Big Spring And Sweetwater Break Even In Eighteen Football Games Beginning With Conflict Of 1907

A search of the earliest records available show that 18 games have been played between Big Spring and Sweetwater high schools, each winning nine.

Two Determined Teams To Flash Unusual Assortment Of Individual Stars In Contest At Sweetwater

Two great high school teams will take the field this afternoon at 2:30 on Newman Field in what promises to be the deciding game in the district 4 title race.

The Red Shirted Mustangs of Sweetwater under the direction of Ed Hennig will be battling to stop and turn back the terrific offense of the black and gold Steers under the direction of Coaches Bristow and Brown.

Never before in the history of high school football in this section has there been such a high pitch as it is today. Big, little, old and young fans are wending their way to the Mustang corral to witness the little which promises to develop into one of the greatest conflicts ever staged by two high school teams.

Rivals for years and years, the Mustangs this year boast the strongest team to ever wear the red and white and with a running and passing attack the strength of which has seldom been equaled in high school circles the Ponies enter the game today slight favorites to stop the Steer march and eliminate the Bovines from the running.

The Steers, until now the doormat of the Oil Belt, have come forth this year to pace the entire state in scoring and at the same time keep their scoring sector inviolate. In spite of this splendid record the slight edge is in favor of the Ponies due to the fact that they have been under fire and know just what they have, while the Steers have yet to meet a real team.

The true strength of the Bovines is more or less of an unknown quantity. Whether or not the black and gold is a real team or just a flash in the pan will be known before the contest this afternoon is many minutes old. Should the locals be successful in stopping the power house brand of ball as played by the Nolan county crew they will be hard to stop short of the bidistrict title.

Individual Stars Seldom has a game brought together such a collection of individual stars as will be seen this afternoon when the two teams take the field. Mike Hicks, one of the most publicized backs in the state, for years one of the outstanding high school players in Class B circles is facing his first year's competition in the Class A division and has been setting the fans wild with his wild dashes from scrimmage. He is a powerful man and will be a difficult one for the Steers to stop.

Sam Baugh, who does the passing for the Ponies, is reputed to be one of the best in the state when it comes to flinging the oval. Sheridan is known as one of the fastest and most elusive backs in West Texas. Grimsley and Strother in the line for the Mustangs are outstanding at their respective positions and will bear watching during the game this afternoon.

They Test Their Strength Today for District Title

BOTH TEAMS UNBEATEN IN DISTRICT Steers Seek To Stampede Mustang Boys

Two teams undefeated and untied in district 4 will battle on Newman Field this afternoon for the football supremacy of the district.

While the Mustangs under the direction of Ed Hennig have lost two games during the season they have received both defeats at the hands of Oil Belt eleven and these by narrow margins. The Ranger Bulldogs were the first to ride the fiery Steers Undefeated One of the ten undefeated and untied teams of the state and the only team in Class A circles with its goal line uncrossed will face the Mustangs wearing the colors of Big Spring high school when the Steers take the field. Leading the state and the nation in scoring while their own scoring sector has not been trampled the Steers enter the game favorites as far as past record is concerned.

A powerful line has been the deciding factor in the eight games played by the locals. Behind this alright defense the Steer backs have gathered in victory. They are in opposition to chalk up 398 points in eight contests.

Theodore Dreiser Is Indicted After Coal Field Visit

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11 (UP)—Theodore Dreiser, noted novelist who slapped Sinclair Lewis, and Marie Pergam, were indicted by the Bell county grand jury on charges of misconduct, allegedly committed in a local hotel during a tour of the coal fields by a committee of writers investigating the fatal labor outbreaks which have taken place during recent months.

Dreiser left Monday. Circuit Judge D. C. Jones had charged the jurors to investigate the charge concerning a girl and claims of criminal syndicalism law violations in an address at mass meetings sponsored by the committee. Bonds in the amount of $200 were set for each party. The warrants will be unserved unless Dreiser returns since charge is an alleged misdemeanor and he is not extraditable.

Dreiser yesterday denied the offense. He said that such a thing was impossible for him.

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11 (UP)—Theodore Dreiser's inquiry into charges of "official terrorism" in the coal fields of southeastern Kentucky has ended, and out of it came his assertion to the United Press that he considered conditions there "as bad as they could be anywhere in the world."

Dreiser, author-chairman of the National Committee for Protection of Political Prisoners, led that committee into the heart of a district which for months has been torn by bloody strife. Lines of sympathy in that district are sharply drawn. Murders resulted in wholesale arrests.

"There ought to be prosecutions of the severest type against officials of Harlan county," said the author of "An American Tragedy," whose personal sympathies lie to the left in matters affecting labor in this country.

"I think there should be a congressional investigation," he said, "but I fancy the first step will be a state inquiry. It is the usual American lineup of capital and labor, with everything on one side and nothing on the other but two bare hands!"

Armistice Day Celebrated On The Gridiron By Neighbors

Big Spring and Sweetwater, neighbors and friends, but today celebrators on the gridiron, celebrate the thirteenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, ending hostilities in the world war, at Sweetwater with a football game that is expected to decide the team that will represent district 4 in the scramble for greater honors.

Traditionally, upon the wide stretches of the West Texas county where the two cities have risen as important centers of business as well as football, the Mustangs beat the Steer. The Mustangs of yesterday hereabouts sent huge herds of Steers "up the trail."

It was the task today, therefore, of the people of Big Spring to change tradition, overcome convention and make sure that the Herds stampeded and turned the "white Mustangs toward the home corral to let the Steers roam at will upon greater gridiron battlefields.

Hundreds of Big Spring people were enroute this morning to Sweetwater in automobiles. More than 500 others were scheduled to leave at 11:30 a. m. on a special train, with the Municipal Band and the high school girls' pep squad, to attend the game.

