

Plane Sale Policy Is Defended By Secy. Woodring

Says No Coercion Used; Program Will Help U.S. Aviation Development

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27 (AP)—Secretary Woodring today coupled a stout defense of the army's new foreign sales policy for late-model airplanes with a denial the policy had been adopted under coercion and a statement that "as long as I am secretary of war I am not going to be pushed around."

The war department chief told the house military committee that the revised policy had been worked out by him and his advisors "without coercion or pressure from anybody." His statement followed a question by Rep. Andrews (R-NY) as to whether there had been friction between Woodring and a committee recently authorized by President Roosevelt to coordinate foreign plane purchases with domestic needs.

In support of the new policy Woodring told the committee that it would assist the United States army to keep its airplane development constantly modern. He declared the army already has "possibly half a dozen types of planes superior to any in the world."

The new policy provides for the sale to foreign nations—principally France and Britain—of the newest type of military aircraft actually in production.

This policy, the secretary said, would not result in disclosure of military secrets nor in delay to the air corps expansion program.

"When it is to the advantage of the national defense the war department will negotiate for deferred payment on contract planes," Woodring testified. "If manufacturers take advantage of foreign orders, then prior to release for sale abroad, manufacturers shall agree to accept orders on existing war department contracts."

"The government must be fully protected and any authorized delays must not interfere with the delivery of equipment for units immediately necessary for our defense needs."

Woodring told the committee the war department might find it necessary, in order to carry out the new policy, to ask congress to extend the time in which existing appropriations for airport purchases are available for expenditure. Normally, when a department fails to use funds appropriated for a specific fiscal year, the money goes back to the treasury.

MRS. THOMAS AND SON INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas and a son, Don Thomas, were recovering at the family home at 1603 Gregg street Wednesday from injuries sustained Tuesday afternoon in a car mishap near Abilene.

Don suffered from a fracture of his left leg while Mrs. Thomas had abrasions and painful bruises.

They were enroute from Breckenridge, where they had taken a daughter and other college students, when they met a car on a brow of a hill. Don swerved to avoid striking the other automobile, causing his wheels to be caught in a soft shoulder. The car overturned two times.

Queen's Wreath Grows Rapidly In Warmth

Another of suggested varieties listed for an "official" shrub of Big Spring is the Queen's Wreath, which appears on the ballot sponsored by the local Garden club in an effort to stimulate public interest in civic beautification. Club members are urging again that a wide vote be taken on the selection of a favorite shrub, and are asking that ballots be turned in—as listed below—by noon Saturday. The species winning popular favor will be stressed in future programs of civic beautification. Only the South can boast of the Queen's Wreath, a native of Mexico and one of the most conspicuous and beautiful climbers of our region. The rosy pink flowers are produced in long, graceful racemes from late summer until frost and are artistic in floral arrangements for many purposes. It is a tendril climbing vine, often growing to a height of 30 feet in one season. Though the plant is killed to the ground each year, hot weather will again bring it out for almost miraculously rapid growth. When June brings its great heat, the Queen's Wreath will start its rapid climb, frequently growing 10 to 12 inches daily. This vine, since it is a native of hot country, needs to be baked and is best grown on south or west exposure, against a wall that throws out heat. The tendrils of this climber cling to rock or brick, but need support on stucco and frame structures. It will cover walls, fences or will climb bushes or shrubs which cannot be injured by its slender runners. The plant is known botanically as Antigonon leptopus, and is known by various names, including coral vine, coralitis, queen's crown, mountain rose, Mexican love vine, etc. It grows from seed or can be propagated by root division.

Special Truck Permits Held Void By Court

Appellate Court's Decision Favors Common Carriers

AUSTIN, Mar. 27 (AP)—An Austin court of civil appeals ruling today apparently invalidated at least a portion of 1,200 special commodity permits issued by the railroad commission to truck operators hauling livestock, mohair, wool, feedstuffs, household goods and other commodities.

The appellate tribunal ruled against the railroad commission and a Texarkana truck operator and in favor of railroads and a common carrier truck line. The ruling, which was not final since the litigation probably will be carried to the supreme court, set aside as invalid a permit granted Thomas G. Hunter of Texarkana, reversed the judgment of a Travis county trial court and remanded the cause for temporary relief.

The court, in effect, voided the permit on grounds the applicant was not required or permitted by the commission to plead and prove that public conveyance and necessity required the proposed service or that existing transportation facilities were inadequate to render the service.

The commission requires common carriers, operating under another type of permit, to show and prove need. "If (the statute under which the permit was granted) clearly means what the commission construes it to mean, it is, we think, invalid as discriminatory (under the due process and equal protection clauses of the state and federal constitutions)," the ruling stated.

"This provision does not expressly exempt such carriers of the special commodities named (including also oil field equipment, timber in its natural state, farm machinery and grain) from other provisions of the act." The suit was filed by six railroad companies and one truck line against the commission and Hunter and the trial case in district court without a jury on an agreed statement of facts. The plaintiffs were denied relief.

Rio Grande On A Rampage

BROWNSVILLE, Mar. 27 (AP)—Fed by heavy rains during the past week the Rio Grande roared toward flood stage today, causing concern on both sides of the border stream. From five to eight inches of precipitation was recorded in the Rio Grande valley but rains in the Mexican watershed and upper river watershed were causing most of the rise. At mid-morning the U. S. weather bureau said the Rio Grande would reach a stage of 18.5 feet here by tonight, which would be above flood stage but six feet below the top of levees. The bureau said that if the levees held there was no cause for alarm.

