Midland man hospitalized in bee attack on Depot St.

Dog killed by bees only a week earlier

Lee Frison, Jr. of Midland was hospitalized Friday afternoon after being attacked by a swarm of bees. Frison was kept overnight at Schleicher County Medical Center hospital after suffering an estimated 30-40 bee stings, mostly to the face, head and shoulders.

Frison is employed by West Texas Drum, an oil drum recycling firm in Odessa. He was picking up used oil drums at Griffin Fuels' warehouse on Depot Street when the attack occurred. He reportedly picked up a drum that contained an active hive of bees and the bees quickly swarmed the man. Frison ran from the attacking bees and sought safety in a nearby pickup truck.

Frison was later taken by private vehicle to Schleicher County Medical Center for treatment.

Fire Chief Jerry Jones was called to the scene and, after donning a bee suit, he located the barrel containing the bees and sealed it up. He returned later in the day to kill a group of bees that had gathered on the barrel, apparently trying to rejoin the swarm.

The attack came a week after a dog, owned by Vaden Aldridge, was killed at his home on County Road 117 approximately 17 miles west of Eldorado. The dog was reportedly tied in the yard and was unable to escape a swarm of bees that had gathered in a nearby garage. The bees became agitated when a pickup truck pulled up near the garage. The occupants of the truck tried to rescue the dog, but were unable to do so in time to save its life.

Fire Chief Jerry Jones says he is convinced that both attacks were made by Africanized bees. Samples of the bees from each of the two attacks have been collected and will be sent to Texas A&M University to determine whether or not they are Africanized.

It was only a year ago when Bobby Daniels of Eldorado was killed in a Bee attack on the Powell Ranch located south-southeast of Eldorado. Since that incident, numerous hives of bees have been reported to local authorities and more than one individual has been hospitalized due to bee attacks. So many cases have been reported in recent days that the resources of the Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department have been stretched nearly to the breaking point.

Jones notes that he has responded to so numerous bee calls and said it has reached the point where he has had to put his business on the back burner.

Jones met briefly Monday with Schleicher County Commissioners to discuss the possibility of hiring someone to handle the bee calls. The commissioners agreed to the need and asked Jones to see if he could find someone to help with the task. So far, at least, no one has volunteered for the job.

Meanwhile, Jones urges caution around bees and notes that the Fire Department has a couple of bee suits available for persons who can't wait for him to get around to their bee call. He also explained that donations of wasp and hornet spray, or the cash to purchase such spray, would be appreciated.

Bee Call — A flurry of "Bee Calls" have kept Fire Chief Jerry Jones busy in recent weeks as increasing numbers of large hives are being reported around the county. Here, Jones is shown exterminating a hive of bees last Friday that swarmed a Midland, sending him to Schleicher County Medical Center for an overnight stay.

Bee Aware and Bee Safe

While there have been a number of deaths associated with bee attacks, including one here last year, most bee attacks are not fatal. There is a danger, however and the best defense is for one to understand as much as possible about bees and bee behavior.

First of all, not all honey bees are Africanized but experts note that most bee swarms in this area have some genes of the African honey bee, an insect that escaped from captivity decades ago in South America. As the bees spread northward it as interbred with the long established European honey bees. Very soon the African genes proved to be dominant.

Africanized bees can become extremely aggressive and represent a risk to anyone they contact. In order to protect yourself and your loved ones, please read the following precautions.

An Ounce of Prevention

The best way to avoid bee stings is to prevent them from nesting in or around your home. The following ideas may help.

- Make a "bee patrol" around your home once or twice a week during swarming season usually in the spring and fall. Listen for the sound of bees in the air. Persistent buzzing may mean a hive or swarm is nearby.

- "Bee-proof" your home by filling in potential nesting sites such as tree cavities and holes in outside walls. Put screens on the tops of rain spouts and over water meter boxes in the ground. Remove piles of trash and junk.

- If you discover a bee colony, don't disturb it. Find out who removes or destroys wild colonies in your area and report it to them. Try calling a pest control operator to see who removes bees.

- If attacked by Africanized honey bees, your best defense is to run away as fast as you can. Seek shelter immediately in a building, a car or heavy brush.

- If you are stung many times, seek medical attention immediately.

- If you are allergic to bee stings, or think you might be, consult your physician immediately for the best precautions to take.

Mowing or Operating Other Machinery

Remember, bees don't like noise or vibration. So, keep the following points in mind.