Buck Johnson, the Grover Whalton of Sweetwater, with Will H. Scott, manager of the Board of City Development, had planned a royal reception for the visitors. A delegation from the B.C.D. was to meet the special train at Roscoe. At the Sweetwater station the Sweetwater Municipal Band was to greet the delegation and march with it to the Blue Bonnet hotel.

Game time was 2:30 p. m. Big Springs fans were to occupy the stands on the east side of the gridiron.

Sweetwater about 1 p. m., after stopping at Coahoma and Colorado to pick up additional football devotees.

This And That By Mark

The day of days is here and the game of games for district 4 will be played this afternoon.

The Deserted Village had nothing on Big Spring today as the populace made preparations for the exodus to the Nolan county center to encourage the Steers in their attempts to ride the Mustangs. In case there is any doubt about the matter, the Bovines are going to ride them Ponies without the use of a saddle, bridle, spurs or anything extra in the way of riding equipment. Just a nice long keen quirt will be used by the Steers to drive the Ponies hither and thither over the green turf of the Mustang corral.

This column seems to be all alone in the little matter of picking the winner of the scrap today. Various and sundry sports writers look for the Sweetwater crew to topple the Bristowmen from their lofty perch at the top of district 4, and the leading undefeated team of the state. Personally we look for the Steers to continue to march and for the Ponies to take the short end of the count.

Speaking of thrills reminds us that we request each and every fan to take along their own smelling salts and whatnots, for the coming fray is going to be a hard one on the nerves and we will have ample cause for our own stimulants. A battle of thrills second to none ever known to the high school gridironed for the entertainment of the customer of West Texas is due to be staged when the two clubs take the field this afternoon.

Football as she really is will be brought to the attention of the 5,000 or more fans expected to pack the confines of Newman Field this afternoon. Formations such as we have not seen this year will be reported to in an effort to get one of the scoring acts of the two clubs

Big Spring Girl's Twin Brother Battles At Guard For Sweetwater Mustangs

Miss Irene Strother, of Big Spring is in a most embarrassing position in regard to the conflict between the Steers and the Mustangs.

Her twin brother, Gene Strother, scrapping Pony guard, will be in there giving his all to bring victory to his school while his sister is divided in her opinion.

"I want Big Spring to win, but I hate for the Mustangs to lose on account of my brother. All he has worked for this year is to beat Big Spring," Miss Strother said this morning.

Some Of The Men Figuring In Day's Game

Individual Stars Heighten Interest In District Four Setto

The Sweetwater Municipal Band shown at the right, will greet the Big Spring delegation when it reaches that city today. It is one of the best and most widely known bands in West Texas.

Immediately to the right is Red Sheridan, who leads the Sweetwater remuda when it comes to galloping and kicking. Below him is Sam Raugh, the boy from Temple whose passing technique is expected to form the chief threat of the Mustangs. Below him is Belt, powerful Sweetwater halfback.

At the extreme right is Lowe, assistant coach of the Mustangs, who has aided the Head Coach, Ed Hennig, in developing the greatest team Sweetwater has had in many moons.

At the extreme right of the row is The Roscoe Rambler, Mike Hicks, 190 pounds of driving power, who is declared to be the hardest man in the state to stop once he gets past the line of scrimmage. He plays for Sweetwater.

Capt. Flowers, Dennis Pledge 'Games of Lives'

CAPT. BILL FLOWERS
"As captain of the team I would of course like to lead the Steers to victory, but it is going to take everything we have to win today. All individual play is going to be forgotten and we are all going to give our best for the team and the school."

TACK DENNIS
"Contrary to what the public has been led to believe I do not consider this as a personal battle between any member of the Sweetwater team and myself. It makes no difference to me who scores the greatest number of points on either team just so our total is more than the Mustangs'. I will give everything I have every minute I am in the game to help the other ten men on our team win a victory for the Steers."

In a recent speed test English clothing manufacturers made a suit of clothing for a man within 130 minutes of the time the wool was shown from sheep.

Three Americans, Cast Away On Island Six Months, In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (UP).—Three Americans who were cast away for six months on the Cocol Island, a dot in the Pacific Ocean off Columbia not far from the island on which Robinson Crusoe spent most of his life, arrived in New York Monday and promptly got "lost" again.

They arrived on the Pan American line steamer "Virginia," took one look at the score of vaudeville, book and magazine agents awaiting them, as well as several radio announcers who wanted to get them on the air, and disappeared in the crowd.

Wearing satty, new suits and presenting a general appearance of torpid perfection in contrast to rags in which they were found the U. S. S. Sacramento, the always finally were discovered ship news reporters and piloted by the spotlight of public attention.

Gordon Brawner of Springfield, Illinois, told how he and his two companions, Paul Stidwick of Huron, S. D., and Elmer J. Palliser of San Diego, California, lived through half a year's tropical rains existing on coconuts, fish and some wild boars which they shot.

he breaks, and we intend to make those breaks possible and then capitalize on them to the best of our ability. We may not win but we will go down fighting." Coach Obit Low declared on the eve of the battle.

"The line, which has been our salvation in the past, is ready to go. It is not handicapped by injury to any of the starting players, and I feel that the boys have an even chance with the Mustangs and that is all we ask," George Brown, line coach said last night.

Dennis In Form
The big advantage of the Steers, if any, lies in the powerful, and educated toe of Tack Dennis, Steer punter. In the final practice Tuesday afternoon Dennis was standing on his own ten yard line and sending the oval to his receivers on the twenty-five yard mark at the other end of the field. In the case of a close battle the kicking of the Steer ace is expected to be the deciding factor in favor of the Black and Gold.

Opposing Dennis at the kicking position will be Red Sheridan of the Mustangs. Sheridan is ranked by most experts as the second best kicker in the district, and behind the powerful Mustang forward wall it is possible that his boots may equal those of the Bovine ace.

