Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcontrate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

LANDLORD WANTS ALL THE CREDIT

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., July 2.—(P)—Landlord Albert Alseth said the reason he lowered rents on his four apartments by $2 a month and also reduced the rental on stores here and in Menomonie, Wis., was he wanted to set an example to other landlords.

He added that he hadn't reduced rents earlier because "I didn't want OPA to get the credit."

Labor Affiliations And Relations Grow As Issues In Primary Race

By the Associated Press
Texas candidates for governor are making known their feelings toward labor affiliations and relations.

"CIO money and big oil money are out to take Texas," John Lee Smith said in McKinley. "I warn the people against this inchoate effort to purchase power that belongs to the people."

Smith accused Homer P. Rainey of being the candidate of the CIO who would play into the hands of group alien to the tradition of the southern states.

He turned from Rainey to attack Beauford Jester.

"I know of two Houston meetings attended by oilmen or their attorneys at which thousands of dollars was subscribed for Jester," Smith said.

In Harrisburg, Grover Sellers asserted he "always had the working man's interest at heart," and claimed the support of Harry W. Acreman, American Federation of Labor representative in Austin.

Dr. Homer P. Rainey pledged in Bastrop that he would recommend laws preventing a newspaper and radio station from being owned by the same interests.

He commented upon his protests against the Texas Quality Network and said "powerful moneyed financial interests" controlled the editorial policy of the Texas Press and also tried to control radio stations.

"It looks like the good people of Texas are going to elect me in the first primary," Rainey said in Smithville. "I hope they do, for it will be a mandate for me to clean up this state."

At the State Bar association convention in San Antonio, Beauford Jester claimed new support from Texas attorneys.

"It is very apparent that many members of the bar who have been undecided which candidate to support in the governor's race have made up their minds in my favor in the last twenty-four hours," he said.

Jerry Sadler was in Dallas yesterday to visit his sick mother and have emergency dental work done. His next campaign appearance will be Thursday at Lufkin.

Caso March announced his schedule for the week and informally commented that he would continue to push his attacks against the leaders in the governor's race.

Today March appears at Stamford. Wednesday he will be in Rising Star and Brownwood.

March said he would follow Rainey into Hearne and West on Thursday and "I'm really going to tie into him." He said "academic freedom" would be his principal subject.

"I haven't heard anything from Rainey on my challenge to meet him in a public debate in Waco on July 6," March said.

Texas Newspapers To Take Straw Vote

BROWNWOOD, July 2.—(P)—All Texas newspapers, both dailies and weeklies, have been invited to participate in a poll on the governor's race.

C. C. Woodson, publisher of the Brownwood Bulletin, invited all papers to conduct an individual poll on the race and send the results to the Bulletin. The Bulletin would give each contributing paper the result of the poll, Woodson said.

Double-takes; or little items in the week's news you may have missed but shouldn't:

Meat is dear so deer are catching it, Austin says, reporting that acute shortage of meat is causing a lot of illegal hunting of deer . . . $18,000,000 in paper money went up in smoke at Dallas, but it wasn't another mystery fire. The Federal Reserve bank disposed of accumulated old gold certificates by burning . . . The navy offered second-hand blimps for sale . . . Texans were warned to beware of swindlers, who were on the move in a big way. Among other things, they'll sell purple hearts for as low as $3 . . . A six-foot three-inch tarpon was caught near Galveston, was termed the largest entrant yet in the Galveston Beach association fishing contest. It was caught by a Houston man in one hour and fifteen minutes.

Caso March, candidate for governor, mortgaged his sound truck to finance a radio talk . . . Mexicans along the border are hard hit by inflation, particularly the peons. Example: corn and beans, their basic diet, have doubled in price . . . A rise in the Rio Grande foiled truck smugglers near Laredo. They were unable to ford the river, and officers recovered the stalled vehicle . . . Good news for motorists: the state highway department began issuing its first multicolored post-war highway maps . . . A movie audience in Houston raptly watched a fire truck screaming along the screen, siren roaring, then noticed a real fire in the canopy over the orchestra section. They fled out in an orderly manner.

Someone stole Dr. L. M. Radusky's car at Nocona, and he made his rounds in a horse-drawn buggy loaned by a friend . . . Harold Moore, 47, lost his job, decided to join the merchant marine, and then almost drowned while swimming en route to the enlistment center . . . Sheriff Smoot Schmidt of Dallas county is irked by the theft of several of his campaign posters.

AA No Cure, But Diverts The Urge

(This is the second of a series of three articles on Alcoholics Anonymous, based on information furnished by A. E. Stevenson.—Ed.)

AA has a method of arresting the urge to drink to the point where a drinker simply does not concern himself with the matter of taking a drink. He does not fight it nor does he try to dodge it. By following simple rules as he alone understands them, he looks at liquor as something he knows is not for him, and even though he can have it, he simply ignores it as something he does not need anyway. It is not a cure but offers relief from the horrors alcoholics suffer. Seldom if ever does he slip back into the world of nightmares again. There are some who have regained confidence that they can handle it—and they do for a time—but AA always welcomes them back.

