BAD HABITS.
A KING
STIMULATION.

Most people believe that to achieve success in life it is essential to have a good president in the White House, a good pastor, a progressive Commercial club in his town, national prosperity, and neighbors devoted to God and country. The truth is, success depends entirely on the man who achieves it. He must have fewer bad habits than is the human average; with such an advantage, success is certain. . . . Another feature of the argument is, a man with fewer bad habits than the average actually gets along more comfortably than his acquaintances whose average of bad habits is higher than the unwritten law.

My favorite recollection of literature is that story of some drunken courtiers returning from a carouse. . . . Encountering a proletarian sleeping off a debauch, they escorted him to the palace, and put him to bed. When he awakened, he found himself arrayed in royal raiment, surrounded with luxury, and lackeys who hastened to do his bidding; he went to sleep a drunk and a king. . . . And he was the most impudent king in history; he grandly ordered this and demanded that, and it was none too good for him. If the courtiers engaged in the prank failed to bow sufficiently low, they were reprimanded; a servant who neglected gold plate in serving food, was whipped, although the vagrant had been accustomed to pewter. . . . Soon the vagrant was beaten, his rags restored and turned into the street. Every man believes he is capable of being a king, and that he has been wronged, because he is not. And if suddenly promoted to so high an estate, he would be as mean and incapable as the worst of them.

A Methodist preacher of national distinction told me this story: When a boy his mother always expecting to die of heart disease; whisky was kept in the house, to stimulate her heart when it threatened to stop beating. . . . She died at ninety-one and her heart beat feebly three days after all her other organs were dead.

The most universal human longing is for the possession of money. This is denied by a few who say Principle is their real goal, but the truth of the statement cannot be reasonably questioned (it is a human characteristic that certain facts we all know to be universal are almost universally denied). . . . And the surest way to acquire money is the exercise of character, honesty, industry, politeness. . . . Aristocracy of birth is not fair, and nature accepts nothing that is not fair. Besides, the best of us date back in lineage to a very bad mess. So every one has the same chance at aristocracy, and what we recognize as the greatest human achievement the possession of money.

All those who know themselves indebted to the Firm of G. B. Shoemaker & Sons will please call and settle account. —Adv.

Schleicher County Has Twenty Schools

In the common school districts of Schleicher County there are eight schools, all one-teacher schools except the Bailey Ranch School which has two teachers. The schools are as follows: Adams, Bailey Ranch, Bailey Ranch Mexican, Cliff, Kaffir Loftin, Meyer, and Station A on the Humble Pipe line. Some of the teachers in the county are Mrs. Robert Milligan, Adams school; Mr. Peyton Cain and Mrs. Cain, Bailey Ranch; Miss Blanche Newlin, Cliff; Mrs. Ford Oglesby, Kaffir; and Miss Ruth DeLong, Station A.

The present enrollment in the common school districts of the county is approximately ninety, as compared with a total of 89 for last school year. The scholastic census, taken last March, shows an enumeration of 114 children, all of which are white. According to the annual report of the ex-officio county superintendent for 1928-29, the average cost per pupil in the common school districts was $99.23. All schools in the county had a nine-months term except the Mexican school in the Bailey Ranch district and the Mexican school at Eldorado. In the common school districts the teachers salaries ranged from $100. to $150. per month.

All of the schools in the county are now in good financial condition and at least one of the schools increases its surplus substantially each year. The county per-capita apportionment for 1929-30 is $6.50. This is derived from the Schleicher County school lands which are located in Gaines County. The local tax rate in all the common school districts is 25 cents except in the Bailey Ranch and Cliff districts where the rate is 50 cents.

In the Eldorado Independent school district the scholastic census for 1929-30 shows an enumeration of 490, of which only eight are colored. There are now four schools operated in this district, two of which are one-teacher rural schools. The Mexican school in Eldorado has only a six months term and has not yet begun. The enrollment in the Eldorado district for the present term has reached a total of 390 of which over 90 per cent are enrolled in Eldorado and over a hundred of these are in high school. The local tax rate in this district is now $1. The average cost per pupil in 1928-29 based on salary expenditures and average daily attendance was $58.50

E. A. Penn Gets Two Years In Penitentiary In Sheep Theft Case

E. A. Penn, tried and convicted of sheep theft was given two years in the penitentiary after only about thirty minutes deliberation of the Jury. An appeal has been made for a new hearing and denied in the District Court but the appeal was then carried to higher courts.

E. A. Penn Gets Two Years In Penitentiary In Sheep Theft Case

Mr. Cecil McClatchey who has been working with geologists in locating the Oil Well on the Page Ranch left Tuesday morning for Alpine where he will enter school there this winter.

