

Four-Power Pact Stopping European Wars Is Planned

Bevin Not Sure Germany Knows Real Defeat Yet

LONDON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today that he and the foreign ministers of U.S., France and the Soviet Union would discuss at Moscow a four-power pact to prevent any new aggression in Europe.

Initiating a House of Commons debate on foreign policy, Bevin said he was not sure that Germany, even after defeats in two great wars, knew the real meaning of defeat and recognized the stupidity of war as an object of policy.

Only four-power agreement, he said, will make it possible to curb Germany and to re-educate her in the ways of democracy. "There is no other way," he declared, but he added that Britain "should not expect too much from us at Moscow" because "we have terrific difficulties to face."

Bevin's motion of a four-power anti-aggression pact apparently went beyond the proposal made by former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes last year. Byrnes urged last May that the four countries enter into a treaty to keep Germany demilitarized for 25 years.

Bevin told the Commons he hoped the pending Anglo-French treaty would be signed soon. He said Britain's proposal for revising the Anglo-Soviet treaty, as suggested by Premier Stalin, would be presented to the Russians in the near future.

On the 1942 Anglo-Russian treaty — which the Soviet press once accused him of repudiating — Bevin said: "I am extremely glad that the desire is shown to prolong the alliance on the basis of closer and cordial relations between the two countries."

Bevin made a single reference to the storm aroused in the US by his charge last Tuesday that President Truman wrecked negotiations for a Palestine settlement by issuing a statement during the 1946 congressional election campaign.

"On all questions," the foreign minister said with emphasis, "our relations with the US are of a most cordial character. We shall not allow any wedge to be driven between our two countries."

British Night Shift Opposed

LONDON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Britain's tradition-shattering decision to introduce the night shift in British industry was expected today to confront the labor government with one of the toughest tests it has faced in its 19 months in power.

The government's plan to inaugurate night working shifts—which have been resisted bitterly for many years by British trade unions forming the backbone of the government's support—was announced in the House of Commons last night during the debate on the grave coal and power crisis which has closed many industrial plants and brought discomfort to the whole nation.

Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, said the program for putting approximately 2,500,000 Britons on night duty would be devised by "agreement with the workers," and added: "There is really no other solution" for the current crisis.

He did not elaborate as to when the step would become effective, but presumably no definite action can be taken until the government's joint consultative committee of employers and unionists, headed by Labor Minister George Isaacs, gets recommendations from regional industrial boards some time next month.

STEVENSON REFUSES TO COMMIT SELF BUT SUGGESTS RETURN TO POLITICS

HOUSTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Former Governor Coke Stevenson, often mentioned as a possible candidate for a Texas Senate seat, suggested in a speech here last night that he has not ended his political career.

Big Spring Paving Project Is Setback; Only Bid Rejected

Big Spring's projected street paving work for 1947 encountered another setback Wednesday, when the commission, meeting to consider bids on a 50-block job, received only one bid and rejected it as being too high. Although 11 contracting firms had taken specifications on the project during the past few weeks, only three were in the city Wednesday with bids and two of these were withdrawn before the bid opening hour of 2 p. m.

New Ambassador Faces Squabble On Palestine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The problem of smoothing Anglo-American relations troubled by differences over Palestine emerged today as the first hurdle for plain-talking Lewis W. Douglas when he takes over the embassy in London.

The transatlantic controversy came to a head in a White House statement describing as "unfortunate and misleading" any British implication that President Truman was playing politics last Oct. 4 when he urged the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to the Holy Land.

The statement, handed out last night only a few hours after the president chose the one-time New Deal budget director as his new ambassador, was issued as a reply to Foreign Secretary Bevin's tart assertion to Parliament Tuesday.

Bevin declared Mr. Truman's October remarks, during the congressional campaign, "spilled" negotiations which might have led to a settlement of the Arab-Jewish conflict.

"I really must point out," the British cabinet officer told Commons, "that in international affairs I cannot settle things if my problem is made the subject of local elections."

The White House statement made public by Press Secretary Charles G. Ross retorted: "The impression that has arisen from yesterday's debate in the British Parliament that America's interest in Palestine and the settlement of Jews there is motivated by partisan and local politics is most unfortunate and misleading."

SURE, BIG SPRING IS NICEST PLACE!

Sectional pride can be fierce, even in the ranks of the military. When Julia Mae Cochran, a civilian worker, was transferred from the Big Spring recruiting station to Amarillo, the person there kidded her about leaving the 'small town' for the 'city.'

The following item appeared in the district recruiting news organ recently under an Amarillo date line: "We are using our best sales talk to convince Miss Cochran what part of Texas is the best. Of course, we all know."

To which the local staff replied, through the recruiting journal: "And to Amarillo's remarks. Of course, we all know which part of Texas is the best. We'll answer with a question: How did Amarillo find out? Did Julia finally convince them?"

even longer than it was originally intended; that is the way I feel about government," he declared at another point in his talk. "I am willing to leave problems of transportation to you because that is your specialty, but I would never be willing to leave my thinking on economic and government problems to others," he said.

E. L. Killingsworth and Acting City Manager H. W. Whitney recommended rejection. Earlier in the day, it became known that the item of financing the paving certificates was holding up some proposed bidders. Under terms of the paving ordinance, the work could be paid by property owners with paving certificates, issued on a five-year serial basis and carrying six per cent interest.

Representatives of contracting firms told city authorities that, since so little municipal paving had been done during the war years, most investment houses had dropped facilities for handling paving certificates and that a ready market is not available. Local banks did not seek the paper, and R. T. Piner, active vice president of the First National appeared before the commission to advise that his bank was turning in a proposal for handling the certificates only because it appeared other investment proposals were not available. The First National proposed to take the certificates at a

Atomic-Bomb Air Force Recommended

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (AP)—Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, commanding general of the Fourth army, today recommended creation of an atomic-bomb air force and universal military training for sound national security.

Speaking before a joint session of the legislature, the hero of Bataan presented Gov. Beauford H. Jester with a portrait of Gen. Sam Houston which he said had been hanging at Fort Sam Houston headquarters since he first served in Texas in 1906.

Burma 'Lawless'

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 27. (AP) Sir Arthur Bruce, chairman of the Burma chamber of commerce, said today that lawlessness in the country was "going from bad to worse," and that Burma's future would be endangered unless strong measures were taken to bring the situation under control.

Approval Certain On Mandate Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 27. (AP)—The United States plan to continue sole administration of the Japanese-mandated islands under a United Nations trusteeship appeared today to be headed toward almost certain approval by the Security Council March 7.

As the delegates were called into session to resume debate on the British-Albanian mine-laying dispute, some of them still were awaiting instructions from their governments on the trusteeship proposal. However, a majority, including Soviet Russia, were reported to favor the plan "in principle."

Denies Beating Of Two Negroes

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 27. (AP) Samuel C. Maddy Sr., today denied on the witness stand participating in the beating of two Negroes which allegedly caused the death of one, or conspiring with any of four co-defendants in a federal civil rights case to bring about the beating.

Maddy, 54-year-old Cotton Valley oil field worker and father of eight, said he was not in Minden the night of Aug. 8 when, the government alleges, Albert Harris, Jr. and John C. Jones were taken from the Webster Parish jail there and beaten. Jones' body later was found in the woods.

Maddy said his son, Samuel G. Maddy, several days before the alleged beating told him that a Negro had tried to enter his house and that the younger Maddy and the latter's wife believed this Negro was Harris.

The witness said he complained to the sheriff. Harris was arrested and on questioning that "that was none of me — it must have been John C. Jones."

Leader Of CIO Against Pushing Reds From Union

Fitzgerald Raps Pending Labor Membership Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Albert J. Fitzgerald, president of the CIO United Electrical Workers Union, today told Congress he is opposed to barring communists from the union.

In testimony to the Senate Labor Committee, Fitzgerald said he is against depriving "Communists, Socialists, Democrats, Republicans or anyone else" from union membership on the ground of "race, creed or color."

Under questioning by Senator Ball (R-Minn.), Fitzgerald said he would not be in favor of any legislation, in unions or in government, which would deprive any individual of freedom of thought or belief.

The committee is holding general hearings on the question of enacting new labor laws. Fitzgerald contended that all proposed labor legislation is "injurious" to workers and "aimed directly at the food on their tables and clothes on their backs."

He singled out for special attention a bill by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) to outlaw industry wide bargaining, calling it "another legislative effort to stack cards against workers that can only result in industrial chaos."

Then he said: "All bills under the broad heading of labor legislation that are being pushed for adoption are injurious to employees. No camouflage of argument, no matter how plausible sounding, can win their forgiveness for the congressmen who will raise his hand to take food and clothing from their children."

Declaring that ever since workers started building industrial unions "employers have cried 'communist' at them," Fitzgerald added:

"The attacks on this sort against the United Electrical Workers have been particularly heavy because the UE has been particularly effective in winning better wages for the workers of the industry."

Indictment Is Returned On Eisler

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—US Attorney George Morris Fay said today that a district grand jury has returned an indictment against Gerhart Eisler charging contempt of the House of Representatives.

Eisler appeared before the House committee on an American activities Feb. 6, but refused to be sworn to testify. Eisler has been described by committee members and witnesses as the No. 1 communist in the United States.

The House later voted to cite him for contempt. Fay said one count in the indictment charges Eisler with violating a section of the United States code, which makes it an offense for anyone to refuse to testify, when summoned, before a committee of Congress.

Eisler now is being held by the Immigration Bureau authorities at Ellis Island in New York City. Fay explained that he cannot be brought here for arraignment until certain legal difficulties are straightened out, but he said action would be taken soon in the federal court in New York.

Truman's Limousine Arrives By Railway

PALESTINE, Feb. 27. (AP)—A custom-built White House Cadillac festooned with nickel plated ornamentation that renders inconspicuous the handholds for the guards who will flank President Truman on his visit to Waco March 6 rolled out of a special baggage car in the railroad yards here today to be driven to Waco.

The car parted company here with two others in the baggage car, a Lincoln and another Cadillac, which continued by rail to Mexico City.

The convertible sedan, a siren, spare tires and two radio aerials gracing the cowling where handholds for secret service agents blend in with the nickel rim, was driven to Waco later in the morning by Roy Lewis, secret service agent and former county attorney and district attorney at Groesbeck.

Accompanying him was Leo J. Williams, Dallas agent who met the train here when it arrived. The railroad baggage car, opening at the end like an LST, disgorged the car within a few minutes.

Supporters Of More Tax Levies Win Bout

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (AP)—Legislators advocating new tax levies to meet growing demands for state spending won a sweeping victory in the House today when it voted to re-refer Rep. Woodrow Bean's natural resources tax bill from the Revenue and Taxation Committee to the Appropriations Committee.

It upheld by a 75 to 59 vote, after defeating an effort by Rep. Dallas Blankenship of Dallas, to suspend the rules and permit an additional 10 minutes discussion by each side on the question.

Bean's motion to take his bill from jurisdiction of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, where it and approximately 20 other revenue-raising measures have been stalled, came after he told the House: "If we sit around here without action on these tax bills, we will be caught without any revenue measures at all. I make this motion so that prompt action can be taken to take care of the millions we have already spent, or are going to spend."

Marshall Subpoena Will Be 'Delayed'

General Ordered By Congress To Produce Records

State Department Correspondence On Russ Ships Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP) — Rep. Bradley (R-Mich) today "temporarily suspended" the serving of a subpoena against Secretary of State Marshall by a House Merchant Marine Subcommittee.

