S. E. Etheridge Oat Crop Ruined By Hail

Friday evening a heavy hail storm visited the Thomson ranch where Mr. S. E. Etheridge has charge and ruined 500 acres of oats that was ready for harvesting. The hail storm ranged around the southeast of Eldorado, running into the Bert Page ranch. The hail was accompanied by a good rain. The Etheridge oat field last year was averaged about 75 bushels per acre, and the crop this year was a good one.

We all know that the price of wool at present is too low, and hope that it will be better in thirty or sixty days. If you think so and have decided to hold your wool why take chances on losing all of it by fire? The cost of insuring it is in proportion to the low price. Let me protect it for you.

Ranchman Falls From Windmill Tower, Breaks Leg

(Menard Messenger)

Ace Ellis, Schleicher County ranchman, received a broken leg when he fell from a windmill tower about 4 o'clock Monday evening. Dr. S. B. Locker, attending physician, sent Ellis to a San Angelo hospital in the Sanders ambulance after administering first aid. He is reported to be doing nicely.

The accident occurred when Ellis was climbing the ladder to grease the mill. A rung on the ladder came loose near the top and he fell to the ground. Neighbors were called and communication was made to Menard.

Harry Freund was in from the ranch Saturday spreading good cheer.

New Fixtures Installed At Post Office

This week we are all using our new fixtures at the local post office. The new fixtures have been installed and the work completed and now it is up to the public to learn their combination locks. This is quite an addition to the office and is a credit to our little city. Postmaster Atkins is to be congratulated on his accomplishment in getting such nice fixtures.

The New 1932 Standard Equipment for the Local Post Office was completely installed last week. This includes over 500 new boxes, all with combinations. One combination letter and paper case; shelving for parcels; combination mailing case, dumping table and bag rack; bag rack, one section, one combination dumping and stamping table; general delivery combination letter and paper case; blank form cabinet; lobby desk; lobby bulletin board; cash and stamp drawers; storage cabinet; one table; one safe, large Standard; flat top desk; typewriter stand; two revolving chairs; two wood seat chairs; one high revolving stool; one eight day wall pattern clock; 6 fibre waste baskets; one money order and register window; one general delivery and stamp window; one parcel post window and one letter and paper drop.

This equipment is furnished by the Department and is valued at something like $4,500. A. J. Atkins, Postmaster, is very proud of this new office for his patrons. During his present regime the office has been raised twice in class. As soon as he received his appointment he began to work to get this equipment. To secure this the office had to be raised in class, higher than it was at the beginning of his regime. This has been accomplished within three years.

Thanks To The Public

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the public for the patience and consideration given us during the installation of the new equipment. If you desire a box please make application now. Each box has its separate combination and if you have not yet learned your combination we will be glad to show you at any time. Patrons are asked to please keep boxes closed at all times. Let us stress that all the new fixtures are the property of the Government. We ask you to please not remove combinations or obstruct in any way of the equipment. We are required to turn in same to the Department. This is something we are asking the public to help us never to be forced to do. We are very proud of this new equipment for our public. Your patronage has helped us to work to gain this goal. Let us all pull together for another raise in class and keep our office new.

Cours for better service and a Higher Office, A. J. Atkins, Postmaster, Mrs. Earline Bird, First Assistant.

Wool Growers Make Sales

Texas Wool & Mohair Co. Has Offering Thursday

After rejecting all sealed bids on 350,000 pounds of long wool Tuesday morning, the Wool Growers' Central Storage Co. up to noon Wednesday had sold a carload of fleeces to the Swift Wool Co., and 56,000 pounds to Eisemann Bros. The sales were made privately.

The Texas stockmen's Shippy Co. sold 65,000 pounds of wool at 10 cents per pound to Thomas Wolstenholme & Son and to S. Silberman & Son.

The Texas Wool & Mohair Co. here will offer between 800,000 and 1,000,000 pounds of long wool at sealed bids Thursday morning.—San Angelo Standard.

Wool Growers Reject All Bids On Wool Tuesday

The Wool Growers at their sealed bids in San Angelo rejected all bids Tuesday. Lots of buyers present, but 11 3-4 cents was the best bid on 190 bags and it was rejected. The bidding and the rejection of same shows that there is some who believe that the wool should at least sell for what the tariff is on it anyway. This seems to be the best bid yet offered and lends encouragement to the growers.

