

FD Convinced Masses Still With Him

Holds Political Spotlight As No President Ever Has

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt could look back today over a ten-day journey across the country that has no parallel in American politics.

For that ten days, a second term incumbent of the White House centered national political attention on himself, his political philosophy and party preferences. Speaking either as President or in his asserted role as democratic party leader, he held the political spotlight.

He was the fountain-head of major political news. There was no roaring rejoinder against the conventional spending board, for Congress was out of session and its members busy political face-manding.

No other two-term president ever has known or tried to obtain such a place in the forefront of a non-presidential year election campaign.

There is no way to check up closely on the result, so far as its effect on Roosevelt party leadership goes. The nomination in Oklahoma of a Roosevelt-favored democratic senatorial candidate constituted the only actual reaction of party voters during the trip.

Opinion Substantiated
Mr. Roosevelt left Washington convinced popular opinion still supported him despite party friction, economic ups and downs of the New Deal and false starts toward recovery.

He calls for home more firmly believing that the mass of American voters is with him. The increasing fervor with which he preached his New Deal gospel as he sped westward made that equally clear.

Toward that vital decision for himself and his party, and for the nation, that conviction may be driving him by 1940, none can say but himself.

Along his way democratic candidates of whatever degree of New Deal loyalty found it expedient to thumb a ride on the Roosevelt train.

Over the trip hovered the shadow of a Roosevelt third term drive.

Underlying everything Mr. Roosevelt did or said on his sweep westward, he left no doubt that he intended to continue this year, and in the next congress and the next presidential campaign, his effort to reshape his party and fit his own ideas of liberalism.

JERUSALEM, July 16 (AP)—American-Jewish settlers bemoaned the United States consulate in Jerusalem today to aid them in obtaining protection as a terrorist campaign went unchecked despite efforts of British troops.

Arabs and Jews each blamed the other for the outrages which have resulted in the slaying of 66 Arabs and 50 Jews and the wounding of at least 173 Arabs and 101 Jews since July 5.

Former United States citizens asked America to use her influence in obtaining additional security for their scattered orange grove colonies.

Ex-Utilities Czar, Samuel Insull, Is Taken By Death

Fallen Business Monarch Suffers
Heart Attack In Paris Subway
Station; Body To England

PARIS, July 16 (AP)—Samuel Insull, white-haired ex-monarch of a $1,000,000,000 utilities empire he created in the United States, died today from a heart attack in a Paris subway station.

Seventy-eight years old, Insull had suffered from a heart ailment for several years and had been asked by his wife "never to take a subway because it was bad for his heart."

Mrs. Insull herself tearfully disclosed this when she learned of his death. She had left him to go shopping.

"Just as he extended his hand to present his ticket to be punched," the ticket taker said later, "he threw his hands up in the air, his knees gave way under him, and he fell forward."

The stricken man was hurried to a nearby emergency hospital. He was pronounced dead on arrival at 1:30 p. m. He had died without uttering a word.

This ended one of the most spectacular careers in the modern world of business and finance and adventure. Insull as a 20-year-old English clerk, had gone to the United States in 1880, had worked for a time with the late Thomas A. Edison, and then had gone to Chicago to build one of the world's great financial structures.

In 1932, after Insull had amassed a personal fortune estimated at $100,000,000, his vast empire collapsed, and he fled to Europe as an embezzlement proceedings were started against him and his brother Martin. He eventually returned to face trial and was acquitted, but his ruling days were over.

Mrs. Insull, after stating she would take her husband's body to England, indicated he would be buried there.

At the emergency hospital the frail old man was identified by a hotel laundry bill, the only thing he carried with his once-famous name upon it.

In his pocket he had only 30 francs—84 cents—and he had not used even this for the taxi ride his wife wanted him to take.

Insull had arrived in Paris only Monday, having sailed from Montreal on a Canadian liner.

Japan Pledges The Return Of US Property

Will Move Slowly
On Permitting Americans To Go Back

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The state department announced tonight Japan had promised to allow gradual return of Americans to their properties in Japanese-occupied Chinese territory.

Japanese authorities reserved the right, however, to decide whether actual conditions in any given area warranted the return of United States citizens there.

The policy of permitting slow American re-infiltration was explained by Foreign Minister Kaseki Ugaki in a note to Joseph C. Grew, the American ambassador to Tokyo.

It said that although all possible would be done to meet American expectations on the subject the American and Japanese views on re-entry were "fundamentally divergent."

The note, dated July 6, replied to Ambassador Grew's protests of May 31.

Ugaki promised that Japanese troops would be withdrawn from the University of Shanghai on July 8.

Ugaki said the presence in the lower Yangtze valley of "remnants" of defeated Chinese soldiers made the police of the Japanese consulates insufficient to protect nationals of third countries.

Although about 800 Japanese civilians were living in Nanking, Ugaki said, they were subject to frequent "violence, robbery, etc." at the hands of "lawless" Chinese.

Under the law of public order, he continued, it was extremely difficult to permit Americans to return to such places.

SHANGHAI, July 16 (AP)—Japanese reported today they had silenced Chinese activities on Lon hill with a hall of shells from a battery of bombing planes and naval guns.

TOWNS CAPTURED
HENDAY, France (AP)—The Spanish insurgent, high command announced tonight the capture of six important towns in an offensive which smashed nine miles through government lines on the Teruel front.

The advance, carrying insurgents into Valencia province more than 60 miles north of the port of Valencia, came as the civil war neared the end of its second year.