- Vibration and exhaust from mowers and other equipment can disturb the beehive, and bees will respond by attacking.
- Check the area carefully for bees

Warren Jeffs believed to be at YFZ Ranch

Published reports in the Salt Lake Tribune, as well as other Rocky Mountain area newspapers, indicate that Warren Jeffs, the Prophet of the Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints has left his walled compound in Colorado City, AZ, and relocated to the YFZ Ranch, just north of Eldorado.

A story appearing in the May 6, edition of the Salt Lake Tribune reports that Jeffs was at the YFZ Ranch as early as March 28, 2004 and that it was he who ordered four men, David Allred, Ernie Jessop, Roy Steed and Allan Steed, to meet with Schleicher County Sheriff David Doran and Justice of the Peace James C. Doyle. Details of that meeting, along with a photo of the four men were published in last week's edition of the Success.

At that meeting, Allred admitted to Doran and Doyle that the YFZ Ranch was never intended to be a hunting retreat. Instead, the property was planned for a new FLDS community and would house no more than 200 people, David Allred said.

That number conflicts with reports the Success has gotten from sources in the Colorado City/Hildale area. Benjamin G. Bistline, author of "The Polygamists, a History of Colorado City, Arizona" told the Success last week that there is much activity in the Colorado City area and that numbers of families are packing to move to Texas. He estimated that perhaps as many as 1,500 could be making the move in the coming weeks.

Bistline, himself an excommunicated member of the FLDS, got in trouble with the group's leader when he wrote the book outlining history of the town that is so closely connected with the church. He said that although he is not opposed to polygamy, he is opposed to the forced marriage of underage girls to older men, a practice Bistline says continues to this day.

Bistline compares conditions for the young FLDS girls to that of slavery. He says the girls are educated only to the fourth grade level, and are taught from early childhood that their role in life is to be given in marriage by the Prophet, mostly into polygamous marriages, and to produce lots of babies so that the cycle can continue.

Bistline says that Warren Jeffs is a mystery to many outside the FLDS core group. "He is an outsider," Bistline said. "He is from Salt Lake City where he ran a school for his father, Rulon Jeffs," Bistline said. "I think he's an egotistical maniac."

Still, Bistline doesn't think Jeffs or his group of FLDS followers present a threat to Eldorado or Schleicher County. "They wanted to find an isolated area where they could practice their so called religion without influence from the outside world," Bistline added. "They may have miscalculated by choosing Texas."

Bistline also disagrees with claims the FLDS leaders made that they have no interest in taking over the political institutions within Schleicher County. "They will take over any office necessary in order to be left alone," Bistline said. "If they think they are under too much pressure and that electing their own sheriff could help alleviate the problem, then they'll elect their own sheriff, or judge, or any other office they feel they need."

"They aren't coming in there to take over your government so that they can tell you what to do," Bistline continued. "But they will take over whatever they must in order to be left alone. That's what they've done here in Colorado City."

Bistline went on to say that FLDS members will almost certainly be signing up for Medicaid and other types of governmental assistance like WIC (Womens, Infants and Children nutritional program).

"They call it bleeding the beast," Bistline said. "They don't like the government but they are not opposed to any assistance they can get from it."

The Winning Ways of Jackpot Jan

Jan Bland's house in Mount Vernon is a mess. I don't mean it's not clean. I mean there are stacks of stuff all through the house. It looks kind of like she's getting ready to move. The stacks reflect a variety of interests. You could say the house is colorful.

by Tumbleweed Smith

"I guess you might say I'm colorful, too," says Jan. "I try to be." She collects everything from antique dolls to live chickens. The colors of red, white and blue are on all kinds of things in her house.

"I'm very patriotic. My forefathers helped settle this country. They fought in the Revolutionary War. One of the wives was a spy and carried secret messages in the lining of her coat. My father served in World Wars One and Two."

Jan is a student of both American and Texas history. She earned BA and MA degrees after her sons left for college.

"I enjoyed it tremendously. I studied at the University of London, went to Madrid to the University of Spain, and to a girls' agricultural school in Florence, Italy.

Jan taught school seventeen years. In her spare time she sold clothes at Canton's First Monday Trade Days.

"It was not expensive clothes. It was clothes primarily for school teachers and people who worked, fun kind of things. In two days I used to sell twenty-eight thousand dollars worth of clothes. I did go down there to have a good time, but I was a walkin' talkin' machine."

She worked at Canton 25 years. Jan spent her extra money on gambling boats in Bossier City, Louisiana. Last year was a good year.

