Two Texans Have Important Roles In Drive for Business Recovery

Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Texas, a Director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Melvin A. Traylor, President of First National Bank of Chicago.

TEXAS has a double interest in the success of the new Reconstruction Finance Corporation which has become an important business factor under the leadership of General Charles G. Dawes, former Ambassador to Great Britain. Selection of Jesse H. Jones of Houston as a director of this $2,000,000,000 credit corporation is generally regarded as recognition of Mr. Jones' talent for tackling large business problems. Of equal interest to Texans and many others in the Southwest is the fact that Melvin A. Traylor, a native of Kentucky and a former Texan, made one of the most important contributions to the organization of the Reconstruction Corporation. Mr. Traylor, who is now a Chicago bank president and often mentioned by his friends throughout the country as a potential Democratic candidate for the Presidential nomination, went to Washington and gave a Senate Sub-Committee the benefit of his exceptional experience in agricultural banking. One of his outstanding suggestions was that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be authorized to make loans to the receivers of closed banks as a means of alleviating distress of thousands of depositors in small financial institutions throughout the country. Mr. Traylor's suggestion made such an impression that it was embodied in the Bill as finally passed by Congress. He, more than any other man, is responsible for the timely assistance that will now be possible for many depositors of small banks throughout the country.

District Court Finished Work Friday Night

District Court resumed work Friday morning, and disposed of the following cases:

The case of the heirs of R. G. Stone vs. A. J. Roach, et al, was continued.

The case of the State vs. Clevis Kinsler, for chicken theft, Kinsler got two years suspended sentence, after pleading guilty. A companion case, against Elton Spencer, was given a 9 months sentence in the penitentiary, he also pleaded guilty.

The case of Tom Wood transferred here from Irion County, was tried Friday afternoon. Wood was charged with driving a car while intoxicated. Had a hung jury for the second time, and the judge dismissed the case with the consent of District attorney. The Grand Jury has recessed.

Thomason Aiding Indian War Vets

Washington.— A more liberal interpretation of the law regarding pensions for old Indian fighters is expected here now following the appearance of Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, before the pensions committee of the House when a number of Texas congressmen, including R. E. Thomason of the 16 District, spoke in behalf of the aged veterans. Following the talks of the Texans, General Hines admitted the soundness of their argument and declared that he would give his personal attention to the situation at once.

Drs. Pennington and Patton operated on the 9 year old daughter of Lorenzo Frutus at the local Sanitarium Friday for necroses of tibia bone of right leg.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS GIVE STYLE SHOW IN AUDITORIUM

Gusta V. Graves Wednesday morning three well-known buyers came to the "Hollywood Shoppe" to view the dresses. The high school was surprised to see Jess Ella Johnson, Sammie Leudecke and Bina Sue Martin step into the shop and greet Elnora Andrews, the manager. Miss Andrews called forth several models to display her stock of dresses. The Home Economics girls acted as models and we saw the results of their's and Miss Turney's efforts in sewing this year.

Dresses of all kinds were shown, sport, street, etc. All the different materials of the season, wool crepe, washable silk, mesh, shantung, and linen were displayed.

The Home Economics girls who acted as models in the show were Evelyn Anderson, Melba Jones, Margaret Bradley, Auta Mae Reynolds, Frances Mills, Lillie Belle Kent, Margaret Hill, Aletha Faught, Mozelle Leudecke, Inez Cobb, Zona Clare Koy, Celeste Tisdale, Loleete Andrews, Oweeda Faught, Anna Florence Page and Marie Stanford.

McADOO HONORS WILSON'S MEMORY

Tribute Paid on War Entry Anniversary

SANTA BARBA, Cal., April 6.—On the 15th anniversary of America's entry into the World War, William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury in the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson, paid tribute today to the wartime president.

"The great man who led this nation in the crucial days of the World War has passed into history after writing the name of Woodrow Wilson high on the scroll of fame and leaving a heritage of inspiration to all who love justice, righteousness, humanity and democracy," he said.—San Angelo Standard.

Former Reagan County Sheriff Being Sued For $10,000.00

Bob Weatherby, former Sheriff of Reagan County, together with his bondsmen, and several former State officials are being sued for $10,000.00, paid Weatherby while he was sheriff of Reagan County. Sheriff had a claim against the State for $1,171.05 and the State officials sent him instead $11,171.05 through error, and while auditing the books, the error was discovered, and suit has been brought for the recovery of the money.

Weatherby is now living in San Angelo and is running for Sheriff there.

NO AGREEMENT ON WOOL RATES

DALLAS, April 6.—Traffic executives of railroads in Texas today were unable to agree on concentration privileges for the new, lower wool rates recently announced to meet truck competition between West Texas producing points and gulf ports.

A. C. Fonda, chairman of the Texas-Louisiana tariff bureau, in monthly session here, said several days would be required before a decision would be reached.

The new rates will not provide for concentration at San Angelo, Del Rio, Kerrville or other concentration points unless changes are made in the present proposed tariff. Various West Texas interests have asked that the concentration privilege be included in the new rates.

Religious Drama At High School Auditorium

"For He Had Great Possessions," is the title of a religious drama which will be given at the High School Auditorium Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock. This drama is given by a cast made up of the members of the First Presbyterian Church of San Angelo. It was recently given to a large house in that church and at the request of the local church it is being presented here. This drama is under the auspices of the Presbyterian church and will take the place of the regular evening service. The characters taking part include The Rich Young Ruler, The Tax Collector of Jerico, Bartimaeus and a number of others. The time is a few weeks before and during the last Pass-over of Christ's life on earth. No admittance fee will be charged and everybody invited.

WHEELER HAS BILL CREATING BODY TO LOAN TO FARMERS

Montana Senator Favors $2,000,000,000 Concern

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Creation of a $2,000,000,000 corporation similar to the Reconstruction Corporation, for loans to refinance agriculture agriculture was proposed in a bill introduced Tuesday by Senator Wheeler (Dem.), Montana. The corporation would have a capitalization of $500,000,000 from the Treasury and would be authorized to issue securities to bring its total up to $2,000,000,000.

