Development in This Section

Going Down After the 3780-foot Sand Tulsa Independent Operator to Make Tests

Tulsa Oil Man to Drill Independent oil operator of Tulsa, Okla., is here this week seeking tracts of land for the purpose of making deep tests for oil territory.

Like most operators he is not looking for a solid body of 10,000 acres but rather a company will consider tracts of 5,000 acres.

He has already secured one lease in Tulsa county and expects to sign one or two tests in this section.

predicts a big development in this immediate section.

Gulf's McDowell Well No. 3 The task of sinking the Gulf's McDowell No. 3 well to the oil sand at 3780 foot mark is now in progress.

After pulling the tubing from the foot mark where an oil bearing formation was encountered it decided to go after the deep oil.

The 3000 foot formation produced in the neighborhood of twenty-five barrels of oil per day on a test conducted for about ten days.

These some unexpected obstacles encountered steady progress will be made in drilling this well to the where "big pay" is expected; the 3780-foot level.

Reagan County Oil News A well of O'Reilly, Slack, et al "Great White Hope" of Big Spring at this time and the thing brought in a real producer in the town of Big Lake.

It is the real center of the oil industry for the really big oil company at the entire country.

Side from the O'Reilly well there has been very little to excite the oil men in the Big Lake oil field.

week, although development continues unabated and it will be very long now until still gushers will be brought in and oil will spout and more people come to see the greatest oil in West Texas, to say the least.

Big Lake Oil Company yesterday began drilling in its inside No. 14, in the center of the west quarter of section 1, block 2 east of Nos. 9 and 10. At reports the bit was around 2890 and the pay is expected in the forty or fifty feet.

depths of other Big Lake Oil wells were yesterday reported to be as follows:

No. 16, 2655; No. 18, 2390; No. 20, 495; No. 21, 509; No. 23, 560; No. 23, 470; No. 24, and No. 25, 115.

Oil company is underreaming 1-4 inch casing from around 2165 to 2165, the bottom of the well to shut off water which was shortly after the pipe recently landed at 3052. The hole is of water.

Condens in section 34, block 2, county, is reported drilled 1500.

World Oil Corporation is landing 1-4 inch pipe to around 2355. Hoffman is making hole at Sterling County Oil News A Crawford, of the firm of Ford & Hoover, informs us that the well will be resumed at the well as soon as special tools have been ordered, arrive.

Whitmore reports that he has a water well for the Reynolds on Lacy a few days ago.

Whitmore says he secured an abundance of good water. E. A. Ford, one of the drilling contractors in the Reynolds well, reported no time will be lost in getting machinery on the ground and in learn that a location for a well was made a few days ago in the Divide, on Section 136, H. & T. C. Ry. Co., by a concern. This location is in W. C. Dennis section, two miles and seven miles north of Durham No. 2 made a fine showing on the pump last Saturday when the valves were cleaned of trash and the pump started up. R. P. Brown, who has been a close observer of this well, was present during the pumping, and says the well seems to have greatly increased its output and showed a decided improvement. A story was circulated last week that this well had ceased production. This probably had foundation on the fact that the valves of the pump had become clogged with trash and ceased to work.

8 1-4-inch casing was set in Durham No. 1 last Monday and drilling was resumed Tuesday. The drill is now going day and night near 1800 feet, in dark shale.

The drill is now past 1700 feet in the Mima well.

Drilling at Foster No. 1, of Cogdell & Ford, was shut down Wednesday at 1782 feet to await the arrival of casing to shut off water encountered around 1700 feet.

The Meriwethers report steady going at the Douthit well. They were delayed a day or two this week on account of the failure of fuel oil to arrive on time, but the shipment came in Wednesday and they are now drilling. J. S. Meriwether, head of the concern which is drilling the Douthit well, is expected to arrive here today with a party of prospectors from Houston.

A new derrick is being erected in the HS pasture, northeast of Hyman and about 25 miles north of here. We are told that the Sloan Company will drill this well.

We have it on good authority that a location for a new test well has been made about four miles northeast of the Hull well, and southeast of the W. E. Brownfield ranch—Sterling City News-Record.

MRS. J. C. DAVIDSON DEAD

Mrs. J. C. Davidson, aged seventy-two years and eleven months, a former citizen of Howard county, was claimed death at the family home twelve miles northwest of Stanton about 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning, March 8th. Death was due to pneumonia following an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. Davidson had made her home in Howard county for many years, and had resided in her new home in Martin county but two months. She was a good, Christian woman, loved and esteemed by all who knew her and her death is mourned by many friends.

The remains were brought to the Salem community twelve miles northeast of Big Spring for interment. Services were conducted at Salem church at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Rev. Richbours.

She is survived by her husband and three children Mrs. Ben Miller of the R-Bar community, R. B. Davidson of Martin county, Otis Davidson of this county, and other relatives, and to those who sorrow for one much beloved is extended the deep sympathy of many friends.

T. & P. TRACK IMPROVEMENT

The work of laying the new ninety pound steel rails and ballasting the main line of the Texas and Pacific railway thru the city of Big Spring is being carried out this week, and the improvement is certainly appreciated. The track is being raised five or six inches for the first raise of rock. The ballasting has been completed to the east limit of the yards and the railroad men claim that the T. & P. has a real railroad track from here to Baird.

The rock from Tiffin is to be used in continuing the work of ballasting west of Big Spring for two miles. Past that point material for ballast will be secured at Balmorhea or Allamore.

Appropriation has been made to extend the new steel and ballast for a distance of one hundred miles west of Big Spring during the present year.

NEW AUTO PASSENGER LINE

The Borderland Transit Company of El Paso operating a fleet of motor buses between El Paso and points in California has established a line between El Paso and Fort Worth.

The first car was here Wednesday.

According to the present schedule this company will make a trip each way, once each week. If business justifies they will increase the schedule.

First Monthly Meeting C. of C.

Friday, March 20th is the Date of the First Regular Monthly Meeting—Plan to Attend.

The citizens of Big Spring and Howard county are hereby reminded that the first of the regular monthly meetings of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Friday night, March 20th; and everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend. This means you!

This will be a big open meeting at which the plans of the Chamber of Commerce will be outlined, committees make reports if they have accomplished anything worth while, and everybody present given an opportunity to express their opinion of what should be done to promote the best interests of our town and county.

M. H. Morrison, president of the Chamber of Commerce, firmly believes that these monthly meetings are going to result in much more being accomplished during the coming year, and such is certain to result if our citizenship will take enough interest to attend these regular monthly meetings.