Presence of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops on Valencia also cut the number of government-held provinces to 10. Insurgents now hold 35 provinces and five others are scenes of bitter fighting.

Lubbock Baby's Eye Removed In Effort To Check Dread Disease

DALLAS, July 16 (AP)—The right eye of seven-week-old Clinton Walter Coker was removed today in an effort to stop the progress of glioma, dread disease of the nerves and retina of the eye which frequently causes death.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Coker of Lubbock, brought the child to Dallas yesterday and specialists diagnosed the case.

They informed the parents an operation was imperative; that the disease probably would bring death if the eye were not removed, and that there were symptoms the other eye possibly was infected.

Unlike the parents in a similar case in Chicago recently, who submitted the case to a jury which voted for an operation, the Cokers told the doctors to perform the operation.

"We were convinced the child couldn't live without removing the eye," Mrs. Coker said. "What else could we do? Besides, the child in Chicago had lived. Why not our own baby?"

So this morning Dr. L. F. Bland, Dallas surgeon, removed the eye. Two tiny pins of radium were inserted in the socket, to allay the march of cancerous growth. X-ray therapy and radium treatment was started to arrest the ailment of the other eye.

In 36 hours the pins will be removed and an examination made.

At the hospital, where the tot has won the affection of the nursing staff, it was reported he was "resting well." Attendants said the child likely would live.

Coker said the ailment seemed to come upon the child suddenly. Yesterday the family noticed something wrong with the eye.

More Income Taxes On The 'Little Man'?

Treasury Reported
To Be Studying Possibility

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The treasury intends to make an intensive study this summer of the feasibility of levying heavier income taxes on the "little fellow."

No decision has been made as to whether the administration will sponsor any change in the low income tax brackets, but a study of the subject was one of the items of the homework that Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau assigned his experts before leaving Friday for France.

Although more taxes for the "little fellow" are believed by some administration advisors to be politically inexpedient, Secretary Morgenthau has hinted at a process which might ease the sting of such a change. He indicated some of the excise taxes now paid by the "little fellow" on theatre admissions, cosmetics and the like might be repealed to lessen the burden of increased income taxes. A few of the smaller excises, including those on toothpaste and chewing gum, were repealed by the last Congress.

Treasury experts will prepare stacks of statistics and reports on many tax proposals during the summer, but Morgenthau has said no policy decisions would be made until he and the President returned from their vacations and had a chance to discuss the problem.

Dies said the committee would recommend remedial legislation if charges which had been made were found to be true.

But if Saul Brown wanted to change his name to Sholem Feodor Dorogoy—well, that's what happened in probate court today.

Record Crowd At Ackerly

Illness Unfortunate Aftermath To Rodeo Celebration

Ackerly's annual two-day rodeo was concluded Saturday evening, and officials reported that attendance was largest in the history of the event. Biggest crowd was that Saturday noon, when an estimated 2,500 persons gathered in downtown Ackerly for a political rally and a barbecue spread at noon.

Over 1,000 pounds of beef, with all the trimmings—beans, onions, bread and coffee—were served to the crowd in swift time under the direction of Alvin Brown, general director of the rodeo celebration. Several stands were erected to handle the crowds with dispatch.

Candidates from a large area, including those from Howard and Dawson counties, were present to put their pleas before the voters. The speaking was held in an open-air tabernacle, and loud speaking equipment was provided.

The final rodeo show was staged at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, with fast contests in calf roping and calf breaking, bronco riding and steer riding. All stands and automobile parking space were filled at the start of the performance.

The rodeo program was followed by a baseball game and horse races. The celebration was capped off with a dance Saturday night.

The affair ended with one unfortunate note. A number of people—best checks showed around a dozen—became ill during the afternoon after having partaken of the barbecue. Physicians thought a combination of the meat, cold drinks and the sizzling heat contributed to the cases of illness. Two persons were brought to the Big Spring hospital for treatment. Two others were released after treatment at the Bivings hospital, and a Lamesa hospital told The Herald Saturday night "six or seven" had been admitted. It was understood some others were attended by physicians at Ackerly. Some indications of food poisoning were noted, it was said. Although several of the victims suffered severe nausea, it was believed none was in a serious condition.

Ask Recount In Oklahoma Balloting

Both Apparent Loser
And Winner File
For A Recheck

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 16 (AP)—W. S. Key, asserting he had been deprived of 6,000 votes in his apparently unsuccessful race for the Democratic nomination for governor, petitioned today for a recount in 18 counties.

Then Leon C. Phillips, apparent winner of the nomination by 2,106 votes in an official tabulation, petitioned for recounts in ten counties.

Shortly before, the last official returns had reached the election board showing in an unofficial tabulation that incumbent Joe C. Scott had nosed out Josh Lee, the Vinita farmer sensation, by 1,620 votes for the democratic nomination for president of the board of agriculture.

Albert C. Hunt, chairman of the state election board, said recounts would begin either Monday or Tuesday in all affected counties.

Final official tabulations gave Phillips 179,153 votes, W. S. Key, 176,034, and William H. Murray, 148,266. In the agriculture board race, the count was Scott 129,550, Lee 127,940.

Could Hinder New Deal's Campaign

AFL And CIO Differ
At To Which Candidates
They'll Back

By JOHN LEAR
NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Friends of President Roosevelt are trying to end the civil war in American labor before November elections.

