

THE ELDORADO SUCCESS

OF AND FOR ELDORADO AND SCHLEICHER COUNTY. ALL THE TIME

VOL. XXXIV

Eldorado, Schleicher County, Texas, Friday February 16, 1934

No. 7.

Boy Scouts Observe Scout Week

The Eldorado Boy Scouts have observed Scout week this week, they held their Scout Service at the Baptist church Sunday, the Rev. Frazier preaching the sermon. They have also decorated the windows in the old McWhorter Building with their work.

The Scouts have enjoyed a good year the past twelve months, according to a report from J. A. Whitten who has been looking after the work together with Don McCormick, during the year they have finished a new scout hall, in which the Lions club had a nice part and helped out on the financial end.

There are 18 boys now in the troop, and they have made application for the renewing of their charter.

The Scouts will gather all the old furniture that people will give them and rebuild it and give it to the needy. This was suggested by the President of the United States, so if you have any old furniture that you have no use for phone some of the Scouts and they will call for it and make some use of it for the benefit of the poor.

REPORTERS MEETING

A reporters school is to be held, Saturday Feb. 17, 1934, at 2:30 P. M. by Mabel Howell at her office in the courthouse. Each reporter from each Home Demonstration Club is urged to be present. Visitors are also invited.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS

There has been some complaint from people over the county regarding relief given to Mexicans from this office after they had been offered work.

We would like to make some explanation as to the means of avoiding this. We have a large number of people registered on our reemployment rolls and are able to supply practically any class of workman that is needed in this county. The complaints have been unjust because the people have tried to do the employing and have never reported any names of people refusing to work. If you will notify this office the number of employees needed, the salary to be paid, we will gladly do our best to secure the kind of laborer that you will need and then if we cannot get the men to work, we will be able to know who they are and can deal with them accordingly.

We do not mean that we will cut a man off the works, just because he is offered a job, but if he is offered a job at a livable wage and then refuses to work then we will be justified in rejecting any relief asked for.

Any one will be doing this office a great favor if they will either call on us to supply their laborers or report any man refusing to work when offered a job. We will let you pick your men if you wish, or we will make the selection from our files, letting you know in advance who we wish to recommend to you and you can either employ or reject the applicant.

We will appreciate very much any assistance that the people of Schleicher County can give us regarding the above.

L. T. Barber, Administrator, Schleicher County Relief Board.

Washington at Valley Forge

HERE is no finer example in American history of faith and pluck than that which was made at Valley Forge by the Continental army under its commander in chief, George Washington, in the winter of 1777-1778.

It is doubtful whether the sacrifice of the Continental army has ever been adequately realized. Arthur Weller writes in the National Republic Magazine. Half-starved, ill-clad, poorly sheltered, and in great peril, not only from the pangs of hunger and cold, but also from enemy attacks, they huddled about their campfires while the British under Lord Howe, at the "rebel" capital of Philadelphia, celebrated the taking of it with dances and other gala events.

Tracked March of Troops by Bloodstains of Feet on Ground.

In Marshall's Washington we find this: "At no period of the war had the American army been reduced to a situation of greater peril than during the winter at Valley Forge. More than once they were absolutely without food." What hardships were undergone can be deduced from the fact that only 5,000 out of the 17,000 who encamped there in December for that winter were fit for active duty. Clothing, no less than food, was scarce. Men wore each other's uniforms in order that the naked could be clad and take their turn at active duties.

One account tells of Washington, one cold morning, meeting his sentinel as the commander left headquarters, the Potts house. The sentinel was making vigorous movements with his hands and legs in order to keep warm. Noting this, Washington asked him if he had had his breakfast. Upon receiving a negative reply, Washington hurried the sentinel inside the house, and while he was being served a breakfast by Mrs. Washington, George Washington, with the sentinel's gun, stood guard outside his own house until the soldier's return.

Illustrative also of the conditions in the camp at beautiful, yet tragic, Valley Forge, so close to Philadelphia, so near the British, is the account of Washington's visit to a detachment of his own men. He had been keeping his eyes on the ground, apparently noting something interesting there on the snowy slopes. Upon drawing near to the chief officer of the detachment, Washington quietly returned the salute, then abruptly asked:

"How comes it, sir, that I have tracked the march of your troops by the bloodstains of their feet upon the frozen ground? Were there no shoes in the commissary's stores?"