You have an entire week's notice so make your plans to attend and remind the other fellow to be present.

Bring some helpful suggestion to promote the work, and interest some one else in doing this. If we can all work together as a unit there is no estimating what we can accomplish, and it's worth an effort to secure this needed team work.

If it is going to be impossible for you to attend and you have some worthwhile suggestions to offer, hand them to the secretary.

It's a mighty good time to get together and work together while prospects are not so glittering, and while we all have more time we can afford to devote to the interests of the entire community.

Communities that give up the ghost when conditions look a little unfavorable are not sought by folks seeking a new location, so we want to get lined up and continue to seek and fight for every worthwhile enterprise that will keep our town and county moving forward.

BENNETT-LEEPER

At the Episcopal church in Fort Worth, Texas, at 11:45 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 10th was solemnized the marriage of Dr. M. H. Bennett of Big Spring and Miss Maud Leeper of Fort Worth. Relatives and a few intimate friends being present to witness the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Leeper of Fort Worth and is a young lady of charming personality. She was born and reared in Big Spring and no one is held in higher esteem. It is a source of pleasure to know she is again to make her home in our city. Dr. Bennett is one of our city's successful and esteemed young men.

We join a host of friends in wishing for this popular couple an ideal wedded life.

DOUBLE WEDDING SUNDAY

At the home of Rev. J. H. McLeod, in this city at 12:30 p. m. Sunday, March 8th, a double wedding ceremony was solemnized in which Floyd Hull and Miss Eunice Coats; and Ernest Rainey and Miss Delza Coats were pronounced man and wife.

These fine young people reside in the Salem community, twelve miles northeast of Big Spring and are held in high esteem by all who know them. They are sons and daughters of prominent families of the Salem community, active in church and community affairs.

We join a host of friends throughout the county in wishing for them much success and happiness.

AT WORK ON $50,000 CHURCH BUILDING

Work of pouring concrete for basement of the new Methodist church building has been going forward at a steady rate the past week.

Excavation for the sub-basement which is to be 70x112 feet was completed last week. The brick work will be started just as soon as the foundations are pronounced satisfactory.

This church is to be two stories and basement and will be one of the largest and most modern church buildings in West Texas.

DO YOU KNOW THESE BOYS?

Hartford, Kan., March 8, 1925. Postmaster, Big Spring, Texas.

Would you please be so kind as to have these two cuttings printed in your home paper if you know nothing of these boys parents?

This seems so terrible to me that I feel as though maybe I could help to locate these boys parents, although these boys bodies have been buried at LaCygne, Kans. as they could get no answer from anyone they kept the bodies a week, then buried them.

Hoping that some of these boys relatives or friends may be found. Signed, Mrs. Claud Drensher, Rt. 3, Hartford, Kans.

BOYS' PARENTS NOT FOUND.

Every effort of officers and others to establish the identity of the two boys killed by a train a week ago Saturday night, has failed. It is very doubtful if their parentage ever will be learned. One of the boys was about 13 years old and his name is supposed to be Lester Perkins. He was dressed warmly. He wore two sweaters and a red and black plaid mackinaw coat. A complete description of his clothing follows:

One red sweater with blue and orange bands about one inch wide each, then green and dark blue band about 3 inches wide, then orange and blue bands, making five bands around body of sweater; same bands on sleeve; blue and green collar. One maroon sweater with small blue and white bands around neck and some around bottom. Shirt, very small tan checks, and blue shirt. One pair brown overalls. One pair of blue trousers with small pin stripe. One red and black mackinaw.

The other boy, supposed to have been Dale Fry, aged about 17 years, was dressed as follows:

Red sweater with blue collar, red cuffs and stripe down front. Gray, tan and green striped wool shirt. Dark blue trousers with small stripe. Brown sweater. White shirt.

LaCygne, Kas., March 2.—All efforts have proved futile to identify the body of two boys who were run over and killed by a Frisco train here February 21.

The bodies are at the undertaking establishment of C. E. Heiser here. They have been viewed by many persons but no identification has been established.

One of the boys was about thirteen years. In the pocket of the younger boy police found an express receipt showing a Lester Perkins had sent a traveling bag to a person by the same name in Big Spring, Texas. In a pocket of the other boy, about 17 years old, a card with the name Dale Fry, Big Spring, Texas, was found.

Telegrams to Big Spring were unanswered. The boys were killed when they were walking along the Frisco right-of-way three miles south of here.

RABBIT DRIVE NEAR J. M. COLEMAN FARM

One of the best rabbit drives held in the county in quite a while was enjoyed near the J. M. Coleman farm south of town Tuesday.

More than one thousand rabbits were slaughtered by the sixty-nine hunters. The women of that community served one of the finest dinners ever enjoyed at the noon hour. Enough for twice as many as were present had been prepared.

Trucks were provided to transport the hunters to and from the various sections in which the drives were held and this feature was indeed appreciated.

NEW BUILDINGS ON E. THIRD

The finishing up work on the two new brick business buildings on East Third street is now underway and it should not be long until these splendid buildings will be ready for occupancy.

The larger building, 50x100 feet, owned by W. D. McDonald and John Hodges will be used as a garage and storage building, while the Jim Allen building adjoining, which is 25x50 feet, will be used for a grocery business.

RABBIT DRIVE MARCH 17TH

Tuesday, March 17, there will be a rabbit drive beginning on the south side of the railroad track at Millhollon's and going east. Dinner will be served at the old Cockerham place. Plenty of rabbits will be furnished, and also plenty of dinner. Everybody is invited to come and bring your gun.

Bond Issue to be Voted on April 7

A Bond Issue for $30,000 for Improvement to Water System to be Voted on Next Month

Elsewhere in this issue appears the notice of an election to be held on Tuesday, April 7th for the purpose of voting on the question whether or not the said City of Big Spring shall issue bonds in the amount of $30,000 serially, in denominations of $1,000, with interest at the rate of 5 per cent, payable semi-annually, bonds maturing from one to thirty years; and for a levy of a tax of 15¢ per hundred valuation therefor. The proceeds of such bonds are to be applied for the City Water Works extensions and improvements, and for the purpose of liquidation of indebtedness thereon already expended for capital investment in the water works and for the improvement of the fire fighting equipment, in installing additional fire plugs, etc.

There is no getting around the fact that our city needed the additional water supply that is being sought and it is also conceded that our folks are going to be compelled to bear the cost of equipping the new plant, providing pipe line to reservoir. The spreading out of our town also makes it necessary to improve the fire fighting facilities.

