Eldorado To Have A Funeral Parlor

Mr. F. G. Wood will open about March 1, a Funeral Parlor, with a nice line of Caskets with a combination ambulance and funeral car.

This business will be under the supervision of Mr. A. C. Browning of Merkel, Texas, a license Embalmer, with 20 years of experience.

The business will be located in the New McWhorter building next door to the Palace Barber Shop.

Mr. Browning is a cousin to Mr. J. B. Christian, president of the First National Bank of our city.

Mr. Wood is putting in a First Class up to the minute equipment, which no doubt will meet with the approval of our people, in case they need such service.

MORE ABOUT SANTA FE SPECIAL

The Success is in receipt of a letter from J. D. Tinsley, General Agricultural Agent of the Santa Fe Railroad, at Amarillo, Texas, which is self explanatory and should be of interest. We publish it below.

You have received, or soon will receive, a bundle of flyers advertising the Santa Fe Farm & Home Special Train which will be in Eldorado from 3:30 P. M. until 5:30 P. M., Wednesday, March 16, 1932. The flyers are being mailed from Topeka.

We will put on a short speaking program, after which the people will have time to go thru the train and see the exhibits.

While the women and children, who go through first, are going through the train, the men will have an opportunity to hear additional lectures or confer with the College representatives. When the ladies have gone through the train they will have a further opportunity to discuss matters with the College people.

An advertisement will appear later in your paper.

The Extension Service is soliciting the cooperation of County Agent Sumner.

We feel that your homemakers and stockmen will find the lectures and exhibits well worth their attention, and all that you do to get out a good crowd will be very much appreciated.

Yours truly,
J. D. Tinsley,
General Agricultural Agent.

S. F. Shoemaker's Home Burns

Sunday night about eight o'clock fire was discovered in the S. F. Shoemaker home. The alarm was given and the town turned out. All furniture and house hold goods were saved.

The fire originated up above the ceiling toward the front gable. What caused the fire is not known. Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Shoemaker visiting when the fire started and not been at home all day. The home was new, only been built two or three years.

The weather was threatening rain and some see to think that it was lightning that started the fire, or electric wiring all came into the building from the rear and the fire seem to have started in the front gable.

A. T. Wright, Jr., wins his first boxing bout for this season. He has led the class in the 115 pound weight for the third year and had a successful bout for the opening of the Naval Academy and Louisiana borers. Below is an excerpt from "The Log", the school Magazine.

"Wright scored the first point for the home team with a clean victory over his opposing hundred and fifteen pounder, Chew. For the latter, it was his second appearance in the ring and he was unable to match the cleverness of his more seasoned opponent. Chew slowed up somewhat in the middle of the first round after a whirlwind start and seemed loath to take the aggressive. Wright played his man nicely, until Chew, on advice from his seconds between rounds, commenced putting out a stiff left to meet Wright's drives. With his greater reach, he was able to stand off the lighter, shorter Wright for the rest of the bout. But it was so patent that Wright had the advantage that Charley Short could not adjudge otherwise.

SCHLEICHER COUNTY GETS NICE RAINFALL

Rain began falling Sunday night and the entire county got from one-half to three inches of rain by Tuesday night. The Pat Martin ranch, 25 miles east, reported a three inch rain Sunday night. Bert Page, 8 miles east, reported a two inch rain. The Ford Oglesby ranch, 20 miles west, reported a good rain Sunday night. Rain continued until Tuesday and it seems that the entire county had as much as a half inch. The weather continues warm and with a good season the grass and weeds continue to come.

Additional rain fell Tuesday night and Wednesday, and as we go to press Eldorado has had something like 85-100 of an inch of rain and still cloudy Thursday as this is written.

Jack Halbert and family were in the city Saturday shopping.

Japan Delivers Ultimatum To China Thursday Morning

Real war in the Far East is almost certain by this morning. Japan, who has landed some 30,000 troops in Shanghai, delivered the Chinese an ultimatum Thursday morning, and the Chinese says it is impossible for them to accept. China has some 50,000 troops massed for the fight but are not equipped with the modern warfare, but up to the present time have been holding their own against the Japs. By Friday morning a real battle is expected to be in progress.

Miriam A. Ferguson Announces For Governor

Responding to the written request of more than 400 friends in 200 counties in Texas that I again enter the service of the state and pledging their active support, I hereby announce as a candidate for governor. These friends assure me that there is an urgent demand for my candidacy not only from all former supporters, but from thousands who have heretofore opposed me. They further say that there is a wide-spread dissatisfaction with the present administration of state affairs and that the public is demanding relief from governmental inefficiency and extravagance.

While I am not anxious to, nor will I enter into any scramble for office, yet I do not feel that any citizen is at liberty to decline to render public service in time of public need. My family having been in the past signally honored I recognize a special obligation to heed the call of the people of Texas if I am needed or wanted in the public service.

I sincerely hope that the contest in which we are about to engage will be conducted on the basis of merit rather than personal antagonism. "Who can best serve Texas" should be the uppermost thought in the minds of the voter when the time comes to cast the ballot in our democratic primary.

In addition to my connection with and my experience in the governor's office, I shall avail myself of the advice and cooperation of competent friends, of the legislature and my husband in determining a policy that will relieve the present perilous condition of our state affairs.