"I went three times in April and won four jackpots which totaled $27,747. I had played blackjack all day long with a hundred dollars and I was only forty-five dollars ahead, so I decided I'd better go play the slots a little if I was going to win some money. I just walked up to a machine, did not sit down, and put a hundred dollar bill in. It was a ten dollar machine and I pressed the button once and that was twenty dollars and I pressed it again and that was forty dollars and then I hit $19,600."

Thirty minutes later, she was at another slot machine on the opposite side of the ship.

"I played that machine and hit $2,800. I had a lot to show for thirty minutes of playing. Then I went back to Bossier City when Willie Nelson was there and hit the jackpot again. On that machine where I won the nineteen thousand dollars, I've hit three other jackpots on that same machine."

When someone wins a jackpot, the casino takes a picture of the player standing by the slot machine, which shows the amount won. Jan has stacks of those pictures. She giggles when she shows them to guests.

"I'm pretty lucky. Everybody wants to go with me. People will ask me if they can touch me for good luck."

One-arm bandit proposal not over yet

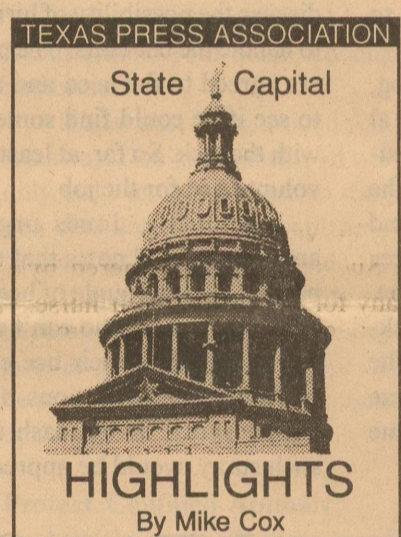

AUSTIN — Texas still may enlist the help of a gang of one-armed bandits to do away with another figurative outlaw, Robin Hood school financing.

Though cut from the House's version of a school finance bill, the concept of using video lottery terminals (AKA slot machines) to relieve Texans and visitors of enough money to help the state's school districts may end up back in the Senate version of the bill.

Those in favor of legalizing slot machines at racetracks and Indian reservations and possibly allowing casinos in the state, say the devices could raise more than $2 billion a year for Texas. That, supporters argue, may sound more attractive to lawmakers than broadening the state sales tax or hiking business taxes.

One idea rolling around would have the state collecting a $25,000 license fee per machine and as much as 60 percent of the revenue.

Work on the bill begins in the Senate this week with the special session clock ticking toward a May 19 adjournment.

Election '06 update...

Still more than two years away, the 2006 general election in Texas is almost getting more buzz than the upcoming presidential election.

That will change as the party conventions get closer, but the on-going Gov. Rick Perry—Comptroller Carole Keeton Strayhorn feud continues to feed speculation about the '06 race — particularly the Republican primary.

Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs has added to the buzz by saying that she intends to run for state bean counter. Combs would not talk about what conversations she has had with Strayhorn, but she did say that she did not expect the incumbent to be seeking another term.

Strayhorn had nothing to say about why Combs thinks it will be an open primary. Being comptroller, Strayhorn said, "is my total focus right now."

She did add, however, "I always say that I never say never when the people of Texas ask me to serve."

Attorney General Greg Abbott is urging senior Texans to "Just Hang Up" on unsolicited telemarketers. His office has predicted that scam calling likely will increase with the new Medicare drug discount card program.

"Senior Texans grew up in a more trusting time," the attorney general said. "The devastating nature of today's scams makes it essential that seniors remember how easy it is to 'Just Hang Up' on criminals who try to take advantage of them."

Rapidly returning a telephone receiver to its cradle, or clicking the "off" switch, is "simple, effective, and it can save you thousands of dollars," Abbott said.

Advice for the FLDS

Dear Editor,

It was interesting to read in last week's Success that the FLDS "want to be left alone to live as they choose, without interference from the government." Well, DUH!!! Wouldn't we all? I'm sure we could all think of a law or two that we would like to ignore.

In the United States, there are many laws and there is constant "interference" from the government to try to uphold the laws. As long as the FLDS group lives in the United States, and continues to either practice polygamy (which they admit) or sex with underage girls, I'm afraid they will be bothered by "interference."

Probably the best solution for them, if they wish to continue these practices, is to either move to a country somewhere in the world that allows polygamy, or has no laws at all that will "interfere" with their lifestyle. And that failing, maybe they can find a small country where they can take over and create their own laws.