The water works improvements are now far advanced and we feel sure our folks will gladly vote for the bond issue when they are shown that the threatened water shortage for our city has been definitely overcome until we take on a greatly increased population.

NOW GETTING WATER FROM NEW SOURCES

With five of the recently completed wells of the auxiliary water system pumping water into the city reservoir, and six wells of the old system pumping, it will not be long until there will be a big supply of water on hand. Three more of the new wells in the auxiliary system will be "hooked up" just as soon as the work can be done.

The five wells are already furnishing more water than the seven wells of the original system supplied; so we will have more than double the usual supply of water if all the wells were to be kept on the pump. However it is thought that as soon as an ample supply is assured, some of the wells in the old system will be given a rest.

The reservoir was cleaned out Monday so our citizens can have practically pure, clean water, and plenty of it from now on.

CHILI SUPPER A SUCCESS

The Chili Dinner and Supper given in the West Texas National bank building last Saturday by members of the Home and School club was an enjoyed affair by everyone who attended.

A sure-enough feed had been prepared and if you missed getting dinner or supper you were the loser.

Something in the neighborhood of $50 was secured for the trip of the Domestic Science representatives to Austin, and the Gym.

RETURNS FROM FUNERAL OF RELATIVE AT MARSHALL

J. O. Tamsitt and Mrs. Will Nabors returned last Sunday night from Marshall, Texas, where they had been called by the illness and death of their uncle, George Tamsitt Sr. He died Monday, March 2nd and funeral services were conducted Thursday, March 5th.

Mrs. Tamsitt who was eighty-three years of age was a pioneer citizen of Marshall and was held in high esteem by the entire citizenship.

STYLE SHOW PRESENTED AT LYRIC THEATRE

The Spring Styles of 1925 were shown at the Lyric theatre the evening of March 11th in "The Manless Wedding" acted in pantomime.

Frocks and hats were the romance of this wedding and throughout the three scenes presented held the rapt attention of the audience.

Two pages—almost mechanical in their movements and shy glances—announced the scenes by card.

First, "Surprise Party" to the bride. On this occasion afternoon frocks and hats were worn and each guest showed individuality in the selection of her attire. The bride gave an additional thrill to her guests by showing her trousseau—hats, dresses, accessories and filmy finery so dear to the heart of woman.

Second, "The Wedding Reception." This was a royal scene of elaborate gowns and hats. The ease of manner of the personnel depicted perfectly "How Women Respond to the Influence of Clothes."

Third, "The Departure," presented all in the perfectness of the "ensemble," with hats, gloves and bags to harmonize.

The attractive living room in which the first two scenes were acted was furnished through the courtesy of the Rix Furniture Company.

The Girls Glee Club of the high school in bewitching blue bonnet costumes sang between acts, while the B. S. H. S. orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. Robb in his usual generous manner gave ten cents of each admission to the Home Economics department of the high school for a special fund.

Much praise is due Miss Pazdral and Miss Batler for their untiring efforts in staging the Style Show.

MEADOR IS GIVEN TEN YEAR SENTENCE

San Angelo, March 11.—Andy Meador of Lamesa was found guilty of murder and sentenced to ten years confinement in the penitentiary by a jury in Fifty first judicial district court here this morning. Meador was charged with the killing of Asa Rawls, employe on the Meador Ranch in Andrews county, May 17, 1922. He pleaded self defense.

The defense announced that a motion for a new trial will be filed based upon question of the court's jurisdiction and the exclusion of evidence, principally.

RABBIT HUNT AT KNOTT

The rabbit hunt at Knott on last Wednesday was a great success. About 1500 rabbits were slain which will be of great benefit to all in that section of the country.

Lots of nice dinner consisting of barbecue, pickles, bread, pies, cakes and salad, also hot coffee and ice water, was served to a large crowd.

J. D. Castle was voted a first class barbecue and maker of a fine stew entitled "Gentleman from Odessa."

ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD BUYS COTTON BELT LINE

Control of the St. Louis-Southwestern Ry. has been acquired, by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Ry. Company.

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Blakemore, a Civil War veteran and former Virginian, who is now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Texas. "It is the best laxative I know of for old people. A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then—a man will get bilious anywhere, you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again." Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation. Sold everywhere.

LONG DRY SPELL RECOUNTED.

Memories—very dry memories—are stirred in C. W. Woodman, head of the U. S. Farm Labor Bureau here, by the drouth lamentations of Tarrant county farmers.

"First year I was in Texas—that was 1894—we had a drouth out at Abilene that lasted 18 months," Woodman recalls.

"Farmers planted their corn, but it was so arid the seeds just stayed dormant in the ground—there wasn't enough moisture to start the seeds to sprouting or rot them either."

"When a little rain finally came, the corn crop came up in the fall! It was an astonishing sight—all that greenery right at the door of winter. Of course, nothing was made off the crop. The first blizzard saw to that."

"I remember I was appointed to the drouth board. It was an emergency group organized to administer relief and see that sufficient water was shipped to town. Our own river supply was dry. Water was pretty high then. A lot higher than beer."

The suffering was vast, Woodman remembers. Bank cashiers played checkers. Business crashed. Woodman was promoting a weekly newspaper.

"I had an investment valued at $2,000," he says. "I saw the black cloud ahead of me. I wanted to get out, but there wasn't anybody to sell my plant to. Finally I caught a train to Chicago and left the plant there."—Fort Worth Press.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

There never was a time when age didn't dream of its youth.

There never was a generation in which grandfathers didn't sit children on their knees and say, "Now, when I was a youngster..."

Generally, it is but the loss of illusionment, the fading of hope, the shock of reality, that makes old people wince.

Once in a while, however, there comes a condition that can not be explained so glibly.

By and large, the world grows better, but not always, or uninterruptedly.

The world is subject to moods and movements, some of which drive it backward.

Rome was not such a comfortable, orderly place in which to live 500 years afterward as it was in the time of Augustus.

Athens has never been so glorious as in the age of Pericles.

Nine times out of 10, age is wrong in supposing that the days of its youth were best. The tenth time it is right.

As children, we look thru a rose-tinted mist, and the visions we behold are indelibly stamped on our plastic, receptive minds.

As children, we are carefree and protected from the rough knocks of life.

As children, we are the objects of kindness and indulgence.

As children, we are in no position to measure the drudgery and responsibility of life.

That is why the memories of childhood are so generally pleasant and cause age to imagine that it has come to dwell in a harder, harsher world.

But wisdom, as well as disappointment, is born of experience, and sometimes age speaks with the voice of prophecy.