There are lots of us living this program under the sheer knowledge that it is the difference between life and death; but strangely we are a happy group—highly respected by churches, courts, and the medical profession.

What makes this click is really a simple way of following in the footsteps of the many thousands of alcoholics who have gained sobriety and are in complete control of their lives once more. Only an alcoholic can understand another alcoholic. Because he knows the non-alcoholic does not understand, the alcoholic never can put enough trust in him for counsel. If he could, this would be no problem. The alcoholic is helpless—condemned, ridiculed, treated as a criminal. Will power does not exist. He wants to get away from it, but knows not whence he can turn.

AA lays the program on the table and simply lets him take as little or as much as he wants. There are no dues, no pledges, no secret handclasp or high sign, no directions, etc.

MANILA, July 2. (P)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, honor guest at the July 4 Independence ceremonies of the islands he liberated, arrived from Japan today in his glistening C-54 transport plane "Batang."

He was given a tumultuous welcome at Nichols Field. The first to greet him were Philippine President Manuel Roxas and the American high commissioner, Paul V. McNutt. MacArthur embraced Roxas affectionately several times. He had a big "hello" for McNutt.

Mrs. MacArthur was with the supreme Allied commander on his first trip from Japan since he left Manila last August upon the Japanese surrender.

A Challenge For All Americans

The people of Big Spring, as a part of the United States of America, are confronted with an unprecedented challenge for sanity, patriotism, unselfish action.

Controls imposed through the Office of Price Administration during and following the war have suddenly been terminated.

This is the moment for which many have clamored, yet it is a moment of peril for the nation's, and indeed, the world's economy. Whether the balance tips toward uncontrolled inflation or toward unfettered stability depends upon whether the American people act with adult intelligence, tempered with reasonable sacrifice in many cases, or act as greedy fools.

The temptation will be to advance prices on services and commodities. In many cases there will be justification of varying degree. Admittedly, there are cases where adjustments will be desirable in equity. Producers, manufacturers, dealers, landlords and businessmen, however, will perform a great and enduring service if they bend over backward to hold prices down voluntarily. At the same time, it is incumbent upon all the economic forces of the nation, labor included, to exert super-human effort toward fullest possible production of consumer goods.

Perhaps the most immediate test will be in the field of rentals. Unlike food and other necessities, there is no semblance of organization to take the lead of voluntary control in this field. It is spread over millions of individual landlords who act independently of each other. It is a direct deal which is not subject to systems or channels such as most goods and services. Already there are reports over the nation, and a very few here, of sharp to tremendous hikes in rentals. At best, there will be some who have absolutely no thought save for themselves and who will persist in avarice, but overwhelming majority action can stem the tide.

The path is fraught with danger on scarce food items, critical building materials, and finally with heavy consumer goods. Let the snowball start downhill and there is no telling where it will take us all.

It will take courage and determination in abundance to rise to the situation. It will not be easy to maintain price levels, even to the point of loss at times, when those about us are indulging in sordid exhibitions of getting while the getting is good. It will take blind faith on occasions to stand steady while others, most frequently the non-cooperators under OPA, continue to reap a harvest from conditions rather than ability.

The most universal reward will be in maintaining a stable economy, one under which all can hope to live in reasonable prosperity or security as opposed to a rampant spiral that rises and rises until America is confronted with the spectacle of a five cent dollar and in which savings, as well as earnings, will become a mockery.

Beyond that, the American people can—if they rise to the challenge—take a lasting pride in an unselfish, patriotic service in preserving the nation's economy, and with it the nation's cherished institutions and mode of life.

Perhaps time and memory will take care of selfish people who would betray us in a great hour of need.

Americans who wish maximum freedom may take an important step in that direction within the next six months by proving they are big enough to deserve it. If they falter and fail, God help us.

OPERATION CROSSROADS

Broadway—Jack O'Brian

Minsky To Be Restored

NEW YORK—The baby among Broadway producers, 23-year-old Hunt Stromberg, Jr., who already has enjoyed unprecedented success with his surprise hit "The Red Mill" and has presented the stage version of the novel and movie, "Laura," with considerable success on the road, has a project in the works which will bring the name of "Minsky" back to Broadway after several years of professional banishment.

Minsky, which was the biggest name in burlesque for decades, disappeared from Times Square theater marquees when F. H. L. Guardia, then mayor, sent that cultural form packing. He hoped along to see their renowned name again, decorating the neons and marauds of the Main Stem, but until now, without much more than bare hope.

Young Hunt Stromberg, however, a comparative child at this producing racket, seems to be a bare-cheeked youth with plenty of ambition and a good shaking of talent. Along with "The Red Mill" and "Laura," he also has Hecht and MacArthur's "Front Page" ready for rehearsal, plus plans for several other productions in the coming season.