Wheeler told the Senate a recent investigation of conditions in the West had convinced him that the Reconstruction Corporation has been of no benefit to the farmer.

Farmers can not borrow from the banks even if their farms are free from mortgages, he said, because the word has gone out to the chain banks that they should loan no money to farmers "The farmers need refinancing more than bankers and rail roads" Wheeler said. "We are not going to have prosperity unless we begin at the bottom rather than at the top."

McMULLEN MIXES WITH MEYERS ON NEXT GRAPPLE BILL

There is to be no athletic program at the Rex next week, but Earl Webb says he has a banner mat card arranged for Monday, April 11. Tuffy McMullen, a favorite here, is to mix with Don Meyers, Boston welterweight, in the main event.

Joe Kirk, who exhibited with McMullen last Monday, is to tackle Pete Cardiel, San Angelo Mexican welterweight, in the semi-windup.

Speedy Franks, another favorite with the Concho customers, is to step with Sailor Lewis who drew the decision with Cardiel here Monday.—San Angelo Standard.

Speedy Franks, referred too in the above clipping, is none other than Bill Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Douglas of our city. Bill is now in the Army at Ft. Sam Houston, but will be in San Angelo next Monday night.

LINDBERGH STILL HOPEFUL OF BABY'S RETURN

The News dispatches and radio messages of Thursday morning announces fresh contact with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby, made by a four days trip of John Hughes Custer of Norfolk, Va., and it is believed the baby is still alive and well, but could not give out information that might be detrimental to the child's return.

Marvin McDonald was in from the ranch Wednesday on business.

J. O. Willoughby was in the city Tuesday.

STORY WITH A MORAL.

We ran across the following story with a moral in our trade journal:

A tale going the rounds in Phoenix, tells now an old bachelor found attached to a pair of socks a note from a factory girl, pining for a soul mate. He responded and after waiting with high hopes for some days received this:

Dear Mr. Blank: Your note addressed to my mamma, pleased me very much. I am now eighteen years old. It's odd you should have been all this time getting her note, but I suppose the merchant from whom you bought the socks did not advertise.—Port Meade Leader.

CHICKEN-EATING COW HAS HEAVY APPETITE

And while the farmer slept a monster with sharp horns, fiery eyes and cloven hoofs ate the 78 baby chicks, and even chewed up the box they were in. That, ladies and gentlemen, well might be the ending of a true fantastic story which happened within four miles of Kerrville.

C. F. Freeman, Tivy High vocational agriculture instructor, took 84 baby chicks from an incubator at his place on the Peterson Farm, four miles southeast of Kerrville. Desiring to leave them in the sun for a few hours, Freeman placed the chicks in a cardboard box and covered it with an old glass window. It was early Sunday afternoon, so Freeman returned from the barnyard to his house to rest, little suspecting that a worse fate than kidnaping was in store for the new generation of chickens.

No sooner had Freeman disappeared from sight than a Jersey cow, probably suffering from diet deficiencies, strode to the box where nestled the chicks nosed off the glass window, and devoured the contents. When Freeman returned to see how his poultry proteges were faring he found that ye olde cow had eaten all but six, and had consumed the box, too. The six surviving chicks were wet with moisture from the cow's tongue. Hastily, Freeman rescued the remaining half dozen chicks and anatomized ($5.00 word meaning "cussed") the carnivorous bovine.

Knowing that the story sounded incredulous Freeman refrained from telling it except to a few friends. He was reluctant to give the facts even when a disheartening reporter, looking for the Lindbergh baby, finally got wind of the "cow-eats-baby-chicks" story.

Hey, Damon! Hold that brick. But, really the cow's milk is very "fowl."—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

PIONEERS' BODIES

WILL BE REBURIED IN STATE CEMETERY

Joe W. Robinson and David S. Kaufman to Be Honored

AUSTIN, Texas, March 30.—Reburial of the bodies of Joel W. Robinson, who assisted in the capture of the Mexican General Santa Anna at San Jacinto, and David S. Kaufman, first man from Texas to be seated in the national House of Representatives, will take place in the State Cemetery April 3. L. W. Kemp of Houston, of the Texas historical board, has announced. Mr. Kemp has done all the research work in connection with the Legislature's authorization for the removal of bodies of Texas heroes and pioneers to the cemetery.

Mr. Robinson was buried at Warrenton, Fayette County, where he died Aug. 4, 1889. Mr. Kaufman died in Washington, Jan. 31, 1851. The body of Mr. Robinson's wife also will be removed to the State Cemetery.

Joel Walter Robinson was born in Washington County, Georgia, in 1815 and emigrated to Texas in 1831 with his father John C. Robinson, landing at the mouth of the Brazos River. Father and son fought in the battle of Velsaco in 1832 and J. participated in the "grass fight" before San Antonio in 1835. He also fought at San Jacinto as a member of the little group that captured Santa Anna. The latter was returned to the Texas camp on Mr. Robinson's horse. Dec. 7, 1836, he was appointed First Lieutenant of a company of rifle men for duty in Gonzales County. His father, while serving as a member of the House of Representatives of the first Congress of Texas, was killed by Indians Nov. 26, 1836. Joel Robinson several times was elected from Fayette County to the lower House of the Texas Legislature and was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1875.

David Spangler Kaufman was born at Boiling Springs, Pa., Dec. 18, 1813. He attended Princeton University, where he was graduated in 1833. He went to Natchez, Miss., where he was admitted to the bar, starting practice of his profession at Nacogdoches, and the following year was elected from Nacogdoches County to the lower House of the Third Congress of Texas. He twice was re-elected and was chosen speaker of the Fourth and Fifth Congresses. Early in 1842 he moved to Sabine Town and became a member of the law firm of Kaufman & Gould, his partner, C. N. Gould, living at San Augustine.

After attaining Statehood, Texas was entitled to two Representatives in the lower House of the national Congress and two Senators. Mr. Kaufman was chosen as the Representative from the Eastern District and Timothy Pillsbury of the Western District. Both were elected March 30, 1845. Mr. Kaufman was seated June 1, but Pillsbury did not take the oath of office until June 10. Mr. Kaufman died at Washington Jan. 31, 1851.