In submitting my name as a candidate I deem it proper to take the people into my confidence and tell them that I am not financially able to make any extensive or expensive campaign and will have to leave myself in the hands of my friends in the various counties of the state. I will go into office again, as in the past, under no promise or obligation to any special interest or faction for past, present or future favors.

In answer to those who may think that a woman should not hold high station, permit me to call attention to my administration of only one term in comparison with the last four administrations of men.

I repeat that: "Who Can Best Serve" should be the standard of the patriotic and the intelligent voter. At a later date I shall publish my platform for the information of the people, but I will say now that the chief plank will be the material reduction of taxes.

In the meantime I will appreciate the activity of all good citizens in my behalf.

Take "Yourself" Out Of The Picture

You have a great little family and everything is going smoothly—smoothly as long as you keep your health, as long as you keep your job, as long as you are here. But take yourself out of the family picture! Then what?

Even in the happiest moments a man can't help thinking about what would happen to his wife and youngsters if he were not here to look after them.

Making provision for that possibility is one of the obligations every real man assumes when he becomes a husband and father. What plan are you following to meet your obligation to those who are more dear to you than anything else in this world?

Of all the candidates out for Congressman-at large, in Texas, The Success would like to see Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo win in the sweep stake, that is that our present desire, we never get tied too soon.

The drillers at the W. R. Nicks well have been having some extra trouble for the past two weeks. They lost the third string of tools in the hole Saturday, but, they are confident of getting them out when they get the new line on.

We hope our merchants won't get to giving their prizes away at the same hour, as it is hard for an editor to be at two places at one time. But it always pays to read the ads in The Success each one carries a bargain for some one. Tell your merchant you read his ad and his bargains are appreciated.

When you feel all down and out, and it looks like the trick has been turned against you, coze off down to the Ritz and watch the comedy pass by, enjoy a laugh and go home with renewed energy and feeling. And you will have energy enough to get up in time for church Sunday morning.

WITHSTANDING THE ECONOMIC STORM

No business has more successfully withstood the violence of the economic storm or deserves more confidence, than the well managed electric light and power companies, in the opinion of the public service securities committee of the American Bankers Association.

Its strength, the committee has pointed out, lies in the diversity of the service and its essential character. It might also be said that the fine record of the utilities is partly due to the progressive attitude of their executives, and the proven soundness of regulation in the public interest by state commissions.

The earning power of the utilities has not been maintained at the expense of the public. Exactly the opposite has occurred. Rates have shown a steady downward tendency. The utilities work on the principle that a small profit per kilowatt hour on a large volume of business is better than a high profit on a small volume. Cheap electricity means the maximum use. Low rates and a stable earning power are corollaries of electrical development.

ECONOMICAL TO USE PRE-LEAVENED FLOUR

This is a question often asked by women—just what is self-rising flour? From what is it made and what are the advantages in using it?

Well, first of all, self-rising flour is a soft wheat flour to which the miller adds pure monocalcium phosphate and bicarbonate of soda, which is really baking powder, and salt for seasoning. So it is after all a ready prepared or pre-leavened flour.

Using self-rising flour in the home three times each day has many advantages. The greatest thing about it is its dependability. In fact, self-rising flour gives the only source of a uniform biscuit 365 times a year. Do not add baking soda or baking powder to it.

When a woman mixes soda and buttermilk, she has no way to tell accurately about the acidity of the buttermilk without taking it to a laboratory, and if she wants to have a first-class biscuit, the soda and buttermilk must neutralize each other. In the self-rising flour the leavening is accurately proportioned by weight and on a basis of a minimum, whereas, the other way is usually a maximum and guess work at that.

Self-rising flour is economical for all baking purposes because it saves the purchase of baking powder, soda and salt.

You can take any of your own favorite cake recipes and change it into a self-rising flour recipe.

Use one whole egg or two egg whites to each one and a half cupfuls of flour, and add one tablespoonful of liquid for each egg omitted from the original recipe. Omit all baking powder and soda. Do no unnecessary heating. Do not let batter stand after mixing. Bake at the correct temperature.

The most common mistake in baking cakes is in having too hot an oven. Keep the oven at 350 degrees F.

STILL WORSE THAN WAR!

About a year ago the fact that more persons were killed in automobile accidents during an 18-month period than were killed in the A. E. F. in the World War, was extensively commented upon. Now, according to a booklet issued by the Travelers Insurance Company, automobile accidents are still worse than war. During 18 months of the World War, 50,510 American soldiers were killed in action or died of wounds, and 182,672 were wounded, not mortally. In the 18 months ending December 31, 1931, 53,650 people were killed in automobile accidents and 1,576, 340 were injured.

The Travelers' booklet emphasizes some information that every motorist and pedestrian should know. During 1931 death increased 3.3 per cent over 1930, in spite of a reduction in the total number of persons injured. This apparent contradiction is

CALCIUM PHOSPHORUS NEEDED IN LUNCH BOX

"Early to bed, and early to rise, Makes a boy healthy, wealthy and wise."

All very well, as far as it goes. But what the boy eats before he's "early to bed," what he eats when he's "early to rise," and what he has in his school lunch box—that's what "makes a boy healthy, wealthy and wise."

The wise mother knows her boy's nutritive needs at home and at school. She knows his need for calcium and phosphorus, as well as for proteins and vitamins of meat and eggs and vegetables. She knows that if she bakes her boy's foods at home, with self-rising flour, that she is giving her boy the benefit of the millers' combination of important minerals for growth—all the essentials of a well-balanced diet.

