USAir Crash Near Pittsburgh Kills All Aboard

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

A USAir 737 on final approach to land at Pittsburgh crashed in a wooded area a few miles from the airport. Flight 427 from Chicago to Miami was scheduled to make a stop at the Pittsburgh airport when it disappeared from radar. All 132 persons aboard perished in the crash.

While the wreck still smoldered, personnel from the National Transportation Safety Board were beginning their investigation. Early clues pointed to a possible errant deployment of one of the planes thrust reversers. However, at press time, published accounts now discount that theory and authorities say it could be weeks or months before a cause for the disaster can be determined.

Man Crashes Plane Onto White House Grounds

Washington, D.C.

Frank Corder, a 38 year old truck driver was killed this week when he crashed a stolen Cessna 150 onto the White House Grounds. According to published accounts, Corder had recently taken "3 or 4" flying lessons. Authorities report that Corder and autopsy showed Corder was intoxicated at the time of the crash and that he had traces of Cocaine in his system.

Although President Clinton and his family were not at the White House at the time of the crash, the plane came to rest against the south wall of the building just below the President and First Lady's bedroom window. An investigation is underway to determine how a plane could penetrate the restricted air space surrounding the White House and U.S. Capitol Building.

Carrier Battle Group Puts To Sea Sails Toward Haiti

Norfolk, Virginia

The Aircraft Carriers USS America and USS Eisenhower along with their escorts sailed from the Norfolk Naval Base this week enroute to the Caribbean Sea. On board is reported to be the U.S. invasion force.

President Clinton has scheduled an address to the nation tonight and administration sources indicate he will make his case to the American people that military intervention in Haiti is in America's vital national interest.

Congressional leaders continue to demand a vote on the issue as opinion polls indicate 75% of the country is opposed to an invasion of the island nation.

Local Boy Mauled By Pit Bull

Six year-old Patrick Chavez is recovering at home from a dog attack which occurred near his house at 210 Laredo Street last Friday. According to his mother, Dawn Chavez, the youngster was playing in a neighbor's yard when he was attacked by a Pit Bulldog which was being kept there.

Young Patrick was taken to Schleicher County Medical Center where he received treatment including several stitches. According to his mother the boy's ear was almost ripped off during the attack.

The dog, in quarantine at Eldorado Animal Clinic was vaccinated for rabies in May of this year and will be released to its owner. The name of the dog's owner was not released to the Success.

Dawn Chavez tells the Success that she will be circulating a petition calling for the outlawing of Pit Bulldogs and other vicious dogs within the city limits of Eldorado.

Girl Scout Registration

Girl Scout Registration to be held Sept. 22. A registration and recruitment rally will be held in the Schleicher County ISD multi-purpose room on Thursday, September 22 from 4:00 pm until 5:30 pm for all girls in grades kindergarten through 12 who are interested in joining a Girl Scout troop. (Parents/guardians will need to represent to sign registration forms.) Any adult who is interested in becoming a volunteer leader is also encouraged to attend.

The mission of Girl Scouting is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens. Girl Scouting seeks to accomplish this by providing girls with opportunities to develop their potential and have fun with their peers in a supportive, all-girl setting.

Here in Eldorado, girls of all ages participate in troop activities, and in events sponsored by El Camino Girl Scout Council. From camping out and cooking over a fire, to career exploration and science experiments, Girl Scouting provides a place for girls to discover who they are, and to learn more about the world they live in.

Girl Scouting depends on adult leaders and volunteer support to offer the best possible programs. Volunteers don't have to be mothers. Fathers, neighbors, friends, grandparents, and anyone who is interested is welcome. No experience is necessary, and all training is provided by the El Camino Girl Scout Council.

For more information, or if you are unable to attend the rally but would still like to register, please contact Christie Sparrow at the El Camino Girl Scout Council at 1-800-688-2845.

