On The Homefront

by Ilse Williams

Almost exactly a year ago, Iraq's invasion of Kuwait, initiated one of the American people's most amazing rallies of my time. Within six months, the majority of the population (and of our town) was busy demonstrating its solid support of American troops in Saudi Arabia by sending letters and packages, by flying flags, tying ribbons, and by praying for lives to be saved. Americans were not going to repeat the mistakes made during the Vietnam war. From the words of returning troops, we understand that the homefront support received meant a lot to the men and women who had been sent to fight for our ideals.

A different group of men and women is about to begin another battle on behalf of our ideals, and they, too, need our solid, whole-hearted support. This group is doing its very best to help better America's future, and they are doing it day after day, in spite of never-ending odds, and, like our soldiers, they receive a salary which by itself far from guarantees a middle-class life style. In most cases, however, they do not risk their lives in their line of duty, yet perhaps some of their sanity. You know by now that I am talking of our teachers. You also know by now that these teachers need and appreciate the public support just as much as our troops overseas. Perhaps you do not know, though, how to express your support of these amazing people. Here are some suggestions: Much misunderstanding and lack of appreciation might be avoided if parents were eager to establish close rapport with teachers and principals before problems arise, instead of solely relying on their children's (not always unbiased) reports. Most teachers I know are eager to meet the parents of their students face-to-face. All teachers have conference periods which are set aside for this purpose. What could you talk about in these short sessions, aside from "How's Johnny doing in your class?" Try to find out what the goals of the unit (6 weeks/semester/year) are, and what you can do to help accomplish this goal. If trouble does arrive, please remember to get the facts from all sides before passing judgment.

If you are excited, impressed, or simply amazed about one of your child's projects, let his or her teacher know -- deserved compliments are not yet tax-deductible, but they sure help boost the morale. If you are unhappy with some of your child's progress, voice your concern, but get your facts straight, and be willing to help find a solution.

Let your children know that what happens in school is important to you -- because it is important to them. Grades matter, but what matters even more is your child's progress in maturity and his/her eagerness to learn, to understand that learning is (or should be) a never-ending process. And do not forget that you will be one of your children's most important teachers, and most of you do not have to teach 20 kids at one time. Let's do our best to help liberate America's future, and join "Operation Education!"

Baptist Women

Baptist Women of the First Baptist Church of Eldorado met in the home of Virginia Griffin at 2:30 Monday, August 12th. Bertha Carroll, Mission Action Chairman, reported that 130 boxes of good, used clothing has been packed and sent for missions since last October. Forty-three boxes of clothes went to Peru, and the rest went to Old Mexico, river ministries, inner city Houston missions, and Brownsville missions.

Many of the clothes that were packed came from garage sales, given by the people in town, and we wish to thank those who donated. We will continue this good work as long as we have clothes to send.

The program was led by Bertha, with Pauline Thompson, Sadie Davidson and Alma Williams on program. There were 8 in attendance, and refreshments were served. Baptist Women meet every Monday and would welcome new members.

Pentecostal Experience To Be Held

The Pentecostal Experience will be at St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church, 105

East Denny, on August 18, 1991 at 3:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

School Year Has Not Changed

SWTEC Hosts Annual Meeting/Barbecue

The 46th Annual meeting of Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative was held Tuesday Night beginning at 7:00 p.m. Chris Graham, pastor of the First Baptist church gave the invocation to begin the annual meeting. Over 800 members and guest were served a delicious B-B-Q meal catered by Grubsteak caterers of San Angelo.

The business session was called to order by the president of the board of directors, Fred Case. After the declaration of a quorum, General Manager Jim Martin gave a report on the condition to the Cooperative. Mr. Martin reported the economic outlook of the Coop was very positive and reported many of the financial statistics for Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative far exceeded a majority of other cooperatives in the United States. It was also noted that the Cooperative continues to grow in memberships and plant assets.

Mr. Fred Case recognized five charter members of the Coop which are still receiving service currently. Jim O'Harrow, W. R. Bearce, C.B. Sudduth, Mrs. J. Forrest Runge, and Mrs R.T. Faught were recognized for their longevity as Cooperative members.