So the wise mother makes the lunch box sandwiches of quick breads made with self-rising flour, butters them well, and fills them to capacity with chicken or other lean meat, or with sliced hard-cooked egg. A raw vegetable, carrots preferred, and a little fresh fruit, she adds to the sandwiches for balance.

And then comes the schoolboy's delight, and the object of all his sweet-toothed anticipation—cake, cookies, pop-corn balls—any of the tasties made with self-rising flour.

THIS DOUGHNUT RECIPE CALLS FOR SINGLE EGG

Doughnuts can be quickly and easily made at home. So easy is it to make doughnuts today that the doughnut jar should never be empty.

By using self-rising flour for making the doughnuts we can save considerable time in the mixing process and our doughnuts are always the same. The leavening or baking powder, and the seasoning and the salt have been combined in the proper proportions and have been mechanically mixed.

A good inexpensive recipe for doughnuts requiring only 1 egg is this:

Doughnuts.
 1 egg 1/2 cup sugar
 1/4 cup milk 3 cups self-rising flour
 1/2 tsp. nutmeg 1 tsp. vanilla

Beat the egg with the sugar; add the milk, flour, nutmeg and vanilla. The dough should be as soft as can be handled. Roll 1/4 inch thick; cut with a doughnut cutter, and fry to a delicate brown in deep fat. The fat should be hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 1 minute. Drain on unglazed paper, and dust with confectioner's sugar.

laid to the increasing speed with which we drive. Cutting in, violation of the right of way laws, driving on the wrong side of the road, skidding and driving off the roadway were like wise responsible for many deaths.

More than 42 per cent of deaths were caused when a car struck a pedestrian. Collisions with fixed objects accounted for 12.1 per cent and collisions with other cars, 24.9 per cent. In the case of injuries, 53.1 per cent occurred when cars struck each other and 29.8 per cent

COMPENSATION

Emerson, in his great essay on this subject, made it clear that static is the normal condition of power, that, in order to make progress in one direction, one must lose ground in another. For instance, when we shift the car to high, we gain speed, but, in doing so we lose power in exact proportion and when the whole process is summed up, we find we have gained exactly nothing. We must sacrifice in one direction in order to gain in another. Sometimes the application of this principle is so intricate that it is very difficult to figure out all of its ramifications. We may even lose sight of it in our hurry to achieve some desired end.

The financial genius, in haste to acquire material wealth, forgets that he is impoverishing the very source from which he draws his wealth—the working people whose labor is the basis of all wealth. He is comparable to the farmer who continually bleeds the natural richness of his land, without making return, until, at last, through sheer poverty, the land fails to respond.

A few years ago, the wealth of our nation seemed inexhaustible and we drew on it recklessly without making an equalizing return. Suddenly the bottom of the barrel appeared and we have depression.

Just now, we are very boastful of our material progress. The slogan of science is: "Discover and harness the forces of nature and make them obedient to the will of man." But do not deceive yourself for a moment, for we are paying for every ounce of energy we liberate. Science is teaching us to shift from low to medium, but when the car skids, your speed is your undoing.

We have invented high explosives and these do much necessary work, when confined to peaceful pursuits, but when a nation goes berserk, as the Japanese are doing now, mankind begins to pay the price.

Science tells us that it has invented shells, packed with such high explosives and permeated with such deadly gas that half a dozen of them, exploded in a city the size of Chicago, will demolish all its buildings and smother all its citizens in a few minutes. And these can be dropped from an aeroplane steered by radio waves.

The terrible cataclysms, described in the book of Revelations, under the headings of the seals, trumpets and bowls, only a few years ago, seem like the product of a diseased imagination. But today, with man's control of these tremendous forces, and the world of science, working with concentrated energy to discover more, we can begin to see eye to eye with the Revelator.

If science succeeds in releasing the power of the atom, the source of creative energy, man will have succeeded in pulling down his house upon his own head and lie buried under its ruins. We had best listen to God before it is too late. One more step in the direction we are going and a new earth will be necessary and a new race to inhabit it.

when they struck pedestrians. These facts are of immense value to the thoughtful motorist. They show the primary causes of accidents and, consequently, suggest means of eliminating them. Drastic steps must be taken if we are to lower the horrible and steadily increasing toll of traffic deaths and injuries.

YOU can steer either way, to starboard or port, if you serve one of these green or red cocktails at your luncheon table, and whichever way you steer you are sure to arrive at a comforting haven of confidence that your luncheon started well. That is because these cocktails are not only delicious, but their chief ingredient is Hawaiian pineapple which helps to digest heavy protein foods by means of its enzyme bromelin, and has a high sugar content of a type all ready for human assimilation. It also contains vitamins A, B and C, but in the final analysis it is the taste of this fruit that tells the tale.

Here are the Recipes.
 Emerald Isle Cocktail: Combine the syrups from a No. 2 can of sliced Hawaiian pineapple and a No. 2 can of grapefruit, sweeten slightly if desired with confectioner's sugar, add one-half teaspoon almond flavoring and tint a delicate green. Cut the pineapple slices in quarters and distribute with the grapefruit sections among eight glasses. Pour over the syrup and chill.