Stromberg's plan for bringing the Minsky name back to Broadway concerns a musical comedy called "The Girl From Minsky's," which has been on and off the front burner since 1938. It originally was withheld from Broadway stage production because the Minskys were more interested in it as movie fare, which would insure wider distribution of the family name and, just incidentally of course, larger immediate financial return.

The movies however, were unable to clear the name of Minsky past the Hays Office. Now, however, the project will be presented first as a musical comedy, possibly to be written, or co-written, by the Gypsy Rose Lee, one of the major Minsky graduates. After the stage version gets going, the possibility of a movie stemming from it looks increasingly brighter.

Happiest gentleman concerned is Abe Minsky, one of the original Minsky Brothers who made burlesque the popular art form it became in the late twenties and early thirties. Abe, now retired and living in easy luxury on Long Island, has saved most of his stripping fortune, is in his late sixties, hearty and agile despite a cardiac attack last year.

Abe earlier had turned the Minsky burlesque empire over to his son Harold, now a 31-year-old veteran of a dozen years of such management. Abe believed in starting Harold early. When burlesque was chased from Broadway, Harold went to New Orleans and operated the St. Charles Theater, first as a pseudo-burly house, later as a combination vaudeville and movie palace. He also owns an awning firm, which is his first departure for any member of the Minsky family from the business of unshading the human form.

Evict Groundhogs

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—The housing shortage has extended to the animal world in West Virginia.

W. F. Rexrode, Pocahontas county game warden, in a report to the Conservation Commission, said minks had kicked groundhogs out of their burrows. He added that now the minks are using other groundhog dens for iceboxes, storing all the food they did not need at the moment for safe-keeping.

LITTLETON, N. M. (UP)—The famed cog railway running to the summit of mile-high Mt. Washington is in operation again for the first time since the start of the war.

Race-Hatred Appeal May Save Bilbo

WASHINGTON—Shut your eyes for a moment as you listen to the sweating, gyrating, fulminating figure shouting before you. You would almost swear that it was the late Kingfish of Louisiana. Instead it is the Kingfish of Mississippi, Theodore Bilbo, and he is fighting for his life.

Whether in the United States senate or in the Delta country of Mississippi, Bilbo is the same. The voice is rasping and tired. He looks older, and is older. But the vigor of gesture is still so great that the light grey suit turns dark with perspiration. First the arms, then the back, then the belt line.

"Send me back to the senate," he shouts, "and I'll see to it that southern womanhood is safe. I'll protect your homes from the invasion of northern communists and niggers. I'll . . ."

The voice rasps on. This is the third time in twelve years Bilbo has stumped the state of Mississippi, pulling out the same stops on his bass-organ voice, and today will decide whether the electorate of Mississippi will believe him once again.

The boys in the backwoods country are not as gullible as they used to be, and Bilbo is having a harder time of it than ever before. The "pecker-woods" he talked about so scornfully are giving him more trouble than he ever expected.

But one big break came his way. The supreme court decision that negroes can vote in democratic primaries, was duck-soup for Bilbo. Deliberately and skillfully he called upon "red-blooded" whites to scourge negroes from the polls. A threat of violence, he knew, could not be ignored in Washington. The justice department would have to take some action, which would play directly into his hands, give him a chance to harangue the multitudes about the "yankee-nigger" invasion.

Bilbo may squeak through in today's primaries, and if he does this will be what saved him.

Mississippi Merry-Go-Round

Ablest Bilbo opponent is ex-Congressman Ros. Collins, the man who did most to build up the army in peacetime. Collins, a member of the war department appropriations sub-committee, forced the army to take on the first Flying Fortress by putting Flying Fortress money in the appropriation bill. Then the army had to spend it. Collins also induced the army to buy the Christie tank back in the days when the army was still thinking about horses. . . . When a Mississippi congressman, he paid tribute to the fighting qualities of negro troops in Italy. Hearing this, Bilbo gave a harangue on his lifelong friendship for the negro. . . . Bilbo got his first taste of Washington as a $6,000-a-year clipper-of-newspapers in the department of agriculture. With it went two secretaries and a de luxe office. He spent most of his time clipping poetry. . . . The late Senator Pat Harrison got Bilbo the clipping job. Later they became bitter enemies, and Bilbo cast the deciding vote against Harrison when he wanted to become majority leader of the senate. . . .

Truman's In-Laws

Not since the days of Herbert Hoover have people around the White House been worried about photographs. Herbert Hoover was extremely camera-shy, raised Cain when photographers tried to get close-ups. Mrs. Hoover even insisted upon censoring photographs before they were published.

The Roosevelt family were just the opposite. So is President Truman. Not so, however, members of the Truman family. Most sensitive photographic censors in the Truman entourage are his in-laws.