Eagles sweep Anthony to claim Bi-District title

It was a beautiful Saturday in Alpine as the Eldorado Eagles and the Anthony Wildcats faced off in a best-of-three series for the 2A Bi-District baseball crown. And, despite a brief shower that threatened late in the second game, the Warbirds put together back-to-back wins with 4-3 and 11-4 scores to end the series early and send the Wildcats home for the season. The win means the Eagles will next face the Post Antelopes in the Area Round of the State 2A Playoffs.

The Eagles got on top early in the first game when the Warbirds leadoff batter, Trey Chavez, sent a 3-2 pitch for a ride over the left centerfield wall, just above the 360 ft. sign. The towering hit gave the Eagles a 1-0 lead and set the mood for the day as the Eagles seemed confident they could handle the Wildcats, even as the lead seasawed back and forth in the first game.

Joey Hernandez was the leadoff batter in the third and managed to foul off a couple of good pitches before drawing a walk. Pinch runner Jorge Bustos was sent in to the game and reached second, then third on two passed balls. Andy Mejia brought Bustos home with a sacrifice ground out to the shortstop.

The Warbirds struck again in the fifth, notching up two runs after catcher Caleb Nixon reached base on a leadoff walk. Courtesy runner Kolby Dombroski then stole second and advanced to third on a bad throw.

Trey Chavez then singled to left to score Dombroski, but the ball bounced over the fielders head and Chavez slid safely into third, just ahead of the throw, uprooting the 3rd base bag in the process. After a little grounds keeping restored the base to it's proper spot, pitcher Frankie Arispe belted a single to let, scoring Chavez and giving the Eagles the 4-3 lead they wouldn't relinquish.

He's Safe! Trey Chavez slides in at third after belting a triple during the Eagles 4-3 win over the Anthony Wildcats last Saturday. The play came in the opening game of a best-of-three series which the Eagles swept 2-0. Chavez scored the first run for the Warbirds when, as the team's lead off batter, he belted a 3-2 pitch over the 360 ft. sign in right-center field, giving Eldorado an early 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning. Following a 30-minute break, the Eagles came back to win the second game 11-4 to claim the Bi-District Championship.

Eagles on the mound to get the win and move his season record to 10-2. He struck out 9 on the way, including the last five batters in the last three innings to hold the Wildcats in check.

The Warbirds' bats came alive in the second game as hits came early and often. Trey Chavez lead off the bottom of the first inning with a single and was brought home by a Joey Hernandez two-out single.

The Eagles exploded for five more runs in the third to claim the lead they would never give up. Back-to-back singles by Homer Hernandez and Frankie Arispe led off the inning. Allan Dykstra then followed with a crushing blow down the leftfield line that hit the top of the wall before dropping into the field of play, giving Dykstra a double and scoring Hernandez and Arispe.

Jared Grubbs followed with a sharp single to right scoring Arispe. Later in the inning Frank Edmiston singled home Grubbs and Andy Mejia, who had walked earlier in the inning, was scored on a Caleb Nixon ground out, giving the Eagles a 6-2 lead.

The Warbirds pounded out five more runs in the fifth to put the game out of reach. Andy Mejia singled up the middle to begin the inning, followed by a Caleb Nixon walk. Mejia then scored on a Chavez double off the left-center field wall and courtesy runner Seth Taylor scored when Homer Her-andez followed with a single. Frankie Arispe then blasted a home run to left scoring two more to give the Eagles an 11-4 lead.

Ryan Cathey showed excellent control as he pitched a complete game five-hitter. He struck out 5 and while walking none on the way to his 4th win of the season. Cathey has yet to lose a decision for the Warbirds this year.

Coach Gary Grubs explained that the Eagles will travel to Midland on Friday to play Post at Christensen Stadium in a best-of-three series. The first game will begin at 4:30 p.m. on Friday. The second game will follow at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday with a third game immediately following if needed.

Officers seize over $14,000 in cash

Sheriff's Deputy Kevin Herbert seized more than $14,000.00 in cash and impounded a 1996 Dodge pickup following a traffic stop on US 277 just south of the Eldorado city limits last Saturday.

Herbert reports that the truck was headed southbound when he pulled it over because of a defective tail light. He soon discovered the pickup also had a fictitious license plate. At that point he took the vehicle's two occupants into custody.

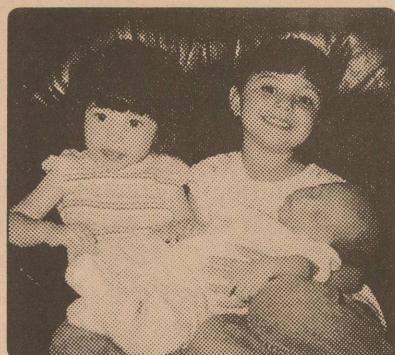

They were: driver Jose Alfredo Borrego, 27, and passenger Jose Felix Garcia, 24, both of Del Rio.

