

On The Divide

While talking with friends recently in a South Texas town where we published a weekly newspaper several years ago, we were unraveling a few facts about our fine Schleicher county section, when one of our old pals says: Yeah, you said the same things about this county when you were here.

Determined to avoid his insinuation that our brand of newspaper writing is of a stereotyped character, we shot back at him: Yep, but that was before we learned better.

Around most any barber shop or drug store when local softball players congregate, one can hear various testimonials of how spectacular plays of previous games had been executed in detail.

We know one player whose possibility of signing with the big league, was materially lessened recently when he made an initial try at the batters plate, with two men on, and two men down, swung twice unsuccessfully at the ball. The third try was but little better which hit the dust about ten feet inside the diamond. The dash to first was interrupted by an awkward stumble and in clawing up half an acre of dirt attempting to regain his equilibrium a thumb was severely sprained. Indications are that this player will be on the injured list for the remainder of the season.

Boy Scouts At Work On Tests

Eldorado Scout activities these days are confined mostly to the passing of tests for advancement. On last Thursday afternoon eleven boys of the troop went into the woods and cooked their supper. Broiled steak, potatoes baked in ashes, hunter's stew, and twist on a stick (bread), made up the menu. The cooking is done with as little equipment as possible and in true out-of-doors fashion. One of the troop committeemen, arriving while the bread was being cooked, said, I never saw it done that way before. Perhaps, also he never tasted anything like it.

The following Scouts passed their tests for Second Class cooking and fire building: Luke Thompson, Kenneth Doyle, Jack Holsey, Bobby Barber, and Billie Carson.

The plans of the Scoutmaster for this week were to take the boys out again on Thursday, and leaving the patrol leaders in complete charge, see what quality of stew and bread the patrols could produce by supper time. While they were occupied with cooking he was to lay a trail half a mile in length, which the Scouts were to attempt to follow. Also there was to be the first instruction in map making, or running a traverse.

ROYAL GARDEN PARTY

Among the functions to be held in honor of King George and Queen Elizabeth of Britain during their short visit to the United States will be a garden party given by British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, and Lady Lindsay at Washington on June 9.

Invitations have been sent to about 1,300 persons, including all cabinet officers, under-secretaries, Supreme Court justices, high ranking officers of the army and navy, various members of Congress, and other prominent persons. About 400 persons from outside Washington also have been invited.

All guests are instructed to assemble three-quarters of an hour before the arrival of the royal party, and remain until after the king and queen have departed. Their majesties will not attempt to shake hands with the guests, but will chat informally with a number who will be presented to them by the ambassador and his wife, as they stroll through the embassy grounds.

Needless to say extreme precautions will be taken by secret service men to prevent any untoward incident during the party, and every person admitted must have the official engraved invitation.

Following a British tradition, strawberries and cream will be among the delicacies served, and the affair will be conducted along the lines of the famous garden parties given from time to time by the king and queen at Buckingham Palace.

Ten-year-old Jack Vane of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., called up the newspaper asking for a correction in a story saying he had broken his arm for the fifth time. It was the sixth time, he said.

THE BARRIER

Nobody's Business

By Julian C. Capers

AUSTIN—Somebody must have told the Texas Legislature about the veteran congressman who remained in Congress 30 years by always voting for every appropriation bill, and against every tax bill. The Senate, insisting upon a sales tax constitutional amendment, has blocked the passage of any revenue measure for more than four months. This weekend, with a consistency as marked as that of the Congressmen, it adopted a conference report on a bill by Doss Hardin, liberalizing pensions to such an extent that it is estimated it will put 100,000 additional pensioners on the roll, and bar virtually nobody but that famous toothless old millionaire eating his crackers and milk, so often referred to during the last state campaign—if there be such a millionaire resident in Texas.

GATES WILL OPEN

The liberalization bill would remove the ability of children as a factor in considering need of the aged; it would permit ownership of a homestead, up to 200 acres of ground, with a residence the cost of which may be unlimited; it would permit ownership of personal property up to $1500 if married, of $1,000 if single, and $360, in cash.