ADVICE TO THE MOTORIST

The following advice to the motorist, given by Maxwell Halsey of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, should be impressed upon every driver:

1. Regulate your speed to driving conditions. Twenty-five miles per hour may be more dangerous than 45 miles per hour under certain conditions.
2. Do not drive faster than will permit you to stop within the assured clear distance ahead. Some one may suddenly come out of an intersection or around a curve.
3. Know the rules and regulations and obey them. They are designed to bring safety and their disobedience will cause accidents.
4. Keep on your side of the road, it is the safe side.
5. Do not pass unless you can see that one is coming and that you have enough room.
6. Signal before you turn and turn from the correct lane.
7. Drive smoothly—the unexpected is liable to cause accidents.
8. Have your car inspected and maintain it in good operating condition.
9. Give the pedestrian more

VIOLATIONS OF FULL WEIGHT AND MEASURE LAWS SHOW DECREASE

AUSTIN, Texas, Apr. 4.—Computing scales that are out of adjustment more often favor the buyer than the merchant, but gasoline pumps are just the opposite, in that when out of order they tend to give short measure, according to M. S. Frazee, chief of the Weights and Measures Division of the Department of Agriculture.

Short-weighting by merchants is on a rapid decline and buyers can be relatively sure of getting full weight, more so now than ever before, reports of his inspectors lead Frazee to believe.

But in the matter of gasoline pumps it is different. At least twenty percent of those tested by state inspectors are out of the tolerances and are condemned for repair. Their reports show that around seventy-five percent of the pumps out of order favor the seller and not the buyer.

Those figures are gained from inspections made of apparatus legally out of order, and do NOT include those "jimmied" to short weigh or short measure intentionally, Frazee points out. Violations of the State full weight and measure laws are fewer now than in several years following an intensive campaign waged by the weights and measures division in co-operation with the federal bureau of standards, Frazee said.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

There were 5 containers of food canned per inhabitant in San Augustine county in 1930, and 39 in 1931. Perhaps this is a greater ratio of increase than in the State as a whole, but it bears out the belief that Texans have gone a long way toward "selling the home market first."

F. G. Rodgers of Spur is making American cheese as coached by the Dickens county home demonstration agent and is selling it to his grocer. He says it is a good way to dispose of surplus milk.

"When $1 a week pays the grocery bill it isn't hard to sell enough eggs and butter, even at low prices, to make the living," declares Mrs. John Eastman, 2-H pantry demonstrator in Mason county.

After two years of effort in setting state certified cotton seed planted in Hopkins county the county agent reports that local bankers, buyers and warehouse men agree that the market last year was 20 points above the base market. There were 18,000 bales sold there.

In Brazoria county the men who have been demonstrating the value of improved pastures claim that one acre of improved pasture is worth more than three of ordinary pasture. About 20,000 acres are reported by the county agent mowed to rid fields of weeds, and shade trees have been planted, drainage ditches dug, and better watering facilities added.

R. M. Stone who is a forestry demonstrator in Cass county says that his timber values on a 100-acre woodland in process of improvement for five years have increased an average of 10 percent a year.

than his share of the right of way—pick on some one your size.

10. Slow down and be particularly careful when pavement is slippery, when visibility is poor and during the evening peak hour—4 to 6 p. m.

These rules deserve careful study. Following them should eliminate to the greatest degree, the possibility of accident. They are based purely on courtesy and common sense—two great friends of accident prevention.

PRODUCTION

It seems very important in the commercial world to maintain an even balance between production and consumption. This balance is maintained in accordance with approximate need by the law of supply and demand. No good business man will continue to manufacture an article with which the market is glutted. Hence, he will slow up his production. On the other hand, when there is a scarcity, he will work overtime to supply the need. This is an age of specialization and mass production and we have developed the art to such a perfect state that there seems to be more of every product useful to man than he can possibly use. The farmer, by the use of modern tools, has so overburdened the market, by his industry and skill, that there is scarcely any sale for his products. Too much corn, wheat, cotton, livestock, in fact, too much of every commodity the farm will produce. The great oil fields are so far ahead of the needs of trade that the state has had to curtail their output to prevent waste. The great steel mills have gotten so far of the world's need that they have been obliged to cut their output in half. Scores of textile plants have shut down for lack of a market for their goods. Every line of industry is overdone and has become stagnated by its own success. Did I say every line? No, there is one line where there is a serious shortage—one factory that is not keeping up with the needs of the hour. I refer to money as the product and the United States Mint as the factory and the only factory that is permitted to manufacture this one prime necessity. The mint is the most complete monopoly in our entire business world and cheaper money is the crying need of the hour. While the price of every other commodity has decreased enormously, in value, the price of money has gone up. Desperate men are willing to pay fifty per cent interest for the use of money in order to save their property from the sheriff's hammer.

The whole business world lies stagnant for lack of the money impulse to make it go. Men, by the millions, are staring ruin in the face for lack of money. They have plenty to sell, but because of the lack of money, there is no one to buy. So we find ourselves confronted by the curious paradox of facing ruin in the midst of super abundance. What is the remedy? Why, cheaper money, of course. Who can cheapen money? Why, the government, since it has an airtight monopoly of its production. Let the government start up the money factory and keep it running until money is as plentiful as every other commodity and the depression will be ended at once.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS AND THE ELECTRIC INDUSTRY

It is a fact that the electric utilities of the nation have fared better during the depression than have most other industries. There is danger that this may be taken as grounds for criticism by those who seek government ownership or federal regulation of the industry.

In truth, the industry's record should be cause for general public satisfaction. Its sales of power in 1931, when other industries were appreciably below other years and there has been a drop in 1932, while its investment was and is much higher—but conditions have not been so bad as to seriously hamper service. Now, as in the past, it is giving constantly improving service at lower rates and is taking the lead in new developments in many communities.