TWO NAZI PLANES ARE SHOT DOWN

LONDON, Mar. 27 (AP)—The air ministry announced today that two German aircraft had been shot down in flames yesterday in a fight with the British near Metz, France, on the western front. The official British account said that one British fighter plane was shot down but that the pilot escaped by a parachute. It described aerial activity in the neighborhood of Metz as showing "marked increase."

CAA Hearings Are Postponed

All Civil Aeronautics Authority hearings on airline applications for certificates, originally slated between April 15 and June 1, have been postponed, the chamber of commerce was advised by telegraph Wednesday afternoon by Rep. George Mahon. Mahon said the CAA reported it was making the postponements to give time for pre-hearing conferences. Applicants for air service north and south through Big Spring and other West Texas points, including Braniff, Emswiler, TWA and Continental, are among those whose cases were originally set for April 15. No new dates for the hearings were set.

BARLOW BOMB BLASTS LOGS—Here's what happened at Baltimore when Lester Barlow, inventor, put an eight-ounce charge of his liquid oxygen-carbon explosive under two big logs and set it off in a demonstration at the Green L. Martin airplane plant. The small charge of the explosive, which Barlow told a senate committee in Washington recently would kill every living thing within a thousand feet of it, reduced the logs to matchwood and sent small pieces of wood hurtling through the air. Note the two big pieces of wood close to the top of the picture.

Britain Seeks To Halt Nazi Ore Imports

LONDON, Mar. 27 (AP)—While British warships busied themselves with tightening the blockade against German ore imports in hope of luring the German fleet into open battle, Great Britain counted on the Royal Air Force today for yeomen service against any spread of German submarine raids. Concentration of British destroyers and submarines in the Skagerrak, off the Danish and Norwegian coasts, was placed primarily on cutting Germany's ore supplies from Sweden, but neutral observers saw a deeper motive.

They said that if Germany could be goaded to send out a cruiser squadron against these comparatively light forces, the British probably would have some heavy units nearby to fall upon the Germans with superior power.

The 6,574-ton British steamer Castlemore today was reported overdue and was feared lost with her crew of 40. Thirty-six survivors from the 6,922-ton British steamer Rossington Court, rammed and sunk by an unidentified tanker in Mid-Atlantic March 13, were landed in Britain today by a motorship which had rescued them from a single lifeboat.

Three Texans Are Killed In Grade Crash

ROBSTOWN, Mar. 27 (AP)—Three prominent Robstown business men were killed instantly today when their automobile was struck by a Tex-Mex Line diesel locomotive in a grade crossing crash six miles west of here. The dead: Truman Kellam, 54, president of the Robstown National Bank; Raymond Stubbs, 42, produce buyer; S. J. Holchak, 34, vegetable buyer.

Howard Roberts of Corpus Christi told Justice of the Peace Frank L. Harigel that he was driving behind the death car south along highway 44, paralleling the track. He saw Stubbs' automobile, just ahead of him, turn left into the crossing.

"I saw the train coming," said Roberts, "and started to honk my horn but thought it might confuse them. I could hear the locomotive blowing its horn. The train struck the car and dragged it about 360 feet. Mr. Kellam fell out. Then I saw two men of the train crew pull the other two bodies out of the car."

Engineer V. A. Speer said the men apparently did not hear his horn until the last minute. "They looked up in horror at just the moment of contact," he said. Justice Harigel termed the tragedy an accident. The right of way has an unobstructed view for a mile in either direction.

M'Casland And Woody Pile Up Envious Records In Master Class At Two National Pistol Matches

L. F. McCasland, Big Spring state highway patrolman, and Jess Woody, Stanton barber, are back home after confounding the pistol masters with enviable records in the master class at national matches in Tampa and Miami, Fla. They didn't come away with grand aggregate in either the National Mid-Winter Pistol matches at Tampa or the Flamingo matches at Miami, but they weren't far away from the leading totals. McCasland ranked no lower than ninth at Tampa and Woody reversed the tables to hold that place in the Miami matches.

Franco-Soviet Break Seems Imminent

Paris Asks Moscow To Recall Envoy, After 'Insult'

PARIS, Mar. 27 (AP)—A complete break in diplomatic relations between Soviet Russia and France appears to be foreshadowed in the recall—at French request—of the Russian ambassador to Paris.

Message Stopped An official spokesman charged today that France and her ally, Great Britain, were "insulted" by a telegram which the envoy, Jakob Surits, recently attempted to send to Joseph Stalin, congratulating him on the peace treaty with Finland as a stroke against "British-French war-mongers."

A censor stopped the message before it could get on the wire to the Kremlin, it was disclosed in Moscow. The French pointed to the alliance in the Near East and the allies' understanding with Turkey who holds the key to the Black sea in the Dardanelles. Turkey however, is not bound to help the allies to fight Russia.

Premier Reynaud's inner war cabinet held its second meeting this morning. Surits is expected to leave for Moscow within a few days. Then neither nation will have an ambassador in the other's capital. The French envoy, Paul Emile Naggar, has been on "sick leave" for some weeks.

The French demand that Russia recall Surits was interpreted as a "warning" to Russia from the new "win-the-war" government under Paul Reynaud that it intends to take a stiffer diplomatic course.

To Take Bids On Decoration

April 5 was set as the final date for accepting bids on decorating the city for the West Texas chamber of commerce convention, as the decorations group headed by Jake Douglas met to map plans for an extensive "dressing up" of Big Spring for the big convalescence May 13-14-15.

Specifications were drawn up to send out to prospective bidders. They provide for stringing at least 100 banner lines throughout the business section, the decorating of store fronts, and hanging of banners in such convention gathering places as the hotel lobbies and ballrooms, municipal auditorium and high school auditorium.

Committees will contact merchants after a contract is let, to seek city-wide cooperation in the convention decorations. All business firms will be asked to join in the general decorating scheme, using the facilities the committee approves.