Last time the president visited Jackson County, Mo., a newsmen who met the Truman party at the airport, approached the president's brother-in-law, George Wallace, and asked:

"Will it be all right to take one picture of the group?"

"There'll be no pictures," snapped Wallace.

Reluctant to argue the point, the reporter entered the field administration building to await the arrival of the Sacred Cow. Wallace entered shortly thereafter.

"We don't appreciate being followed around," he snarled at the newsmen.

"I'm doing this on instructions," the newsmen returned. "It's an assignment. You'd do the same thing."

"What were you doing out on the field?"

"I was looking around."

"Well," concluded the President's brother-in-law, "the Secret Service will run you off when they get here."

The Secret Service did not take the same view. When Wallace cornered one of the agents, the latter shook his head. Newsmen and photographers, he indicated, had a right to stay. . . .

The "Gentleman From Mississippi"

There's never a dull moment in the life of "The Man" Bilbo. . . . He once served a jail sentence for contempt of court when Judge Edwin R. Holmes ordered him to testify in the case involving his old political enemy, Governor Russell. . . . Bilbo was shot at by a jealous and irate lady when governor of Mississippi. The mark of the bullet is still in the mantelpiece of the governor's mansion, just behind the governor's desk. Some say it was Mrs. Bilbo; others that it was a jilted secretary. . . . Mrs. Bilbo long ago decided she couldn't take it. Joe Timuly, former secretary to Woodrow Wilson, finally persuaded her to avoid an unpleasant divorce suit and accept a settlement of $30,000. . . . Bilbo kissed off a prosecution against him for

Capital Chaff

General Edmund Gregory has added so many ex-Army officers to the brassards already in the War Assets Administration that practically every top official of WAA has a military title. So it wasn't surprising last week when a good many war assets employees fell for the gag that Senator McMahon of Connecticut was preparing a new bill providing for civilian control of War Assets Administration. . . . The standing of Senator Glen Taylor, Idaho's former singing cowboy has gone way up since the primary defeat of Senator Ed Gossett of Idaho, a conservative Democrat Taylor spent ten days before the election stumping the state with a sound truck to defeat Gossett. . . . The Kiwanis club of New Smyrna, Fla., which passed a resolution condemning Florida's Senator Claude Pepper for opposing the Case bill and the President's labor-draft bill, has pulled in its horns. Railroad employees of the town told Kiwanians that they form an important part of New Smyrna, and that Pepper was acting in the interest of the town's working people. The resolution was withdrawn. . . . The Bell Syndicate, Inc. (Copyright, 1948, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Did Truman Or Congress Kill OPA?

WASHINGTON — (P) — Who killed OPA, the president or congress?

We'll hear arguments over that question a long time, if congress decides to let OPA stay dead. It died Sunday midnight.

But the end of OPA, if it remains ended, will have a double effect:

1. The economic. It touches all of us.

2. The political. It may reach into the 1948 presidential election. Take the economic first.

Even with OPA operating, prices had been rising. OPA let them. It had to. So we've been in the midst of inflation, a fairly mild inflation.

If OPA were continued as much weaker agency, it might have been able to control inflation a bit, or slow it down. Maybe.

Without OPA, the sky's the limit on prices and rents and wages. That could mean uncontrolled inflation.

OPA was to have ended Sunday midnight unless congress voted to continue it. It so voted in a bill it sent to President Truman.

Mr. Truman vetoed it, asked congress to pass a better measure, giving OPA more strength than the bill gave.

Of that vetoed bill, he said in effect:

It's worse than no bill. It would legalize inflation. It would make a mockery of price control. It would kid the public. It would pretend to control prices while letting prices get out of hand.

Instead of passing another, stronger OPA measure as Mr. Truman asked, congress quit for the weekend, letting OPA die. Now it will decide whether to let OPA stay dead.

Now for the political side: Mr. Truman very pointedly told congress and the public, in explaining why he vetoed the bill, that the three sections of which he considered most dangerous were sponsored by three Republicans.

Those Republicans were Senator Taft (Ohio), Senator Wherry (Nebraska), and Rep. Crawford (Michigan).

Rumors Rife In Berlin

BERLIN, July 1—(P)—Every good rumor is supposed to start from a beer bottle.

In Germany they have their origin instead in fear, suspicion—and perhaps in some cases are begun by nationalist Germans who still cling to hopes of restoring their nation's importance by a deliberate but subtle campaign to split the allies.

Berlin by virtue of its 11 daily newspapers, should be one of the world's best informed capitals, but actually, it is probably the most rumor-ridden. The Quadruplicate government is partly responsible, because the people feel no newspaper can be fully objective because they are licensed by different powers.

No rumor is too ridiculous to be believed by some. Here are a few recent quotations from the gossip exchange.

1. That the American, British and French are going to pull out of Berlin, leaving the capital in Russian hands. This stirred such panic in some German quarters that Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. European Theater commander, issued an official denial during a press conference.