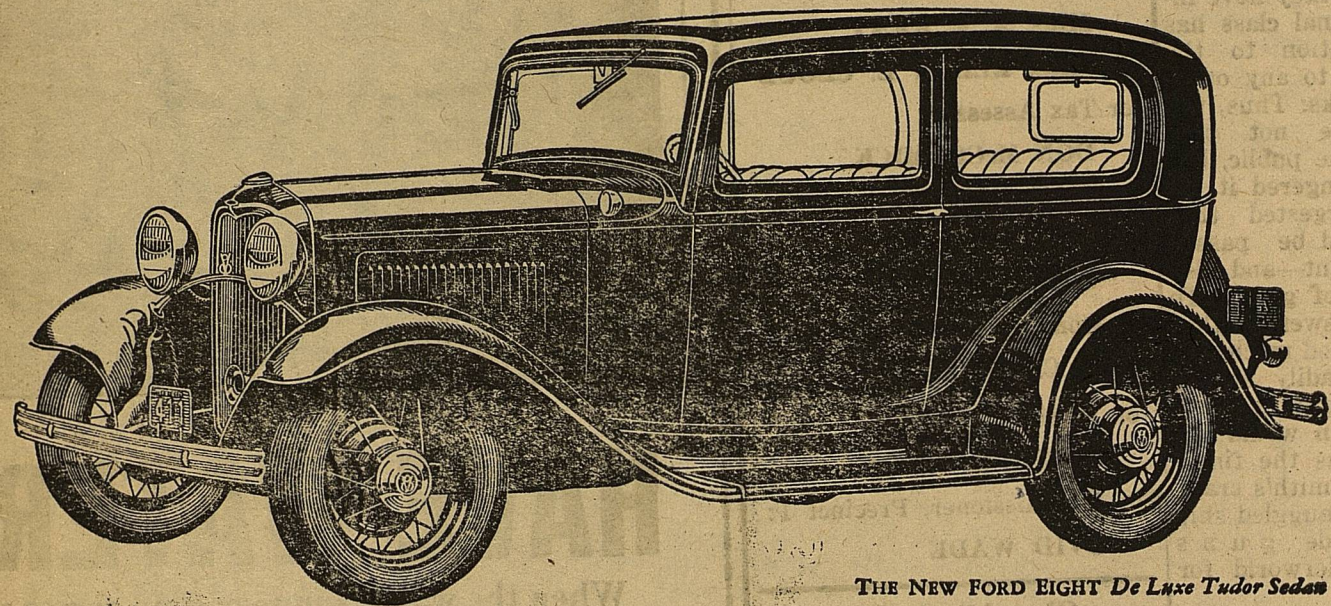

During 1931, when other industries were laying off employes and drastically cutting wages, the electric industry was able to uphold its employment and wage levels far better than most. There is little "unemployment problem" among electric employes, and their earnings, when the decreased cost of living is taken into consideration, are perhaps higher than ever.

This is partly the result of the successful application of state regulation, partly the result of a progressive management policy which has increased the demand for power by making it more readily available and at a lower cost. Those who like to criticize the industry are not finding a particularly appreciative audience at present. The public is learning that the very fact that the industry can count ahead, with a high degree of accuracy, on what business it will get and that the law permits it to earn a fair return on the investment, is of benefit to us all.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES

A new egg-breaking plant at Fort Worth will give Texas egg producers an additional outlet. It will be the largest egg-drying plant of its type in the United States, according to announcement of Lucien Cloquet, and has the backing of the Doughnut Machine Corporation of New York. Employing 125 people the plant will have an annual capacity of 4,200,000 dozen eggs.

February output of Texas textile mills was 7.4 per cent greater than for January and only 114,000 yards under the production of February, 1931, the figures being 3,360,000 against 3,474,000, according to the University Bureau of Business Research.

The first cracking plant in East Texas has been completed at Longview. It has a daily capacity for handling 12,000 barrels of oil and of producing 7,500 gallons of gasoline. The additional equipment to transform the former skimming plant into a cracking plant cost around $150,000 and thirty-five skilled workmen have been added to the payroll.

Texas produced 6.5 per cent of all fresh vegetables grown in the United States in 1931, but accounted for only one-tenth of 1 per cent of the total for commercial canning, according to Walter B. Moore, writing in the Dallas News. Texas stood fourth in production but thirty-five in canning, the State total for 1931 being only $45,000 against $6,497,000 for California, $4,656,000 for New York, $4,445,000 for Wisconsin, $3,011,000 for Maryland. Five other States, none of which are superior to Texas in truck possibilities, produced more than $1,000,000 worth of canned vegetables.

Grossbeck Chamber of Commerce is interested in establishing a canning factory. San Angelo men have acquired the property of the San Angelo Refining Co. with a daily capacity of 2,500 barrels and will put it in operation. Diamond Mill & Elevator Co., Sherman, is adding to its capacity. Amarillo Baking Co. has been organized with $60,000 capital. Doughnut Machine Corporation is erecting a $75,000 plant at Ft. Worth for an egg-breaking project. Brent Hydraulic Brake Co. is a new corporation at Orange. Glenn Rubber Co., $15,000 capital, is a new industrial concern at Waco.

V-8 PRICED TO MEET TIMES Lower Material Costs Reflected In Four and Eight Prices

For weeks, since it became practically certain that Henry Ford would offer a V-8 and a new four-cylinder car, the universal question has been, "How much will they cost?" Answering that, the price announcement instantly gave rise to another:

"How can he do it?" It has been known for weeks that the Ford company was bringing out an almost revolutionary eight-cylinder V-type motor that would be interchangeable with a greatly improved four-cylinder motor in any one of fourteen standard and deluxe body types. Likewise it has been known that new cars would have a longer wheelbase, roomier bodies, and a variety of other new features.

Low Prices Explained "How can he do it?" Ford Motor Company officials were asked.

Back of the prices, it was explained, is the cardinal Ford policy to produce the best possible automobile priced at a figure and sold on terms within the range of the most modest income to own and maintain. The new cars may be purchased for a small down payment on convenient, economical terms through the authorized Ford Finance plans of the Universal Credit Company.