House Stands By Fund Slash For Wage-Hour Law

Attempt To Restore Budget Cut Defeated; FD Studying Relief Needs

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27 (AP)—The house stood squarely behind its appropriations committee today and insisted on slashing President Roosevelt's recommendations for wage-hour law administrative expenses.

It defeated, on a tangle vote of 115 to 148 an attempt by Rep. Casey (D-Mass) to restore a $1,635,000 cut in budget estimates for wage-hour salaries for the fiscal year beginning July 1. That would have raised the total for salaries to $5,865,000.

The appropriations committee had asked the house to cut a total of $1,080,000, including the salary item—from the president's total request of $6,185,000 for the wage-hour administration because of a "confused administrative problem" and because the law needed amendments. The proposed total was $1,645,900 more than the current appropriation.

Col. Phillip Fleming, wage-hour administrator, had been represented just before the vote as believing that if congress failed to provide adequate funds for enforcement of the wage-hour law the law should be repealed.

Rep. Casey quoted Fleming as saying that "if the law isn't effectively and efficiently enforced, it ought to go off the books."

Rep. Houston (D-Kan) said that if he thought the cuts would impair efficiency of the act, he would support Casey's proposal. "But I don't think it is necessary to send out an army of inspectors when only seven per cent of industry is complained against," Houston said.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt began a study to determine exactly how much money will be needed for relief in the next fiscal year.

In his original budget, Roosevelt figured $1,300,000,000 would cover activities of the Works Projects Administration, Civilian Conservation Corps, National Youth Administration, and Farm Security Administration. He said at the time the figure represented a large reduction below expenditures for the current year and declared that if the curve of employment did not go up as was hoped, it might be necessary to ask for additional funds.

The chief executive arranged a conference on the relief problem today with John Carmody, Federal works administrator; Colonel F. C. Harrington, WPA director, and Harold Smith, budget director.

On Capitol Hill today the congressional economy drive ran into new trouble when Senator Thomas (D-Okla) opened a fight for more flood control funds. At the same time some house members rallied behind a move to see that relief funds were increased beyond Mr. Roosevelt's original budget figures.

NEW LIFE —more than a change from fagged Winter oil when you change to OIL-PLATING Winter takes the tuck out of your oil and puts in the grit. It's cheating yourself not to have that scratchy mess drained out. Change to clean oil at least—preferably to patented Conoco Germ Processed oil because that will promptly OIL-PLATE your engine. And the change to OIL-PLATING beats a plain oil-change at the same price by fastening lubricant up in the cylinders to stay PLATED up there—even while pistons move clear down—and while the car stands still for hours. That is, through all the millions of moments when the usual fluid oil-film goes draining down to the crankcase, your Germ Processed oil maintains constant OIL-PLATING—an extra inner lining of lubricant that's drain-proof. You know the good of it when you realize that OIL-PLATED surfaces can't drain dry of lubricant during all the starts and runs you'll make this season with patented Germ Processed oil in your engine. Like chrome-plating keeping bumpers "wrapped away" safely from rust, OIL-PLATING keeps the far more valuable engine parts "wrapped away" safely from extreme wear. That is how to keep the life—and the oil—in your engine. Have Your Mileage Merchant OIL-PLATE it today with its recommended Conoco Germ Processed oil for Spring. Continental Oil Company

Planning A Garden?

To Combat Bugs, Study Their Methods Of Attack

(Eighth In A Series)
By ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Feature Service Writer

Your first defense in your war on insect pests is to differentiate between their two methods of attack. Some bugs do their damage by chewing, other kinds by piercing a plant's leaves or branches and sucking out vital juices.

Study the injuries. If leaves are being eaten, a stomach poison will kill the insect causing the damage. If the plant is turning yellow and wilting, but there is no evidence of chewing, look for plant lice. They will have to be dusted with poison.

Most common varieties of chewing insects are cabbage worms, potato bugs, cucumber beetle, cutworms, grasshoppers and Mexican bean beetles. Lead arsenate, calcium arsenate or paris green is the dish for them. The Mexican bean beetle is particularly fond of magnesium arsenate and it won't do much damage to tender bean plants.

Five parts of hydrated lime are mixed with one part poison to make a dust; two to three table-spoonfuls of poison to a gallon of water for spray. The dust should be sprinkled over each plant in the morning when there is dew. Spray mixed with poison and sprinkled on the ground is good bait for cutworms of grasshoppers.

Plant lice and squash bugs are sucking insects. For plant lice, mix a teaspoonful of nicotine sulphate with a gallon of water in which you have dissolved an ounce of laundry soap. Apply this under the leaves with a small spray. Try to bathe the insects in it.

Squash bugs must be trapped. Place shingles near the plants at night. The bugs will crawl under the boards and may be harvested in the morning and dropped in kerosene.

Tomorrow: Portable garden.

PROPOSED ADDED CUSTOMS FACILITIES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27 (AP)—Rep. Lanham (D-Tex.) introduced in the house yesterday a bill authorizing secretaries of labor and treasury to acquire lands and construct buildings for customs and immigration services on the Mexican and Canadian borders where facilities are not available.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) of the senate military affairs committee, introduced a similar bill to transfer control of 6,450 acres in Hawaii national park from the interior to the war department to be used by the air corps for a bombing target range.

ARTILLERY FIRE ON WESTERN FRONT

PARIS, Mar. 27 (AP)—French military sources today reported there had been an exchange of heavy artillery fire along the 40-mile line between the Nied and Saar rivers yesterday.

West of the Moselle river a German patrol was repulsed and a French contingent followed its retreat with a raid deep into enemy lines, it was said. There also was renewed aerial activity.

