Proposed Rail Line Outlined For Examiner

(San Angelo Morning-Times)

DEL RIO, March 18.—Haskell C. Davis, examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, was told today that the proposed Del Rio and Northern railway would serve more than 80,000 acres and would be of service, at least indirectly, to more than 2,000,000 people.

Davis was conducting a hearing on the application for construction of the 132-mile line from Quemado to Sonora via Del Rio. Witnesses favoring the proposal were on the stand all day.

Picnot On Stand

T. N. Picnot, president of the Del Rio and Northern testified that the road would represent a $5,200,000 investment and that its construction would result in an expenditure of more than eight million the first two years. He stated that a $1,500,000 beet sugar plant was planned for Las Moras and that more than $2,000,000 would be spent in developing the Quemado Valley.

Witnesses related the old efforts of the Orient to build from Sonora to Del Rio. The proposed line follows the old survey for the most part. The road is needed more than ever before, witnesses said.

S. P. Opposes Line

J. H. Tallichet, attorney for the Southern Pacific, which is opposing the application, cross examined Picnot. He claimed the timber bridges planned by the Del Rio and Northern would not endure. The line would cross five streams but its officials do not intend to build any steel bridges. The Southern Pacific has steel structures over all these streams.

The Nueces County water district and the Port of Corpus Christi were represented by Byrd Harris, West Texas Chamber of Commerce was represented by D. H. Berry, W. P. Wallace Jr., spoke for the local chamber of commerce. C. C. Belcher intervened in behalf of the Del Rio and Northern.

Federal Examiner Davis was aided by L. A. Geringer, Texas railroad commissioner, at the hearing.

High Winds Monday

Monday was a bad day in Schleicher County. The wind was high from the northwest, and many small chickens suffered and died from the chilly winds.

The Chicago country was in the throws of a blizzard and Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Kentucky, all suffered from a tornado, 339 lives being lost in the four states.

Temperature in Eldorado Tuesday morning was around freezing.

R. P. Hinyard was out from San Angelo, Monday shaking hands with friends and looking after business.

He is interested in a suit that is to come up in District Court Monday, in which the heirs of R. G. Stone are suing A. J. Roach for some land. Mr. Roach bought the land from Mr. Hinyard, Mr. J. T. Evans is also involved.

J. Campbell represents A. J. Roach; M. E. Sedberry represents R. P. Hinyard and Jim Cornell represents J. T. Evans. The land involved was owned by R. G. Stone, and was sold after his wife's death, but he was appointed administrator, for the children.

Mrs. B. F. Jones was attending the school meet Friday from Rudd.

San Angelo Loses New Railroad Fight

According to the San Angelo Standard, the citizens of San Angelo has lost their fight with the Interstate Commerce Commission in trying to assist the Abilene Southern Railroad to build in to San Angelo from Balingier. The Commission has ruled they see no necessity for the building. The only advantage The Success could see in getting the road, is, the city would have some competition in service and not in the reduction of freight, as the big commission tells us what we must pay, and the one doing the hauling just collects what the big commission tell him he is allowed.

Oklahoma A. & M. College Wins With Schleicher Co. Lambs

The lambs that won first place at the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show, fed by the A. & M. College of Stillwater, Oklahoma, were lambs bred and raised by Edward Willoughby, and sold to Ray Willoughby, on the Willoughby ranch 8 miles south of Eldorado. They were sold last fall to A. & M. College after they had looked at 25 or 30 bunches of sheep.

This shows that Schleicher is defeated this year by her own sheep, and not defeated at last.

E. M. REYNOLDS SELLS FOUR CARS LAMBS AT FT. WORTH

Sunday when they began fishing for the tools they were knocked back to the bottom. Fishing for them is still going on.

They have been working with the cable tools since the rotary machinery burned. They had reached a depth of 7,420 feet, drilling from 6,795 with rotary drill. Garner Capable Leader Speaker Tells Audience

(San Angelo Morning-Times)

SAN ANTONIO, March 18.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, said here tonight that in his opinion no New Yorker could be elected president.