Randy, you missed the point. Bob Dole had no problem lambasting the President's health or crime bills but he has been strangely silent as to the Possible invasion of Haiti. No, I do not have to go after the Democrats because as you so aptly put it the democratic Black Caucus has come out in favor of the idea of invasion. The democratic leadership is poised to support the President. It is the duty of the opposition, if there is any, to come forward, risk whatever political ramifications that might arise from disagreeing with the President, and state that they either think it is outside the powers of the presidency or that it is wrong, even if the president has the power. Bob and Phil are strangely silent. Of course, it may be because both of these men have aspirations to be president and it might come back to haunt them if they said the President lacked the power. They also might not come out well if, after they loudly protested, an invasion was a success. Even with less than half of the people in favor of invading Haiti any successful military action will bring on board whole bunches of armchair warriors. If it is a failure or even successful at too high a cost then the president will not see a second term. But quit trying to cover for Dole. He is not willing to take any political stance because he does not have to do so. That is a shame. No matter what Dole's other failings I once considered him a man of conscience. Senator Kerry took it on the chin over the gulf war, where is Bob, or Phil now? One last thing Randy, you like to use those phrases about draft dodging but be careful. Phil has no military record either. He managed to stay in school and keeps his grades up enough but that isn't draft dodging, or is it? Those of us who served have some right to see Clinton's actions in those years as less than enthusiastic about serving in the military but he was not alone. Stick with the issue not with those personal attacks that, to be sure, make conservatives feel better but add nothing to the debate.

Well folks, Tom is at it again. This week he accuses Senators Dole and Gramm of being "strangely silent" regarding President Clinton's apparent intention to invade Haiti. Perhaps Tom has been too busy lately to notice but both of these men have made several statements recently concerning this issue. I have seen them both on C-SPAN addressing the topic and they both have issued press releases regarding President Clinton's policies. However, to give Tom every benefit of the doubt, I contacted both Senators' offices this week and asked for position statements on this matter. Senator Bob Dole (R) Kansas said "The Clinton administration has apparently decided to invade Haiti without seeking authorization from the U.S. Congress. The administration has spent plenty of time in the last few weeks lobbying the United Nations and the Caribbean Community, but they have yet to make a convincing case to Congress or the American people. Congress should have the opportunity to vote -- up or down -- on the issue of authorizing war in Haiti. In 1991, President Bush sought the approval of Congress before the liberation of Kuwait in Operation Desert Storm. President Clinton should do the same before ordering American troops to invade Haiti."

Dole continued, "There is no U.S. national security interest at stake in Haiti. But if President Clinton believes American interests are at stake -- and if he wants to credibly use the threat of military force -- he should make his case to the Congress and the American people. If President Clinton makes his case to the American Congress, authorization will greatly strengthen his hand. If he cannot make his case here at home, American troops should not be put in harm's way in Haiti."

I also contacted Texas Senator Phil Gramm's office. I was informed by the Senator's Press Secretary, Larry Neal, that Senator Gramm believes that Congress should have a say regarding the President's announced intentions regarding Haiti. Neal also stated that the Senator has been unequivocal in his statements that "Haiti is not a threat to U.S. national security" and that Senator Gramm is "opposed to U.S. military intervention in Haiti."

Tom, I hope this helps you. Now, regarding your statement that I am engaging in personal attacks on the President, I find it odd that if you oppose the president it's patriotism and if I oppose him it's partisan politics. Once again, Tom, you're trying to have it both ways.

Tom, I have tried to support this President. When he finally managed to get one right with NAFTA, I supported him. And, he was correct regarding trade relations with Japan and I supported there as well. But Tom, I can count on one hand the number of times this President has seen the right side of an issue. Gay's in the military, the Brady Bill, Socialized Medicine, even his appointment of Joycelyn Elders as Surgeon General are but a few examples of this President's folly. Now to anticipate your next charge: Yes, that is my personal opinion. But, I've always believed that's what a newspaper's opinion columns were for.

Lest anyone think I've gone completely soft, let me say this. If President Clinton gives the order, the United States military will respond with every bit of pride and professionalism they can muster. There is no doubt that comparatively few American troops can achieve President Clinton's objectives in Haiti. But, I remain convinced that no amount of success in Haiti is worth the spilled blood of even one American GI.

AUSTIN — GOP gubernatorial nominee George W. Bush has agreed to debate incumbent Democratic Gov. Ann Richards in Dallas on Oct. 21, but that's a long wait for Texas voters who had hoped to see campaign coals turn cherry red from frequent debates.