Also during the business meeting, the articles of incorporation were amended to decrease the likelihood of a hostile takeover by outside interests.

Service pins were given to 8 employees. Receiving 35-year pins were Jim Martin, Jerry Perry and Bill Maness. 15-year employees were Chuck Spurgin, Mike Vordick, and Dobs Lively.

10-year employees were Faye Gibson and Rojelio Adame.

Door prizes were drawn and the meeting was closed with a thank you to the members for all of their support in making the Cooperative the success it is today.

Eagle Band Fund-Raiser

Pictured above are Eagle Band members Jenny Wink, Catharina Gower, Jennifer Smith, and Shelly Chrisman. The Eagle band is selling "Don't Mess With Texas" trash bags as their fund-raiser this year. If you wish to purchase some of these trash bags, you may contact any Eagle Band member.

The Eldorado High School Eagle Band will be selling "Don't Mess With Texas" trash bags as a fund-raiser through August 26th. This event is in conjunction with the "Don't Mess With Texas" campaign to keep our state's highways clean and trash free. Profits from the sale will help pay for the Band's Spring Trip and donations will be made to the state highway campaign for every package of bags sold.

Twenty-five bags are included in a roll for $5.99 and the bags will hold up to 33 gallons. The bags are heavy-duty lawn and garden bags that are 1.5 mil. thick. The price and quantity are comparable to the leading brand of trash bags and are made from recycled plastic. To purchase your bags, contact any Eagle Band member. Please support the band by buying your trash bags before August 26th.

Thoma Joins Family Angelo Clinic Association

Vicki Forlano Thoma, M.D. has joined the Family Practice Department of the Southwest Branch of the Angelo Clinic Association.

Dr. Thoma is from Eldorado, attended Eldorado public schools, and was an honor graduate of Eldorado High School in 1979. While attending Angelo State University she majored in Biology and was elected to Alpha Lambda Delta, Beta Beta Beta Biological Honor Society, and Alpha Chi, National Honor Society. She graduated cum laude from ASU in 1983, after which she spent time working at the Baptist Memorial Hospital prior to beginning her formal medical training at the Texas Tech University Health Science Center in Lubbock. While still a medical student, she engaged in a research study and authored a paper on the "Comparisons of Familial Illness in Hispanic and Non-Hispanic Patients Over 55," which was presented at the Research Conference at the University of Texas at Houston Medical School.

Dr. Thoma earned the Doctor of Medicine degree from the Texas Tech Health Science Center in May, 1988 and was distinguished as the recipient of the Outstanding Student in Family Practice Award. Following her graduation from medical school, she completed her internship and residency at TTHSC in Lubbock, specializing in Family Practice.

Dr. Thoma is married to Ronald Thoma, C.P.A. and is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Forlano of Eldorado. Dr. Thoma is happy to be back in the Concho Valley and welcomes the opportunity to practice medicine in an area close to home.

Life Among The Fishes

by Thomas Giovannitti

Monday is the first day of school. My children seem to feel that the summer was shorter this year than in years past, but I have assured them that summer is the same size every year, but this year they are starting school in the summer.

I really think that for the younger kids getting the school supplies is the most fun of school preparation. Okay, new clothes is alright, but all those number two pencils and new crayons and a new cigar box are the stuff of joy in the minds of pre-teens.

Of course by the third grade the use of Big Chief pads with the dotted lines for the lower case letters are not required. (If you have seen my handwriting, you might have wished they made me use those pads just a few years longer!) I am not so sure, that in this age of the computer, penmanship is a dying art. Even before the advent of these machines a few of us had tried to kill off good handwriting but there were always a few folks who could write like the Halmark cards.

They wouldn't allow me and my classmates to have protractors since we weren't allowed sharp instruments. That was okay because most of those guys would not have had any idea what a protractor was for. In fact, what was it for?

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The Schleicher County Commissioners Court has been in session the last few meetings deciding how to spend our tax money to benefit the County and it's people. I think they do a good job.