Says Marines Would Be Welcomed Back To Nicaragua

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 27 (AP)—Dr. Adolfo Altamirano Browne, Nicaraguan minister to Panama, said today European power politics and the gobbling up of small nations had made such a deep impression in Central America that the U. S. marines would be welcomed if they came back to Nicaragua.

"We realize American troops will cross Nicaraguan soil to go to the defense of the canal if it is threatened," he said in an interview. "Our president has said this and public opinion is quite prepared for it."

"We are ready, in fact, to do anything necessary for defense of the hemisphere in this war, even to use of Nicaraguan troops. It's up to the United States to make the first move. We'll follow."

Less than a decade ago U. S. marine occupation of Nicaragua was resented throughout Latin America as a symbol of American imperialism.

Camps For Refugees To Be Closed Soon

PARIS, Mar. 27 (AP)—French government camps for Spanish civil war refugees, whose number reached 500,000 after Generalissimo Francisco Franco's nationalists drove to the French border a year ago, will be closed the end of this month.

French officials, in announcing this decision today, said that of the flood of refugee Spanish republicans only 6,000 men remained in the once extensive cantonments, and official records were produced to deny allegation made recently in the United States and Mexico that the refugees had received "bad treatment."

Of the original half million men, women and children who streamed across the frontier before the victorious Franco advance, only 155,000 remain in France, the officials said, and with the exception of the 6,000 still in camps, they have been assimilated in the nation's war effort against Germany.

The remaining 345,000 either have elected to return to Spain, or have taken refuge in Latin American or other countries, it is said.

The Airline Puzzle

With a consolidated hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Authority less than a month away—the date is April 15—the airline expansion proposals for this immediate Southwestern area have taken on all the complexities of a jigsaw puzzle.

The Denver-San Antonio route has developed as an important one. Braniff would operate such a line, Denver to Pueblo to Amarillo to Lubbock to Big Spring to San Angelo to San Antonio to Laredo.

Big Spring was one of the pioneers for a north-south air service, working with San Angelo and Lubbock, among others, many months ago, before the operators were interested. It remains this city's policy—and chamber of commerce committees are correct in maintaining the stand—to support the original projected program.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—Whenever I begin to brood over the mechanical, prosaic, workaday turn this picture business has taken in recent years, I try to think quickly of men like Otto Brower, Ernest Schoedsack and Jim Havens.

Movies have been mechanized. Adventure and romance are charted in celluloid footage, in sound frequencies, in units of electric power. You trip over cables on sound stages. The camera runs itself electrically. Beauty and glamour are things of plaster and paint and false hair and publicity. Nature has been brought indoors and is just a process shot. Hollywood is a robot, wired for sound, punching a time-clock.

But the Browners, the Schoedsacks, the Havenses still go forth—and adventure goes with them, beyond the reach of automatic "efficiency schemes" and the practical "certainties" of studios.

Otto Brower is a director. Mild, gray-eyed, soft-spoken, you wouldn't pick him to lead an expedition into Africa. The studio did. Brower came back with enough exotic film to make "Stanley and Livingstone" and Zaneuck has "Tanganyika Exploit" coming up.

The world should have stood still, but it didn't. Stars appeared overhead, the sky deepened to purple, the red eyes of the little campfire begged for fuel, and all were ignored.

The world didn't stand still; it turned topsy-turvy for Tomi. It stood on its hoary old head and threw her well-organized plans into space. What was a frog farm? What did success, winning a wager with a ghost, mean?

Allen said nothing when he released her. Still dazed, she watched him pile logs on the little fire and, automatically, she reached to pull the coffee-pot back, to scrape some coals aside for frankfurters he'd brought with him.

"I telephoned Doty," he said at length. "She was worried. There'll be a boat here for us in a couple of hours."

Tomi nodded, and fastened a bun to a toasting fork.

"I brought some cream for your coffee," he continued. "I found a highway with a little store and filling station a couple of miles beyond."

Again Tomi nodded.

Leap Before You Look

Chapter 20 WHIRLING WORLD

It was a remarkable world. The tulips were so green, the beach grass a brilliant orange, the little sloughs were a vivid blue, the mountains now a deep purple.

Two herons stepped into view, to stand on long legs, red bills vivid against their white feathers. Like a Japanese etching, thought Tomi.

"Wouldn't I love to take them home," she murmured. "No," answered Bartell, "unless you expected Abe to stuff them. White herons consider frogs a delicacy."

Tomi didn't know when she dropped off to sleep; she only knew that for the first time since the will contest she was completely at ease. She awakened to find the sky turquoise green, banded with stripes of orange and apricot clouds.

Bartell was not in sight. He was not on the little island. The tide was out. Only a thin strip of water lay between their little mound and the next one.

Beside her was her vanity box. On top was a note. "I'm off to find a telephone. Keep the home-fires burning so I can find you if it turns dark before I get back. Love, Allen"

Tomi forgot the first part of the note because she was concentrating on the "love—Allen." It wouldn't be a difficult thing to do, she thought, and found that thought exciting.

She dressed, then investigated the larder. She'd have everything ready to serve by the time Allen returned.

He returned at dusk, making it across the bayou as the tide was sweeping in. Tomi watched him, smiling, believing her joy in his returning was merely relief at not having to spend a night on a lonely island.

There was no excuse for the readiness with which she went into his arms, with which she lifted her face to meet his lips, or the heady, reckless intoxication which swept over her at their touch.

The world should have stood still, but it didn't. Stars appeared overhead, the sky deepened to purple, the red eyes of the little campfire begged for fuel, and all were ignored.

The world didn't stand still; it turned topsy-turvy for Tomi. It stood on its hoary old head and threw her well-organized plans into space. What was a frog farm? What did success, winning a wager with a ghost, mean?