The prices announced, however, would not have been possible two or three years ago. Within the last twenty-four to thirty-six months the economic situation has undergone radical changes.

Material Costs Drop Steel and iron are lower in price than at any time in the last two decades. Copper is lower than in the last 30 years, while aluminum is cheaper today than at any time since its development. Likewise, rubber, used in one form or another in hundreds of parts of the new Ford, has reached a new low level.

All of these factors, as well as the important fact that the Ford Motor Company owns vast natural resources of the basic materials entering into the manufacture of its cars, contribute to the low production costs which make possible the new prices, and which conform to another Ford principle that "it is better to sell a large number of cars at a reasonably small margin of profit, than to sell fewer cars at a large margin of profit."

NEW COTTON PRODUCT PROVIDES CONTAINER FOR FOOD MATERIALS

A new use for cotton, developed by A. & M. College, is for sausage containers—a kind of cellophane made from cotton and found most satisfactory for casings in which to pack the ground sausage. Experience has demonstrated how satisfactory is it in actual use, the transparent paperlike material showing clearly the contents and being 100 per cent sanitary and spotlessly clean.

The cellophane development is in line with the cotton product laboratory which Progressive Texans, Inc., is sponsoring, and bill establishing which is now in Congress, and the cotton containers furnished ocular proof of what scientific research can do in the finding of new uses to which the South's great staple can be put. The lowest grade cotton and linters seem, from experiments recently made, to make a better cellophane wrapper than high-grade and long-staple line.

Plants native to Texas are being used in the beautification of the campus of the State College for Women (C. I. A.) at Denton. No fewer than forty-five shrubs and flowers indigenous to Texas have been found suitable to the plans.

CENSUS SHOWS TEXAS RANK AMONG STATES IN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Texas ranks eleventh among the States in number of manufacturing establishments with 5,187.

Texas ranks fifteenth in number of industrial wage-earners with 131,503.

Texas ranks sixteenth in total wages paid to industrial workers with $147,888,053 paid out in 1930.

Texas ranks twelfth in cost of materials used in manufacturing, the 1930 figures being $97,932,276.

Texas ranks thirteenth in value of manufactured products, the 1930 total being $1,449,801,916.

Texas ranks thirteenth in power used in manufacturing, the 1930 total being 830,844.

The Mertz Star reports the death of Tol R. Rutledge at Sherwood last week. Mr. Rutledge was one of West Texas' Pioneers and was well known by many of Eldorado's long time residents.

F. R. Keele was out from San Angelo Monday meeting friends and looking after business.

Chicago, Convention Champion of 1932

Chicago Stadium in which the Democratic National Convention will be held. Inset—Melvin A. Traylor, member of the Civic Committee which obtained the Convention for Chicago.

CHICAGO has jumped into a long lead over other cities in the race for winning convention assignments, and particularly the two great assemblages of Democrats and Republicans in June puts Chicago well in the lead and gives the "Windy City" an opportunity to stage these colorful affairs as a curtain raiser to the "Century of Progress" which will be a head-line attraction in 1933. Already the convention pot is boiling merrily as committees of prominent business men are organizing to receive thousands of visitors in Chicago during June.

One of the leaders who has helped to bring the blue ribbon convention assignments to Chicago is Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank and a business man with a flair for tackling big jobs. Mr. Traylor, a native of Kenton, Ky., has achieved national and international fame in finance and business by his distinguished service in Chicago, Texas and throughout the Middle West. He was one of the delegates headed by E. N. Harley and Mayor Cermak of Chicago who went to Washington and clinched their bid for the National Democratic Convention with a fund of $200,000.

Chicago has exceptional facilities for entertaining both Republican and Democratic conventions within a single month. Already the engineers are at work with blue prints to arrange the interior of the huge Chicago Stadium where both conventions will be held.

The assembling of both conventions promises to be a great spectacle, for the arena where delegates will be seated will accommodate between 8,000 and 10,000. Circling the arena are 16,000 seats where guests and visitors may be accommodated.

And now comes Chesley W. Journey of Washington, whose home is in Texas, announcing for Congressman-at-large, and among other things he wants to accomplish for Texas is modification of the Volstead Act, so that light wines and beer can be manufactured.

Then there is Senator Morris Sheppard, father of the Volstead Law, is trying to get a law passed to make the offense of drinking liquor the same as selling it. If Sheppard gets his law through what would it take to be a qualified juror.

There are so many out for Congressman-at-large it will require lots of study and good organization to get the right man.

When Bob Schuler out in California gets to the United States Senate next fall, the cause of the common people will be represented, and the grafters and crooks will know he is there.

We found Sunday on our way to Station A, that the work of putting in cattle guards on the Station A road, where there are gates, has already been started. And in a few more days the Station A people will have on open road to Eldorado. A thing badly needed, with very little work this road can be made an all weather road. So mote it be done.

Saturday seemed to be a busy day in Eldorado. Streets were crowded with automobiles and lots of people in town, and business houses report an increase in sales, and wondered if the depression had depressed.

The slot machine craze has hit our city and quite a number are in town, and seem to be busy taking in the coins.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
 To the Sheriff or any Constable of Schleicher County Greeting: S. L. Stanford, Guardian of the Estate of Mrs. Kate Parks having filed in our County Court his Final Account of the condition of the Estate of said Mrs. Kate Parks numbered 88 on the Probate Docket of Schleicher County, together with an application to be discharged from said Guardianship.

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, That by publication of this Writ for ten days in a Newspaper printed in the County of Schleicher you give due notice to all persons interested in the Account for Final Settlement of said Estate; to appear and contest the same if they see proper so to do, on Monday, the 18th day of April 1932 at the Court House of said County, in Eldorado, Texas, when said Account and Application will be acted upon by said Court.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at my office in the City of Eldorado this 4th day of April A. D. 1932.

THIS AND THAT

By Jimminy

Newspapers reporters are such a bother. Recently a convict, who refused to work because he said he was sick, was given thirteen licks across his back with the "bat" and chained to a bench to finish out his period of punishment. It wasn't a severe beating, according to other convicts, who say they have seen them much worse. But the convict died, and was buried in the prison graveyard. A reporter received a letter from one of the incarcerated. Then things began to pick up.