A kicking game, while not particularly interesting to the fans, is smart football on certain occasions, and it is possible that the toe of one of these men will bring victory to his team.

It will be remembered that a field goal was the deciding factor in the Abilene-Sweetwater game, and it may be that history will repeat itself on Newman Field this afternoon.

'Let People Attend To Own Business,' Says Leading Texas Solon

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 11 (UP).—Congressman John N. Garner stopped off here for an hour today, en route to Washington, and discussed business conditions.

"If the government would just let people tend to their own business instead of trying to run it for them, we would get along a lot better," he said.

"Conditions now aren't so bad as most people think. People have a lot of imaginary troubles though. That's what's wrong with Texas right now. Everything is in fine shape, going along swell, but everyone thinks there ought to be something wrong, so there is."

Santa Monica, Cal., junior chamber has hosted the prize for the second annual open golf tournament for $1,000 to $2,500. The three day meet is set for early January.

Bovine Boys Finish Work In Fine Form

Dennis In Best Kicking Of Season As Squad Makes Ready

A light signal drill by the squad and punting exercise for Dennis put the finishing touches on the Steer training in preparation for the game today with the Mustangs.

With every man in perfect condition with the exception of Captain Flowers the locals left Steer stadium yesterday afternoon ready to give the Horses the battle of their lives in their own back yard today.

Never before in the history of football in Big Spring has such a determined group of warriors carried the colors of the local high on the field of battle. From the weakest reserve on the field to the most finished performer the Steers are heading East this morning with the fighting spirit of all high school teams of the past to spur them on, the words of encouragement of former Bovine stars ringing in their ears, and the backing of the citizenship such as is seldom given a football team anywhere. Victory, in the mind of the team, is going to rest on the banner of the harder fighting club on the gridiron and that club, according to the vows of local gridsters, is going to be the Steers.

Team In Shape
"We are ready to battle Sweetwater for everything we have. We are going into the game fully aware of the psychological advantage which lies with the Mustangs. With two such evenly matched clubs we feel that the team that wins is going to have to take advantage of

Large Party Opens Fall Social Season

Mmes. Fahrenkamp and Pitman Are Joint Hostesses

Mrs. Ethel E. Fahrenkamp and Mrs. Omar Pitman were joint hostesses for the first large party of the season Tuesday afternoon when they entertained nineteen tables of bridge at the lovely Fahrenkamp home in Edwards Heights.

The rich red of autumn coloring prevailed in all the party accessories. The rooms were decorated with long sprays of Virginia creeper just turned a glowing scarlet. Actual autumn leaves formed the unique tallees. On the under side slips of paper had been cut out to follow the outline of the leaf and the guests kept their scores on these. Autumn leaves also formed the decorations for the score pads. The prizes were wrapped with white paper tied with green ribbon scarlet leaves being tied to ends of the ribbons. Mrs. E. H. Happell made high score and received a beautiful Madeira linen luncheon set. Mrs. Victor Martin made second high and received a lovely bedroom set. Mrs. Homer Markham won low and was given a deck of cards.

Mrs. Musgrove Gives Class A Lovely Party

Coffee Memorial Members Enjoy November Social

Mrs. M. L. Musgrove was hostess to the members of the Coffee Memorial Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon with a delightful party.

Her home was profusely decorated with bouquets of fall flowers, roses and chrysanthemums. When the guests arrived they were shown a collection of daguerotypes and old photographs and told to select the hostess' grandmother from among them. Mrs. Zinn was the only one who recognized the grandmother and as a reward she was given a vase of beautiful roses from the garden of Mrs. A. G. Hall, who had donated them for this purpose. Other games featured the entertainment including a game of childhood reminiscences. The program closed with a devotional led by Mrs. B. H. Settles, reading Corinthians 13. Delicious refreshments were served to the following members and visitors: Mmes. Mike Williamson, W. H. Shaw, C. E. Talbot, Florence Jones, Sam Eason, R. E. Zinn.

E. 4th Baptist W. M. S. Studied Book Of Exodus

The members of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church W. M. S. met for Bible study Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. S. H. Morrison talked on the first song in the Bible, written by Moses as he looked forward to Israel's final deliverance and glory as a nation. The following women gathered for the lessons in the book of Exodus: Mmes. W. W. Hill, W. O. Neal, F. L. Turpin, L. S. McCullough, O. F. Presley, O. R. Phillips, W. D. Thompson, Ben Carpenter, S. H. Morrison, R. A. Humble, Joe Phillips and Hart Phillips.

Mrs. A. M. Ripps Entertains For '31 Club Members

The '31 Bridge Club met with Mrs. A. M. Ripps Tuesday afternoon for a very merry session of bridge.

The house was decorated with chrysanthemums in various fall colors. Mrs. Hammond made high score and Mrs. McDonald low. Mrs. McDonald was given a bouquet of flowers. Coffee, individual lemon pies and assorted candies were served to the following members and guests: Mmes. W. A. Shaw, J. E. Hammond, L. D. Martin, R. S. McDonald, Jess Phillips, A. M. Ripps, Horace Jarrett and Nora Wallace.

Wesley Memorial W. M. S. Holds Regular Meeting

The members of the Wesley Memorial Methodist W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Joe Willis Tuesday afternoon in regular session.

Mrs. M. A. Berry led the devotionals. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. J. B. King served as secretary pro tem. The members took up matters of business and agreed to begin the study of the handbook at the next meeting, which will be with Mrs. J. B. King at 305 Owen street. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the session.