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Parlor Game: It's called "Pinning on the Diaper." Interior Secretary Ickes, doing a little extra-curricular stint for the Democratic party, started the whole thing in a magazine blast at Tom Dewey. He made some scathing reference to pinning the young presidential aspirant's diaper up behind.

Representative Hoffman (Republican) contemptuously pointed out on the floor of the House that Mr. Ickes didn't know his diapers, demonstrated pinning on infant panties with one pin. Opponents called Mr. Hoffman old-fashioned.

The squabble spread. Now the capital is divided into camps and is eager to demonstrate opposition fallacies on every occasion. There are one-pinner, two-pinner, three-pinner, square-riggers and advocates of the flying triangle.

Hospital baby wards and nurseries, which should be final arbiters in such a matter, refuse to enter the fray. It's a political fight, they say, and in political fights there's no room for science.

Washington traffic is a mess. The capital ought to be setting an example for the United States, but instead it offers a driving problem that would make breaking trail in the African bush seem like a joy-ride.

There are so many rules and regulations that not even the veteran taxi drivers can remember them. The regulations change throughout the day. At 4 o'clock you get fixed for making a U-turn where it was O. K. at 3 West-bound streets become east-bound at the turn of the clock.

Being a capital traffic cop must be one of the most discouraging jobs in the U. S. Not because of all the rules and regulations, but because every time you hand out a ticket, you stick out your neck.

Nearly every one in Washington has pull or he wouldn't be here. In the last two weeks, 125 traffic tickets were "fixed." Add to that all the violations the police didn't give tickets for because they knew it would be useless.

Examples: (1) Man parking in driveway turned out to be a foreign embassy official. Ticket torn up. Reason, diplomatic immunity.

(2) Rep. Dash-Dash requested ticket handed young lady be changed to warning. Granted.

(3) Man parked in restricted zone turned out to be official collecting Finnish relief funds. Ticket changed to warning. Reason, it's a worthy cause.

That's a rough life. Traffic police badges here should bear the motto: All is futility. Invitations to tourists should read: See your capital—but on foot!

Goobertorial: It's time for us to revise our opinion of the peanut.

Thumbing through a batch of recent Federal Tax refunds at the Treasury department, I came across the notation that the Columbian Peanut Co., Norfolk, Va., received a refund for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1936, amounting to $24,832.66.

Considering that that's just the refund, it looks as if the peanut business isn't exactly what you'd call a peanut business.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The class will kindly prepare for the regular weekly Broadway quiz, and, remember, no peeping until you get to the end.

1. Let's begin by saying that New York is known as the City of Churches. With a lead like this it ought to be easy for you to identify (a) The Windy City, (b) The Eternal City, (c) The City of Brotherly Love, (d) The Crescent City, (e) The Smoky City, (f) The Twin Cities, (g) The Motor City. Anything less than six out of seven positively won't do.

2. Now let's look at some well known characters from the movies, the theater, the radio, and from books. (a) Sadie Thompson. Identify her. One of her best lines was "Men are pigs, pigs, pigs." (b) Madame Goddamm. She fiddled around with an oversized bird cage. (c) Mr. Christian. He got into trouble with a sea captain and had quite a time. (d) Sergeant Quirt. He had a pal named Flagg and they fought like cats and dogs. (e) Asa. This fellow went around with a well-known detective. (f) Lennie. He liked to carry dead mice in his pockets. Once when his pal caught him with one, he cried, "Lennie, that mouse ain't fresh." You have to get five out of six.

3. Can you name a song writer whose name reminds you of a city in Germany, a woman novelist whose name reminds you of a city in Scotland, an actor whose name reminds you of a city in Texas, a member of the president's cabinet whose name reminds you of a city in Mississippi? Here's an example. If I asked you for a movie actor whose name reminded you of a city in Alabama, the answer would be Robert Montgomery. You have to get four.

4. This one is tough, but if you get it, think how good it will make you feel. It concerns an artist, a writer, and an explorer. (a) The painter, one of the greatest, went crazy, cut off his own ear, and sent it to a lady. Who was he? (b) What American author first utilized the south seas as a background for romantic literature? (c) What Danish explorer (famed in America for his books and motion pictures) cut off his own foot in the Arctic when it became frozen? He's in New York now, and he wears a terrific beard.

Ans: 1. (a) Chicago, (b) Rome, (c) Philadelphia, (d) New Orleans, (e) Pittsburgh, (f) St. Paul and Minneapolis, (g) Detroit.

2. (a) Sadie Thompson was the girl in "Ran." On the stage she was impersonated by the late Jeanne Goddamm, and on the screen by Joan Crawford. (b) Madame Goddamm was the sinister female "trader" in "The Shanghai Gesture," made famous on the stage by Florence Reed; (c) Mr. Christian was the mutiny-minded mate with Captain Bligh on the Bounty. He finally wound up on Pitcairn Island. (d) Sergeant Quirt and Flagg were the disturbing elements of "What Price Glory." (e) Remember the "Thin Man"? Asa was the little dog that William Powell led about on a leash. (f) Lennie was the half-wit in "Of Mice and Men," portrayed on the stage by Broderick Crawford, and on the screen by the son of the late Lon Chaney.

3. In this instance the song writer would be Irving Berlin, the woman novelist Ellen Glasgow, the actor Walter Houston, and the cabinet member Attorney General Robert Jackson.

4. (a) Van Gogh, (b) Herman Melville, (c) Peter Freuchen.

The average butter-fat production from cows milked in this country last year was about 170 pounds. Cows in dairy herd improvement associations were doing better than that more than 35 years ago.

Despite the fact that passage from the ocean to Flathead Lake in Montana is cut off by the Polson dam, state game officials report the number of salmon that spawn in the lake each year seems to be increasing.