2. That Britain and Russia are on the verge of open war.

back at him. They were Taft and Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Both said they hoped congress would continue OPA. (It was pretty plain the kind of OPA they wanted was the kind congress voted for in the bill which Mr. Truman already had said was bad.)

Taft said the president's words had the "aspect of a partisan political attack." He said Mr. Truman neglected to point out the bill had been passed by a congress where Democrats are in the majority.

Reece said Mr. Truman's own Democratic leaders in congress had urged him to sign the bill.

Taft clearly indicated the Republicans will blame Mr. Truman not congress—for killing OPA.

1. Congress now decides not to renew OPA but let it stay dead.

2. And if, as a result of no OPA, living costs go scuttling up.

3. That the Russian army is increasing its strength in Germany and massing in power around Berlin and along the border with Britain in the north. American official information, on the contrary, indicates the Russians are reducing the number of their occupation troops.

4. That the Americans have a B-29 bomber ready and waiting on a field in their zone ready to give Moscow an atom spray in the event of sudden trouble.

5. That the Russians are using German factories and German scientists on German soil to manufacture weapons of war in quantity, including a new v-type rocket projectile said to be able to span the Atlantic in 40 minutes.

6. That the British, while cutting rations in their zone, were letting food spoil and even running over potato dumps with tanks rather than distribute them to the German population.

7. That the atom bomb was really a German invention and that the allies stole it to win the war against Japan.

8. That the Russians are preparing to deport 3,000,000 Germans to work in Russia.

9. That neither Russia, nor the western powers would ever release German war prisoners of officer rank, but would hold them for use on their own side in the event of a third world war.

10. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

11. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

12. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

13. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

14. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

15. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

16. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

17. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

18. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

19. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

20. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

21. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

22. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

23. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

24. That the allies would forbid marriage for two years between German nationals in order to stunt the German nation and keep down its birth rate.

Phillies Just Another Club To Durocher And Brooklyn

Win Over Quakers Stretches Lead To 6½ Tilts

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

The Philadelphia Phillies' surge out of the National league cellar and their threatened movement into the first division has gained popular appeal throughout the nation. But to the pace setting Brooklyn Dodgers they look like the Phillies of old.

Winners of 20 of their last 39 decisions, the Phillies came into Brooklyn riding a hand-glove that included practically everybody with the notable exception of Lippy Leo Durocher and his battling crew. The Bums lost no time in casting their dissenting votes.

In the first inning at Tibbets Field before 31,913 of the flatbush faithful last night the Dodgers ended whatever dreams Manager Ben Chapman's aggregation had of gaining their first triumph of the year over the Red Birds by blasting out a 11-6 victory over the Phils. The win was the Dodgers' sixth straight, their ninth in a row over the Phils, and it stretched their first place margin over the St. Louis Cardinals to six-and-one-half games as the Red Birds bowed, 5-4, to the Cincinnati Reds in 13 innings.

At Detroit, Virgil "Fire" Trucks of the Tigers whitewashed the Chicago White Sox 2-0 to post his ninth conquest of the year. Jitters Joe Berry, purchased early yesterday by the Cleveland Indians from the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International league, celebrated the occasion by gaining credit for Cleveland's 6-4 triumph over the St. Louis Browns and batting in what proved to be the winning run.

The New York Yankees downed the Giants, 3-0, in an exhibition game at the Polo Grounds. The Boston Red Sox, Boston Braves, Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators were not scheduled.

Snead, Kirkwood Set Links Pace

MT. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 2 (AP) — Sammy Snead, and Joe Kirkwood, the veteran trick-shooter, were the pace setters for the small US contingent today as the field in the British Open golf championship switched courses for the second 18-hole qualifying round.

Snead and Lawson Little were due to try their best on the toughest old course, while Kirkwood and Johnny Bulla moved to the new. In the opening test yesterday, Snead had a 74 and Little a 76 over the new course, Kirkwood a 74 and Bulla a 77 over the old.

MILLER OPTIONED

ST. LOUIS, July 2 (AP) — Pitcher John Miller of George West, Tex., has been optioned by the St. Louis Browns to their American Association farm club at Toledo. Miller, 31, had one victory and three defeats with the Browns this season.

George Sturdivant has taken his leave as manager of the Lamesa WT-NM baseball league club and among those professing interest in the post is Lloyd "Pat" Patterson, the former Lobo hurler who is now railroading here.

The lean hurler, who came to Texas from Santa Clara college (Calif.) and stayed on to make his home and marry a local girl, is not job hunting. His position with the railroad has security and a future to it.

However, he's not allergic to overtures and perhaps could wrangle a leave of absence from his duties if the Lamesa club made it "right" with him.

Lamesa fans are well acquainted with the young man's abilities. He spent the 1939 season with Jodie Tate up there and the Boston Red Sox thought enough of his possibilities, they shelled out an even grand for him. The next season he was pitching for Greensboro in the Piedmont league. He had a good year but the war came long and he elected to retire.