Red and White Cocktail: Simmer one-third cup sugar and one-half cup water three minutes, add the syrup from two 8-ounce cans of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits and one-fourth cup lemon juice, and chill. Halve and seed one cup white grapes, and combine with the tidbits in eight glasses. Pour syrup over and chill thoroughly. Just before serving add three or four tiny wedges of stiff cranberry jelly to each glass.*

GIVES NATIONAL ECONOMIC PLAN

By ROME C. STEPHENSON
Former President American Bankers Association

WE hear much of future economic planning to save the nation from a repetition of depression and promote more stable business activity. I know no better plan to suggest to insure future better times than that every wage earner, every family and every business throughout the country lay down as soon as they are able a program of proper savings as the foundation of their financial policy.

I know of no better plan than this to build for the nation as a whole a stronger economic situation,—that is, through a common structure of individual working, earning and saving. And I know of no better plan to revive activity in a depression than to spend a proper volume of past savings to keep the momentum of business going. But unless there are savings in prosperity there cannot be spending during depression.

Those who practiced this plan during the past period of prosperity have a security and a protection against present adversity that could be provided in no other way. Those who did not are the ones who are now most dependent upon others. If there had been more preaching of this doctrine when it was more feasible to put it into effect than it is now, there would be less depression and less financial insecurity today.

However, while there should have been more emphasis on savings during prosperity, a measure of the emphasis today might properly be the other way,—at least to the extent that those who can safely do so may well increase their spending instead of overdoing their saving. While many have seen their earnings fall, there are millions who have not suffered so seriously in respect to the real purchasing power of their incomes. If we listened to all the scare stories of the day, one might get the impression that everybody was out of a job and nobody's business was earning anything. Many of our people who are able to continue a normal program of prudent buying are curtailing their expenditures beyond reason.

A Business Stimulus

The sum total of this unreasonable curtailment of spending is an economic influence contributing to the stagnation of trade. By the opposite token, I believe the resumption of normal spending on the part of those who are able to do so would be an important tonic toward the stimulation of trade. I do not mean by this that we should have indiscriminate spending merely for the sake of spending, but the very motive power of our economic life is the interchange of goods, and unless we have that we cannot have prosperity.

I strongly believe that we are at that point in the depression stage of the business cycle that any sound stimulating influence will start a real movement in the direction of a return toward prosperity. So much of the weakness of the old state of affairs has been liquidated, so many maladjustments corrected and such large volumes of our consumers' goods have been used up or worn out that the pressure of necessitous purchases must sooner or later be felt. When that time definitely comes we may consider it the first impulse of a new era of normal business.

When Government Aids Agriculture

Demand for relief, agricultural or otherwise, comes naturally from those who feel most keenly the impact of economic pressure. Those most affected fly quickly to government for aid. But too frequently agencies set in operation by governments simply postpone inevitable readjustments. The basic laws of supply and demand have never been permanently and successfully set aside. So in general governmental intervention that artificially stimulates prices or even maintains them when the prevailing economic situation obviously shows that readjustments are inevitable are expedients that yield only temporary relief rather than permanent cure. Porous plasters may relieve pain for the moment but they rarely get at the seat of the real trouble.—H. L. Russell.

When army worms threatened the crops of Marshall County, Tennessee, information concerning the pests was made available by the College of Agriculture, and bankers immediately took steps to organize a war against the common enemy, calling mass meetings in their communities where complete facts and helpful recommendations for eradication could be put before the greatest number of people possible. This timely action saved the destruction of many fields of crops.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow,
Extension Service Editor

Seventy-six farm analyses made last year in the Masquite Community by the county agent of Dallas county revealed, among other things, a shocking lack of hogs. As a result 75 bred gilts were placed on farms there.

Corn worth 20 cents per bushel on the local Medina county market brought 70 cents per bushel fed to 345 shotes in 15 demonstrations supervised by the county agent last fall. Medina county farmers have sold $3,650 worth of bred sows, gilts and pigs to farmers in other counties for restocking purposes.

Thinning, pruning, and denning of scrub trees is part of the work reported by 130 farm boys in Angeline county engaged in forestry demonstrations.

Deep fall breaking and good cultural methods enabled 20 Washington county 4-H club boys to make an average of 54 bushels of corn per acre last year on 23 acres for a net profit of $262.20

In cooperation with the State Department of Health 42 Garza county club boys last year helped to build or re-model 81 sanitary out door toilets.

The value of home demonstration work in Motley county increased steadily from $21,396.32 in 1928, to $60,624.20 in 1931

Although 85 of them live on tenant farms, 106 farm women in Wilbarger county improve their yards last year with the help of the home demonstration agent. It was found that simply clearing away rubbish and planting a few native shrubs helped a lot.

J. B. Sammons was in the city Saturday, and says that the C. M. T. C. will meet at Ft. Sam Houston from June 14 to July 14. The County Quota has already been filled but those who attended last year will be favorably considered, and if any boy of the proper age and with the proper qualification wishes to attend this Military Training Camp should get in touch with J. B. Sammons or Don McCormick. The government pays the expense of the training camp.

FEBRUARY 19, 1932

With a little rain every once in a while, and warm spring weather, the country side is trying to put on spring appearance in the winter time.

Not only has China felt the economic depression, but they are now feeling the press of the Japanese de-press-on.