Unless they succeed, they fear troublesome effect on the President's plans for the "Anti-Labor" List.

Up to today, they were worried chiefly by one thing—William Green's pronouncement the American Federation of Labor would oppose, as a matter of principle, any candidate endorsed by John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization.

This meant that no candidate could be sure of the support of both the warring groups.

It meant at least the threat of a split in the vote in every state where labor is powerful.

Today Lewis made it more than a threat by announcing the list of "anti-labor" members of congress he said the C. I. O. would oppose. A list that included the names of men the A. F. of L. has endorsed, men like Senator Adams (Dem., Colo.), Senator Lonergan (Dem., Conn.), Representative Summers (Dem., Tex.), and Representative Lamneck (Dem., Ohio).

Also on the blacklist were Reps. Dies, Mansfield, Lanham and West of Texas.

The president's friends say he cannot risk continuance of such a split in an election in which he personally has taken the stump.

The hope of these is that sometime between his return from his current campaign tour and the balloting in November, President Roosevelt will be able to call Green and Lewis to the White House and send them away in peace.

It would be impossible for the White House call to come before the basis of peace has been laid. No president could very well afford to summon an armistice conference and then have it collapse on his hands, particularly when both combatants are his supporters. So the preliminaries are being done now by men who work outside the limelight.

Groundwork Laid
The "feelers" are very tentative and nebulous, but they have been thrown out here and there for weeks—in informal talks, in telephone calls.

The results should begin to show next month, when the executive council of the A. F. of L. has its regular meeting. Only the council can decide whether the A. F. of L. will renew peace talks which were broken off last December.

Those who have been in contact with Lewis and Green say that neither of the leaders will personally oppose peace conversations; nor will either promote a conference actively.

Even if a conference is agreed upon, the task will only have begun. In order to end the war, one side or the other must make concessions. And neither side just now is in a mood to do this.

President Goes To Sea; Speeches In California Boosts For McAdoo

BY WILLIAM B. ANDREY
SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt sailed aboard the naval cruiser Houston at 8:15 p. m. (Pacific Standard Time) today on an extended fishing trip after endorsing U. S. Senator William G. McAdoo's re-election campaign in a Los Angeles talk and alluding cordially to him in another speech here.

The President boarded the Houston at 8:20 p. m. It later put out to sea as a 21-gun salute sounded.

As President Roosevelt lunched at San Clemente state park en route here, Sheriff Logan Jackson of Orange County and secret service agents arrested a man they said was carrying a pistol near the President and a partially empty whisky bottle in his brief case.

A few hours later, Sheriff Jackson and secret service men released the man, whom they identified as William N. Bond, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Altadena, near Los Angeles, and holder of a Pasadena police captain reserve badge.

Witnesses said Bond declared "I'm an old friend of the President and I want to shake his hand before I go home." Bond asserted he was friendly with three members of the White House staff and had ridden with the President from

MIDLAND WOMAN TO SERVE AS DIPLOMA-SIGNER AT TECH

FORT WORTH, July 16 (AP)—Directors of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, meeting here today, named Mrs. J. A. Haly of Midland as acting president of the college, succeeding the late president Bradford Knapp in so far as diploma signing is concerned.

The board's resolution limited her duties to the executing of diplomas for graduation class of the summer school. She was unanimously selected as a tribute to her in honor of her long and "distinguished service" to the West Texas college as a director.

Clifford Jones of Spur, chairman, said the three member committee now serving as actual president of the college will continue in effect until a new president is chosen. That committee is composed of Dean J. M. Gordon, Dr. H. L. Kent and W. T. Gaston, business manager and secretary of the board.

Los Angeles, Bond also said he knew Senator McAdoo. The senator said he could not recognize Bond but advised officers to "treat him with consideration."

Secret service men with the party here said the man was within a foot of the President but the President at no time was in danger because they had been watching the man.

At Los Angeles, President Roosevelt spoke from his special train platform mentioning a letter he wrote Senator McAdoo last March urging him to seek re-election. This he said:

It Was Garner Who Made New Deal Possible, Farley Reveals in Article On Demo Convention

NEW YORK, July 16.—Postmaster General Farley in his own story of the New Deal, the first installment of which is published in the current American magazine, reveals for the first time that it was John Edgar Hoover who made the New Deal possible, and that it was the speaker of the house of representatives, who took the deadlock at the democratic convention in Chicago in 1932, and made possible the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Thus to a large degree Garner was responsible for the new deal.

In a detailed and intimate discussion of the events leading up to the inauguration of the new deal, Farley reports that after the third ballot in Chicago, when many who were opposed to the Roosevelt nomination claimed to have him stopped, Speaker Garner, speaking over the telephone from Washington to San Rayburn, released the Texas delegation which had been pledged to him. This in turn caused the swing of the California delegation into the Roosevelt column, and assured the nomination.

No mention of the vice presidency had been made to Garner prior to the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for the presidency, Farley reports. His adds that Garner would have preferred to retain the speakership, but finally agreed to run for the vice presidency on the insistence of friends who believed this would assure democratic victory the following November.

Hearst and Howe
The first installment of the Farley story which carries the Roosevelt saga up to the famous acceptance speech at Chicago, which contained the first reference to the new deal, gives a detailed account of the strategy followed during the pre-convention campaign, the personal conflicts which for a time part played by William Randolph Hearst, the brilliant tactics of the late Louis Howe, and divulged for the first time the inside story of the famous Smith-Roosevelt "breaks."