The exuberance of youth is quite as untrustworthy as is the drivel of declining years.

Twice in the course of natural life we are helpless—once when we are very young, once when we are very old.

In our prime we bear the burden. In our prime we are probably best qualified to judge and compare conditions.

When men in their prime begin to doubt whether things are growing better, the maxims of age should be heeded, and the gush of youth set aside as folly. —M. E. Tracy in The Fort Worth Press.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?

I believe that education is the fundamental method of social progress and reform. . . . I believe that education is a regulation of the process of coming to share in the social consciousness. . . . I believe that the school is primarily a social institution. Education being a social process, the school is simply the form of community life in which all those agencies are concentrated that will be most effective in bringing the child to share in the inherited resources of the race, and to use his own powers for social ends. I believe that education, therefore, is a process of living and not a preparation for future living. —John Dewey.

SORGHUM GRAINS BEST

Substation No. 7, the Texas Experiment Station's branch at Spur,

has just completed a five-year test

that has an important bearing on the cattle and sheep industry of West

Texas.

Results of the test prove conclusively that the sorghum grains of West Texas are better than corn for fattening cattle.

During the five-year tests on cattle and sheep, sorghum grains proved

best during four years, while corn proved best on only one year. The difference is rather startling, in view of the fact that a few years ago the grain sorghums were generally believed to be inferior to almost any feeds.

This belief is no longer based on fact. It has been exploded. There is yet a long road ahead to convince

West Texans that their own grains

are superior to corn, and that cattle

can be fed just as well and a lot cheaper right here at home than they can up North. It will take long years of effort to convince West

Texas people that there is profit in "putting legs on their crops" by feeding feterita, milo, kafir and similar grains to their cattle, hogs and sheep.

It is impossible to overemphasize

the importance of the Spur experiments. Here is something that means more to West Texas in the long run, than many miles of new railways and many acres of belching factory chimneys. If West Texas

ever becomes thoroughly convinced that its own grain sorghums are just as good as the corn of Illinois and

Iowa and Nebraska when it comes to fattening cattle, hogs and sheep

for the market, West Texas will get

WORK TRIUMPHS FOR W. TEXAS

Plant life itself impregnates practically all the arable soil of West

Texas so that the minimum of moisture with the abundance of sunshine

for which the West is noted causes

luxuriant, profitable crops to fructify.

It is because of this fertility of soil that the West is unsurpassed for its agriculture despite the handicap

which it may possess over land farther east. The lands of the desert are usually the most fertile while those of the rainy regions are mediocre. The mystery is solved by the fact that terrain of the humid country is badly eroded and plant life washed away, while the soil of the West seldom or never receives washing rains.

That plant life sustains West Tex-

as. It makes the farmer, unconscious of the mystery, laugh at brassy skies until late in the year and shout with glee when his barns

in the autumn cannot contain the increase. It is a truism in West Texas that a little moisture makes an "awful crop." Just now the West in general is dry—unusually dry. To the newcomer on soil land the serene weather minus "mackerel" in the sky comes an oppressive fear that all will not be well this year. But to the pioneer and "old settler" the sky carries no terror and the power-like soil excites no fear. They've seen it before. They know it means rain later.

Give the average West Texas farm

a quaff of sky nectar anywhere as late as June 15 and he'll find his barns in the Fall entirely too small to accommodate his increase. As a matter of fact the first three months of the year are not disposed to make the clouds weep—it is the joyous

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

Why Not Realize Grady's Vision?

The Tramp Banner recently reproduced in a "box" on its front page a quotation from a speech by Henry W. Grady that ought to be framed and hung in every farm home in the South. Here it is. Clip it and put it where it can be seen often:

"Whenever the farmer in the South shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and, disturbed by no creditor and enslaved by no debt, shall sit amidst his teeming gardens and orchards and vineyards and dairies and barnyards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom, and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus, and selling it in his own time, and in his chosen market—and not at his master's bidding—getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mortgage that discharges his debt, but doesn't restore his freedom—then shall be the breaking of the fullness of our day."

Learning to Make Their Clothes

The State Department of Education is sponsoring a movement that should meet the approval of every parent in the State. This is a clothing contest to be held at Austin April 23-25, which will be open to all the schools in Texas that have home economics departments. More than 100 schools will be represented in the contest by several girls from each school who have won the trip through local school contests. These girls, some 500 in number, will have with them the clothing made in their schools that will be entered for prizes aggregating $100.00 offered by the Texas Mother's Congress. The girls will give exhibitions of the clothing made by them and as worn by them. This will be a fashion show worth while. How I wish every Texas girl could see it.

Travel Is A Great Educator

The making of their clothes and the prizes received in the contests will not be the only advantage the girls will receive from their efforts. The trip to Austin at their age will be a most wonderful lesson for every one of them. They will get to see the capitol of Texas, that marvelously beautiful building under its brilliantly lighted dome. They will see many other institutions that belong to them as much as to any one else in Texas. They will be filled with pride of citizenship in so great a state so rich in inspiring history. They will see other sections of the State than the familiar surroundings of their own homes. They will have experiences that will be treasured through life. Surely Texas school children have many advantages now that their parents never dreamed of in their school days. Getting an education is being made attractive to those who work hard enough to get the best that is offered even in the remote country schools.

Making Billions for Texas

A University of Texas professor of physical chemistry, Dr. E. P. Schoch, has announced the completion of experiments that, if his conclusions are correct, will mean the conservation of more than $50,000,000,000 of Texas wealth. There are "in sight" some 22,000,000,000 tons of Texas lignite and probably many more billions that may be revealed by further exploration. This lignite, when exposed to the air, soon slacks to fine powder, is burned with much difficulty, and is unpleasant to handle. Hence, the sale of it is restricted, as it cannot be stored. The governments of this country and Canada have made many costly experiments in efforts to dehydrate and briquette lignite, but all the processes have been too expensive. After some eight years of experimenting, Dr. Schoch says he has found a way to process lignite to make it commercially available at reasonable cost.

According to his figures lignite can be mined, processed and loaded at the mines at a total cost of $2.51 a ton, the processed fuel being as good for fuel as, and having heating units equal to, soft coal. On account of difference in freight rates this should be a great saving to all Texas fuel users.

The Figures are Astounding

It is hard to think in figures just what Dr. Schoch's discovery may mean. First, there is the 22,000,000,000 or more tons of lignite of which but little use could have been made in its natural state. It is now worth at least that many dollars. Miners will be employed to get it out. Then, the processing will require $1.50 for each ton. The railroads will get a haul. So will teamsters or draymen. Then, there is the saving to the buyers of coal. Can you estimate it?