Now since "Ma" Ferguson has announced for Governor, Farmer Jim can get busy on his stump speaking schedule.

The indictments of Bishop at ammon and his Secretary were found invalid by the Supreme Court, last week. The Bishop has been thoroughly persecuted since his firm stand against Al Smith for president in 1928, but to his credit and a few others like him can be a credit the defeat of the Tammany candidate.

Japan has made another apology for beating up a United States representative, claiming they did not understand what the post was. They need to learn something besides greed. It looks like they have us classed with the Chinaman.

WENT OFF HALF-COCKED

(From the Blanco County News)

And now comes Arthur Brisbane, who writes syndicated articles for a number of papers all over the country, including Texas, and informs us that Japan is now doing in China just what the United States did when she took Texas away from Mexico! The statement could hardly have been more absurd had he credited this country with taking Mexico away from Texas. We had supposed Brisbane was at least fairly informed, although we have many times disagreed with some of the statements in his column entitled "Today" or "This Week." A lot of Texas papers are printing his column, under the delusion that because it is "by Arthur Brisbane" it is of unquestionable merit. Peter Molyneux in THE TEXAS WEEKLY, takes both Brisbane and the editors to task, the latter for printing such a statement without protest. As a matter of fact, the United States did not take Texas away from Mexico. Texas took herself away, and was an independent republic ten years, being later, of her own accord, annexed to this country, and that for at least a year before the Mexican-United States war. We begin to suspect "Brainy Brisbane" of "going off half-cocked", and that he and some other "highpowered" syndicate writers are not all they are reputed to be. The News has been offered the Brisbane column to print, but has never seen fit to accept it, and since noting this recent "wild crack," is less inclined than ever to subscribe to his "canned" editorials.

ROAD WORK NEVER DONE

Road construction and road work are never done.

We have built thousands of miles of fine highways. But the inexorable march of progress makes more and still more roads necessary. The increased mechanization of agriculture has made it vital that the millions of farmers now living on unimproved roads be given means for fast, efficient and economical transport.

It might be said that a road dollar has never been entirely wasted. There have been "political" roads and there has been uselessly expensive construction in areas where there was no need for it. These things must be discouraged. But every time we build a road we are adding another stone to the structure of our civilization. We are making possible a higher economic and social development for our people.

Modern engineering practice and materials have made it possible to build weatherproof, surfaced, secondary roads for a fraction of the cost of high-type main highways. Their construction is the solution to a pressing problem.

MULE IS A HORSE UNDER COURT INTER-RETATION OF HOMESTEAD

(Dallas News)
 When progress puts the stamp of modernity on civilization and its customs almost everything is affected, but one of the most unusual effects of the twentieth century has been some of the changes in the time honored homestead law that is famous in Texas for its protection to the home owner.

Molded back in times when Texas was a domain of forest and unconquered wilderness, language of the homestead law is quaint in some sections—but through the years decisions of the courts on the law have injected modern and sometimes paradoxical meanings into the original verbiage.

Homesteaders stand a chance of getting another bouquet thrown their way at the general election this year when the voters will decide whether homesteads of the assessed valuation up to $3,000 are to be exempt from State taxation. Since the assessed valuation is derived from 50 per cent of the true value of property this will exempt homesteads from State levies up to $6,000. The question will be decided in a constitutional amendment.

The original law provides that a homestead shall include, among other things, two horses a wagon, one carriage or buggy. After this was written, however a lawsuit came up and the resulting decision was that a "mule is a horse."

Automobile Is Carriage

Since carriages have been supplanted practically entirely by automobiles this question soon came up and in the case of R. C. Parker vs. C. L. Sweet from Tarrant County the courts held that "in a broad sense, then, an automobile is undoubtedly a carriage. . . . An automobile is essentially a carriage, used for identically the same purposes as the horse-drawn carriages of our fathers' days, the principal difference between the two being the motor power employed. From the standpoint of utility no distinction can be made between the two." Referring to the Allison vs. Brookshire case in which a mule was held to be a horse, the court said: "If a mule is a horse, undoubtedly an automobile is a carriage."

The homestead law provides a family with certain articles that can not be attached or sold forcibly. Included in the list are all household and kitchen furniture any cemetery lots held for sepulture, any implements of husbandry, all tools, apparatus and books belonging to any trade or profession, the family library, all family portraits and pictures five milch cows and calves, two yokes of work oxen, necessary yokes and chains, two horses and one wagon, one carriage or buggy, one gun, twenty hogs, twenty head of sheep, all saddles, bridles and necessary harness for use of the family, all provisions and forage on hand for home consumption, all current wages for personal services.

Different for Single Men

Homesteads in town include a lot or lots worth not more than $5,000 at the time of designation as homestead, and not in town include 200 acres of land.

An unmarried man is entitled to different exemptions than the family. His list includes cemetery lots held for sepulture, all wearing apparel, tools and apparatus of a profession, one horse, saddle and bridle and current wages for personal services. A single man's automobile is not exempt unless it is used in his trade.

Many constructions have been put on a family man. A man whose wife has died, leaving him with a child, has the homestead rights of a married man. A family has been described as a single man, his widowed mother and sister, and many other constructions have been made as the occasion arose in lawsuits.

A piano has been held to be "household and kitchen furniture," although it ceases to be that when used for display purposes only in a store.