Bradley, who is chairman of the full committee, acted shortly after the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio), had issued the subpoena for Marshall to appear and produce all records and communications dealing with the wartime transfer of United States ships to Russia.

Bradley said Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson promised him by telephone to appear in the Michigan legislator's office at 3 p. m. today, with copies of State Department correspondence with Russia relating to 95 lend lease ships.

Bradley expressed regret Weichel had issued the subpoena. Bradley said Speaker Martin also deplored the action.

Weichel told Bradley this action was not intended as a reflection on Marshall but was "just a formal procedure" to obtain records the committee has been trying to get for two weeks.

"It's a formal way of making headlines, too," Bradley retorted. Marshall left his office for lunch shortly before 1 p. m. apparently without knowledge that he was being sought. Asked by reporters as he entered the State Department elevator whether he had been served with the House Committee subpoena he said, "What subpoena?"

Acheson, who accompanied him, said, "I'll tell you all about it" and they departed.

Bradley told reporters "General Marshall has a lot of other things on his mind more important than these damn ships."

The subpoena directed the Secretary to appear before the committee at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow with "all books, papers, communications and other memoranda covering the matter of approximately 100 merchant ships owned by the United States now in the possession of the Russian government, the communications to Russia and the replies of Russia."

Tempers Flare During Hearing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP) — Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) and Joe L. Hill, a former Texas state senator, clashed verbally today at a Senate finance committee hearing on the nomination of Herbert E. Arnold of Dallas to be collector of internal revenue for northern Texas.

Tempers flared when Hill, of Austin and Henderson, Texas, took the witness chair to testify in behalf of Arnold's nomination.

Although not a member of the committee, O'Daniel had been invited to sit at the committee table. After Hill testified briefly in support of Arnold, O'Daniel said: "I'm glad Mr. Hill is here. It shows that Mr. Arnold is not qualified by the type of witnesses he has brought here. I'm glad that Mr. Hill came here because of his reputation in Texas."

Hill flushed and was about to reply when Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) interjected: "Senator O'Daniel, are you attacking the reputation of Mr. Hill? You have the opportunity of impeaching the witness if you will."

Another committee member suggested the exchange of remarks should be stricken from the record. Noting that newsmen were scribbling them down, Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said they might as well stay in the record since they were going to get in the newspapers anyway.

AMERICAN EXPEDITION EXPLORING ANTARCTIC MYSTERIES 'SUCCESS'

Aboard USS Mt. OLYMPUS, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Fourth American expedition exploring the mysteries of the Antarctic has been "very much a success" both in discoveries and in polar training for the navy, Rear Adm. Richard H. Cruzen said tonight as this flagship began her long journey home over a fog-veiled sea.

The Mount Olympus and the Burton Island are steaming toward New Zealand with their work finished, and Cruzen declared "the time is getting short" for further flights by the eastern or western wing groups.

Cruzen, the task force chief, said naval personnel on the expedition got a "real insight into the type of problems you have to risk in Polar regions, and that was the primary objective — to find out what our problems are."

In aviation exploration, Cruzen said, "one of the most surprising things was the ability of seaplanes to operate in the open sea from seaplane tenders which had been built only to service sea planes inside sheltered harbors."

Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd's fight over the South Pole obtained good photographic coverage of new areas, especially in penetrating beyond the pole, where a plateau was found to extend flat and featureless, Cruzen continued.

Citizens To Choose Shrub As Living Memorial To Soldiers Of World War II

Big Spring residents will have the opportunity to choose a blooming shrub as a living memorial to soldiers of World War II in a ballot voting of three plants which have been selected as the most adaptable to this climate by the yards and lots division of the civic beautification committee.

The living memorial project, in recognition of deeds performed by the hundreds of service men from this area, was suggested earlier as a city-wide program of beautification to be participated in by families wishing to honor sons, fathers, relatives and friends who fought in World War II.

The three shrubs, crepe myrtle, abelia and weigela, will be voted on for Big Spring's choice plant in a contest to be conducted next week. A ballot, to run in the Big Spring Herald Sunday through Tuesday, will list the names of the suggested shrubs with a place to write in any other choice. Forms, clipped from the newspaper, should be mailed to the Chamber of Commerce not later than next Saturday, March 1.

Following the selection by popular vote, a contest with cash awards will start during the month of March, to determine the best shrub planted and cared for during the year. In September when the plant is in bloom, the judging will be held and prizes of $25, $15, and $10 will be offered for the three prettiest, healthiest and best cared for entries.

It is the hope of the sponsoring committee that the flowering shrub will become popular to the extent that its presence on church lawns, in local yards, along streets and highways will become distinguished with this area.

Planning for the project has not been limited to members of the beautification committee, and those interested in working with the group toward a successful project are urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce.

All residents are invited to help the selection, although everyone will not be able to participate in the contest.

Friendly Colorado City Man Leads Texas Solons

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The chairman of the 23-man Texas congressional delegation for the next two years is Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City.

It is the duty of the friendly 46-year-old, Sunday school teaching legislator to get his fellow Texans together whenever anything arises affecting Texas and on which they may wish to take action as a body.

It also is his duty to preside at the regular Wednesday luncheons of the delegation in the House restaurant.

At the first of these luncheons over which he presided a situation arose which caused the always agreeable Mahon a moment of embarrassment — to the amusement of his colleagues.

It was a matter of little interest except here in a city where people becoming accustomed to all the niceties of rank and protocol. The entire delegation was present, including both Senators. It was the first time in two years that Senator W. Lee O'Daniel had shown up. And it was the first time in six years that Bonham's Congressman Sam Rayburn had appeared in a role other than that of Speaker. On hand also were several visiting Texans as guests of their congressmen.

At the head table with Mahon were Senators Tom Connally and O'Daniel and Rep. Rayburn. In the last six years there would have been no question whom he should introduce first. The speaker's rank tops that of a senator.

Without hesitation, Mahon introduced Connally, asking him to say a few words of welcome to the four new members of the delegation. Then came the question: Should he introduce the other Senator next, or Rayburn?

He picked Rayburn. Mahon's selection as chairman came from the fact that he had seniority (he entered congress Jan. 3, 1935) over all other members of the delegation except those who previously served as chairman. Every two years a new chairman is selected, and the man with the most seniority who has not served previously takes over. Before he came to Congress, he emerged first in a field when a new district was created. Previously he had served as district (32nd) attorney for seven years, having been appointed by then Gov. Dan Moody originally. Married and the father of a 19-year-old daughter, Daphne, who is in Duke University, Mahon teaches a mixed class of young adults at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist church in downtown Washington.

The 6-foot, 2-inch Texan is described by colleagues as a "swell guy" who manages to keep on friendly terms with all kinds of groups. By reason of his position, he sometimes is cast in all sorts of situations, including cocktail parties and receptions where liquor is served, but he does NOT drink. His favorite sport is golf.

Mahon holds a high spot on one of the two most important committees of the House — the appropriations committee. Considering the ages of the three Democrats who outrank him on the committee, he stands a good chance of heading the committee two to four years hence — if 1) he is re-elected and 2) the Democrats regain control of the House.

North Side Cab Franchise Is Okayed By City

On a 3-2 vote, the city commission Wednesday afternoon authorized the issuance of a municipal taxicab franchise to the North Side Taxi company, a firm being set up by two Negroes to cater principally to the north side residents. Frank Miller and Dillard White are listed as operators of the company, which proposes to operate two cabs, based at Bertha's Beauty Shop on North West Fifth street. Commissioners J. L. LeBlanc and H. W. Wright opposed granting of the permit, on the grounds that adequate taxi service is now being provided in the city. Commissioner George Mims and Iva Huneycutt voted for it, voicing the belief that North Side residents are due more complete transportation facilities. Mayor G. W. Dabney broke the tie vote by favoring the application.

Teachers Back After March To State Capitol

DOVER, Del., Feb. 27. (AP)—Delaware's 1,500 public school teachers were all back in their classrooms today after half of the educators marched into the state capitol to protest what they called an insufficient wage increase bill.

The demonstration yesterday closed 25 public schools, including four Wilmington high schools. Wilmington is the state's largest city.

The Republican-dominated legislature passed a bill increasing salaries from $200 to $300. The teachers are demanding a flat 1,000 annual pay boost. The minimum wage scale is now $1.68.

GOP Governor Walter W. Bacon has deferred signing of the bill.

A brief skirmish occurred on the state Senate floor when an unidentified teacher clashed verbally with Senator Harvey H. Lawson (R-Sussex), who has accused the AFL-Wilmington Federation of teachers of distorting facts on the wage increase legislation.

Meantime, Rep. Cowgill Bernard, has introduced a bill in the House proposing a $500 fine or a year's imprisonment for teachers or other employees who stay away from their positions "for the purpose of inducing, influencing or coercing a change in the conditions or compensation or the rights, privileges or obligations of such positions."

Habeas Corpus Writ Asked In Llano Case

LLANO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Attorneys for R. M. Montgomery earlier had waived examining trial and was denied bond in justice of peace court here.

1,250 Animals Moved At Sale

Hog receipts also gained slightly, with consignments for the day totalling 60 head. They commanded from $28.00 to $28.10 cwt. Fat butcher yearlings also were strong, bringing up to 23.00. Forty choice yearlings just out of the feed lot sold readily from 21.50 to 23.00. Choice fat cows reached 15.00, with common butcher cows ranging from 10.00-12.00. Fat Bulls steered at 14.75, and canners and cutters moved swiftly at 8.50-10.00. A group of light stocker calves brought 19.50, with stocker cows and calves ranging up to $130 a pair.

Japanese Accused In Hellship Voyage

TOKYO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Allied headquarters' legal section formally accused eight Japanese today of responsibility for a "hellship" voyage from Manila to Japan during which more than 1,300 of the 1,619 prisoners aboard perished. "No cases can compare with the torment and torture suffered by our soldiers aboard the Oryoku, Brazil Maru and Enoura Maru on the voyage from Manila to Japan in December, 1944 and January, 1945," Alva C. Carpenter, chief of the legal section said. The defendants, including former Lt. Junsaburo Toshino, commander of the prisoner of war escort guard, and Shunosuke Wada, interpreter who commanded in his absence, will go on trial in Yokohama March 6 before a US Eighth Army tribunal.

Bert Solves the Labor Problem

You hear a lot about capital and labor nowadays, as if the two could never get together. But look at Bert Childers—who has 320 acres of producing land, a fair-sized herd of cattle, and two farm hands working for him.

If you called Bert a "capitalist" he wouldn't know what you meant, and neither would Spike and Sandy, the hired men. Bert works side by side with both of them; and in the evenings they sit around the fire together—sharing a friendly glass of beer or two.

If anybody has a head—what it's about wages or hours or equipment—they talk it over at these friendly evening sessions.

I don't say all labor problems are as simple as Bert's. But from where I sit, the basic principle applies to any farm or factory or business: A principle of confidence and mutual respect, of daily talks together in a friendly and congenial atmosphere.

Shell Station Has Shipment Of New Batteries

Gross And Froman Display Willard Battery Stock

There was good news today at the Shell Service Station, 407 West Third street, for all automobile owners who need new batteries.

The Service Station, which is a major retail outlet for Shell products, distributed by the Westex Oil Co., has received a sizeable shipment of new Willard batteries which are now on display and ready for immediate installation.

Included in the shipment are batteries for virtually all makes and models of automobiles. They are the same quality batteries which Willard has manufactured for a number of years.

The Shell Service Station at 407 West Third is operated by Red Gross and D. Froman, who are well known in Big Spring and both are experienced in service station work.