He became recognized as one of the top slabmen in the circuit while with the Lobos. He won more than 20 games, had a low earned run average and was a power hitter Tate thought so much of, Jodie often sent him in as a pinch hitter.

Pat is currently playing softball with the ABC club. But baseball is his first love. He figures he could use his experience to good advantage as a skipper, both in relief jobs and by helping steady the youngsters. From what we've seen of Lamesa, the Lobo pitching staff—or lack of one—is the major reason the club is in the cellar.

Sturdivant stays with the club as its manager, and Olan Wise who has held that position, will continue to assist him.

Barton Cook, the Lobos' crack-jack catcher, is serving as acting manager on the Lamesans' road trip.

George says he's going to Dallas soon for a physical checkup (he was hit in the head by a pitched ball about a month ago) and may possibly be back in the line-up before the season is over. And that even though the medics have advised against it.

There'll be 12 former members of Texas Tech football teams playing in professional leagues this year, according to a story coming out of Lubbock.

Rafe Nabors, (1939-40), a center, reports to the Detroit Lions. J. R. Callahan (1940-41), Thayne Amontt (1940-41), both backs, and Pat Farris (1941), guard, will also wind up with the Lions where a former Tech coach, Pete Cawthon, serves as assistant tutor.

Going to Chicago's Cardinals will be Walter "Bull" Rankin (1938) fullback and Bill Davis (1938-39), tackle.

Walter Schlinkman, Little All-American back for the Raiders last fall, will be with Green Bay.

Our Town's Bob Flowers, who started in at Tech in '38, goes back to the Packers, of course.

Prince Scott (1939-40-41), an end, will play with Miami's Seahawks.

Frank Sachse (1937-38), a line-

MCGREGOR, July 2 (AP) — The Bluebonnet Food Store, owned by Bob Neff, was destroyed by fire Sunday night. Neff estimated the damage at $20,000.

Any contract, deed or will forbidding a person to marry is not valid, according to US law.

WICHITA, Kas., July 2 (AP) — Police called to investigate an accident, discovered the uninjured driver of the car involved was slightly underage.

He was two-year-old Ronnie Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hall.

Patrolman Ben Calvert said Ronnie started the car, apparently left in gear, after finding the keys on a table inside the house. The car traveled about 50 feet, grazed one tree and smashed into another.

Ronnie completed the drive without a scratch. Calvert estimated the damage to the car at $300.

Crude Production Drops 14,000 Barrels
TULSA, Okla., July 2 (AP) — Daily average crude oil production dropped 14,000 barrels to 4,940,799 in the week ending June 29, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Kansas output declined 17,130 to 260,300, Louisiana 2,050 to 384,200, Oklahoma 1,400 to 387,100, Arkansas 750 to 77,900 and the Eastern area 500 to 87,000.

California production increased 6,600 barrels to 888,750, Illinois 750 to 206,350 and the Rocky Mountain area of Colorado, Montana and Wyoming 90 to 165,740.

Texas, with 2,243,750, and New Mexico, with 97,600, were unchanged.

Production in Mississippi was 63,500 barrels, 350 more than the previous week.

Cosden Rumps On Forsan

Cosden's Oilers got away on the right foot in the second half chase of the Munny softball league by bowling over Forsan's Cosden Pipeliners, 12-6, in a slugfest at Forsan Monday night.

Pat Stacey provided the biggest blow in the nine-hit attack with a long home run.

The Pipeliners were not at full strength. Doc Wilson, stellar batsman, was missing from the lineup and the Forsan manager-ment tried using Heavy Montgomery on the hill in an effort to neutralize the Oiler bats. It didn't work.

Favorites came through for the most part.

In Forsan's other game, Dub's Garagemen, playing their first game under their new manager, Darrell Davis, edged United Body Works, 5-2, with a late rally.

The battle was a scoreless deadlock through four innings.

Perhaps the best game of the evening was played at Munny park here between American Business Club and Big Spring Hardware. ABC won, 7-6, in two extra innings of play but had to call on all their reserve strength after the Spartans had tallied twice in their portion of a big seventh round.

Big Spring Hardware broke a 4-4 deadlock after two were out in their part of the stanza after Johnny Daylong, who had pitched a sterling game, found D. R. Gartman for a long single. He romped home on Norm Newton's base blow and Newton in turn came home when Clyde Wynans doubled.

Returning to the field, Daylong retired two of the Clubbers in quick order but the service troupe suddenly swarmed all over him when Johnny lost his control.

John Malaise and Lloyd Patterson with pitches and Howard Schwarzenbach promptly brought them home with a punch over the pitcher's head that no one could handle.

J. D. Jones appeared on the scene to pump a single into left field and Swatzy scampered to the plate for the clincher.

Manhattan and VFW had it in a wild contest in the after-noon, despite Billy Womack's two home runs in the late innings. The Manhattan copped the date, 9-8.