Pool Tables Exempt

Pool tables used in running a pool hall and the proceeds of insurance are exempt from garnishment because they have been held to be part of a "trade or profession."

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF SCHLEICHER COUNTY,

GREETING:
 You are hereby commanded to summon James Bramblett and Ada Bramblett, whose residence is unknown, and the unknown heirs of James Bramblett, and Ada Bramblett, whose residences are unknown, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Schleicher County, Texas, to be held at the courthouse thereof in the town of Eldorado on the fourth Monday in March, 1932, being the 28th day of March, 1932, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of January, 1932, the file number of which is 486, in which G. C. Allison is plaintiff, and Lonnie Murray, the unknown heirs of Lonnie Murray, Evelyn Bramblett Watson, James Bramblett, Ada Bramblett and John Bramblett are defendants, the cause of action being alleged as follows:

Plaintiff alleges that on January 1, 1932, he was the owner in fee simple and in possession of section number 33, Block K, Certificate 1459, G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co., grantee, containing 640 acres; section number 33, block K, certificate 1456, G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co., grantee, containing 640 acres; section number 53, block K, certificate 14 6, G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co., grantee, containing 640 acres, and section number 37, block K, certificate 1458, G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co., grantee, containing 640 acres, all of said lands being situated in Schleicher County, Texas; and that thereafter, on the 1st day of January, 1932, the defendants unlawfully entered upon and dispossessed the plaintiff therefrom, and that defendants are claiming some right, title or interest in said lands, the nature of which claims is to the plaintiff unknown, and that said lands are of the value of Thirty Thousand ($30,000.00) Dollars, and the annual rental value of fifty cents per acre; and plaintiff asserts that he has had the actual peaceable, exclusive and adverse possession of said lands for ten years, and matured title under the Ten Year's Statute of Limitation, and that he has had actual, peaceable, exclusive and adverse possession of said land for five consecutive years, claiming under deeds duly registered, and paid taxes thereon, as required by law, and alleges that he has matured title under the Five Year's Statute of Limitation; and plaintiff alleges that he has matured title under the Three Year's Statute of Limitation by having held the exclusive possession of said lands for more than three years prior to the filing of the suit under title and color of title de-raigned from the sovereignty of the soil, and prays for judgment for the title and possession of said lands, for his damages, costs, and all other legal and equitable relief against the defendants, and for decree removing cloud from title.

YOU ARE COMMANDED to so summon such defendants, and to serve this citation by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County; but if there be no newspaper published in said County, cases owned by the editor and publisher of a newspaper are exempt, and tools and apparatus of a job printer are also because they are tools of a trade.

The 200 acres in a homestead does not have to be in one parcel but may be scattered. The same is true of lots in town, but the value of $5,000 is the deadline for the town property.

In a town a person may have a residence homestead and a business homestead, both exempt if the land was bought for not more than $5,000 and can not be sold forcibly. Land worth $500 might hold a building costing $1,000,000, but it would be exempt from execution if it could be claimed as a homestead. In this connection the courts have held that such things as electric fans in offices are part of the land and can not be attached under the homestead law.

Attorneys say a good many people abuse privileges of the homestead law by hiding behind its language, but it is regarded as one of the most effective of its kind in the country.

YOUR ELECTRIC RATE IS ALWAYS GOING DOWN

Your electric rate has been going down—never up! Commodity prices go down, then up . . . and even yet have not reached the level of 1913 prices. On the other hand, the unit cost of electric service has declined steadily, and on the West Texas Utilities Company properties has been LOWERED SIXTY PER CENT during the last nine years, with the average rate to residential service alone showing a REDUCTION OF FIFTY-FOUR PER CENT! Commodity prices must decrease more than sixty per cent even below present low prices—a long, long way to go—before they approach the path blazed by electric rate reductions.

The cost of electric service today is determined more by the customers who use it than by the company which produces it. As more power is used, over more hours of the day, its unit cost becomes less. Thus, the modern rate schedule is designed to share with you immediately the benefit of the economies resulting from a greater use of electricity.

The rate per kilowatt-hour declines as more kilowatt-hours of electricity are used. Additional uses of service reduce the average price per unit, to where now it is possible to cook with it economically. That is, the average customer, using fifty kilowatt-hours per month, now can increase his use of service to THREE TIMES that amount for only 10 cents a day additional cost on his electric service bill—or for the cost of only one medium-priced cigar a day!

Today's customer in the larger towns, living in the averaged-sized home and using fifty kilowatt-hours a month, pays a rate of only 7.3 cents per kilowatt-hour. Smaller towns cost more to serve, yet the highest rate for this same amount of service, in any town served by the West Texas Utilities Company, amounts to only 1.3 cents more.

Customers having major appliances (ranges and refrigerators) earn a rate of approximately one-half that amount for all service used in the home—which includes lighting. The average rate for all residential service sold at this time is only 6.3 cents per kilowatt hour, as compared with 13.7 cents in 1922.

Thus, automatically and instantly, electricity becomes cheaper every time you increase its use. Think of the many advantageous services by which you can benefit—without a material increase in your electric bill—through a more active use of your lighting and your appliances, or through the addition of major appliances!