They offer motorists a specialized lubrication service, which they believe is unsurpassed anywhere. Using Shell oils and greases, they are equipped to give automobile owners the best protection obtainable in all seasons of the year.

The expert lubrication has proved its worth on older cars, and new vehicles benefit from the Shell service. Many new car owners go the Shell route immediately after driving their new machines out of the distributors' showrooms, and the results, measured in good performance, reduction of year and long life, have been outstanding.

Gross and Froman also offer Shell gasolines, and they invite their friends and new customers to visit them at any time they need service.

Sczygiel Shortens It

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (U.P.) Charles John Sczygiel, 33, an employe at Tinker Field here, believes his name is hard to pronounce and just as difficult to spell. He has petitioned district court to change it to Charles John Stiegel.

AN ARRANGEMENT without a central idea is no arrangement at all. According to Miss Carrie Scholz at Caroline's Flower Shop there must be some principle of design behind it that makes it easy to look at. One example is the rhythmic pattern for occasional variety. There are two kinds of rhythm, wavy lines and repetition. Of the two, repetition is the most useful, and Miss Scholz keeps the rhythmic arrangements simple, putting them into containers which have the rhythmic feeling themselves. Pictured above as an example are pink carnations, white carnations and pink roses, repeating almost equal masses of dissimilar design. The contrast of white against the matching pink at either end gives this design added strength and vigor.

Designing Flowers Is A Basic Art

Just as the whole art of music is based on a handful of notes called scale, the art of flower arrangement is based upon a few fundamental designs and one of the best designers in this section of the country is Miss Carrie Scholz, owner and operator of Caroline's Flower Shop at 1510 Gregg.

Miss Scholz, who has received specialized training in the art of flower arranging, believes that an arrangement without a central idea is not an arrangement at all and will not be remembered as an outstanding floral gift.

The owner believes there must be some principle of design behind it that makes the bouquet or corsage easy to look at.

Miss Scholz stepped into the floral profession several years ago when she decided to make a long sought dream come true by actually working with flowers all day. She attended a special school for training and returned to Big Spring to open her shop which specializes in wedding arrangements, planning altar decorations, flowers for the entire wedding party, centerpiece sprays for receptions and showers and all other details of formal and informal ceremonies. Just as important as a central

LIBERAL, Kans., Feb. 27. (AP)—Flying farmers and pilots of the five state corner of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico have been invited to a private fliers meeting here in March 18 in conjunction with the annual five state farm forum, Jack Grimsley, president of the Liberal chamber of commerce, announced Wednesday.

What, No Gentlemen?

BOSTON (U.P.) — There are no "gentlemen" in the Massachusetts Senate, Democratic Sen. Joseph A. Melley made the mistake of so addressing his colleagues and Republican Senate President Donald W. Nicholson told him: "Under our rules, members are senators, not gentlemen."

idea in flower arrangement is the occasion for which a floral gift is offered. With calls ranging from weddings and showers to anniversary gifts is offered, holiday remembrances and funeral wreaths and sprays, Miss Scholz must take into consideration the exact occasion that calls for special trim.

Carolines now has a large supply of tulips, stock, gladioli, carnations and sweetpeas and is able to furnish such potted plants as daffodils, azaleas and hydrangeas. Using the Florists' Telegraph Delivery service, Caroline's is able to handle calls for flowers to be sent out of town for various occasions.

Home appliances at prices low enough to give your pocketbook the pre-war drools are available for delivery now at McDonald Automotive company, Johnson street.

On many of these items, Cecil D. McDonald is closing out a stock purchased new in a bulk lot transaction. Consequently, prices have been cut to the bone for such items as electric stoves, gas-line washing machines, gas stoves, lamps, record player, furniture of various sorts, modern and sturdy lawn furniture, floor furnaces, air conditioners, children's furniture, walkers, automatic hot water heaters, scooters, skates, a home fuel, nationally-recognized refrigerator, etc.

In addition to these, McDonald also has several other items which are stocked as regular lines, including Thor flat ironers and washing machines, Miley steel trailers, Aluminum-craft boats, Champion outboard motors, Phillips 66 products and tires, etc.

Of course, the centerpiece of the McDonald Automotive service is the new Studebaker — the first post-war passenger automobile— which is making records for style performance and economy. These sensational and popularly priced cars are in increasing demand because Studebaker did not fall back on old tools but made a bold venture to incorporate into its firm model after the war the many numerous improvements its engineers had been planning during the years of halted production.

Texans Protest Opposition To Major Generals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Texas Congressmen supporting Miller Ainsworth of Luling and John Naylor of Fort Worth to be major generals of Texas National Guard divisions prepared today to protest reported War Department opposition.

Although they have been designated for the rank by the governor of Texas their appointments must be approved by the War Department because the Texas Militia is federalized.

Senator Connally and Reps. Thomason, Johnson and Kilday discussed the matter yesterday. Ainsworth also attended the meeting. The representatives are members of the House Armed Services Committee.

One of the legislators, who declined to discuss the matter in detail and refused to be identified, said a conference probably would be arranged tomorrow or Saturday with Secretary of War Robert Patterson.

He said there was a feeling among some Texans that the War Department had refused to approve Ainsworth because he led the movement last year by survivors of the 36th Division for a complete investigation of the Rapido River battle in Italy. The Texas National Guard division suffered heavy casualties in the engagement.

Congressional committees heard testimony on the matter but the 36th Division Association contended a full probe was never made.

Seven Sets Of Twins Go To University Of Texas

(The following story on twins was written, appropriately enough, by Annie Lee Shelton, University of Texas News staff, and mother of six-year-old twin daughters, Mrs. Shelton's husband was fatally injured in a traffic mishap when he was stationed in Big Spring during the war. — Ed.)

AUSTIN, Feb. 27.—Twins have more fun than anybody. Take it from seven sets of twins enrolled in the University of Texas.

Marilyn and Marion Barker of Mexico City and Irwin and Stanley Berman of Colorado City are the youngest—17. Jimmie and Johnnie Stanley of Tenaha are 18; Jane Robin and David Steele Baker of Austin are 19; Annette and Janette Cornibe of Austin are 19; Mary and Margaret Varley of Tyler are 20; Donald and Douglas Dacy of Austin are 20.

The girl say their most frequent question is "What happens when you both like the same boy?" and the boys say interest in them is milder—the usual question is, "Are you two twins or just brothers?"

All the twins are identical sets with the exception of the Baker and Dacy twins. The identical twins say they are frequently mistaken in identity, but it doesn't bother them.

As to the girls liking the same boy—well, they say they have a "high code of ethics" and do not like the same boys, nor do they play tricks on their boy friends by substituting for each other on dates.

"But we don't think it is very flattering to have a boy call one of us for a date; then, if refused, immediately ask for the sister," say the girls.

Aware of the advantages of being twins, the girls sing, dance, or play musical instruments, while the boys are not so ambitious.

Organized safety work was begun on American Railroads in 1913 and injuries from accidents among railroad employees are now one-ninth what they were at that time.

Knowland Vs. Taft In Tax Cut Skirmish

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), squared off today for a debt vs. tax cutting battle with veteran Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

The actual skirmishing will not come until tomorrow, however, when the Senate meets again to vote on Knowland's proposal to earmark $3,000,000,000 of any federal budget saving for payments on the national debt.

The Californian, serving his first elective term, told a reporter "I believe we have the votes to beat off amendments and get this proposal adopted." He looked for Democratic support as the deciding factor.

One of the amendments was offered by Taft, chairman of the powerful Republican policy committee, who moved that the debt reduction promise be set at $1,000,000.

Taft said he doesn't know what the outcome will be, but observed to a reporter that if Knowland's proposal is adopted he is sure "the House won't take it anyhow." The Californian has insisted that debt payments ought to come before any tax reduction.

Taft said at least $1,000,000,000 would be shaved off the $3,500,000,000 he wants available for a 20 percent overall cut in individual income taxes if Knowland's plan were finally adopted.

For that reason, the Ohio senator said he proposed the smaller debt payment pledge, although he noted that debt retirement could be considerably greater if Congress adheres to the economic it promises.

figures, and Republican Leader Halleck (Ind.) said the vote by which this action was taken was something of a "mandate."

Jap Naval Captain Given Death For Beheading Fliers

MANILA, Feb. 27. (AP)—A Japanese naval captain was sentenced to die before a firing squad and four other officers were condemned to life imprisonment by a US War Crimes Military Commission today for beheading five American navy fliers in the Celebes Nov. 24, 1944.

Capt. Gosuke Taniguchi, commanding officer of the Japanese garrison at Kendari, Celebes, was sentenced to death. Given life sentences were Lt. J. g. Toshio Mitani, Ens. Yoshitake Ogawa, Ens. Isokichi Yamamoto and Warrant Officer Tooru Tanaka.

Chief Prosecutor Thomas J. O'Neil, Bronx, N.Y., uncovered evidence during a first-hand investigation in the Celebes, where nine American survivors of a Navy PB4Y plane crash-landed Oct. 2, 1944.

O'Neil's evidence showed the nine Americans were beheaded, but since the bodies of four have not yet been recovered, conviction was limited to the slaying of five men.

The navy fliers included Walter Grant Price, Pampa, Texas.

The question of how high the economy pledge will go was left in doubt when the Senate voted, 51 to 33, yesterday to cut $4,500,000,000 from President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1. The chamber, however, delayed final passage of the budget ceiling ruling until it decides the Knowland-Taft issue.

The House previously has approved a promise to squeeze $6,000,000,000 out of the President's

Atlantic-Gulf Shipping Service Will Be Dropped

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Government cargo vessel service in the Atlantic-Gulf coastwise trade has been dropped "because low competitive rail freight rates and mounting labor costs have made operation unfeasible," the Maritime Commission has announced.

The commission said that though one private operator is resuming service and another "is weighing the possibilities" it is doubtful whether there will be any general resumption of operations "because of the economic factors that make profit doubtful."

Ports serviced by the government-operated vessels now withdrawn from service are New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Miami, Tampa, Galveston, Houston, Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Indoor Tourney Gets Underway

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Tennis returns to Park Avenue today with two of the game's brightest stars heading the field for the 44th annual National Indoor Championships.

When the windup is reached on March 8, champions will be crowned in men's and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, National Outdoor champion and probably the best amateur in the game today, tops the list of 51 entered in the men's singles. Kramer, who led the U. S. Davis Cup team to victory in 1946, will be making his first major appearance on the boards since 1941.

Behind Kramer in the men's seedings are Billy Talbert of Wilmington, Del., another member of the Davis Cup squad; Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif., who upset Talbert but lost to Kramer in the outdoor semi-finals at Forest Hills; and a trio of veteran internationalists from New York, Sidney Wood, Frank Shields and Elwood Cooke.

Kramer, who drew a bye in the first round, opens his drive for the title against Nate Goldstein of Brooklyn Saturday afternoon.

Talbert opens against Ray Palmer, Jr., of New York, Falkenberg plays Malcolm Moley of New York and Shields meets Daniel Gallagher of Philadelphia, all today.

The feminine ranks are topped by Kramer's opposite number among the women, Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, holder of both the US and Wimbledon titles.

Experiments To Aid Texas Fruit Markets

HARLINGEN, Feb. 27. (AP)—The US Bureau of Plant Industry will start experiments here in April designed to aid year-round marketing of Texas citrus fruit.

The first objective will be to seek a cold storage system for grapefruit and oranges that can be used commercially.

A cold storage firm here has placed facilities at the disposal of the bureau until it can acquire space of its own.

HOGAN HEADS FIELD ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Ben Hogan, leading professional money winner of the winter golfing tour, headed a list of 181 entries for the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open tournament scheduled to begin today.