But that is not all. Think of the additional manufacturing that will result—the location of cotton mills near lignite mines, the building of all kinds of manufacturing plants. All this, too, is the work of a small salaried university professor, done during the spare hours he might have spent playing golf or fishing.

TRIAL AT SAN ANGELO

The case of Andy Meadows is again up for trial at San Angelo. He is charged with the killing of Asa Rawls, an employee on the Meadows ranch in Andrews county in 1922. Meadows has been tried and convicted of the charge several times but each time got either a new trial or reversal. The case is one which has attracted the attention of the people all over West Texas, owing to the heinousness of the crime committed.

Rev. Geo. J. Ruth, B. Reagan and O. Dubberly made a business trip to San Angelo Monday.

O. H. Morris of Lamesa was a business visitor here the forepart of this week.

Every society in the district is urged to send delegates so that the better way. The Barstow people are working and praying for a big convention in every way. We need

BUY MORE THEATRES

San Angelo, March 5.—H. B.
Robb and Ed Rowley, operating under the name of Robb and Rowley closed a deal with Frank Roberts and John D. Jones by which they became the owners of the Lyric Theatre and take over the leases of the Palace and Crystal. This adds three more shows to their string, which now includes 36 picture theatres.
Consideration was said to have been in the neighborhood of $50,000 to Jones for the operation of all the theatres.

The deal will be formally closed
in Dallas on March 10. Mr. Rowley will come to San Angelo immediately and go over the situation here in detail. He says he will have an announcement that will be very interesting to San Angelo people. Both said they were glad to get back to
"the old home town."

Mr. Robb and Mr. Rowley went into the picture show business in San Angelo ten years ago when in conjunction with Mr. Robb's father they operated a roof garden on the Neshey building now occupied by the J. E. Young Co. In this time they have developed into the largest picture show operators in Texas, owning more individual theatres than any other independent concern in the state.—Sweetwater Reporter.

SISTER OF MRS. AUSTIN WINS HONORS

Mrs. Bob Austin has cause to be proud of the record her baby sister is making in the University of Michigan.

Here's an item from a publication
in her home town, Iron Mountain, Michigan, telling of the fine record
she is making:

It is with great pleasure that we thing on that unsuspecting chap who has been received from Vichan Lajeunesse, concerning the grades she received during the past semester at the University of Michigan. Miss Lajeunesse carried full work and all her subjects were academic. She received in every subject the highest mark that could be given to any student which is an "A." This is an exceptional occurrence. Freshmen do not generally receive any grade
as high as an "A."

Miss Lajeunesse was the recipient of the Class of 1925 of the Iron Mountain High School and was chosen by the local branch of the American Association of University Women to receive the scholarship granted yearly to some worthy graduate of the local high school.
The High School from whence she received her preparation, the University Club and the community at large are exceedingly proud of Miss Lajeunesse's remarkable record.

HOW TO GROW

Say, fellows, get out of your head the idea that towns just grow, because you are wrong. Towns are built, and no town ever rose above the aspirations and ambitions of its business men. — Snyder Times-Signal.

That is a fact to which there is no gainsaying. Progressive business men mean a progressive town and although there may be other interests which cause a town to grow, the business part of it is of great importance. The fact remains, however, that in order to grow a town must have other interests besides that of business, although the business part commands much importance. What Clip and Comment is trying to say is that the business part of a town is of high importance; without it a town couldn't exist, but despite that fact there are other interests which go to make a city, as is well known, and needs no further elaboration here. — Clip and Comment, in Abilene Reporter.

BETTER EXPRESSION IS "BAD OLD DAYS"

Truth About Conditions of Three Centuries Ago.

England gets ready to celebrate, in 1932, the three hundredth anniversary of the first use of forks by the British. Before then they ate with their fingers.

Three centuries seem a long time ago. It is. But in 1632, when some unknown English progressive brought the first fork over from France, "the good old days" were at their best.

Shakespeare had been dead sixteen years. The immortal bard never used a fork. He never even saw one. It must have been a sight to watch people eat in those "good old days," says the Lewiston Journal.

Sewage systems were not in use in the "good old days." Refuse and dish water were tossed into the gutters. Small wonder, plagues made people die like flies.

No one had running water for kitchens and bath. Carrying water in buckets a long distance or buying it from vendor carts—these are not attractive. People bathed so seldom that they had to invent high-power perfumes in order to get within speaking distance of each other without suspecting that a regiment of skunks was at large.

It was an age of discomforts and inconveniences. No labor-saving devices had been invented for homes. Women worked themselves into their graves prematurely.

Ignorance and medical superstition were frightful.

Morals several centuries ago were so lax that by comparison the jazz tendency of our generation is tame.

Crime was far more prevalent than now. No one could take a short stage-coach trip between towns safely without carrying a brace of pistols. Men were imprisoned for debt.

The "good old days" have been painted in romantic colors by fiction writers. That's why they seem attractive to people today. But if you could turn the clock back a few hundred years and live the life of those times, you'd buy a return ticket promptly.

A fiction writer makes an old-time dungeon romantic, adventurous. Truth is, the dungeon was damp, cold, dark, infested with rats, reeking with filth. Guards were brutal. Justice was slow. Penalties were severe. Food was mainly molded old bread and water.

Romance? Good old days? It's a joke.

Fine from a distance. The good old days are now. And they'll be better yet.

Great Writer Dope Fiend

It is not generally well known that Wilkie Collins took "dope," that being one of the interesting revelations of the late Harry Furness' contributions to the literature of personal recollection. Sir Hall Caine once related how he was discussing a knotty point in authorship with Wilkie Collins, who was much worried.

"My brain is not very clear," he said once or twice, taking a turn across the room. Presently, and as if by a sudden impulse, he opened a cabinet and took out a wine-glass and what seemed to be a bottle of medicine. "I'm going to show you the secrets of my prison house," he said, with a smile. Then he poured from the bottle a full wine-glassful of a liquid resembling port in color. "Do you see that?" he asked. "It's laudanum." Straightway he drank it off. I was all but dumbfounded.

Collins said he had taken the drug for 20 years, much more than once a day, and reminded his amazed listener that De Quincey used to drink laudanum out of a jug.

Bernhardt Memorial

A French garden village is being planned exclusively for writers, painters, sculptors and musicians. It will occupy a beautiful wood on the outskirts of Paris, and may, it is thought, somewhat relieve the housing problem. The village will contain a hundred houses and a number of studios, all of which rent for a low price. The government, which owns the wood, has contributed nearly 4,000,000 francs towards the project, and has stipulated that every resident must have at least three children and an income less than 20,000 francs a year. The place is to be named for that great artist, Sarah Bernhardt.