Contrary to popular belief, Farley writes, there was no break between Smith and Roosevelt in the sense that one single incident was the cause of their "seeking different paths."

"It was just a case of two extremely able and popular public men, each of whom cherished an ambition for the same thing—to be president of the United States."

The true cause of the breaking up of the Smith-Roosevelt alliance, Farley states, was the fact that Smith announced his retirement from politics following his defeat by Hoover in 1928, and then "changed his mind when it became evident that things were faring badly for the Hoover administration and that the Democratic candidate in 1932 probably would be elected."

Farley adds that the "feud" was not wholly unexpected by those who had been associated with both men because Smith "always had a tendency to underrate the ability of his successor (as governor of New York)" and had been known to refer to Roosevelt as a "visionary" and to "speak lightly regarding Roosevelt's knowledge of public questions."

But Mr. Roosevelt never underrated his own chances, Mr. Farley reveals.

"One of the outstanding characteristics of the President, he writes, is his amazing self-confidence, his superb belief in his own star of destiny, a belief which prompted him to write his speech of acceptance at a time when many people in Chicago insisted that he had been licked."

Family Needs Help To Rebuild Their Tent Home

Twenty-four dollars a month earned at the WPA sewing room has been the only source of revenue of a widow, her seven children and a grandchild living in Big Spring with half of that amount going for rent, leaving only $12 for food and care of nine people.

The family formerly lived in a tent but it blew away three different times during the spring winds, and not having enough funds to repair it, they were finally forced to move out.

If they had enough lumber to re-fix the tent, they could move back and save half of the mother's meager income for much needed food and clothing. As it is, they are left without a choice.

Anyone wishing to contribute lumber, money or assistance of any kind to this family are asked to get in touch with Mrs. B. G. Elchbourg, who knows the family's plight and has brought it to the attention of the public.

CONNALLY UNCES APPROVAL OF BRAZOS DAMS

MARLIN, July 16 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally today telegraphed Secretary Kellogg a strong request for approval of the application of the Brazos river reclamation and conservation district for a loan and grant to construct dams on the Brazos river.

He said: "The menace from floods of the Brazos river constantly threatens many millions of dollars worth of property on some of the richest lands on the globe. These floods in the past have been very destructive. The Brazos river reclamation and conservation district is incorporated under the laws of the state of Texas and state taxes in the district are allocated to carry out projects. No worthy nor useful purpose can be served by your administration than granting the application both from a sound financial standpoint and the important results to follow. Let me most respectfully urge your approval."

TO START BUYING RESERVOIR LAND

MINERAL WELLS, July 16 (AP)—The land department of the Brazos river reclamation and conservation district will begin purchases tomorrow for the basin of the Possum Kingdom dam in Palo Pinto county, officials said today.

Offices will be opened at Breckinridge, with C. R. Surrrels in charge; at Graham under H. R. McDavid, and here under Alvin Maddox, superintendent of the department.

The department announced that cash would be paid for all lands as fast as titles are perfected.

Their state visit of July 19-22 will proceed in the order which was announced during the visit of King Edward VII to Paris early in the century and which was solidified by a few months before the outbreak of the world war.

The royal visit was postponed because of the death June 23 of the queen's mother, the Countess of Strathearn, and a further postponement was threatened for a time by an attack of gastric influenza suffered by the king last week.

An official announcement today said the monarch had recovered sufficiently to go out in the grounds of the royal lodge at Windsor.

Representatives of the bureau of agricultural economics have announced that Rep. Sam Rayburn, majority floor leader of the house in congress, will speak at dedication ceremonies Wednesday at the opening to the public of the 17,000-acre Northeast Texas land utilization project near Bonham and Honey Grove in Fannin county.

King George, Queen Elizabeth To Visit France This Week

LONDON, July 16 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will journey across the channel Tuesday to demonstrate to the world that Britain's traditional close ties with France remain unweakened by the friendship offered Europe's dictators.

Others invited included Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, Representatives Marvin Jones, Wright Patman, Hatton Sumners, and W. D. McFarlane and Gov. James V. Allred.

The project is a demonstration of conversion of idle land to constructive use, officials said.

Counties Chosen For Tenant Loans

DALLAS, July 16 (AP)—Fifty-six counties in Texas have been designated in which loans to tenant farmers will be made for land purchases under the Bankhead-Jones act during the new fiscal year, C. M. Evans, regional director of the Farm Security administration, announced here today.

Twenty-one counties were designated in which the loan program already had been inaugurated, and 35 counties in which no loans had been made previously.

The new counties include Deff, Cameron, El Paso, Harrison, Smith, Taylor and Wilbarger.

Counties in which loans will continue included Hidalgo, Hunt, Lamar, Navarro, Nueces and Tom Green.

A total of $2,118,147 has been allocated to Texas, Evans said, but no announcement was made as to the amount available for each county.

Ernest Thompson For Governor

Against Tax Increases He is against any new taxes, including a sales tax, until a sound savings program is put into effect, and until it is determined whether the Social Security program, as outlined above, can be financed out of savings.

Organized Labor He is in favor of Organized Labor and of collective bargaining. He is in sympathy with all the efforts of labor organizations to improve the wage, hour and living conditions of laborers and their families.

War On Unemployment The real problem of labor is that of unemployment, and the real problem of the State Government is that of unemployment. Thompson pledges an active and continuous program of encouraging new industries and the development of natural resources in Texas to the end that more jobs can be provided for Texas citizens.