Gov. Phillips Rebuffed By U.S. Court

VINITA, Okla., Mar. 27 (AP)—Hefly Gov. Leon C. Phillips, rebuffed again in his "state's rights war" with the federal government over the $20,000,000 Grand river dam, asserted today "I'm not discouraged or afraid of any off-the-record remark in court."

The red-haired chief executive obviously was piqued by sharp criticism from the bench of his use of the national guard in an effort to halt closing of the dam until WPA paid the state $589,275 damages for roads and bridges to be inundated.

Judges Robert L. Williams, F. E. Kenemer and A. P. Murrah, sitting en banc, late yesterday continued in force until May 6 an order restraining Phillips and other state officials from interfering with construction at the power project. The judges said they would hand down their decision May 6.

Phillips declared "the constitution says that property cannot be taken unless it is paid for. Maybe we will witness a time when it will be. I am still going to protect the interests of this state regardless of by-play as long as there is hope in the courts."

The dam is being constructed by the Grand River Dam Authority, state appointed. PWA is financing the work through a loan and grant.

Tennis is in for its greatest year locally once work on the city park courts is completed.

The park's old courts are being employed daily despite the fact that the screens have not yet been put up.

Harold Harvey, president of the Big Spring Tennis association, indicated recently he would establish the date for the year's first meeting as soon as he was given assurance that work on the courts would go ahead.

Last year the unit created much interest in the sport, staged a city tournament, maintained a representative team that played through a schedule with teams of other cities.

The West Texas Invitational tournament, which hasn't been staged here in several years, may be revived if full use of all the courts under construction within the city can be obtained.

Most of last year's ranking netters—George Tillinghast, J. H. Brown, Harry Jordan, Marvin House, Jimmy Meyers, Jack Wallace—are ready for another season of campaigning.

Ready, too, is Joe Davis, former Big Spring high school great who lettered three years at Abilene Christian college. Joe did not play here last year but is capable of beating just about anyone in this vicinity.

Three Oklahoma Boys Arrive To Begin Training In Local Camp

H. C. Burrus, who has dedicated a major portion of his time the past two years in earning football and basketball letters at Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene, now is a regular on the Waddies' tennis squad.

Playing as the No. two man in Monday's inter-sectional matches against the touring Wayne university netters, Burrus lost his singles test, 6-4, 6-4, to Ervin Brumfield and paired with James King for an unsuccessful victory bid against Bill Maul and Brumfield, losing, 11-13, 6-2, 7-5.

Burrus will probably play on the H-SU baseball team, which competes in an Abilene independent league.

Three Chelsea, Okla., boys—Ralph Glenn, infielder, Lionel Russell, outfielder, and Jim Foley, right handed pitcher—arrived in the village Tuesday to prepare for the opening of the Barons' spring drills.

Foley played with Will Ramadell, the well known Baron hurler, at Chanute, Kansas.

Doc Gartman, regular halfback of the local high school grid eleven last fall, may enroll at San Angelo Junior college next September.

REDS BID FOR PAUL WANER AND JAKE POWELL

TAMPA, Fla.—It is understood that Cincinnati Reds officials, who remain mum, have sent "feelers" to the Pirates in hopes of obtaining Paul Waner, and also that the Reds would part with a sizeable sum for the Yankees' Jake Powell.

VAN ROBAYS AND ELLIOTT LOOM AS REGULARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 27 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, in and out of here on a "quickie" series of exhibitions, left one poser which may provide the news behind the baseball news this season.

It deals with the Waner boys, Paul and Lloyd, who taught themselves to hit corn cobs with a broom stick so accurately during Oklahoma school days, they became one of the great brother acts of baseball.

The question is: Are the Waners nearing the end of their string with the Pirates?

The answer, on the face of the present set-up, would appear to be "yes."

It may not happen this season, or next. Then again, sudden departure of either from the club, would occasion no great surprise to those familiar with the workings of the team.

They are the sole survivors of an era that saw Pittsburgh win its last National League pennant—in 1927. Like all other playing veterans, they are becoming increasingly confronted with the problem of bucking Old Man Time.

Paul, who joined the Pirates in 1926, will be 37 years old next month. He is beginning his fifteenth season. Lloyd, 33, hopped into a Pittsburgh uniform in 1927.

Three times Paul has led the league in hitting. He was top stick man of the club with .328 last season. His batting eye is still sharp. But his former speed is only a memory.

During this spring training, youngsters Bob Elliott and Maurice Van Robays have been performing in the center and right field berths once completely dominated by Lloyd and Paul.

Both are driving hitters, in the .300 class.

Bucky Harris Claims Sens Have Best Ball Club In Ten Years

By GAYLE TALBOT

ORLANDO, Fla., Mar. 27 (AP)—Some consider the Washington Senators the most improved ball club in the American League, and Manager Bucky Harris thinks the 1940 model perhaps is the capital city's best in 10 years.

Not that Bucky is harboring any illusions about a pennant. He is too much of a realist for that. But the Senators' pilot might be pardoned if he took a certain pride in what he has accomplished with his limited assets.

After playing the Senators the other day, Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians summed the club up very well when he said: "They can be beat, but you've got to keep them off the bases."

That's what Harris has—one of the fastest clubs in baseball. It isn't a heavy-hitting outfit, and its pitching is only nominal. But it boasts a set of boys who can, and do, run the bases like stakes horses. George Ossa, Buddy Lewis, Jim Pofahl, Gerald Walker and some of the others will win a lot of games with their legs in the coming season.

The Senators finished sixth last year, a notch lower than in 1938. In 1938 they had Zeke Bonura playing first base and knocking in 114 runs. The moral being plain, they are dicker with the Giants now and trying to get Zeke back.

