

On The Divide

Defying the opinion of many who live on the Divide, that large beautiful shade trees cannot be grown in Eldorado, The Eldorado Woman's club is now active carrying out plans to plant trees throughout our city and they believe that within a few years Eldorado will rank among the prettiest little cities of the West Texas.

Varied opinions regarding tree planting can be found among citizens of Eldorado. Some believe that trees cannot be successfully grown, while others think that all it takes is perseverance.

Speaking of trees, were firmly convinced that not only shade trees, but fruit trees as well, can be successfully grown in Eldorado. J. E. Hill, one of our pioneers, strolled into the Success office one day recently with a large brown paper bag tucked under his arm. He opened her up and out rolled about a dozen and a half apples—big red juicy apples. Grown right here in Eldorado.

Mr. Hill has a number of apple trees on his place. The two large trees that mothered this bag full of apples along with several bushels of others just like them, are about 30 years old, he says. For fifteen years they did not do so well due to lack of water. But when water became abundant, the trees started to grow rapidly and now are good producers.

It takes water, Mr. Hill stated, but mainly hard work, good care and patience. These are not the only fruit trees in Schleicher county, but are concrete examples of what can be done. As interest increases and with the promotion of our ladies' clubs, Eldorado and all the Divide section might become adorned with many trees. Not only shade trees, but perhaps fruit trees too—and who don't like apple pies.

P. S.—Mr. Hill states that he can furnish sprouts to any one interested in planting apple trees.

SECOND GUESSING

(By L. T. Barber)

NOTE:

Received a line from friend "Pokey" Kent over in Taylor. Pokey is a very strong football fan and unusually hard to out-guess. After looking over his list of how he was picking the Southwest Conference to wind up, I thought he had been in the oil fields to long and that the poison gas was getting him down. Since last week's play, it appears that he may be on the inside track again.

Listing them in this order looked like a very long shot, and it is a long shot any time you pick a winner in this conference. He picked this way; S. M. U., Arkansas, Rice, Texas A. & M., Texas University, T. C. U. and Baylor. This line up looks a little bit screwy. Do not think T. C. U. will be that far down the line. He hopes Jim Hoover does not read this and finds out that he places S. M. U. over T. C. U.

R. A. Evans Celebrates 72nd Birthday Today

R. A. Evans, resident of Eldorado since 1905, celebrates his 72nd birthday anniversary today.

Mr. Evans was born near Princeton, Ky., on October 6, 1867. At the age of 4 years he moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Evans, to Springfield, Missouri and about two years later, they moved with a wagon train to Hutchinson, Kansas. They located on Wichita river in a one-room dug-out. His father killed buffalo, dried and sold the meat. They sold out and moved back to Springfield one year later after grasshoppers ate up their entire large corn crop in one day.

In the winter of 1874 the family moved by wagon to McClellan County, Texas and later sold out and moved to Tom Green County, purchased a ranch on the South Concho two miles above Christoval. San Angelo was their post office for at that time there was no Christoval, Eldorado, Mertzen or Ozona.

In 1892 Mr. Evans went to work for the Half Circle Six outfit and stayed with one chuck wagon six years, working from the Rio Grande back to the Concho. When he quit after eight years, he had $47.00 and 200 head of horses scattered over the range. Then he began trading and selling horses, shipping them to the East.

"In my ramblings," Mr. Evans said, "I met a black headed girl near Houston and courted her for four years. Her father wouldn't let me come to the house, but I got my girl and I still have her."

Mr. and Mrs. Evans moved to Eldorado in 1905 where he went into the real estate business with a firm called Silliman, Campbell and Evans. Today the company is R. A. Evans and son. He relates that he has seen land in this county sell for 59 cents per acre and since has seen the same land sell for $40.00 per acre. He describes Schleicher County as the garden spot of the West and expects to spend his last days here.

Baptists To Have Enlargement Drive

The local Baptist church is co-operating with the Concho Valley Association in an Associational-wide enlargement campaign. Rev. C. T. Aly, pastor, announced this week. Mr. Litis of Dallas will lead the campaign.