If the bill adds 100,000 oldsters to the rolls, as some experts estimated it would require an additional $18,000,000 for the state to furnish $15 a month each to the new pensioners alone, plus about $10,000,000 additional to bring the State contribution up to $15 for those already on the rolls numbering about 115,000 and receiving about $13.35 each, including both State and Federal funds. If signed by the Governor, many legislators believe the liberalized law would result immediately in suspension of Federal pension grants, dumping the entire cost upon the backs of the State taxpayers. To provide $15 a month each from State funds to 215,000 oldsters will require nearly $40,000,000. The State now contributes about $10,000,000 and the Federal government the same amount. Most observers here believe the Governor, more sensitive perhaps than the Legislature to political effects, will sign the liberalized pension bill.

TAX STALEMATE CONTINUES

Meanwhile, the week was to see some action in the House on an omnibus tax bill, estimated to raise $20,000,000 for pensions and other social security measures. The bill would increase natural resources taxes and includes sales taxes on many so-called luxury items, including utility bills (tax to be paid by the consumer), automobiles, inheritance and franchise taxes, an additional cent on cigarets, and increases on admissions to amusements.

When the Legislature will adjourn has become problematical, with nobody offering anything more than a guess. The House rejected a sine die adjournment resolution for June 4. Lt. Gov. Coke Stevenson guesses the session will last at least until June 15. The situation has been complicated further by the political cowardice of the Senate, many of whose members pledged themselves to support a price-fixing fair trades act last summer, and now are opposed to it, since they have found it is an effort by Eastern manufacturers to fix prices in Texas on certain merchandise. Instead of killing the measure, as a large majority would like to do, the Senators have avoided a record vote by filibustering for weeks, blocking much meritorious legislation behind the fair trades bill on the Senate calendar, and refusing to let the latter bill come up for a vote, as it might put them on a spot politically, to vote their real convictions upon it.

With the passage of bills permitting taxes to Harris county, the richest and most populous in the State, and to a group of seven other East Texas counties part of whose lands have been taken over by the Federal government for reforestation, the State financial situation became increasingly worse this week. The deficit jumped half a million dollars, nearly touching the $18,000,000 mark again, and the outlook for revenue is uncertain.

A HAPPY ENDING

Senate confirmation without a dissenting vote, of Judge Brady Gentry, of Tyler, as Chairman of the State Highway Commission, ended a four month battle between the Governor and the Senate over the post, which saw two other nominees rejected and one withdraw to avoid rejection.

Judge Gentry, active advocate of good roads, three times County Judge of Smith County runner up in a race for Congress in East Texas last summer was sworn in promptly, and inaugurated his service by presiding at the monthly highway hearing and contract letting in Austin this week. Good roads advocates, legislators, road contractors county officials and others who deal with the Highway Commission expressed themselves as well-pleased with Gentry's selection and predicted for him a continuation of the admirable record which has been made by the various highway commissioners since Dan Moody reorganized the Commission. Gentry's confirmation marked the passing from official life of John Wood, able East Texas representative on the Commission, who has been serving as a holdover during the battle over O'Daniel's barious nominations.

AUSTIN. — (Special) Optimistic reports of a prospective early settlement of the controversy over confiscation of American and British oil properties in Mexico, as a result of negotiations between Mexican President Cardenas and Donald Richberg, were discounted here this week by Texas oil men who have been watching the situation carefully, because of its effect upon the Texas oil market.

Private information which Texas oil interests have received from Washington indicate that the foreign oil companies, whose properties involved in the Mexican seizure are valued at $3,000,000 are definitely not interested in the Cardenas-Rchberg settlement formula, which involves restoring the properties to the companies which own them for a period of years, and permitting them to operate their own properties and share the income with the Mexican government eventually giving the properties over entirely to Mexico. The American companies, it is understood here, are not enthusiastic about the Richburg proposal, but have not yet definitely rejected it.

Maybe your car doesn't squeak

NOW!