Henri Christophe, leader of a slave rebellion, made himself king of Haiti.

Local Revenue Office To Help With Tax Form

Personnel of the Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue's office will turn all their energies to the task of assisting federal income taxpayers with annual reports from the period March 3 to March 15, inclusive.

Doors of the function, which is located in the basement of the post office building, will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. during that period, with the exception of Sunday, March 9.

Two deputy collectors, Ben Hawkins and B. B. Parmer, will be on duty to furnish help in preparing income tax returns for 1946 without charge.

Hawkins stated that effective assistance cannot be rendered without the following information:

- 1. All forms W-2 for 1946 furnished by their employers, showing wages earned and income tax withheld.
- 2. An accurate record of all other income received for 1946 and deductions claimed.
- 3. If a Declaration of Estimated Tax was filed for 1946, a copy of the declaration should be supplied to the deputy. The work sheet used in preparing such a form could serve as an alternative.

Persons who wait until after March 15 to file returns are subject to penalty, Hawkins reminded.

Local Officials Honor Wemple

A group of local public officials and business men left this morning for Midland where they were to attend a special luncheon honoring Fred A. Wemple, who took the oath of office as a member of the state highway commission a week ago.

The luncheon meeting today was arranged by Midland citizens, and representatives from a number of West Texas towns were expected.

Two parties from Big Spring planned to attend, one including K. H. McGibbon, chamber of commerce president; J. H. Greene, chamber manager, George White, R. T. Piner and R. W. Whipkey. The other local group was composed of County Judge Walton Morrison and other county officials.

More Gifts Push Red Cross Fund Drive Upward

More aid through special gifts and group business contributions pushed the Red Cross fund drive upward again this morning, and workers hoped other reports during the day would raise the total to at least one-third of the local chapter's quota.

At noon the total stood at $2,910.75. Special gifts averages continued to compare favorably with those of a year ago, and campaign officials pointed out that completing contact work was the chief problem. Some workers have been slow in reporting, but reports tabulated to date have been encouraging.

Business firms with 100 per cent records in the group collection include the Cunningham and Philips Drug stores, Lone Star Chevrolet company, Fashion Cleaners and The Herald.

New special gifts made today follow: $100, Texas Electric Service Co.; $75, The Herald; $50, Farmers Gin and R. T. Piner; $25, Big Spring Livestock Auction Co.; $10, Creath's Mattress Factory, Martin Distribution Co., West Tex Hatchery, D&H Electric, J. B. Pickle, Dr. Allen R. Hamilton, Sam Fisherman. Other gifts have been received from H. B. Reagan, Dr. C. W. Deats, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Norman, D. W. Lewter, McDaniel Service Sta., J. D. Barron, Alvin S. Bates.

Teachers To Reject Proposed Pay Plan

BUFFALO, N.Y., Feb. 27. (AP)—A spokesman for the Buffalo teachers federation tentatively rejected in advance today a proposed state pay increase plan which administration leaders had hoped would send the 2,400 striking Buffalo teachers back to their classrooms.

Raymond J. Ast, president of the teachers federation (independent) believed the proposed plan of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's special education committee would be unsatisfactory because it probably would not become effective until July 1 and "the teachers want action now."

Mahon Gives Talk Against Budget Slash

Rep. George Mahon, although favoring a reduction in federal expenditures, recently made an 11-minute speech against a House resolution which proposed a six billion dollar slash.

He opposed the resolution on the basis that "republicans were concealing the principal facts as to what cuts were contemplated and that drastic cuts in the armed forces would jeopardize our national security."

The House action, ultimately passed, did not specifically name where and how reductions would be effected. Roscoe Drummond, chief of the Christian Science Monitor Washington bureau, described the resolution as a "shot in the dark," because of its abstract approach.

Mahon, as a member of the appropriations sub-committee on war department appropriations, was in the group which spent three hours with Gen. Ike Eisenhower, army chief of staff, who contended the army needed six billions for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"We hope some substantial reductions can be made," said Mahon, "but it is too early to say where we can cut." He pointed out that an army of one million men is requested, and that in view of the fact no treaties have yet been approved and the fact that Gen. George Marshall soon is to go to a conference at Moscow, Mahon felt that drastic slashing of military allocations might weaken the secretary of state's position.

Witch Doctors, Drums Greet Royal Family

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa, Feb. 27. (AP)—Chanting witch doctors and beating drums welcomed the British Royal Family today to outlying New Brighton, where neat, modernized houses have been provided for the natives.

Painted Kaffirs, black dancers in leopard skins and Bantu hymn singers also arrayed themselves before King George VI and Queen Elizabeth and the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose.

1.25 Per Pound Paid For Steer

ABILENE, Feb. 27. — Jerry Rogers' grand champion milk-fed 4-H club steer brought $1.25 a pound at the annual sale for the animals in the Abilene Area Junior Livestock show Wednesday afternoon.

Thornton's Dept. store was the purchaser of the champion, which was bred by Wilson Bros. of Luther.

Two other Howard county 4-H steers sold for 36 cents a pound. They were the entries of Reppy Guitar and James Fryar, and both were purchased by C. M. Caldwell of Abilene.

Congress Going Slow On Merger

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—With a potential jurisdictional dispute simmering in the Senate, Congress gave signs today of proceeding slowly with President Truman's army-navy merger bill.

The measure — patterned after the compromise program announced by the White House last month — reached Capitol Hill yesterday and promptly brought into the open the long-threatening argument over which Senate committee should handle it.

Attach License Plates Saturday

Motorists can attach their 1947 license plates to vehicles starting Saturday.

The plates have been on sale since Feb. 15 but state law forbids the tags to be displayed prior to March 1. The old licenses must be replaced by April 1.

Most of the county's automobile owners obviously want to get all the "wear" out of the 1946 tags they can. As of this morning, only 245 sets of plates had been sold at the county tax collector-assessor's office. In addition, 30 commercial and 18 farm vehicle licenses had been purchased.

Whitney, Greene Slate Dallas Trip For WAA Confab

H. W. Whitney, acting city manager, and J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, have tentatively scheduled a trip to Dallas for March 4 for the purpose of conferring with War Assets Administration officials concerning property at the Big Spring Army Airfield.

The WAA indicated two months ago that negotiations for property at the field would first be made with the city before other plans for disposal were launched. At that time, officials said negotiations would be made as soon as classification of the property could be completed. They estimated that classification would be made early in February.

Local officials have not yet been notified of any action, however, and Greene and Whitney hope to determine exact status of the plan while in Dallas.

Steel Producers Promise To Allocate More Materials For Scarce Boxcars

By The Associated Press

New effects of the nation's long-building shortage of railroad freight carriers were reported today after steel producers promised to allocate more steel to building of new cars.

Industrial and railroad spokesmen agreed that the shortage was a long-term problem that would not be solved immediately.

Meanwhile, shipments of fuel oil, newsprint, coal, grain, lumber, farm produce, manufactured products and raw materials were held up at various points because box cars, gondolas, and tank cars were insufficient to carry all the tonnage.

The latest step toward relief was made in Washington yesterday (Wednesday). Senator Reed (R-Kans.) said that major steel companies had agreed to furnish enough steel to build 10,000 new freight cars monthly. Previously steel men had promised steel enough for 7,000 cars a month.

Those acquainted with the situation said the shortage of steel has been the chief problem. Railroads have 88,000 cars on order, but need thousands more. Last year the railroads, which normally take 17 per cent of nation's output, got only 7.2 per cent. Production of consumer goods cut the amount available.

Former Judge, Three Sons On Trial For Fraud

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 27. (AP) Former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, three of his sons and two others came before US District Judge James Alger Fee today for trial on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States.

Indicted two years ago after a long investigation by a special grand jury, the 74-year-old Lewisburg, Pa., resident, went on trial in the same courtroom where he himself had presided for 20 years.

The case will go before a jury after nearly 18 months of litigation in which Johnson and most of the other defendants challenged the government's right to indict them. The original indictments were made Sept. 11, 1945.

Besides ex-Judge Johnson, the other defendants are his sons, Capt. Albert W. J. R.; Miller A. and Donald M.; John Memo, Scranton attorney, and Jacob Greener, Scranton beer salesman.

All have pleaded innocent.

Reading of the 29-page indictment to open the trial proceedings followed by selection of a trial jury from a list of 100 talesmen.

The statutory penalty for the offenses charged in the indictment is two years in prison or $10,000 fine or both.

Johnson was first named to the bench in 1925 by former President Coolidge and resigned in 1945 at a time when a congressional committee was investigating his official conduct.

Sandwich Stand Blaze Is Fatal For Two Men

TEXARKANA, Feb. 27. (AP) — Two men were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed a sandwich stand four miles east of New Boston on Highway 82.

Bowie County officers identified the dead as Claud Harrell, 52, owner of the stand, and Vernon Barclay, 48, owner of an auto parts agency at Brownwood. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Mrs. Harrell, 34, suffered facial and body burns and shock. She was brought to a Texarkana hospital. Her condition was described as not critical.

The fire was discovered shortly before 4 a. m. by a Red River Arsenal guard stationed at the main gate across the highway from the stand. The Arsenal Fire Department put out the flames.

Barclay was said to have arrived here Wednesday to stay overnight with Harrell.

Legion Turns Back Loraine Independent Troupe, 30-24

Tom Davis Bangs In Ten Points

Riding out a strong enemy uprising in the last half, the American Legion quintet of Big Spring turned back the Loraine All-Stars, 30-24, in a basketball game here Wednesday night.

The feature came after an abbreviated debate between two "old-timer" teams, the Wrangling Wrecks and the Speed Demons. The Wrecks and the Demons made a fast start and an even faster finish, electing to domino after they couldn't break a 10-all deadlock.

Quarters in the classic were limited to something like three minutes each and the veterans ran out of petrol long before the final whistle.

Tom Davis, usually the bellwether of the Legion gang, again paced the ex-servicemen in their conquest over Loraine, sinking ten points.

The Legion led at half time, 10-5.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Devison of the school board to invite Pat Murphy here as head football coach — and the news dropped like a bombshell — produced mixed reaction among the sporting manswarm.

As has been stated in this pillar before, the grey-thatched Irishman has his rabid supporters and his critics. All agree that he sticks by his guns, regardless of any counter-movement that might develop.

His staunchest followers are those boys who played under him here around 1940. They give him an unqualified stamp of approval. One of his former players maintains he learned more of the game of football under Pat than he ever did before or has since.

R. E. Huntley, who intends to manage the Vernon Longhorn baseball league entry affed, is a freshman in the professional field. He never played in the moneyed ranks but has had lots of experience in semi-pro circles.

Joe Langston, who will run the business end of the local baseball club, is undecided as to what to call the local nine. As an "out," he may stage a contest and let one of the public do it, offering a season's ticket to the winner.

When Our Town sponsored a team in the old WT-NM league, it was known first as the Barons, then the Bombers.

All other teams in the Longhorn League with the exception of the Ballagers entry has been named. It will be the Sports in Sweetwater, the Dusters in Vernon, the Indians in Midland and the Oilers in Odessa.

Langston, who is busy as a beaver these days, and Manager Pat Stacey may start spring drills here around March 28, whether the park is ready or not. (They had planned to begin them around April 7.) Joe Cambria, the Washington scout, notified Langston Wednesday that he was sending six "very good" players out this way the latter part of March and the local board of strategy will have them doing road work. If the stadium isn't available.