Harris considers his outfield set-up a good one, with Gerald Walker in left, Case in center and Lewis in right. Jim Bloodworth proved himself a capable second-sacker last season and Cecil Travis is going good in his new third-base position. Bucky is a little worried, though, about the throwing arm of his new shortstop from Minneapolis, Jim Pofahl.

The club has a first-rate catcher in Rick Ferrell.

Divorce was permitted by the law of Moses.

WHITENS FALSE TEETH

Get Rid of Tobacco and Other Stains This Safe, Easy Way.

Don't let your false teeth show they are false. If gums are dark and unnatural-looking with teeth dingy and stained, a Kleenite bath while you dream, or overnight, will quickly give your teeth the clean, bright, attractive lustre of "live" teeth on natural-looking gums and plate.

Here's all you do: Simply put a little Kleenite in half a glass of warm water, stir; put in your denture and leave for a few minutes. NO Brushing—just rinse and replace.

Get Kleenite today but be sure you get Kleenite. Dentists use it and recommend it.

Leadership in 1940 IT'S FORD ACROSS THE BOARD

- 1 GOING POWER: The kind of power that only the V-8 engine can provide—the instant response, lightning acceleration, marvelous economy and swift, smooth, faithful performance. 6,000,000 Ford V-Eights—more than all other Eights combined—say this is the power plant for you!
- 2 STOPPING POWER: The big, straight-line stopping hydraulic brakes of the Ford V-8 are far and away the biggest in the low-priced field—a safety factor you've got to have in the new car you buy.
- 3 POWER TO HOLD THE ROAD: No car in any price field excels Ford in roadability—in keeping "all four feet on the ground" under all driving conditions. This means safety plus comfort.
- 4 SMOOTHNESS: Not only in amazing power does the Ford V-8 engine excel, but in the smoothness that gives velvet quiet. Everyone knows no car of fewer cylinders can match an Eight in smoothness.
- 5 STAMINA: In staying power there is no car that can take the rough with the smooth like Ford. There are more Fords on the highway than any other make of car. This sturdy Ford is made to take it!
- 6 STYLE: Ford set the current modern trend in beauty of lines. And Ford's unequalled paint job makes its beauty permanent.
- 7 COMPLETE ECONOMY: The combination of low price, low cost of operation, high trade-in value and more extras at no extra cost, makes the Ford the great economy buy for 1940.

came down the stairs, then rushed to meet her. "Tom!"

He was haggard. Poor, poor Pierre.

"Tom, you wouldn't talk to me last night. I couldn't sleep."

"Well, Pierre, if I'd tried to talk to you, I'd have gone to sleep sitting up. I was tired."

"I must talk to you immediately, and alone," he insisted, as though he hadn't heard her. "Alone."

Tom looked around. They seemed to be alone. "Will the garden be alone enough?" she asked.

Pierre led her out to a seat that did Abe had built near the garden pool. A weeping willow threw lacy curtains on three sides, the fourth gave view to the house and the drive and paths.

But having led her to seclusion, Pierre said nothing. He resumed his pacing until the fish, who had come up to nibble at the rice flour balls Tom tossed in, retreated to the shelter of lily pads.

"Pierre," she said at length. "What is the matter?"

He paused before her. His eyes dark with worry. "I don't know how to tell you," he began. "It's about Bartell, what he did yesterday, his motive in kidnapping you."

"Kidnaping?" scoffed Tom. "That's ridiculous. You heard the mechanic say the feed-line had become disconnected."

"You admit, don't you, that you didn't know he'd planned a picnic?"

"Pierre, what right have you to question me?"

"I—that is, you are going to be my wife. I have a right to look after you."

Tom was suddenly startled.

Pierre had never mentioned marriage. She had taken his intentions for granted, just as he was assuming now that she had.

"Does it occur to you that you have said nothing to me about marriage?"

"Oh, Tom!" He was on his knees, his head in her lap. "I've been so completely upset, so worried. Four hours yesterday until Doty broke down and told us you wouldn't be coming back until sunset. I nearly went wild. I pictured you drowned, or drifting out in the bay. How did I know but what Bartell would find some way to—"

"To what, Pierre?"

"He stood up. 'I don't know what I'm saying. I guess it's jealousy. But after Lily had talked to me I wanted to shoot that rat.'"

Tom stiffened in alarm. "What did Lily say?"

GIANTS OUTSLUG JOE MCCARTHY'S CLUB, 14-13

TAMPA, Fla. — The Giants were jubilant today as they raced the Cincinnati Reds—for they had done what they probably wouldn't do again until next spring rolls around—walloped the Yankees. In a Winter Haven game yesterday, they outslugged the champs by 14-13 as Hal Schumacher turned in his best pitching performance of the year.

PROTHRO THINKS ELLEN WILL HELP PHILLIES

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Manager Doc Prothro believes that Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder released by the Pirates and signed by the Phillies, may supply the spark that will start the entire team hitting. "He is a great hustler, a fine flier to have on the club, and I believe he still can hit in a manner that will help us," Prothro said.

Civic Music Plea Made To Lions Club

Harlowe F. Dean came to the Lions club meeting Wednesday noon to make a plea for Civic Music association memberships and remained to almost sing himself into concert contract so far as the club membership was concerned.

He was encored vigorously after singing two negro songs. Prior to his appearance as a vocalist, Dean had urged Lions to respond to membership invitations so that the CMA goal of 600 could be realized.

Burke Summers, in charge of the program, announced "pop-off" day and had Ray Ogden speak for a club bowling team, Lawrence Robinson on increasing support of 4-H club feeding projects through better purchase of calves, and J. H. Greene on advertising the West Texas chamber of commerce convention here May 13-15.