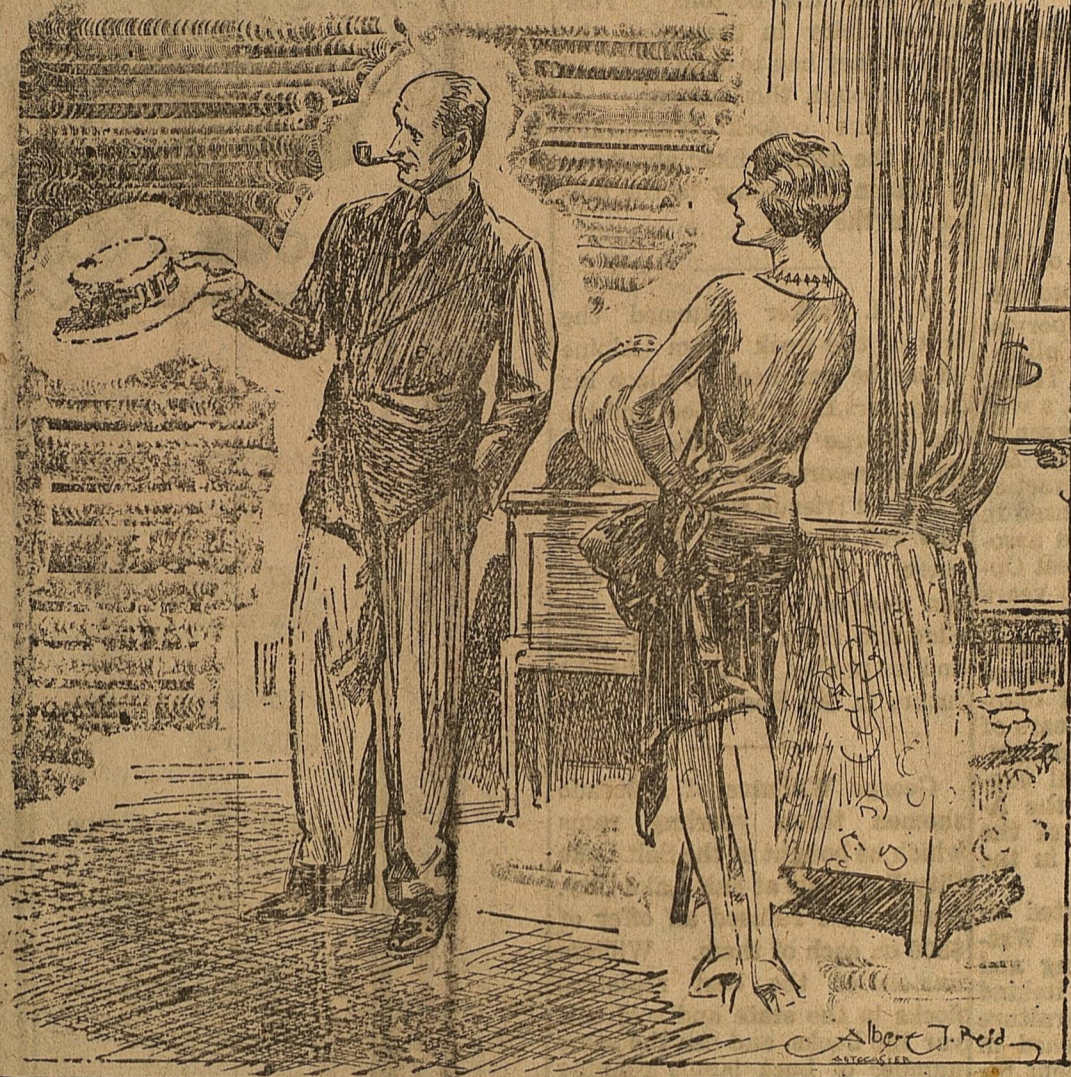

GINNING REPORTS IN SCHLEICHER COUNTY

Up to September 25th the gins in Eldorado had turned out 534 square bales and 766 round bales. The gin at Bailey Ranch had ginned a total of 434 bales. The gins are crowded all the time of late as much cotton is being picked.

The Little Mind-Reader

By Albert T. Reid

"I know what you are thinking - I know just exactly, - that that hat looks just as good as new, and you think you'll put it away. That's what you do each year at this time and in the spring you throw it away. If we had all the storage space it has taken we would have a couple of new rooms on our place."

Cotton Produced With Little Rain In Schleicher County

It is a belief among the cotton farmers of Schleicher County that any other part of the State would have made a complete crop failure on the same amount of rain which has fallen in Schleicher during this year. This belief is based on the experience of these farmers in other parts of the state, as in Coleman, McCulloch, Comanche, Travis and Williamson Counties. As it is the cotton crop of the County is estimated to be some what less than that of last year but still will more than equal the average production of the State. The average for the County is estimated at about one-fifth of a bale per acre altho in some parts of the County this will be greatly surpassed.

In some parts of the County, the crop was produced on 5 inches of rain since planting. Mr. I. T. Wilson, living about three miles south-east of Eldorado, believes he will make at least one-fourth of an acre on this amount of rain. West and south-west of Eldorado, where much of the cotton is produced, the rainfall was heavier but the cotton no better except in the lake-beds.

Mr. R. M. Thompson, of Austin one of the owners of Thompson Brothers ranch, was in Eldorado last week as stated it is his opinion that cotton could be raised in Schleicher County with less rain than in any other part of the state.

One man can work more land in cotton than in almost any part of Texas. Two-row planters and cultivators and even four-row outfits are being used more all the time. Most of the land has been put into cultivation within recent years and is not "poisoned" with weeds and grass as in older settled portions and is thus more easily cultivated. The land being a heavy black soil, fertile and productive, naturally requires less rainfall and less labor to produce a crop than land of a different composition or that which has been longer in cultivation. Cotton farmers in Schleicher have been suc-

Claude B. Hudspeth Will Not Enter Race For Re-election

Claude B. Hudspeth, Congressman announced last week that he would not enter the race next year for re-election. Many of the people of West Texas were displeased at this announcement as Mr. Hudspeth, like J. T. Robinson has made many friends during his stay in office representing the people of this section. There has been a number of names given out as possible entries in the coming race. Mayor, R. E. Thomason, of El Paso has announced that he would enter and several from San Angelo have been named as possible material for the position. Judge Belcher, executive of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association stated that he would possibly be an entry for the office. San Angelo will probably have the majority of entries in the race according to Mr. Clyde Vinson, Chairman of the Tom Green County Democratic giving a very plausible reason that they should have a representative in Congress, as San Angelo was the largest city in this section of the state and had a larger interest than any other city in West Texas in the trade territory. He stated that El Paso at one time was the largest city in West Texas but the recent development and growth had placed San Angelo far ahead and he thought that it would be of greater interest to the people to have a man from that town to serve the people as Congressman.