To this the officer replied that his detachment was one of the last to receive shoes, also that the supply shortly after his detachment was reached had been exhausted.

Washington listened in silence, but his deep sigh showed with what emotion he heard this report. Turning to

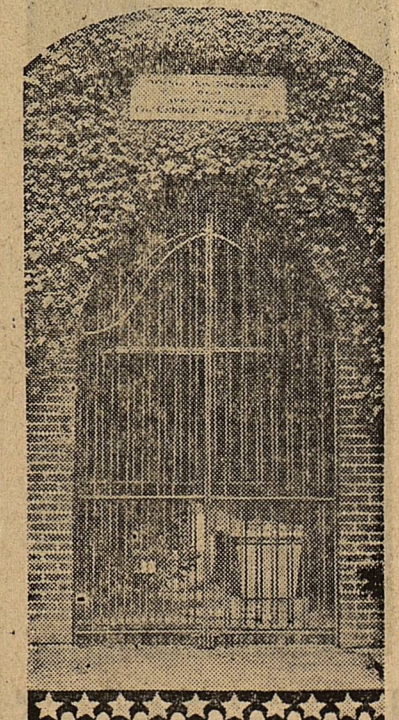

GEORGE WASHINGTON WAS A DOCTOR

NOT well known, but authentic, is the fact that George Washington was really a physician. His knowledge of medicine prepared him to treat the illnesses of slaves on his own plantation. During his final illness, before other doctors were called in, he directed his own treatment, says a writer in Hygeia, the Health Magazine. As was customary at the time, he ordered himself bled. Shortly before he died, his breathing became easier and he withdrew his hand from a friend's and felt his own pulse. "Washington thus evidently realized that the end had come and gave up hope; for immediately a great change came over his countenance and his hand fell lifeless to his side.

his men he said, his voice trembling, "Poor fellows!" Then he gave rein to his charger and rode rapidly away.

Valley Forge is more than a beautiful state park today. It is symbolic of something more than forced privations. It is a shrine that instills in all true Americans a deeper appreciation of the manhood and the sacrifice of those who were quartered there during the darkest hour of the Revolution. It is symbolic of a never-dying devotion to a cause and to a great commander that kept hope alive.

Tomb of WASHINGTON

THE tomb of George Washington at beautiful Mount Vernon is a national shrine. It is more, even, than that. It is a shrine of the whole world. Ships from every country in the world, when they sail up the Potomac past the tomb, dip their flags and toll their bells solemnly. And many of the biggest men on earth, kings, princes, Presidents, warriors, statesmen, make pilgrimages to this shrine of all humanity and lay so many wreaths at the tomb of Washington that often the buried from doors of it are hidden under them.

Lions Endorse New School Building

At the Lions meeting Wednesday the need of a new school building at the school grounds was discussed, and a move was started to try and secure one while the Government is offering to pay 30 percent of the cost. The following committee was appointed to meet with the school Board and see if they could not get busy now while the opportunity for aid was available, the committee are: E. C. Hill, L. M. Hoover, C. B. Knight, J. S. Loyd and W. O. Alexander.

Ovid Wade was a visitor at the Luncheon.

The Lions Club voted to furnish ribbons for the County School Meet to be held in Eldorado in March.

Lion Morgan and Lion Wheeler were initiated into the full fellowship of the Club partially at the expense of Shorty Doyle.

DAVIS—MCDONALD

Saturday afternoon Mr. Lum Davis motored to Sonora and secured a marriage license for he and Miss Lometa McDonald then returned home and after five o'clock the young couple left for Kerrville and stopped over Sonora and were united in marriage by the Rev. Parker, pastor of the First Baptist Church there. They continued their journey to Kerrville where they spent Sunday with Mrs. Davis Sister, returning Sunday night.

Mr. Davis has been working in the Cash Service Station for several years and is a worthy young man of sterling character, is a son of Dick Davis of our city and has been here some ten years or more.

The bride Miss McDonald is working in the Telephone office here and has been for several years and has many friends in our midst and is loved and honored by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will continue to make their home in our midst where they have a host of friends who join The Success in extending congratulations.

In order to correct the report that I have withdrawn from the race for treasurer I wish to state that I have not withdrawn and do not intend to do so. I further wish to say to the voters of the County that between now and the time of the primaries I will canvas the county in the interest of my candidacy for that office. I desire to see each and every voter personally.