ALL-STARS TROUNCE CHRISTOVAL BATS, 39-21

The Eldorado all-stars trounced the Christoval Bats, Friday night, at Christoval. The game was quite an upset, because the Bats had given the all-stars a good trimming two weeks before. Practically the same lineup was used as before. Conn Isaacs looped 10 goals. J. C. Smith and Lester Hodge starred on the defense. Coach Williamson and Lefty Smith played a good passing game. This is the first win that Eldorado has made over Christoval in four years.

SWEEPERS AWARDED TO FOOTBALL SQUAD

Eleven sweaters were awarded to the football squad of Eldorado High School, February 16, 1932. Coach Williamson also received a sweater. Eldorado won their half of District 1 after defeating Sonora, Ozona, Menard and Rooksprings. The Eagles won eight games, lost three, and tied one. Four of the boys have played their last year of high school football. They are Captain Albert McGinty, Hollis McCormick, Carl Kerr, and Bernard Carr. The boys that received letters are Jack Ratliff, Jim West, Jack Kerr, Billie Kerr, Carl Kerr, Hollis McCormick, Captain Albert McGinty, Raymond Smith, J. R. Conner, Junior Isaacs and Bernard Carr. There are several that did not receive sweaters because of scholastic rulings.

SPORT SLANTS

The all-stars must have turned in some real playing to beat the Bats. The Bats are supposed to have one of the best teams in this section. They surprised the Bats very much. The all-stars will attend the tournament at Christoval, February 27.

The Eagles were unlucky to draw Big Lake at the tournament. The Big Lake team had little trouble winning the tournament. They beat other teams worse than they beat the Eagles.

Three boys played at Ozona that had never played before. John I. Jones, Jack Ratliff, and W. B. Gibson played for their first time. Only seven players went to Ozona. Jack Kerr and Gerald Gafford were ill. Hollis McCormick did not go because of illness in the family.

Coach Smith of Sonora and Coach Tannery of Big Lake afforded a lot of fun at Big Lake in the coach's game. The team was a good combination against the independents.

The track team is developing very fast. Captain Raymond Smith was only one second behind one of San Angelo's fastest men. Hollis McCormick was only two seconds behind another of them.

RESULTS OF OZONA TOURNAMENT

The Eagles attended the Ozona tournament, Saturday. Eldorado was defeated by Big Lake in the first round. Big Lake easily won the tournament. They defeated Sherwood and Barnhart, also. Coach Williamson and J. C. Smith played on a team that defeated Sonora and were defeated by Sherwood.

NO PROFIT IN FIRES

The person who, through carelessness, causes a fire is in exactly the same class as the motorist whose carelessness results in damage to the property or lives of others.

There is no such thing as an "individual fire," an expert on fire insurance tells us. "The deficit it creates must be paid for, one way or another, by the entire community. When John Jones' factory burns it is not only John Jones who suffers—but all his employees, and all other property owners who must make up the taxes lost through fire. No company has yet written an insurance policy which in the broader sense compensates for lost time, lives, opportunity, livelihood."

The citizen who allows fire hazards to go unattended in his home or place of business, who fails to take every measure that makes for prevention, is not only derelict in his duty to the community—he is a direct menace to the lives and property of all other citizens.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank every one who were so kind and nice to help in saving our furniture and household goods when our home burned this week.

Hop Ashmore was in from the Edgar Spencer farm Saturday looking pleasant.

H. M. Freund was in from the ranch Saturday buying supplies.

SOL MAYER RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP

Completing several weeks of conference with farm board and cooperative officials, Sol Mayer, president of the National Wool Marketing Corporation, returned during the week-end from Boston and Washington. He said the corporation's 1932 operations were fully financed and that there would be no requests for overadvance refunds to the co-op this year.—San Angelo Morning Times.

O. F. Priest was up from Sonora Tuesday meeting old friends and looking after business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mund were in from the ranch Saturday on business.

AL SMITH DOES NOT CHOOSE TO RUN — YET

Al Smith and the Literary Digest are both out—only in different ways. Mr. Smith is out of the race for Democratic presidential nominee, while the Literary Digest is out to prove the country is wet—"all wet."

Smith says he is not a candidate and has no intentions of becoming one—unless and until he is nominated. He says a candidate is a man who seeks support of delegates and makes an active campaign before the convention. "I am not going to do either," he told newspaper men in an interview in his New York office.

THE "HAPPY WARRIOR" HAS THE RIGHT IDEA

The "Happy Warrior" has the right idea, he is doing the right thing, the "manly thing"—he is waiting until he has one "bird in hand" before beating the brush for the other one. Of course, his reason for not entering the race is not hard to understand: he doesn't want to throw any obstacles in the path of those who are quietly "going down the line" for him.

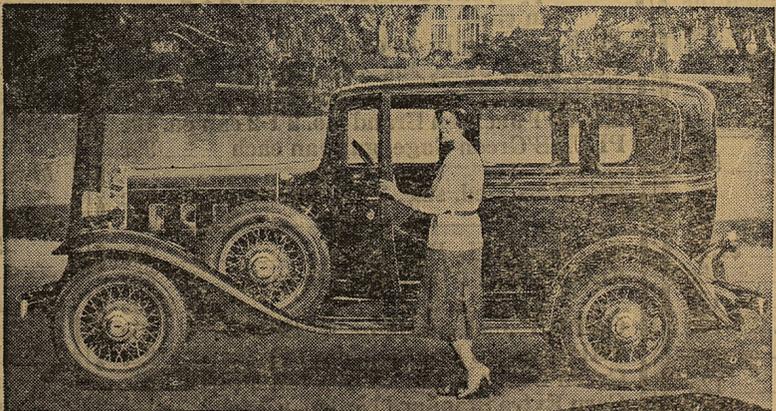

The New Yorker is a Democrat, however—you can bet your lat time on that. "I have no headquarters and I'm spending no money," he says. That clearly proves he is no friend of Hoover, who has worked himself into a frenzy figuring out a plan to stop hoarding and encourage people to start spending money.