Much interest is expected to be shown in the local church. A most efficient group of workmen are being selected and books are to be taught in every department. Rev. Aly said. Classes will begin at 7 o'clock each evening Monday through Friday.

A group meeting is to be held at Christoval Wednesday at 3:00 p.m. for the promotion of the work.

The Allen Holder theft case was reset for November 1 at 9:00 o'clock. The motion for continuance filed by W. W. Tupper of San Angelo, alleges absence of a material witness. Earlier Judge Sutton overruled a motion for continuance in the case, the motion alleging that Holder's attorney, J. J. Watts, could not attend this session of the court. Holder is charged with alleged theft of saddles from the Rector Henderson ranch.

Judgement was rendered in favor of Case in the Case-DeLong suit.

Promising Schleicher County another successful fat lamb show next spring, 36 4-H club boys and Future Farmers of America are feeding approximately 443 animals to be shown here and at other exhibitions over the state, according to County Agent W. G. Godwin and E. O. Nevills, Vocational Agriculture Instructor.

Insects Take Toll Of Cotton Crop In County This Year

Bowl worms and other pests to cotton producers have taken their toll in Schleicher county farm sections this year since a small total of 181 bales have been reported ginned in the county up to October 1, according to reports from gins in the county.

The Eldorado Gin Co., reports 73 bales, Farmer's Cooperative Gin Co., 28 bales; Moore & Sen Company, 45 bales; and Bailey Ranch Gin, 15 bales.

Last year's total in the county was 1,646 bales and approximately seven years ago over 6,000 bales of cotton were ginned in this county.

Damage done by insects shows to be large. However a good many additional bales will be ginned this season.

Lions Club To Sponsor Style Show October 17

Impersonating the weaker sex, members of the Eldorado Lions Club will parade in a sensational style review at the Lone Star Theatre on Tuesday night, October 17, for the benefit of the local high school band, it was made known this week. The style show, which will be staged as an added attraction in conjunction to the regular feature, will be sponsored by the Lions club with the cooperation of the Band Parents club. Money derived from the performance will be used to purchase uniforms for the band.

Feminine features and charming personalities, ordinarily overlooked among our business and professional men who have condescended to appear in the spectacular performance, will be revealed in the review of the latest styles and fashions, direct from Paris.

R. L. Sample, Tommy Barrow and Jerry Pennington, have been in a huddle for the past month making arrangements for the benefit show. Plans have been secret, more or less, but this week it was revealed that there would be blondes, brunettes and reds, some with bobs and some with long golden curls hanging about their graceful shoulders to attract even the least of feminine admirers.

Robert Page, Lions Club president, stated this week that he believes the show building will be filled to beyond capacity on the night of the event. Dave Williamson, Secretary, said the show will replenish the fund to be used for purchasing band uniforms and would be greatly appreciated by the school as well as the parents.

Mrs. W. M. Bearce Passes Her 74th Birthday Wednesday

Mrs. W. M. Bearce, among Schleicher County's prominent pioneer women, celebrated her 74th birthday anniversary Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Bearce came to Schleicher county with her husband 30 years ago from Childress and purchased a ranch 12 miles northeast of Eldorado. In spite of her age, she has carried on her business since the death of Mr. Bearce August 1, 1934. She had managed the ranch until last year when it was divided among her five children. Since the children married she has been running an apartment and rooming house. She also owns other business buildings and residents in this city.

Her five children include Mrs. J. E. Boykins of Cuba, Mrs. Lois Beavers of Abilene, Mrs. Ima Brown of Austin, Mrs. Dell Smith of Kerrville and Dick Bearce of Eldorado.

The Eldorado Eagles are sweeping into enemy territory for the first conference game of the season. The Sonora Brones are priming their guns for the Eagles with a long hope for victory. Sonora has the strongest team this season that they have had in a good many years. This year they are planning to fight the Eagles with a heavy and very capable team. The Brones have not been defeated this season and are not planning to have the Eagles mess up their pipe dream. Sonora is getting into fine shape and whipping into one of the strongest teams in the district. Sonora sports a flashy pass attack which will deal the Eagles much misery in the forth coming massere.