I am making the race for the office on my own merits and qualifications.

I have had considerable experience in public work, having taught school in this and San Saba county a number of years and also had experience in other public work.

I have confronting me the problem of supporting and educating a small son and if elected the financial benefit derived from the office will greatly aid me to that end.

I feel that I am thoroughly competent and fully qualified to fill the office and if the good people of this county see fit to elect me to that office I shall give to them in service, to the very best of my ability, in the discharge of the duties of that office.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Mattie Cozzens.

Inaugural Ride Precedent Originated by Washington

IT WAS George Washington himself who set the courteous precedent whereby the retiring President rides with the incoming one to his inauguration, says a writer in the Saturday Evening Post.

Since 1797 this precedent has been broken only by the Adamses, both great, but cantankerous.

"The President of the United States comes in through the Iron gates and goes out by the weeping willows," said Dolly Madison.

Since the fair Dolly's time, the side entrance by the willow trees has been used, but only the route is altered. The sentiment remains.

MOHAIR GOES AT 57 CENTS POUND

The Producers Wool and Mohair Co. of Del Rio sold Monday through A. W. Hillard and Son of Boston 8,000 pounds of mohair which it had consigned to the eastern firm at a net return to the grower of 41 cents for the grown hair and 57 cents for the kid hair. It was some small lots of mohair that had accumulated at the warehouse after the sale last fall.

There was sold in Boston this week some kid hair at 63 cents a pound, while number 3 sorts commanded 40 cents.

The Producers Wool and Mohair Co. also sold a car of fall wool to Joe Hunter of Boston at 26 cents a pound. It was being loaded out yesterday.

The Pete Minutt ranch of Comstock which ransomed through the Producers Wool and Mohair Company of Del Rio 30,000 pounds of 12 months wool received notice yesterday that the wool sold for 36 cents a pound in Boston. Eisemann brothers sold the wool. Mr. Minutt has about a 40-section ranch, and runs about 14,000 sheep.

J. L. Stansberry of Eden got 35 cents a pound in Boston for his 45,000 pounds of 12 months wool consigned to Eisemann brothers and sold this week. The wool comes from the live oak country near Eden.

From the way politics is starting out Texas will have a good warming up this year from "Kiver to Kiver". Even the District Attorneys race in our District seems to be warming up. Things are already humming lots of hot talk is being put out.

Nearly ever week brings new candidates in the field for Governor and as the weather warm up talk will be plentiful.

And now comes brother Farley and says he will keep hands off in the Senators race between Connally and Bailey, its going to be a dog fall between the two and The Success will have lots of fun watching, Bailey is a wet and Connally is a closed mouth dry.

The waste and graft that has been going on in the United States for the past decade is enough to make an honest man sick, just how it can be stopped is hard to tell, the ballot box is our best way but then your friends turn their back on you after they are in.

If Roosevelt turns all the grafters out of office then who will he have left, old Diognese burned all the oil out of his lantern hunting for an honest man before Christ came to earth and never found him, just what luck Roosevelt will have is yet to be seen.

Col. Lindeberg takes issue with President Roosevelt for his wholesale cancellation of air mail contracts. Another time Lindeberg is right, everyman is entitled to a fair trial, if guilty of wrong they should be punished and not just deprived of a job. When our Government gets to awarding contracts on merit and not political favors we will have a better government, those guys who got the air mail contracts had a good stand in the political field and were awarded for political favors probably.

More talk about Republican rule and filling places with Republicans instead of Democrats. Congressman Thomas L. Blanton made a speech in the lower house and asked a few questions of his Democratic friends in Congress.

"Who's in charge of this spending?" Blanton of Texas demanded today in the house.

"I'm not criticising our president—I won't criticise any president—but he has seen fit to put a Republican in charge of the AAA, and has filled every district in the United States with Republicans.

If there has been a Democrat put in I don't know it. (Applause from the Democratic seats.)

"Who is in charge of the CWA? A Democrat? Oh, no! Is Harry Hopkins a Democrat? Oh, no! He has filled every part of the country with Republicans. (More Democratic applause.)

"Who's in charge of the PWA, a Democrat? Oh, no! Secretary Ickes has filled it up with Republicans from one side of the country to the other."

