Eldorado, Texas... "Down-Home Living at the Top of the Divide!"

September 24, 1992

Eagles Skin Bluecats

Michael Gamez had 13 rushes for 49 yards. He is seen here being led by Farley Dakan on a left sweep for long yardage in Friday night's game against Coleman.

It was not a happy night for home-coming sports fans in Coleman Friday night as the Eldorado Eagles took the Bluecats by surprise with an impressive win over the tough 3A Coleman team. The final score of 29-6 reflected an outstanding offensive game with three touchdowns by Reagan Bownds and one touchdown by Carlos Estrada off of a blocked punt by Chris Meador. Bownds, a sophomore, had 21 rushes for 135 yards.

Chris Meador had a great night with two blocked punts and one blocked kick for the PAT. Meador's blocked punt in the first quarter resulted in a 10 yard touchdown rush by Estrada and the Eagles never looked back.

Quarterback Farley Dakan handled the ball well as he helped lead the Eagle's in their last game before District play. Jason Whitten helped keep the momentum going with a fine interception. Coach Doug Kuhlmann said, "I would like to recognize the offensive line. They played very well." The offensive line consists of T.C. Willis, Trent Manning, Jamey Sanchez, Julian Martinez, Carlos Estrada, Jamie Belk, Robert Sanchez, Joel Martinez and Joe Sanchez.

Kuhlmann remarked, "This was a well played game by the Eagles. It was a good positive motivator for our first District game this week."

The Eagles meet Ozona here Friday night at 8:00.

According to Coach Kuhlmann, Ozona has played some tough teams in pre-district and this first District match will be a very important game for the Eagles.

Marilyn Quayle Meets With Local Republicans

by Barbara Behrens

On a campaign swing through West Texas, Marilyn Quayle stopped in San Angelo and took time out to meet with Eldorado Republicans. Mrs. Quayle, wife of Vice-President Dan Quayle, was greeted by a group which included Janet Hunley and Randy and Kathy Mankin. Mrs. Quayle spoke of President Bush's re-election campaign and addressed the need to elect Republicans at all levels of government.

Mrs. Quayle thanked Randy Mankin for his efforts on behalf of the Republican Party and presented him with an autographed copy of her new novel. Mrs. Quayle went on to say that she was encouraged that West Texas conservatives were aligning themselves with the Republicans and urged Schleicher County voters to elect Randy Mankin, Jerry Jones, and Burro Griffin this November. "From the Courthouse to the White House we need conservative leadership," stated Mrs. Quayle.

Students Return To School To Meet New Faculty Members

by Chuck Fitts

When school began August 1, students were greeted by new administrators, new faculty, old people in new positions, and old classes in new places.

Mr. Scott Barton has moved from this position as Middle School principal to the job of superintendent of SCISD, a job vacated when Dr. Larry Blair resigned.

Replacing Mr. Barton at EMS is Mr. Steve Peters who came to Eldorado from Pecos where he was a banker.

In the position of Curriculum Director is Mrs. Elaine Gray, former elementary school principal in Mertzon. She replaces Mrs. Judy Blair.

New high school faculty members include Tom Gray from Mertzon High School. Mr. Gray teaches trigonometry and algebra.

Miss Stacie Helmers, who graduated from EHS in 1988 and who did her student teaching here last spring, was hired to replace Mrs. Frankie Hardy as English teacher and tennis coach.

Mr. Cecil Stine, from an El Paso suburb, is also in the math department. He teaches algebra and pre-algebra.

Coach Jackie McNew came from Richland Springs to replace Greg Cleveland who moved home to Arkansas. Coach McNew teaches government and economics. He is an assistant football coach and head basketball coach.

In the Middle School, Maggie Middleton is the new Special Ed teacher for Susie Richters. She took over the fifth grade class for Staci Dunlap, who moved to Mansville near Dallas.

Linda Peters, wife of Middle School principle, is a member of the library staff in the High School.

In Elementary, Robbin Hutto, who moved here from Bronte and new graduate of Angelo State University, will be teaching the Kindergarten class for Kathy Newman. Debbie Griffin, who lives in Eldorado, took over for Sherry Wink, who took over the Pre-Kindergarten.