I had asked the court to consider buying the old 1907 Bank Building, which is the second oldest building in Eldorado. It is one of only a few buildings in Eldorado that has architectural value. The building is for sale by the owner, and could be bought on easy terms at a low price. The court chose not to buy this building and yet I was shocked to know how much is given by the court, each year, to recreational clubs - almost three times the cost of the old bank building.

If the people of Schleicher County would like to support me in this effort to save

Eldorado's history, please call or write to your Commissioner, Schleicher County Courthouse, and say, "Save the Old Bank Building."

Thank You!
Sincerely,
Rene Calcote

Anne Morrow Lindbergh

Recently, I read that in 24 hours the average adult does a bunch of stuff. Now, I had known that for a long time. After all, I've been an adult for most of my adult life. Trouble is, I never knew just exactly how hard I was working.

Did you know that every day:
Your heart beats 103,689 times
Your blood travels 168,000,000 miles
You breathe 23,040 times
You inhale 438 cubic feet of air
You eat 3 1/2 pounds of food
You drink 2.9 quarts of liquid
You lose 7/8 pound of waste
You speak 4,800 words
You move 750 muscles
Your nails grow .000046 inch
You exercise 7,000,000 brain cells

Whew!!!

Just reading this has worn me out. Think I'll go take a nap.

Recycling Plastic

"How do I know what kinds of plastic can be recycled?" is a question often asked by environmentally-conscious people who are concerned about the status of our state's landfills. The Texas Department of Health (TDH) is helping people answer that question, through its Bureau of Solid Waste Management.

On July 1, 1991, a coding system for plastic containers became mandatory in Texas. The coding system was created by plastics industry and enacted into Texas law by the 71st Legislature in 1989 to identify the resin used in plastic containers, which in turn will facilitate recycling. Coding of plastic containers and bottles will make it easier to identify types of plastic for separation, reprocessing and reuse. The coding will help Texans turn plastics into new products—thereby saving natural resources, energy and landfill space.

"You can find recycled plastic in flower pots, garden hoses, carpets and pillows, just to name a few," said T.A. Outlaw, Jr., P.E., Chief of the Bureau of Solid Waste Management. "To find the market for used plastic nearest you, call the Texas Solid Waste/Recycling Information Clearinghouse Hotline at 1-800-458-9796."

The Texas legislation applies to all rigid plastic containers, eight fluid ounces to five gallons, and to all plastic bottles, 16 fluid ounces to five gallons, manufactured or distributed in Texas on or after July 1, 1991. After that date, companies that manufacture or distribute affected bottles or containers in Texas can be fined up to $500 for each violation if the items do not display the required code.

"Most plastic bottles and containers in Texas already have one of the seven identifying symbols molded into or imprinted on the bottom, or near the bottom, of the bottle or container. The triangular symbol, made with three arrows, indicates the type of plastic resin used to produce the container.

Symbols:
1 = PETE (polyethylene terephthalate) (Example: soft drink bottles)
2 = HDPE (high density polyethylene) (Example: milk jugs)

3 = V (vinyl) (Examples: raincoats, phonograph records)

4 = LDPE (low density polyethylene) (Example: glue bottles)

5 = PP (polypropylene) (Examples: rope, electrical insulation)

6 = PS (polystyrene) (Examples: egg cartons, coffee cups)

7 = OTHER (all other resins, including layered plastics of a combination of materials)

While plastics account for only about seven percent by weight of the municipal solid waste stream, they comprise approximately 18 percent by volume. Unfortunately, only about one percent of all plastic is presently recycled. However, requiring that plastic containers be coded will help assure that more plastic is converted into a wide variety of products.

About 75 percent of plastic bottles are PETE or HDPE. PETE is the material used for many carbonated beverage bottles. HDPE is used in containers for milk, juice and other liquids. Plastic bottles have been recycled for years. More than 20 percent of all plastic soft drink containers, or 175 million pounds, were recycled in 1989.