Turning to the Democratic members, Blanton asked if Ickes had named any Democrats in their districts.

GLENN R. LEWIS

"No's," echoed. Of course The Success does not want to knock on the Administration as we have no way to find out only through the press, but news is news and the above appeared in the press and we presume in a degree is true. You know that our great Democratic leader John J. Raskob is a republican in Democratic clothes and perhaps our friend Farley has voted otherwise than a Democratic ticket, it seems just now like the Democratic party has a brass ring in its nose and being lead around by the liquor element.

The Twenty-Second of February

PALE is the February sky,
And brief the midday's sunny hours;
The windwept forest seems to sigh
For the sweet time of leaves and flowers.

Yet has no month a prouder day,
Not even when the summer breezes
O'er meadows in their fresh array,
Or autumn tints the glowing woods.

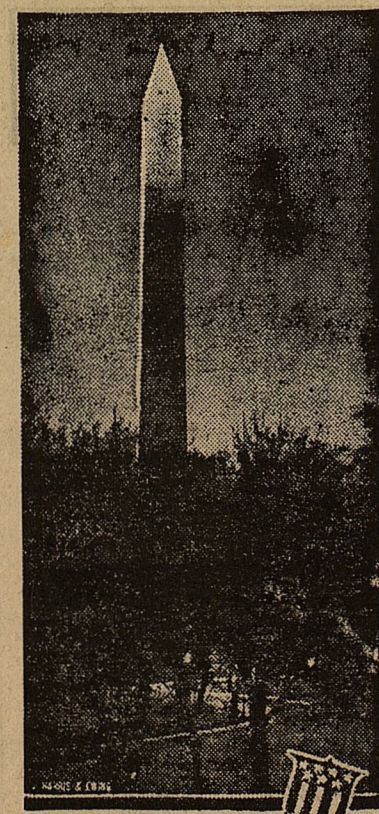

For this chill season now again
Brings, in its annual round, the morn
When, greatest of the sons of men,
Our glorious Washington was born.

Lo, where beneath an icy shield,
Calmly the mighty Hudson flows,
By snowed fall and frozen field,
Breasting, the lordly river goes.

The wildest storm that sweeps through space
And rams the oak with sudden force,
Can raise no ripple on his face,
Or slacken his majestic course.

Thus, 'mid the wreck of thrones shall live
Unmarred, undimmed, our hero's fame,
And years succeeding years shall give
Increase of honors to his name.
—William Cullen Bryant.

WHEN Washington was inaugurated the old Federal hall was the Capitol of the United States. At that time New York and Philadelphia were rivals for the honor of being the Capital of the nation, notes the Washington Star.

The first President was inducted into office on April 30, rather than March 4, not by design, but because of the procrastination of the congress and the difficulties of travel in that day. Congress had set the first Wednesday in March, which fell on the fourth of the month, as the date for "commencing the proceedings under the said Constitution," but when March 4 came neither the senate nor the house could muster a quorum and so could not organize. Only 13 members of the house answered to their names.

Two summons were sent out to members, but it was not until April 1 that the house finally managed to count a quorum. The senate obtained a quorum April 6, more than a month after the appointed day. On the same day a joint session of the two houses was held in the senate chamber. When the electoral votes were opened and counted, it was found Washington was elected President, and John Adams Vice President.

Washington and Adams were formally notified and this, together with their journey to New York, delayed the inauguration until the thirtieth.

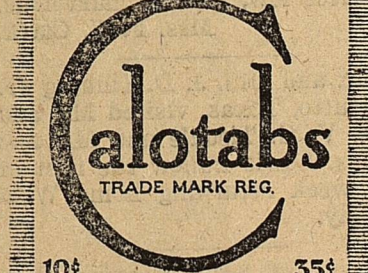

George Washington One of Signers of Constitution

IN MAY, 1787, a constitutional convention met at Philadelphia, then the National Capital. George Washington was president of the convention, which was attended by 55 delegates from the states. A constitution was drawn up after about four months and was adopted by 39 of the delegates on September 17, 1787; 16 declined or failed to sign. Ten delegates appointed by the states did not attend the convention. Some of the best known names among the signers were George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton, Robert Morris, Roger Sherman, Charles C. Pinckney, James Wilson. Delaware was the first state to ratify, followed in order by Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island. It was declared to be in effect in March, 1789.