Successful during the past few years as there is number of farmers who have bought land, and improved it and paid for it by raising cotton. Since the first cotton was produced in the County in 1899 there has been a gradual increase in the cotton acreage each year until at present it is estimated that about 18,000 acres are planted in cotton.

Schleicher County Fair a Success Is Belief Of Directors

The directors of the Schleicher County Fair believe that this year's Fair is going to be one of the best in the History of the Event. It is an annual affair that draws many people from all over the western part of Texas as well as other sections and gives them entertainment that they are well pleased with. The exhibits loom as the largest display ever to be entered in the Exhibit Hall which will take of many classes of work. Booths are being prepared by a number of farmers who are bringing in their fancy products and much fancy work and high class cooking is being prepared with many other exhibits that go to make a Fair a success.

Bronc riding by some of the best riders in the state will be one of the greatest features of the Rodeo Program. The horses are the finest in this section and are in perfect condition, ready to give some cowboy many new tricks in the bucking world. The horse races will be another feature that is always enjoyed by the attendants of the Fair. Every one is urged to prepare to attend this Fair and witness some of the best and most complete exhibits ever placed in a Fair of its size.

COTTON CROP IN SCHLEICHER LESS THAN LAST YEAR

The dry weather during the spring and summer months effectively reduced the cotton crop of Schleicher to some extent. Although it is estimated that the acreage in cotton in the county is about 2,000 acres greater than last year the production is being estimated at less than the crop of 1928. Various estimates are made of the crop but on the average it is thought that the production will be about 5,000 bales raised in the county last year, some predict that the crop this year will not reach over 3,000 while others estimate that it will be over 4,000 and even as high as 5,000. The rains of some two weeks ago came too late to mat-

THE ANNOUNCEMENT

The announcement of Claude B. Hudspeth, that he would not run for the office he now holds next term. This has been a great shock to West Texas and West Texans. Mr. Hudspeth, like Mr. Robison has given his services to and for the people of this section of the state and by this devotion has acquired the warm friendship of the stockman. He has been their friend, being in that business and realizing the needs of the stockman has brought about many bills that were for the aid to the stockman.

The West has lost much this year in the death of J. T. Robison and the Retirement of Claude B. Hudspeth, that will take time to recover. We are not doubting the capability of the men in the coming race for this office but we know that the men passing from office have served the people in the past and have been well acquainted with the people of the West Texas and their need and doing all in their power to give the people of the West the help that they thought best, we will state that their chairs will be hard to fill.

Mr. Frank Kinser was in Eldorado Monday looking for some cotton pickers. After hearing the conversation between him and H. T. Finley, we gathered the idea that Dogie had promised to pick for him provided he did not find any more but he had received a sore arm recently and was unable to accompany Mr. Kinser back to the farm.

Miss Katherine Gillispie has returned to school in the University of Oklahoma and resumed her work in Art.

O. L. PARRIS OPENING NEW OPTICAL COMPANY

Friday will see the beginning of a new firm in the fast growing metropolis of San Angelo. Dr. O. L. Parris a graduate of the Los Angeles College of Optometry which is under the supervision of the University of California. He is a product of Texas, his father Dr. C. J. Parris, a well known Physician and surgeon, of New Castle, Texas. The Dr. has had five years of practice and is registered and licensed in California and Texas, was associated with some of the best optical firms in Dallas for 3 years and has been practicing for the past two years in San Angelo and Vicinity. He is well versed in the mechanical end of optometry having devoted 5 years of his life to the art of manufacturing all types of optical supplies a branch office of the American Optical Co. one of the largest optical houses in the world.

His new office is located on the ground floor of the new Western Reserve Life Building and it is the most complete of its kind in West Texas, office furniture and fixtures are all finished in mahogany. The equipment for testing and examining the eye is the most modern and up to date that money can buy. In the mechanical department you will find equipment to do all kinds of grinding leveling and cutting of lenses. Dr. Parris is a man that we think will go far in his profession.

T. F. Green was in Eldorado Thursday and renewed his subscription to The Success for another year.

Drilling At 5,360 Feet In Phillips Well

Wednesday night drilling was going on at the Phillips Petroleum No. 1 J. A. Whitten at a depth of 5,360. The hole caved a few days ago and cement was put in to form a wall for a straight to the hole to be drilled through. It being impossible for them to make the hole through this cave in without something solid to drill in, sixty sacks of cement was put in the hole near the bottom. This caused delay in deepening the hole as they had to drop back and drill through this cement. About nine o'clock Wednesday night the drillers liked about only fifteen feet being to the bottom of the hole.

W. H. Parker returned the first of the week from Alpine where he had been to place his daughters, Lena and Lela and his son Thorpe in Sul Ross. Mr. Parker reports that he met quite a few old friends while there and was well pleased with the school there. His two daughters and son were all graduates from the Eldorado High School last year and we predict for them a bright future in Sul Ross.

George Williams of Eldorado shomed three yearling rams which he bought at the Salt Lake City Ram Sale at Salt Lake City, Utah. He refused an offer of $300 on each of them. William has one of the best registered flocks in the state and sold this year 130 bucks, and has the same number of buck lambs running on his grain lands in his county. Mr. Williams has 150 acres of oats that are up and he is to sow 150 acres more. Mexicans on his place are making a third of a bale of cotton an acre on 250 acres he said. Mr. Williams makes more money off a section of land than perhaps any other man in West Texas. —Standard Times.