He investigated, and wrote a story about the convict's death. Prison officials were peeved; they denied the accusations. Manager Lee Simmons "looked into the matter" and exonerated officials and guards. He said it was his opinion that the man was fatally hurt when he became dizzy after the whipping and fell to the floor, striking his head against the concrete. Or it was possible, he said, that another convict had struck him a blow on the head that fractured his skull and caused a concussion of the brain which, according to Mr. Simmons and the prison physician, resulted in his death. Manager Simmons said he felt sure that none of the guards had mistreated the man.

The whole thing might have been dropped there, had it not been for another convict who was released a few days later and rushed to the paper that "scooped" the story and recounted, as an eye witness, the events leading up to the beating, and later death. He told how the convict was too weak to hold up to the pace set by officials at the farm; how he cried out that he would work after the sixth lick had been dealt, and how the guard had continued beating him until the "bat" had lashed across his back seven additional strokes; how he was made to sit for hours with his hands chained behind him, and how finally he had become so weakened that he could not raise himself. It was then, the ex-convict stated, that a building tender—a trusty who is supposed to keep order in the barracks—beat the helpless convict over the head with a "billy," an instrument made of lead and covered with leather.

The story appearing in the paper "convinced" District Attorney Ben Greenwood of Palestine that something is wrong somewhere. He decided to make an investigation.

Now what? Newspaper reporters are such a bother. Well, anyway, "thar's smoke in them thar woods."

Since 1913, the cost of government in the United States has increased 450 per cent, while the earnings of the people rose less than half that amount, according to Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.

FACTS—NOT THEORIES

Advocates of anti-pistol laws, in their zeal to suppress crime, commonly fail to look facts in the face.

There is no good reason for believing that a criminal class which lives by breaking laws, would suddenly see the light and obey a law against possession of one of the tools of its trade. There is good reason for believing, however, that the result would be that the criminals would go on as before, completely armed, and that lawabiding citizens only would be disarmed. This has been the result in certain communities—notably New York, with its famous Sullivan Laws. Crimes of violence have not decreased in that city—on the contrary, they have increased. The criminal class has paid no more attention to the anti-gun law than to any other statute on the books. Thus, the Sullivan Laws have not only failed to protect the public, but have actually endangered it.

It has been suggested that Federal laws should be passed against the shipment—and also the manufacture—of guns. To this it may be answered that any reasonably skilled mechanic, using materials readily attainable, could make a gun in a few hours—and this gun would kill just as decisively as the finest product of the gunsmith's craft. Furthermore, one smuggled shipment of foreign-made guns would last the underworld for years.

Efforts to disarm the criminal and penalize heavily his use of weapons, should be encouraged. But in trying to subdue crime, we should not make the mistake of depriving the honest citizen of protection.

DOLLARS FROM GOOD ROADS

Good Roads put dollars into the motorist's pocket.

A recent report states that Wyoming roads oiled last year will save automobile owners $1,087,000 annually. The bureau of roads in that state has found that the cost of operating a car is one cent a mile less on paved or oiled roads than on gravel. And the cost of oiling 596 miles of road was $1,200,000—but slightly more than one year's saving.

Anyone who has driven over the rutty, muddy, semi-impassable roads that are still too prevalent, will bear out these findings. Nothing says accident is more detrimental to a car, or to motorist's pleasure. In these days of fast transport and widespread use of the automobile, the archaic, dangerous "cow path" road has no place.

Road oiling is cheap. First-class surfaces, of rock-asphalt mixtures, can be constructed for a very few thousand dollars a mile, with remarkably low upkeep costs. Such roads reduce motoring costs to the minimum, assure a passable artery at all times of year, under all weather conditions, act as an attraction to the tourist, bring business to small towns, are a boon to the farmer. They not only pay for themselves, but return to the state and the taxpayer a very high rate of interest both in actual cash and in benefits only slightly less tangible.

AS ONE CONVICT TO ANOTHER

Thelma Taylor
John: What you eatin'?
Bell: My tongue, do you want some?
John: Do you like this bunk?
Bell: Can't say as I do.
John: You finished that rock pile in the Spanish room yet?
Bell: Yeah, but I got a bigger one in the math room.
John: How many problems in it?
Bell: Seven for tomorrow.
John: Don't worry. Man, if you had a pile of rocks like I've got in history to outline, you'd weep out loud.
Bell: I'm not weeping.
John: You ain't got no reason to be.
Bell: Oh, let it rest 'til tomorrow. I'll finish it then.
John: Well, Oke, but I'm gonna start on mine now, believe it or not. I may get through by 12 Sunday. Poor me!
Bell: You sure like yourself. Just worry about yourself all the time. Just look at me and see the lack of worry personified.
John: I'll tell you what, you big braggart, I'll trade rock piles with you and let you do mine. How does that suit you?
Bell: Nix, you just paddle your own canoe and I'll paddle mine, and be sure you don't hit rock bottom!

WHY NOT STOP AND THINK

It's a little thing to do,
Just to think.
Anyone, no matter who,
Ought to think.
Take a little time each day,
From the minutes
thrown away;
Spare it from your work or play;
Stop and think.
You will find that those who fail
Do not think.
Those who find themselves in jail
Do not think.
Half the trouble that we see,
Trouble brewed for you and me,
Probably would never be if we'd think.
—E.—H.—S.—
GUESS WHO
Thelma Taylor

Now you may be smart and all of that
But I'll just put you to test with a little chat.
Do you know a girl with whom history is a snap?
She is always up and coming and never takes a nap.
Her hair is honey colored and very curly too
In guessing this, kind reader, I hope you don't say,
"Yo no can do!"

They're a fine lot of boys,
That's the least I can say.
They've given us many joys
And let come what may,
You'll never see E. H. S. better fixed
Than in '32 when with others they mixed,
To see which was the better Of the teams that played
Which of them would get a letter
How many goals could be made.
Now folks, when you see them walking proudly down the street
With those E's on their sweat-ers
I know you'll say, "They can't be beat."