Take a Pinch of BLACK-DRAUGHT For Distress After Meals

He had suffered distress after meals, but by taking Theford's Black-Draught he was relieved of this trouble, writes Mr. Jess Higgins, of Dawsonville, Ga. "I had sour stomach and gas," Mr. Higgins explains, "and often I would have bilious spells. I read about Theford's Black-Draught and began to take it. It relieved me of this trouble. I keep it all the time now. I consider it a fine medicine. I take a pinch of Black-Draught after meals when I need it. It helps to prevent sick headache and to keep the system in good order." Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

Editorial

"Why is an education more necessary now than ever before?"

By Louis Kerr

An education is far more necessary now than ever before. More work is being carried on by machinery and thousands of people are out of jobs. These are people generally that have no education and depend entirely on their hands to earn their daily bread. These people may suffer from hunger, because they are not able to secure work. A man in the business world does not hire men who cannot spell or write their name but he hires the men who are educated and who are skillful at brain work as well as hand work.

Some people who argue against education say "Why, fifty percent of the tramps today are college graduates." These are not the boys or men who have gone to school to learn, but they are the ones who went to have a good time probably they have been thrown out of college. Any boy who goes to school with the intentions of learning, cannot help but learn if he studies. The facts are that a small percent of the unemployed are even high school graduates.

To-day many occupations are calling for educated young men.

If a boy sets his mind on a kind of work that he intends to specialize in, he will naturally take a great interest in it. If a young man gets a good job with good wages or income he may lay away money for future use. When he gets too old to work he will have enough money put away to live on.

Some boys quit school at an early age to start working for maybe a dollar a day. When this boy gets too old to work he has nothing on which to depend.

STATE SUPERVISOR

VISITS SCHOOL

Mr. S. G. Boynton, Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction, made an official visit in the Eldorado Public School on Tuesday February 6th. Although he made a number of suggestions for the improvement of the school work, the general one of his suggestions were favorable for the school. A number of features of the school work were commended. The official report will be sent to the school later and will be published.

This year the plan of supervision by the state department of Education at Austin has been radically changed. Instead of sending an inspector from Austin the supervisor, or deputy state superintendent, is located in the district where he is to work. Each district is composed of a number of counties. This plan should prove helpful to the schools and should eliminate many trips to Austin.

Mr. Boynton spent the entire day in the school and visited practically every class during the day.

ELDORADO DEFEATS MERTZON AT OZONA

Coach W. E. Cooper took eight EHS basketball players to Ozona last week end and had better luck than the preceding week at Big Lake. The Eagles will probably play some practice games away from home this week-end and on the 23rd and 24th plan to go to the District meet at San Angelo.

The boys who made the trip to Ozona were Junior Isaacs, W. B. Gibson, Aris Carr, John E. Rodgers, Sam Cloud, Billy Kerr, Edward Butler and Joe T. Hext. W. B. Gibson was high point man in the Mertzon game.

BEDROOM REFINISHING

Mrs. F. M. Bradley, bedroom demonstrator of the Eldorado Home Demonstration Club is going to unify the appearance of her bedroom by enameling the dresser, mirror, bedstead and wardrobe all one color which will be an ivory.

The old paint and enamel is to be taken off with a lye paste. A thick flour or starch paste should be made and lye dissolved in water added until a light yellow color is obtained. Apply to furniture with an old paint brush and leave on until paint and enamel may be scraped off.

Rinse with water and then a neutralizer made with 1 gallon water and 1/2 cup vinegar. The wooden pieces should be sanded and then enameled but the iron bedstead is ready for enameling.

COTTON REDUCTION EXPECTED TO REACH 5,000,000 ACRES.

COLLEGE STATION — With an extension of time for completing the campaign allowed, and with the eligibility limit of an average five-year production of 100 pounds of lint per acre lowered to 75 pounds the cotton acreage reduction sign-up in Texas should finally reach and perhaps exceed 5 million acres, according to H. H. Williamson, vice director and state agent of the Texas A and M College Extension Service.

At the end of the regular campaign period the sign-up had speeded up to one quarter million acres per day. Increased supplies of contract forms were demanded from every part of Texas.

The lowering of the yield eligibility limit opened up the cotton program to about 75,000 Texas farmers excluded on the former basis, and will probably mean an increase of at least one-half million acres reduction offered in contracts, Mr. Williamson estimated.