The "Widow's Mite"

A widow had to dig deep when she gave $1 to the cashier of a fund for a destitute family in Indianapolis. The envelope bore in pencil, "One dollar for building fund for destitute family. No name." Apparently she had dug deep into a little store of money, for in the envelope was a crisp note of 50 cents denomination, of an issue of 1933; a 3-cent piece, whose date was obscure, but seemed to be 1933; two half-dimes, one dated 1938 and the other 1941; a Canadian half-dime of 1938; a two-cent stamp and a modern nickel and a modern quarter.

NO FREEDOM LIKE U. S.

An anti-Bolshevik meeting was held in New York recently to hear Morris Gordin tell "Why I lost my faith in Communistic Russia."

Newspaper reports stated that "One-third of the 600 persons at the meeting were women. The audience applauded every point Gordin made against present conditions in Russia, and there seemed to be unanimous approval of his declaration that Russia was slowly but surely progressing toward a 'republic of the United States of Russia.'"

"The speaker, formerly a student at University of Chicago, was a draft-soldier in the American army during the World War. Until 1921, when he went to Russia, he was one of leaders of the New York Communist Party. He returned here last September. Describing his conclusions regarding his nearly three years of experience in Russia, Gordin said:

"I went there expecting to find a heaven of the people and for the workers; instead I found a hell. The people have no say in their government, and little if any freedom in commercial or social activities. It is all a sickening dead level of political and industrial slavery, where the people are directed by a little group of dictators.

"The people may change this situation at any time, but when I left they seemed everywhere, so far as I noted, to be passively resentful, too hopeless to assert themselves. All around there was going on the economic, industrial and moral ruin of Russia.

"In the meantime the leaders of this terrible situation are holding on to the shreds of Communism in their visionary scheme of getting, through propaganda among other nationals, support for Communist domination.

"These selfish, misguided men, now in control, have trampled Russia politically into a big prison, a red dungeon. Before the unfortunate Russian people, most of whom would like to end their sufferings under this colossal failure, can expect any concrete help from other countries they must show their resentment of this false doctrine by attacking it themselves."

PANTHER DRAW ITEMS

We are having a lot of wind and dust these warm March days.

Nearly all the people of this community are having severe colds; seems to be a light form of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Pittman gave a big turkey dinner last Sunday in honor of his mother, Mrs. M. A. Pittman of Dublin. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pittman and three children, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Phillips and six children, and Miss Ozilla Phillips. They pronounced the dinner a success. Every one enjoyed the music and singing after the repast. Hart Phillips and Thomas Hardin were with them in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Phillips attended church at Elbow Sunday morning.

Mrs. L. Hardin of Stanton is staying with H. Phillips and family while she takes a few weeks treatment from Dr. Longbottom.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Overton and sons accompanied by Victor Phillips went down to the oil well Sunday morning. In the afternoon they spent a few pleasant hours with L. P. Day and family near McDowell ranch then later visited Mr. and Mrs. Turner and children of Lucien Wells.

Most of our younger set attended the entertainment at the home of Rev. Barber Friday night. They all report a lovely time.

Our young people seem to be drawn to Lucien Wells. They were over to church Sunday morning and to singing at Mr. Alderman's at night. We are glad they can go and enjoy themselves.

Mrs. Thomas Rankin had the misfortune to step on a thorn one day last week. She has suffered greatly with her foot, but we are glad to state it is much better.

Geo. Overton is having his house remodeled; some new rooms added. John Reeder is doing the work, assisted by Thomas Rankin.

Luther Pittman took his mother back to Abilene Tuesday. He was accompanied by J. J. Phillips. Miss Ozilla Phillips is staying with Mrs. Pittman during their absence.

ANTI-MASK LAW SIGNED

Austin, Texas, March 9.—The Holbrook anti-masking bill prohibiting wearing of masks in public was signed today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. The law carries an emergency clause and therefore goes into effect immediately.

Wearing of masks in public is prohibited and severe penalties are attached for going into public buildings, churches or private residences while masked.

The law meets a demand not only from the Ferguson administration but also from the Democratic platform, and is considered to be a result of tarring and whipping by masked parties which have occurred in Texas in the last few years.

The penalties are as follows: For going masked into or near any public place or disguised to hide identity $500 fine.

Masked near or in a private home, one to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Masked near or at a church, except church entertainments, two to 10 years.

For assault while masked, not less than five years in the penitentiary.

The section concerning parades is as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any secret society or organization or a part of the members thereof, masked or in disguise, to parade upon or along any public road or any street or alley of any city or in this state, and all members of such society or organization so parading or other members of such society who aid, abet or encourage such parades shall be guilty of an offense and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than $100 nor more than $500 or imprisoned in the county jail not more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment."

A similar bill was introduced in the house by Representative Mankin of Georgetown but the Holbrook bill was substituted for it in the senate. The Mankin measure exempted the Shriners and Mardi Gras festivals from the masking prohibition.

The bill passed the senate with only one dissenting vote. In the house numerous attempts to amend it failed.

MAKING THE "POOR" PAY

Secretary Mellon once more urges the need of tax reform.

One of the most difficult things for the non-investing public to understand is the folly of excessive taxation levied to "make the rich pay."

When investors keep their money in business and meet excessive taxes, they collect these taxes from the people through higher prices. When they withdraw capital from business rather than take risks — as billions have been withdrawn—they are able to escape taxation altogether by purchasing tax-free securities, thus defeating not only the purpose to tax them, but the effort to add to government revenue.

CARD OF THANKS

For every kindly deed and loving thought, for every friendly act, and all the untold daily courtesies of our hosts of friends throughout our entire community, we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks. Nothing but the love and sympathy of our friends expressed in so many, many ways, and an unflinching faith in Him who alone can comfort in the dark hours of human grief, could soften the pain and anguish that is ours. May God bless every one who held in such high honor and esteem our precious loved one.

Sincerely,

HENRY FORD
(Contributed)

Many a day has drifted by Since Henry Ford was a common guy
A man uncolored by financial dye
Who believed in himself and others who try
But with much delay and many a sigh
Mr. Ford at last saw his day draw nigh
When to the capitalist Henry did apply
Those sages turned him away and winked an eye
But Henry neither quit or cried
Just gritted his teeth and calmly replied
That he would take it out of their blooming hide
The laughed at and denied
He determined that before he stopped or before he died
He would make cars enough for the world to ride
And so he climbed upward, with his pride
And now Wall Street is left outside.