Coach Dohert Carruthers has been putting the team through, trying to iron out the weak spots cropping out last week and getting the new boys ready to fill in for the injured players. Billy Green is filling in for Williams; S. E. Jones is replacing Halbert and Reynolds has been doing yoe-man work at the tackle position for enderson. Several more of the boys are nursing injuries but not of the serious type.

This promises to be a good ball game and Eldorado is expected to be on the side-lines in large numbers, supporting the Divide lads in their district opener.

New Ford V-8 On Display At Motor Company Here Today

Building Continues In Eldorado

Building continues to progress in Eldorado as business houses and dwellings are being constructed in various parts of the city. Continuing the progressive period of development, started more than a year ago, the whine of saws and clatter of hammers sound out a melody of the greatest building program experienced here for th past decade.

At the Cameron Lumber Company, Mr. Smith pointed out this week the construction of a 4-room stucco dwelling for V. P. O'Harrow, started Wednesday in the (Continued on last page)

A $600,000 FOUNTAIN

Among the many notable attractions which no visitor to Chicago should miss seeing is the great Buckingham Fountain in Grant Park on the lake front, only a short distance from the main business district.

This magnificent fountain, the largest and most beautiful in the world, was presented to the city by Miss Kate Buckingham as a memorial to her brother, Clarence, and was erected at a cost of $600,000, with an additional $300,000 given as a trust fund for its maintenance.

The main structure has a fountain pool, 300 feet in diameter, and three basins, one above the other. From the top an immense column of water shoots to a height of 90 feet. Surrounding this are 133 smaller jets, the whole discharging 5,500 gallons of water a minute.

SECOND GUESSING

(Continued from page 1) against them, they fought off the attacks of a much heavier team and stood toe to toe with them and dished it out in good fashion. With the exception of a let down in the second quarter, the divide boys battled on par and at times had the upper hand.

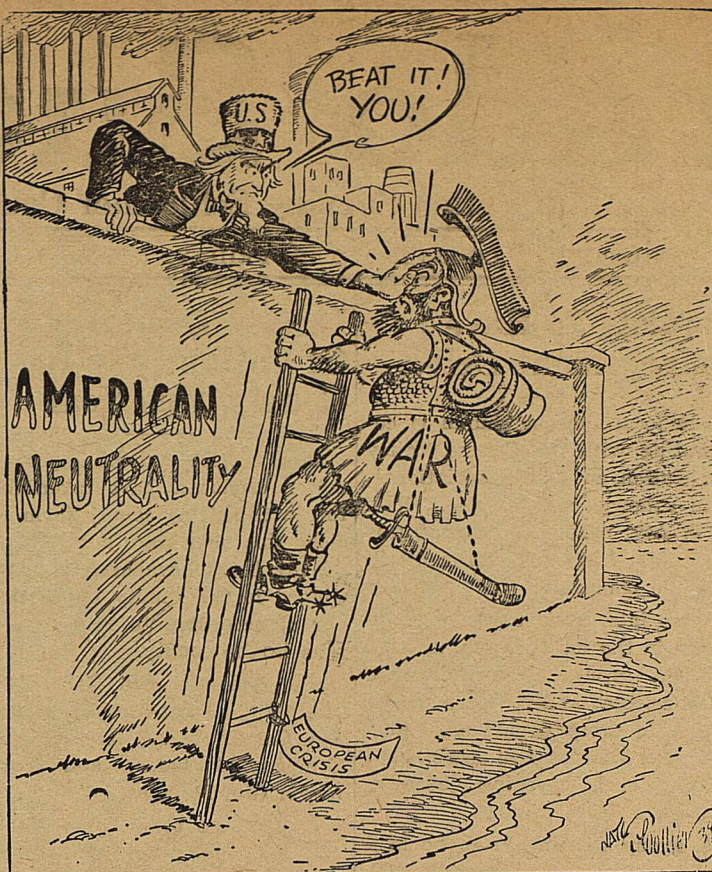

There were not any real standouts in the game. Every one was on his toes and going his best. If there is to be any individual mention it will have to go to McCormick, at tackle and Underwood and Luckett backing up the line. The linebackers were more noticeable for their open field tackling. But we will have to hand it to that scrapping line as a whole. They met the charges of a 200 pound fullback and at times absolutely smear him as if he was just another ball player.