He declared John Garner, speaker of the House of Representatives, had proved himself a capable leader and was the only Democrat who could unite factions of the party and lead them to victory at the polls.

"Some people say that to win, the Democrats must put up a New York man," Mr. McAdoo said, addressing more than 300 Democrats at a banquet in his honor.

New Yorkers Lose
"Cleveland was the only man to get a majority in New York and that was in 1892. Since then Wilson has been the only man to get even a plurality in that state. In 1924 we nominated a New Yorker and again in 1928, but we lost.

"The idea is wrong, I am not criticizing any New York candidate, but I am just talking sense. There is in certain sections of the country much suspicion which it is difficult to overcome. No New Yorker could be elected.

"We can win without New York with Garner, but we will never win if we put too much emphasis on New York and its 48 votes."

At Houston Today
McAdoo flew to San Antonio from his home in California, stopping en route at Tucson. He leaves tomorrow morning for Houston, where he will deliver an address on "How to save the wheat and cotton farmer and revive general prosperity."

Not once did the speaker mention prohibition, nor did he mention by name any of the proposed candidates for president other than Garner whom he lauded in glowing terms. No mention was made by him of President Hoover directly, or of any of the Republican party leaders, although he declared that it was "high time somebody got into the White House from the south so that the office can be elevated to the high degree of distinction and respect in which it was held when great Democrats sat in the executive chair."

MARCH 25, 1932

Senator Conally, one of Texas two Senators, has come out for a cut in Government officials salaries, a splendid move to help balance the budget. The fall in the price of commodities has been from 40 to 50 per cent. The fall in common labor has been from 40 to 50 per cent. Why not take a slice off of the office boys where a good salary is being paid. Senator Conally proposes to cut all salaries over $2,000.00 per year. A good move Senator, and if you make the rifle, the budget will soon balance itself. Just a little more of efficiency in handling the finance of any institution will generally keep the institution from sinking. Why not put a little economizing in the Government budget. The proposal cut in salaries is from one to twenty per cent.

In setting the announcement of F. G. Clark last week, for the primary 1933, it should have read 1932, as most all know, but we gladly correct same, as he is making the race this year and not next year.

Congressman R. E. Thomason comes out in opposition to the Sales Tax, and we want to commend our Congressman for such a move. Mr. Thomason said in part:

"I realize the necessity for balancing the budget and for higher taxes," Mr. Thomason said, "but I believe modifications can be made in the present proposal which will accomplish those ends without levying such a heavy tax upon every commodity the average family buys."

"I think that the income taxes in the higher brackets can be raised still higher than is proposed, and I favor such a move. The manufacturers' sales tax would place the biggest burden squarely on the wage earner, the farmer and the small business man. It would raise the cost of living and probably retard business recovery still more."

"I think the ways and means committee deserves praise for the thorough consideration it has given the matter and for many of the proposals embodied in the revenue bill. The bill carries an excise tax on oil imports

EAT OUR WAY TO HAPPINESS

Speaking at the recent Conference on Nutrition, which was part of the National Educational Association Convention held at Washington, D. C., Dr. Ray Lfman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, said: "What people eat determines to a larger degree than we realize what they will become."

Discussing the subject informally, Dr. Wilbur expressed the opinion that a close relationship exists between food and good citizenship. Therefore, nutrition is an important thing in government. "Nutrition is the most basic of all our human responsibilities, and the thermometer of good nutrition is happiness," said he. A high tribute was paid the good dairy cow at the conference when Dr. Wilbur declared, "The human race depends for its permanence upon the dairy cow—milk is a safe food."

Perfectly nourished children with an adequate supply of growth promoting foods, such as milk and eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables, cereals, and a small amount of meat, will be better citizens. They will resist disease better, especially diseases of the nervous system, and are less likely to become addicted to injurious habits. They will have a better chance, in short, for health and happiness.

Mrs. H. M. Knight of Sterling City was here for the week end visiting. She came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Floyd Sproul.