The Richards-Bush confrontation — only 18 days before election day — will be piggybacked with a separate debate between Republican U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison and her Democratic opponent, Richard Fisher.

According to a report in The Dallas Morning News, the two debates will be fueled by selected residents and reporters who will ask questions of the candidates. The debates will be broadcast across Texas on television and radio stations.

The Hutchison-Fisher debate will take place in the first hour and the Richards-Bush debate will take up the second hour of the forum that is billed as "The Texas Debates: The People's Agenda."

According to the Morning News report, Richards was the first to agree to participate in the Dallas debate. She made her intentions known last month, saying, "The format allows regular folks to ask questions directly of the candidates."

Richards also has agreed to debate Bush on Sept. 22 on CNN's "Larry King Live" television show. Bush has not decided whether to do the Larry King show.

Bush Blasts New Penal Code

From the office of Travis County Sheriff Terry Keel, a Republican, Bush accepted the terms of the Oct. 21 debate forum while calling the new state penal code "misguided public policy."

Bush said he is looking forward "to looking Ann Richards right in the eye," and pointing out what he considers faults in the penal code that went into effect Sept. 1, such as automatic probation for first-time nonviolent offenders.

Congressional Lines OK'd

Texas' Nov. 8 election can proceed with the current congressional districts but the Legislature must redraw three districts next year, a three-judge federal panel ruled last week.

The same Republican-appointed judges ruled last month that the three districts were drawn unconstitutionally only to increase minority representation.

A lawsuit filed in January claimed the odd-shaped districts amounted to "racial gerrymandering." The GOP plaintiff hoped lawmakers would be forced to draw new boundaries in a special session this fall.

U.S. District Judges David Hitner and Melinda Harmon and 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Edith Jones gave legislators until March 15 to submit a new plan.

Redrawing boundaries for the 18th and 29th districts in Houston and the 30th in Dallas could affect as many as half of the state's 30 congressional districts.

Texas Attorney General Dan Morales said the "court acted properly in not disenfranchising the voters, and in not disrupting the coming elections."

Former SA Man Indicted

A former San Antonio man is free on a $50,000 bond after being charged in a federal indictment with funneling $11,000 in illegal contributions to 10 current or former congressmen, including seven from Texas.

The 10-count indictment handed down by a San Antonio grand jury accused Leslie Alfred Tabor, 62, now of Georgetown, Tenn., the former president of Sherwood Van Lines of "causing the concealment by scheme and device."

Citing the Federal Election Code, the indictment alleged that Tabor disguised political contributions during the 1990 campaign to hide the fact that the money came from Sherwood Van Lines.

The indictment said Tabor used his wife, Ilene Tabor, "as a conduit" to funnel Sherwood money to the political campaigns of the 10 House Democrats, including former Rep. Albert Bustamante of San Antonio.

The other Texas lawmakers mentioned in the indictment were Reps. Greg Laughlin of West Columbia, Chet Edwards of Waco, Charles Wilson of Lufkin, Bill Sarpalis of Amarillo, Pete Geren of Fort Worth and Jim Chapman of Sulphur Springs.

Other Highlights

■ An insurance industry group proposed a 17.7 percent increase in the standard rates for automobile coverage and Farmers Insurance Group recommended an average 12.5 percent rate boost. The proposals by the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office and Farmers were the only rate recommendations filed by the industry before the Sept. 27 public hearing on auto insurance rates.

■ Former base closure chairman Jim Courter turned down a $75,000 offer to help protect San Antonio's five military installations during the next round of cutbacks. J. Tullos Wells, incoming chairman of the Greater San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, said Courter was fearful such a deal would be improper, considering his previous service as head of the federal commission studying base closures.

CAPITOL COMMENT

U.S. SENATOR

KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON

Smithsonian Plans an Unworthy Exhibit

Texas would be taken aback to visit the Alamo and find an exhibit making its defenders out to be villains, their motives unworthy, their deeds vile.

Likewise, visitors to the Smithsonian Institution's Air and Space Museum would certainly be unpleasantly surprised to encounter an exhibit painting the United States and its allies as the aggressors in the Pacific Theater of World War II.