"The problem with plastic isn't simply finding ways to reprocess and reuse it -- the problem is also collection and separation," Outlaw explained. "Most people think of plastic as a single thing, but most plastic items are manufactured from a particular type of plastic resin, designed to have special characteristics. If these resins are mixed when the plastic products are recycled and made into new things, the resins may be incompatible or lose their original characteristics, making them unsuitable for many purposes."

After people set the plastic containers out for collection, or take them to a recycling center, how do they become new products? To put it simply, first they are sorted into categories and colors. After being cleaned, the material is reduced to flakes or pellets for reuse by plastics manufacturers. The new plastic finds its way into everything from car parts to buildings.

A free brochure and poster describing the coding symbols are available from the Bureau of Solid Waste Management, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756, or by calling the Solid Waste/Recycling Information Hotline at 1-800-458-9796. (In Austin, call 458-7271.)

For more information, contact Sue Bumpous, Bureau of Solid Waste Management, at 512/458-7271 or Margaret Wilson at 512/458-7405.

County Agent's Report

When it comes to vegetable gardening, sunshine and rain aren't your only friends in nature. Birds, insects and a number of other critters work to keep the garden lush and productive.

Consider bees, for example. Not only do bees produce honey, they also pollinate more than one billion dollars worth of valuable crops each year. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that bee pollination is 50 times more important to agriculture than honey production.

The ladybug and praying mantis are well-known insect friends in the garden, but a number of other insects also help keep pests in control. The ant lion, better known as the "doodle bug," enjoys a meal of ants, assassin bugs and green lacewings feed on aphids. Certain wasp larvae help to decrease the devastating worm population.

Earthworms work to improve the soil. By digesting soil materials and leaving behind their castings, they aerate the ground and make nutrients available for your garden plants.

Birds gather hundreds of insects to feed their young. Swallows feast on leaf hoppers, while mockingbirds enjoy beetles, ants and grasshoppers. Wrens and orioles prefer caterpillars for dinner.

Unfortunately, birds also can't seem to resist pecking holes in your garden vegetables. The solution? Bird netting works well, but may be too expensive for a large garden. Nylon stockings are a less expensive alternative. Cut the stockings into sections about 12 to 14 inches in length. Tie a knot in one end of this tube or use a twist-tie or piece of string. Slip the stocking over a cluster of tomatoes. The nylon stocking can be placed over the cluster of tomatoes before the fruit ever begins to turn red. Birds cannot peck through the protective covering. As the tomatoes ripen, the stocking can be loosened and pulled down to remove the ripe tomatoes.

Toads, frogs and lizards gorge themselves on insects, yet they won't take a single bite out of your garden plants. Encourage their visits by placing pans of water around your garden crops.

Before you wield the bug spray, take a look at the animal life in your garden. Do birds swoop down to feed on insects? Are ladybugs taking care of the aphids? Is the praying mantis searching for dinner? If you choose to spray, do so with care. Remember, indiscriminate use of pesticides does more than rid your garden of pests; it may kill some of your friends, too.

Notice of Effective Tax Rate

1991 Property Tax Rates in the City of Eldorado

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for the City of Eldorado. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Health News

by Dr. Rico J. Forlano
Many people today are drinking bottled water because they are afraid of chemicals that are added and they think that it is healthier, but it carries no guarantee of quality according to researchers at the University of Iowa Hygienic Laboratory. The study included an analysis of 39 samples of bottled water sold for drinking purposes in supermarkets throughout Iowa and found that their quality was neither much better nor much worse than water from the tap. Some of the samples contained some of the same chemicals and byproducts found in tap water. Researchers also found in some of the samples significant levels of bacteria, a problem due to either the sample or with shelf storage. Bottled water is regulated by the Food and Drug Administration, not the Safe Drinking Act which has different standards for testing the water.

Back-To-School Clothes Shopping

Shopping for children's clothing gets intense twice a year -- Christmas and right about now, when clothes for school are in high demand.