A search of the vehicle soon revealed bundles of cash, totalling $13,000.00, hidden behind the dash board. An additional $1,259.33 was found on the men. When neither Borrego or Garcia could explain the money, it was seized and held as evidence.

Chief Deputy George Arispe explains that he and DPS Trooper

Danny Nunez assisted with the case, as did Deputy Jason Chatham, the department's K-9 officer. Chatham's drug dog reportedly alerted during a search of the pickup but no drugs were found.

Both Borrego and Garcia were released on personal recognizance bonds. Their case will be forwarded to District Attorney Stephen Lupton, who will decide whether or not to begin legal proceedings to seize the cash and pickup.

Wanoreck hired as EHS principal, Gillespie chosen to lead Elementary SCISD trustees voted Monday night to hire Elementary Principal Bob Wanoreck as High School principal for next year. They also hired Coach Alan Gillespie as Elementary principal. The vote came after a brief executive session for the purpose of discussing personnel. Trustee Jan Wanoreck, wife of Bob Wanoreck, abstained during both votes. Trustee John Paul Joiner voted against hiring Gillespie. All other board members voted in favor of hiring the two men.

It was noted that current EHS Principal Time Seymore is leaving to accept the Superintendent's job at Dawson ISD in Welch. Candice Henry, High School Spanish/ESL teacher, will also be leaving at the end of the school year, it was announced.

In other business, Coach Gary Grubbs, Coach Jesse Garza, and Coach Brian Gibson were on hand to discuss building a new girls softball field and practice field adjacent to the high school baseball field on McWhorter Ave. Coach Grubbs presented a blueprint, with promises of volunteer help and donations and a requested $9,000.00-$10,000.00 from the school for supplies. He said the money would cover leveling of grounds, sprinkler system, pipe fence, seeding the field, dugouts and stands. After a brief discussion the trustees voted to fund the project with Eddie Albin, John Paul Joiner, Jan Wanoreck, Kurtis Homer and Jo Helen Kotsch voting in favor and Lupe Sanchez voting against. Trustee Berta Nicholson was not present.

The board also gave Supt. Mark Gesch authority to ratify the donations for the softball field without presenting each donation to the board for approval. Lupe Sanchez voted against that measure, as well.

Maintenance Supervisor John Kotsch then met with the board to discuss the possibility of replacing the existing school lighting with more energy efficient bulbs and ballasts. He also mentioned replacing older air conditioning units at the Elementary School and Band Hall as well as paving the former Elementary parking lot, roofing the lower portion of Band Hall and re-coating the Art/Health building roofs. Kotsch said the work would cost about $120,000, money which is not in the current budget. After discussing the matter, the board voted instead voted to finish the Elementary Drop Off/Pickup Zone with grant funding, install security lighting around the school and paint the outside buildings at an estimated cost of $6,000, with the money to come out of the school's fund balance. Trustee Eddie Albin requested the school lighting and air conditioning projects be considered during the budgeting process next month when the board could consider the CAPS program as a way to finance the big ticket items.

Next, the board approved hiring eight students and two adult supervisors for maintenance projects around the school during the summer months. The trustees also voted to approve an interlocal agreement with Texas Political Subdivisions (TPS) for participation in their joint self-insurance fund for property and casualty insurance.

The board then okayed salary increases of 5 percent for maintenance, custodial and food service personnel, with the raises going into effect on June 1, 2004. This pay raise will cost the district some $15,636.00 a year. The board also voted to accept and early renewal credit of $3,458 offered by the Texas Association of School Board for 2004-2005 workers compensation coverage.

Superintendent Mark Gesch then presented staffing proposals that include three teachers positions in grades K-4. It was noted that Kindergarten teacher Debby Griffin has asked to teach 6th grade Math in the Middle School. Also, a new Elementary position in Special Education has been created. Currently the high school has a band director opening, vocational agricultural teacher, spanish/esl teacher, food service department, bus driver and elementary counselor position openings.

It was also announced that 48 students have signed up for Kindergarten for the 2004-2005 school year.