Four Held On Theft Charges

Alleged Cattle Rustlers Waive Hearing Wednesday
 A Mr. McIntyre and his three sons Wednesday were released on bond here following their waiver of examining trial on charges of theft of cattle.

The arrest of the four persons by rangers today culminated a 10 day search which extended in many parts of Pecos and Crane counties.

The charges allege theft of 20 head of cattle from the Waddell ranch in Crane county more than a week ago. The rangers who made the arrests included Warren Smith, Earl Young and a third officer.

The bond of the father was set at $1,000 and the sons at $1,500. They live on the McIntyre ranch 18 miles north of Fort Stockton.

Bruce B. Duncan of the O Nine country was in Eldorado Wednesday. Lee Duncan, his brother who operates a Cafe in Eldorado thinks that Bruce should stump speak for some candidate when the races start, because he is a long winded fellow and never runs out of anything to say. Bruce kept his brother up rather late Wednesday night and Lee was a little bit out of sorts Thursday morning.

ODE TO THE BOLL WEEVILS

A monument has been erected in South Carolina, or some other foreign country, in honor of the boll weevil with the following inscription:
Here's to the bug who don't give a dam
Whether cotton is ten or forty cents a pound
He fills up his belly 'till his back is lame—
Everybody cusses but he eats just the same.

It seemed very easy for the Dallas Steers to take the play-off series with the Wichita Falls Spudders last week. They won three out of four games and are entitled to play in the Dixie Series with Birmingham. We are guessing almost the same will be repeated by Dallas. The fans of Dallas seemed very optimistic after the first game was won in Wichita Falls. They got on a special train to take all the Dallas fans that cared to go to Birmingham for the first game.

SICK AT HIS STOMACH

"I was suffering from stomach trouble, in 1917," says Mr. C. K. Nelson, a railroad engineer living in Puleski, Va. "I had a tightness in my chest, a shortness of breath. There seemed to be a heavy weight in the pit of my stomach, and quite a bit of nausea, yet I couldn't vomit. I tried different remedies, yet suffered on just the same. When in West Virginia on a work train, I was in such a condition that I just gave up and came home. I couldn't stand to work, in my condition. Some one told me about Black-Draught. I started taking it in small doses after meals. It helped me, and I went back to work."

SENIORS OF '30

We are ready to boast our Seniors for their Athletic Ability. Out of Sixteen Seniors enrolled all but four are either playing football or basket ball. We are hoping the other four girls will come out for tennis.

"OUR CLASS"

The Senior Class starts out this term with 16 members, twelve girls and four boys. The girls are: Elizabeth Bradley, Mattie Lee Cates, Dahlia Fae Johnson, Fannie Hardt, Elta May Luedecke, Alta Stevens, Victoria Jons, Garnette Luedecke Loyce Sharp, Ruby Wilson, Vera Wade, and Bernice Newlin. The Boys are: J. C. Bullion, William McAngus, Kenneth Green, and Edwin Kent. Nettie Lee Cates is the only new member.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE

The girls began their ball practice last week. Twenty-four girls came out, but several have dropped out. Miss Osburn is proving herself to be an excellent coach, and the girls are going to blot out the word "Defeat" this year.

THE CONTEST

Have you subscribed for a magazine? If not, Why? The four grades of our High School are having a contest. We have two sides, the Red and the Green. The captains are Loyce Sharp, J. C. Bullion, and Victoria Jones, and J. C. Kinchen. We are getting subscriptions to magazines which are; The Saturday Evening Post; The Country Gentleman; and the Ladies Home Journal. We have two airplane a red one and a green one, which are running a race. There is Washington's Monument and we are trying to reach the top. The contest is to close Thursday at one O' Clock. The losers are to entertain the winners with a social. The purpose of the contest is to get money for the Library. We get fifty cents out of every dollar or if every one gets a subscription we get sixty cents. Do your part. Mr. Smart. "What is 'Osmosis'?" Hassel: "It is the process by which food enters the body and goes into the brain."

SPANISH 1

The pupils in Spanish 1 Class are having a hard time learning to pronounce the Spanish words, and several of them have been trying to trade their Spanish grammars for English grammars. Spanish is very hard to learn if you do not know English grammar so the Spanish 1 students advise all Freshmen to learn their English grammars before taking up Spanish.

HISTORY 111

The American History class has an enrollment of nine. For this class a very interesting course of study has been laid out some of which is as follows.

1. A continuation of the museum started by the History 111 class of 1928-'29. We plan to arrange for a booth at the county fair and show the people of the surrounding country some first hand history.

2. A number of excursions to places of historical interest is another interesting feature of our work.

3. Do not think, however, that we would overlook the heroic efforts of anyone who has helped make this our America what it is today. To comply with the above statement we have to go back and study something about the Turks who captured Constantinople in 1453, and even those who lived before that date.

It is the intention of the History 111 class to make History an interesting and worth while subject. Therefore we greet this new term with an attitude of expectation and hope.

SCHOOL DAYS

With merry laughter, shouts and cries,
And, too true, full many sighs,
School days are upon us once again.

With History, reading, arithmetic—
The worst of them is hard to pick—
We labor in dire pain.

P. T. A. MEETING FRIDAY

Mrs. Campbell, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Wiedenmann was leader for the day, and the subject was "Standards for the Home and School." Mr. Curry talked from the teacher's standpoint, and Mr. Campbell from that of the parent. After the business session, there was a social half-hour. About twenty five were present.

THE DOCTOR'S BLUNDER

"Well, why shouldn't I be. The doctor what operated on me foh' pendicitus went and sewed me up with white thread."
Small Son: What are diplomatic relations?
Wise Father: There are no such people, my boy.