"Clothing is probably the most expensive item on parents' school supply list," said Dr. Ann v. Beard, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A U.S. Department of Agriculture study indicates that middle-income urban families in the South each year spend about $780 on clothing for each child age 15 to 17, $830 per child between 12 and 14, and $500 on each younger school-age child.

Shopping a variety of sources for children's clothes can help reduce back-to-school expenses, Beard said. By planning ahead, consumers can find bargains at outlets, thrift stores, discount stores and garage sales.

When shopping for clothes, she suggests following these steps:

* Make a list -- Look over your child's wardrobe and note the items needed. Consider the garment desired, color and fabric.

* Budget spending -- Before you go shopping, know exactly how much you can afford and what you can spend on each item.

* Take your child shopping -- Before you go, prepare the child for what you are looking for, and shop only for him or her, not for the entire family, since young children get tired easily.

* Know sizes -- Take along your child's measurements and a tape measure. You cannot always depend on sizes to be accurate.

* Consider the child's growth patterns -- Don't buy more than what's needed. Children grow rapidly and may outgrow what you buy before the school year is over.

* Consider purchasing two or three outfits that can be mixed and matched for a more useful wardrobe.

* Consider what special clothing will be needed for your child's activities. Decide if parts of these garments could be worn with regular school clothing as a wardrobe extender. Less expensive tops such as brightly colored T-shirts can add variety to a wardrobe.

* Choose styles and fabrics that will grow with the child. Raglan sleeves, cuffs on pants, adjustable straps and waistbands, large hems in dresses and tops can add to the wear-life of a garment.

* Also, consider the care factors. Knits, especially cotton or cotton/polyester, are easy to care for and stretch for comfort. Choose durable fabrics such as denim and corduroy to withstand children's activities and repeated laundering.

Buying from discount sources can save money, but you need to be careful, Beard said. To make sure you are satisfied with what you buy and getting a good deal, ask yourself these questions before buying the merchandise:

* Are all parts of the garment the same size? One sleeve may be smaller than the other.

* Are collar and lapel points the same length?

* Is the lining the correct size for the garment?

* Will wrinkles press out?

* Are the top and bottom the same size and color?

* Are ties and belts the right size and a good color match?

* Is the fabric design pleasing?

* Are there defects in the fabrics -- holes, runs and imperfections? Hold the garment up to the light to find out.

* Is the fabric durable and suitable for the child's activities?

* If there are flaws or worn spots, can you repair them easily?

National Demolition Derby Set

When the gates open at Twin Cities Speedway Saturday, Aug. 17, destruction derby drivers will have come from as close as West Texas and as far away as Grand Rapids, Minn., Las Vegas, Nev., Boulder, Colo., Houston, Fort Worth and Hobbs, N.M., to compete in the 1991 National Demolition Derby.

"This is the big one. We're expecting over 100 cars in the derby alone," said Monty Coldwell, a member of the Midland Suburban Lions Club and derby chairman.

The derby, sponsored by the Midland Suburban Lions Club, carries a first place prize of $2,000 and pays 10 places back with 5th place receiving $500 and 10th place receiving $1,000. Total purse for the derby is $5,000. Trophies are awarded for the first 10 places as well as for the Best Looking Car.

The first 40 that pre-enter and run in the derby will receive a free race jacket. Also, the first 10 drivers that pre-enter who come from more than 100 miles away will receive a free room for Aug. 17 courtesy of Best Western Airport Hotel. The owner of the demolition derby car which is towed the longest distance will receive a $100 bonus.

The annual event also features the KPEJ TV-24 Kids' Day Great Bicycle Race at 6:30 p.m. Age groups are 0 to 4, 5-6, 7-8, 9-10, 11-12 and 13 and up. The prizes are six bicycles being given away compliments of Coca Cola and two pedal funny cars from Castrol. Trophies will be awarded in each class. No entry fee is required to enter the bicycle race. Tricycles will be accepted in the youngest age group.

Other events include radio-control racing cars at 7:30 p.m.; auto racing at 8:30 p.m.; and spectator drags, where participants drive the car they drove to the track, at 9:30 p.m.

The derby begins at 10 p.m. Entry fee for a derby car is $25. All glass must be removed.