BUT IT WILL, one of these days, if it's not properly lubricated. And the squeak, as the doctors say, is a symptom, not the disease . . . which, in the case of an automobile, is the wear of friction . . . which results in inefficient, frequently unsafe operation of your car and sometimes heavy repair bills . . . An ounce of prevention, you'll agree, is well worth the pound of cure, so it's a good idea to have your car lubricated — properly lubricated, that is — at regular intervals. Your automobile manufacturer agrees with us in that statement, as a look at his instruction book shows . . . You will find the prescription for your possible lubrication ailments in the experience of literally thousands of fellow motorists throughout the state: at the end of every 1,000 miles of driving, on an average, take your car to the nearest Humble Service Station and have it lubricated according to the Humble chart . . . Every Humble Service Station is fully equipped with modern tools to do the work and completely stocked with the necessary lubricants, and station men have been carefully trained . . . Chances are, your car needs Humble charted lubrication now: stop at the nearest Humble sign — today — and get the job done.

METHODIST CHURCH

Saints of Caesar's Household—Phil: 4:22

It is possible for one to live a Christian life anywhere. Christianity is not places and things, but deals and character. It was loyalty in life and purity of heart, which keep the conscience of Abadiah alive to Christ in the house of Ahad. The same may be said of Daniel in the courts of Babylon. As Jonathan Edward says, The grace of God can live where neither you nor I can. In the abodes of poverty humble Christians are living as near to God as Enoch. Even in our day, if we look for it, we can find the lily among the thorns. What is true in places is true in occupation. The Roman army was a poor school for morals, yet all the centuries mentioned in the New Testament were good men. Thus in the humblest occupation ones soul can have the company of a King, even the Christ.

Terraces Alone Do More Good on Farm and Ranch Than $28,000,000 Marshall Ford Dam

WITHOUT expenditure of tax money and through the voluntary work of farmers, ranchmen, and county agents, over 50,000 linear miles of terraces—twice the distance around the world—were built in this West Texas region last year. They alone impounded 554,000 acre-feet of water, the same amount as that held by Marshall Ford Dam which will cost the taxpayers $28,000,000.

Terraces, along with a balanced program of contouring, strip-cropping, and earthen dams, stored moisture in the soil for crops, at the same time aiding flood control. Altogether they impounded over 1,000,000 acre-feet of water . . . all without tax expense.

Inasmuch as Marshall Ford and similar dams earned the reputation for being a "flood menace" during the same period, a lesson thereby is offered that the only effective curb on devastating floods must begin at the point where the rains fall.

Believing that industrial and agricultural development go hand-in-hand, this company has lent its efforts to promotion of soil and water conservation and the successful culmination of the 1938 soil and water utilization contest. Anything that benefits agriculture in the communities we serve also is beneficial to every other type of business and industry. It is our hope that the land may be passed on to the next generation in actually better condition than it is in this.

ONE THING And THEN ANOTHER
By Fred Gipson

COSPUS CHRISTI—Slumgullion. I've been working so hard lately that my landlady's turned the boarding house over to the cook and gone off to take a two-weeks vacation.

This is the first chance I've had in a week to lie down and read a little and think. Some people think best on their feet. Me; I think best flat of my back in bed.

I think: Doggone, but isn't this comfort!"

I lie here and read a headline in the newspaper. It says: Gleaming Surfaces Are Achieved Only Through Elbow Grease, Woman Declares."

And I think: How about the seat of the trousers to my old blue serge suit.'

Then I read a story about a young woman in New York who bought an airline ticket, and then, when the airport bus waited, insisted that she could not stir until she had collected a goodbye kiss from a handsome passenger agent and the gallant young man, schooled in service for passengers," willingly and promptly obliged.'

And I think: Man, man! Wouldn't I like to be a handsome airport passenger agent."

And I see where a Nebraska town forbids barbers eating onions during working hours, and I think well that's one way of cutting a few cents off the price of a shave.

And I read: A bath in unheated water is a great brain stimulant, declares a physician.

And I think: Maybe, but I've never seen a fish with a high brow.'

And I read where Snow White and Seven Dwarfs has just been withdrawn from American theaters, after making nearly $7,000,000 in 15 months more than any other motion picture ever produced, and that while children have loved this fairy tale masterpiece, its patronage has consisted mostly of grown-ups.