Playing without the services of Henderson practically all the game, Halbert for nearly three quarters and Bob Williams, who went out with a lame knee in the third quarter, put considerable weakness on the offense. The boys taking their places played good ball and no reflection is thrown toward them but the starting line-up is always the toughest and when three or four or out in high school teams it always has a Weakening effect.

There should not be anything mentioned about the pass "Pick" Newlin muffed in the end zone for a sure touchdown about three minutes after the game opened but we want to remind him to gather up a little glue. We imagine he feels worse from missing it than the fans did in seeing it fall to the ground. This may not happen again.

The condition of the two teams was very noticeable. The Eldorado boys dropping down under some 1500 or 1600 feet did not call for the water but one time while the home boys were taking their entire number of time outs and one or two extra. The home boys have been training on dust most of the season anyway.

The district games will start next Saturday for the Eagles. They open with Sonora, at Sonora. Sonora has won their three games, while the home team has batted 500. Winning one, losing one and one ended in a tie. We believe, however, that the opposition has been somewhat stiffer.

Eldorado was not only represented by their football team at Del Rio and other points beyond, but a very large following of fans was on hand. If it had not been for that 60 miles of dusty, chuggy road, we would not have known for sure that they had not moved Eldorado to the Rio Grande. The spirit was still high after the 7 to 6 defeat and quite a number went on over to complete their visit to the border town.

OUT OF THE HAT:

Last week this column tried to get down and pick the winners in the dizzy southwest conference chase, but we are going to try another scheme this week. Just draw them out of the hat. Here goes—TCU opens the conference race with Arkansas up in the Ozarks. A battle of two already defeated teams but it should be a nice battle and the draw is given to the Frogs. The Texas Aggies will be out on the coast in a very important intersectional game with Santa Clara. We hope the Farmers are still in the harvesting mood for the nod goes to them. Texas, Winner over Florida in their opener last week Journeys up to Wisconsin to try their luck. This is not new country for Coach Bible and he should figure out some way to win. In a very much of a toss up, we grab out Texas. SMU gets a lighter assignment this week against North Texas. They served notice to other teams that they might have something up in Dallas this year. They pushed Oklahoma all over the Indian territory last Saturday but came out with a tie. Baylor has another warm up this week end with Oklahoma Aggies. They had an easy time of it last week with Southwestern. What appeared to be a much better team at the first of the game last Saturday night, Rice dropped a close one to Vanderbilt. It seemed the Owls had the idea they had it in the bag and nothing could upset the cart. But they should have thought who they were playing. A team that is coached by Morrison is always dangerous, as most of the fans will remember during his time at SMU. If anyone has different ideas about these games just spill them. Always open for argument.

Frank Davis, Itasca grocer, who has sold lots of Gov. O'Daniel's flour during the past few years, nice job for the San Angelo Ramis. There are three boys from the home town and three have made the starting eleven. Paul Davis, a back does much of the passing as well as some running. Richard Bruton played a jam up game at tackle and Earl Bryant at end is doing his chores creditably. We will probably hear more of these boys as the season goes on.

We read that the Eldorado boys in San Angelo are doing a very Miss Oma Ford and Mrs. Norman Lawler of Brady gave a recital of violin and piano selections before the ceremony and also played for the wedding march and during the ceremony.

Miss Zona Clare Koy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and James Childress of Ozona served as best man for his brother.

The bride wore a balenciaga model in moss green crepe roshanara with a corseted waistline and gored skirt. The trimming was gold metal beads, and her coat was of natural red fox. She corsaged with talisman roses. Her corsage of talisman roses, or "something old" was a lace handkerchief given her mother more than 40 years ago.