The average five-year Texas acreage 1928-32 was 16,050,000 acres of which the Government has asked 40% or about 6,400,000 be completely removed from cotton production in 1934. If Texas succeeds in reducing 5 1/2 million acres or more, and other Southern states do correspondingly well, it is hoped the 1934-35 cotton plan will be declared effective by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The present world carry-over is about 11,600,000 bales or about three times its normal size. As long as this huge surplus remains...

ably be depressed. If the present campaign succeeds and an 8-or-10 million bale crop result, the carry-over will likely be cut in two for next year and the price remain as high as at present or go even higher.

Contract signers, Mr. Williamson points out, win either way. The contract is a practical guarantee of a fair price for about 40% of their average five year production which goes into domestic consumption, no matter what happens to the general price of cotton. In addition to this campaign will lift the price of the remainder of the cotton not domestically consumed but sold on the foreign market.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

The end of 1933 and the beginning of 1934 witnessed an improvement in general business. The decline in production, which followed the July peak and wiped out the bulk of spring and summer gains, was reversed. Contra-seasonal improvement occurred in a number of lines as it did the first half of last year. There seems to be a more hopeful outlook on the part of leaders of a number of basic industries. The hysterical excitement which followed the creation of the NRA and other phases of the recovery program is being replaced by a more stable and realistic viewpoint. Of importance to business generally is the allaying of the fear that the government would embark on inflation by fiat money—it is believed that the President's move to stabilize silver, and the bill to devalue the dollar, make the issuance of printing-press money highly improbable.

It is doubtful if the current Congress will be so important to business as most sessions are, inasmuch as it is largely a rubber-stamp body, which follows the wishes of the President from A to Z. Mr. Roosevelt's plans, in general, are well known, and to that extent there is less uncertainty over legislative activity than there would otherwise be.

A review of the business situation follows:

COMMODITY PRICES —The low for commodity prices was reached on March 3, when they stood at 55 per cent of the 1926 level. High of 72.2 came in October. There has been little late change, and a degree of stabilization seems to have been reached. Level on January 12, was 72.

DOMESTIC TRADE — Contrary to many forecasts, December retail business was good. The inevitable slackening followed Christmas but, again, it was not so great as some expected. Sales have been more satisfactory in the major farm areas than in urban industrial centers.

EMPLOYMENT — An unlooked-for drop occurred in this field at the end of the year, as contrasted with successive gains up to the middle of October. Late reports show a 2 per cent more than seasonal drop in employment, with a reduction of 6 per cent in payrolls. The industrial employment decline has been somewhat offset by rising employment of federal public works projects.

FINANCE — The stock market has been stronger with some substantial rises but it is still a speculator's market, made uncertain by spasmodic profit-taking. Outside of federal issues, few new bonds have appeared. Present money policies presage an increase in the price of medium-grade bonds, a slight shrinkage in high-grade bonds.

FOREIGN TRADE — Allowing for seasonal influences, exports were about average at the end of the year, imports were below normal. Our favorable balance of trade is increasing. Here is another field in which dollar devaluation will be an all-important influence.

CONSTRUCTION — This, the most lagging of all great industries during 1933, seems to have improved. At the end of the year contra-seasonal improvement took command. In December there was a larger volume of building than in any month since October, 1931.

TRANSPORTATION — End of the year decline in freight traffic was less than seasonal experience forecast. In January all classes of freight showed increases. Revenue continues to be above a year ago, and new orders for freight cars have been high.

AUTOMOBILES — New models have met with an excellent response, and the first two weeks of the new year showed a sharp rise in production, with demand running ahead of it. Auto prices generally are higher than last year. Fifteen out of 17 producers show increased operating schedules.

D. P. Holland was up from Christoval for a short while Monday meeting friends and visiting The Success.

CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES

This industry had a comparatively good year in 1933, and recent reports show operations continuing at a relatively high level. Improvement in the automobile and iron and steel industries, major buyers of chemicals, are good auguries for the future.

AGRICULTURE — 1933 crops were valued at $4,077,000,000—an increase of 43 per cent over 1932. The improvement was entirely due to rising prices, as production was 18 per cent under the 1932 level. Mid-January reports show substantial improvement in wheat and cotton receipts.