A portion of playing equipment reached Langston through the mails earlier in the week. Joe now has on hand a dozen pairs of spikes, a bat bag, ten dozen pairs of socks and one or two other items. The business manager has been informed that uniforms for the teams are now being made and will be ready for use before the season gets underway.

Incidentally, the Big Spring club will open their 1947 campaign against the Midland team, then move to Midland for a return game the next day. The schedule, which will be released around March 9, calls for a

Most Of Majors Stars On Line

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—The old baseball axiom that contented players make the best players will be thoroughly tested this year.

With a majority of the 16 major league clubs not due to begin their actual spring training grind until next week, approximately 95 per cent of the 600-some big leaguers already have inked their 1947 contracts.

Of the 30 or so players still outside the fold, some have given indication that they will bring in their signed contracts when they arrive at their respective training camps. A player is not officially listed as a holdout until he is overdue in camp.

The biggest name and probably the most adamant holdout—is slugging Stan Musial, the National League batting champ who was the big gun in the St. Louis Cardinals' drive to the flag and subsequent world's title last year.

Other regulars in the holdout brigade include Rudy York, hard-hitting first baseman of the Boston Red Sox; pitcher Dizzy Trout and outfielder-first baseman Roy Cullenbine of the Detroit Tigers; southpaw Howie Pollet of the Cardinals; Babe Young, New York Giants; Phil Masi, Boston Braves; Buddy Lewis, Washington Senators; Auggie Galan, Cincinnati Reds and Ron Northey and Oscar Judd, Philadelphia Phillies. Lewis and Galan have notified their respective managers that they will discuss their contracts when they arrive in camp.

The most serious of the holdouts appears to be Musial. He is dickering for a salary which would place him among the highest brackets in National League history. Reports are that Musial, who drew about $14,000 last year, is demanding $30,000. Owner Sam Breadon is reported to have countered with an offer of $22,000.

Southworth Says Club Stronger

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Billy Southworth, who drove his Boston Braves to a bang-up fourth in last year's National League scorcher, expects to throw a faster, more powerful club at the boys this season.

"As for my team," he said today, "I know we'll be faster, have more batting power and better pitching. It's a lot better looking club than showed up here a year ago. If Mort Cooper pitches the kind of ball from the start that he pitched toward the end of last season, we'll give them a race."

Bums To Use Navy Field For Drills

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP) Plans were complete today for the Brooklyn Dodger baseball camp which will open Saturday at nearby Ellyson field, deactivated Navy flying installation.

A total of 189 men, members of various Dodger farm clubs, will report Saturday and remain for approximately 20 days. This group will be augmented by approximately the same number around March 15 and later another squad will put in here for training.

Coahoma Teams Sweep Series

COAHOMA, Feb. 27.—Coahoma's combination of independent and school basketball teams scored a sweep of a four-game set with Westbrook here Tuesday night.

Truett DeVaney's Independents won their outing, 24-21, with Jim Turner and Hezlie Reading setting the pace. Each had six points.

The senior boys' contingent edged the visitors' 25-24, in the feature bout. Vernon Wolf roped eight points while LeRoy Shaffer and Wayne DeVaney had six each.

Coahoma's fens subdued the Westbrook lasses, 23-20, while the reserve boys completed the grand slam with a 13-11 triumph.

The games closed out the season for the high school teams.

Wins Welter Title

GALVESTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Sailor Harold Moore, 147, Houston, won the Texas welterweight championship last night, knocking out Johnny Reeves, 147, Port Arthur negro, in 2:48 of the second round.

Moore floored Reeves twice in the fatal round, before finishing him off with three rights.

BENEFIT GAME

Girls Win Test But Teachers Pilfer Show

Arah Phillips' girl yolley ball team won the decision but the high school faculty stole the show in a benefit sports spectacle unreeled at the high school gymnasium Wednesday morning.

As $178 worth of customers looked on, the teachers staged a performance that had the onlookers crying for more. Eleven of the instructors saw action on the courts. The others either took part in the band — which would have put Spike Jones and his City Slickers to shame—or participated in the half time parade.

Letha Amerson served as band queen. Zada Brown as director. Tom Bailey and Marie Frost led the intermission march. Walter Reed and Charles Romine, outfitted in baseball catcher's regalia, served as officials of the contest.

Seeing action for the faculty were Vivian Peek, Marguerite Wood, Erma Stewart, Willie McCormick, Flossie Low, Eloise Haley, Lavada Brownrigg, Elisabeth Akers, Bernice Aberly, Anna Smith and Nancy Boswell.

The tally, claimed by the victors, wound up something like 39-17, but no one could prove it by Herschel Stockton, assigned to keep tab on such things. He had it 80-79, and was breathing hard, at the bell.

Miss Phillips' bounce ball A and B teams will play Forsan in games here Friday night. Kickoff time is 7 o'clock.

A basketball game between Anna Smith's Eighth grade boys' team and Forsan's boys is also ticketed. Forsan won a one-point decision over the locals the last time the two quintets tangled.

Baggett Victor Again At Chi

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—James "Buddy" Baggett, 19-year-old flyweight from Dallas today carried Texas' hopes for a title in the Golden Gloves tournament of champions.

The aggressive 112-pounder put on show of speed and boxing ability in pouncing out a quarterfinal decision over Russ McCarty, Grand Rapids, Mich., last night. The first round was fairly even. Baggett cut loose in the second and had McCarty in distress in the last round, easing up when he realized his opponent might not survive the round.

While Baggett was fighting his way into the semi-finals, two of his teammates were eliminated.

Billy Henderson, Leveiland, flyweight and Texas Tech student, was knocked out in the first round of another quarter-final match.

Connie Stamps, Kansas City, Mo., negro, with dynamite in both fists, twice dropped Henderson to the canvas before the referee halted the match. Henderson was down once for the count of three and again for the count of five.

Pvt. Dan Stipanovich from Fort Sam Houston, was eliminated in a 135-pound quarter final bout by Robert Sandberg, Rockford, Ill. It was a hard-fought, close fight all the way.

Stipanovich fell out of the ring in the second round but resumed fighting before a count of nine was finished.

All-America Grid League Chooses Admiral As Czar

Leader Brother To Bill Ingram

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27. (AP)—Directors of the All-America Professional Football conference may have reached for brass but they got gold when they signed Admiral Jonas H. Ingram as the new czar of the conference.

In naming the 60-year-old four-star veteran to what one official frankly said he hoped was a lifetime contract, the conference obtained:

A hero of two wars, commander of the Atlantic Fleet until last September, who wears six decks of service stripes and a chest full of decorations, including the Congressional Medal of Honor.

A former playing star, coach and athletic director for Navy who, during his 44 years in the service, never lost contact with sports.

An easy-to-know man who can be as informal as a gob, or who can—and probably will—crack a mighty whip if anyone imposes on his good graces.

Jonas, as his old cronies and famous brother, "Navy Bill" Ingram call him, was presented here yesterday by the retiring temporary commissioner, Benjamin F. Lindheimer, as the successor to Jimmy Crowley, who resigned the post to become co-owner and coach of the Chicago Rockets.

Crowley reportedly received $30,000 a year, but the admiral said he preferred not to discuss the salary.

Of his new position — he intends to confer with Crowley in Chicago about March 15—Ingram foresees no change of the league's headquarters from New York, nor any in the league's headquarters family. He said he was "hired to get results, and I intend to do the job."

Tonight's two games will be between Georgia Tech and Mississippi State at 7:30 and Vanderbilt and Kentucky at 9 p. m.

Tulane, Florida, fourth-seeded Alabama and Auburn drew first round byes. They will get their first taste of tournament play in quarterfinal games tomorrow afternoon and night.

Sooner Sluggers Sail Into Chicago S'finals

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Oklahoma City and Cleveland, each with four survivors, today topped the field of 32 sharp-punching boxers who will battle for eight titles in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at the Chicago Stadium Friday, March 7.

ROOKIE — Clint Hartung (above) rookie on whom the New York Giants are counting heavily in their bid for the 1947 National league competition. Hartung is carried on the club roster as an outfielder but is also known for his pitching ability. Clint hails from Hondo, Texas, and played with Eya Claire in 1942. He is now with the Giants at their Phoenix, Ariz., spring training camp. (AP Photo.)

Cleveland's four semi-finalists are topped by 160-pounder John Hornik, who last night won his third round match by a knockout and then triumphed in the quarterfinals with a decision.

Other survivors of Oklahoma City's all-Indian squad included 118-pounder Washie Stover, 147-pounder Eddie Lara, and 175-pounder Luke Tainpeah, who carries some shrapnel from the battle of the bulge in his right fist.

Tops in the 160-pounder division appeared to be southpaw Nick Ranieri of Chicago, who scored a first-round knockout over Neil Schaub of Minneapolis for his second KO win in three starts.

Keith Nuttall, baby-faced 126-pounder from Ogden, Utah, who last year won the 112-pound title, had a tight squeeze in gaining the semi-final round. He won an unpopular decision over Luther Rawlings of Chicago after breezing to two straight knockout victories.

The United States bought the Virgin Islands for $25,000,000 during World War I.

Millard Howell Idaho Mentor

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 27. (AP)—Millard F. (Dixie) Howell considers his new job as coach of the University of Idaho football team to be "quite a challenge" and other Pacific Coast conference coaches are likely to agree.

The former University of Alabama star halfback was named yesterday to guide a "re-orientation" program which President J. E. Buchanan has outlined to improve Idaho's "deteriorating position" in coast football.

At Tuscaloosa, Ala., where he has been assistant coach at his alma mater, Howell said he hoped to sign two assistants from the south within two weeks to take with him to Idaho.

Tennists Plan Early Drills

Nearly two-score boys and girls will begin tennis workouts under Coach Johnny Malaise at Big Spring high school as soon as the weather permits.

The mentor expects something like ten boys and 25 or 30 girls to report for workouts.

Included among the veterans who are returning are B. B. Lees and Cuin Grigsby, who represented the Steers in district wars last spring.

Malaise has made no plans to take his squad to any tournaments but the team will probably play several matches within the district on a home-and-home basis.

NTAC In Front, 47-35

HILLSBORO, Feb. 27. (AP)—The North Texas Aggies won the first game of the Central Zone basketball playoff of the Texas Junior College conference. They defeated Hillsboro Junior College 47-35.

The second game will be played tonight at Arlington. A third game, if necessary, will be played in Arlington Friday night.

Six Basketball Letter Winners Back In 1948

John Malaise, Big Spring high school basketball coach, announced Wednesday that 11 members of his 1946-47 Steer team had won letters. Of that number, six—including three regulars—have at least one more year of eligibility remaining.

Athletes gaining awards were Capt. Horace Rankin, Eddie Houser, Delmar Turner, Ike Robb, Harold Berry, Bobo Hardy, B. B. Lees, Jim Bill Little, Marvin Wright, Ell Cyper and Jackie Barron.

Rankin, Hardy, Wright, Cyper and Barron have completed their eligibility.

The return of Houser, leading scorer of the team this season, Turner, Robb and Berry give the contingent a good nucleus for a standout outfit. All played more or less regularly the past campaign. Little, leading scorer among the reserves, gives the next club added authority because of his height and Lees was only a step or two behind this year's first stringers all year. He is due to hit his stride in 1948.

Aggie Mermen Swamp Kansas State

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Texas Aggie swimmers overwhelmed Kansas State 52-23 in a duel meet yesterday and turned in times better than the Southwest Conference records for the 220-yard free style and 400-yard freestyle relay.

Danny Green did the 220-yard freestyle event in 2:18.4 the conference record is 2:19.4.

The Aggie 440-yard freestyle relay team of Allen Self, Bernard Syfan, Jack Riley and Green finished in 3:45.7. The conference record is 3:50.