Higher Prices for Farm Products He is for all sound programs designed to raise the prices of farm and ranch products. The farm must be given an even break with industry. Will lend the influence of the Governor's office in cooperation with all agencies seeking to better farm prices and further the conservation movement.

ECTOR WELLS IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Foster Pool Extended Northwest, Record Production in Harper Field

SAN ANGELO, July 16—A short northwest extension of the Foster pool and a record gauge in the Harper field, both in Ector county three-quarters of a mile northwest of the Masterson field were among principal West Texas oil developments this week. A possible east extension to the Web-Ray pool in Upton county developed sulphur water and a dry hole defined the Choate & Hogan area in Crockett county to the north.

The opener of C. chran county's second pool and a half mile east extension to the Means field were completed and a two-mile south extension to the Duggan pool in Cochran county was given a temporary potential. Because of recent hitting of Saturday shut-downs and many completions, Gulf Pipe Line Co. reduced oil runs from the Goldsmith field in Ector county 23.6 per cent to 10,000 barrels daily, retroactive to July 8. The field's daily allowable had climbed to nearly 15,000 barrels, while Gulf's 6-inch line has a daily capacity of only 14,000 barrels.

187 Bbls. Hourly
Continental No. 1-A Johnson, in the southeast corner of section 3-45-26-T&P, marked the Foster north extension, flowing 157 barrels of oil in 24 hours through tubing at 4,395 feet after a shot. Broderick & Calvert No. 4 T-P Land Trust set the new producing record in the Harper pool by flowing 3,457.46 barrels in 24 hours at 4,078 feet after treatment with 3,000 gallons of acid. It is in the southwest quarter of section 27-44-26-T & P. Miron & Richards and others' No. 1 Henderson No. 1 University, one mile north of Choate & Hogan's discovery in Crockett county, struck flowing sulphur water at 1,294-95 feet and was abandoned.

Humble No. 46 J. S. Means, half mile east extension to the Means field in north central Andrews county, flowed at the rate of 2,233 barrels of oil daily plus 20 per cent water for completion at 4,435 feet after treatment with 4,000 gallons of acid. The well is in the northeast quarter of section 10-36-26-3 T. Perryman, Jr., No. 1 C. H. Doak, northeastern Gaines county wildcat west of Cedar Lake, in the northeast quarter of section 43-H-D&W, had only a trace of oil in samples from 5,012-18 and an oil odor from 5,039-42 feet in drilling to 5,054 feet in lime, reported solid since 4,650 feet. 1,485 feet below sea level. Riddle & Warr No. 1 Brown, eight miles west and two miles north of No. 1 Doak and in the northeast corner of section 28-G-

C&MRR, had had no oil shows in drilling to 5,185 feet. Its solid minus top was reported 4,760 feet, minus 1,478, but had not been confirmed by samples.

Other Activities
Skelly No. 1 Ellwood estate, southeastern Hockley county wildcat, in the northeast of Meigs 13, Howard county school land, was drilling plugs from 7-inch casing cemented on bottom at 4,250 feet in lime.

Ralph H. Gill No. 1 Dixon, 2 1/2 miles northwest of the Bennett field in Yoakum county and in the northeast quarter of section 611-D-John H. Gibson, topped the brown lime low at 4,310 feet, 673 feet below sea level, and had reached 4,889 without shows.

The Texas Co.'s No. 1 Mallett, opening Cochran county's second pool, pumped 74 barrels of oil daily at 5,058 feet after acidizing with 5,000 gallons. It is in the northeast corner of section 7-G-pal. Devonian No. 1-C-8 Duggan, two mile south extension of the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran, was giving a temporary potential of 273 barrels daily, flowing at 5,051 feet, to clear storage. It was to be re-acidized and retested. The well is in the northeast corner of labor 8, league 54, Oldham county school land.

Schermerhorn-Winton No. 1-A Cordova-Union, east of the W. Ray pool in Upton county, swabbed 62.5 barrels of fluid, 40 per cent oil, 90 per cent sulphur water, at 2,995 feet and prepared to make a natural test before acidizing. R. H. Henderson No. 1 University, one mile north of Choate & Hogan's discovery in Crockett county, struck flowing sulphur water at 1,294-95 feet and was abandoned.

Throckmorton Wildcat Gets Production

New Well Bridges Strong Heads

ARILENE, July 16—Outstanding development of the week in West Central Texas was the discovery of flush production in a deep southwestern Throckmorton county wildcat more than 20 miles from a similar pool.

The well, Jones & Stansley and Grover & Rose of Albany No. 1, Charles T. Brockman, was delayed in completion after a preliminary short gauge fell under owners' estimate and it was decided to under-ream five-inch casing through 220 feet open hole, mostly lime, made four further testings. The well made one 30-minute head into tanks flowing 24 barrels of 42 gravity oil under two or three million feet of gas, and then was believed to have bridged in.

In-Marble Falls Lime
Pay section had been correlated as probably the Marble Falls lime, although first check indicated it was Ellenburger, lower Ordovician. It was drilled from 4,708 to 4,706 1/2 feet, total depth. Opened twice before it was turned into tanks the well had flowed 15 minutes each time in a steady stream under pressure as to create frost on the control head.

It is in a 4,000-acre block assembled by A. V. Jones and H. R. ney of Albany, credited with the discovery of the Avoca field in "ocean county a year ago. It is on a northeast trend play, in an area of much faulting, and is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 95, Comanch Indian reserve. Location is 32 miles north of Albany, and about 15 miles southwest of Throckmorton.