ELECTION OF A YELL LEADER

On Tuesday morning the entire student body was assembled in the study hall to elect a yell leader and an assistant. Of course there was much enthusiasm, as there always is when something of this sort occurs. Victoria Jones was elected yell leader and Lois Sharp was elected as her assistant. We believe the entire student body is satisfied with the way the election came out because these two girls seem to be the two most capable for this position. Victoria was pep squad leader last year so she knows her business and Lois—well, you all know her—!

the class this year, and in our estimation these are the best seniors who have ever sat in the seats that the seniors occupy in school, and it is our aim to show the parents and citizens, that we really are the best seniors. It is, from our class that the editor, J. C. Bullion, comes. Victoria and Loyce, the yell leaders are both from the senior class. Victoria is also assistant editor of the school paper. We know the people judge the school by what the students do and we intend to help show them that we have a wonderful school. We must have co-operation of citizens as well as students to keep this a good school.

"Girl's faults are many Boys have only "two" Every thing they say And every thing they do!"

FOOTBALL GAME

The Eldorado Eagles were defeated in the first game of the season by Ozona Lions Friday, September 20. The score was 40-0; However if the first quarter had been about twenty minutes shorter the score would have been lacking about two touchdowns.

The Eagles were "midgets" compared to the Lions but they fought as has always been the case when the Eagles meet some other team on the football field.

The team had just not been in practice long enough and only a very few of the boys had ever been on the football field before. Even though the first game of the season was lost we are going to fight harder the next game and win.

The next game will be with the San Angelo Kittens here next Friday. This is the first game to be played on our home field and the second game for the Eagles so everybody be out at the football field Friday at 3:30 yelling for the good old Eagles.

Mrs. Ed Ratliff and son Hassel visited in Coleman last Sunday. Mrs. Ratliff says that the people of Coleman are full of excitement over the recent oil well brought in near there.

The Eldorado Eagles had a rather tough time with the Ozona Lions in the Lions den last Friday but with this experience they will do better next time we hope.

Eldorado Lions Are Still Roaring

The Eldorado Lions are still roaring in their civic work which in time will be the pride of the city and county. They are still working hard for improvement of the town in the many needed ways. The publicity campaign that is to be put on is being worked on by the committee and it will probably be started in the near future. Material for this campaign is being worked out and plans will be submitted to the Club at the next meeting for their approval.

Another new member was taken into the club at the Wednesday meeting, Dr. Earl D. McDonald, who will greatly strengthen the work of the club. Mr. McDonald is a new man in our city but is a wide awake, progressive citizen and is ready to do his part in the affairs of the town. The club is glad to have this man as a member and hope that they will be able to get more like him soon. New members are needed at this time as there is a great deal of work that should be done and the stronger the club, the easier it will be to carry out the civic work of the town.

FELLOWSHIPS FOR RADIO LAW WORK

A striking illustration of the rapid growth in the radio field is seen in the recent announcement by the Radio Corporation of America of three fellowships of $1,500 each at Columbia University Law School to provide for an additional year of study of the intricacies of Federal laws, especially those pertaining to radio problems. The board of trustees at the university has approved and the fellows will be chosen soon to start work next Fall. The awards are offered for one year only as an experiment.

Mr. Harry Freund was in Eldorado Tuesday talking to friends and buying supplies. Mr. Freund says that they could use some more rain in his section of the county. He is getting his radio all tuned up for the World Series.

THE TOWN DOCTOR

(The Doctor of Towns says)
TO THE MERCHANTS OF ELDORADO

A few years ago the people of Eldorado and surrounding territory HAD to buy from you, or go without. As you know only too well, that is not now the case. Good roads and motor cars, magazines, metropolitan papers and radios, plus free mail delivery, has changed all that.

Today people can get anything they need or want, from whom and whence they please—not only can, but do. They can get it from you, but whether they do or not depends on you.

In practically every community we hear: "Outside advertising is enticing our people"—"Competition of combines is taking our business." Maybe this is true, but what are you doing to counteract it?

As an excuse and alibi for lack of business, thousands of merchants say, "People don't buy like they used to." That is absolutely true—people don't buy like they used to.

But how about you—do you still sell "like you used to"? Why should people stick to the old, humdrum, weekly "trading," when shopping and buying are now made such a pleasure? Why go to a funeral when a festival is on?

If other stores invite the people and give them a reason why they should buy from them, of course your customers are going to accept the invitation at least once. Then, if those extending the invitation sell and serve as today's buyer's like to be sold and served, they will continue to accept the repeated invitation. You would do it yourself under similar circumstances.

Still, the average man and woman, by far the majority of the people in Eldorado, would rather do business with you, and they will do business with you if you will profit by the experience of the people all of the time.

Say to yourself, "Why do people buy elsewhere?" Ask your self, "Why should the people of Eldorado buy from me what I have to sell, in preference to my competitor?"

Answer both of these questions—they must be answered not only to yourself, but to your customers if you are going to continue in business and keep out of the red.

Business goes to the place where it is invited—you can't expect business if you don't ask for it.

Business stays at the place where it is well treated, backed up with an invitation to continue the pleasure of such treatment.

Business comes back to the place where it is served best and where the invitation to profit from such service is kept constant in the forefront.

Your newspaper is your ally—use it.

RADIO ENTHUSIASTS WELCOME NEW TUBES

Radio amateurs have shown a quick response to the new rugged rectifier Radiotron with a low and constant voltage drop which just has been put on the market by the Radio Corporation of America. The new tube, Radiotron UX-206, is of the hot-cathode, mercury vapor type, and the makers assert it is establishing a new standard of performance for the amateur transmitter operating with a rectified plate supply.