Never parched, never toasted CAMELS are FRESH in nature's own mild way! EVERYONE knows now that Camels are the fresh cigarette. If inquiry went deeper, it would reveal that Camels are the natural moisture cigarette. That's important, because in handling fine tobaccos, when you process out natural moisture, you sacrifice freshness and flavor too. Camel smokers needn't worry about that, because Camels are blended of fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that are never subjected to violent processing. They need no parching or toasting to make them smooth, palatable, cool. That's why the Camel Humidor Pack is such a boon to Camel smokers—it preserves the freshness, flavor, natural moisture, fragrance that are in this fine cigarette to start with. Camels are fresh in nature's own mild way, and if you want to see what that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to them for just one day—then leave them, if you can! R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Smoke a FRESH cigarette

Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked.

since more.

London furnished the other picture of recovering business. It reported that since suspension of the gold standard in Britain there has been an industrial revival on a large scale. Cotton and textiles and steel industries are showing improvements. Some of the mills have gone on a full-time schedule. In British industrial centers such as Birmingham workers are returning to the plants at the rate of 5,000
a week.

London reports orders from foreign buyers for sheet steel, and several hundred idle men returned to work in the mills of Glasgow.
Clydeside mills report increased demands for their products.

The general tone throughout the world is better and a more optimistic feeling in all lines of industry and commerce, not to mention finance, is apparent.

The worst is over and improvement from now on should be steady.

ed western senators as "the sons of wild jackasses" in an election copy maker. Now he predicts democratic control of the national house probably will mean complete stagnation for the next two years.
This is his argument. "Stagnation is a darned good thing for the country for we are passing too many laws. I cannot predict the election of John N. Garner as speaker of the new house. He was taken to task after a very ugly fashion by representative William N. Woods of Indiana, a republican standpatter and fireeater who never places a muzzle on his tongue. Moses is correct as to the future. No moralist man can predict to a certainty the result of the election in November, 1932."

HOW'S your HEALTH

Dr. Sage Goldenrod, Author of "The New York Vitamin A and Infections"

Vitamin A and Infections
Vitamin A, or as it is sometimes called, "fat soluble A," is found in a fairly wide variety of foods.
Chief among these are milk, butter, eggs yolk and spinach. It is also abundant in cod liver oil.
A lack of this vitamin in the diet has been known to give rise to a relatively rare condition of the eye, designated as xerophthalmia.
In this disease the eyes become so inflamed and swollen that they are opened only with difficulty.
Unless the diet of the sufferer is improved, blindness may result.
For some time it has been suspected that the vitamin A deficiency in some manner also pre-disposes the affected individual to bacterial infections particularly of the respiratory tract.

Recent work has partially justified this suspicion, for it has been experimentally shown that a disturbance in vitamin A causes serious changes to take place in the lining membranes of the respiratory, digestive and urinary tracts.

In a general way the changes that take place in the lining membranes may be described as toughening or hardening of the tissue.
But in certain portions the experimenters observed a substantial loss of covering cells.

In connection with this it should be borne in mind that our skin and mucous linings are our first line of defense against the invasion of bacteria.

The linings of the nose and throat, and of the bronchi and lungs offer, when intact, an almost impassable barrier against germs.

The degeneration of the coverings of the respiratory (breathing) tract due to a diet deficient in vitamin A may account for the greater susceptibility to infection noted in this condition.

The practical deductions to be drawn are self-evident.

LADY with a PAST
BY HARRIET HENRY

SYNOPSIS: Venice Muir, slender in honey-colored satin, with gleaming russet hair, knows that her appearance cannot win her success at the Goadby's party. She shows too plainly her lack of sophisticated allure and is manifestly self-conscious. Her friend, Lola Goadby, introduces Donny Reepat. But Venice can find no reprieve, and thinks only of a way to help him free himself. Lola intervenes with another partner. Venice tells herself that wall-flowers cannot be choosers. She is at ease with Mr. Partridge, a friend of her mother, because he is older and does not require light conversation. Mrs. Muir herself is socially poised, and urges Venice continually to strive for popularity. Venice gains sufficient confidence to chatter with Jerry Ward. But when Jerry asks her to dance she again becomes nervous. Watching the technique of other girls, she tries to look at Jerry with an intriguing expression she has observed.

Chapter 3
PURPLE BRUISE
"Oh, I'm sorry." She had trod on his foot. Forgotten was her own dancing in her analysis and attempted imitation of the puppets about her.
"Was Jerry to be encountered with her indefinitely? God, give me another partner, please, please. She wanted to smile at that black line with gleaming shirt-fronts. She couldn't. She was afraid. It showed so obviously what she was. And then some one she didn't even know touched her shoulder. Jerry had done something to attract this new partner. Shame swept her. She was off in the arms of this tall, ugly man. A bad dancer, as silent and diffident as she. Wordlessly they ploughed through the mass of gaily, gyrating forms, knocking into one couple, treading on the feet of another.
"So the evening went. By hook or crook Venice changed partners every few dances, but it was only by hook or crook. Any animation she might have summoned died with the effort of not encumbering any one young man too long. She became, leaden, tired and dull.
Venice stole quietly home in a cab alone. Why did she cling to a continual fletts of which she was never a genuine part. Because it was she who was brought up for, all she was able to qualify for. A smart school, smart summer resorts, smart debut. She yearned for popularity. The lack of it made each party a new grief, another purple bruise on the skin of her sensitivity.
Directly she alighted down between cool linen sheets to lie staring through the dark at pictures of the evening's gaiety that had completely excluded and eluded her.
She sighed, murmured a prayer to which she childishly, if pitifully, added a postscript begging God to give her at least one attentive young man and then sleepily became engrossed in a yellow grotesquerie painted on the ceiling by a street lamp outside.
A great shaft of sunlight stealing through the wide canyon of Park avenue awoke Venice in the morning. She lay basking in the warm sun and slowly absorbing the outlines of rooms and furniture as though she had never noticed them before. Green lacquered footboard with little Oriental figures hurrying, scurrying across rivers, or arched bridges. The same little people on bedside table, dressing-table, spinet desk. A small hanging bookcase in a corner bearing Michael Arlen, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Bromfield, Galworthy, Maurine, Andre Gide. A prism of sunlight glanced from the triple mirror of the dressing-table to drop points of sharp blue and violet on bright toilet silver. The honey-colored frock lay huddled on the chaise longue. The pathos in its posture somehow admitted to inglorious defeat the night before.