Dan Hydon, club taitwister and Settles hotel manager, was given a rising demonstration of appreciation when it was announced that he would go to Fort Worth April 1 to become resident manager of the Texas hotel. Hudson has been Settles manager for the past 16 months.

Harry Dorman, Jr., and David Lamun, who have been "junior Lions" for the month of March, expressed appreciation for their selection to the club.

Latin American League Organized

Following up on formation of a League Union of Latin-American Citizens here March 17, the local chapter named its officers Tuesday evening.

Julian Vega was selected as president; Tony Castillo, vice-president; Gene Salazar, secretary; Aureliana Ceniceros, treasurer; and Juan Vega, reporter.

The league has as its principal objectives, according to a 25-point program, the promotion of loyal U. S. citizenship, to eliminate discriminations against Latin-Americans who are U. S. citizens, seek equal rights and opportunities, foster the use of English, educate children in citizenship, encourage respect for the race and its heritages, oppose radical and violent demonstrations, stand for religious liberty, fight against peonage and child labor among the race, consolidate funds for furthering education and culture and for defending those who may be unjustly prosecuted.

Although the league disclaims identification as a political body, it nevertheless includes as an object the participation in elections, the support of candidates in sympathy with problems of Latin-Americans and unremitting efforts to secure political rights, down to right to be on juries.

WELLES ARRIVING IN N. Y. THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27 (AP)—The White House said today it was advised that Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, would arrive in New York between 12 noon and 1 p. m. tomorrow from his "fact-finding" European trip.

President Roosevelt, it was added, will receive Welles here at Welles' convenience.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said Mr. Roosevelt's departure for Warm Springs, Ga., would not occur until after the Welles' conference. The president hopes to leave for Warm Springs late this week.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Mar. 27 (AP)—With steels in the vanguard, leading stocks moved forward one to four points today in Wall street's first million-share session in seven weeks.

The $1 a common share divided vote by U. S. Steel directors yesterday set off the rally and buyers placed orders in a more optimistic mood than the financial district has seen since early February.

Aircraft, which have been the darlings of the traders for several days past, were slow to fall in line with the most rapidly moving, but near the final gong they had scored advances approximating the best.

COUNTY BUYS TWO ADDITIONAL TRUCKS

Howard county Wednesday had purchased two trucks, running its fleet total to seven machines.

The trucks will be used on the county-WPA road program, and commissioners court members estimated that saving in truck hire on the entire projected county-wide road program would virtually pay for the trucks. Lone Star Chevrolet was low bidder with a flat $1,800 offer on the two trucks.

Local Group To Tax Meet

Big Spring will have at least 10 representatives at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce tax expenditures hearing in Odessa Thursday, chamber officials announced today.

Among those who definitely plan to participate in the session and to extend invitations to other towns to come to the WTCC convention here May 13-15 are: B. Reagan, WTCC director, Cliff Wiley, Ted Groehl, D. D. Douglass, G. C. Dunham, H. W. Whitney, E. W. Potter, L. W. Croft, and J. H. Greene. Two members from the municipal high school band will accompany the group, which leaves at 10 a. m., and will furnish entertainment.

W. C. Blankenship, accompanied by Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser, Betty Bob Diltz and Jane Marie Tingle, was in San Angelo Wednesday to attend a similar meeting and to boost the Big Spring convention. Mrs. Houser and the young women were to present entertainment.

Fingerprinting Brings Admission Of Identity

Fingerprinting did what questioning could not do here Tuesday evening when a man held in the city jail admitted he was using an alias and was wanted for jumping bond on robbery and car theft charges at Crockett, Texas.

He was Walter R. Allen, who as Jack Lane, had steadfastly told police he had no previous record. After Policeman A. W. Crocker took his prints Tuesday, Allen reconsidered.

At the same time, Deputy Sheriff D. D. Dunn filed two charges of forgery against Allen with Justice of Peace John Ratliff. It was assumed that examining trial on the two counts would be held before Allen is released to Crockett officers, who were reported enroute here.

Push Work On Music Drive

More than three score workers redoubled efforts Wednesday prior to the initial check up of the second annual Civic Music association membership campaign here during the afternoon.

Association officials were confident that the check would confirm their prophecy of increased support.

Already many new members have been listed with the organization and the renewals from current members have been encouraging. Harlowe Dean, Civic Center representative assisting in the drive, said that special efforts were being exerted to keep the existing membership so that new ones would represent net gain and make realization of the 600 goal possible. Her that aside from the personal organizations were contemplating taking out student scholarships ($2.50) to be turned over to the schools for use by deserving students. At least one service unit was down for 25 such memberships.

"Those who are yet undecided," said Dean, "are urged to remember that aside from the personal enjoyment they will receive from a membership that they will be lending support to a worthy and cultural program for Big Spring."

Also scheduled for a meeting during the afternoon was the talent committee for the purpose of making a preliminary survey of availabilities of artist talent. A tentative list of possibilities will be released Thursday and final selections will be made after the membership invitation ends Saturday at 10 p. m.

Tom Cook was a business visitor in Breckenridge Tuesday.

Who Was Your First Friend?

Wasn't he the kindly doctor, who ushered you into the world? Then came others . . . parents who taught you love, ethics and honesty . . . youngsters who showed you how to play with teamwork and sportsmanship . . . and teachers who guided you to work with a purpose. As you journey through life, you learn to appreciate the value of friends. Today, when you count your assets, experience tells you that the most priceless of all are your friendships.

Do you know of any better place to sow the seeds of friendship than in the atmosphere of your home? Do you know of any finer symbol of hospitality than Budweiser? Making friends is what made Budweiser the Perfect Host.