Fan Mail Comes From Hanover

O. D. Smith, Forsan druggist, was surprised by "fan" mail when the Associated Press gave worldwide circulation to the story of how a calf chewed a purse containing about $700 in receipts from his store and digested better than $225 of the amount.

Now and then, however, he gets a letter which is a bit out of the ordinary, to say the least. Such a letter which came recently from Edgar Heinemann of Osnabruck, Natrupestr. 443 A, Hanover, Germany.

Evidently, stirred by the pangs of hunger and privation, Herr Heinemann assumed Smith's loss and recovery were all profit. Herr Heinemann took occasion to sketch a calf chewing $700, offering "condolences," and taking occasion to point out that the $225 would buy 22 1-2 CARE (Cooperative American Remittances to Europe - 50 Broadway, N.Y.).

"I am able to become crazy," continued Heinemann, "because this would be food for my three kids... for more than a year. Nevertheless I condole you sincerely to this enormous loss. I remain, dear sir, yours faithfully, Edgar Heinemann."

Demonstration Given On Candling, Grading Eggs At HD Meeting

W. L. Brady, assistant poultry marketing specialist for the Texas A&M college extension service, gave a demonstration of candling and grading of eggs at the meeting of the Hiway home demonstration club Wednesday afternoon.

His appearance before the club was in the nature of a follow-up on the demonstration given for county home demonstration agents here Tuesday. He also appeared before the Knott club Tuesday afternoon.

Brady explained to agents how to properly candle eggs, that grade A eggs require a minimum weight of 23 ounces per dozen, not have over one-quarter inch air space and be free of meat and blood specks.

Attending the agent's conference here were Margaret Christie, Big Spring, Mrs. Mary Terrell, Kermit, Mrs. John Drummond, Colorado City, Mary Pearl Bearson, Robert Lee, Mrs. Cleo Ledbetter, Stanton, Ann Joiner, Paint Rock, Hazel McCoy, San Angelo.

Debate On Amendment To Limit President's Term Slated Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Senate Republican leadership gave top priority today to a proposal that future presidents be limited to nine years in office by constitutional amendment.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the judiciary committee declared the bill "embodies the unwritten construction of American policy observed prior to the time of President Roosevelt."

The measure, which bears a 9 to 1 endorsement of the committee, may come up for debate tomorrow if the Senate disposes of the budget issue by mid-afternoon.

"It should be considered aside from the personality of the late president," Wiley told a reporter. "It is for the future rather than the past and personalities should not enter into it."

Senator Kilgore (D-WVa), who cast the committee's only dissenting vote, demurred in a separate interview.

"The founding fathers put no tenure on this job. I think they wanted to leave it to the voters. I still believe in democracy, the will of the people."

The committee's suggested amendment differs from one passed by the House which would limit presidential tenure to two full terms, or one full term and part of another, and provide for ratification by state legislatures.

The Senate proposal would:

1. Permit two full terms of four years each, provided any previous partial term did not exceed one year.
2. Provide for ratification by state conventions, rather than legislatures.
3. Allow the incumbent to finish his term when the amendment is finalized, even if it should be his third.

The House proposal won the necessary two-thirds vote of that chamber by a narrow margin when many southern Democrats lined up with the GOP.

In order to become a part of the constitution, the amendment must win approval by two thirds of both House and Senate, and by three-fourths of the states.

Lilienthal Ballot Delayed For Week

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—A committee vote on confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the atomic energy commission appeared likely today to go over until next week.

Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee said the absence of several members may force postponement of the decision originally set for Saturday.

Texas National Guard Seeks Men

A statewide enlistment program, by means of popular appeal, is being launched to bring Texas National Guard units to allotted strength of 30,098, according to Lt. Col. William C. Wilkes, education and information officer of the guard.

The public relations enlistment maneuver is in keeping with a national plan to acquaint the public with the possibilities of and need for guard units. Col. Wilkes pointed out that a single infantry company has an annual payroll of $36,000 at full strength for one evening drill per week, plus 15 days in the field during the summer. Non-divisional units receive proportionate amounts, he said. Subsequently, air units are contemplated with adequate equipment furnished. Provision also is made for regular help, such as caretakers, etc.

Heart Attack Seizes Murder Trial Suspect

CAMERON, Feb. 27. (AP)—Testimony in the trial of George Andrews, which was halted yesterday when the defendant on a charge of murdering his nephew collapsed in the court-room, was scheduled to resume this morning with Andrews in court on a stretcher.

Dr. W. R. Newton said Andrews regained consciousness two hours after suffering a heart attack and that he "might be able to get by all right during the remainder of his trial."

His nephew, Ernest Andrews, was shot to death at Rockdale last Oct. 5.

"The defendant certainly isn't in physical condition to stand trial, but he tells us he wants to finish it," Dr. Newton said. "He may go back to the courtroom Thursday morning. I think finishing the trial may be less of an ordeal than thinking about another one. But he'll have to remain on a stretcher."

Living Costs Down Slightly At Last

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today its cost of living index showed approximately a 1 per cent decline in mid-January for the first time in ten months.

The mid-January consumers index stood at 151.1, compared with 153.3 in mid-December. The figures are based on the 1935-39 level of 100.

The Jan. 15 index was still 18.3 per cent higher than in February, 1946, the last previous month to show a decline.

The use of coal for iron smelting was long delayed by the tendency of carbon from the coal to enter the iron, making it brittle.

Defense attorneys have given no indication whether they would seek a postponement. They requested last week that the trial be continued because Andrews had heart trouble. After doctors examined Andrews, the court refused their request.

Dust Off The Waffle Iron And Give Family A Treat

"How long has it been since you treated your family to a waffle supper?" asks Miss Albertine Berry, director of Mrs. Tucker's Homemakers' department. "Waffles are never out of season," she reminds, "but there's something about a brisk cool evening that calls out for sausage or bacon, scrambled eggs and light tender waffles, so why not dust off the waffle iron and give the folks a treat?"

"You can also serve them with creamed chicken or a delicious brown-gravy hash, then let them top off with jelly, preserves or table syrup. The waffles themselves can be made fancy by adding pecans or finely broken crisp bacon to the batter.

"There's only one thing to remember, and that is that no one wants to let his waffle cool; so just be sure to have an ample supply of melted Meadlake Margarine in a pitcher to be poured over each one as it is served.

Here is Mrs. Tucker's favorite recipe and we think you'll like it, too, because it makes the kind of waffles that are crisp and stay that way:

WAFFLES
2 cups all purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablepoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, separated
1 1-2 cups milk
1-2 cup melted shortening or salad oil

Sift flour, measure, and sift again with baking powder, salt and sugar. Mix together the milk, melted shortening or oil, and beaten egg yolks. Stir into dry ingredients. Beat egg whites until light but not dry, and fold into batter. Bake on ungreased waffle iron.

For Pecan Waffles, stir 1-2 to 1 cup broken pecan meats into dry ingredients and proceed as before.

Pictures of Sobro indicate the great stud is still a whale of a horse.

I. B. (Doc) Cauble announced this week that the 13 registered Hereford steers he and his son Rexie have on feed experimentally will be marketed here Tuesday at the West Texas Livestock Auction company's regular sale. The animals will be exhibited Monday evening at the sales concern's stock pens. The Caubles undertook the experiment chiefly to "show what can be done in the feed lot with a bunch of tall and registered Herefords." The "tall end" classification is Doc Cauble's own description of the animals, and it is used in reference to the breeding possibilities of the animals at the time they were calved in comparison to Doc's own standards. As is evidenced by the present, this description has no bearing whatever on the commercial feeding adaptability of the steers. They average an estimated 1,200 pounds at 21 months.

Tom Roden says he has noted unmistakable signs of serious range damage caused by the recent high winds at his ranch near Westbrook. Weeds and grass have been virtually standing still for several weeks, and some actual deterioration is evident. However, Roden believes a good rain within the next weeks would quickly restore most of the damage.

Supervisory personnel of the Big Spring schools has been offered 12-month contracts by the trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district. The board, at its Tuesday evening session, renamed Walter L. Reed as high school principal for the year starting July 1 at a salary of $4,200 per annum. Charles Romine, assistant principal in charge of instruction supervision, and L. Dean Bennett, supervisor of elementary education, were elected to their posts at $3,600 per annum.

Joe L. Haddon, director of band and music, was given a contract at $3,300 per annum. The board previously had re-elected W. C. Blankenship as superintendent, extending a two-year contract. The other supervisory position, that of head coach, has been offered to Pat Murphy at $4,000 per annum on a one-year contract basis.

Dramatic, music and picture programs totaled 12 with cumulative attendance of 147, and 43 sessions on the playground had a grand total attendance of 1,161 for all the month.

In special events, boxing led with 8 sessions drawing 432 participants and spectators in all of February. In addition, there were 48 at an educational program and 93 at a social. There was a staff meeting during the month. SA softball teams plan to begin workouts Monday at 4:30 p.m. for senior girls. Senior boys will work out Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 5:15 p.m., and junior boys softball workouts already are underway with prospects for two teams. All boys and girls interested are invited to participate.

Boy, 19, Youngest To Win Degree In Engineering At UT

AUSTIN, Feb. 27.—Already on the engineering faculty of the University of Texas and with a master's degree at the age of 19, Jim Douglas, Jr., a native of Austin, is probably the youngest student to receive degrees from the university college of engineering since its establishment in 1894.

Awarded the degree of Master of Science in civil engineering at the close of the 1946-47 fall-winter semester, Jim received the Bachelor of Science in civil engineering degree in February, 1946, when only 18.

Jim was graduated from Austin high school in May, 1943. As a 16-year-old he was not subject to military service and soon entered the university and embarked on engineering study immediately. The war ended a few days after he became 18 and just as he went into the last semester of his senior year. Besides performing graduate study leading to a doctor's degree, he has been appointed an instructor in engineering mechanics in the newly-organized department of engineering mechanics.

Colorado City Hopefuls Toss Hats In Ring

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 27.—A mayor, a city secretary, and three city aldermen will be chosen by Colorado citizens in an election set for April 1. To date one candidate for each of those offices has formally filed intentions of standing for election. Mayor Charles Brazil, elected mayor two years ago, has announced for reelection as has Ford Merritt, city secretary here since 1938.

Places to be filled in the city council are those of J. C. Pritchett, alderman for the past four years; Henry Bilberry, elected in 1946 to fill the unexpired term of Albert Erwin who resigned from the council due to illness; and W. F. Hague, Pritchett and Bilberry have placed their names on the city ticket for reelection.

A new-comer to city politics, Bill Craddock, a young veteran of the recent war, announced last week his intention of seeking election as alderman. Hague has not announced to date.

This spring will also see the election of two Colorado Independent School trustees. Terms of J. W. Randle and Walter Whipkey are due to expire.

Probe Of Finances Of Communist Party In America Is Underway

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (U.P.)—Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.) of the House Committee of Un-American Activities predicted today the government will act soon against the Communist party on charges of violating the corrupt practices act. Thomas said in an interview he expects the Justice Department to contend that the Communists failed to fulfill the act's requirement that political parties file reports of expenditures and contributions with the clerk of the House.

The law calls for quarterly financial reports, Thomas said, but the Communist party did not file a single report last year nor did it make reports required under the Lobby Registration Act. Thomas said he requested the attorney general to investigate the situation and was informed that the criminal division "is looking into it."