And I think: Yeah, this is a very sophisticated age. The age of Innocence is gone. People don't believe there ever was any Golden Age. Fairies and all that sort of thing are nonsense. Life is real, earnest and grim, sardonic and bitter.

In a pig's eye!
Along comes a simple, primitive and hopelessly naive film drama like Snow White and sweep all this sophistication right a bunch of hypocrites. We're just a bunch of hypocrites. We're just trying to put up a hard front. We still want sentiment, simplicity, and beauty. And most of us wish we were still kids.

And a headline reads: June Bride Presented With Silver Cream Whipper.

And I think: What swank! The old wooden rolling pin used to be all right for settling family arguments to suit the wife.

And I read where a Portland, Ore., girl insists on marrying a man while he's still down with the scarlet fever.

And I think: Well, that's what I'd call a mighty rash ceremony.

And then I start reading something about governmental expenditures, and I go right off to sleep.

The Milford, Conn., high school will have two valedictorians this year. Muriel and Malcolm Korach, twins, tied for scholastic honors, so Muriel will begin the valedictory speech and Malcolm will finish it.

70 Frame Gardens
In Use In County

There are approximately 70 frame gardens in Schleicher county, announced Margaret Stewart, C. H. D. A. this week.

Here are what some of the folks think of these gardens. "I am more for a frame garden than I was this time last year," says

Mrs Tom Alexander of the Country Woman's Home Demonstration club. Mrs. Alexander has had vegetables growing in her garden continuously now for 3 months.

Mrs. W. E. Bruton of the Reynolds community says that she has found that vegetables planted at the same time will grow faster under the cheese cloth than muslin covering, that under the cheese cloth they are two inches higher than the other. Mrs. Bruton has 160 feet of tile of which she plans to have a frame garden over all before long.

Mrs. Burk says of her husband, "Every time anyone drives up Silas invites them out to see our garden," and she adds, "when my mother, who lives in San Saba county, came to see me and saw the garden she had a spell, the first she had ever seen, and the best greens she had ever eaten."

Mrs. Will Isaacs thinks they are the only thing to have for West Texas.

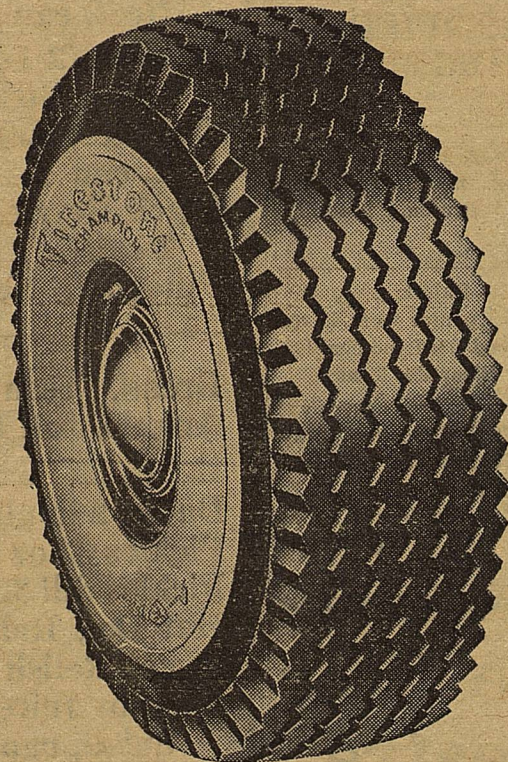

"I am going to plant a few flowers in mine," says Mrs. Otto Williams.

Mrs. Elvis Craig: "I would not have had any garden what so over this spring had it not been for this new idea."

Mrs. Marion Wade has English peas to eat from her garden. Mrs. Hiley Ratliff has snap beans practically ready to use, and Mrs. Perry Johnson has sold radishes from hers.

Mrs. Ora Sproul had as her guests last week end her daughters, Miss Ora Sproul of San Angelo and Mrs. Hal Knight and Mr. Knight and son Hal Jr.