Old people in new positions include, in addition to Supt. Barton, Coach Teresa Baker who is a new PAL constructor along with Mrs. Maureen Hodges. Mrs. Marilyn Whitten, who has long been a favorite substitute, is a full-time secretary for Harold Steele, elementary principal. George Spinks, who works with middle school vocational students, is teaching a drafting class in high school.

In the Middle School, Juanita Igo has taken charge of the Middle School library for Jenny Lamb. Mrs. Lamb took the job in the administrative and library staff.

Teaching changes in the Elementary are Mrs. Newman moving to the 4th grade to take over for Mrs. O'Harrow, who moved to the 3rd grade. Mrs. O'Harrow took over for Karen Rasco, who moved to Pilot Point.

Art classes are enjoying larger facilities. These classes are held in one large room which was formerly the resource room and the teachers' lounge. The old art building has become Counselor Glen Nix's area, and the resource room has moved to Nix's former classroom/office. In process, is the conversion of the old boiler room into a new teachers' lounge. In the interim, teachers lounge is in the home economics living room.

The high school student body contains 217 students, down 6 from last year. The freshman class has 56 students. There are 70 sophomores and 45 juniors. The senior class has 46 students. There are 24 teachers on the high school faculty.

Middle school has a total of 225 students enrolled. While elementary consists of 305 students.

This brings the entire student body to a total of 747 students.

SCMC Barbecue Held

by Tonya Meyer

On September 12, 1992, the Schleicher County Medical Center held its annual Barbecue. Approximately 200-250 family and friends attended. There were several grandchildren as well as great-grandchildren.

The Ladies Auxiliary served tea and assisted those who needed an extra hand.

Steve Nelson and Felipe Pina cooked the brisket, which was wonderful. "Thanks Guys!"

The children as well as the residents and guests were then entertained by "Spufu" &

Cheddar Cheese, better known as Traci Stricklan & Johnny Brassfield. By the sound of the children's laughter, it was easy to determine everyone was enjoying themselves.

Bonnie Otto, spouse of Buddy Otto, brought her guitar and sang several old songs that many of our residents were able to recognize.

Lydia Barajas was the lucky winner of the hand-made ladies vest that was made and donated by Ann Barker.

Golf Tournament Results

by Mabel Freitag

There were a total of 48 golfers who participated in the Eldorado Golf Club Improvement Tournament this past Sunday afternoon. We were happy to see eight of the golfers who had participated in the golf lessons taught by the Bentwood Pros playing in the tournament.

Championship Flight

First Flight

Mobley & Wilson-1st; Dawkins & Rodriguez, Ramos

& Ramos-Tied for 2nd
Second Flight

Davis & West-1st; Childress & Honea, Belman & Ray-Tied for 2nd

This was our last tournament for the year, but remember there are a lot of days which we can play golf. Cold weather doesn't stop a golfer, they bundle up in sweat shirts and enjoy the brisk weather.

Remember our next Play Day, Sunday, October 4th. Everyone come out and join us!

Happy Golfing!

TOP OF THE DIVIDE by Thomas Giovannitti

Tuesday, the Shrine Circus was in Town. The Shriners support their hospitals with the proceeds from these events and I am sure they appreciate all the folks who attended. I really only had one problem with the circus, I never saw Julio from Mexico City.

For those of you who were not living here last year, the Chamber, of which I am a member, had the Second Largest Circus in North America here at the fair grounds. The leader and star was Julio. Julio seemed to be the driving force behind the second largest circus. What most impressed me was his economy of operation.

Julio ran the entire circus with about three relatives, two pounds of roasted peanuts, several old lions and one anemic elephant. Julio was every other act. In between, while Julio changed leotards, one of the peanut vendors would come on and do his or her act. All of the acts consisted of climbing up a rope, putting the acrobats ankle through a loop and the spotter on the ground twirling the performer around. Then on would come Julio, who juggled, did acrobatics, walked the not-so-high wire, and for his finale, he balanced on a plank on a rolling drum. No matter what act, each performer (including Julio) when not in the ring, sold the peanuts, balloon filled with regular air so they laid over limply in the hawkers hands, and tickets for rides on the elephant.