A four electrode, screen grid tube, with new features.

It is ample in current capacity and, in half or full wave circuit connections, is especially suited for supplying the transmitter with stable rectified plate voltage—key up or key down. It operates at relatively low temperature, and no starting mechanism is required.

Two other interesting new tubes which just have been introduced by the Radio Corporation are Radiotron UX-245 and Radiotron UY-224. Radiotron UX-245 is a power amplifier tube for supplying large undistorted output to the loud speaker. It is capable of delivering a power output equal to that of the UX-210, but at a plate voltage not exceeding 250 volts. The tube can be used only with apparatus especially designed for it and is intended for use in the last audio amplifying stage of power line operated sets which supply not more than 2.5 volts to the last audio socket, as well as proper grid and plate voltages. The filament is of the coated ribbon type, which assures great strength and high emission.

Radiotron UY-224 is a four electrode, screen grid amplifier tube embodying a 2.5 volt heater element which permits operation from alternating current. It is recommended for use primarily as a radio frequency amplifier in circuits especially designed for it, but it may be used also in special circuits as a detector or as an audio frequency amplifier. The fourth electrode, the screen, in the new UY-224 makes possible the attainment of very high and stable amplification per stage.

EIGHTH INSTALMENT

What Happened Before

She sees a casting director. Arthur Tirrey, and abruptly offers herself to him in return for a job in the movies. He tells her the talk about "paying the price" is all rot. Meanwhile the attention of Mr. Bermond, head of the company, is diverted to her and he decides to give her a chance. Soon she finds herself posing with Claymore as her director, obeying his commands in a kind of a stupor.

Now Go With The Story

Then the lights went out and there was a wait while Mike ran along the gallery parallel, with tweezers in his gloved hands. When Mike was ready the camera man shouted: "Hit 'em! All right, Mr. Claymore called "Music, please!"

And Mem found herself in a sea of blazing radiance trembling with a shimmer of music. She went back to the door and nodded when Claymore's "Are you ready?" penetrated the myth realm from far away. She heard him murmur: "Camera! Action!" and she heard his voice reciting an improvised libretto for her pantomimi.

You've come from your dark cell! The light blinds you! You begin to see the angry public, the cruel judge. You flinch. You fall back. "They are going to sentence me to death! They're hissing me because I loved too well! But my little baby! They said I killed him! They can't know how I loved him! how I felt his little hands on my cheek, his lips ate my breasts! how I suffered when his cheek grew cold! O God! I prayed for his little life even though it meant eternal shame! But he is gone! My lover dead! What is this world to me?" Wring your hands! Look at the judge. Draw yourself up! Defy him! That's it! Now let the tears come. My baby!"

She heard his voice wailing and trembling like the vox humana stop the village organist used to pull out for the sake of pathos. It was maudlin, unforgivably cheap and trashy, yet it was the truth for her, as for millions of other girls. It was trite because it had broken so many hearts.

She felt a fool, a guilty fool. The music, the lights, the director's voice—all, all was insanity. But it swept her heartstrings with an Aeolian thrill and they sang with a mad despair.

But Mem had been schooled all her life to keep her hands down and to avoid flourish, to take short steps and to keep her waist and hips stolid. Though the fashions of the day gave her short, loose skirts, no corsets, free arms, she might as well have been handcuffed and hobbled and fastened in iron stays, for all the freedom she used.

Claymore made her run, with longer and longer stride, bend and touch the floor, fling her arms aloft, take the steps of a Spanish dancer and a Spanish vixen. But she was unbelievably inept.

"I wish I had the courage and the kindness to give you a Belasco training," he said. "You know he testified in court that when he trained Mrs. Leslie Carter for her big war-horse roles, he had to break her muscle-bound condition first. He threw her down stairs, throttled her, beat her head against the wall, and chased her about the room. She told me herself that she learnt the Declaration of Independence by heart and spent hours and hours repeating it as glibly as she could. Every time she missed an articulation she went back to the beginning and recited it all over again—hundreds and hundreds of times. That's how she learned to deliver great tirades with a breathless rush, yet made every syllable distinct. That's how she learned how to charge about the stage like a lioness."

"To be a great actress is no easy job. You've got to work like a fiend or you'll get nowhere. You've got to exercise your arms and legs and your voice and your soul. If you will, you've got a big future. If you won't you'll slump along playing small parts till you lose your bloom of youth then you'll slip into character parts and go out like an old candle."

The upshot of this ordeal by fire was that Mem was recognized as a star yet to be made—if, indeed, her nebulous ambitions should ever be condensed into solid achievement.

Claymore felt that she had a future. He told her so. But he told her that a period of hard labor lay between her and that paradise.

There was an exceedingly curious method of getting acquainted. Teacher and student became as much involved in each other's souls as Abelard and Heloise at their first sessions.

Claymore offered her a lift home in his automobile. It was quicker than the street car, but it seemed far quicker than that. They chattered volubly of art theories and practices. They did not realize how long the car stood in front of her bungalow before Mem got out, or how long he waited after she got out, talking, talking, before he bade her the final goodnight.

Her mother realized it, peering through the curtains, and Leva exclaimed:

"Good Lord! The minx has the director eating out of her hand already. She'll get on!"

She met Tom Holby on the lot one day. He had been asked to come over and talk of a possible contract with the Bermond Company. He greeted Mem with effusive enthusiasm, and she warmed at the pride of his recognition. Then she felt a little twinge of conscience—an intuition that she had no right to be so glad to see Mr. Holby, since now she fancied, she belonged to Mr. Claymore.