Yet that is precisely the kind of exhibit the museum is preparing. This exhibit, scheduled to open next May, is built around the "Enola Gay," the B-29 bomber that dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima on August 6, 1945. Trouble is, Air and Space Museum curators have depicted the United States' participation in the war in a way few would recognize.

According to the interpretive material being prepared for this exhibit, "For most Americans, this was ... a war of vengeance. For most Japanese, it was a war to defend their unique culture against Western imperialism." No mention of Pearl Harbor, the Bataan Death March or Japan's devastation of Manchuria.

You are probably wondering why in the world the Smithsonian, repository of our nation's history and achievements, would choose to put on an exhibit which falsely portrays this nation as the aggressor in World War II, and our former enemies as innocent victims. The answer can be summed up in three words: Ban the Bomb.

Those who are organizing the exhibit are not concerned with the U.S. role in bringing an end to the war in the Pacific Theater. Instead, they want to persuade anyone who walks through the exhibit that the U.S. decision to use an atomic weapon to end the war was an act of barbarism. According to museum director Martin Harwit, "We just can't afford to make war a heroic event..." Nor, apparently, can we bring ourselves to acknowledge our heroes.

The truth behind the decision to use atomic weapons was this: The United States knew Japan was building up its homeland defenses and was preparing to fight to the last soldier. President Truman's decision to drop the bomb in the long run saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of American servicemen and millions of Japanese who would have perished in that battle to the death. Although the terrible destruction of the bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki demonstrated to the world the unimaginable catastrophe of nuclear war, no one has seriously questioned the wisdom of Truman's decision. Most Americans take for granted this nation's right to act in what it believes to be its own best interest.

The Air and Space Museum's plans have come under unfriendly fire, and museum officials are considering exhibit revisions. I think Congress, on behalf of the American people, and particularly those who served and sacrificed in the Second World War, should send the museum a clear signal. When Congress returns from Labor Day recess, I will offer a Sense of the Senate Resolution that expresses our intention that when the Enola Gay exhibit is unveiled next spring, it accurately depict both the difficulty and the necessity of the mission which its crew carried out. We owe those who fought and died to preserve freedom no less.

Soil Conservation Service Seeks Public Input

submitted by Carol Green

Nearly 60 years ago, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service was created to address a national resource crisis called the Dust Bowl. Since then, the agency has undergone a number of changes, resulting in the agency now known as the Soil Conservation Service or SCS. In its re-invention process, the agency aims to create the natural resources agency of the future.

"The SCS is at a crossroads, and we and our customers have an unprecedented opportunity to anticipate future needs and refocus the agency's mission," said Texas

SCS State Conservationist Wes Oneth.

"Predicting the future is a difficult task. However, we believe that one of the best ways to prepare for tomorrow is by looking at the past and by asking our customers and employees what they anticipate will be needed in the future," Oneth said.

Anyone with an interest in natural resource conservation is encouraged to participate in the re-invention process by completing a survey they can get from their local SCS office. They are listed in telephone directories under U. S. Government, Agriculture Department.

"Farm and ranch youth are at risk for incidents involving farm equipment, livestock and chemicals." ASCS official Jan Wanoreck said. The elderly are at risk for many of the same hazards and represent an increasingly higher proportion of the agricultural population, she said.

Farm workers range in age from 8 to 80, unlike the usual 16 to 65 range in most other lines of work. Children often begin helping with farm work at an early age, even operating machinery meant for adult capabilities.

As harvest season approaches, farm safety leaders remind drivers that farmers and ranchers may be using slow moving farm equipment on rural highways to get crops to market or storage. "Approach all farm machinery using public roads with care," Wanoreck said. Farmers and ranchers are urged to exercise caution in operating farm equipment on rural highways, displaying a slow-moving vehicle emblem that is clearly visible from the rear.

"In recognition of Farm Safety Week and every week of the year, we encourage farmers and ranchers to make safety and health a part of every job and activity, and do what is necessary to protect children, the elderly and others on the farm," the ASCS official said.

God looked around his garden and found an empty space
He then looked down upon this earth and saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you and lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful for He only takes the best.
He knew you were in pain.
He knew you would never get well
on this earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough and the hills were hard to climb.
He closed your weary eyelids and whispered "Peace be Thine."
It broke our hearts to lose you but you did not go alone
For part of us went with you,
the day God called you home.