They have also ceased to laugh and ceased to chide
For ten million cars is a flowing tide
What will happen next they cannot decide
For Henry is preparing now to glide

THE COMMUNITY MERCHANT

"There is no law or complaint against the merchant charging 25 or 50 or even 100 per cent profit for his goods, receiving spot cash therefor, and taking no risk whatever,"
says a correspondent in the Dallas
News, discussing the recently enacted usury law. The idea is not an uncommon one that merchants habitually charge enormous profits for their wares, but like many other popular ideas, it is not founded upon facts.

It is true that there is a wide margin between the retail selling price of merchandise and the price at which such merchandise is sold by the jobbers; but not all of that margin is profit. The average merchant, whose stocks are turned at the normal rate, is satisfied with a net profit of four or five per cent, and is able to make money at that rate.
But in order to secure a net profit of four or five per cent the merchant must sell his merchandise at an apparent profit of twenty or twenty-five per cent because of the heavy cost of doing business.

The buyer of merchandise not only pays the cost of the goods he receives, but he pays the cost of taxes,
freight, clerk hire, bookkeeping, deliveries, insurance, rent, losses on bad accounts, deterioration of stocks
due to damage or to changing styles,
gifts to charitable and civic enterprises, and all the other expenses of the merchant. Most of these items are classified as "overhead charges," and while they are very real to the merchant himself, it is difficult for the customer to see them; and because he can't see them, the customer is sometimes grossly unfair in charging that his merchant is exacting unreasonable profits for his goods.

There is one very good reason why merchants do not charge the enormous profits of which some complain, other than the reason that most merchants are fundamentally honest and fair in their dealings with the public; and that reason is that merchants are constantly in active competition with each other not only in the service they render but in the prices they offer. The merchant who habitually exacts unfair profits for his goods is soon without patronage,
while the one who sells his merchandise at fair prices and who gives his patrons a satisfactory service is able to continue his business and to prosper because of the large volume of business he handles. We ought, therefore, to be somewhat more considerate of the merchants who serve the community from year to year.
They accept the same risks as do the bankers and the professional men,
they contribute to the enterprises and institutions which promote the growth of the community, they pay taxes as do all other property owners, and they extend credit accommodations that are vital to the orderly progress of the business life of the community. If there are profiteers among them we need not worry about them; for the laws of the business world will soon apply a suitable penalty to any such. Brownwood Banner-Bulletin.

The work of giving the City Reservoir a thorough cleaning was accomplished the first of the week.
As the City expects to have a plentiful supply of water when the eight new wells are "hooked up," this was considered the best opportunity to clean out the reservoir.

brush. Cunningham & Phillips.

SUPERSTITION

Approach any citizen and ask:
"Are you superstitious?" and the reply will be in the negative. Not a few will say No, but I don't like to have a black cat run across the road
in front of me," or "I never start anything on Friday," or perhaps it is "Thirteen is my unlucky number."

Superstitions date so far back that their origin is shrouded in mystery.
Most of them, if not all, had a "fool"
beginning. The great majority originated among the very ignorant and have been handed down from generation to generation. We all laugh at them, but most of us have our own peculiar ideas concerning them. We may be free from superstition insofar as reasoning is concerned, but, like the child who has been drilled into religious duties, or has had fear driven into his heart, some of it will cling to him during the remainder of his days.

Newspapers, claiming to be among the educational factors of the day, further many superstitions.
What newspaper does not call attention to the fact that the ground hog saw his shadow and would retire for another six weeks because the weather was going to be cold? Who ever heard of a newspaper that did not call attention to Friday, the 13th?
Stories of this kind are frequently displayed and oftentimes illustrated, and nothing is ever said that would inform the ignorant reader, or the educated superstitious man or woman, that the story was printed as a joke, or was meant to be humorous.
Thus superstition is encouraged and new generations grow up to believe in good and bad-luck signs, even though their reasoning powers and natural intelligence make the signs appear ridiculous.

One woman says, "You may believe it or not, but every time a black cat crosses the road in front of me, something always happens unless I turn back, or walk around the block." Another says: "You can't catch me starting on a journey on Friday—I have tried it and always have had luck." That proves it, doesn't it? It proves that psychology has something to do with it, not the fates. When one has made up his mind that something is going to happen something may happen because of the mental state of the person thus affected. If we thoroughly believe that we are going to fail in some undertaking, the chances are that we will not be disappointed. If you are superstitious and have done something contrary to that belief and failed to perform the act guaranteed to counteract the baneful influence, your condition of mind is such that you probably will bring about the very thing you feared, thus you have again proved to your own satisfaction that it is bad luck to spill
the salt without throwing a pinch of it over your shoulder. Superstition is a funny thing, isn't it? Some of the things that are done to ward off bad luck are funnier still. Farm & Ranch.

NEW CALOMEL BREAKS A COLD OVERNIGHT

When the purest kind of English
Calomel was combined with pepsin by a smart young chemist, the world was given an ideal mild medicated laxative for breaking colds.
One night is long enough for this new, mild and non-sickening pepsintreated calomel, called "Pepsinated Calomel" to break the most stubborn cold. Before breakfast time it vanishes and leaves you feeling fresh and fine.

"Pepsinated Calomel" does not sicken, gripe, salivate or upset you,
but it does clean you out thoroughly, tone up the appetite, purify the blood, stop dull headaches, relieve stomach and bowel disorders and make you feel like a new person.
Never take the old drastic calomel
—insist on "Pepsinated Calomel," for it is better. Prepared by the Pepsinated Calomel Co., Atlanta,
Ga. Sold by Cunningham & Phillips

There are now approximately 10,000 laws and ordinances in the United States, and about 200,000 are being added yearly. State governments that in 1903 cost $182,000, an average of $2.26 per capita, cost $1,450,000,000 in 1923, 10 per capita. The total state national government cost in 1923 was 15 per cent of the national income, where it was only seven per cent in 1903.

You are hereby commanded to summon Frances Winston, W. E. Chaney, Bettie James and A. L. That plaintiff, claiming fee simple title to lots 1, 2, 3, and 4, in Block 10, in Garden City, Glasscock County, Texas, under averment that he and those whose estate he has, so claiming under deeds duly registered, has and peaceable and adverse possession thereof, using and enjoying the same and paying all taxes thereon for a period of more than five years next before commencement of suit, ought to have decree vesting title in him with right of possession.