Venice's eyes widened. Her quickening mind traveled back over the Goadby's party, leaped ahead to the possibility of many more such parties to come. Perhaps it would be better if she dropped out of it all, took literary courses at Columbia. She might really do a novel one of these days. Expression came easily to her. Ideas at times fairly soared.
Continual introspection had given her insight and the ability to analyze the emotions of others. She sighed again. The desire to write was only spasmodic. The desire for popularity, or at least a certain amount of social success, was with her all the time. Why not? It was her mother's reason d'être. When Venice at an early age, in spite of her protests, had been sent to dancing school Mrs. Muir had earnestly pointed out the little girls who received the most invitations to dance.
"Watch them, dear," she had said. "You must smile and always think of pleasant things to say."
Venice had not been able to think of pleasant things to say. She had staked away as often as possible to sit on some back stairs, a place of haven which she still remembered in detail and with grateful affection until the teacher had written to Mrs. Muir about it. Mrs. Muir had cried. That was something that Venice could never forget. It was as important as all that. Her father had been different. He had had wavy hair, the heritage he had passed on to her, blue eyes that smiled shyly and a quiet, self-contained manner. He hadn't really cared about society, but he had adored her mother. He had been a senior at Yale when he had spent a Christmas holiday in Richmond. Trudy Lee had been, from the moment he met her until death shut him away from her, the only thing that had mattered in his life. He had lived and, literally, died for her. For it was at Bailey's Beach in the seventh year of their marriage that he had saved her from drowning and so given up his life. Robbed of the only man for whom her smiles had ever been sincere, Mrs. Muir's fondness for society strengthened to an obsession. Her main aim of existence became the establishing of her daughter's popularity.
And if it hadn't been for their honeymoon in Italy I would have never had such a ridiculous name. Venice thought resentfully. I'm glad they didn't stay in Rimini. There was a soft knock. Nora entered with a tray. She was a large, big-boned Irish-American girl who had been with the Muirs for eleven years. She seemed to regard the household in which she lived with easy tolerance, but held no real affection for it. Venice considered as a curious product of the genes. Her manner was aloof and service perfect.
"Good morning, Miss Venice."
"Good morning, Nora."
The wicker breakfast tray scrooped up. Venice cracked an egg and mentally lectured herself. I mustn't

This is necessary, he holds, "to check the extension of the throttling campaign of monopolistic interests."

GENERAL, HALE AT 71, RECALLS PEACE ORDER ON 13TH ANNIVERSARY

By MARGUERITE YOUNG
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—Thirteen years ago today, General John J. Pershing dispatched 29 words from Chaumont, France, to Washington. They read:

"Headquarters, American Expeditionary Forces, November 11 (morning). In accordance with the terms of the Armistice hostilities on the front of the American Armies were suspended at 11 o'clock, morning."

Behind this terse communique lay the most thrilling moment of the leader of more than 2,000,000 soldiers experienced during the World War—that of realizing the job was done, the climax of the nation's greatest military conflict was reached and victory was won.
In multifarious ways General Pershing difficultly recalls his own experiences on that first Armistice day.
Only his close friends have heard how he himself picked up a telephone in a French chateau, on that November daybreak, and personally relayed the command that hushed the gun-thunder of half a million soldiers.

Hale and Hearty

As Gen. John J. Pershing, retired, this still stalwart commander sits at a desk in a spacious room near that in which he made his plans for his greatest adventure. His manners and his speech are as meticulous as his dress. His civilian attire is of military trimness. At 71 he looks as if he finds life zestful.
His powerful figure has more flesh than when he came back, but is still of athletic mould. His somewhat pale face accents the sparkle of his blue-grey eye, and the strong square lines of his jaw.

Turning Back the Years

No doubt the general's backward glance will rest, at some time today, on that morning at Chaumont, in 1918.
On the night of November 10, he was informed he would "receive word" the next day.
He waited in the chateau that was his headquarters, 180 miles from Paris and within easy communication with the two American armies that were driving the Germans back as though they were unhinged bars of a big triangle.
At 6 o'clock the next morning General Pershing was called by his liaison officer, who had brought the momentous command to cease firing at 11 a. m. to each American Army headquarters.

Thence the order traveled by telephone to corps headquarters, down the military stations to brigade, to regimental headquarters, on to the advancing doughboys.

Former Dry Leader Among Women Goes Into Camp Of Wets

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (UP).—Mrs. Wendell Spence, in 1917 chairman of the women's division of the Dallas Prohibition Party which conducted a successful anti-liquor fight, today was in the ranks of the wets.
"I am firmly against prohibition because I do not believe enough people want it to make it a success," said Mrs. Spence in explaining her change of attitude. "The 18th amendment has failed and is giving the criminal element the whip hand."
"People can get liquor as easily now as ever."
Mrs. Spence was one of the early day campaigners in Texas for women's suffrage. She also led a successful fight to banish liquor from the state fair grounds here in the days of the open saloon. She now plans to be active in the women's organization for prohibition reform.

Public Health Men Gather In Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—The big problem of public health in Texas—that of maintaining a high standard in the face of the commercial depression was to be discussed at the Texas Public Health Association convention opening here today to continue through the week.
Speaking of the problem, Dr. A. C. Hutcheson, public health chief of Houston, said there always was a tendency, in time of economic bad weather, to "let down in public health work."
"It is true of the city and state, public work; it is true of the individual, who frequently feels he does not have the money to buy proper medicine, even in many cases to buy proper food," said the physician.