HUDSON LIVESTOCK SUPPLEMENTS

"Nutrition of the 21st Century Now"

How Hudson Livestock Supplements Work

The special enzyme producing premixes we use are produced by a unique fermentation process that stimulates the natural production of certain enzymes within the animals. The improved rumen fermentation results in increased digestibility of protein from roughage and reduces the need for supplemental protein. The process breaks down the carbohydrates in the feed to obtain the most nutrients available. In the break-down process, the complex carbohydrates are changed to simple sugars to speed up the fermentation process which increases the passage of properly processed feed stuffs into the progressive stages of digestion. Our products contain a high concentration of specific trace elements, vitamins, proteins & minerals. It is a hard cooked molasses based product that also provides energy to the animals.

Eagles Swarm Menard

The Eldorado Eagles traveled to Menard last Friday night to take on the Menard Yellowjackets. On a field still soggy from the previous days rains, Michael O'Daniel started the Eagles' scoring by returning the opening kick-off 90 yards for a touchdown. The stunned Menard team was never able to recover. Leading 14-0 at Half-time, the Eagles went on to score three more times in the second half. Kicker Shylowe Middleton converted on all five P.A.T. attempts to notch up a 35-0 win. The victory moves the Eagles season mark to 2-0 and sets the stage for the Homecoming game against Sonora here Friday night.

Leading the Eagles offensive attack was running back, Reagan Bownds who carried 13 times for 225 yards and 3 touchdowns. Michael O'Daniel carried 7 times for 47 yards in addition to his kick-off return. Cody McCravery carried 12 times for 45 yards and 1 touchdown while quarterback Travis Whitten added another 20 yards on 8 carries. Due to the wet conditions, neither team was able to gain any ground through the air.

"We started slow in the first half by making mistakes executing our offense and handling the ball. But, in the second half, we rebounded and we played well," said Head Coach Doug Kuhlmann. "The kicking game was solid and the defense played well the entire game," continued Kuhlmann.

On the Defensive side of the ball, the Eagles controlled the game holding the Yellowjackets to 7 first downs and a mere 97 yards of total offense. David Wilson & Landon Neal led Eagle defenders with 11 tackles each. Michael O'Daniel and Cody McCravery each picked off an interception. Clemente Aguilar and Landon Neal were both credited with forcing Menard fumbles and Will Edmiston recovered a Yellowjacket fumble.

After viewing the game films, the Eagles' coaching staff named Cody McCravery and David Wilson as Offensive and Defensive Players of the Week respectively.

This Friday, the Eagles will celebrate their Homecoming by hosting the Class 3-A Sonora Broncos. Festivities are slated to begin at 7:00 p.m. with an 8:00 p.m. game time. Everyone should turn out and support the Eagles.

JVs Rout Yellowjackets

The Eldorado Eagles Junior Varsity defeated the Menard Yellowjackets JV team last Thursday evening by a score of 40-8. In the one sided contest, the Eagles piled up 450+ yards of total offense. Meanwhile, a stingy Eagles Defense allowed Menard only 100 yards.

"The kids did a great job for the second week in a row," said Coach Paul Michalewicz. "We played well on offense and defense. Anytime you rack up 467 yards of total offense and hold your opponent to barely 100 yards, you know the kids are doing a lot of things well."

The Eagles tallied 20 first downs with 427 rushing yards and 40 passing yards. Ricky Gibson led all rushers with 134 yards and 2 touchdowns. Clay Butler added 124 yards and another 2 touchdowns. Beau Saltee carried for 94 yards and a score while Garrett Bownds gained 74 yards and a TD. Quarterback Casey Snelson connected on 2 of 4 passes for 40 yards. Snelson's receiver on both passes was Clay Butler. Cory Reeves converted on 4 of 6 P.A.T.s to round out the Eagles scoring.

Eagles defenders held the Yellowjackets to 89 yards rushing and 21 passing, allowing only 8 first downs. The Eagles Defense also forced a Menard fumble which Eldorado recovered.