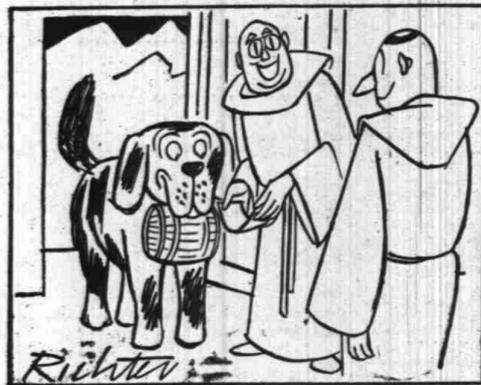

"It looks to me like they're about ready to do something," Thomas added.

He made the prediction as the committee met (10 a. m. EST) to question union and former union employees in continuation of an inquiry into assertions by previous witnesses that some strikes have been instigated by Communists.

Called to testify were officials of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union of Bridgeport, Conn., and three former members of the UAW-CIO union at the strike-bound Allis Chalmers plant in Milwaukee. The committee has been told that the Bridgeport local was suspended by the international union for dismissing members accused of Communist leanings. The former Allis-Chalmers union workers were to be questioned about assertions by company officials that the ten-months of strike had Communist backing.

Contingencies In School Plans

Mention of the word "million" in connection with the planning program authorized by the school board may be calculated to throw a generous sprinkling of people into acute rigors.

However, it needn't do that. In the first place the school board has not yet proposed a single project for undertaking. It has proposed that plans be developed for eight units or projects so that if the need is felt and the propertied voters are agreeable they may be launched as the demands warrant.

The planning program is being established on a rather flexible basis so that it may be undertaken a unit (or units) at a time. The development of the community would be a highly influential factor in determining the degree to which the school district would face the program. Added taxable wealth, increase in population, and other things would lend weight to the expansion of the physical plant. At any rate, the public ultimately will have the say-so on what part of the planned program will be attempted.

If demands justify some or all of the expansion program, we may also consider the probability of greater staff, for the more students we have the more teachers we shall need. Against all the cost factors, we shall have to consider the amount of state aid available together with what we believe education of our children is worth. It is not a pearl without price.

Cost Of Living Is Air-Minded

Dollar bacon—that's what the experts are predicting.

This is not sensational news within itself, for with the exception of those who have unshakable tastes people can eschew the delicacy of aromatic garnishment with their eggs of a morning. It also means substantially higher prices for pork chops, pork roast, sausage, ham, etc. Prices for lamb chops, leg of lamb, etc. are due to jump, too, and it would not be surprising if beef (the cow really did jump over the moon) tightens its grips on some sky hooks.

Already rents are creeping upwards in many areas of the nation. Prices show little disposition to stabilize, particularly in food lines.

A survey by the Associated Press shows that already it costs 27 per cent more to live in Texas than it did a year ago. Recent developments bid fair to ease the pressure up a few more percentage points. This, however, seems to be what we ordered. Price controls got pretty obnoxious to people, particularly in the processing and distributive fields. It was acknowledged that their removal might occasion a temporary rise with resultant hardships. Certainly this much seems to be coming true. The department of agriculture predicts that it may get worse until mid-summer, which is the earliest date fixed for a possible turning of the tide.

It is not difficult to imagine that we may be on the threshold of a new wave of strikes for higher pay to meet rising costs. Now, as under price controls, the only ultimate hope of real relief is in production and more production. Fancy prices may encourage this to such an extent we will accumulate big surpluses. Then comes the bust and cries from the other side of the fence.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

Form W-2 Is Really Very Simple

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series explaining why you must do what about your income tax returns.

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Who can use Form W-2, the withholding statement, in making his 1946 income tax return?

Form W-2 is the receipt given an employer by his boss for the tax withheld from his wages or salary in 1946.

Full tax is supposed to have been withheld from all regular wages and salaries up to $5,000. You can use Form W-2 if your income was under $5,000 and came entirely from wages or salary from which the tax was withheld.

But — suppose, in addition to your regular wages or salary, you had income from which no tax was withheld.

You, too, can use Form W-2 but only:

If the additional income was no more than $100 and came from interests, dividends, or wages from which no tax was withheld, provided the total income still was under $5,000.

You could not use Form W-2 if — in addition to regular wages or salary — you had any income from things like rent, professional fees, or annuities, no matter how small.

In such a case — any income at all from rents, or professional fees, or annuities — you use the 1040 short-form, if your total income was under $5,000.

(Anyone with $5,000 or more income, from any source, must use the 1040 long-form.)

What of husbands and wives? Can they make a combined return on Form W-2? Yes.

1. If their combined income, from which tax was regularly withheld, was under $5,000.

2. And if any additional income — from interest, dividends, or wages from which tax was not withheld — was no more than $100, and the total income for both was under $5,000.

Suppose the combined salary of yourself and wife was $5,000 or more but individually was under $5,000.

You could file separate returns on Form W-2, but not a joint one, since the combined income was $5,000 or more.

Or — you could file a joint return on the 1040 long-form, which is for income of $5,000 or more.

(In this case you couldn't file a joint return on the 1040 short-form which is for total income under $5,000.)

Husbands and wives can't file separately on Form W-2 in the nine community property states or Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington.

They can file separately on the 1040 short-form, if their individual salaries are under $5,000.

If you know that your deductions — for things like medical bills and charitable contributions — are more than 10 percent of your income, don't use Form W-2. You'll lose money.

In such a case use the 1040 long-form where you'll have to itemize your deductions but can take full credit for them, even though using the long-form means figuring out your own tax.

There's no place on Form W-2 for listing deductions. You don't have to because a standard deduction of 10 percent for every one using Form W-2 was allowed for in the tax withheld during the year.

That's why — if your deductible expenses actually were more than 10 percent — you should use the 1040 long-form.

(Friday: Filling out Form W-2)

Lamar College Has Growing Pains

This is about a junior college with growing pains. Five years from now, it will be a full-grown four-year college with about 5,000 students. Dust off your crystal ball and take a look and see if we're not right.

Most people visualize a junior college as something that holds classes at night in the high school building, or as a stepchild of the educational system carrying on in an abandoned building.

But Lamar College at Beaumont, a two-year junior college today, is a big, husky thing with $1,500,000 worth of new buildings on its own campus within sight of Old Spindle Top. It has 1,800 students, a figure larger than that boasted by some of the state's supposedly "big" institutions.

Men of vision in the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange district want to make it a four-year college. As a rule, the three towns are pretty jealous of each other and sometimes don't cooperate too well. But they're united on Lamar College. They want a nearby college where their sons and daughters can attend.

One of the first steps, already taken, is inviting the state legislature to Beaumont to look at Lamar College and surrounding territory. They're not inviting just a senator or two, or a committee, but the whole works. They want to fly them down there. Then feed 'em and fete 'em.

The idea behind the college is sound. Leaders want to make it a technological college. They want to specialize in the chemistry of oil, in refining processes, in synthetics and plastics, and, of course, in agriculture.

Leaders point out the logic of having such a college in such a location: At Orange, DuPont has its greatest nylon salt plant; between Beaumont and Port Arthur there is the world's largest synthetic rubber plant; there are refineries by the dozen; there are oil fields; the area is the Rice Bowl of the South. And students, after studying these things in classes, can get practical training at home, in hometown projects. Further, they can even get jobs after graduation. There is no comparable large college near.

Lamar, which opened in 1923 with 125 students and today has 1,800, bids fair to become one of Texas' top schools. If they were selling stock, we'd buy some.

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Bitter Battles Waged For 'Oscar'

(This is the second of two stories on the Academy Awards.)

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—At the end of each year, movie studios wheel their guns into line and start aiming for academy awards. Despite strenuous objections by Academy leaders, the campaign continues, often without regards to the rules of warfare.

First of all, the studios feel their contenders should reach the public at the deadline for eligibility, the last week of the year. Thus their film is fresh in the minds of the voters, the 1,500 members who have been admitted to the academy for their "contribution to the industry."

The result is that, Christmas week in Los Angeles sees a glutted film market. Nearly all the leaders in this year's race were released then. And those released earlier in the year, were brought back in revivals, amid much fanfare.

With the picture in release, a barrage of exploitation booms forth. Studios buy all the billboards, air time and newspaper space they can find.

The studios also work within their own walls. Signs extolling the favored candidates are placed around the lot.

This year's campaigning has seen some of the dirtiest methods ever experienced, including anonymous letters to columnists damning certain contenders. Although these tactics cannot be traced, undoubtedly some originated from the camps of nominees.

Striking out against the politicking is Gene Hersholt, the able and popular president of the academy. Because he now has no studio connections, he feels he is equipped to lead the fight for more impartial voting.

This year he sent a letter to each academy member in which he declared:

"Each year there is criticism of our awards and there have been complaints that studio politics influence the voting. I am sending you this personal letter to urge you that when you receive your ballot you will realize that you have a responsibility to the academy ideal that individual achievement comes ahead of studio affiliation."

Thaw An Empty Name

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Harry K. Thaw, once America's most notorious millionaire, goes to his grave no more than an empty name to the rising generation.

For 25 years after he shot to death Stanford White in June, 25, 1906, over the affections of Evelyn Nesbit—the most celebrated love triangle slaying of the twentieth century—Thaw's court battles and playboy escapades made him the most publicized man of wealth in the nation. His life read like a case history from Freud.

Yet when I mentioned his name to a young taxi driver while en route to the Miami Beach waterfront home where Thaw died the youth did not recognize his name.

At his death at 76 Thaw was the picture of a sedate retired gentleman of means—an unbuttoned six-foot-one inch patrician, still handsome with his thick white hair and small moustache. Although he once had tossed away $1,500 a night on gay parties, he was a conservative in money matters. He disapproved of the New Deal and considered himself a staunch Republican in politics.

As we sat in beach chairs on the lawn of the rented 15-room home where Thaw had wintered so quietly the last two years few neighbors knew his identity, his attorney, Sidney Werner, gave this last portrait of the man:

"Thaw didn't like gambling in any form. He was reticent and didn't express his moods or feelings.

"His philosophy was to help others who needed it—and with the least possible fanfare. He helped many poor people and sent a number of boys and girls through school. But it upset him if his charities became known.

"I do not believe he saw Evelyn Nesbit the last 15 or 20 years of his life, although he helped her out financially from time to time.

"He never spoke of his earlier troubles."

Although Thaw spent some eight years in insane asylums and took no active interest in business affairs, Werner said he had "a very keen mind."

He inherited $3,000,000 and large interests in coke producing properties from his father, William Thaw, then rated as America's third wealthiest man—worth some $40,000,000.

Born with a gold spoon in his mouth, Thaw never let it melt. He spent a million dollars trying to prove he wasn't insane and dropped uncounted hundreds of thousands more in court fights, expensive escapades, and fruitless ventures as a producer of movies that never reached the screen.

But he died still high in the millionaire class—well able to be buried in a gold casket if he chose.

Canary Teams Up With The Stork

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Jack Matlock, electrical engineering student at the University of Oklahoma, started fellow students when he announced the stork had brought him five more mouths to feed.

After receiving hearty congratulations, he explained, his wife had presented him with twins—and at the same time his canary hatched three little peepsters.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Draw Pearson

GOP's Differ On Military Budget

WASHINGTON.— Republican leaders held two closed-door meetings on the budget last week which were as different as day and night. One was a meeting of Senate Republicans which went on record against any sharp budget cuts for the army and navy. The other was a meeting of House Republicans which voted overwhelmingly to cut the army and navy.

At the secret session of House GOP leaders there was only one dissenting voice, that of absent Congressman Ham Illinois of Buffalo, N. Y., who was ill, but whose letter against army-navy cuts was read by Congressman Les Arends of Illinois.