City will consider closing street near Golf Course

Tommy Hunley and Danny Halbert met with the Eldorado City Council Monday evening and asked that some 300 feet of West Pelt Street be closed adjacent to the Golf Course. The men noted that since the airport hangars have been relocated to the north end of the runway, there is no need for the street to remain open to the public. Besides, the portion of the street in question lies between one of the golf tees and its green, making it hazardous to drive down the street.

The men noted that most of the local golfers know to watch out for traffic but that guests sometimes don't realize that a roadway crosses in front of them. They asked the council to consider closing the street and allowing them to move a gate that is currently installed at the end of the street. Hunley and Halbert said the golf club would move the gate if given the okay.

The council appeared to agree with the request, but could not vote for the closure at Monday's meeting, due to the need for a public hearing that is required by law before a section of a public street can be closed. Instead, the council voted unanimously to call for a public hearing at their next meeting on June 7, 2004.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor John Nikolauk with council members Toni Sudduth, Dora Bosmans, Tommy Minor, Richard Mendez and Juakin Rojas in attendance. Councilman-elect Bill McCutcheon was also present for the meeting and took part in several discussions but could not vote until he officially takes office at next month's meeting. Also in attendance were City Administrator Randy Mankin, Utility Superintendent Floyd Fay and City Secretary Carolyn Mayo. Bill Hodges attended as a citizen and joined the meeting in progress.

Floyd Fay updated the council on work in his various departments and explained that crews will soon start work replacing an old water main in the alley adjacent to the Museum.

Carolyn Mayo then presented the city's financial reports and recommended an amendment to the budget to address shortfalls in two line items. The council concurred and voted to move the funds from other line items within the budget. While reviewing the financial reports the council looked over the monthly bills and authorized payment.

Ms. Mayo then reported on efforts to collect on delinquent accounts, noting that a number of them have been referred to small claims court. She also advised that CleereCo, the company that is taking over Halbert's fuel business, asked for garbage pickups at its yard. She said that Crowder Services also wanted garbage pickup service. The council verified that the trash truck already services businesses in that area, including the Civic Center and voted in favor of providing garbage service to the two companies.

Next, Ms. Mayo outlined billing problems the city has experienced with WTU Retail and explained that she and Randy Mankin have been trying to get the problem resolved. Some of the bills date back to September of 2003 and involve accounts that include numerous service points. It was noted that WTU Retail's request for a new contract with the city is on hold until the billing problems are cleared up.

Randy Mankin then presented a final draft of an interlocal agreement between the county and the city. He noted that the agreement had been modified as the council requested at their April meeting and that it had been approved and signed by the Schleicher County commissioners and other county officials. After having Mankin read a portion of the two-part document aloud, the council voted unanimously to approve the agreement and the council members each signed it.

Mankin then updated the council about a water system project that is underway in the Orient Heights addition. He noted that work on the project is nearing completion and advised the council that an amendment they had sought, allowing surplus grant funds from the project to be used at the city's sewer plant had been approved by the state's Office of Rural Community Affairs. He then presented them with a change order request, prepared by the city's engineer, Steve Dennis. The council voted to approve the change order, bringing the total cost of the Orient Heights project to just over $102,000. Mankin then noted that pay requests for the first portion of the project were ready for the mayor's signature.

Mankin recommended that the council call for bids for a Dissolved Air Flotation unit, to be installed at the city's wastewater treatment plant. The DAF unit has been designed by engineer Steve Dennis to address algae problems at the facility. After discussing other options, and after hearing Mayor Nikolauk explain that he had thus far been able to convince the state to allow the city to try a chemical treatment that is allowed in livestock tanks, the council voted to approve the call for bids. Toni Sudduth cast the lone dissenting vote, citing her concern that there are no DAF units currently being used to treat sewage.

Next, Mankin reviewed the need for the city to select a depository, explaining that the state requires cities to go through the selection process at least once every five years. The council reviewed a draft request for proposals and discussed banking and investment options before agreeing to table the matter until the next meeting. Mankin asked the council to look over the draft RFP and recommend changes before the next meeting.

A situation involving an Axis deer was then discussed. Mankin explained that the city had received complaints regarding the deer but said he could find nothing in the city's animal control ordinance that addressed the subject of domesticated deer. He noted that the local game warden had previously been called but reportedly ruled that the deer is not considered to be wildlife under Texas law. The council discussed the matter briefly but chose to take no action. Mankin said that he would notify the animal control officers of the council's decision and that the deer would be allowed to stay.

Mankin then told the council that Safe Tire, the company that has been recycling the city's tires, has gone out of business and that he is looking for a company to take over the service. He also advised of calibration problems with the city's check meter at the gas plant and said that the meter would be professionally calibrated so that gas purchases from West Texas Gas could be verified. Mayor Nikolauk asked Mankin to look into the price of a digital meter.