ELDERADO WINS FOURTH TYPING CONTEST WITH SONORA

Nell Campbell
On Wednesday, March 30, the Sonora typists came to Eldorado for a contest with the Eldorado team. The Eldorado typists won the first four places in individual ranking and the Eldorado team had an average of 8.1 words per minute more than the Sonora team.
The test results were as follows: Gusta V. Graves, Eldorado, 35.8 words per minute; Elnora Andrews, Eldorado, 31.0; Melba Jones, Eldorado, 29.5; Artie M. Wood, Eldorado, 28.8; Edith Carsons, Sonora, 27.5; Mora Lee Meckel, Sonora, 20.5; James Page, Eldorado, 19.5; and Evelyn Anderson, Eldorado, 15.0.
The Eldorado team composed of Gusta V. Graves, Elnora Andrews, Melba Jones, averaged 32.1 words per minute and the Sonora team, Mora Lee Meckel, and Edith Carsons, averaged 24 words per minute.

ALUMNI AND SOCIETY

Thelma Taylor
Miss Pauline Rape and Albert McGinty attended the dance at Sonora Monday night. They reported a very good time at the dance, but not in school the next day, for they were very heavy eyed.

The cast of the play, "So's Your Old Antique" spent two nights in Ballinger the last week-end. They must have enjoyed the town and visit even if they did get beat.

Bill Sproul, J. R. Conner, and Luther Parker were visitors at the Naylor Hotel in San Angelo last week-end after the track meet which they attended there.

The Seniors seemed to enjoy themselves very much last Friday although their appearance was far from the dignified pose a Senior should have.

A large majority of the high school pupils attended a weiner roast given by the Baptist Church last Thursday night. Among those present were: Jack Kerr, Loleete Andrews, Inez Cobb, William McAngus, Ruth ix, Anna Ruth Spurgers, Tommy Smith, R. J. Page, and Grace Ratliff.

Eli McAngus, who is attending the San Angelo College, was a long-legged kid on April First Kid Day. The Seniors of the San Angelo High School and all students of the College were in a parade down the Main Street Friday. Some of the boys were on roller skates and some of the girls on bicycles.

Jim West went to the dance at Sonora Monday night and did not return to school Tuesday. Jimmie, you had better stray back to the pen because report cards are due next Tuesday.
—E.—H.—S.—

"SO'S YOUR OLD ANTIQUE"

Elnora Andrews
The players of "So's Your Old Antique," Lucile Oglesby, Grace Ratliff, Morris Bricker, Hollis McCormick and Albert McGinty, Elnora Andrews (Chauffeur) and Miss Karr (director) went to Ballinger last Friday. The play was given at 2:00 in the afternoon. We spent the morning in hunting a horn. When the time came for the horn to blow some one had broken it and sure enough it didn't blow. The same happened to the telephone.
This was the first time Eldorado ever entered in anything like this, and it was a new experience. Next year we are expecting to bring back the honors.
—E.—H.—S.—

TROPHIES WON BY JUNIORS IN TRACK

W. C. Spurgers
At the Barnhart meet there were only four Eldorado Junior Boys who were Gerald Gafford, Vernie Logan, Samuel Smith, and Aris Carr. The Juniors won the cup with no first places but they won a place in every event. Bernie Logan was Eldorado's Junior high-point man.
The cup won by the Juniors last year at the Sonora meet has not been given us yet. Wall won the cup, but had an ineligible boy and the cup was awarded Eldorado.
The Juniors expect to win the cup at Ozona Saturday April 9. At the present there is but one cup in the trophy case where the Eagle stands, but there may be more in the near future.
—E.—H.—S.—

GIRL'S TENNIS

Elnora Andrews
The Girl's Tennis Club had a business meeting Monday at 4:30. Elnora Andrews was elected captain, and Jess Ella Johnson assistant. The teams were chosen to go to San Angelo

Friday, April 15. Lucile Oglesby was chosen to play in singles with Inez Cobb as substitute. Margaret Bradley and Elnora Andrews to play doubles and Jess Ella Johnson as substitute. We hope to bring back the honors.
The members of the club are Elnora Andrews, Jess Ella Johnson, Inez Cobb, Loleete Andrews, Margaret Bradley, Evelyn Anderson, Lucile Oglesby, Artie Mae Wood and Minnie Logan.

AW! BE YOUR AGE!

Last Friday the Seniors had a chance to show their age. We all dressed as very small kiddies just beginning school. We rendered an assembly program at 8:45. Every one I am sure has learned how ridiculous Bernard, Hollis, and Morris appeared with their tied up toes. Bernard made a ludicrous spectacle with his blue overalls, red bow tie, bare feet and little straw hat. I can not take time here to tell of each individual, much as I should like to do so. I can say that Gusta V.'s and Melba's dresses proved their inclination toward corpulency to be quite the outstanding feature of the Fool's Day Program. The class will read and the Juniors found themselves the proud possessors of such things as Dahlia Fae's corpulency, Gusta V.'s dignity, Morris's ability to blush, and Hollis's popularity with the feminine sex.
After a whole day of frolic the Seniors went home and became once more their dignified personages and met up here at the school house at four o'clock and went to Christoval for a picnic. We can certainly say we enjoyed being children again but after all it is good to be dignified Seniors.

Holiday

Eldorado High School is to have a holiday next Friday, April 8, and also one the following Friday.

GRADE BOY HIGH POINT MAN AT BARNHART MEET

W. P. Terry
Vernie Logan, a member of the sixth grade class, was high point man for the Eldorado team which won the junior cup March 26 at Barnhart. Vernie won no medals for first places but he placed in every event in which he was entered. He won 8 1-4 points with seconds in the relay, high jump and the fifty and third in the hundred. The cup has to be won for the next two years and great things are expected of Vernie for he will be a junior again next year.