Julio had learned the secret of circuses. He knew that his entertainment only had to be good enough to impress the three to six year olds because the rest of us would have to bring them.

This guy should go down as one of the truly great entrepreneurs of our time. He sold everything for a dollar.

The peanuts were hawked that one of the bags might contain a prize. I don't recall if anyone got a bag of peanuts with a prize, but he never said there actually was a prize just that there might be one. The balloons were just blown up, so no expense for helium for Julio. Everyone on the payroll always worked either as an act or as a vendor. There was no waiste anywhere. On top of all this, the toddlers and small children loved it. Julio must have believed P.T. Barnum about "there being one born every minute" and that one is called dad.

Football Team Spotlited

The Eldorado Football team was spotlighted in the Standard Times for their overpowering win against the 3-A Coleman Bluecats. The Eagles join the West Texas High School Football Honor Roll due to Coach Kuhlmann's outstanding linebacker Chris Meador who blocked two points and one PAT. Carlos Estrada picked up the first block to score a touchdown. Reagan Bownds was a "WWWild Man" according to Duge Yates o his 3 touchdowns. T.C. Willis made the PAT's good to give the Eagles a 29-6 victory to spoil Coleman's homecoming.

Art Linkletter put together a book called Kids Still Say the Darndest Things. In that book some young people were asked if there were family rules at their homes. Here are some of those bits of juvenile wisdom.

No screaming, no cussing, no slobbering, no nothing.

When the sun goes down, the noise goes down.

Never spit at the dinner table or switch channels during a gunfight.

Never flush the toilet when somebody's in the shower, because the water turns ice cold and you freeze the guy in there.

No pushing at the table - and don't go to the bathroom except in the bathroom.

One little boy was asked if he helped with his new baby sister.

"I sure do."

"What do you do?"

"I put on the powder."

"What's the most important thing about putting on the powder?"

"Getting it on the right end."

'Till The Next Time... MAY GOD BLESS!

Child Safety

Accidents are a leading cause of child injury and death, but, with proper precautions, many can be prevented. For example, falls can be minimized by:

- * Repairing uneven or broken stairs
 - * Replacing or removing loose carpeting
 - * Making sure rugs have non-skid backings
 - * Installing child-proof gates at the tops and bottoms of stairs
 - * Recognizing that screens aren't strong enough to keep children from falling through windows
- These and other tips on preventing childhood

accidents in the car, on the water and involving poison, fire, choking, sleep, guns, knives and bicycles are discussed in a free brochure offered by the public by Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

A copy of "Accident Prevention: A Family Guide to Child Safety" is available by sending a stamped, self-addressed, business-size (#10) envelope to: Accident Prevention, Baylor College of Medicine, Room 176B, One Baylor Plaza, Houston, Texas 77030.

The publication is also available in Spanish for those who request it.

Agriculture is one of the most dangerous industries in America, and each year, hundreds of U. S. producers are killed or severely injured in farm-related accidents, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said.

In an effort to increase health and safety awareness on America's farms and ranches, the week of Sept. 20 - 26 has been proclaimed National Farm safety week. "This year's theme, 'Take Charge of Your Safety and Health,' emphasizes that safety and health begin with each of us," Perry said.

"Numerous hazards face our farmers and ranchers each day as they go about their jobs producing the food we eat and the fiber we wear, and safe farming practices should be a part of their daily lives,"

Perry said. To further enhance farm and ranch safety procedures, the Texas Department of Agriculture is working closely with the Agricultural Committee of the Texas Safety Association to develop a farm safety program.

More than 70 fatalities and approximately 70,000 injuries were recorded on Texas farms and ranches during 1990, the latest year for which data are available.

Tractors and farm equipment accounted for 44 percent of the fatalities and injuries. Tractors are a basic piece of equipment on most farms, and overturns claimed 15 lives during 1990. Many of these could have been prevented by using rollbars or seat belts.

Combines, cotton pickers, shredders and hay balers present additional risks, and many injuries and fatalities involve workers becoming caught in the machinery.

"Stay clear of unguarded moving parts, and always stop machines before taking care of operating problems. This is true whether you are operating a lawnmower in the city or a shredder in the country!" Perry said.