Jimmy Daylong was the winning pitcher, surviving the late rallies to hip into the winner's circle while Tommy Elliott was charged with the loss.

The Manhattan employed a combination of base hits and Vet miscues to take a 4-1 advantage in the first two innings.

Manhattan Club Plays Tonight In San Angelo

Manhattan's softball team of Big Spring invades San Angelo this evening for its first round game in the West Texas tournament without its regular pilot but ready to do battle.

Billy Parker, regular skipper, is in Michigan. In his absence, Shorty Dunbar, the team's sponsor, will probably mastermind the club.

The Manhattan's make their start against the strong Gabriel team at 9 o'clock. Should they win, they return to action against the winner of the Bailey (San Angelo)-TES (San Angelo) bout at nine o'clock Thursday.

Big Spring's other entry, Big Spring Hardware, goes into action Wednesday night, tangling with Carr-Powell of San Angelo at 7:40 o'clock. The winner of that tussle clashes with the survivor of the Lowake-Salt Gap test at 6:15 o'clock Thursday.

The Spartans are due to field their regular lineup against Carr-Powell, using Homer Gent behind the dish, Johnny Daylong on the hill, Bill McClendon at first, R. B. Coffee on second, Noel Hull in the short field, Mel Newton at third and J. B. Murphy, Clyde Wynans and Phil Newburn in the gardens.

By The Associated Press
The Tulsa Oilers provided the thrills in the Texas league last night when they snapped a five-game losing streak and out-manuevered the third-place Dallas Rebels, 6-5.

Fort Worth, tops in the league, won 3-2 over Oklahoma City with a ninth inning single.

Houston and Shreveport split a doubleheader, 2-0 and 3-6.

San Antonio at Beaumont was postponed, rain.

Fort Worth pitcher Willard Ramsdell provided the winning run in the ninth inning with a single after Paul McCluskey doubled. It was the fifth straight one-run victory for the Cats.

The Tulsa Oilers took an early lead only to have Dallas tie the score in the sixth. Tulsa scored three times in the seventh. The Rebels threatened in the ninth and knocked out Felix Pinos, who loaded the bases with none out, after Lantz came in for the Oilers, allowing only one run on a bases-full groundout.

In the nightcap of the Shreveport-Houston game, the Sports scored all six runs in the first two innings. The Sports nicked Clarence Beers for seven hits but couldn't push across any markers in the opener shutout.

Today's schedule:
Houston at Shreveport
Beaumont at San Antonio
Dallas at Tulsa
Fort Worth at Oklahoma City (2 games).

NO DRIVER'S LICENSE EITHER

WICHITA, Kas., July 2 (AP) — Police called to investigate an accident, discovered the uninjured driver of the car involved was slightly underage.

He was two-year-old Ronnie Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hall.

Patrolman Ben Calvert said Ronnie started the car, apparently left in gear, after finding the keys on a table inside the house. The car traveled about 50 feet, grazed one tree and smashed into another.

Ronnie completed the drive without a scratch. Calvert estimated the damage to the car at $300.

Patrolmen Emphasize Importance Of Safety On Road During Fourth

Local members of the state highway patrol have been alerted for a busy July 4 and—because the holiday falls on the day it does—an eventful weekend.
The first peace-time Independence Day since 1941 will find more vehicles on the highways than at any time during recent years, according to Patrolman John Strother. Hazards will increase accordingly, he predicted.
"More persons were injured in Howard county accidents during the month of June than in the previous three months," Strother said. "In that 30-day period, we investigated eight accidents in which 18 persons were injured and another killed. Property damage came to $6,745. Those figures do not include mishaps which occurred within the city limits of Big Spring, which usually fall under the surveillance of city police."
In the past four months, the local patrolmen have filed reports on 20 automobile accidents. Prior to June, March was the busiest month when five mishaps were reported and property loss ran to $2,635.
Only one person suffered injuries during that period. However, in April, three persons were sent to hospitals in as many wrecks and property losses was estimated at $1,210.
In May, four accidents were reported, nine persons injured and the cash loss in vehicles came to $2,422.
The nation as a whole is heading toward its costliest and most deadly highway accident record, Strother emphasized, and Howard county, with its 20 accidents and 31 hospitalized victims in the four months' period, will be one of the more conspicuous contributors.

Oklahomans Cast Primary Ballots

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 2 (AP)—Some 400,000 Oklahomans are expected to cast ballots today in the first step toward electing a governor and eight congressmen although most of the nominees will not be determined until the July 28 runoff primary.
Also to be selected are other state officials to serve the next four years.
Eight democrats and three republicans are on today's first primary ballots seeking gubernatorial nominations to succeed Gov. Robert S. Kerr, democrat, who under the state constitution may not succeed himself.
Regarded as leading the democratic race to succeed Kerr are Roy J. Turner, Oklahoma City oil man; H. C. Jones, Oklahoma City; Dixie Gilmer; and William O. Coe, Oklahoma City, only World War II veteran in the race.