Clean Up Week At Cemetery

Next week will be clean up week at the cemetery, come and help. We owe it to our loved ones and friends.

At some graves we kneel on a velvet green

Flowers whisper their love then serene.

In prayer you are thoughtful and never remiss

Your loyalty aids us to heavenly bliss

Then others we've lost, who are now long at rest,

Their graves we've neglected, we've failed in love's test.

We said we would keep them in prayer and mind,

Our hearts we now search and disloyalty find.

Consignment Texas Wools Is Condemned

(San Angelo Morning-Times)

UVALDE, June 10.—Condemnation of the practice of consigning wool to Boston buyers when warehouses of Texas could more adequately handle the clip in the interest of the producers was voiced by speakers before the executive committee of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers here yesterday. Resolutions were adopted commending Texas sub-experiment station number 14 for its beneficial work in perfecting a cure for sore mouth, Sterling was asked to name two rangers as inspectors for the association, and appointment of three men to confer with like committees from other livestock organizations on matters common to producers was authorized. Thanks to Uvalde for its reception were also voted.

J. A. Whitten, chairman of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, declared that on the basis of London prices, Texas wools are worth 20 cents a pound at this time. Operators in the ranch industry must stay in there and pitch until the game is over, Mr. Whitten said, declaring the banks now have plenty of money but there are no basic values upon which they may loan it. We must quit criticizing the bankers, under conditions such as are existing we probably would do the same as they, burdened with their responsibilities, he said. He and T. A. Kincaid urged the sale of wools in Texas against consignment. Mr. Kincaid blamed consignments as depressing prices. He said there could be no recovery until the ranchers can get to a position where they can borrow capital again. He charged congress should have done something by this time to stabilize markets and that lack of a tariff on carpet wools has led to demoralization of the mohair market now. He charged also Wall Street controls the wealth of the country and that too much has been invested in foreign lands.

Not as Bad as in '85

Virgil Brown, committeeman from Rocksprings, said the depression today is not so bad as the one between 1885 and 1890 because then there were five years without rain and wages were 50 cents a day. He blamed machinery for much of the economic trouble of today and expressed belief the country would have to go off the gold standard to bring the necessary inflation to lift the country out of debt.

Doss Briscoe, president of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, declared the membership of the cattlemen and the sheep and goat raisers should maintain their affiliation now, complimenting the sheep and goat men on their accomplishments.

The resolution commending work on sore mouth declared that the achievement of the experiment station had been worth more to the ranchmen than the cost of the station since its establishment.

Another executive committee meeting has been called for September 8 at Eldorado, at which time the annual convention will be discussed, the kind of a program if any to be had and other details incident to the welfare of the organization.

President Kincaid said the organization under no circumstances is going in debt, that it will operate on the right side of the ledger if all paid employes must be discharged.

The Success is meeting with excellent progress with our local business people in getting out our Special 26 Anniversary Edition. Now is the time to reach all the people of the county. And when you have read this edition of the paper, and think it worth a dollar for a year get action and send in the dollar and we will send it to you for twelve months. The special edition will be mailed July First. Every one will receive a copy of this paper if we can get hold of your name. We make no extra charge for advertising rates, and will do our best to make mention of every business institution in our city whether you have ever advertised any with us or not. But we will appreciate some kind of an ad from each of you.

For the next several weeks the Railroads of Texas will do some good will advertising, beginning in this issue of the Success, and for every other week they will have an ad in The Success. They are trying to let the people know the value of railroads to Texas, and the importance of the public patronage. The Success wishes to call attention to the importance of ad reading. Some of our best news items are in the advertisements. Our local merchants are constantly giving you the value of their merchandise in these columns, which not only invite you to their place of business, but gives the prices that their wares can be bought, and the kind of goods carried in stock. Make it business to read the ads along with the local news, they will interest you.

County Judge Bradley, in conversation with The Success Editor this week, says the Commissioners court would soon designate a public road to Station A and have some work done on same. There has been two ways under consideration to run this road, and in the past, some difficulty has been found in securing a route for one of the ways. On the way from the Ozona Road to the Station there is only about four or five miles of the road that is not already laned, and that is through the Speck ranch, where new cattle guards were recently put in. The lane from the Speck ranch to the Sewell ranch or to the Station is the roughest place and it would not be hard to get this in good condition.