Firearms, drowning, electrical contact and animal-related incidents are other causes of farm fatalities and injuries. But there are also the "hidden hazards" that many agricultural workers overlook.

Respiratory problems from inhaling dust from moldy hay, straw or grain can create an allergic reaction called Farmer's Lung. And prolonged exposure to the noise from tractors, combines or even chainsaws can cause permanent hearing loss.

In addition, agricultural workers should always use protective clothing and equipment when hauling any chemicals. All clothing should be washed daily with soap and water, separately from other clothing.

"The health of all our agricultural workers is a vital resource to Texas. Accidents represent economic losses not only from medical costs and damage to equipment but from the loss of valuable knowledge and skills inherent in the agricultural work force," Perry said.

Most of us will suffer from back pain at some time in our lives, but there are some simple tips to help reduce the risk of back injuries.

- 1) Never bend over to lift without bending your knees.
- 2) Hold and carry loads close to your body.
- 3) Avoid carrying heavy objects above your waist.
- 4) Carry balanced loads.
- 5) Ask for help to lift something if you can not lift it easily.
- 6) Use a stool or ladder to lift loads that are over your head.
- 7) Avoid twisting your body by turning your feet first (keep your nose and knees in line).
- 8) When driving, pull the seat close to the steering wheel and also you may need to use a small pillow in the small of your back to support it.
- 9) You should sleep on your side with your knees bent or on your back with your knees bent. Do not sleep on your stomach.

10) When vacuuming, mopping, hoeing, or raking keep your back straight and keep the tool close to your body.

11) When standing for a long period of time, put one foot on a footrest and move often.

12) When sitting for a long period of time, get up and walk around and stretch often.

13) When sitting, keep your knees higher than your hips.

14) Women should avoid wearing high heels.

Following these tips should help prevent you from getting back pain. If you get back pain, you should contact your Chiropractic Physician; Chiropractic is safe and it is effective.

TWC Calls For Leadership On Edwards Management

Texas Water Commission (TWC) Chairman John Hall has called on Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry to put partisan politics aside and provide some genuine leadership for agriculture in the development of a management plan for the Edwards Aquifer.

"It is our feeling that the final resolution of this important matter would be greatly improved if we saw leadership from Mr. Perry and help getting agricultural interest to the table in a meaningful way," Hall said. "So far the Commissioner has chosen to be only critical about efforts on the Edwards, which does nothing for agriculture and only serves to be disruptive. It is time to stop posturing and playing to emotions and assume the responsibility we all share to help solve a serious problem facing a major region of our state."

Hall released a summary which chronicles a shift made by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife (USFW) Service from an initial extreme position relating to the management of the Edwards to an endorsement of most components of an Edwards Management Plan developed and adopted by the TWC September 9, 1992. The material responds to an accusation by Perry that Hall conspired with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to "provide the impetus for the Water Commission's attempts takeover of The Edwards Aquifer."

"The TWC has tried to prevent federal intervention in the management of a Texas resource," Hall said. To suggest otherwise is irresponsible and dishonest. The federal Endangered Species Act is real and so is a lawsuit pending in federal court to enforce it. The TWC became involved in the Edwards matter reluctantly and has demonstrated repeatedly a willingness to support any fair, reasonable and effective plan brought forward by anyone."

Federal officials have openly warned that if a management plan is not developed for the Edwards, federal involvement through enforcement of the Endangered Species Act is a certainty. Hall said discussions with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife service have been completely aboveboard and tough.

"When we began our discussions with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, they were insisting on a continuous flow at Comal Springs even during a repeat of the drought of the 1950s," Hall said. "According to their estimates, that would have required limiting annual pumpage from the Edwards to about 200,000 acre-feet, or about a 70 percent reduction in pumpage almost overnight."

Hall said his staff was able to show USFW hydrologists that even reducing pumpage so drastically could not guarantee spring flow during a repeat of the 1950s drought and that such a drought had a probability of occurring only once every 100+ years. Convinced by the TWC modeling and data, USFW endorsed the TWC-proposed pumping limit of 450,000, saying it protects endangered species as much as humanly possible. Pumping would be reduced to 400,000 within 10-15 years.

