zone, Sept. 1-Nov. 9; Central Zone, Sept. 1-Oct. 24 and Jan. 5-20; South Zone, Sep-20-Nov. 21. Bag limit is set at 12 birds per day with a possession limit of twice the daily bag limit.

Until next time, enjoy your time spent outdoors.

2 cups water
1/3 cups vinegar
1 1/2 sticks margarine
2 pods garlic (minced)
3 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/2 bottle Louisiana Red Hot Sauce

Soak doves overnight in salt water. Drain and salt-pepper to taste. Combine water, vinegar, margarine, garlic, sugar, salt and hot sauce in a pan and bring to slow boil. Grill dove over mesquite coals, basting often with sauce, until doves are tender. Do not overcook birds. Recipe from Texas Wildlife Recipes Cookbook.

Replacing your old air conditioner could actually save you money!

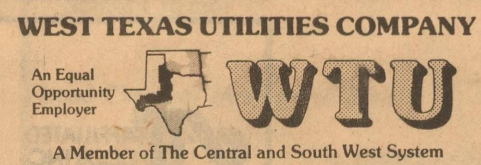

...when you replace it with an energy efficient add-on electric heat pump.

You'll save on energy bills because an all-season heat pump provides economical comfort year-round. In summer, it cools like a central air conditioner then in winter, works in conjunction with your present furnace to heat your home.

Plus — receive a $500 cash rebate from WTU when you replace your old energy hungry air conditioner with an add-on heat pump. Ask WTU for details.

For more information on the add-on heat pump, contact your cooling and heating contractor or West Texas Utilities.

*To qualify for $500, your home must meet Energy Saving Plan requirements and be served electric energy by WTU.