"At our coming convention this challenge to maintain public health work will be the chief subject before the 200 or 400 health workers who will be our guests."
The convention will be in two sections—the laboratory section and the public sessions.

Best Wishes To The STEERS on Armistice Day

DUDLEY'S 5-10-25c Store 220 Main St.

This And That

In the open, and once in the open, ladies and gentlemen, each club has several men who can pick them up and set them down in a great big hurry as they amble over the dividing lines between the line of scrimmage and the scoring sector.

And speaking of passes, we expect the air to be filled with pig-sides as the pass fingers de luxe, Sam Haugh and Tack Dennis, hurl the leather through the ozone in desperate scoring efforts. Either one of these gentlemen can pass among the best in the country today, but we pick Dennis as the better of the two. There are several reasons for this but we will only mention one—he is doing the hearing for the Steers.

No hard luck is wished the Ponies but a prayer meeting will be held each and every time the Red Shirts start forward with the oval. Our nerves are on the ragged edge of nothing and any serious scoring threats by the home team we fear will put the finishing touches to an otherwise enjoyable afternoon. While we are on this little matter of scoring we have it from good authority—a Sweetwater fan—that the final score of the big scrap is going to be 1-13 in favor of the Mustangs.

We had the rare privilege of attending the Mustang rally Monday night. Never before have we seen so many people attend a rally of any sort. It was a great surprise to us to find that so many people lived in Sweetwater. It is a certainty, however, that every one who does live there is a dyed in the wool football fan and can see nothing in the world, but victory for the Ponies in the holiday lit.

We do not believe in betting but just in case we should place a little wager, we would think several times before we would call it off and then we would not do it. Just to let you in on the secret a little further one of our good friends at Sweetwater pulled such a stunt. He believes in his team but at the same time he has his doubts. He had an even money wager. He called it off, and went after a 6-point advantage.

We expected to attend the game this p. m. with a feeling of pity for the Hennigmen for the loss of their star tackle, Mr. Grimsley, but can you imagine our surprise when we saw the big fellow at the rally Monday night, and people if he has the flu then we have double pneumonia at the present writing. He will be muchly in evidence during the matinee affair. His number is 13 and like THE 13 it will bear watching.

Mike Hicks, the Roscoe Rambler, is the boy who is going to give our own little Tack Dennis a few lessons in the gentle art of defensive and offensive football as she should be played. Now we do not claim to be a prophet or anything like that but we are afraid, just a little afraid, kind readers that the imported, Pony has undertaken just a little bit more than a whole corral full of horses can say grace over. When all is said and done Tack will be lugging the inflated oval and the Sweetwater fans will be wondering just how it all came about. In case you don't gather our meaning it is in pure old everyday American just this—we can't see the Ponies stopping Dennis this afternoon.

Spiegel Wood, the iron man, of the Mustang eleven will no doubt gain a few yards during the p. m. but we have a back lugging the hide for the Bovines who is no slouch when it comes to cracking the old forward wall. Big Hebe has a nice average for the season if you will but pursue the following. Hebe has carried the ball 60 times on line plays and has the average of 5.3 yards per play. This little line cracking duel should be interesting to the spectators but rather hard on the linemen.

We are going to have one more large afternoon up in the press box this p. m. with both Blondy Cross and Prexy Anderson among those present. We are all set for the wise cracks which will be hurled our way but at the same time we are quite confident that the Steer performance will be such that said witty remarks will be kept at a minimum.

Just to inform the many fans who will be watching Tack Dennis this aft we give the following facts: Dennis has scored 22 touchdowns and 5 extra points in 8 games. He has carried the ball 133 times for an average of 9.2 yards. He has kicked 46 times for an average of N. Y., which was completed.

45.4 yards. Now the club that makes Tack lower this splendid record to any great extent is going to be playing some real football.

We could, but we won't, close our views on the coming game without giving our idea of the score. We may as well get our feet wet and let you in on the final count. Howsoever we offer no consolation if anyone takes our tip and wagers the family jewels on same. We see STEER VICTORY by the count of 19-7.

Telephone Franchise At Amarillo May Go In Independent Group

AMARILLO, Nov. 11 (UP).—A new franchise for telephone service in Amarillo may be awarded an independent company immediately, Mayor Thompson announced here today.

The announcement was received as the city's latest ultimatum in the fight for lower telephone rates here. For ten days civic bodies have been encouraging the disconnection of city telephones in an attempted "boycott" on the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, present holders of the city franchise.

Carbonated Beverage Makers Meet In Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (UP).—Specialists in thirst quenching began arriving today from all parts of the United States for the annual convention of the American bottlers of carbonated beverages.

Meetings of the officers opened today. A series of special meetings will be held to consider practical problems of beverage manufacture starting today and the convention proper will open Wednesday to continue through Friday.

Among those arriving for the early sessions were Past President James Vernon, Jr. of Detroit; Director Arthur C. Uihlein, of Milwaukee; Director and Past President C. B. Chesterman, of Sioux City, Ia.; Dr. J. H. Buchanan, and Dr. Max Levine, faculty members of Iowa State College, at Ames.

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—King George the Fifth, wearing the crown and an ermine robe over the scarlet uniform of a field marshal spoke from the golden throne to the House of Lords at the opening of the new Parliament, whose huge nationalist majority hopes to end the financial industrial crisis. He said, "My people have given you an emphatic mandate and we expect you to achieve success." The session is expected to forsake the traditional English free trade and pass a protective tariff.

Attorney Announces He Will Oppose Garner

McALLEN, Texas, Nov. 11 (UP).—Rep. John Garner may win the speakership of the house of representatives without opposition next month, but he will have to fight for his own seat at the next election. Goldron Griffin, local attorney and unsuccessful candidate for district judge in Hidalgo county three years ago on the "good government" ticket, plans to oppose Garner for the 15th district nomination.