One day when a little scene was being filmed in which Mem was the only actress, the rest of the company being excused for a change of costume, a visitor from overseas was brought upon the set, a great French general.

The publicity man suggested that the general might like to be photographed on the scene. He laughed and came forward with a boyish eagerness. When the picture appeared in newspaper supplements about the world it was stated in each of the caption that the great warrior had said, "Remember Steddon is the prettiest girl in America."

More amazing yet, Mem first learned of this astounding tribute from her astounded father.

The news came in a letter from the man Mem and her mother loved and dreaded. As Mrs. Steddon's fingers opened the envelope in the awkwardness of guilt, two pictures fell to the floor. They were in the brown rotogravure of the Sunday supplements and presented Mem standing at the side of the French general. Both stated that he had called this promising member of the Bermond Company "the prettiest girl in America."

Mem and her mother gathered themselves together as if they had been dazed by a rip of lightning from the blue and waited for the thunderbolt to smash the world about them. They read the letter together. It began without any "Dear Wife" or "Dear Daughter". It began:

The enclosed clippings were sent to me by members of my congregation who were sojourning, one in New York and one in Chicago. It is hard for me to doubt the witness of my eyes, but it is almost harder to believe that the wife of my bosom and the daughter reared in the shelter of our home could have fallen so low so suddenly. Before I write more I want to hear the truth from both of you, if you can and will tell it.

The Reverend Doctor Steddon was something more than a father to his daughter, something more than a husband to his wife; he was also the high priest of their religion.

But Mrs. Steddon had grown up with her husband and had seen his tempers goad him to too many mistakes. She was merely angry at him now for a burst of wrath, while Mem covered before him as an inspired prophet.

Finally, in a fine frenzy she went to her table and wrote her husband an answer to his letter:

Dear Husband—I am ashamed of you for writing such a mean little note. Yes, I am proud to say that my daughter is an actress and is doing fine work. If you are not proud of her it is because you don't know enough to be. You will some day, you'll see.

She is working hard and earning lots of money, and I'm going to stay down here as long as she needs me. I guess you can get along without me for awhile. If you can't, come on out and see for yourself how wrong you are. I hope your next letter will be an apology. Mem would send her love if she knew I was writing. Your loving Wife.

When this tiny bomb exploded in Doctor Steddon's Parsonage it produced an outstanding effect. The old devil fighter was not afraid of all the legions of hell. He could even face his richest pewholder without flinching.

But he was afraid of that little wife of his. She alone could scold him with impunity and by the mere withdrawal of her approval cast a cloud across his heaven. He was in an abject perplexity now.

Have a job and get a job. To him that hath—

Remember Steddon's first picture was approaching its finish.

She had already acquiring a little name. Gossip of every sort was rife, and some of it was flattering. The word floated about that "Steddon was making good at Barmond's."

The Bermond Company, when her picture was finished, agreed to "rent" Mem to a new company that was to make Tom Holby a star. He had earned the elevation, and this meant that he and Robina Teele would part company—at last upon the screen.

When Mem read of this flattering plan in an evening paper her heart gav a hop. She was not sure just what it meant with in her there.

She did not want Tom Holby for herself, yet she did not want to see any other woman land him. Claymore obtruded upon her meditations. She was under obligations imposed by his devotion.

He tried to be particularly aloof, professional, and directorial in his conduct with Mem, lest the company discover his infatuation. But his love was less and less content with courtesy alone. The very effort emphasized what he sought to hide, and the whisper went about that Claymore and Steddon were thicker than thieves.

He persuaded her now and then to stroll—anything to get her away from the eyes and ears of her mother and her housemates.

We have not seen the Eldorado Eagles in regular action this year but will have a chance to see them next Saturday as they will have as their opponents the Sonora Bronchos who have for the past years been the keenest of rivals but clean sportsmanship has been displayed on the parts of both teams and such rivalry is the life of the football game.

See the all-wool Suits, for $22.50 at Wright's Cash Store.

The Eldorado Eagles have not completed their schedule for the coming season but the open date will soon be filled and Coach Smart will be putting his men on the firing line with several tough games ahead. The squad is large but light, but the people in this vicinity know the spirit of the light team that have furnished him amusement for the fan in the past years and how that they will not be disappointed in the determination of the past came to win. They expect to have the backing of the town, they deserve it. GIVE IT TO THEM.

3,000,000 Lbs. Of Mohair Goes To Lea At 55 And 45 Cents

PRICE IS FAR BELOW THAT OF LAST YEAR. 1,500,000 From Schreiner; 350,000 Sonora; 225,000, Rockspring San Antonio, Sept. 23, 1934. A record for the mohair market was set Monday when J. M. Lea, buyer for Draper and Company of Boston, bought 3,070,000 pounds, paying 45 cents for the old clip and 55 for the kid clip. The mohair all of the fall clip, was bought from buyers who came to San Antonio to make the sale.

Lea bought 1,500,000 pounds from the Schreiner Wool and Mohair Commission at Kerrville; 350,000 from the Sonora growers; 200,000 from the Menard Wool and Mohair and Commission Company at Menard, and 225,000 from the Rocksprings Livestock Loan Company, and 700,000 pounds from various other concerns.

The amount is the largest that has ever been sold and bought in one day by one company, and the amount bought at Kerrville is the largest that has ever been purchased by one man at one time, Lea said.

The price of mohair this year when it sold at 68 and 78 cents a pound, Lea said. The reason for the decrease has been caused by the substitution of rayon and wool for purposes which would ordinarily be filled by mohair, he thinks. The use of substitutes price of the commodity and the reaction followed, he said.