The TWC Edwards management plan envisions overall allocations of 170,000 acre-feet a year to San Antonio, 180,000 acre-feet to agriculture users and 100,000 acre-feet for remaining cities and individual needs.

Hall said he is extending an open invitation to Perry and others to participate in the process of finalizing a management plan for the Edwards.

"We have developed a fair and realistic plan that has more consensus among Edwards users than anything produced in the 40-year history of this controversy," Hall said. "That plan is going to the legislature to be finalized by elected representatives of the people. With leadership and honest intentions from all of us, a final measure that will be satisfactory to the vast majority can be produced. I invite Mr. Perry and any other official with an interest or responsibility in this matter to participate and use all of their influence to help forge a successful conclusion."

TWC Commissioner Pam Reed noted agriculture's concern that management of the Edwards would require limits on pumping by all users and thus represent an infringement on "right of capture" concepts.

"The important thing to remember is that agriculture stands to lose the most if the Edwards is not managed," Reed said. "The population and economy of the region is projected to double over the next 20 to 30 years. Cities and industries can afford larger pumps and deeper wells than farmers. A management plan would give farmers a right to an amount of water that they can depend on for all time. It also would require large water users to develop alternate water supplies for the future."

The Edwards Aquifer is the only major drinking water source in the state that is unmanaged. It is the sole source of water for 1.5 million people and an estimated 700,000 jobs.

Senior Ambassadors Meet

The Senior Ambassadors of the First Baptist Church met Monday night, September 21st at 6:30 p.m. for a salad supper. After supper, the meeting was called to order by President Leon Stricklan and minutes were read by Secretary Dana Owens.

Mary Barton Robinson handed out the itineraries for the Canton-Granbury trip that is scheduled for October 3rd. The Dickens handed out itineraries on the Strand trip for December 3-6 in Galveston. Money is due by Sunday for the Galveston trip.

Games were planned for the group, by Mabel Blaylock and Billie Frank, on our own church trivia.

Keasberry/Beach Wed

In the chapel of Burbank Center, Santa Rosa, California, at 11:00 a.m., Saturday, July 25, Mitzi Gail Keasberry became the bride of Shannon Michael Beach. The Reverend Lane Russell officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Paul and Sonja Keasberry of Santa Rosa, and Mr. Beach is the son of Edith Meador Beach and the late Russell Beach, formerly of Eldorado.

Vows were exchanged before two branched candelabras holding white tapers. The candelabras were decorated with greenery, peach roses, white daisies, and peach carnations. Jane and Jack Keasberry, grandparents of the bride, lighted the candles. Music was provided by guitarist Jay Russell.

Mrs. Wendy Harrison of Sebastopol was matron of honor. Michelle Menne of Sebastopol, Joanne Schram of Los Angeles, Peggy Lowe of Santa Rosa, and Lela Windsor were bridesmaids. They wore cocktail length sheath dresses of teal iridescent taffeta with sweetheart necklines and bandeau sleeves. Flower girls were Nicole Long, Justine Long and Alex Harrison.

Kenny Long of Valley Washington was the best man and groomsmen were Steve Beach, Jim Lynch, John Dent and Skip Showers.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a hand beaded portrait collar, Basque waist, and chapel train. She carried a bouquet of peach roses, white daisies, and pink carnations.

A reception was held at Griffin Woods park. Each table was decorated with white impatiens and white begonias tied with teal bows. A streamer of peach ribbon ran down the center of each table. Peach, teal and white balloons rose from several barrels of petunias that surrounded the dance pavilion. A buffet was served, and music was provided by Greg Nett.

Shannon and Mitzi are both graduates of Anly High School in Sebastopol. Mitzi attended Redwood Beauty College, and is employed by The Peter Thomas Salons in Sebastopol. Shannon attended Oregon State University, and is employed by Molesberry Family Markets in Larkfield.

The couple spent the following week on a honeymoon in Cancun, Mexico. They are at home in Sebastopol.

Guests included Ed and Martha Lee Meador, Lynn, Christy, Erin and Chris Meador of Eldorado, Charles (Jack) Meador, Gary Ben, Claudia and Savannah Stephens of Dallas, and Iva Jo Stephens of Midland.