Building Dedicated To Weed Eradication

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 11 (AP)—Work on the erection of the first building in West Texas to be dedicated to the eradication of a weed is under way at Ranch Experiment Station between Sonora and Rocksprings. J. D. Westbrook, the contractor, expects to complete work on the bitterweed station within 45 days. The contract was let for $12,117 and laboratory equipment will cost about $3,000, leaving an additional $4,000 or more to be used for field men. The Texas legislature appropriated $20,000 emergency sum for the extermination of the bitterweed, a poisonous range plant which kills many thousand head of sheep in West Texas each year. It was especially bad last winter. The federal government will send three scientists to study the range menace when the buildings have been completed. Three buildings are to be erected near the main plant of the experiment station. The war against the bitterweed, instituted last winter, led to a number of conferences in which range leaders took part. Finally the legislature was persuaded to appropriate the sum. The structure will be of concrete and will consist of a laboratory and two residences for employees. The committee that let the contract consisted of Judge J. A. Whitten, chairman of the state livestock sanitary commission, W. H. Dameron and A. B. Conner.

FIVE KILLED IN BURNING AIRLINER

Two pilots and three passengers burned to death when a Newark to Washington passenger airliner fell on a golf course near Camden, N. J., and burst into flames. The smoldering wreckage of the plane is shown above.

CERMAK TALKS POLITICS IN EAST

Anton J. Cermak (right), Chicago's democratic mayor, went to New York to confer with eastern party leaders, saying that Illinois did not consider Governor Roosevelt a "formidable candidate," especially without the support of Alfred Smith (left). Cermak wants, he said, a "dripping wet" candidate of the "A-I" Smith type. Former Governor Smith's attack on Roosevelt's state taxator policy again brought to the fore the reported break between Smith and Roosevelt.

WAR FLARES ANEW IN ASIA'S POWDER BOX

Manchuria, often called the "powder box of the far east," is the scene of renewed fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops. The Chinese were crushed in a three-day battle and sent flying northward in disorderly retreat. Above is a typical group of Japanese troops guarding the Peiping-Mukden railroad line near Chulu-Ho which has been one of the focal points in the Manchurian trouble.

THEY'LL BOSS BIG CORN POOL

George S. Milnor (right), president of the government's grain stabilization corporation, has been chosen president of the new $1,000,000 National Corn Credit corporation which expects to loan up to $8,000,000 to corn belt farmers. Harry Laird (left) of Des Moines is general manager of the pool.

Back To The Dance

Dorothy Talbot deserted Prescott, Ariz., to become a ballet dancer. Her thespian talents won her away to the legitimate stage—and she played in several Broadway dramas. Now she has been lured back to her first love and is a featured dancer in Peter Arno's "Here Goes the Bride."

Minister Of War

Gen. Hiroshi Homma (above), minister of war, explained Japan's position in Manchuria to Emperor Hirohito. After a hard fought battle with Chinese troops the war office announced that "positive and effective" measures would be undertaken to cope with the situation.

SMOOT BEATS DEMPSEY—AT GOLF

Jack Dempsey took a trimming when he took on Senator Reed Smoot for a round of golf in Salt Lake recently. The Utah senator won by four strokes. Jack claimed it was his first game in three years.

The Columbia Lions are roaring this season louder than they have in years. Out of an unusually small squad for the big New York institution, Coach Lou Little has built a team that rates as one of the strongest in the east. Ralph Hewitt, Columbia's great back, is a candidate for All-America honors. Other stars are Otto Schwartz, slashing fullback, and Bill McDuffee, center and bulwark of the line.

Gives Soviet Policy

Russia will maintain a "hands off" policy in regard to Japanese occupation of Manchuria according to Klement Voroshilov, Soviet war commissar.

COXEY STAGES COMEBACK

Jacob S. Coxey, who 37 years ago led his famous army of unemployed in Washington, D. C., has won his latest battle. He is elected mayor of Massillon, Ohio, on a platform advocating municipal ownership of utilities and flotation of a bond issue to aid the city's unemployed. Here he is with his wife, Henrietta, and his son, David. He is now 77 years old.

RALPH CAPONE GOES TO PRISON

Ralph Capone, older brother of the more notorious "Scarface Al" and once the beer boss of Cicero, Ill., now is just another convict at Leavenworth. Here he is shown (center) boarding the train to start serving a three year sentence for evasion of income tax laws.

Election Shooting

H. M. Denhardt of Bowling Green, Ky., former lieutenant governor of Kentucky and democratic political leader, was shot and wounded by an opposing political worker following heated election campaign.

Senate Candidate

Charles M. Howell of Kansas City has announced he will seek the democratic nomination for United States senator from Missouri in 1932.

Leads Phone Fight

Mayor Ernest Thompson of Amarillo, Texas, led a fight against the telephone company, declaring rates were excessive. The card on his phone says, "disconnected." Similar cards dangled from phones in 1,000 rooms in his two hotels.

Admits Slaying

Chicago police said Edward Roche, 17 year old "bad boy" stepson of a wealthy Winnetka, Ill., family, confessed killing E. Russell Thompson, Chicago broker, in a roadhouse holdup almost a year ago.

NORTHWESTERN TRIMS MINNESOTA IN TITLE MARCH

Northwestern repulsed Minnesota's threat to block the Wildcats' march to a Big Ten championship by trimming the Gophers 32 to 14. Pug Rentner, star Northwestern half back (extreme left), is shown starting one of his spectacular runs that led to touchdowns.