At the reception which followed the ceremony, Mrs. R. T. Trail served the tiered cake, and Mrs. C. E. Springstun poured coffee at the lace covered table. Mrs. Gene Koy presided at the guest book.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Mexico City, Monterrey, and other points in Mexico. They will make their home on the Childress ranch, 30 miles west of Ozona.

Mrs. Childress, a graduate of the local high school, attended the University of Texas and Texas Tech. The bride groom studied at Southern Methodist University, where he is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Springstun of Big Lake, Mr and Mrs. Lee Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Marbury Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Childress and son, Philip, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. B. SUCCESS Story!

Of course you remember when we introduced Thriftane—our leaded gasoline in the lower price range—early this year. Well, there's been time enough now for us to see how people take to it, and we're delighted to tell you that it's very, very popular indeed; our sales of Thriftane have gone steadily up. . . . San Angelo Firms, Builders of West Texas

BY L. G. METCALF

S. L. Bowen Ranks High

This newspaper deems it a great pleasure in a review of outstanding men and firms that have been a great aid to the growth and development of this section of West Texas, to place such a man as Mr. S. L. Bowen up above all others in this rank. In the past, few men have exceeded him in contributing of their time, energy and finance to the development and civic betterment of San Angelo and this district.

Mr. Bowen, manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Company in San Angelo has for many years been recognized as one of the more prominent and outstanding business men of this section of the state, and he still retains that distinction in the admiration and respect of his wide circle of friends. His interest in, and the very valuable assistance he has rendered to many projects of a civic nature reflect the principles which he has so successfully applied to his business dealings.

We of the Eldorado Success sincerely hope that Mr. Bowen's future will be as colorful and completely successful in the years ahead as it has been in the past. We also wish to offer him congratulations for his splendid record of achievement and his many years of service to the people of San Angelo and our district.

James E. Robinson Deserves Recognition

Most cities, if they amount to very much are man-made. They do not just happen. It has been the realization by its citizens that their city must grow and prosper and be something other than just another place on the map, that has brought results and made it possible for the city to be an outstanding one and for those within it to prosper. Mr. James E. Robinson of the James E Robinson Co. in San Angelo, is one of the men to whom credit must go for playing no small part in the growth and development of San Angelo. The friends of Mr. James E. Robinson pay him this well-deserved tribute and they do so because they know that he deserves it. It is no secret that Mr. Robinson has played a real part in the development of San Angelo and made it possible to enjoy the reputation that it has won by being aggressive and progressive.

Mr. James E. Robinson would be the last man to mention the matter, but when the call goes forth to rally around something worth-while to the community, he is always among the first to volunteer. Successful in his own business, he is equally as successful in the promotion of civic progress.

ONE THING AND THEN ANOTHER

By Fred Gipson

Corpus Christi Adventure!

It calls to each of us. As we follow down the groove that we've let our lives slip into, day after day, doing the same thing over and over again in the same way and at the same time, meeting the same people in the same places, greeting them in the same old way. Deep down in our hearts we're always dreaming, if not hoping, for a change, for a high adventure of some kind.

Evidence the remarkable sale of cheap and not so cheap adventure magazines from the news stands of the nation each day.

We want to get away, to seek something new.

And we spend so much time wanting and dreaming that we're blinded to the adventure about us, can't recognize an adventure when we stumble upon one.

For real adventure, the sort that stimulates a man's mind, makes him feel at peace with the world and his life, does not necessarily require long journeys or entail great risks. It requires only an active mind and a watchful eye.

I know a couple who live cooped up in a small apartment that would smother most of us to death. But they have a fishbowl. And in it are fish and moss and snails. And the snails eat the moss and produces younger snails. And the female fish gives birth to her young, instead of laying eggs. And the male is cannibalistic by nature and must be removed from the bowl, else he'll eat his offspring.

And learning of these things and what to do about them makes for a great adventure in the lives of the couple. Studying the inhabitants of their fish bowl gives them something besides themselves to worry about, provides them with interesting conversation.