The JV Eagles record now stands at 2 wins and 0 losses. They travel to Sonora to face the Broncos JV tonight. Concerning the Sonora team, Coach Michalewicz said, "They will probably be the best team we have played so far."

EMS Meets Menard

The Eldorado Middle School Eagles took on Menard Middle School's teams in two contests at Menard last Thursday night.

In the first game, the Eldorado 7th Grade team squared off against Menard with the Eagle squad taking home a 20-0 victory. Chad Williams scored the first of Eldorado's TD's with Lance Mitchel scoring on the 2-point conversion to make the score 8-0. They both ran behind the strong blocking of Bobby Adame and Cory Lloyd. Francisco Garza scored the Eagles' second touchdown and Lance Mitchel found the endzone on a sweep play to round out the Eagles' scoring.

"I was very happy with our defense" said Coach Larry Mitchel. "The defense did not let Menard have one first down. And, Casey Poyner had an interception," concluded Mitchel.

In the second game of the evening, the Middle School 8th Grade team found the going a little tougher as Menard won the game by a score of 24-6. The Yellowjackets seized the momentum in the contest with a 100 yard interception return for a touchdown. Menard racked up 3 touchdowns and converted on all three 2-point conversions. Eldorado finally found a spark in the fourth quarter as quarterback Mitch Wilkerson connected on a scoring pass to Dusty Nolen for a six yard score. The touchdown was set up by a 40 yard pass completion and run from halfback Victor Pina to Andrew Sauer.

"We played good defensively," said Coach Tom Dean, "but Menard's interception return for a score before half-time hurt. We finally started moving the ball again in the fourth quarter."

The Eldorado Middle School Eagles will host the Sonora Broncos tonight at Eagle Stadium. The 7th Grade game is set to begin at 5:30 p.m. and the 8th Grade contest is scheduled for 6:30.

EHS Rodeo Club

submitted by Glenda Harris

Eldorado High School has always been known for its athletic and sports accomplishments, this includes band, football, basketball, track, tennis and the newly formed baseball team. But it also has another team that has been around awhile, but has not been in the limelight quite as much as the others. It is the rodeo team.

The rodeo club was formed in 1983 with approval from the school board. This was after several meetings between the board and the State Rodeo Association to set up all the rules.

When the team first started participating in the rodeos, they were held on Friday nights. The team was allowed to miss 1/2 day to travel to the rodeos. Bill Wells, the school sponsor, and Johnny Griffin would load up members, horses and head out.

The first year in the association, no one from Eldorado qualified for the state finals which were held in Sequin, Texas. Since that first year, Eldorado has had a state qualifier every year! In 1985, Marty Wells went to the National finals as an alternate in saddle bronc riding and cutting horse competition. In 1990, Shane Criswell went to the National Finals in saddle bronc riding. To qualify for Nationals, a contestant must achieve a 1st, 2nd or 3rd at their state competition level.

Bill Wells has served as the school sponsor for the rodeo club since its inception. In 1993, Ken Newman took the reins. This year Abbie McCormick is serving as the school sponsor for the club.

Each team member is approved by the school board to receive a letter jacket if the contestant has met the requirements. A team member must earn 30 points in 1 to 4 years, attend 1/2 of the rodeos, and ride for the Eldorado team.

The sole financial costs of participating in the rodeos lies with the students and/or their parents. Each member pays state dues, entry fees and their travel expenses Region II, which Eldorado is in, holds their rodeos in the fall and spring. These rodeos are held in places such as Big Lake, Big Spring, Odessa, Fort Davis and points in between.

The Eldorado team will host its rodeo here on Saturday, September 24th and Sunday the 25th. Saturday's performance will begin with the cutting horse competition at 1:00 p.m. and rodeo will begin at 4:00 p.m. Church services will be held Sunday the 25th at 9:00 a.m. and the rodeo will start at 11:00 a.m. It takes many people and hun-

Dorothy's Movie Time

by Dorothy Dacy

Hello again Movie Fans! My two films this week are both comedies. The first is D2 The Mighty Ducks. It is rated "PG" and is a good one for the kids to watch. Emilio Estevez returns in his starring role as Coach Bombay. The hockey role model for everyone's favorite PeeWee team. The Mighty Ducks are thrilled to be chosen to compete in the Junior Goodwill Games as USA's team. They'll be facing off against the best teams from all over the world, including the team from Iceland who are the meanest hockey players to ever slice the ice!