LUMBER — In the middle of December, orders were at the lowest level of the year. Moderate recovery appeared in mid-January. Prices continue to advance.

STEEL — Steel output gained in December, as opposed to the usual seasonal experience. In the second week of January operations were at 34 per cent of capacity another gain. Prices in most markets have advanced.

TEXTILES — At the end of the year a heavy decline occurred, and this was one of the few nadrops.

THE WORLD IN A LIGHT GLOBE

When you switch on an electric lamp, you're using material that came originally from almost every country in the world. In that little globe that cost you 20 or 30 cents, there's antimony from Mexico, thoria from Brazil, niter and silica from Chile, cobalt and nickel from New Caledonia, bismuth from Australia, tin from the Malay Peninsula, manganese from India, potash from Russia, sodium carbonate from East Africa, arsenic from Greenland—and so it goes down a long similar list of items.

As has been said, the electric lamp is literally the light of the world.

DEATH ON THE RADIATOR

About one out of every ten of the automobiles that use the public streets and highways, should wear as an emblem a large, staring death's head.

It wouldn't be a pretty sight. But it would be an accurate symbol. Ten per cent of motorists are responsible for our gigantic death and injury toll. Not all of them, of course, have an accident every year. But they all take chances. They are irresponsible or incompetent or congenitally careless. They drive cars with defective breaks and steering mechanisms and poor lights. They cut in and out of traffic, missing oncoming cars by an eyelash and feeling a thrill of achievement while doing it. They pass on hills and curves and regard even the most basic and sensible traffic laws as being inimical obstacles which should be avoided whenever possible. They drive at high speeds when road and traffic conditions make it exceedingly dangerous.

And—every year—they leave behind them 30,000 corpses and hundreds of thousands of injured persons whose sole offense was that they happened to be present when the reckless driver was taking one of the chances he didn't get away with.

Yes, there should be the emblem of death on a long line of automobiles which otherwise look no different than any other cars of their kind. This suggestion may make some of the reckless drivers think twice before running a risk next time.

HIGHWAY WORK OUR BEST IMPROVEMENT

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 12 — Texas' new gas tax enforcement law, which has been recovering millions in hitherto-stolen state revenues since its enactment last March, stood on firm ground today, its constitutionality upheld by the Court of Civil Appeals in its first "test case."

Validity of the law was attacked January 1 by the Owl Oil & Refining Company, whose permit had been cancelled by Comptroller George H. Shepperd for alleged failure to comply with provisions of the statute. The refinery countered by obtaining a temporary injunction in Travis county district court, restraining the comptroller and the attorney-general from enforcing permit or bond provisions of the law, as well as its criminal clauses. The state promptly appealed.

The Court of Civil Appeals, in a sweeping opinion written by Chief Justice J. W. McClelland, upheld the law's constitutionality on all of the disputed points, set aside the order of the lower court and dissolved the injunction.

In upholding the permit and bond clauses of the law, Justice McClelland called them enforcement measures to help collect a tax "peculiarly subject to evasion and fraudulent defeat in its collection."

Criminal penalties for evasion, ranging from a minimum of $100 fine to a maximum of two years imprisonment and $5,000 fine, drew this comment from the court: "It can hardly be seriously urged that there is anything excessive, cruel or unusual in the prescribed penalties."

TYPHOID FEVER

Typhoid fever is an acute communicable disease spread by the careless disposal of human excreta, also by water and milk and other foods which have become contaminated by flies. There seems to be no natural immunity from typhoid fever because of an excellent state of general health. Young Athletics in the pink of conditions have been known to succumb. Typhoid fever seems to be prevalent in all countries. It may appear at any time of the year. Attracting all ages both sexes, and all races. It seems to be more prevalent in rural district than in cities with modern sanitary facilities. Typhoid fever is more prevalent than is generally thought to be. There has not been a single period of one year's time, as far back as records of the Texas State Health Department go that show no typhoid fever in Texas. Practically every year there are from one to five typhoid epidemics involving five to fifty cases. There are always some deaths.

Typhoid fever can be prevented by: 1. Increasing individual health by administering three doses of typhoid serum at intervals of seven days. Immunity is understood to begin as soon as the reaction is complete. 2. Disposing of human excreta properly and protecting our food and drink against possible contamination with typhoid bacilli.