I know an old man barely able to hobble out to the barn and back each day. But he does it. Because that trip is an adventure. With constant care and work, he's tamed a bunch of bobwhite quail to come out of the brush back of the barn at a certain time each day for the handful of grain he feeds them. And each day, the old man has a new report to make on his quail. Today, one's missing. Maybe a fox is preying on the flock. Tomorrow, the quail are beginning to pair off. They'll be nesting soon. The third day, the crops of the quail are extra full and they're not much hungry for his handout. They've fed well that day.

That old man can tell you more about quail and their habits than most of us know about ourselves.

For each of us there are dozens of adventures to be experienced each day. There's the newsboy who's overcharged us and comes running to pay back the penny. There's the early-morning sun glinting on the back of a pesky coyote, just licking his chops after a night's kill and making ready to fade into the brush. There's the old man next door who sits on his apple box, day after day, contemplating his pen of domesticated ducks.

There's the adventure of making coffee for the first time in the new fangled coffee pot.

There are the wind waves on the pasture grass, running wildly, one after another, one after another, the long grass bowing.

There are the rain lilies, coming afterwards, and the purple-pink ceniza, blooming, then the lacy white of the bee brush, flowering also after each rain.

Adventure! It's all around us, in our homes, on the streets, in the woods. And the man too lazy and too inattentive to see an experience it can expect nothing but to travel the rest of his time right on down the narrow groove he's let his life slip into.

CORPUS CHRISTI—There is a very peculiar relationship existing between dogs and their owners. For this reason, it is essential that a man get along with dogs, if he wants the dog owners to like him. For this reason, I present the following rules of dog etiquette:

When you visit the home of a dog owner the dog gives you an enthusiastic welcome by climbing up your shirt front with muddy feet and clawing off shirt buttons by the handfulls in the process, smile sweetly, if bitterly, and assure the owner that the dog is doing no harm.

Should the dog decide that you are the scourge of the earth and a wolf in sheep's clothing and a menace to the wife and children of the family and start growling and gnawing your ankles, take it, stoically. Accept the owner's explanation that the dear little pup was just playing and let go as soon as he realized he was hurting you.

Show no hesitancy in occupying a chair previously occupied by the dog. In a couple of hours time, you can pick the hairs off your clothes when you get back home and for six-bits or a dollar a cleaner can take out the smell.

If at mealtime, the dog curls up under the table right where your feet normally belong, shove your feet back under the table, hold them in mid-air, or stick them into your pockets.

Remember, a dog is man's best friend and deserves every consideration.

When the dog owner catches you scratching your ankles, assure him that it's not fleas. Tell him about wading through damp grass where you're certain to have picked up chiggers.

If at the table the dog starts demonstrating how cunning he is by begging at your chair, slip him a dainty titbit that you'd picked out for yourself. Don't force him to have to snatch it away from you.

Let the dog lick your fingers all he likes. Of course, it is unhygienic, but there are some germs that are not fatal. You've got to trust to luck in some things.

When your pet story is interrupted by a violent hammering of the floor by the dog's hind leg, as he howls and whines and whimpers, trying to dislocate a persistent flea clinging to his ear, it won't hurt you to shout for a little while. Or you could go scratch the flea yourself.

And don't be startled, on the second trial at telling your story, if the dog suddenly leaps to the front door, barking at the top of his voice and clawing at the screen to get out. He may be trying to stop a thief from taking the tires off your automobile.

Or, if you happen to get up out of your chair and tangle your feet in the dog and grab at the mantle piece for support and jerk two fancy Chinese vases off on the hearth, overturn a floor lamp, break a table and two chairs on your way down and land flat on your face in the wreckage, make every effort to get to your feet again and apologize for being so clumsy. Tell the dog owner you developed the habit of falling as a child and never managed to outgrow it. Pay generously for the wrecked furniture and offer to take the dog to a hospital for examination. He may be injured.

Or—Lose your temper and kick the dog out of the house, where he belongs, ask the owner why in hell he keeps such a pest around, go off, and be pointed out as a brute and a heel the rest of your natural born days.