We owe our friend E. C. Hill an apology this week. Mr. Hill ask us to let the public know that he would get the returns from both the Conventions over his Radio at the Store and the public could get them as he would have a loud speaker out in front of his store, so that all could hear, but we forgot to mention it in last weeks paper, but you know it now, and in plenty of time for one of the conventions. While the Republicans hold their convention this week the Democrats will come two weeks later.

We have been mailing out sample copies of The Success to most every one in the County for the past several weeks, and if you want to help The Success boost for Schleicher County, send in One Dollar and let us add your name to our subscription list. We have had a good response to this offer already and will discontinue all free samples after our issue of July first, which will be our 25th Anniversary issue. We are contemplating putting out from eight to ten pages on this date and will mail a copy to every voter in the county, if any of the candidates are contemplating having an article to the voters before the election, this will be a good time to take advantage and reach all the voters of the county.

George Caraway was in from Station A Tuesday and reports that the Station A baseball club had a sweeping victory over the Bailey Ranch club Monday afternoon by a score of 10 to 6. Mr. Caraway says the Station A boys are coming out well.

HABIT

Bad habits have ruined many a promising career. There is but thing to do with them. They should be broken loose and cast out of life. This is especially true of drunkenness, gambling, over-eating, lechery, etc. But good habits may be either injurious or helpful, according to the use we make of them.

It may seem strange at first thought that a good habit may be injurious, but a little reflection will make this clear. Good habits may be harmful in two ways: Overdoing them, such as too much study or overwork, or overanxious, etc. But the worse effect of habits is to allow them to crystalize life. It was this tyrannizing habit of repetition on the same level of life, that kept China at a standstill for thousands of years. The children repeated the moves of life of their parents, and of course, there could be no improvement. It was only when she came in contact with western civilization that she was shocked out of her lethargy and forced to break through her coma, the tyranny of habit threatens all nations, and if there is any excuse for war it is this: It breaks up settled habits and starts the nation on the road of progress. It must find new expedients or be conquered. The world of nations has been repeatedly shocked out of its stand position many times by the terrors of war.

Our own nation is in grave danger just now of suffering serious and lasting injury thru its gold standard habit. The men who have control of our national affairs are so stubbornly wedded to the gold standard idea, that they are determined not to see reason. The nation is clearly in need of more and cheaper money, but our leaders can't get away from the gold standard fetish. What is true of nations is true of individuals. We are tempted to grow up and while doing so form habits of life which rule us with the tyranny of stagnation the rest of our days. And does not matter how good these habits are. Good habits should be only camping places on the upward march of life. We should camp for a while in order to rest and recruit our powers, and then with renewed vigor push upward on the journey of life to higher theaters of activity. Leave bad habits behind and break through good habits on the upper side and life will become an increasing joy and an ever augmented profit.

Mr. R. P. Hinyard was out from San Angelo Tuesday and while here moved his subscription up to July 1, 1933, for which he has our thanks.

Penick of Stamford, president of the pioneer's association, is mailing out invitations to some 600 members and prospective members.

The assembling of the pioneer cowboys and cattlemen to renew acquaintances swap stories and revive memories of the old West, is one of the outstanding features of the Cowboy Reunion each year.

As a part of the rodeo program, a contest in calf-roping will be held for cowboys over 55 years of age, with a handsome $150 saddle as first prize. The oldtimers also will be represented in the selection of the two most typical cowboys, one of the selections to be over 55 years of age and the other under 55.

WHAT SILVER MEANS TO US

Here is the silver problem in a nutshell: So long as one-half of the world's population is unable to do business with the other half because of the abasement of their money-metal, we cannot expect the resumption of a normal flow of business. International commerce—which, in normal times, is of sufficient bulk to mean the difference between prosperity and hard times in many countries—is dependent upon an equitable, fixed relationship between gold and silver.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow
 Extension Service Editor

Control of intestinal worms of poultry and of coccidiosis in chicks has become almost universal on Texas farms as a result of thousands of demonstrations, the extension poultry husbandman believes. He bases it on reports from county farm and home demonstration agents, on common observation, and on the fact that the volume of inquiries on these subjects has steadily decreased for the last five years. "Worms used to cut production 25% or more," he says.