The council then reviewed and approved the minutes of the April 12 meeting, after making one change. Toni Sudduth asked that the minutes reflect the fact that she had asked if sewer problem reported by Bill Hodges had been checked out and that she had been told that the problem had been investigated with nothing being found. The council agreed to the change, approving the minutes unanimously.

For his part, Bill Hodges told the council that he still has sewer problems from time to time. He was asked to contact the city as soon as he detects problem and he agreed to do so.

The council then took up a proposed ordinance amendment that would restrict skateboarding on public sidewalks, streets, right-of-ways, and on private property without the owner's permission. It was noted that skateboards are beginning to chip some of the paver bricks on the first block of S. Main St., as well as cause problems in other areas.

Tommy Minor asked if something could be done to restrict skateboarding in the downtown area without outlawing it in other parts of town. Randy Mankin said he understood the sentiment and didn't like the city cracking down on kids having fun. However, Mankin explained that if the City forbids skateboarding in one part of town but not in others, it might be construed that the city was giving tacit approval to skateboarding in the street. He asked if that might not leave the city liable in case of an accident.

The council still had questions about the ordinance, however, and chose to table the issue until the next meeting.

Before adjourning, the council approved a contract for grant management services with A & J Howco of Lubbock. It was explained that the city had received a $50,000 planning grant and that Kay Howard of Lubbock would be administering the grant. The city must provide 10 percent in matching funds for the grant. The project is designed to detail Eldorado's current condition, including streets, drainage, parks and housing so that a benchmark can be established and other grants be sought in the future as the city plans for the Ports-to-Plains corridor to extend to Eldorado.

The council will next meet on Monday, June 7, 2004 at 6:00 p.m. in the City Hall council chamber.

Commissioners discuss bee problems

Fire Chief Jerry Jones met with Schleicher County Commissioners Monday to discuss the increasing problem of bee disposal. Jones said that in recent days he has been dealing with several hives of bees each day. Jones, and occasionally other volunteers, have been responding to bee calls at local residences and businesses and killing swarms of aggressive "Africanized" bees with commercial wasp spray and/or foam, pumped from a fire truck. He noted, however that the problem has become more than he can handle on a volunteer basis.

The Commissioners were sympathetic to Jones' problem and offered to pay someone to dispose of bees, provided someone could be found who wants the job. Jones said he would contact Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs' office to see if state assistance might be available to help pick up the cost.

Jones noted that there has already been one fatality in the county and said he fears that small children are at particular risk.

The meeting was the first of the month for the commissioners and was called to order by County Judge Johnny Griffin with Commissioners Johnny Mayo, Kirk Griffin and Matt Brown in attendance. Commissioner Bill Clark was absent.

In other business, Tax Assessor/Collector Lou Ann Turner updated the court on her plans to update her office's computer system in order to accept online voter registration, as mandated by law. Turner said she currently has some funds available through Chapter 19

Program but not enough to completely implement the program. She said she is checking on equipment and pricing.

Turner continued by saying that her office has collected 98 percent of property taxes in the amount of $1,526,888. She also told the court her office is collecting approximately $2,000 monthly from the county's $10 auto tax that is attached to tag renewals.

Commissioner Johnny Mayo then voiced concerns he has received from citizens regarding the fees charged at the Civic Center. Mayo said that the individuals thought they should not be charged a fee to use the building since they are county citizens and pay taxes. The commissioners took no action on the matter but indicated they would be leaving the rental rates as they are for at least a year.

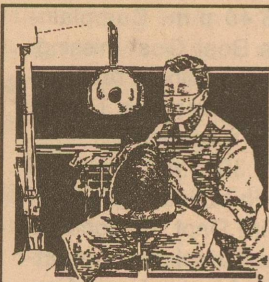

Judge Griffin then recommended lighting be placed around the courthouse. After a brief discussion the court authorized Griffin to seek advice from the Southwest Electric Cooperative about the lighting.

Griffin then advised the men that he purchased a lawn mower for the cemetery at a cost of $1,900.

The commissioners decided not to accept grant funds for a Victim Information and Notification Everyday program (VINE) until liability questions about the program could be addressed. VINE allows crime victims across the country to obtain timely and reliable information about criminal cases and the custody status of offenders, 24 hours a day, over the telephone, through the web, or by email.