John Roach of Abilene, and A. J. Roach, who is in school at Abilene, were here for the past week end, guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roach.

which I favor heartily and which I am going to support."

Mr. Thomason is really one of Texas greatest statesmen, and we are proud to have such a man as our representative.

You will find him constantly on the job working for his people and those of the United States that make up the real part of the government.

Next week will be District Court week and a good time to be absent from town as the grand jury will be in session and they may want you to explain some of your doings during the past six months.

Our announcement column is not filled yet and if you have the $10.00 we have the space and need the money.

Garden Of Experience

F. G. CLARK.

THE HUMAN FACTOR AGAIN

The Cosmopolitan has propounded this question: "If Christ should come again, would He find it necessary to change His teachings in order to fit them to the problems of this generation?"

The magazine calls upon eight well known thinkers to answer this question. Among these notables are such names as Dean Inge of Saint Paul's Cathedral and Henry Van Dyke, a noted preacher. There is also a scientist, a social worker and a Roman Catholic literary man. Most of these writers seem to think that Christ would be obliged to radically change His teachings in order to make them apply to this modern world. This is to rob Christ of His divinity and reduce Him to the status of a mere man. If Christ is not divine then we have no Savior. Christ is all or nothing. If He were to come again, He would not change His teaching by one jot or tittle. Let us put it in His own words: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." The point that they all seem to miss is the fact that human nature never changes except the power of God change it, and this power is never exerted upon society but upon individuals. The words that He addressed to the people of His generation apply just as truly today as they did then. Human nature sums up exactly as it did nineteen hundred years ago. Not one passion has been added to it. The expression of these passions has been modified to some extent, but Christ did not deal with forms of expressions but with inward impulses. To Him, an evil impulse did not need to be translated into action in order to constitute guilt. To harbor in the heart a desire to murder constituted guilt just as much as the overt act. A covetous desire is as much of a sin in His sight as the amassing of great wealth in an unlawful way. It is the love of money not the possession of it that is declared to be the root of all evil.

If Christ should come again? According to His promise, He will come again, not to modify His teaching, but to call the world to account for the manner in which it has profited by perfect revelation in former days. If the world shall have taken these precepts as a revelation

Eli McAngus was out visiting us the last week end and we are certainly glad to see old Legs. He was an excellent student last year. I guess Eli would say that I want a nickel or something but I will be satisfied if the students of E. H. S. will just say something good about me when I graduate. (If ever).

Gustav V. Graves had the pleasure of entertaining Miss Mora Lee Meckel of Sonora last week end. Gustav V. also gave a party that was enjoyed very much by the participants.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones entertained with a barbecue at their ranch home last Friday, March 18. Miss Margaret Trail, ex-convict of Eldorado, attended the barbecue much to the joy of Thomas Richard Jones.

Elnora Andrews has started surveying around our fair city. Be sure you get it all fixed up right, Elnora.

Inez Cobb has a beautiful complexion of dark red and light tan. If you can't figure this out I'll just tell you in plain words that she was really blistered when the Hikers arrived home from Sonora.

Inez Cobb and Margaret Bradley had escorts for the Party Friday night who came all the way from Sonora just to take these fair young ladies to this social event. Their escorts were Rostein and Jack Feister.

Edward Ratliff has handed his resignation or whatever you wish to call it in to the Texas Technical College and is in San Antonio trying to get in a ball squad. Fred Williams was also home last week end. Joe Hearne Moore is also home for good.

Miss Gustav V. Graves and Elnora Andrews entertained with a bridge party at the C. A. Graves home last Friday, March 18. There was a large crowd at the party and everyone enjoyed themselves to the utmost. If you couldn't play bridge you could play cards or blackjack. This provided plenty of recreation for the girls and boys at the function and they really did take proper care of the opportunity.