In the Senate, however, it was different. Senator Styles Bridges, chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee and a vigorous budget-cutter, first took the floor to remind his colleagues of their pledge to prune.

"This question of how far to cut the budget is a definite challenge to each and every one of you," said Bridges, bluntly.

"Budget cuts are going to hurt," he continued. "They will mean squawks and protests and resentment. Some of your friends are going to be hurt, and some of your political supporters. You've got to be prepared for that. What you must decide is whether you are willing to go ahead with a job you know needs to be done even though it will be unpopular."

This brought an immediate reply from army-navy champions led by armed services chairman Chan Gurney of South Dakota. "The proposed cuts in the army and navy cannot be made," Gurney shouted. "If they are made, ours will be second-rate power, militarily speaking."

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, ever the diplomat, took a different tack. He began by complimenting the budget committee on its job, and commending its courage. But, he concluded, it has recommended too deep a cut. A reduction of six billion dollars will mean sending Secretary Marshall to the Moscow peace conference "with both arms in slings."

Senator Bob Taft of Ohio supported Vandenberg, after which finance committee chairman Eugene Millikin of Colorado argued that it would be better to cut too little this year than too much.

"Where we find we have cut too little we can rectify our mistake next year," Millikin suggested. "But if we cut too much we might destroy some vital function of the government."

CONTEMPLATED CUTS
In the end the holdouts for the six-billion-dollar cut mustered 19 votes while those desiring a smaller cut got 22. Not many of the 19 rigid economizers got up to champion their viewpoint, but among those who did were Senator Harry Cain of Washington, in whose state navy yard and reclamation funds would be cut off, and James Kem of Missouri.

Senator George Aiken of Vermont, one of the outstanding lawmakers of either party, then questioned Bridges about specific reductions which would have to be made. He asked about such things as rural electrification, the Department of Agriculture and the Interior Department, in each case drawing admissions that the cuts would be substantial but not crippling. They would "slow up" the work, Bridges said in each case.

Bridges did not put before his colleagues a breakdown which he and other Republican members of the joint committee had prepared, showing just where the budget cuts would be made. This breakdown includes the following significant figures:

- The War Department's military budget would be cut by $1,200,000,000, its civil functions by more than $500,000,000.
- The navy cut would be $880,000,000.
- The $947,000,000 sought for the Department of Agriculture would be cut by $257,000,000.
- The $307,000,000 asked for the State Department would be cut by $95,000,000.
- The $1,048,000,000 for the RFC and other government corporations would be scaled by $228,000,000. And one cut the Republicans chuckle over, but may find difficult is $200,000,000 in the over-all $352,679,250 budget of Bob Hannegan's Post Office Department. They proposed cutting him by over 50 per cent.

When it comes to personalities, not politicians, President Truman likes Republicans—that is, most of them, and he enjoyed entertaining GOP congressmen at the White House reception the other night. However, there were four Republicans present he did not like.

Congressman Earl Lewis, an Ohio Republican, discovered this when his son Robert, a captain in the army medical corps, shook hands with the President. Young Lewis offered his sympathy because of all the handshaking the Chief Executive had to do. But the President was quite cheerful about it.

"There's a trick to that," he smiled. "Waatch." Grabbing

Lewis hand, he told him to squeeze, but Lewis found he couldn't. Truman had squeezed first.

"I like this party," the President went on. "There are lots of friends of mine here and I can call 75 per cent of the people here by name. I'm glad to see every one of them here, except four Republican —"

The President did not say who they were, and his guests were too startled to ask him. However, Republican congressmen have been speculating ever since as to their identity.

CAPITAL CHAFF
A Washington woman with a sense of humor sent all the way to Missouri for a bushel of nuts to feed the White House squirrels. As long as the White House is occupied by Missourians, she said, the squirrels should dine on Missouri food. . . . Secretary of the Interior "Cap" Krug got worried the other day when a newspaper girl asked him a lot of questions. Finally she confessed that she was preparing his obituary because of Krug's projected flying trip to the Pacific.

Now that he has left the RFC, George Allen is really expanding his business holdings. He even owns one per cent of the Broadway hit, "Born Yesterday."

If Congress really wants to economize, it might examine the four-and-one-half pages of driver Congressman Rankin of Mississippi recently inserted in the Congressional Record, written by a group of Californians lauding Rankin. It's all printed at the taxpayer's expense. . . . General Eisenhower has ordered the bodies of all American soldiers buried in the China theater to be collected and shipped home. . . . The split between the Taft and Dewey wings of the Republican party over labor is deepening. Senators Taft and Ball button-holed Dewey's new Senator Irving Ives in a Senate cloakroom recently and tried to win his support for anti-labor legislation. Ives, however, refused to join them.

MERRY-GO-ROUND
GOP Congressman John Taber of New York told colleagues in the closed-door budget debate that 568,000 federal employees would be fired. But when they tried to pin him down, he couldn't give any idea what bureau they would be fired from. . . . One thing the solons did agree to at their secret budget debate was that budget cuts would mean the end of all public works projects except those already started.

Korea A Pawn In Asiatic Politics

Highly disquieting is the report brought up by Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander of US forces in southern Korea, regarding Russo-American relations in that oriental hot-spot.

The general, who is back in Washington to make a report of his stewardship, says he has given up trying to negotiate with the Soviet authorities for unification of the country under a provisional government, as provided for under the Moscow agreement of 1945. Negotiations broke down last year over Russian insistence that no Koreans who opposed the Soviet plan for a five year trusteeship over their country should take part in the government. Since then — no soap.

"What further is done is up to someone higher up," says Hodge, after the fashion of a man of few words.

The general further states that the Russian radio has acknowledged Soviet conscription of Koreans into the army in the Muscovite northern zone of occupation.

That, on thumb-nail, is the highly uncomf'ole situation in Korea. At least that's what appears on the surface — but there's a lot more than meets the eye.

The fact is that little Korea is paying dearly because her geographical position happens to be such as to make her of vast strategical value militarily. She is so important that she long has been a pawn in Asiatic politics, as witness the control of Korea was one of the chief causes of the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-05, and of the Chinese-Russian conflict a decade earlier.

So if we are to arrive at a correct appraisal of her importance, we must start from the fact that Korea is one of the most important bases in the realignment of power in the Far East. The nation controlling Korea would have a key position.

As things stand, the country is divided in halves, with Russia occupying the northern portion and America the southern. The line of demarcation is the 38th parallel, and this imaginary boundary is so tightly guarded by the Russians that it is like a Chinese wall.

And, under the circumstances, one would expect Uncle Sam to continue in occupation of southern Korea until this situation is cleared up. It would be an astonishing thing to see him pull out, leaving Russia in possession. Independence for the country is what he is working for.

Pep Up Your Lenten Menus With Chef's Tricks in Cooking Fish

IT'S easy to be a strict conformist to Lenten menu restrictions and win high praise from the family for tempting menu variety. If you master a few chef's tricks in the matter of fish serving. To begin with, you will always be sure of fish with real ocean-fresh flavor, no matter how far from the surfline you live, if you use the quick-frozen variety. All chores of preparation are done for you, and it comes to you all cleaned, boned and filleted, with all its tangy freshness sealed in by quick-freezing within four hours after it is landed on the docks.

Such shore favorites as quick-frozen red perch and quick-frozen cod are delicious served broiled, baked, broiled, or fried. You can rely on various seasonings and garnishings to give distinctive variety to these basic cooking methods. Tartare sauce is a natural affinity for fried fish, and can be easily made by adding chopped pickle and other ingredients to mayonnaise. Egg sauce—hard-cooked eggs sliced or diced in white sauce.—is the classic accompaniment for broiled fish. When you bake fish, the addition of canned tomato, onion, green peppers or carrots gives additional interest to the dish. With broiled fish, one of the butter sauces is usually served. Lemon parsley butter, made by creaming 4 tablespoons of butter, with two to

Meaty Salads Hearty Fare The Year Round

Meats for salads have a special place on menus. They are ideal for light suppers or lunches, or for special guest luncheons the year 'round. For family meals they are especially appropriate and budget-wise when a delicious roast of meat, or chicken or turkey have been on the menu.

For these salads, the meat is diced coarsely or cut into bite-sized pieces. Usually crisp foods and foods with a slightly tangy flavor are included in the salad ingredients or served with the salad. Carrots, celery, cooked vegetables, pickles, olives, nuts, fresh or canned fruits are just a few suggestions. Serve with your favorite salad dressing, whether it be mayonnaise, cooked salad dressing, sour cream dressing, or another family choice.

The following recipes all have interesting flavor variations. Serve them with crisp crackers, hard rolls, or hot corn bread, crunchy potato chips, a fruit dessert, and milk or coffee.

Banana Cream Whip At Its Luscious Best

Now that we've bananas back again, let's serve them at their luscious best, which is when they're fully-ripe. It's easy to tell a fully-ripe banana by merely looking at its peel. It should be yellow flecked with brown. If it is instead all-yellow or yellow-tipped-with-green, these bananas will ripen readily in your own home. Just leave them out at room temperature (around 70 degrees F.) until the yellow peel deepens and the brown flecks appear. Don't put bananas in the refrigerator as a low temperature will arrest the ripening process.

So many wonderful and typical American desserts feature banana flavor that it's difficult to single one out to give you the recipe. But here is a prime example:

BANANA CREAM WHIP

1 cup mashed ripe bananas 2 (to 3 bananas)
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1-4 cup sugar
1-8 teasp. salt
1-2 cup whipping cream, whipped (Use ripe bananas... yellow flecked with brown)

Mix together bananas, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Fold in whipped cream. Chill. Serve within 1 hour. Four to six servings. Garnish with sliced bananas.

So sweet and delicious in flavor is the banana that this would seem enough to recommend it, but banana goes farther by offering superb nutrition in its luscious fruit. Bananas have vitamins A, the B group and is one of the better sources of ascorbic acid (vitamin C), together with eleven essential minerals, including calcium, phosphorus and iron.

Plentiful Fruit Good Made Into Amber Marmalade

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 27.—Now, while oranges and grapefruit are so plentiful, is an ideal time for homemakers to make marmalade, advises Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Providing she has sugar to spare, the homemaker can make five pints of Amber Marmalade from one orange, one grapefruit, one lemon, an eighth teaspoon of salt, and sugar.

Fruit that is smooth, thick-skinned and free from all blemishes should go to make up the marmalade, says Miss Jones. The peel is removed and sliced very thin, a cold quart of water added, and the mixture boiled for five minutes. Then the boiled water can be drained off, and the process repeated twice more, with a fresh quart of water each time.

In the next step, Miss Jones tells housewives to combine the boiled peel with the pulp of the fruit, sliced thin with seeds and "rag" removed. Then press the mixture in a container, and add twice as much water as there is fruit and peel in the container. Boil rapidly for 40 minutes. Weigh or measure the mixture and add an equal weight or measure of sugar, and the salt.

The mixture should then be boiled for 20 minutes—or until it thickens and becomes amber colored. As it cooks down, it should be stirred to prevent sticking. The marmalade should stand in the kettle long enough for the strands of peel to be distributed evenly through the jelled juice; then stirred and poured into hot sterilized jars and sealed. Or it can be put into sterilized jelly glasses and covered with paraffin.

'Show Me' Boys Shown
ST JOSEPH, Mo. (U.P.)—Missouri police have to be shown. They were told by a safe burglary suspect that the two cans he carried were filled with TNT. Taken to the outskirts of town, the cans exploded convincingly when rifle fire was put into them.