Are these kids out of their league? Has Coach Bombay let big time success go to his head, possibly forgetting that it's just a game? Never fear, a street hockey gang teaches the Ducks to get tough.

then the coach remembers how to have a good time on the ice... and Duck power triumphs again! D2 The Mighty Ducks is currently available at Meyer's, Shot's and Eagle Video.

The second movie is Chasers starring Tom Berenger. It is rated "R" for language, adult situations and brief nudity. I really wasn't impressed with this one. Maybe it was the script but I just can't see Tom Berenger, a fine dramatic actor, in a comedy. To me, he doesn't do it well. He plays Rock Reilly, a Navy Shore Patrol Officer who has seen it all. His newly assigned partner Eddie Devane (played by William McNamara) has seen enough and is only a few hours away from discharge, but not before they are given orders to escort a prisoner from one base to another (Chaser Duty as it is referred to in the Navy). Toni Johnson (played by Erika Eleniak) is a feisty and beautiful female prison transfer. This rollicking road adventure is directed by Dennis Hopper (who has a cameo appearance) and features a supporting cast starring Gary Busey, Marilu Henner and Dean Stockwell. In my opinion, the background music by Dwight Yoakam and other country greats is the best part of this film. Chasers is currently available at Eagle Video.

Until next week: Men and automobiles are much alike. Some are right at home on an uphill climb; others run smoothly only going down-hill. And, when you hear one knocking all the time, it's a sure sign there is something wrong under the hood.

Woman's Club Update

by Charlene Edmiston

The Woman's Club held its first meeting of the new season with a coffee at 9:30 a.m. in the Club Room of the Memorial Building, Tuesday, September 13th, 1994. Bobbie Sanders gave the devotional. The pledges to the American flag and the Texas flag was led by Gladys Mittel.

The club president Imogene Edmiston, welcome 14 members and gave a short resume of plans for the new year.

Following the coffee prepared and served by the hospitality committee, there was a short business session.

Bobbie Sanders gave her report on the community project of keeping the Museum open. The Woman's Club will be responsible for each Friday afternoon.

Shine Spigarelli, first vice president, presented the yearbooks to all members and explained the plans and programs for the 1994 and 1995 meetings. The club's theme "Remembering the past, celebrating the present, and building for the future." will be in keeping with the Centennial year and celebrating of Eldorado.

The club plans to contribute to many of the local organizations and projects. There being no further business the club closed by the reading of the Club Collect.

Much of our support comes from parents of former Rodeo Club members and we want to extend a heartfelt thank you to them. Without them, our rodeo would not be possible.

This year's team members include senior Mandy Belk, junior Stoney Harris, sophomores Kristal Nelson and Matt McCormick and freshman Garrett Bownds.

Everyone is invited to come out to the arena Saturday, September 24th and Sunday the 25th to see one of the oldest sports in history performed by some of the most enthusiastic contestants of today. Come out and support this team and have some great fun.

FULFILLING THE GREAT COMMISSION

In Matthew 28:18, the disciples were given the responsibility of fulfilling the Great Commission, this was an imperative!

We today have also been given the responsibility of fulfilling the Great Commission on this earth. The mentality that the world, society, USA, our city owes us something seems to have become part of the Christian's thinking today. Rather we owe the world, society, USA, and our city the responsibility of telling them that Jesus has come and died, arose, and is sitting at the right hand of the Father, awaiting to come for a people prepared unto Him.

Our problem is not the "telling" of this Good News, our problem is "how". In Matthew 9:35-38 Jesus told his disciples to "pray for workers" for the harvest. In the next chapter the ones He tells to pray are the same ones He sent out. If we are to fulfill the Great Commission, we are going to have to repent of our attitude, perspective, philosophy, ideas, and mentality towards the Body of Christ and the World.