Three miles to the west, the Crawford, Humphrey & Brown No. 1, J. A. Matthew, in Harries Thompson survey, is checking favorably on upper markers at 1,515 feet as it drills ahead.

Gas Showing
Frank Pethybridge and R. H. Gordon No. 1 C. B. Snyder, deep project of gas in ten feet of sand to 755 feet this week, but drilled ahead in 15-inch hole. It is in section 25-L&L survey, five miles west of Moran.

In the Ivy pool of northwestern Shackelford county, Iron Mountain Oil company completed the largest producer from the shallow King section with its No. 40 E. Beck, twin well to a deep producer, flowing 314 barrels of oil in 24 hours after 2,000-gallon acidization from 1,817 feet. It is in the northwest of section 103-B&B&C survey. Iron Mountain also hit top of the Palo Pinto lime saturation on a north outpost, No. 4 D. A. Ivy in section 150-B&B&C survey, and cemented five-inch casing at 2,305 feet.

The Fair-McGaha Oil corporation and F. S. Kendrick No. 1 T. G. Hendrick in southeastern Haskell county was abandoned at a total depth of 3,059 feet, having passed up a possible commercial showing of oil at 2,685 feet which ran into water. Another test is expected to be drilled nearby soon. Location is in In-

HIGHLIGHTS FROM RODEO AT ACKERLY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neal of near Garden City were on hand to watch their son, "Buddy" Neal perform. He had the misfortune of a slight accident in Friday's performance. He was cut on the lip in a calf-roping contest, but was able to participate Saturday. It was only a minor injury to "Buddy," who is considered a top-notch performer. He participated in the annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo in Big Spring earlier in the month.

Andy Brown, "mayor" of Ackerly and general director of the rodeo, was plenty in evidence during the two day's show. He did a good piece of work in directing and handling the barbecue staged Saturday noon. Standing high on the stands provided for serving the crowds, Andy gave directions throughout the procedure, and without this, the job might have been a bit harder to handle. Andy subbed for the Ackerly catcher in a baseball game Friday afternoon, when the latter sustained an injured finger. Although he is a grandpa, Andy plays a nifty game of baseball. He claims to have a record of knocking five home runs in one game way back under when he used to play ball at Frederick, Oklahoma. That's Andy's story.

Retail Merchants' Association manager L. A. Eubanks, accompanied by his betterhalf and the latter's sister of New Orleans, were on hand for the show. L. A. was much in evidence when the barbecue was being served. He had a hard time getting through the "chutes, according to reports, but he finally made it with the aid of a few pusher-uppers.

Rev. J. Richard Spann, former pastor of the First Methodist church in Big Spring, but now pastor of the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, first church, accompanied Albert M. Fisher to the rodeo Saturday northwest of Stanton. S. S. Owen No. 1 Dr. J. G. Wright, rank wildcat test in the northwest corner of Howard county, remaining shut down at 1,378 feet. The W. B. Powell No. 1 Guitar Estate, in section 17-B&C, 12 miles west of Big Spring, reportedly had encountered salt water at 1245 feet.

The T. G. Shaw, Trustee, No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson, 330 feet out of the southeast corner of the SE quarter of section 25, B&C, had cemented 10 inch casing at 160 feet.

Cliff Wiley of the Lone Star Chevrolet, Big Spring, was attending his first show at Ackerly, and afternoon. Dr. Spann renewed a number of acquaintances, and said he was always at home at a West Texas rodeo. "It is always a pleasure to get back to West Texas," said Dr. Spann. "I notice particularly the friendliness and hospitality of the people—the rodeo and barbecue at Ackerly were wonderful," he said.

Albert Fisher was busy greeting friends—especially the ladies. One lady was heard to remark: "Hello, Albert! What are you doing up here—oh, I know, you are getting business." Mr. Fisher has a keen desire for 5c cigars, and he was passing 'em out up at Ackerly.

A. L. Dement, prosperous and successful farmer of Howard county, was on hand for the performance. He showed a wide smile when asked "How's crops?" He says his cotton is doing fine.

G. H. Hayward and Billy Garrett showed up early for the show, and were on hand Saturday afternoon when the barbecue was being served.

A. L. Coleman of Howard county, another visitor, said the rodeo was the best he had seen, and was surprised to see such a large crowd on hand.

Chris Fox of the Sweetwater Cotton Oil company, was in attendance at the Saturday performance. He was aiding his friend, Andy Brown, in doing the chores.

The automobiles driving to the rodeo grounds were handled in fine style, due to the good work of the ticket sellers, gatemen, horsemen, etc., on hand. They were under the direction of Mr. Shipp.

Candidates for the various offices were much in evidence, and they had their inning during the political speaking in the forenoon in downtown Ackerly. Cards were being handed out, and one person who had a large number, said he was making a collection as a hobby.

was highly complimentary of the program.

Mrs. Andy Brown, in addition to helping her husband in various ways, was also busy showing people her new palatial home northeast of Ackerly, recently completed.

Rodeo officials were gratified at the attendance—while no figures were available as to the receipts, they seemed to think everything was OK as to the financial outcome.

Concession stands did a big business, both in Ackerly and at the rodeo grounds to the west of town. Watermelon vendors reported a heavy business. Ice cream cones, soda pop, peanuts, etc., were on all sides.