Stamp Show Set

"Do Something Wild - Collect Stamps" is the US Postal Service's theme for October. In cooperation with this theme the Concho Valley Stamp Club will host a show on October 3rd and 4th, 1992 at the Holiday Inn in San Angelo. Hours are 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM on Saturday and 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM on Sunday. Holiday Inn is located at 441 Rio Concho Drive. Admission is free.

There will be five dealers to buy, sell and trade stamps. Coins will be available also.

The show will commemorate the 12th Anniversary of the establishing of Fort Concho, A National Historic Landmark. Fort Concho saw a colorful history during the 22 years of its existence as a frontier outpost. A cachet, an envelope with a picture, of the Headquarters Building and cavalry and infantry soldiers will be available for purchase from the Club. The US Postal Service will have a special cancellation to affix to all items mailed from the show.

Exhibits showing various types of collecting interests will be available.

The public is invited to come and visit with the dealers and Club members to learn about Philatelic (stamp collecting) activities. The Club meets twice monthly at 7:00 p.m. The club meets the second Tuesday at the Main Post Office and the fourth Thursday at the Central National Bank. Visitors are always welcome. "The programs vary to help the newest collector as well as those who have enjoyed years of collecting.

Regardless of what interests you have you can enjoy pursue them through philately. Stamp collecting can be as specialized or encompassing as you desire to make it. You can study and collect postal cancellations, or a topical theme such as cars, horses, birds, or chessmen on stamps.

Disease Prevention

Disease prevention and primary care services must be linked in a community oriented health-care system to not only provide access to care but reduce incidence of disease. That is the message of Dr. David R. Smith, Texas commissioner of health, in a commentary published in the September issue of Texas Medicine.

"We can no longer afford a health-care system based on sickness rather than on health—one in which the imbalance between primary care and prevention leaves both modes incapable of fulfilling Americans' health and medical needs," Smith writes in his commentary.

The commissioner proposes a system of community oriented primary care in which obstetrical, gynecological, pediatric and adult medicine are combined with preventive public health services such as immunizations and communicable disease control.

Earlier this year, Texas Medical Association, the Texas Department of Health and several other health-related organizations and agencies launched a summit to bring more attention to the need for preventive care. Hundreds of thousands of Americans die every year and billions of dollars are spent treating easily preventable diseases, mostly related to smoking, diet, alcohol and drug abuse, and other lifestyle factors.

LET'S MAKE A COMMITMENT

The 72nd Texas Legislature has set a goal that by 1994 the state will have reduced the garbage going to landfills by 40%.

Currently Texas communities are paying an average of about $14 a ton statewide for landfill space. Tougher EPA regulations coming soon will at least double that cost and push it higher in the future. Recycling now will delay by years tens of millions in additional landfill costs!

Good Neighbor Club

by Ola Ruth Barbee

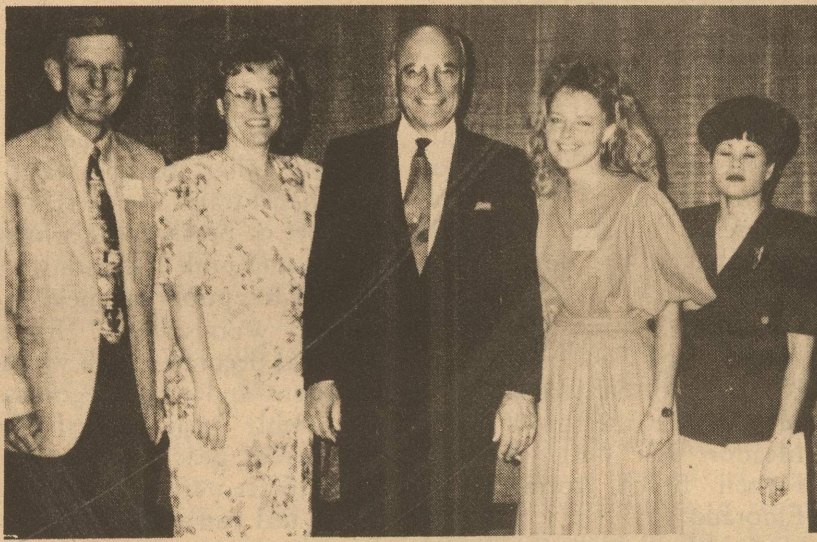

The Good Neighbor Extension Club met at Eleanor Powell's home for a luncheon on Tuesday, September 22nd. A program was given on Recycling.