Jesus always did what He taught! In Chapter Nine Jesus showed the disciples how to fulfill the Great Commission. In verses one and three, a paralytic was brought to Him. Jesus was not so much centered on his physical condition, but on his spiritual condition. If anything else sin in our lives will paralyze us from being a vessel for God. You do not need to tell the world it's sick, it already knows! They need the "good news" that Jesus came to save them from their sins. In verse nine Jesus calls Matthew, a tax collector. There are people who are getting up every morning and saying "Well it's a living" with no purpose in their lives. They need Jesus for a purpose in life. In verse fourteen John's disciples have a question about fasting. People are tired of ritual and religion, they want something that is relevant to life. The person is Jesus!

Verse eighteen tells us of a ruler that had lost his daughter to death. There are people who have lost loved ones to death, who no longer are in church or will not have anything to do with God or the Body of Christ. They are spiritually dead!

The woman who had been in bondage for twelve years had spent all that she had in trying to get healed. Yet finally she must have heard of Jesus and her faith was built up in that He would heal her!

Finally in the last verse two blind men are healed by Jesus and this time the focus was on their physical condition because they went and spread the news about Him. In the closing verses, one last incident happens when a mute is brought to Jesus. Bitterness fills the heart of the world because of their concept of God. It is our responsibility to GO and reconcile the World back to God!!!!

Becky Sterling to Debut in Faith County

Beta Sigma Phi

by Ilse Williams

"I swear I don't know why I head up the concession stand every year. People bring some of the barfiest recipes!"

Meet Mildred Carson, one of the main characters in the Way-Off Broadway Players' upcoming production, FAITH COUNTY.

Mildred (a.k.a. long-time Eldorado resident Becky Sterling) is bossy, nosy, and never one to use an abundance of tact and diplomacy. Mildred's "best friend and worst enemy" Naomi Farkle (Gloria Swift) can attest to that!

"Shut up, Naomi!" Mildred silences her more than once; there is no doubt who is in charge in Mineola, Faith County.

Anyone who has met WOBP newcomer Becky Sterling in her job as the friendly receptionist in a local dentist's office might have trouble believing that she could impersonate Mildred Carson.

"My children would probably have the least trouble recognizing me in this role," laughs Becky. "And I do have to watch that I don't take the character home with me."

Like the other eight amateur members of the FAITH COUNTY cast, Becky has to memorize her lines, meet regularly for practice at the theater, and overcome any stage fright-- all of this in addition to her job and family responsibilities.

"I came into this play rather by accident," explains Becky with a chuckle. "Jo Ann [Jo Ann Sproul, director of the play] came by the office to ask Mary Leigh Dunagan if she would be interested in trying out for the part of Ruthann. When I remarked how much fun the play seemed to me, Jo Ann just encouraged me to come to try out, too. And then I ended up with one of the main roles."

Now Becky spends much of her spare time studying her lines, "over and over," or listening to her part with her walkman, while she walks for exercise. Working with director Jo Ann Sproul has been very rewarding for Becky. "Jo Ann has helped me so much. She can really make you blend yourself into your role."

Becky is equally excited about an unexpected find she made during one of the practice sessions at the new theater site, which is still under re-construction. The building had served as a movie theater in Eldorado's earlier history, and among the "relics" from this time were numerous boxes of concession stand candy. Proudly she presents her special find: Flavour's Chicken Bones, America's favorite candy; Staylit and Strikalite match boxes; and a tiny box of Smith Brothers Cough Drops, the 1-cent-per-box price tag still intact. Is there a better way to combine Eldorado's past history with a present activity?

"My daughters have already reserved tickets for the show in October," comments Becky on her family's reaction to her new role. Becky's family won't be the only ones looking forward to the performance.

Beta Sigma Phi met at the Club Room at 7:00 p.m. on September 12, 1994 with ten members present and one guest.

Charlotte Crain presided over the meeting, which was her first as our new president.

Minutes of our last meeting were read by our secretary, Linda Lindsey, minutes were approved. Becky Lux gave a program on our Community Resource Center, a very informative program. Thanks goes out to Becky for the program and all of her good work.

The program for the night was in honor of Flora Hubble for the Order of the Rose Degree which was for twenty-five years of service to the Chapter and to the community and surrounding areas.

Discussions for the new year were brought up and discussed. Some of the events will be the All Faith Olympics on October 9th, 1994, Old Main Street Days, October 15th, 1994 and the Halloween Carnival, October 31, 1994.