Since December 1st, 384 farm wives in Collin county have been helped in some tangible way such as canning or gardening by the members of 21 home demonstration clubs.

In a Wilbarger county contest 10 home demonstration clubs report the installation of 85 sanitary pit toilets.

From a garden 300 feet long and 150 feet wide, Ruth Guttery, a 4-H club girl of Jim Wells county sold 318 pounds of cabbage in a recent two-week period, and a bit earlier sold off 1,050 tomato plants.

Forty-one home demonstration club members in Deaf Smith county recently re-modelled dresses at costs ranging from 5 to 50 cents each. The total estimated saving in one month from this sort of work was $121.20.

"Terraces had as much to do with out good crops last year as the season, because what water fell did not run off but benefited the crops," says E. L. Jones who was helped by the Kaufman county agent to terrace a 95-acre field last year. The year before the tract produced only four bales of cotton and very little feed. Last year 22 bales of cotton were gathered, 700 bushels of oats, 300 bushels of corn, and 7 tons of sorghum hay.

THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS MUST DECIDE THE FATE OF TEXAS RAILROADS

● THE WELFARE of Texas and Texans has gone and will always go hand in hand with the welfare of Texas railroads. Their dependency upon each other is absolute.

In 1929 Texas railroads gave employment to 82,956 employes, to whom they paid annually $126,674,543 in salaries and wages. In 1930 this number decreased to 70,739 while the payroll declined to $109,892,226. In 1931 the number of employes fell to 57,098 and the payroll to $89,505,918.

This represents a decrease of more than $37,000,000 in purchasing power in Texas communities. There has been a corresponding decrease in purchase of materials and supplies by Texas railroads. The ability to have maintained railroad payrolls and purchases would have been a very important factor in overcoming the present trying economic condition.

The decline in railroad payrolls and purchases is due only in part to economic conditions. The revenues of the railroads have been affected not only by business conditions but to a very large extent by loss of traffic to trucks and buses using the public highways in competition with the railroads.

● The time has come when the people of Texas must decide whether the traffic of this state can best be carried by the railroads, using facilities which they built and maintain at their own expense, or by trucks and buses using the highways built and maintained at the taxpayers' expense.

THE TEXAS RAILROADS

WIDER ROADS FOR SAFETY

As car speeds and traffic congestion increase, the width of the highway becomes steadily more important. An extra foot or two may mean all the difference between safety and disaster.

Old methods for widening existing roads were customarily both expective and unsatisfactory. In a recent address, given before the North Atlantic Highway Officials' Association, Bernard E. Gray of the Asphalt Institute, explained a practical method for widening highways that should be of interest to all states. The method is simply to place a thin layer of granular material, such as sand or gravel, over the shoulder, apply a cut-back asphalt, and mix them together in the same manner as an oil processed road mix. The final finish is obtained with a blade grader, traffic soon insures complete compaction, and a comparatively small amount of money has been spent.

Methods such as this have been used with great success in California, for example, where the shoulders are really part of the pavement itself. It is perfectly safe to turn out on them at high speeds, thus making possible the full size of the road with greater safety and an increase in capacity. In case the definite addition of new pavement is required, hot-mix asphalt is used.

As years pass, the widening of old roads becomes more and more a problem. Many important arteries were built for the traffic of ten years ago, and are simply a series of hazards to that of today. The inexpensive widening of highways is the solution of the road problem in many communities.

THIS AND THAT

By Jimminy

The Texas Press Association is preparing to swoop down on Mineral Wells, June 9-10-11, for three days of business and pleasure. Newspaper and magazine folk from all over the state will meet in the famous health resort city to discuss problems vital to the profession—and to "drink their way to health."

A well-balanced program has been arranged for the edification of the editors and others who will be in attendance. Advertising—and the lack of it—will figure prominently in the deliberations. Other problems pertinent to the publishing business will be discussed. With many outstanding members of the publishing fraternity taking part in the sessions, it should be a convention worthwhile.

A spokesman for the sulphur and oil interests will give his humble—or maybe it's Texas—opinion of some of the problems of circulation incident to something or other. This talk should be of unlimited value to the listeners, because no man knows better the problems of circulation than the man who hasn't any. Circulating "hot checks" is one thing, while magazine and newspaper circulation is another. This man knows about both, although his success with the checks has been by far his greatest accomplishment.