Ask Settlement Fund for River

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (UP)—If the Mexican government and the United States senate approve the new treaty being negotiated regarding the Rio Grande river, Rep. R. E. Thomason, El Paso, new congressman from the 16th district, will introduce a bill appropriating $3,000,000 for Rio Grande rectification, he said here today. "L. M. Lawson, United States member of the international boundary commission, is now in Mexico City," said Thomason. "As his former associate, Gustavo Serrano, Mexican member, is now a member of the Mexican cabinet a treaty may be expected shortly eliminating the disputed areas along the border and settling the Chamizal dispute in south El Paso." Thomason plans to protect the abandonment of Fort D. A. Russell at Marfa and to seek relief in some form for borrowers of federal land banks who are unable to meet their payments. "Abandonment of Fort Russell would be poor business as well as a breach of faith," said Thomason. "The government has spent $1,000,000 there and the post is needed to protect the border. The little town of Marfa has built hotels, extended water mains and made other improvements because of the post. These will become worthless if the troops are moved." Thomason will succeed Rep. Claude Hudspeth who was not a candidate for reelection. Thomason was a pallbearer Sunday at the funeral of the late Rep. Harry Wursbach at San Antonio. The new congressman stopped off in Dallas long enough to telephone relatives and friends at Gainesville where he guarded the cracker barrel in his father's general store 40 years ago.

Thomason is a graduate of Southwestern University and the University of Texas. He was speaker of the house at Austin and has served as mayor of El Paso. He is an attorney.

Cattle Shipments From San Angelo In October Total 53,500

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 11 (AP)—Cattle shipments from the San Angelo territory during October totaled 53,500 head, according to compilations of railway livestock agents. This area includes points along the Santa Fe to Presidio, south to Del Rio along the Southern Pacific and Frisco. In the Big Bend country there has not yet been much contracting of calves in spite of a dry condition. Ranchmen are holding calves for higher prices and have laid in cake for the winter. Should rains fall and provide weeds many will be fattened at home.

An Armistice Day Prayer:

"Thank God, that in Thy divine wisdom Thou hast restored reason to man"

TO AMERICA'S WAR HEROES

The following message to the American people in commemoration of Armistice Day is written especially for The Associated Press by the national commander of the American Legion.

National Commander of the American Legion By HENRY L. STEVENS, JR.

WE commemorate today the anniversary of a great event that a few brief years ago brought joyousness to millions of saddened hearts and relief from the strife and turmoil of armed conflict.

THE deeds of valor performed by America's fighting men in that war will never grow dim, but will forever reflect the light of peerless devotion and the spirit of unselfish service that has made America great.

FROM their service in time of war veterans gained a high appreciation of citizenship responsibility and they returned to civil life with the conviction that the lofty idealism that inspired them to victory in arms should be preserved and made useful in the peacetime life of the nation.

CONFIDENCE is reported in the American Legion today because it has labored faithfully since its inception to uphold the high ideals to which it has pledged a lifetime of effort.

AS we observe another Armistice Day we can look to the future with confidence and abiding faith in America. Allegiance will never be lacking to the flag that symbolizes all we hold dear and priceless.

Showproof Velvet

Showproof transparent velvet is one of the newest rayon fabrics to intrigue milady's taste this season, the soft rich weave bringing a sense of opulence and well being to the silhouette.

The gown shown has both youthful flair and a certain richness as well. Topped by a velvet hat with a bit of a feather, it features a slightly flared peplum, both bodice and skirt's simple design relieved by the lines of the tailoring.

opened recently after completion of the macadamized road.

With the Concho pavement program advancing to the grading of highway 4 only a few months are expected to elapse before a direct hard-surfaced connection is made between Ballinger and Paint Rock.

Trio of Young People Succumb To Poison, Shots

ELKHART, Nov. 11 (AP)—Doris McCann, 17, and Ernest Miller, 16, high school students killed themselves here, Clyde Kegnedy, 19, killed himself at Oakwood. Motives for all the deaths were unknown.

Relatives said the girl refused to wait for the school bus and walked four miles to her home. She asked for something to eat and died in a spasm. A justice of the peace said she died of poison.

Several hours later Miller was found dead in his home. A pistol was found near the body, and a note was left for his parents. Kennedy, who worked in an icehouse at Oakwood, was found dead in the afternoon of poison.

WIN OR LOSE, WE ARE FOR OUR BOYS

But there is not a chance for defeat in today's game since we have one of the most outstanding coaches in the State, and the best material with which to work.

Never before in the history of Big Spring has such a gathering been seen as assembled last night to pay their respects to the Steer football team and its coaches.

The battle of Waterloo, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the Armistice signed thirteen years ago, all passes into insignificance when we think of the gigantic struggle which is to take place in the Pony corral tomorrow, Garland Woodward declared.

Judge C. M. Anderson, of Sweetwater, brought greetings and extended a cordial invitation to local citizens to visit Sweetwater tomorrow and witness the greatest game ever seen in Nolan County.

Will H. Scott, secretary of the Board of City Development, was introduced by Mr. Anderson and brought greetings from the city officials and assured local fans that should the Steers be successful in their conquest of the Mustangs on the morrow that the city of Sweetwater would be behind them in the remaining games on their schedule.

W. T. Strange with his wise cracks, brought laughter from the crowd which surely must have been heard over at the Pony center. "The depression is over for the Steers are going up tomorrow," Tanlac declared.

Coch Bristow introduced line Coach Brown and the Steers to the vast crowd. An ovation was given each of the players, and the grim look of determination on the faces of the team members spoke louder than words of the struggle only a few short hours away.

We Pay Homage To The Heroes Of War

WE COMMEMORATE THE COMING OF PEACE

ON this Armistice Day we Glorify Peace, not War. We honor the nation's heroes as men who gave their lives not to win a war, but to win an everlasting peace.

They were brave, fighting hearts that bled for a noble cause. We can well cherish the memory of their deeds. But in remembering let us also pray that our youth and the youth of the world will never again meet on the battlefield.

"Let Us Not Forget Those Who Lie In Flander's Fields"