Tears For Mother Delay Operation

VERONA, Pa., July 2 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Jackie Wisnovski will go to New York next Tuesday for an operation that may fully restore her eyesight, but he will not be accompanied by the frail, patient mother who nursed him through three years of blindness.
The mother, Mrs. Marie Wisnovski, 42, died yesterday.
Jackie found her lying on the floor beside her ironing board, on which she had been pressing his clothes for the New York trip. She had been ill five years but never knew she suffered from cancer.
Her last words were for Jackie: "Be sure to have your operation, son, no matter what happens."
Although Jackie will make the trip, the operation, similar to one a year ago when he regained 90 per cent vision in one eye, may not be performed July 10, as scheduled. Doctors said the tears which Jackie shed when his mother died—tears forbidden by his doctor—may delay the operation for at least eight months.

Livestock

FORT WORTH, July 2 (AP)—Cattle 3,300; calves 1,300; active, steady; all classes leveling off, eliminating extreme highs yesterday. Medium to good slaughter steers and yearlings 14.00-17.00; steers and yearlings 10.50-13.50; medium to good fat cows 10.75-14.50; good and choice fat calves 15.50-17.50; common to medium slaughter calves 11.00-15.00; stocker calves, yearlings and steers 12.00-16.00.
Hogs 50; barrows and gilts $1.25 higher at 18.000; sows and stags 50c higher at 17.00; stocker pigs 14.75.
Sheep 1,000; 50c or more above last week's levels. Good spring lambs ranged from 11.00-14.25. No yearlings or old crop lambs offered.

Cotton

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—The cotton futures market moved lower in moderately active trading today under persistent pressure of commission house profit taking and hedging.
With the price control situation confused, offerings met only scale-down mill buying against textile orders. Some of the selling was attributed to the possibility that some form of price control will be restored by Congress.
There was a fair amount of liquidation of following issuance of 19 additional transferrable notices this morning.
Spot cotton markets were quiet and offerings scarce.
Surgeon Dies
WACO, July 2 (AP)—Dr. Charles E. Collins, 57, who made application aids in surgery, including a metal pin to mend broken bones, died today.

Borrowers Asked To Bring Back Books To Library

If the Howard county Free library continues to lose books at the rate it has during the past several months, a membership fee will have to be levied in order to neutralize the loss. So says Mrs. Inez Ragsdale, librarian.
"That practice has always been frowned on, due to the fact that many children would be deprived of reading privileges," Mrs. Ragsdale said. "However, the number of persons who borrow books and then keep them is alarming."
The membership is now at an all-time high. In June alone, the library issued privilege cards to 203 new subscribers. Circulation continues on the upswing, too. Maintaining an average of something like 90 volumes a day, the month's total reached 2144, an increase of 142 over the previous month.
The facility was recently donated 229 volumes, many of them prized manuscripts, by a local woman. According to Mrs. Ragsdale, it was the largest single gift ever made to the library.
A shipment of World reference books, purchased from the "donated fund," has arrived and been made available to the public.
The latest editions of the Compton's Works and the 1946 Who's Who in America, also ordered through that fund, are expected to arrive shortly.
Popular periodicals, some 27 of them, are arriving regularly and are on display in the library's reading room.

Marines To Show Free Movie Friday

The US Marine Corps recruiting office, now functioning here on a temporary basis, has announced that a free movie will be presented for the general public in the municipal auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday evening.
Authentic combat films of Marine action in the Iwo Jima, Tarawa and Marianas campaign will be featured on the program. Prepared by the MC Public Information office, the pictures are used in conjunction with that service arm's recruiting campaign.
A piano and voice arrangement of the Marine hymn will be passed out to the public prior to the showing.
The recruiting team maintains an office in the basement of the post office building during the hours of 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Complete information regarding enlistments for two, three and four years is given prospective Marines.

F. B. Smith Declared Dead By US Navy

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Smith were notified Monday that their son, Second Lt. Francis B. Smith, has been declared dead by the Navy Department after being listed as missing in action for a year.
Prior to his entry in the Marine Corps, Lt. Smith attended the University of Kansas. He received training as a fighter pilot in the Marine Air Corps and was stationed in the Marshall Islands and on Okinawa. He was reported missing in the Ryukyus.

Government Refuses To Pay High Prices

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Unless OPA is revived soon, the government may find it necessary to overhaul its famine relief program.
Government buying for hunger-ridden areas overseas stopped yesterday in all commodities except cheese, evaporated milk and dried milk. Purchases of wheat, meats, lard and other food items were halted.

Soldier Electrocuted

TOKYO, July 2 (AP)—A soldier identified by companions as Staff Sgt. Joe D. Moore of Centerville, Tex., was electrocuted today when he touched a guy wire rigged across a power line. The lights and loudspeaker system of the international war crimes tribunal were disrupted.