His work in the field of circulation is well-known, however He has received inquiries from all over the state—and especially from women in Dallas, Beaumont and Port Arthur, who want to know, "What's the grand idea?"

Texas is fortunate indeed to

A. is even more fortunate in having the opportunity to get a close-up of a man who knows the "problems" of circulation pertaining to a "specialized field." He may even go so far as to tell how the "big boys" fix prices on certain products. He knows a lot of other things he can tell, too—but in all probability he won't.

SHEEP HAS TWO MOUTHS, BOTH WORK

A yearling mutton with two mouths is a freak that has developed in the flock of Jamie Callan. The extra mouth is under the animal's left ear. It resembles the regular mouth and even has one tooth. This small side opening works in unison with the other buccal cavity when the animal consumes food. —Menard Messenger.

Here's Simplified Cooking

Actually, cooking consists of only three fundamental operations: preparing the foods... putting them in the oven... and placing the meal on the table.

But so many more are required by old-fashioned methods! So much pecking, tasting and testing is necessary! So much time is wasted on these unnecessary, tiresome tasks!

With a modern Electric Range, cooking is reduced to its three fundamentals. You merely prepare your meal, place it in the oven, set the Time and Heat Controls, and forget the actual cooking! All the work is done automatically... requiring none of your time or attention—and leaving you free to enjoy happy leisure hours!

And this Freedom is only one advantage of modern Electric Cookery! Foods look better, taste better and are more healthful. In fact, there are so many advantages you'll wonder how you managed with old-fashioned, inefficient methods!

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.

To those who live outside the mining states the silver problem may seem a very remote matter, without local importance.

In truth, however, debased silver affects us all. In the near past half the people of the world have had their purchasing power lowered to a fraction of former levels. The inevitable result has been an equivalent drop in our export business. Many factories, employing thousands of Americans, whose principal trade has been with other lands, have closed their doors.

There is not enough gold in circulation to carry on the business of the world. The best economic minds are working for the establishment of a practical ratio between the values of gold and silver. If they succeed we will have taken a long step toward restoring prosperity.

Miss Louise Hinyard of San Angelo, was in Eldorado Tuesday visiting friends.

Three small girls were hurt the first of this week while riding horse back. They were Frances Clark, Fay King, and Frances Robinson. The horse on which they were riding became frightened and ran into another team of horses hurting the children, but none serious.

T. K. Jones, Bert Page, Tom R. Henderson and John I. Smith have all shipped sheep to Ft. Worth. Some by train and other by truck. The sheep market is not any too good this week.

THE COOPERATIVE MOVEMENT GOES FORWARD

Farm cooperatives have shown remarkable strength and stability during a period of almost unprecedented stress.

Since 1923, in spite of the collapse of prices and markets, the 11,400 farm-owned cooperatives in the country have increased their total business $100,000,000. The number of cooperatives has increased to about 12,000 and less than 80 have failed. There has been a total membership gain of 150,000 in the last six months.

Here is definite hope for the farmer. Apparently the depression has given him a new realization of the value of the cooperative. If that is true, hard times will not have been in vain. They will have been the driving force that prepared hundreds of thousands of farmers for sound prosperity and a stable business in the future.

It cannot too often be repeated that the success of the cooperative movement lies in the loyalty of individual members. No cooperative, no matter how strong, can survive unless the bulk of farmers in its territory work for the common good. Every member must back up his cooperative and must do his best to bring in his neighbors. If he does that, the farmer's tomorrow will be bright indeed.

Sunday morning, June 12, just after daylight a dark stormy cloud came up from the west. Just 23 years ago on June 12, the same thing occurred. Now you will want to know just how we know that this is true, because Grandpa Benton came in Wednesday and informed us that the thing occurred, each on June 12. Mr. Benton had not been in our city but a short while and the wind blew a sail out of his new windmill and he said he never forgot the date. But has forgotten whether it was Sunday or not.

G. C. Crosby was in from the ranch Saturday and reported a good rain on his ranch in Middle Valley, about an inch says Mr. Crosby.

TEXAS PATRIOTISM