G. H. Hayward and Billy Garrett showed up early for the show, and were on hand Saturday afternoon when the barbecue was being served.

A. L. Coleman of Howard county, another visitor, said the rodeo was the best he had seen, and was surprised to see such a large crowd on hand.

Chris Fox of the Sweetwater Cotton Oil company, was in attendance at the Saturday performance. He was aiding his friend, Andy Brown, in doing the chores.

The automobiles driving to the rodeo grounds were handled in fine style, due to the good work of the ticket sellers, gatemen, horsemen, etc., on hand. They were under the direction of Mr. Shipp.

Candidates for the various offices were much in evidence, and they had their inning during the political speaking in the forenoon in downtown Ackerly. Cards were being handed out, and one person who had a large number, said he was making a collection as a hobby.

Cliff Wiley of the Lone Star Chevrolet, Big Spring, was attending his first show at Ackerly, and afternoon. Dr. Spann renewed a number of acquaintances, and said he was always at home at a West Texas rodeo. "It is always a pleasure to get back to West Texas," said Dr. Spann. "I notice particularly the friendliness and hospitality of the people—the rodeo and barbecue at Ackerly were wonderful," he said.

Albert Fisher was busy greeting friends—especially the ladies. One lady was heard to remark: "Hello, Albert! What are you doing up here—oh, I know, you are getting business." Mr. Fisher has a keen desire for 5c cigars, and he was passing 'em out up at Ackerly.

A. L. Dement, prosperous and successful farmer of Howard county, was on hand for the performance. He showed a wide smile when asked "How's crops?" He says his cotton is doing fine.

Services Held At Midland For Mother Of Jim Currie

Funeral services were held at Midland Friday afternoon for Mrs. Robert Currie, 68, resident of that city for 30 years and mother of Jim Currie of Big Spring. Mrs. Currie succumbed Wednesday night following a long illness. She had been critically ill for the past nine weeks.

Interment was made in Fairview cemetery at Midland following rites conducted by Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Born July 21, 1870 at Fortge, Wis., her maiden name was Anna Ester Calverley. She came to Texas in 1886 and was married to Mr. Currie August 19, 1890. They lived on their Glasscock county ranch until 1908 when they moved to Midland to give their children the public school advantages. Mrs. Currie united with the First Baptist church here at that time and had been an active member since. With the exception of time spent with the family on their ranch, she has been living in Midland for thirty years. Survivors include her husband, Robert Currie who operates a ranch in Upton county; four sons, James Currie of Big Spring, Jason and Henry Currie of Midland and Lyle Currie of Ballinger; three daughters, Mrs. A. E. Davis, Mrs. Claude Porter and Miss Josephine Haley Currie, all of Houston; fourteen grandchildren; two brothers, Steve Calverley and Joe Calverley of Garden City, and one sister, Mrs. Eva Currie of Garden City.

Location A Secret First hint of important deposits came in 1926, when Dr. E. L. Clark picked up prehistoric teeth on the site. The discovery was not followed up, and it was only when King Arthur Richey, a research student, was assigned to work there that its full significance was revealed.

The location is on the vast sprawling slopes of Mount Diablo, but the exact place is a secret. Souvenir hunters have ruined many scientific excavations, and Diablo is only an hour's drive from the 1,300,000 population of the San Francisco-Oakland area. The WPA has assigned workers to cut out and clean the fossilized bones preparatory to scientific study.

SAND BELT TEAM OPPOSES STANTON IN FINAL MATCH

Maintaining an excellent chance to finish at the top of the ladder, Big Spring's Sand Belt league golfers will oppose Stanton this afternoon on the local course.

The locals are pacing the circuit in points scored with a total of 225 but have completed all their matches except one. Midland is in second place with 202 points and still has two duels on its card while Odessa, having counted 152 points, is in a favored spot to grab off the laurels due to the fact that they have four matches yet to play.

The Big Springers will not be at top strength. Oble Bristow, second ranking regular, will not be able to play and it is doubtful as to whether Doug Jones, the No. 1 stick wielder, will take part. However, Sammy Bain, captain, expects to send a strong team into action.

Other teams entered so far include Golden, Colo., Coors; Enid, Okla., Eason Ollers; Borger, Tex., Hubers; Denver Lakesiders and Minnesota Mines of Empire, Colo.

Parker Licks Charles Hare

Appears Win Scored In Davis Cup Last Round Over Briton

SPRING LAKE, N. J., July 16 (AP)—Tennis history written a year ago at Wimbledon repeated itself today when Frankie Parker, third ranking United States amateur, defeated Charles E. Hare, British Davis cup star, in the semi-finals of the annual Bathing and Tennis club's invitation tournament, 7-5, 7-5, 6-3.

Parker, who clinched the Davis cup for America by whipping Hare in straight sets last year in England, found the English player more tenacious today, but the result was the same.

Archibald Henderson, unseeded Chapel Hill, N. C. youth, preceded Parker into the finals with a 6-1, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Carlton Root of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Following his victory over Hare, Parker teamed with Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., to gain the finals of the doubles with a 6-3, 6-0 victory over David Johnson and Hugh Lynch of Washington, D. C. Johnson and Lynch went into the semi-finals after Jack Bushman of New Orleans, La., and Robert K. Kamrath, of Austin, Tex., defaulted with the score tied at one set each. Bushman and Kamrath won the first one, 18-16, and Johnson and Lynch the second 6-4.