The price paid this year will allow the growers a fair profit and is expected. It is the mohair market back on its feet, Lea said. He believes that mohair would be used in preference to its substitutes at 55 and 65 cents, and expects the market to reach that height next year. The fall clip this year is a fair average with about 7,000,000, he said. Standard.

Every body be at the Football game Friday afternoon and see the Home team in action. They lost the first game but that is no sign that they will lose this one. The San Angelo Kittens have never crossed the Eagles Goal Line yet and the boys are determined that they will not cross this year. Be out there and help the boys to win. They are entitled to your support. They cannot have a winning team without your support.

The Dallas Steers won the Texas League Play off in a walk but it seems that they are going to lose the Dixie Series a little faster than that. The Birmingham team has won two straights now but they will probably strike a wall when they get back in the Steers stomping grounds next Saturday and Sunday. The first game was about the best to be played in a series of any kind. Both teams go in to the sixth inning before a clean bingle was chalked up to any batters credit. Birmingham drew the first blood but were over taken the next inning. The winning run was scored by the Birmingham cateliner when he caught pitcher Connelly of the Dallas team posing on the mound for the benefit of the spectators and stole home for the lone marker. Thursday game was a hitting spree for both teams. Dallas getting the worst of the fray, and tried practically every pitcher available to stop the noisy bats that were doing much damage in base knocks.

BAILEY RANCH NEWS (By Peytain Cain)

Mr. Erving Mund made a business trip to Ozona Friday September 20.

Miss Ruth DeLong spent the week end at home.

Mr. Erving Mund and Mr. S. D. Harper made a trip to San Angelo Saturday September 21.

Mr. Will Blaylock has leased a ranch seven miles north of San Angelo and he plans to move his family there early in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweetland visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Faull. Mrs. Sweetland is the sister of Mr. Faull. Mr. and Mrs. Sweetland are on their way to Pennsylvania to visit relatives.

Mr. Will Blaylock made a business trip to his ranch near San Angelo Tuesday September 24.

Bailey Consolidated School will soon be blessed with a new windmill which has long been needed. The well site was chosen Monday from a number of favorable places found by Geologist Archie Spencer. Trustees, Charley Mund, Claude Meador, and Arthur Mund selected the actual location. Driller McKee has already begun digging operations. There is an unfounded rumor of extending the hole on deep enough for an oil well, deep enough to rival Mr. Whitten's somewhat exaggerated enterprise.

Mr. Elton Spencer made a trip in the interest of his health to Christoval Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Oscar Gibson moved to Eldorado Tuesday, September 24.

Mr. Lum Heflin had four ribs broken last week when his horse fell with him. He is recovering nicely.

Mr. Earl Gibson from Corsbyton, Texas, has been visiting friends and relatives in this community.

Mr. Lum Heflin, Ethelda, J.B. and Mary Lee have moved to Sonora to attend school there this winter.

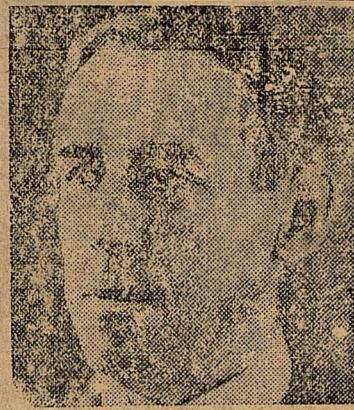

Mr. Ervin Mund had a mild wreck last night when he accidentally struck a Mexican's car parked by the highway.

Mr. J. F. McKee, accompanied by Mrs. R. D. McKee made a trip to San Angelo last Thursday to consult Doctor Chaffin.

Bailey Ranch School is planning its annual box supper for the last of October.

Saturday, September 21, at the Baptist Church a very enjoyable community social was given by the Sunday school. The purpose, it was stated was to build up the Sunday school but after seeing the vast quantities of chocolate and cakes consumed, we have decided that the real purpose was to fill up the Sunday School; if so, a very thorough job was made of it. Many enjoyable games were played and no one will soon forget Uncle Henry Mund's, Arthur Mund's and Brother Ratliff's violent mirth in the laughing contest. A number of visitors were out from town among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Stanford, Marie and Lelehn and Miss Pauline Kent.

HISTORY CLASS SPONSORS MUSEUM

The History 111, or United States History Classes of the Eldorado High School during the past three years have worked on projects in local history. This year the class is collecting historical relics and continuing to build up a small historical museum, which was started by the History 111 class of last year. The material already collected consists of such articles as numerous letters, written from 1880 to 1918, dealing as far back as 1849; Indian tomahawks and arrow and spear heads; old pictures of Eldorado etc; Old guns; Confederate money; drinking gourd; bullet mould; ladies side-saddle; surveyors chain used in surveying Eldorado; world war relics, such as gas mask, German helmet, meskit.

These relics or either loaned or given to the High School museum and are kept in a separate room in the high school. It is planned for other relics to be added from time to time thus making the museum a permanent historical collection and at the same time creating greater interest in local history. The History Class plan to take this collection to the Schleicher County Fair on October 10th & 11th.

"Great to Be Winner," Says Connie Mack.

THE SEVENTH TIME CONNIE MACK HAS PILOTTED THE WHITE ELEPHANTS TO VICTORY!

"I want to thank most of all the fans who stuck by us the last fifteen years." Connie Mack

"It's great to be a winner," said Connie Mack, manager, after the pennant was clinched by the Athletics of Philadelphia. "It's great to be a champion, but it took years of effort." When the Athletics blanked the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 0, they were assured honors for 1929 in the American loop. The pennant victory placed Connie Mack once more in the van of American League managers.