Those present at the Graves home were as follows: Mora Lee Meckel, Jack and Rostein Feister; Margaret Bradley, Inez Cobb, Loleete Andrews, Jack Kerr, Hoot Nix, Rdth Nix, Elnora Andrews, Lawson Edmiston, Jim West, Wallace Davis, Pauline Kent, Pat Joiner, Fay Keeney, J. TEE WOA HISS HIKING CLUB MAKES FINAL HIKE

Saturday, March 18, the members of the Tee Woa Hiss Hiking Club made their final hike of the season. The girls left Sonora at 7:15 Saturday morning and hiked a distance of 22 miles to Eldorado.

About a quarter of a mile from Sonora the girls cooked their breakfast. The smell of bacon, eggs, and toast was a real "pep inducer" to them. After an hour of eating, resting, and play, the girls were again on their road with the real hiking spirit.

Our luncheon was brought out to us at 12:00 o'clock. By this hour we had reached the Sharp Service Station 9 miles out of Sonora. At 1:30 we were again ready to start by this time the sun was certainly doing its part in keeping the road hot. Too, the "tramp of the road," was taking the "pepy look" out of the girls' faces. Some of the girls were forced to remove their shoes and walk barefooted. This was pleasant (as one would imagine) with the road so hot that the asphalt was melting and sticking to their feet.

The girls were a pitiful bunch when they walked into Eldorado at 6:15 blistered faces, necks and arms, to say nothing of toes and heels. Eighteen girls made the hike. These girls have worked all through the hiking season. To be eligible for this hike one must have hiked at least fifty miles. This is the first time that the Eldorado School has had a hiking club. The girls have enjoyed the sport. It has served as a social function as well as for the credit in physical education. Miss Bill Parker is the sponsor of our club and as captain of the hiking club I wish to speak for myself and the club in expressing our appreciation to her for her faithful work and attempts in helping us to put our club on the map. Too, I think the school should be proud of the girls that have gone through the season and made this 22 mile hike. It certainly takes a girl with plenty of "stickability" and "School spirit" to make a real hiker.

The girls who made the hike were: Miss Parker, sponsor; Dahlia Mae Johnson, captain; Pauline Rape, Margaret Bradley, Loleete Andrews, Louise O'Harrow, Cleone Morgan, Frances

BAILEY RANCH WINS COUNTY MEET

Bailey Ranch outclassed every rival in the meet at Eldorado Friday. They took 42 points to Kaffir's 15. Adams took 3 and Reynolds took 2. Parks of Bailey Ranch took 21.1-2 points.

Bailey Ranch won the boys play ground ball and Eldorado won the girls volley ball and baseball.

SPORT SLANTS

Hollis McCormick showed good style in the half mile, Friday. His time was fair. We are picking him to win the 880 yard at Barnhart.

The Eagles expect to go to Barnhart. Barnhart is giving four cups and medals for winners. This is the third meet that the Eagles have planned to go to and this will be the first to attend. The Brady meet was called off on account of their ineligible men.

Captain Raymond Smith did not run in the meet with Sonora. He has been sick for the last week. We are expecting him to be in good shape for the meet at Barnhart.

INTERCLASS BASEBALL

The most important game of last week was when the Juniors knocked off the leading Sophs. The Seniors gave the Juniors another good licking. The Fish walloped the Sophs 18-3. This puts the Fish in the lead.

Electric Refrigeration Will Protect His Health

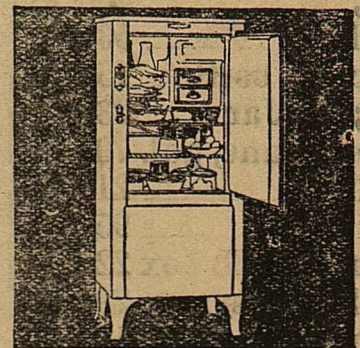

ONLY mothers know how constant are the demands for between-meal snacks... how often that growing son of yours demands something to eat! A glass of milk, a sandwich, some cheese and crackers... something from the refrigerator.

Those foods he so confidently accepts... are they safe? Are they health-building, or dangerous to health?

Scientists have found that any food is exposed to bacterial action when the temperature rises above fifty degrees. Thus it becomes unfit for use long before its taint is recognized by the normal senses.