BUT WE'LL MANAGE SOMEHOW TO GET ALONG WITHOUT LISTENING TO THE INCANTATIONS OF MR. SMITH ON THE "RADIO" THIS SEASON

The Literary Digest has a prohibition poll under way which should offer Old Gus Citizen a chance to express his sentiment on the liquor question. Smith conducted the poll in 1928, but his figures were unsatisfactory to the wets, who still believe there are more wet voters than dry.

There must be a catch in the Digest poll, however, because the same question is asked two different ways—and there are no other questions. So when you vote you had better stay out of the ice box until you have cast your ballot—you might unwittingly favor the return of the

New Chevrolets Now Displayed Aid Employment Throughout U. S.

Chevrolet's new car for 1932, embodying silent Synchro-Mesh transmission in combination with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost, and practically every proven automotive advance of recent years, is now displayed at dealer showrooms throughout the country.

While remaining in the price class in which it won world leadership this year, the new 1932 models offer features heretofore considered exclusive to the high price field, as well as a new front end mounting never before shown on any car.

Called "The Great American Value for 1932," the line offers in support of this slogan a twenty per cent increase in power, faster acceleration, top speeds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, new Fisher bodies with a modern streamline styling, down-draft carburetion, counter-balanced crankshaft, finger-touch front seat adjustment and many other refinements over the 1931 models, which, from the standpoint of public acceptance, were the most successful in the history of the company.

In addition to interest centering on the cars themselves, the announcement at this time has national significance in that activity brought on by production of the new cars is expected, at conservative estimates, to add materially to the earnings of 200,000 people throughout the country just before the holiday season and before the severe winter season sets in.

The company's 21 domestic plants all are busy producing cars as fast as precision manufacturing limits will permit so that deliveries may be made with the least possible delay. More than 30,000 of the new cars already have been built for dealer showrooms displays, and more than that quantity are expected to roll off the assembly lines during the present month.

The new car is the first in the low price field to offer the combination of silent Synchro-Mesh transmission with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost. A control button on the instrument panel enables the driver to use the free wheeling device only when he desires, and he is thus able to utilize the full braking power of the engine when desired.

The front end offers a radically changed appearance, with a new type radiator and grille built integral on all models, a double tie-bar arch which are mounted bullet-shaped headlamps and a trumpet-type horn just beneath the left headlamp. All models have adjustable hood ports chrome plated on all the sport and de luxe models, and all have cow ventilators controlled from the driver's seat.

With the new streamlined bodies, the external sun visor has been eliminated, and its purpose is now served by an internal visor adjustable to any position in front of the driver. The left front window also has an equalizer built in so that the driver may adjust the window with little effort. On the top rail of the instrument panel is a removable ash tray for the convenience of front seat passengers.

Roof rails, silk assist cords, window shades, arm rests and ash trays on both sides of the rear seat, dome light, foot rests, large door pockets and many other big car refinements are standard with various models in the new line.

'BOOSTING BRIDGET' WITH 'THE FOURTH MONDAY'

No I am not just talking. But "Boosting Bridget" will be with "The Fourth Monday". Miss Cocks, our local expression teacher is directing two plays to be given at the school auditorium March 4. The admission will be 15c and 35c. Half of the proceeds is to go to the Methodist ladies for painting the church.
The first play "Boosting Bridget," by Elizabeth Gale is all about modern ideas for cooking for a new husband. If you are thinking of getting married you would probably be interested in knowing how to cook for your hubby. Or if you have just married you would be interested too. Even if you have been married quite a few years, why not come up to the school auditorium and adopt the modern way of cooking.

The second play "Fourth Monday" is an old fashioned organ in person" is to be played and I'll let you in on this much—Mrs Lottie Conner is to be the organist. Come hear this—quite worth your money. Now, we come to the good part of it all. If you some you will get the latest ssandel on your local neighbors. In addition to this between the acts you will be entertained with worth while wise cracks, and novelty acts.
Everybody come and meet your neighbor here!

Anna Ruth Spurgers
The uhapel program was given by the first grade this last

Wednesday with Miss Lee supervisor. The little girls sang a little song about their dolls—each girl had a doll in her arms. The boys sang "My Dad". Elsie gave a reading, "The Alphabet"—such a pity our seniors can't do as well as she on reciting the alphabet. Elsie was the announcer, too. Dorothy also gave a reading—"The Good American" The last number of the program was valentine sayings—each pupil had a large valentine of crepe paper on which was some pictures suggestive of the valentine day. The expression class—out of which Nell Campbell and Mary Dell Williams were chosen—gave a one act play. Nell was the shopkeeper who was known as LOVE. She sold hearts. Mary Dell came in to buy a heart, but not being able to obtain the one she wanted, she left, and she left her own heart behind her. Poor dear—now our boys will have to be careful about falling for her, because she has no heart.