Before adjourning, the commissioners heard from Sheriff Doran who told them that a new patrol car has been received and is being outfitted with radios, lights and told the Success that numerous families in the Colorado City/Hildale community are preparing to move to Texas. The individual states that the 200 number given to Schleicher County authorities would barely account for the Prophet Warren Jeffs, his many wives and their children.

Rock-a-bye to Retirement? L-R Retiring teachers Melissa O'Harrow, Betty Robinson, Linda Thomas and Lois Dean received these beautiful mesquite rockers from Schleicher County I.S.D. in recognition their teaching tenure. Melissa O'Harrow, a 34 veteran teacher will retire from Elementary where she taught 3rd and 4th grade. Betty Robinson who retired this past December has taught in Elementary 2nd grade and Middle School Social Studies. She taught 26 years. High School English teacher Linda Thomas will retire at the end of this school year with 28 years of service and Lois Dean retired this last December where she taught Middle School Science and end her 25 years career of teaching. Not present at the 7th annual Staff Appreciation Dinner held Tuesday, May 4th was Jill Preston who is retiring from Middle School as Reading teacher after 28 years of service. She also received a rocker.

Jeffs said to be at YFZ Ranch

Meanwhile, construction continues at the YFZ with walls going up on another large structure, with foundation work proceeding on yet another.

On Wednesday morning, May 12, the Success heard from Ron Barton, an investigator in Utah's Attorney General's office. Barton confirmed that his state has issued a subpoena for Warren Jeffs but declined to specify exactly what the subpoena is for. He did say, however, that the FLDS decision to move to Texas is likely prompted by the fact that his agency and others are bringing increasing legal pressure on the organization.

Schleicher County Sheriff David Doran and Chief Deputy George Arispe are planning a trip to Colorado City, AZ next week. They hope to meet with members of the community, as well as law enforcement officials from Utah and Arizona.

Scripture

But as it is, he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. And just as it is appointed for men to die once, and after that comes judgement, so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly awaiting for him.

USDA Rural Development rep. to visit here

sential community facilities.

and hives before starting motorized mowers, weed choppers or chain-saws.

- Be aware of culverts or drainage pipes that may be harboring a colony, and junk piles of dense shrubbery that may be shielding a hive from sight.
- Don't allow grass clippings to be propelled into suspect areas.
- Have an emergency plan. Know where you will run for cover if attacked.

While At Play

Children, especially young children, need to be taught the following points.

- Watch and listen for bees.
- Avoid beehives and bee traps hanging in trees.
- Bees nest in hidden places. Don't play near old buildings or junk piles.
- If you notice numbers of bees flying around your home, contact authorities.
- If bees start flying around you, run away. Don't swat them—it will only make more bees want to sting you. And don't "freeze" in place—you will still get stung if you do.
- If bees attack, don't try to escape by jumping into a swimming pool or pond. The bees likely will be waiting for you when you come up for air.

Protect Confined Animals

- Animals, especially those caged or penned, are at risk in a bee attack.
- Check carefully for bees in pens or barns where animals are confined. Regularly check areas where pets are kept on leashes or in small fenced yards or pens.

- Call authorities to remove nests or swarms.
- If bees are disturbed and begin stinging, open gates and cover animals, if possible. Move animals to safe distance.
- Animals stung repeatedly should be seen by a veterinarian. First aid is the same as for humans.
- Watch for allergic reaction, such as pinpoint pupils, shaking and vomiting.

Know the Facts

- Africanized and domestic honey bees look the same, so stay away from all bees.
- Africanized bees will build a nest almost anywhere.
- If you know of any wild bee nests, have the nest removed.
- Africanized bees defend a wide area around their home, so you may not even see the hive before bees start buzzing around you.
- Large numbers of Africanized bees are likely to sting when they sense someone is too near their nest.
- If you get stung or hear bees buzzing, run away fast and get inside a house or car. If there is no shelter, run through bushes or high weeds.
- A honey bee will leave its stinger in your skin if it stings you. Get the stinger out by raking your fingernail across it. Don't pinch or pull the stinger out. Put ice on a sting to reduce the swelling.

Take It From Our Customers!

3D's Plumbing

"We use the San Angelo Area-Wide Phone Book to let our customers know what services we offer and that we are the only full service plumbing company in our area. Area-Wide has benefitted our company by letting our customers know when we have a new service or new specialized equipment that is available. We would recommend Area-Wide. It has helped us go from one service technician and truck 15 years ago to where we are today. Area-Wide has the smaller convenient book, the maps and index and telephone and address cross reference. It is the phone book that we carry in all of our trucks. Area-Wide is just a better phone book."