But there's one certain and dependable way of eliminating this danger from your home—Electric Refrigeration. The modern Electric Refrigerator guarantees a constant cold, always below the 50 degree mark. And Electric Refrigeration is just as economical and just as convenient as it is healthful! You owe it to yourself and to your family to investigate without delay. Call in at the Merchandise Showroom or see your Electrical Dealer.

Convenient Terms

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

PAINS QUIT COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief.

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

Traylor Finds Too Much Silence Responsible for Business Slump

Chicago Banker Traces Crash to Failure of Leaders to Give Warnings

Danger Signals Disregarded

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Business management, however, is not alone responsible for the course it has followed. Unfortunately, it has had the cooperation of finance and government and will likewise have to have their cooperation in adjusting its affairs to a saner course. What, in fact, did the leaders of finance do to encourage the expansion which took place in the last decade?

Melvin Traylor

What, if anything, did they do to prevent such expansion with the consequences which they certainly did know or should have known would follow?

I believe their record in that connection is not an enviable one. As early as 1927, it was clearly obvious to anyone having experience with the granting of credit that if the situation was allowed to continue, and if expansion and speculation were carried on unchecked, there could be but one end—disaster. Yet the record of American financial leadership and of responsible government officials was regrettably one of too much silence.

Sounded Few Warnings

Few warnings were issued, and few attempts were made to attract public attention to the danger that threatened. Credit for the expansion of productive facilities to meet temporary demands was granted to business without adequate consideration of the consequences. Credit without stint was furnished to consumers to buy consumable goods, thereby further increasing false purchasing power and multiplying debt. No one called a halt.

Every kind and character of combination and consolidation was made, regardless of its economic advisability or the possibility of economies in management or increased profits therefrom. Little or no consideration was given to the nature of the businesses involved; in one instance, for example, soaps and candies were united. Such combinations and mergers were promoted and securities were sold on the theory that temporary earnings derived from a false demand would not only continue, but would forever increase.

Furthermore, these securities were not sold to those in a position to buy, or who could buy for investment purposes, but rather to those less able to buy—to men and women fascinated by high-powered salesmanship and an in-born desire to gamble for big profits. Was such financial leadership calculated to inspire confidence or make for an economic stability which insures social welfare? I am afraid not.

But financial leadership did not stop there. It actively promoted the purchase of equity stocks and split its own unit of stock par in order, as it said, to bring its market value within the reach of the small investor. May I add, parenthetically, that such action would have been unnecessary for their purpose had they waited only a few months.

Financial leaders organized and promoted so-called investment trusts to give the small investor a chance to profit from wise financial leadership, made foreign loans of speculative value, and, altogether, followed the procession obviously intent upon getting theirs while the getting was good.

Must Chart New Course

Are we to have a repetition of this kind of financial leadership? If it be true—as I believe it is—that credit is the life-blood of the nation, and that there can be no economic stability or social progress without a sound financial structure; and if it be true—as I also believe—that no financial system is sounder or more useful than its management, then financial leadership in this country must take stock of itself, turn over a new leaf, and chart a new course of conduct for its future guidance.

If it be objected that not all financial leaders are guilty of such misconduct—and certainly there are some who are not—the indictment, nevertheless, stands. As far as the record discloses, not one had the courage to fight in the open against the tendencies he knew were wrong and to demand a right-about-face. Knowledge is one thing, but courage of leadership is another.

FOUND TAX REDUCTION

There is room, and plenty of it, for sound tax reduction by government. But in some quarters there seems to be a misunderstanding of the question.

Nothing must be done that will in any way imperil the legitimate operation of government or cause it to fail in meeting its liabilities. If that should happen, the inevitable result would be panic—and there is no telling where it would end. It is manifestly impossible for government to cut costs to the degree of manufacturing businesses, which can adjust overhead to demand for their products.

What government can do is to eliminate waste, duplication of effort, the general inefficiency prevalent in many departments. Doing this would improve, rather than damage, the operation of government—and it would be a boon to the taxpayer, who is already struggling under severe burdens.