Hare and Dr. Eugene McCauliff of New York qualified to meet Allison and Parker in the doubles final by defeating Charles T. Mattman of Coral Gables, Fla., and Henderson 6-1, 6-6, 6-4.

Proration Hearing Is Slated Monday

AUSTIN, July 16 (AP)—A large segment of the state's oil fraternity will gather here Monday for a statewide proration hearing at which the railroad commission will study evidence on which to base an August production order.

The big question was whether the regulatory body would lift a Monday shutdown of wells. Saturday and Sunday holidays were ordered in May because of rapidly mounting stocks of crude oil and gasoline. The commission lifted the Saturday closings for July, beginning of the peak gasoline consumption period and there was some indication the remaining holiday might be removed next month.

THERE'S a very good reason. You see it's this way: If you go on trading for generations on the principle that your customer is entitled to "the best" as well as "the most" that a large organization can give him, sooner or later, most everybody comes to realize that "here's a place where you always get your money's worth—as much as your dollar can buy—often a little bit more—and sometimes a whole lot more".

Confidence!

Gentlemen:

It is gratifying to be able to report that Rogers Peet business is ahead of a year ago...and that newspaper advertising has played a very large part in the increased sales which we are enjoying, even in these more difficult times.

Indeed, this business has been built up on newspaper advertising-- in the daily telling of our "store news" in the newspapers-- mostly in small, single column space, coupled in recent years with some larger display units to give added emphasis, pictorially, to the style-authority of the modern Rogers Peet.

We do not believe in confining our advertising to "sales" messages. We have found it good business to make generous use of institutional copy.

The basic theory of our advertising is-- if you say what you say, in a nutshell, and say it with a smile, you can build up a following who will look to your message daily and react favorably, provided of course, the merchandise and service are on hand to back it up.

Sincerely yours,
Robert M. Ferns
Robert M. Ferns,
Advertising Director.

OBJECT LESSON . . . Rogers Peet, well known New York retailer of quality men's apparel, is going ahead, in spite of the times, Rogers Peet's sales volume is up, in spite of the times...largely through newspaper advertising.

Not through large ads entirely, mind you...but "mostly through small, single-column space". Not through sales announcements alone...but through "generous use of institutional copy". Not through spasmodic insertions...but through frequent, regular messages (read Mr. Ferns' letter).

Rogers Peet's experience, which can be duplicated by many other advertisers, is a timely object lesson for other retailers everywhere...and for manufacturers of things that retailers sell. There is more business today for those who go after it with the right kind of newspaper advertising.

Standard Law On Erosion Is Favored

Heavy Severance Tax On Resources Suggested

DENTON, July 16 (AP)—Passage of the standard soil erosion law recommended by the department of agriculture would meet almost all present legislative needs in Texas for soil, wildlife, forest, and water conservation.

Adequate mineral conservation legislation, however, is impossible under the present competitive system, Johnson said, and the only practical way by which the state can retain any share of the great natural wealth in such resources as oil, gas, and sulphur is through the placing of a heavy severance tax on these resources.

"The present proration system set up in the name of conservation is almost entirely a price-fixing device and conservation is incidental," the speaker declared.

"On the whole, however, conservation is not a matter of legislation, but of education," Johnson said.

STATE REGULATIONS BETWEEN U. S. AND VATICAN NEARER

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Vatican City appeared today to be a step nearer realization.

The state department prepared to send instructions to the American consulate in Rome, based on a congressional amendment signed recently by the president. The amendment permits the consulate to act as the authenticating agent for documents of record in Vatican City so that they may be used as evidence in courts of the United States.

M'Craw Criticizes Pension Promises

SAN ANTONIO, July 16 (AP)—Recognizing the "great dissatisfaction felt by the people of Texas" over the administration of old age pensions, William C. McCraw, candidate for governor tonight lashed out at those of his opponents who suggest maximum pensions for everyone over 65 years of age.

"It is not a case of what we favor or do not favor, but a case of what we can do," McCraw told his approximately 800 hearers. "I am not like the candidate who, when he is asked where the money is coming from turns to his band and asks for more music."

Expressing the belief that the old age pensioners should be given enough money to maintain "the same standard of living as you and I" and be given "tip service but more liver on the table," McCraw declared he was not for "putting negroes on equality with whites" in the matter of pensions.

"I do not want to start a negro heaven here in Texas," he said.

COLLEGIANS BOOST TERRELL

Two seniors in North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, have hit upon a novel way to boost the candidacy of a man they favor for office, C. V. Terrell, who is seeking reelection to the Texas railroad commission. The two pictured here, John Sullivan of Sanger and W. B. Bisher of Whitevright, are hitchhiking over the state wearing sandwich signs proclaiming "Terrell for Railroad Commissioner." They thumbed their way into Big Spring Saturday, and headed for San Angelo. The boys said they had covered about 3,100 miles in four weeks, visiting practically all parts of Texas. Picking up rides is not exceptionally difficult, they said. Sullivan and Bisher assert they favor Terrell because of his continued interest in their schools. He was the author of the bill which created the college, directed it through the senate when he was a member of that body.

DECISION DELAYED ON DUCK HUNTING

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The bureau of biological survey said today that it would not decide until late July or early August whether earlier duck hunting would be permitted this fall in Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas.

It said, commenting upon reports hunters in the three states might be allowed to start blasting away sooner than last year that it could not tell at present whether an earlier season would be advisable anywhere because of incomplete information about the condition of the ducks in the northern breeding places.