Nancy Lester gave a long talk on recycling boxes, cans, plastic bags, milk cartons, and milk containers. We recycled old jewelry, making pins out of them.

Those attending were Louise Logan, Ola Ruth Barbee, Marguerite Gillespy, Bobby Killebrew, Mary Ussery, Nancy Lester, and Elsie Dockal.

The hostess was Eleanor Powell. The luncheon was enjoyed very much. The beginning of a new year of work. The yearbooks were given to the club women.

Yeutter Meets With ASCS And Agriculture Leaders

Attending the Lubbock Conference on August 24-27 from Schleicher County were: (L-R) Ronnie Mittel-ASCS County Executive Director, Sheila Prater, Clayton Yeutter-Counselor for Domestic Policy, Kim Thackerson and Toni Sudduth-Program Assistants.

Clayton Yeutter, Counselor to the President for Domestic Policy, met with local employees of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and agriculture leaders from Texas. Mr. Yeutter coordinates all domestic policy activities for the President through the operations of a new Policy Coordinating Group (PCG). The PCG is the domestic equivalent of the National Security Council. Prior to coming to the PCG, Yeutter served as Secretary of Agriculture. While at Agriculture he was actively involved in farm legislation the world. Domestic policy involves agriculture in every way. Secretary Yeutter's visit with ASCS committees and employees demonstrates the place farm programs have in our domestic policy.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is the United States Department of Agriculture agency that administers farm programs passed by Congress. This included programs that effect any local farmers and ranchers.

Chairman Harris noted that this meeting brought together local agriculture leaders and Administration policy makers for training and evaluation of the effectiveness of current programs. The conference helped find ways to improve the service provided through policy decisions and improve the knowledge of ASCS employees.

Sutton County Farm Bureau Sponsored Jones To Fire School

Joey Jones, volunteer fireman of the Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department of Eldorado, Texas attended the 63rd Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 19-24. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, was held on the Texas A&M University campus.

Firemen chose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Jones was sponsored by Sutton County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer fireman are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President S.M. True, Jr. of Plainview. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the Fireman will help the Eldorado Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Schleicher County.

Forlano Ends 4,000 Mile Lecture Tour

Dr. Albert Forlano, Ph. D., Director of Medical Seminars & Consultant Services, has just returned from a 4000 mile lecture tour through northern Pennsylvania and northern New York State sponsored by the American Chemical Society. He presented lectures at State Universities and for other professional groups. His topic was "Antioxidants and Preventive Medicine."

Preventive Medicine is a revolutionary new field of medicine that supports the "God helps those who help themselves" theory by altering injurious lifestyle and nutritional patterns to patterns that are consistent with and promote good health and longevity. The time for getting sick and taking pills after the damage is done has now been tempered with doing something to prevent or delay the onset of illness in the first place. Preventive measures may even be helpful after illness has occurred by reducing the progression of the disease, increasing the chances has occurred by reducing the progression of the disease, increasing the chances of a satisfactory recovery and preventing a recurrence of the same disease.

The concept involved here is that we have chemicals constantly being produced, both in the environment and in the body that attack tissues and are responsible for aging, cancer, heart disease, stroke, hypertension, the ravages of diabetes (cataracts, blood vessel diseases, infections, etc.), Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's disease, and the complications of pregnancy and smoking. It sounds like a tall order, however it appears that since all of these conditions may share a common cause, it may be possible to prevent them by interfering with the initiation of the cause with the use of antioxidants. Young people are not subject to these problems as much as the elderly because they have more efficient "machinery" (antioxidants) enabling them to destroy the toxic chemicals and therefore they are not as bothered by the diseases mentioned above.

Dr. Forlano is a national speaker in this area and has been invited to speak before many professional groups in addition to his regular seminars. He said the highlight of this trip, however, was stopping of in Norman, Oklahoma to visit his former professor and mentor, Dr. Lloyd E. Harris. Dr. Harris, a former Dean at the University of Oklahoma, is 92 years "young" and is still a rancher, carrying on the Harris family ranching tradition. Dr. Forlano said that after the long trip, the Forlanos were very happy to return home to Eldorado.