All doors and wagon gates must be strapped, wired or welded. Only the driver's door may be reinforced. Safety belts and helmets are required. Rules include hitting a moving car every three minutes. The derby car must operate under its own power at all times. In any dispute, the decision of the judges is final. Pre-entry is not necessary. Drivers need to arrive at the track early enough Aug. 17 to have their cars inspected prior to the derby.

Free tickets for children may be picked up where event posters are displayed.

Gates open at 5 p.m. Twin Cities Speedway, west of Midland International Airport, is located off Coors Road between Highway 80 and Interstate 20. For more information on this special event call 1-915-683-8541 or 1-915-563-5456.

Brand Registration Time

Cattlemen and stockfarmers who own cattle, sheep, goats or hogs and have registered brands must re-register or record their brands or earmarks every 10 years with the county clerk's office of the county in which the animals are located or usually range, according to Schleicher County Clerk Helen Blakeway.

Brands were last registered on August 30, 1981, so it is time for the owner to secure that same brand if they wish to do so, she said.

According to Article 144.041 of the Agriculture Code, the owner of the brand has six months from August 30, 1991 to claim his brand by re-registering it. After that six-month period, anyone may register the brand and the owner stands a chance of losing it, she cautioned.

Helen said county clerks all over Texas will begin registering brands on August 30th. The fee for registering or recording a brand is $5.00 per brand per location on the animal.

Senior Ambassadors

Under the leadership of Mabel Blaylock, the Senior Ambassadors of First Baptist Church, went on the Church, bus to the Dinner Theater at Sonora Caverns, Friday night, August 9th. There were 26 who went to enjoy the food and hear Julie Carpenter, of San Angelo, play the fiddle.

A shower of rain ran everyone to the porch of the curio shop to complete the program, but all enjoyed the music, over the patter of rain.

Monday night, the 19th, will be the regular meeting, and all Senior Ambassadors are expected to come and eat watermelon. New members are welcome.

DID YOU KNOW?

When you watch television or fix microwave popcorn, odds are you're using coal. Nearly sixty percent of the electricity consumed in the United States today is generated from coal. In other words, most electricity is coal by wire.

Fortunately, America is blessed with an abundance of coal. Today's new technologies burn coal cleanly to produce one of our lowest-cost sources of electric power. Count on coal to bring comfort and convenience home to you.

Electricity from coal... plug into a real bargain. For more facts about coal, write: National Coal Association, 1130 17th Street, N.W., 8th Floor, Dept. NAPS, Washington D.C. 20036-4677.

School Lunch Price Schedule

by Mildred Phillips

Lunch prices for the 1991-92 school year are as follows: K-3 - $1.00; 4-6 - $1.10; 7-12 - $1.20; Reduced Lunches - 40; Adults - $1.60; Visitors - $3.45.

Breakfast prices are: Students - .50; Reduced - .25; Adults - .75.

Prepaid lunches need to be paid in the cafeteria in the mornings from 7:30 a.m. until 9:00 a.m. Lunches for 1 day only, may be paid in the lunchline. Charges need to be paid in the mornings, also. No exceptions! If you need to check on charges, please do this in the morning, as it holds up the lunchline, and doesn't give you enough time to eat.

A simple method for paying lunches, especially for small children, is to place the money or check in an envelope with the child's or children's names, grades and teachers on the outside, seal the envelope and send it with the child in the morning. The child should bring the envelope by the cafeteria in the morning as soon as they arrive at school and leave it at my desk out front, and they will not have to wait in line. This way they will not be late for class.

There will be no charging for grades 7-12 and Elementary will only be allowed 5 charges. There will be NO exceptions!

The skirt was made up of waves of sheer wirehem ruffles ending in a chapel length train. She wore the necklace that her mother wore on her wedding day thirty-six years ago. The bridal headpiece was designed and made by the bride herself. The romantic floral hat with an extra wide brim featured applique lace with simulated pearls and sequins, net pouf and a shoulder length veil drawn up to the crown with a longer veil underneath.