That through deed, dated 10th Nov. 1893, G. W. Hysaw conveyed to W. E. Chaney the lots 1, 2 and 4, aforesaid, and through deed dated 17th October, 1893, G. W. Hysaw and W. E. Chaney conveyed to Frank Sanderson said lot No. 3.

That claims asserted or that probably will be asserted thereunder casts cloud on plaintiff's title which he is entitled to have removed, with vestiture of title and possession in his, divesting title out of defendants.

That Frank Sanderson and his wife Euna Sanderson, departed this life many years ago; defendant, Frances Winston, their sole surviving child and heir at law.

aforesaid, recorded in Vol. 1, page 326 and Vol. 7, page 111, respectively, said Glasscock County, or plaintiff will proffer in his behalf record thereof.

Are notified that plaintiff will proffer at the trial deed by C. E. Jordan and wife to Jno. R. Chaney, dated Dec. 22, 1912; that by John R. Chaney and wife to First State Bank, Garden City, dated 19th July, 1919; that by J. L. Chapman, Commissioner of Insurance and Banking of Texas, to P. M. Cox, dated 15th February, 1923, and deed by P. ### JES' 'TWEEN U'N ME (By My Wild Irish Rose)

The Fire Chief says that more fire fighters should attend to meetings than have been. Never mind, Chief, when the bell rings they will all be there.

The fire department has moved the siren from its usual place to the roof of the courthouse. It's in good condition now. Here's hoping they let no more birds build nests in it.

While mentioning fire and fires, my dear, don't you think the rule of prohibiting smoking in a certain theatre balcony should be more rigidly enforced than is now. With the addition of a few more red lights on some of the fire escapes in town. Remember the Hobart, Oklahoma, disaster.

Gertie was saying a good time was had by all at the skating rink a few nights ago. The entries for the fancy and fast racing were good too, but the ending was sorta sad, seems as tho a slight misunderstanding arose while the racers were on the home stretch and one dropped out. Well, according to the judges a fair and impartial decision was rendered after much discussion.

The parties that the sheriff escorted to town from the rink the night of the race should be thoroughly convinced that the law does not stand for any foolishness. However, boys will be boys.

The little miss who has been absent from school for some time account of chicken-pox is around and feeling fine now. If you wish a kick out of life, ask her how she felt during her illness.

A few nights ago time hung heavy on our hands, so having nothing to do we strolled out to the new dance hall at "Bar-None" ranch, about 3 miles from town. If you haven't been there you are sure missing some good times. Now if the management conducts this place in an orderly manner, I can see no reason for a riot call from the law. Sam says as how he is going to get a place on the committee and carry a ruler and see that all couples keep the required (six inches) distance apart when dancing.

I see the grass is beginning to sprout. Also quite a number of "Valentino Moustaches."

A Danish Pharmacist is credited with having isolated a vitamin in cod liver oil so that it can be administered in the future in tablets. Now that is something to think twice about, but Mable says the world will honor the man that reduces castor oil to tablet form.

I say, old top, when Main street was built I don't think any one mentioned the fact that it was to be used as a speed way. And we don't mean maybe.

I'll pass it on to you.

A man in Oklahoma 84 years old was arrested for tickling a young woman under the chin. He may be old but believe me he has young ideas.

Did you get in on that Mystic Shrine's punch board. If you didn't you sure missed a chance to get a good blanket and at the same time contribute towards a good cause.

Did you hear some one in a machine a few days ago with a megaphone? Just what he was selling I couldn't say. But Sam says as how he, having a brass-lined throat, would make good money selling a dabanon or a da-apple.

Did you say you were economical? Well, how about the fellow that went into the butcher shop a few days ago to buy some fish, and before they were weighed, he had them wiped clean of ice and what else happened to be on them; he came to buy fish, not what they were packed in. Now you tell one.

The diamond studded bath towel goes to the fellow that has blue lights on his flivver. Very good, and have a pleasing effect on the eye.

How come, Clarice? Come? Haven't you noticed that the merchants of this town have tightened on this check cashing business. Reason, red side of the ledger shows too much loss. Latest thing now is be sure and have your birth certificate handy.

Sam says: Some people should take a little more pains in the way their store is arranged. It looks as tho some one chased my pet dawg thru it.

Oh me, oh my, I'd wine and dine the first phone operator that would give me a right number just once.

Sign on the rear of a car that came thru here a few days ago: Four Wheels No Brakes.

Sam says he would buy a few gold fish that he see's advertised but can't be able to find any brushes or powder suitable to wash them in to keep 'em so shiny.

I see our bank is having the brick work toned up. 'Sall right. Mebbe some others will follow this example.

Myrtle says some dentists must of received their diplomas from a boiler shop.

Sam says his kid came home from school the other day and said the teacher put him at the foot of the class. Well, what's the difference. Don't they teach the same at both ends.

I hear as now some one was saying that business is pretty bum when some places have to stage a great sale. Well if it gets too bad, the only hope then is a fire sale.

Some asked whether the Civil war was a frame-up or not. We will ask the sand house committee and advise later.

Everyone agrees that the man that painted the signs on some store windows, sure slings a mean brush.

Mike said the post-script on the invitation to the party he received read "B. Y. O. B." There's no fun in bringing your own booze, is there?

Some people are mighty popular. Can't even go to a theatre without getting paged. Notice how popular that practice is getting to be?

Sheik Hello Cutie, Does your mother know you are out?

Flapper—Yes, she sent me to buy a brass monkey. Are you for sale?

Preacher—"Johnnie, what must we do to save our souls (soles)?"

Johnnie—"Walk on our heels."

Really we couldn't keep our feet still during the performance of a certain musical show that played here. And my dear the dancers sure shook a nimble foot. I'll say we enjoyed... Come back again.

Wonder who started the high school boys on the war path the other night.... Initiation is alright boys, but don't go too far. Results are sometimes very dangerous.

I didn't sleep well last evening. Had pickles and ice cream for supper.

Did you notice the law on high speed a few days ago.... Gee whis, wonder what the trouble was.... Never did hear the ending.

After donning my Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, we were entertained at the Chili Supper, given a few nights ago in the West Texas Bank Building. That chili sure was great. Next time you stage another supper let us know about one week in advance so we will be prepared for it. We want to be sure and do it justice.

St. Patrick's day March 17th and according to the law of averages is necessary that you dig down and sprout a green neck tie or green ribbon. But unless you are not Irish, take a tip and do not wear yellow ribbons or yellow hued ties on that day. However, methinks whichever way you take it you are in for a good time. I am trying to locate a party for that date. If I find one I'll let you in on it.