SENIOR TRYOUT FOR DECLAMATIONS HELD HERE LAST THURSDAY

Richard Jones
The final tryouts in senior declamations for boys and girls were held here Thursday morning March 31.
The declamations were given before the student body of Eldorado High School in the auditorium. The following girls entered the contest: Pauline Kent, Bernice Bricker, Oveeda Faught, Pauline Rape, Mary Dell Williams, Edith Bricker and Cleone Morgan. In this decision Oveeda Faught won first place and Mary Dell Williams second place.
Three boys entered the contest. They were Hollis Alexander, R. L. Sample and Vance Morgan. First place was awarded Hollis and second R. L. Sample.
The District Interscholastic Meet will be held in San Angelo, April 15 and 16. We want every one that can go to be at San Angelo on these days.
Will Luedcke was in the city Saturday.
Dick Bearce and wife were in from the ranch the first of the week, guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bearce.

JUNIORS COP INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

The Juniors won the interclass track in the meet at the local track, Wednesday. The Juniors took 52 points. The Seniors came second with 28 1-2 points. The Sophs were third with 221-2 points. The Fish came last with 18 points. Lefty Smith, a Junior, took scoring honors with 151-4 points. Junior Isaacs, a Soph, made 141-4 points. The Seniors were represented by only four men. Bull McGinty led them with 12 points. The Fish were led by Bill Smith with 12 points. The high jump and pole vault were omitted. It will be run off later, but it will not make any difference in the standing. The Juniors won the relay by 8 yards.

EAGLES SWAMP SONORA, 11-9

Junior Isaacs
The Eagles avenged the defeat plastered on them in their one point. Big Spring won the meet but there were no trophies run.

of any kind. Raymond Smith first game by winning 11-9 in a return game at Sonora last Friday. Jack Kerr pitched sensational ball until the sixth inning. With a lead of 10-0, his arm went bad. Sonora went on a spree and collected nine runs off of Jack Kerr and Lefty Smith in the next two innings. Eldorado made 18 hits, count for 11 runs. Vance Morgan and Aris Carr leading with three safties each.
—E.—H.—S.—

RESULTS OF SAN ANGELO INVITATION TRACK MEET

The Eagles attended the invitation track meet at San Angelo, April 2. Eldorado only got the Eagles' one point. Eldorado expects to make a better showing at the San Angelo district meet April 16.
—E.—H.—S.—

SPORT SLANTS

The Eagles have a even percentage with the Sonora Bronchos. The Bronchos have a 5-3 victory over the Eagles. The Eagles expect to make several trips to Ozona, Junction, and Sonora. The team does not have a game scheduled at present but they will get some.

The Eagles will go to an invitation meet at Ozona tomorrow April 9. Only five schools will be present. They are Eldorado, Sonora, Ozona, Barnhart, and Mertzon. Coach White will have two cups for Juniors and Seniors.

The Juniors won the track meet with ease. They almost doubled their nearest opponents who were the Seniors. They took only four first places but they got many second and third places.

We pick Hollis McCormick to win the half mile at the district meet at San Angelo. He should go to the state meet and place there. He was not present at the meet at San Angelo. He was at Ballinger.

The Eagles were unlucky in the relay. Carl Kerr fell down in the second lap of the race. The Bill and Raymond Smith did no meet but there were no trophies run.

"New Era" Theory a Myth

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Reams have been written, counsels, addresses have been made, and more will follow in the search for the genesis of the present world depression; and, likely, recovery will come and the crisis be only a memory without there having been found a universally accepted cause or unanimous agreement on methods for the prevention of future defaults.

Melvin Traylor

But I cannot escape the conclusion that the dawn of the present situation broke over the world in July, 1914, and it came not from ignorance of the ultimate results of the course chosen, but because of a complete breakdown of world political sanity.

There was no lack of knowledge of the consequences, but rather of courage to face the facts, to curtail national pride, and to demand common counsel in an honest search for a basis of peace. Such a search might have failed, but, unfortunately, history does not indicate that it was honestly made.

Leadership Was Lacking
I am not a pacifist. Until enlightened understanding points us to the council table of peace rather than to the battlefield, there will be a need for armies and navies. But let us not say that we choose the latter course in ignorance of the tremendous costs of the game. Rather let us admit generally the lack of courageous leadership which dared to align itself with the right at the risk of being unpopular.

The point I would make is that, without prejudice as to guilt, the human element did fall in 1914, and the world then began its march to the tragedy of 1930-31. For it is tragedy when in a world of plenty there should be so much poverty, and when, in a nation which boasts of its riches, five million or more people willing to work should be unable to find employment.

It is a challenge to the world, and especially to American business and political leadership, which cannot be ignored and must not be shirked. Causes must be determined with some degree of accuracy and remedies discovered and applied. The task is largely that of business leadership.

We would follow almost endlessly the literature on causes and remedies for the world situation, most of them dealing with the purely economic or the semi-political-economic side of the question. To the lay mind it is all more or less confusing, and to the man at the desk frequently beyond the realm of the practical.

Human Angle of Problem
In speaking more particularly of the character of responsible leadership in America, I am assuming that human conduct has differed little in most countries of the world. It is my purpose to talk about the human side of the problem.

It is the responsibility of business and political leadership to promote the economic and social welfare of the community, it may be worth while to take stock of our conduct and see how we have measured up to our duty in recent years. This much, however, seems certain. The "new era" theory current in the days of our inflated prosperity was a myth, and is equally vain in our search of relief.

The forces that have been and are at work are as old as the history of economics. Why should there be in this land of plenty, with unlimited facilities for production, abundant harvests, and a surfeit of credit, millions of hungry and unemployed? It is not the fault of those who would work, but can find no work to do. They have little or no choice in shaping their course and while it is true that society owes no one a living, society as far as humanly possible does owe every one an opportunity to earn a living. In that obligation we have failed, and until we know wherein we have failed and why, we will not have found that stability which is the universal desire of mankind today.

Mr. and Mrs. W D Swift were in the city Monday from the ranch.

Ira McDonald was in from the ranch Wednesday shaking hands with friends and trading.

Hollis Miller of San Angelo was here the first of the week meeting old friends and looking after his business interest here.

R. T. Crain made a business trip to Ballinger Wednesday.