Operation Orphans

The Board of Directors of Operation Orphans has selected four dates for doe hunts during the forthcoming whitetail deer season. They are the following Saturdays: November 21st, November 28th, December 5th, and December 12th. The first, third, and fourth dates will be all boys' hunts, while the second date will be an all girls' hunt. An exotic game hunt will be held on January 30, 1993.

This is the 32nd year of this highly successful program. To date, we have hunted 12,188 orphans with a total game harvest of 11,687. It all began when the late Gene Ashby, a State Game Warden, realized that the Hill Country, primarily Mason and Llano Counties, had an excessive deer population and the necessity for removing a large number of antlerless deer. He approached some local ranchers with the idea of allowing orphans to harvest antlerless deer. They liked the idea, and Operation Orphans came into being. Housing the young hunters was a problem, so another idea was realized. With backing from sportsmen's clubs throughout Texas, and other concerned individuals, a 320 acre tract of land on the North bank of the Llano river in Mason County was purchased from a generous land owner at a fraction of its market value. Through donations, a 42 foot by 86 foot bunkhouse, capable of housing 100 orphans, was built. A 50 foot by 100 foot kitchen and dining room, as well as another bunkhouse/recreation hall and counselor's quarters, were soon added. The camp is managed by a supervisor who resides at the camp. Camp Gene Ashby, named in honor of the founder of Operation Orphans, is today a beautiful facility capable of housing and feeding 200 youngsters.

During the first 20 years of the program only boys were allowed to hunt; however, a girls' hunt was added to the program a 1980, and an "Exotic Hunt" in 1982. The girls' hunt has traditionally been held on Thanksgiving Weekend, while the "Exotic Hunt" has traditionally been held the last Saturday in January after the whitetail deer season is over. The "Exotic Hunt" is co-sponsored by the Exotic Wildlife Association which is based in Kerrville, Texas. The "Exotic Hunt" has added a totally new dimension to an already successful program and is looked forward to by many orphans as the "icing on the cake".

Though the annual deer and exotic hunts are the most popular activities, the camp isn't idle the rest of the year. It is used periodically by other non-profit, social, and religious organizations for summer camps, et cetera, at nominal costs.

The Directors hope to make participation in the forthcoming hunts the largest ever; however, this is dependent upon the number of ranchers who participate. The orphans will be brought to Camp Gene Ashby from homes throughout the state on Friday preceding the Saturday hunt. They will be housed, fed, and transported to the host ranches before daylight the following morning by guides from various Texas sporting clubs and other interested individuals. We encourage participation from host ranches within a 150 miles of our camp in Mason County.

Mike Dail, President of the Federal Land Bank Association of Mason, Texas, is the Hunt Chairman. All interested land owners are encouraged to contact him at (915) 347-6653. Persons interested in guiding or helping in another manner please contact Jim Pond at (817) 626-0200 or Jerry or Lyla Crouch at (915) 347-6745.

Accidental discovery may end obesity

WASHINGTON—Researchers may have discovered a way to end obesity—by accident.
In a study with a potential cholesterol lowering agent, scientists noted an unusual side effect. Instead of lower cholesterol levels, patients receiving a natural plant colloid lost weight while body weight in a control group remained constant.
The scientists say the mechanism behind the weight loss is not clear, but suggest it is partially due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories. Scientists in another study published in the British Journal of Nutrition, found that patients consuming the same colloid lost weight in spite of being instructed not to alter normal eating patterns. Despite this evidence, other scientists may not agree on the weight loss benefits of colloids. Specially, pending further study, there could be universal agreement that colloids are helpful in confronting the problem of obesity.
National Dietary Research, whose research topics have been the subject of articles published in recent medical and nutritional journals, has successfully incorporated a series of colloids into a chewable food tablet called FS-1. When used as directed, FS-1 replaces high calorie fats with lower calorie nutrients, thus providing optimum nutrition with a minimum number of fat calories. According to an article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, consciously limiting the amount of food one consumes is not necessary to lose weight, provided you limit the fat.
A Florida company has obtained exclusive distribution rights to FS-1, which is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.
